Item 4.: This advisory firm's business

4. A. T. Anton Investment House (or the "firm" or "the adviser") is a Wisconsin corporation [IRS EIN 47-2881564] that is registered with the Securities & Exchange Commission. Note: The use of the phrase "registered investment adviser" or the term "registered" do not imply a certain level of skill or training.

Tracey C. Anton is the firm's sole owner (from 01-22-2015), its President and investment advisory representative. [Please see the form 2B at the end of this disclosure brochure.]

Normal business hours are 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Thursday, 9:00 am to 3:00 pm Friday.

4.B The adviser offers the following services :

- Financial Planning
- Portfolio Management for individuals, businesses and institutional clients

The firm requires all clients or accounts to enter into a written advisory agreement prior to establishing an advisory relationship with T. Anton Investment House. Either party may at any time terminate the agreement by means of written notice to the other party.

Financial Plans

Because each client's financial situation and goals change, T. Anton Investment House encourages its clients to have their financial situation examined at least annually, more frequently if material changes occur. T. Anton Investment House provides comprehensive financial planning services to evaluate:

- |                      |  |
|----------------------|--|
| • securities,        | • retirement planning,   |
| • taxes,             | • personal investments,  |
| • estate planning,   | • financing options,   |
| • insurance,         | • cash flow,   |
| • business planning, | • company benefits and any other financial aspects of their lives. |

The adviser may present a written plan to show the client's current situation, goals and objectives and various alternatives designed to assist in attaining the stated goals, or the presentation may be mostly verbal with some notes. Before an advisory representative provides investment advice, she will ask the client to provide this firm with information about the client's income, assets and amount and type of insurance coverage in effect. The adviser then analyzes the information in relation to the client's expressed investment objectives and the client's needs.

The adviser will hold one or more meetings with the client to discuss the status of the client's financial situation and the adviser's specific recommendations to achieve the client's objectives.

T. Anton Investment House, Inc. will furnish investment advice about securities and other assets of a client after meeting with the client to discuss the client's specific financial situation and short and long-term investment goals. Advice may be verbal, provided during meetings with a client, or in written reports summarizing the client's financial affairs and the firm's recommendations.

4.B. Portfolio Advice and Management

T. Anton Investment House offers investment management services where it is appointed as the investment advisor with discretionary trading authorization. T. Anton Investment House provides continuous advice to investment advisory accounts as set forth in the advisory agreement between the firm and the client. Management services include management of most forms of investments, including common and preferred stocks, bonds, municipal securities and load and no-load mutual funds.

T. Anton Investment House, Inc. uses discretionary authority in placing trade orders for each client's account, based on what the parameters agreed upon with the client.

4.C. Do we tailor our advisory services to a client's individual needs and how do we do so? Can clients impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities?

By their nature, financial plans must be based on each client's individual needs to have any useful validity. As a fiduciary, an investment adviser is to make only those recommendations that demonstrably are in the client's own best interests, which means that they, too, must be based on an individual's stated and/ or established, individual needs, goals, risk tolerance and investment time horizon.

The firm seeks to establish this personal dimension through a careful, fact-finding interview and discussions with each client. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on the adviser's discretion to invest in certain securities or types of securities if a client provides clear, written directions to that effect. The client allows the power of discretion to an adviser by means of a limited trading authority, which the client may revoke at any time.

4.D. T. Anton Investment House does not sponsor or manage any wrap fee program. The adviser does not recommend any third party programs or platforms or outside management.

4.E. As of December 31, 2017 this firm managed $133,847,842.

Item 5.: Fees and Compensation — How our firm is compensated

5.A. A description of the range of fees.

Are our fees negotiable? Investment management service fees are negotiable at the adviser's sole discretion, based on facts such as prior relationship or expected future additions to an account.

Financial Plans

T. Anton Investment House charges no fee for its basic financial plan.

Investment Advisory and Management Services

T. Anton Investment House charges a fee for continuous advice as a percentage of the assets under management. The fee schedule is :

1.00% on the first $1,000,000 under management
0.80% on the next $1 million
0.60% on amounts over $2 million.

5.B. Disclosure : Our firm bill its clients for the incurred advisory fees by :

- Sending an invoice to the client, OR
- Obtaining each client's signed permission to deduct the advisory fees from the client's account held by the custodian.

The client chooses the method of billing. The firm bills quarterly. T. Anton Investment House uses "direct billing" that requires us to obtain a client's written permission to deduct our fees directly from the client's account held by the custodian. We can also send an invoice to clients.

5.C. Disclosure: Other types of fees or expenses clients may pay in connection with the advisory services.

Clients should be aware that opening an investment account carries with it costs beyond the advisory fee(s) T. Anton Investment House charges. When placing a transaction order to buy or sell securities, advisory clients may have to pay any or all of the following charges in addition to the advisory fees charged by this firm.

- |                         |  |
|-------------------------|--|
| • brokerage commissions | • administrative fees for investments in mutual funds  |
| • custodian fees        | • 12b-1 fees in addition to administrative fees, and other marketing fees for mutual funds, paid to a broker dealer; |
| • postage charges       | • account maintenance fees charged by a broker dealer for an account, especially if inactive.                        |
| • processing charges    |  |
| • ticket charges        |  |
| • early surrender       |  |
| • transfer fees         |  |

All stock transactions will be charged the normal miscellaneous costs of postage, transfer and any SEC fees as charged by TD Ameritrade (our clearing firm). Clients will pay the commission charges for all stock and bond transactions. Care is taken to reduce the cost wherever possible.

We direct clients to this brochure's Item 12 for further discussion of brokerage costs.

5.D. Disclosure : Do clients pay fees in advance? How may a client obtain a refund of a pre-paid fee if the contract is terminated prior to a billed period's end? How will the amount of the refund be determined?

T. Anton Investment House calculates the fees quarterly in arrears, using the market value of the portfolio assets on the last business day of the preceding quarter. T. Anton Investment House retains the right to change the rates after 90 days' advance notice in writing.

If a client terminates the consulting agreement, all fees the client has paid in advance will be refunded after T. Anton Investment House has subtracted fees earned for the time the firm has spent working on the contracted plan.

5.E. Neither the firm nor any of its supervised persons accepts compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Other disclosures for this section: Our firm does primarily recommend mutual funds to our clients. Those recommendations do include "no-load" funds, which impose no commission or sales charge ("load") on the shareholder and are purchased directly from the fund company, rather than through a broker. T. Anton Investment House will also accept an existing portfolio as is, including a mix of individual stocks and bonds; the firm's representatives are fully licensed to handle these portfolio components.

Item 6.: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Our firm does not charge performance-based fees [fees based on a portfolio's increase in asset value]. [See also: Form ADV Part 1A, Item 5. E. (6).] T. Anton Investment House does not have a supervised person who manages an account that pays performance fees.

NOTE: Regulators have stated that performance fees can cause incentives for an adviser to manage a portfolio with an eye to short term gains only, including investments that are more speculative or have a higher risk of loss. They may also tempt an advisor to allocate more time to them than to other clients' portfolios due to the possibility of a higher fee.

As a fiduciary, an investment adviser is to provide equitable treatment to each client's managed portfolio as if it were the adviser's own portfolio - within the investment parameters agreed to with the client.

Item 7 : Types of Clients

Typically our clients include high net worth and other individuals, and corporations and other businesses. We are prepared to provide services to pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable organizations, estates, and trusts as well. T. Anton Investment House does not impose a minimum account size for its advisory services.

Item 8.: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. An adviser must describe its methods of analysis and investment strategies used in formulating its investment advice. It must explain in detail any unusual risks.

Caution: Investing in securities involves risk of loss which a client must be able to bear.

An adviser must explain the material risks involved for each significant investment strategy or method of analysis used and particular type of security recommended. In formulating advice, T. Anton Investment House may apply fundamental analytical methods.

Fundamental Analysis – Called the “bottom-up” approach to investing, a fundamental analysis seeks an in-depth understanding of a specific firm/ company to evaluate its intrinsic value and its future prospects before investing in its stock. Such an analysis studies the firm’s management, its debt, equity and cash flow, history of financial performance/ growth, dividend payout percentages, its products, operating efficiency and marketing structures, among other factors. The firm’s balance sheet and income statement are two key sources of information about the firm.

Fundamental Analysis will compare a firm’s stock price with its earnings per share and its net earnings to its gross revenues and compare both with the averages for that industry sector. The ratio of current liabilities to current assets is another important element of this form of evaluation. A central focus is deciding whether the stock is over-valued or undervalued.

As a term in large-scale economics, a fundamental analysis studies gross national product, inflation and interest rates, trade and unemployment trends, consumer confidence, savings and spending patterns and inventories in order to predict the larger movements of national and international economies. These larger concerns greatly influence the elements considered in a fundamental analysis of any given company.

Risks inherent in using a fundamental analysis: The factors involved can require time-consuming study that can fall behind the need to make decisions, if such factors begin to change rapidly. Few of the numbers are absolutes; many are relative to other factors or industry sector information. Most require intelligent judgment and experience to be applied meaningfully to stock values.

Fundamental analysis places value on the financial structure and health of the firm to be invested in. These factors at times are of little or no interest to the market place, such that the stock prices for very sound companies may wither when investors look to other reasons and areas for investing.

For a relatively short time period, a firm can falsify facts to hide poor performance or a fragile financial situation. The independence of balance sheets’ and other reports’ numerical information from such possible manipulation may not be readily verifiable. Additionally, time spent using any one analytical method will compete with other analytical methods which might have proven more useful and profitable.

The adviser uses various sources of information for its analyses, which may include any of the following :

- Financial newspapers and magazines
- Research materials prepared by others
- Annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission

8. B. An advisor must explain the material risks involved in frequent trading if its strategy involves frequent trading of securities. An advisor must explain how frequent trading can affect performance. The firm's trading strategy is primarily to hold purchases for the long term (a year or more). This strategy does not normally lead to "frequent trading." What may be regarded as frequent trading varies according to

- the client and the strategy for that client's specific account – one client may have multiple accounts that apply different strategies
- to the type of security or relative mix of securities involved
- and to the current nature of the market.

The intention with all strategies is to enhance the portfolio's value and its ability to meet a client's stated goals. All trades will add some costs to be deducted from a client's account and could reduce the overall return or growth in a client's account, if carefully measured against what its value would have been had the adviser not placed the transactions.

8.C. Do we recommend primarily a particular type of security? What are the material risks involved with that type of security? Are those risks unusual or significant? We primarily recommend mutual funds. We are prepared to provide advice on and management of most types of securities, including :

Equity Securities		Notable risks involved with this type of investment
exchange-listed securities		Market fluctuations can bring losses, lower dividends
over-the-counter securities		More susceptible to market fluctuations; higher risk
foreign issuers		Not always under US financial reporting standards; higher risk
Warrants		Same as OTC
Corporate debt securities		Same as exchange listed, corporate bonds involve credit risk
Commercial Paper		More susceptible to market fluctuations; higher risk of default
Certificates of deposit		Limited liquidity
Municipal securities		Same as exchange listed; It is possible that they can default
Investment company securities
variable life insurance		Insurance company could go out of business; the value of the subaccounts are subject to market fluctuation and loss variable annuities		Same as variable life
mutual fund shares		Market fluctuations can bring losses; various fees
US government securities		Returns can be low or even, rarely, negative. As hedge against equity market risk, mirror them.
Interests in partnerships investing in
real estate, oil and gas other		Historically prone to bubbles and after effects; may lose entire amount invested; not covered by SIPC
Other: T. Anton Investment House will provide investment advice about all types of securities, to the extent needed to perform investment analysis and meet the specific investment needs of each client.

We do allow for margin accounts, which carry financial risks for available liquidity calls. Please see Item 12 for further description of our brokerage practices.

Item 9.: Disciplinary Information

What facts about any legal or disciplinary event involving our firm or its personnel should you know of, because it is material to an evaluation of the integrity of our firm or its management persons?

Form ADV 2A requires that we inform you, our client, if our firm or any of our management persons has been involved in any of the events listed below in 9. A, B, and C. and, beyond those points, if there is any material fact about any legal or disciplinary event that you should know about in order to evaluate our integrity. You may also see these same questions answered online at the investment adviser public disclosure site (IAPD), in Part 1A, Item 11.

Our firm and its management persons have not been involved in any events that come under this item, to include Criminal or Civil Actions, Administrative Enforcement Proceedings or any Self-Regulatory Organization's Proceedings.

Item 10.: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

What material relationships does our firm or any of our management persons have with related financial industry participants? What material conflicts of interest may arise from these relationships and how are these conflicts addressed?

A. Have we, or has any of our management persons, registered either as a broker-dealer or as the representative of a broker-dealer? OR, Do we or any management person have such a registration pending?

T. Anton Investment House is registered only as an investment advisory firm. The firm is not affiliated with or related to any Broker Dealer. The adviser cannot itself charge a commission.

The firm's associates may have invested in the same, similar, or opposite securities as those they recommend to their advisory clients. These are mostly mutual funds and widely held equities. If the advisor deems there may be a conflict of interest, T. Anton Investment House will disclose to the client the nature of those holdings. Any client transaction will always precede proprietary accounts.

B. Have we, or has any of our management persons, registered as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of any of these entities named here? OR, Do we or any management person have such a registration pending?

No, none of this item applies to our firm.

C. Do we have any “related person” – a person or a firm that we control or that controls us through ownership or as an officer – with whom we have a material relationship, any arrangement that may cause a conflict of interest when providing our clients with investment advice?

No. T. Anton Investment House has no related firm or person who is :

- a Municipal Securities Dealer
- a Government Securities Dealer or Broker
- an investment company or other pooled investment vehicle , including a mutual fund,
- a closed-end investment company
- a unit investment trust
- a private investment company
- a hedge fund
- an offshore fund
- another investment adviser/ financial planner
- a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator or commodity trading advisor
- a bank or a thrift institution
- an accountant or accounting firm
- a lawyer or a law firm
- an insurance company or agency
- a pension consultant
- a real estate broker or dealer
- a sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

An adviser’s related persons are: (1) the adviser’s officers, partners, or directors (or any person performing similar functions); (2) all persons directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the adviser; (3) all of the adviser’s current employees; and (4) any person providing investment advice on the adviser’s behalf.

D. Do we recommend or select other investment advisers for our clients?

No, T. Anton Investment House does not recommend any other outside management’s programs or platforms.

Item 11.: Code of Ethics — Advisory Persons’ own trading and possible personal interest in our clients’ trades.

A. As required by SEC rule 204A-1 or similar state rules our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which describes our policies and procedures to abide by the law’s prohibition against insider trading, including our reviews of our own persons’ trades, and other ethical considerations. We will provide clients or potential clients with a copy of our Code of Ethics upon written request.

Please note that using any insider information, information that is not readily available to all participants in the securities markets (upon making a reasonable effort to obtain that information), for any person, ourselves or relatives or clients or any other person, is strictly illegal and punishable by fines and imprisonment.

How our firm controls sensitive information:

- Building security: visitor screening, and other building security
- locked office doors
- password protected computer screens and databases
- fire prevention equipment
- office area under continual supervision during business hours.

Steps the firm has taken to prevent employees from misusing any inside positions: the firm’s registered representatives sign an acknowledgement to abide by its Code of Ethics, which prohibits the use of insider information.

11. B. Does our firm or a related person recommend to our clients, or do we buy or sell for our clients’ accounts, securities in which we or a related person has a material interest?

Our firm and/ or its associates do

- buy or sell for the firm or for themselves shares of mutual funds that we also recommend to our advisory clients;
- invest or are permitted to invest in other securities related to those we may recommend to clients, to include ETFs, but not mortgage- based derivatives.

Our firm and its associates do not

- buy securities for the firm or for themselves from advisory clients (principal transactions);
- sell securities the firm or its associates own to advisory clients (principal transactions);
- in their capacity as a broker/ dealer agent, transact purchases or sales of any client’s securities directly to any other person (an “agency cross transaction” that side-steps using a securities market place)
- buy or sell for the firm or for themselves securities (other than shares of mutual funds) that we also recommend to our advisory clients;
- recommend securities (or other investment products) to our advisory clients in which our firm or any person or other firm related to our firm has some other proprietary (ownership) or other financial interest.
- Act as an investment adviser to an investment company that we recommend to our clients.

11. C. Personal Trading : investing in the same or related securities

Does our firm permit itself, its personnel, or a person related to our firm (by ownership or other forms of control) to invest in the same securities that we recommend to our clients, or in securities that are related to those securities, such as options or other derivatives?

Yes, we do allow it. When our firm or its personnel buy or sell securities for their own accounts, we will always place clients' orders before our own. We enforce these guidelines by self-discipline.

The possible conflicts of interest that arise whenever we recommend, or, in our discretion, buy or sell for you a security that we may also buy or sell for ourselves are

- using your order's market effect to benefit ourselves ("front running");
- using your order as "inside information" that would give us an unfair advantage in the markets to benefit ourselves or any other person (which is an illegal act);
- gaining a lower brokerage cost for ourselves in bunching orders, which can create an incentive to involve your account in that transaction.

Does any person in our firm participate in or have an interest in our clients' transactions? NO.

No one in the firm has a financial interest in any investment transaction the firm recommends to its clients. Examples of such interests would include an adviser recommending that clients invest in a pooled investment vehicle that the firm advises or for which the investment adviser serves as the general partner, or when an adviser with a material financial interest in a company recommends that a client buy shares of that company.

11. D. Personal Trading : investing in the same or related securities at the same time.

What specific conflicts do we have when our firm or a related person trades in the same securities at or about the same time as it places trades for a client's account?

The SEC has stated that "an adviser's ability to place its own trades before or after client trades in the same security may affect the objectivity of the adviser's recommendations" and therefore states further that the SEC believes disclosure of this practice is warranted. The SEC has not in that opinion stated a specific length of time before or after. In that respect it could also be noted conversely that clients might have reservations in employing an adviser who does not invest in the same securities the adviser recommends.

Item 12.: Brokerage Practices

12. A. Does our firm select a broker/ dealer for you? On what basis do we do so? How do we determine the reasonableness of the broker's compensation (commission charges)? We may recommend a broker-dealer for our clients' transactions: TD Ameritrade is a clearing and custodial broker dealer which can both receive and hold funds and securities.

12. A. 1. Research and other "Soft Dollar" benefits: Do we have any conflicts of interest such as receiving "soft dollars" from the broker/ dealer?

T. Anton Investment House receives NO soft dollar benefits from any broker-dealer, or other third party source. T. Anton Investment House has entered into a written agreement with TD Ameritrade Inc. to provide services to its customers, including

- the execution of orders,
- preparation and mailing of confirmations and monthly statements to customers,
- settlement of securities transaction orders and
- cashiering functions involving the settlement of securities transaction and
- safekeeping of customer funds and securities.

None of the above normal brokerage services is a "soft dollar" arrangement.

Clients need to understand that "soft dollars" are an enticing benefit for an adviser in so far as they provide access to research and / or other products both of use to the adviser in its business and at no expense to the adviser. Clearly, such an enticement creates an incentive to use the broker-dealer in question and may cause the adviser to use a broker that charges the adviser's clients higher commission rates than another broker-dealer. An adviser has a duty to seek the best execution of trades for its clients, which includes considerations in addition to the commission rate, however.

12. A. 2. Brokerage for client referrals

Do we direct brokerage to a specific broker-dealer in return for client referrals either to our firm or to a related firm? No, we do not. [see also ADV 1A's 8 F]

Note: Directed brokerage may result in brokerage costs that are higher than a client might obtain from another broker-dealer.

12. A. 3.

[a] T. Anton Investment House does routinely recommend TD Ameritrade to be the broker dealer for its advisory clients. We do not "request or require" any client to use our services.

[b] Do we permit a client to direct brokerage to a specific broker-dealer? We can if a client requires us to do so. Clients should understand that their choice of broker-dealer may lead to higher brokerage costs than they might have otherwise obtained, due to higher rates or an inability to aggregate orders and thereby reduce transaction costs.

12. B. When we place orders with a broker/ dealer for our clients, do we aggregate or "bunch" your trade order with orders for other clients? NO, we do not normally aggregate orders; if we can obtain better transaction costs for our clients by aggregating orders and have an opportunity to do so, we will.

Item 13.: Review of Accounts

13. A. Does someone in our firm review your investment account portfolio and how often?

Ms. Tracey Anton, the firm's President, reviews all written reports that serve as the basis for financial plans and asset portfolio management, to ensure that investment recommendations are consistent with each client's needs and suitability parameters.

At least annually she will meet with or contact a client to review the previous financial plan's information, with updates done as often as the client requests. Frequency can vary from once a year to once a month. Financial planning reports will update prior information provided to clients and generate new tax projections, cash flow, retirement planning, emphasizing uncompleted previous recommendations, etc. Client accounts that have established a "discretionary" or "managed" account with T. Anton Investment House receive weekly or "on-going" reviews, as specific securities holdings are re-evaluated; Ms. Anton will review specific portfolio generally monthly and at least annually.

13. B. What factors might trigger a review in addition to our periodic reviews?

Changes in tax laws or disruptions in the economy, as well as a client's request, can trigger an update.

13. C. What regular reports do we or others provide you? Are they written reports? What do they contain? A financial plan may be a written report or essential notes which the adviser will update as needed or indicated by a client to generate new tax projections, cash flow, retirement planning, emphasizing uncompleted previous recommendations, etc. Frequency can vary from once a year to once a month. Clients will receive monthly and/or quarterly account statements that show all activity in their accounts, including any withdrawals to pay the adviser's fees, dividends credited to the account, purchases and/or sales, and any reorganization items (stock splits, etc.). Additionally, each client will receive a performance report from T. Anton Investment House showing account performance to date when they attend an in-house review. Because TD Ameritrade LLC sends our clients an account statement, we urge our clients to compare carefully that account statement with any other statement they may receive.

Item 14.: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Does someone other than a client of our firm pay our firm or related persons, or otherwise provide some economic benefit to our firm, for the investment advice we provide to our clients? [12b-1 fees; other; sales awards or prizes]

NO. We receive no 12(b)-1 fees or other payments from non-clients.

B. Does our firm or a firm related to us through some form of ownership pay someone, directly or indirectly, for client referrals? NO. T. Anton Investment House does not pay any solicitor for client referrals.

Item 15.: Custody

Does our firm have custody of your assets?

The practice of “direct billing” has been defined by the SEC as a form of custody, but also as a “modern practice” that does not require annual audits. Direct billing also requires that the client receive at least quarterly statements from the account custodian, showing the advisory fee. Direct billing is the only form of custody that applies to T. Anton Investment House. That form of custody is not the intent of this Item’s questions. The qualified custodian(s) of our clients’ assets is TD Ameritrade LLC. By email or by US Postal Service, the custodian will send our clients at a minimum a quarterly account statement, monthly statements or confirmations for any month in which there was trade transaction activity in the account.

NOTE: Clients should review these statements carefully. It is not the custodian’s responsibility to ascertain the accuracy of the calculation for fees subtracted from your account.

Item 16.: Investment Discretion

A. Does our firm have discretionary authority over your assets? Yes, T. Anton Investment House does require its clients to allow the firm discretion over the client’s accounts.

B. What limitations are there, or can you place, on our discretionary authority? Suitability parameters, as the client and the adviser establish in the initial interview, are the over-riding limitation on any discretion. The firm gains discretionary authority over a client’s account only if and when that client signs a limited power of attorney stating that allowance specifically. A client may revoke that permission at any time. A client may impose reasonable restrictions on the securities T. Anton Investment House may select for purchase or for sale, if the client provides clear, written directions to the firm.

Item 17.: Voting Client Securities — proxy voting practices

A. Our firm does not have and will not accept authority to vote our clients’ securities / proxy votes.

B. This is our policy and our procedures: that we do not vote proxies. Our firm urges our clients to read and participate in the voting process tied to the shares they own in various companies as an excellent means for our clients to become familiar with those companies in which they are invested. Clients will receive their proxy votes directly from the custodian broker dealer. Clients may call the firm to ask questions regarding their proxy votes.

Item 18.: Financial Information

A. T. Anton Investment House does not have to provide a Balance Sheet under this section. Advisors who have custody of their clients' securities or funds, or who have a related firm that has such custody are required to provide a balance sheet under Item 18.

Regarding Custody situations, our firm:

- Does not require prepayment of a fee of $500 or more, 6 or more months in advance of services.
- No one in our firm act as the trustee for an advisory client.
- We do practice "Direct Billing" (charging our fees to your account), as described above in Item 15: "Custody" – where we noted that it is a form of custody that does not carry with it any requirement for audits of separate accounts, or to be marked as "custody" in Form ADV Part 1A, or a balance sheet in this section of the ADV Part 2A.

18. B. Financial difficulties: Our firm has discretionary authority over your assets [see Item 16]. We must therefore disclose if there is any financial condition reasonable likely to impair our firm's ability to meet its contractual commitments to its clients. T. Anton Investment House has no such condition. The question is important, especially if an investment adviser has discretion, custody or both; if our financial condition were precarious, our clients would be exposed to increased risks that we might not manage their assets properly, according to the SEC.

18. C. T. Anton Investment House has never been the subject of a bankruptcy.

("CFP Board"). The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification
