Item 4 Advisory Business

GL Capital Partners is a new registered investment advisor firm registered with the Securities Exchange Commission. The entity was formed on December 30, 2011.

The Principal Owner of GL Capital Partners, LLC is Graduate Leverage, LLC, which is owned by Daniel J. Thibeault, its Managing Member.

Advisory Services

GL Capital Partners' (the "Advisor") principal service is providing fee-based investment advisory services. The Advisor practices custom management of portfolios, on a discretionary basis, according to the client's objectives. The Advisor's primary approach is to use a tactical allocation strategy aimed at reducing risk and increasing performance. The Advisor may use any of the following: exchange listed securities, foreign securities, corporate debt securities, municipal securities, mutual funds, United States government securities, options in securities futures contracts on tangibles and intangibles, and interests in partnerships investing in real estate and oil and gas interests to accomplish this objective. The Advisor measures and selects mutual funds by using various criteria, such as the fund manager's tenure, and/or overall career performance. The Advisor may recommend, on occasion, redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio in an effort to reduce risk and increase performance. The Advisor may recommend specific stocks to increase sector weighting and/or dividend potential. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement which may adversely affect the portfolio. The Advisor may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position(s) in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of client, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the client's risk tolerance.

GL Capital Partners will tailor its advisory services to its client's individual needs based on meetings and conversations with the client. If clients wish to impose certain restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities, the Advisor will address those restrictions with the client to have a clear understanding of the client's requirements.

GL Capital Partners does not provide portfolio management services to wrap fee programs.

As of the approval date of the firm, GL Capital Partners had no clients and therefore no client assets under management.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Asset Management Fees

Pursuant to an investment advisory contract signed by each client, the client will pay GL Capital Partners a quarterly management fee payable in arrears, based on the value of portfolio assets of the account on the last business day of the preceding quarter. The management fee will range from 0.50% up to 2.00% depending on the complexity of the strategy to be implemented and the complexity of the client's financial situation as well as the size of the account or overall client relationship. Investment Advisory fees may be reduced or waived for directors, officers, and employees of GL Capital Partners at the discretion of management. GL Capital Partners may negotiate these fees at its sole discretion. The Custodian will automatically deduct investment Advisory fees from the client account on a quarterly basis.

The client will give written authorization permitting the Advisor to be paid directly from their account held by the custodian. The custodian will send a quarterly statement to the client and the Advisor will also send a quarterly invoice to the client outlining the fee calculation and the amount withdrawn from the client account.

All fees paid to GL Capital Partners for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders and the product sponsor in the case of variable insurance products. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's or variable product's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses.

At no time will GL Capital Partners accept or maintain custody of a client's funds or securities except for authorized fee deduction. Client is responsible for all custodial and securities execution fees charged by the custodian and executing broker-dealer. The Advisors fee is separate and distinct from the custodian and execution fees.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

GL Capital Partners does not charge performance-based fees.

Item 7 Types of Clients

The Advisor will offer its services to individuals, investment companies, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations or business entities.

The Advisor's cumulative minimum account requirement for opening and maintaining an account is $400,000. However, based on facts and circumstances, the Advisor may, at its sole discretion, accept accounts with a lower value.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

The Advisor may utilize fundamental or cyclical analysis techniques in formulating investment advice or managing assets for clients.

Fundamental analysis of businesses involves analyzing its financial statements and health, its management and competitive advantages and its competitors and markets. Fundamental analysis is performed on historical and present data but with the goal of making financial forecasts. There are several possible objectives; to conduct a company stock valuation and predict its probable price evolution; to make a projection on its business performance; to evaluate its management and make internal business decisions and to calculate its credit risk.

Cyclical analysis of economic cycles is used to determine how these cycles affect the returns of an investment, an asset class or an individual company's profits. Cyclical risks exist because the broad economy has been shown to move in cycles, from periods of peak performance followed by a downturn, then a trough of low activity. Between the peak and trough of a business or other economic cycle, investments may fall in value to reflect the uncertainty surrounding future returns as compared with the recent past.

The investment strategies the Advisor will implement may include long-term purchases of securities held at least for one year; short-term purchases for securities sold within a year; trading of securities sold within 30 days, short sales, margin transactions, and option writing, including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies.

The methods of analysis and investment strategies followed by the Advisor are utilized across all of the Advisors clients, as applicable. One method of analysis or investment strategy is not more significant than the other as the Advisor is considering the client's portfolio, risk tolerance, time horizon and individual goals. However, the client should be aware that with any trading that occurs in the client account, the client will incur transaction and administrative costs.

Investing includes the risk that the value of an investment can be negatively affected by factors specifically related to the investment (e.g., capability of management, competition, new inventions by other companies, lawsuits against the company, labor issues, patent expiration, etc.), or to factors related to investing and the markets in general (e.g., the economy, wars, civil unrest or terrorism around the world, concern about oil prices or unemployment, etc.). Clients need to be aware that investing in securities involves risk of loss of some or all of their investment that clients need to be prepared to bear.

Risks of fundamental analysis may include risks that market actions, natural disasters, government actions, world political events or other events not directly related to the price or valuation of a specific company's fundamental analysis can adversely impact the stock price of a company causing a portfolio containing that security to lose value. Risks may also include that the historical data and projections on which the fundamental analysis is performed may not continue to be relevant to the operations of a company going forward, or that management changes or the business direction of management of the company may not permit the company to continue to produce metrics that are consistent with the prior company data utilized in the fundamental analysis, which may negatively affect the Advisor's estimate of the valuation of the company.

The Advisor does not primarily recommend a particular type of security. However, clients are advised that many unexpected broad environmental factors can negatively impact the value of portfolio securities causing the loss of some or all of the investment, including changes in interest rates, political events, natural disasters, and acts of war or terrorism. Further, factors relevant to specific securities may have negative affects on their value, such as competition or government regulation. Also, the factors for which the company was selected for inclusion in a client portfolio may change, for example, due to changes in management, new product introductions, or lawsuits.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Neither GL Capital Partners nor its management persons have had any legal or disciplinary events, currently or in the past.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither GL Capital Partners nor any of its management persons are registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Neither GL Capital Partners nor any of its management persons are registered or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

GL Capital Partners does not currently have any relationships or arrangements that are material to its advisory business or clients with either a broker-dealer, municipal securities dealer, or government securities dealer or broker, investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or “hedge fund” and offshore fund, other investment advisor or financial planner, futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, banking or thrift institution, accountant or accounting firm, lawyer or law firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer or sponsor of syndicator of limited partnerships.

GL Capital Partners is under common ownership with Graduate Leverage Insurance Services, LLC (“GLIS”), an insurance brokerage, and Graduate Leverage Investment Advisory Services, LLC (“GLIAS”), an SEC registered investment advisory firm. Clients of GL Capital Partners may also be clients of GLIS and GLIAS. Although clients are charged separate fees by each entity, and the entities do not share their fees with the related companies, a conflict of interest exists due to the receipt of the separate fees by the common owner. Disclosure of the relationships and the fees will be provided to all clients who use the services of more than one of the related companies. GL Capital Partners will not charge advisory fees on investments provided by the related companies.

GL Capital Partners does not recommend or select other investment advisers for clients.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

GL Capital Partners is registering with the SEC and maintains a Code of Ethics pursuant to SEC rule 204A-1. GL Capital Partners has adopted a Code of Ethics that sets forth the basic policies of ethical conduct for all managers, officers, and employees of the adviser. In addition, the Code of Ethics governs personal trading by each employee of GL Capital Partners deemed to be an Access Person and is intended to ensure that securities transactions effected by Access Persons of GL Capital Partners are conducted in a manner that avoids any conflict of interest between such persons and clients of the adviser or its affiliates. GL Capital Partners collects and maintains records of securities holdings and securities transactions effected by Access Persons. These records are reviewed to identify and resolve conflicts of interest. GL Capital Partners will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

GL Capital Partners and/or its investment advisory representatives may from time to time purchase or sell products that they may recommend to clients. GL Capital Partners and/or its investment advisory representatives have a fiduciary duty to put the interests of their clients ahead of their own.

GL Capital Partners requires that its investment advisory representatives follow its basic policies and ethical standards as set forth in its Code of Ethics.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

If requested by the client, GL Capital Partners may suggest brokers or dealers to be used based on execution and custodial services offered, cost, quality of service and industry reputation. GL Capital Partners will consider factors such as commission price, speed and quality of execution, client management tools, and convenience of access for both the Advisor and client in making its suggestion.

GL Capital Partners does not receive research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or third party as a result of client securities transactions.

GL Capital Partners does not receive client referrals from any broker-dealer or third party as a result of the firm selecting or recommending that broker-dealer to clients.

GL Capital Partners recommends that all clients use a particular broker-dealer for execution and/or custodial services. The broker-dealer is recommended based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the client, tools and services made available to the client and the Advisor, and convenience of access to the account trading and reporting. The client will provide authority to GL Capital Partners to direct all transactions through that broker-dealer in the investment advisory agreement.

As an investment advisory firm, GL Capital Partners has a fiduciary duty to seek best execution for client transactions. While best execution is difficult to define and challenging to measure, there is some consensus that it does not solely mean the achievement of the best price on a given transaction. Rather, it appears to be a collective consideration of factors concerning the trade in question. Such factors include the security being traded, the price of the trade, the speed of the execution, apparent conditions in the market, and the specific needs of the client. GL Capital Partners' primary objectives when placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the broker. GL Capital Partners may not necessarily pay the lowest commission or commission equivalent as specific transactions may involve specialized services on the part of the broker.

GL Capital Partners will allow clients to direct brokerage at the firm's sole discretion. Clients should be aware that if they direct GL Capital Partners to a particular broker-dealer for execution GL Capital Partners may be unable to achieve most favorable execution of client transactions. Directing brokerage may cost clients more money than if GL Capital Partners were to execute transactions at the broker-dealer where it has an established relationship. The client may pay higher brokerage commissions because GL Capital Partners may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transaction costs or the client may receive less favorable prices.

GL Capital Partners may combine orders into block trades when more than one account is participating in the trade. This blocking or bunching technique must be equitable and potentially advantageous for each such account (e.g. for the purposes of reducing brokerage commissions or obtaining a more favorable execution price). Block trading is performed when it is consistent with the duty to seek best execution and is consistent with the terms of GL Capital Partners's investment advisory agreements. Equity trades are blocked based upon fairness to client, both in the participation of their account, and in the allocation of orders for the accounts of more than one client. Allocations of all orders are performed in a timely and efficient manner. All managed accounts participating in a block execution receive the same execution price (average share price) for the securities purchased or sold in a trading day. Any portion of an order that remains unfilled at the end of a given day will be rewritten on the following day as a new order with a new daily average price to be determined at the end of the following day. Due to the low liquidity of certain securities, broker availability may be limited. Open orders are worked until they are completely filled, which may span the course of several days. If an order is filled in its entirety, securities purchased in the aggregated transaction will be allocated among the accounts participating in the trade in accordance with the allocation statement. If an order is partially filled, the securities will be allocated pro rata based on the allocation statement. GL Capital Partners may allocate trades in a different manner than indicated on the allocation statement (non-pro rata) only if all managed accounts receive fair and equitable treatment.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Investment advisory client accounts are monitored on an ongoing basis. Client accounts are reviewed by Michael V. Tassone, President. The nature of the review is to determine if the client account is still in line with the client's stated objectives.

The client is encouraged to notify the Advisor and Investment Advisor Representative if changes occur in his/her personal financial situation that might adversely affect his/her investment plan.

The client will receive written statements no less than quarterly from the custodian. In addition, the client will receive other supporting reports from mutual funds, asset managers, trust companies or other custodians, insurance companies, broker-dealers and others who are involved with client accounts. GL Capital Partners does not provide regular reports to clients.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

GL Capital Partners is not compensated by anyone for providing investment advice or other advisory services except as previously disclosed in this Brochure.

GL Capital Partners does not directly or indirectly compensate any person who is not a supervised person for client referrals.

Item 15 Custody

GL Capital Partners does not have custody of client funds or securities except where the Advisor's fees are deducted directly from client accounts. In those circumstances, GL Capital Partners will have clients authorize such fee deduction in writing, have the custodian provide statements at least quarterly showing all disbursements, including the amount of the advisory fee, and will send an invoice to clients when the fee is deducted showing the calculation of the fee.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

GL Capital Partners generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the client for each transaction. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the client and agreed to by GL Capital Partners.

Discretionary authority will only be provided upon full disclosure to the client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the client's execution of an Investment Advisory Agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by GL Capital Partners will be in accordance with each client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

GL Capital Partners will not vote, nor advise clients how to vote, proxies for securities held in client accounts. The client clearly keeps the authority and responsibility for the voting of these proxies. Also, GL Capital Partners cannot give any advice or take any action with respect to the voting of these proxies. The client and GL Capital Partners agree to this by contract. Clients will receive proxy solicitations from their custodian and/or transfer agent.

Item 18 Financial Information

GL Capital Partners does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and is not required to file a balance sheet.

GL Capital Partners has discretionary authority over client accounts and is not aware of any financial condition that will likely impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. If GL Capital Partners does become aware of any such financial condition, this brochure will be updated and clients will be notified.

GL Capital Partners has never been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
