Item 4 Advisory Business

ABOUT CUE

CUE FINANCIAL GROUP, INC. ("CUE") is a SEC-registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Phoenix, Arizona. CUE was first formed in 1985 as a subsidiary of Sunwest Federal Credit Union, became a registered broker-dealer and was bought from Sunwest by its current owners in 1991. CUE began conducting business as a state registered investment adviser in 2001, and has been SEC registered since 2006. CUE merged its broker-dealer operations with Foothill Securities, Inc. August 1, 2009, and the CUE broker-dealer was closed. CUE continues to operate independently as a registered investment adviser.

Listed below are the firm's principal shareholders (i.e., those individuals and/or entities controlling 25% or more of this company).

- James E Sollenberger, CLU, ChFC. Jim is the founder, chairman, and an owner of CUE Financial Group, Inc. Born in 1947, he is a graduate of Arizona State University, and originally started CUE Financial Group as a subsidiary of Sunwest Federal Credit Union in 1985. After an extensive career with The Equitable he, along with Michael Melby and Judith Kuplic, purchased CUE Financial Group, Inc. and related subsidiaries from Sunwest in 1991.
- Michael R Melby, President/CEO/Chief Compliance Officer. Mike was born in 1955, and attended Arizona State University. Mike became an owner of CUE in 1991. He also serves on the Foothill Securities, Inc. board of directors, and is the Chief Financial Officer and Chief Investment Officer of Foothill Securities, Inc. He has had substantial prior experience as a registered representative with two other brokerage firms.
- Judith A Kuplic, Executive Vice President. Judy was born in 1950, and graduated from the University of Minnesota with a background in marketing. Judy first joined CUE Financial Group, Inc. shortly after its formation in 1985, and became one of its owners in 1991. Judy is also a registered representative and registered principal of Foothill Securities Inc. Her primary roles in the CUE Financial Group, Inc. organization are as marketing director and personnel manager.

AMOUNT OF MANAGED ASSETS

As of 2/29/2013, we were actively managing $113,397,314.00 of clients' assets on a discretionary basis plus $102,151,041.00 of clients' assets on a non-discretionary basis.

ADVISORY SERVICES OFFERED BY CUE

CUE's Investment Advisor Representatives ("IA Reps"), while affiliated with CUE and subject to CUE's oversight, manage their own practice, determine what services to offer, and set their own fee rates. Not all CUE IA Reps offer all of the described services. A personal Brochure Supplement that describes the IA Rep's own management style, background, services offered, and their fee schedule may be obtained from the IA Rep.

 INVESTMENT SUPERVISION

Our firm offers continuous advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis as agreed by both the client and the IA Rep at account opening. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer, investment company or insurance company, and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

 *INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Our firm offers non-continuous asset management of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on the client's particular circumstances are established, we develop the client's personal investment policy. We create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we may also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis as agreed by both the client and the IA Rep at account opening. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Once the client's portfolio has been established, we review the portfolio periodically, and if necessary, rebalance the portfolio.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer, investment company or insurance company, and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Certificates of deposit

- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

 SELECTION AND MONITORING OF THIRD-PARTY MONEY MANAGERS

We also offer advisory management services to our clients through unaffiliated Third-Party Money Managers who are registered investment advisers with whom CUE has written agreements.

Our firm recommends an asset allocation strategy developed through personal discussions with the client in which goals and objectives based on the client's particular circumstances are established. This asset allocation strategy may be drafted into a personal Investment Policy Statement ("IPS").

Based on the client's individual circumstances and needs (as exhibited in the IPS) we will then assist the client in identifying which Money Manager's portfolio management style is appropriate for that client. Factors considered in making this determination include account size, risk tolerance, the opinion of each client and the investment philosophy of the selected Money Manager. Clients should refer to the selected Money Manager's Firm Brochure or other disclosure document for a full description of the services offered. We are available to meet with clients on a regular basis, or as determined by the client, to review the account.

Once we determine the most suitable Money Manager(s) for the client, we assist the client in completing and submitting the Money Manager's account setup documents. The Money Manager then creates and manages the client's portfolio based on the information given in the setup documents.

If it later becomes apparent that a selected Money Manager is not providing sufficient management services to the client, or is not managing the client's portfolio in a manner consistent with the client's stated goals and needs, we may suggest that the client contract with a different Money Manager and/or program sponsor. Under this scenario, our firm assists the client in selecting a new Money Manager and/or program. However, any move to a new Money Manager and/or program is solely at the discretion of the client.

 FINANCIAL PLANNING

We offer optional financial planning services. Clients may request that their IA Representative prepare a personalized, full Financial Plan. Financial planning is a comprehensive evaluation of a client's current and future financial state by using currently known variables to predict future cash flows, asset values and withdrawal plans. Through the financial planning process, all questions, information and analysis are considered as they impact and are impacted by the financial and life situation of the client. Clients purchasing this service receive a written report which provides the client with a detailed financial plan designed to assist the client achieve his or her financial goals and objectives.

In general, the financial plan can address any or all of the following areas:

- PERSONAL: We review family records, budgeting, personal liability, estate information and financial goals.
- TAX & CASH FLOW: We analyze the client's income tax and spending and planning for past, current and future years; then illustrate the impact of various investments on the client's current income tax and future tax liability.
- INVESTMENTS: We analyze investment alternatives and their effect on the client's portfolio.

- INSURANCE: We review existing policies to ensure proper coverage for life, health, disability, long-term care, liability, home and automobile.
- RETIREMENT: We analyze current strategies and investment plans to help the client achieve his or her retirement goals.
- DEATH & DISABILITY: We review the client's cash needs at death, income needs of surviving dependents, estate planning and disability income.
- ESTATE: We assist the client in assessing and developing long-term strategies, including as appropriate, living trusts, wills, review estate tax, powers of attorney, asset protection plans, nursing homes, Medicaid and elder law.

We gather information through in-depth personal interviews with the client. Information gathered includes the client's current financial status, tax status, future goals, returns objectives and attitudes towards risk. We carefully review documents supplied by the client, including a questionnaire completed by the client, and prepare a written report.

CUE will not provide accounting or legal advice nor prepare any accounting in implementing the recommendations contained in the financial plan. Client is urged to work closely with his/her attorney and accountant in implementing the recommendations contained in the financial plan.

We also offer general non-securities advice on topics that may include tax and budgetary planning, estate planning and business planning.

Typically the financial plan is presented to the client within six months of the contract date, provided that all information needed to prepare the financial plan has been promptly provided.

 CONSULTING

Clients may also receive advice on a more focused basis. This may include advice on only an isolated area(s) of concern such as estate planning, retirement planning, or any other specific topic. We also provide specific consultation and administrative services regarding investment and financial concerns of the client.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

INVESTMENT SUPERVISION FEES

Our independent IA Reps set their own fees for services they offer. IA Reps' fees are disclosed in their individual Brochure Supplement. Fees charged by IA Reps are negotiable, and are based upon a percentage of assets under management that generally range from 0.75% up to 2.00%, using the following breakpoint schedule as a guideline:

If the account value is:	The Annualized Management Fee will be:
$ less than 250,000	up to 2.0% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$ 250,000 to 499,999	up to 1.5% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$ 500,000 to 999,999	up to 1.2% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$1,000,000 +	up to 1.0% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges

Our firm reserves the right to impose certain minimum account size and/or minimum fee requirements. In most cases a minimum of $50,000 of initial assets under management is required. The minimum fee is $1,000 per year based on the stated minimum portfolio size. CUE reserves the right to waive the minimum account size and/or the minimum management fee. In instances where the minimum account size is waived but not the minimum fee, the effective rate will be above the 2% published rate. Advisory services similar to those offered by this advisor may be found elsewhere at lower rates. Small accounts may also be better suited for non-advisory, traditional brokerage services through CUE's primary broker/dealer, (See Item 10). Certain related accounts may be grouped by the client for the purposes of achieving the minimum assets under management, and determining the annualized fee.

Payment of fees may be paid direct by the client, or client may authorize the custodian holding client funds and securities to deduct CUE Financial Group, Inc. advisory fees direct from the client account in accordance with statements prepared and submitted to the custodian by CUE Financial Group, Inc.

The custodian will provide periodic account statements to the client. Such statements will reflect all fee withdrawals by CUE Financial Group, Inc. It is the client's responsibility to verify the accuracy of the fee calculation. The custodian will not determine whether the fee is properly calculated.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although CUE Financial Group Inc. has established the aforementioned fee schedule for Investment Supervision services, all fees are negotiated between the client and IA Representative on a case-by-case basis.

CUE retains the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a case-by-case basis. The client's specific facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

Discounts, not generally available to our advisory clients, may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of our firm.

INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT FEES

Our independent IA Reps set their own fees for services they offer. IA Reps' fees are disclosed in their individual Brochure Supplement. Fees charged by IA Reps are negotiable, and are based upon a percentage of assets under management that generally range from 0.75% up to 2.00%, using the following breakpoint schedule as a guideline:

If the account value is:	The Annualized Management Fee will be:
$ less than 250,000	up to 2.0% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$ 250,000 to 499,999	up to 1.5% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$ 500,000 to 999,999	up to 1.2% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges
$1,000,000 +	up to 1.0% Plus Brokerage and Custodian's charges

Our firm reserves the right to impose certain minimum account size and/or minimum fee requirements. In most cases a minimum of $50,000 of initial assets under management is required. The minimum fee is $1,000 per year based on the stated minimum portfolio size. CUE reserves the right to waive the minimum account size and/or the minimum management fee. In instances where the minimum account size is waived but not the minimum fee, the effective rate will be above the 2% published rate. Advisory services similar to those offered by this advisor may be found elsewhere at lower rates. Small accounts may also be better suited for non-advisory, traditional brokerage services through CUE's primary broker/dealer, (See Item 10). Certain related accounts may be grouped by the client for the purposes of achieving the minimum assets under management, and determining the annualized fee.

Payment of fees may be paid direct by the client, or client may authorize the custodian holding client funds and securities to deduct CUE Financial Group, Inc. advisory fees direct from the client account in accordance with statements prepared and submitted to the custodian by CUE Financial Group, Inc. The custodian will provide periodic account statements to the client. Such statements will reflect all fee withdrawals by CUE Financial Group, Inc. It is the client's responsibility to verify the accuracy of the fee calculation. The custodian will not determine whether the fee is properly calculated.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although CUE Financial Group Inc. has established the aforementioned fee schedule for Individual Portfolio Management, all fees are negotiated between the client and IA Representative on a case-by-case basis.

CUE retains the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a case-by-case basis. The client's specific facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

Discounts, not generally available to our advisory clients, may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of our firm.

Billing Choices for Investment Supervision and Individual Portfolio Management

The negotiated annual fee for Investment Supervision and Individual Portfolio Management services may be determined by one of three methods: a Fixed Fee, Variable Fee, or Blended Fee. Examples:

1. FIXED: A Fixed annual management fee amount or a fixed annualized fee rate is agreed on and set at account opening, and does not change during the life of the agreement unless amended in writing, regardless of fluctuations in the account value. CUE's minimum fixed fees range from $1,000 per year (example based on 2% of $50,000 AUM) upward.
2. VARIABLE: A Variable annual management fee rate is determined initially according to the rate applicable to the beginning account value (refer to the above breakpoint schedules). If the account value falls above or below a breakpoint at the end of the billing period for any reason, such as market value fluctuations, deposits of funds or withdrawals, the annualized percentage rate would change accordingly. For example in an account with assets valued at $400,000 at the end of the billing period, in our breakpoint table an annualized fee of 1.5% would be charged for the period on the full account value up to $499,999. However, the annualized fee rate would be 1.2% of the entire account value if the account value was $500,000 or higher at the end of the billing period.
3. BLENDED: An example of a Blended fee is when one percentage rate is applied only to the portion of the total account value that is below a breakpoint, and a different rate is applied to the portion or remainder of the account value that is above the breakpoint. For example in an account with assets valued at $400,000, in our breakpoint table the first $249,999 of the account's value would be subject to a 2% fee, and the remainder of the account value $150,001 would be subject to a 1.5% fee. The "blended" annualized fee rate in this example would be approximately 1.787%.

Arrears fee billing: Management fees for accounts held at our primary custodian, Pershing LLC, are billed "in arrears", for the actual number of days in the quarterly billing period. Pershing's automated fee billing system keeps track of the daily account value for each day during the billing period, and calculates the average daily account value for the period. At the beginning of each new billing period, the fee billing system uses the average value that it calculated for the previous quarter ("in arrears") to determine the fee amount to be charged to the client's account for that billing period. For new accounts the initial fee is not due until the start of the next calendar quarter following the account opening date. For new accounts and terminated accounts, fees are prorated for the number of days the account was open in the billing period. Fees are deducted from the account by Pershing and paid to CUE or, if previously agreed in writing, may be paid separately by the client.

Forward fee billing: Management fees for accounts held at a custodian other than our primary custodian, Pershing LLC, are billed "forward", or in advance, for the actual number of days in the new quarterly billing period. At the start of each new billing period, the fee for that quarter will be based on the account value at the beginning of the new quarter (closing value on the last business day in the previous quarter). For new accounts the initial fee is due in advance, at account opening, and is based on the beginning value of the assets being placed in the account for management. For new accounts and terminated accounts, the fee will be prorated for the number of days the account was open in the billing period. If the custodian being used offers the ability to do so, fees may be deducted from the account by the custodian and paid to CUE. Otherwise, the client is invoiced for the fees due and the fees are paid by the client directly to CUE.

Custodian's Fees: Transaction fees and clearing charges, if any, will appear on the client's order confirmation as a nominal commission amount that will usually range from $10 to $25 for most types of trades. Transaction fees for fixed income securities, foreign securities and orders requiring special handling will generally be more. As of the date of this brochure Pershing LLC charges a confirmation fee which will appear as a service charge on each order confirmation. Pershing also charges a monthly paper statement fee that will appear on the client's quarterly account statement. The client may opt for electronic delivery of Pershing account statements which will cause monthly paper statement fees to be waived. Custodian's administrative fees, if any, will be charged to the client's account. All custodian fees and charges will be in addition to the negotiated management fee, and will be the responsibility of the client.

THIRD-PARTY MONEY MANAGERS' FEES

Fees charged by independent third-party Money Managers vary. CUE receives a portion of the Money

Manager fee as disclosed in Item 14. Clients are provided with a separate disclosure document at the time of the referral describing the total fees paid and the amount of the referral fee paid to CUE.

FINANCIAL PLANNING FEES

Our independent IA Reps set their own fee schedules, which are disclosed in the individual IA Rep's Brochure Supplement. All fees are agreed upon prior to entering into a contract with any client. The following information about fees for Financial Planning is disclosed only as a general guideline.

Single Fee Option

For most financial planning and related services, the fee for individual planning modules will range from $150 - $400. For a full plan the fee may range from $1,000 - $3,000. Fees charged for financial planning services are based upon the complexity of tasks and analyses performed. Additional charges at the IA Rep's hourly rate may be assessed for unusual or unforeseen tasks.

Hourly Rate Option

IA Reps' professional hourly rates typically range from $100-$300 per hour. Hourly administrative rates may be up to $90 per hour.

Retainer Fee Option

Retainer fees may be fixed or based on portfolio size. Retainer fees for contracts of up to six months in duration may be prepaid in full. For contracts of at least six months duration and up to one year, fees will be due in regular installments as described in the agreement. Retainer fee agreements remain in effect for up to one year, and may be renewed at the end of each period.

Financial Planning fees are determined based on the nature of the services being provided and the complexity of each client's circumstances. We may request a retainer upon completion of our initial fact-finding session with the client; however, advance payment will not exceed $1200 for work that will not be completed within six months. The balance is due upon completion of the plan.

Financial Planning Fee Offset: CUE Financial Group Inc. reserves the discretion to reduce or waive the hourly fee and/or the minimum fixed fee if a financial planning client chooses to engage us for our Investment Supervision or Individual Portfolio Management Services.

The client is billed quarterly in arrears based on actual hours accrued.

CONSULTING FEES

Our independent IA Reps set their own fee schedules, which are disclosed in the individual IA Rep's Brochure Supplement. All fees are agreed upon prior to entering into a contract with any client. The following information about fees for Consulting Services is disclosed only as a general guideline.

For specialized Consultation and related services, IA Reps may offer the following fee payment options:

Single Fee Option

IA Reps' consultation fees are based upon the complexity of tasks and analyses performed. The minimum fee for a consultation is $100 and may be higher depending on the nature of the consultation.

Hourly Rate Option

IA Reps' professional hourly rates range from $100-$300 per hour. Hourly administrative rates may be up to $90 per hour.

Retainer Fee Option

Retainer fees may be fixed or based on portfolio size. Retainer fees for contracts of up to six months in duration may be prepaid in full. For contracts of at least six months duration and up to one year, fees will be due in regular installments as described in the agreement. Retainer fee agreements remain in effect for up to one year, and may be renewed at the end of each period.

Consulting Services fees may be charged as a percentage of assets being reviewed, generally following the fee table at the beginning of this section, depending on the nature and complexity of each client's circumstances, and upon mutual agreement with the client.

We may request a retainer upon completion of an initial interview with the client; however, advance payment will not exceed $1200 for work that will not be completed within six months. The balance is due upon completion of the plan.

Other Compensation: Management personnel and other related persons of our firm are licensed as registered representatives of Foothill Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer, and/or they may be licensed as insurance agents or brokers. In their separate capacity(ies), these individuals are able to implement investment recommendations for advisory clients for separate and typical compensation (i.e., commissions, 12b-1 fees or other sales-related forms of compensation).

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., its IA Reps or other supervised persons incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: Investment Supervision and Individual Portfolio Management will continue until either party terminates the management agreement upon giving the other party at least 15 days written notice. The Client will be billed the usual management fee, prorated for the number of days the account was open in the current calendar quarter. The client will also be responsible for promptly paying any and all brokerage or custodial charges, if any are incurred. Unearned prepaid fees (if any) will be refunded to the client on a pro rata basis for the number of days the account was open during the quarter.

For a Financial Plan or Consultation the Agreement terminates upon completion and delivery of services. At this time no refunds will be made, and Client will be invoiced for fees due. However, if the Agreement is terminated prior to completion of services, a refund of any unearned prepaid fees will be made, or an invoice for fees due will be prepared, based on time and effort expended before termination.

Effective with the date of termination, CUE will no longer be the investment adviser of record, and will no longer have responsibility for management of the Assets. It will be the Client's responsibility to monitor the timely disposition of the account, and to take all future actions in regards to the management of the account.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to CUE Financial Group Inc. for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and/or ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Wrap Fee Programs and Separately Managed Account Fees: CUE Financial Group, Inc. does not currently sponsor "Wrap Fee Programs" or "Separately Managed Accounts".

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Additional Compensation: CUE Financial Group, Inc., and its supervised persons may receive additional compensation from the sale of securities or other investment products including commissions, asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE

Financial Group Inc., or its supervised persons, incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Please refer to the "Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations" section (Item 10) of this Brochure for additional information.

Clients have the option to purchase investment products that we recommend through other brokers or agents, not affiliated with CUE, of their own choosing.

Less than 50% of our revenue from advisory clients is derived from commissions and other compensation for the sale of investment products that we recommend to our clients.

If both commissions/markups and advisory fees are charged, the advisory fee will be reduced to offset the commission or markup.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers for similar or lower fees. Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1200 more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Pre-existing advisory clients are subject to CUE's minimum account requirements and advisory fees in effect at the time the client entered into the advisory relationship. Therefore, our firm's minimum account requirements will differ among clients.

ERISA Accounts: CUE Financial Group Inc. is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employee benefit plans pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"), and or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively. As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things that CUE Financial Group Inc. may only charge fees that are reasonable with respect to the services performed.

Fees charged to ERISA and IRA accounts by CUE for Investment Management or Supervision will be within the guidelines described in Item 5. In addition to the management fee, CUE may receive trailing compensation in the form of 12b-1 fees, generally 1/4% annually or $2.50 for each $1000 invested, from investments in some share classes of investment companies (mutual funds). CUE is also charged a fee by Pershing LLC, the primary custodian/clearing broker, for each transaction executed, and CUE may pass these expenses through to the account in the form of a nominal commission charge. Such transaction expenses generally range from $10 to $25 per order executed. Custodians also charge annual and other administrative fees directly to the account. All such fees will be in addition to CUE's management fee.

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., or its supervised persons, incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations.

ARBITRATION:

The Advisory Agreement contains a pre-dispute arbitration clause. Client understands that the agreement to arbitrate does not constitute a waiver of the right to seek a judicial forum where such a waiver would be void under the federal securities laws. Arbitration is final and binding on the parties.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

CUE Financial Group Inc. does not charge performance-based fees which are based on capital gains in the client account. However, clients should understand that asset-based management fees will fluctuate with changes in the value of the assets in the account.

Item 7 Types of Clients and Account Minimums

CUE Financial Group Inc. provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals (other than high net worth individuals)
- High net worth individuals
- Credit Unions
- Pension and profit sharing plans (other than plan participants)
- Corporations or other businesses not listed above

CUE reserves the right to impose certain minimum account size and/or minimum fee requirements, based on the nature of the service(s) to be provided. See details at Item 5 Fees and Compensation.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

CUE IA Reps evaluate the client's current investments to determine whether they are consistent with his/her financial objectives. Then, utilizing generally accepted asset allocation and suitability factors, the IA Rep will propose a portfolio designed to help the client attain their objectives. We may use some or all of the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Asset Allocation: Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis: We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also look at the underlying assets in a mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if there is significant overlap in the underlying investments held in another fund(s) in the client's portfolio.

See Investment Strategies section below for risks of mutual funds and ETFs.

Third-Party Money Manager Analysis: We consider the experience, expertise, investment philosophies, and past performance of independent third-party investment managers in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We use a form of due-diligence questionnaire to obtain information when initially interviewing prospective third party money managers. We send each money manager a similar form on an annual basis.

A risk of investing with a third-party manager who has been successful in the past is that he/she may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a third-party manager's portfolio, there is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the portfolio, making it a less suitable investment for our clients. Moreover, as we do not control the manager's daily business and compliance operations, we may be unaware of the lack of internal controls necessary to prevent business, regulatory or reputational deficiencies.

Risks for all forms of analysis: Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We may use any or all of the following strategy(ies) in managing client accounts, provided that such strategy(ies) are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases: We may purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases: When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically less than a year). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

A short-term purchase strategy poses risks should the anticipated price swing not materialize; we are then left with the option of having a long-term investment in a security that was designed to be a short-term purchase, or potentially taking a loss.

In addition, this strategy involves more frequent trading than does a longer-term strategy, and will result in increased brokerage and other transaction-related costs, as well as less favorable tax treatment of short-term capital gains as determined by current Federal and State tax laws.

Trading: We may purchase securities with the idea of selling them very quickly (typically within 30 days or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of our predictions of brief price swings.

In addition to increased brokerage and other transaction-related costs and possibly less favorable tax consequences, aggressive trading carries a risk of loss due to the need to correctly time purchases and sales, especially in a fast moving market.

Margin: CUE and its IA Reps generally do not recommend margin as a trading strategy, and margin cannot be used as a strategy in IRA's or qualified retirement plan accounts. If margin is recommended, establishment of a margin account requires that the client receive and sign a "margin agreement" and "margin disclosure" document provided by the broker-dealer or custodian. Margin trading implies that the client "borrows" a portion of the purchase amount, and the securities are held as collateral for the loan.

Check Writing: If the client applies for check writing and/or debit card privileges, a margin account will be established for the purpose of using fully paid securities as collateral for overdrafts caused by debit card or check writing activity that exceeds the amount of available cash or money market funds.

Initial and maintenance margin equity requirements must be met. If the account equity declines too much, the client will receive a "margin call", possibly for the full amount of the margin loan, and will be required to increase account equity by deposit of additional collateral in the form of cash or marginable securities. Interest charges will be assessed by the custodian on margin loan balances. Advisory fees for margin accounts are billed on the net equity value of the account.

Equity Securities: Equity securities (stocks) are traded on one or more of the major stock exchanges, and sometimes are traded Over the Counter (OTC). One of the risks associated with investment in equities is market price fluctuation which can occur throughout the trading day. As with any investment security, there is a risk of partial or full loss of value.

Mutual Funds and Exchange Traded Funds (ETF): Mutual funds are purchased from and redeemed by the issuing fund company. Mutual funds invest in many individual securities and are managed by professional managers employed by the fund company. The price (NAV) of a mutual fund is determined after the close of the trading day, and does not fluctuate during the trading day. The value of the mutual fund is affected by the market prices of the securities that the fund holds in its portfolio. Mutual funds are sold by prospectus, and the client should refer to the prospectus for all details about the individual mutual fund.

Exchange traded funds, like equity securities, are traded on a major stock exchange and may be bought and sold during normal trading hours. The ETF market price may fluctuate during the trading day. ETF's consist of portfolios of underlying securities that track a specific market index or commodity, and are subject to the same market risks as their underlying indexes or sector they are designed to track. ETF's may be index funds, or they may be fully transparent actively managed funds.

In all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A fund manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a mutual fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the mutual fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

As with any investment security there is a risk of partial or full loss of value.

Fixed Income Securities: Most fixed income securities (e.g. bonds) are traded Over the Counter. Some risks involved with investing in fixed income securities may include limited liquidity (the ready market for fixed income securities is often very small and therefore liquidity is often much more limited than for equities, ETF's, or mutual funds), interest rate risk (prices are affected by changes in prevailing interest rates), and risk of default as to either payment of interest, payment of principal or both (payment of interest and/or principal are subject to the issuing company's ability to pay). As with any investment security, there is a risk of partial or full loss of value.

Unit Investment Trusts (UIT): A UIT is made up of a fixed pool of securities. A newly issued UIT is purchased from the issuer and can be redeemed through the issuer. UIT's generally have a limited life span and "mature" on a predetermined date. Liquidity is limited during the life of the UIT. The value of a UIT is affected by changes in the value of the securities held in the UIT portfolio. UIT's are sold by prospectus, and the client should refer to the prospectus for all details about the individual UIT. As with any investment security there is a risk of partial or full loss of value.

Variable Products: We may recommend investment in a variable annuity-based product, issued by an insurance company, and managed by CUE. The client and IA Rep choose a suitable portfolio made up of a selection of mutual funds and based on the client's needs and objectives. The IA Rep may manage the client's investment in this product on a discretionary basis. In lieu of usual management fees, CUE may receive compensation in the form of an initial upfront commission plus trailing commissions.

Variable products are subject to changes in the market value of the securities in their portfolio. Before investing, the client is encouraged read the product's prospectus and sales material for complete details about the product's features, risks and expenses.

Alternative Investments, Private Placements: Alternative Investments and Private Placements are recommended only for sophisticated investors if the product fits the client's stated financial situation, investment objectives, risk tolerance and time horizon. Alternative Investments and Private Placements often are high risk products, are illiquid in almost all cases, and generally offer a high dividend rate to the investor as an offset to the increased risk and illiquidity. There is increased risk of partial or full loss of value when investing in illiquid securities.

Options: We may recommend options as an investment strategy. An option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell an asset (such as a share of stock) at a specific price on or before a certain date. An option, just like a stock or bond, is a security. An option is also a derivative, because it derives its value from an underlying asset.

The two basic types of options are calls and puts:

- A call gives the holder the right to buy an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We may buy a call if we believe that the stock may increase substantially before the option expires.
- A put gives the holder the right to sell an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We may buy a put if we believe that the price of the stock may fall before the option expires.

We may use options to speculate on the possibility of a sharp price swing. We may also recommend options to "hedge" a purchase of the underlying security; in other words, we may recommend an option purchase to limit the potential upside and downside of a security we have purchased for your portfolio.

When buying an option, the client risks losing the premium paid for the purchase.

We may use "covered calls", in which we sell an option on a security you own. In this strategy, you receive a fee (the premium) for making the option available, and the person purchasing the option has the right to buy the security from you at an agreed-upon price (the strike price).

When selling (writing) a covered option, the client risks being "assigned" and being forced to sell (in the case of a call) or buy (in the case of a put) the underlying security at the predetermined strike price, which could result in a loss.

(Please refer to the OCC's option disclosure booklet "Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options" before investing in options).

RISK OF LOSS

Because each of the above described types of strategies may involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability. Clients are under no obligation to invest in any of these strategies or to implement any advisory recommendations.

All investment programs, including so-called "low risk" strategies, have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Investing in any securities involves a risk of loss of both income and principal. For those investments sold by prospectus, clients should read the prospectus in full. There is no guarantee that the investment strategy selected for the client will result in the client's goals being met. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk. Clients shall at all times elect unilaterally to follow or ignore completely, or in part, any information, recommendation, or advice given by CUE or its IA Reps.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

While acting as a registered Broker/Dealer in 2003, CUE was fined by the state of Tennessee for conducting securities transactions in the state prior to receiving approval from the state. Also while acting as a registered Broker/Dealer in 2007, CUE was fined by FINRA for failure to report to FINRA corporate bond trades, and for failing to report municipal bond trades within the mandatory 15 minute window, and for failing to have adequate written procedures in place for bond reporting. CUE voluntarily withdrew as a Broker/Dealer in 2009.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer Affiliations: Management personnel and IA Representatives of CUE Financial Group Inc. are separately licensed as registered representatives of Foothill Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer, member of FINRA and SIPC. These individuals, in their separate capacity, can effect securities transactions for which they will receive separate, yet customary compensation.

Foothill Securities, Inc. is an employee owned company. Participating CUE management personnel and IA Representatives may have minority ownership interests in Foothill.

Michael R. Melby, President, CEO and CCO of CUE Financial Group, Inc. has a minority ownership interest in Foothill Securities, Inc. He serves on Foothill Securities' board of directors, and is designated as the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and the Chief Investment Officer (CIO) of Foothill Securities Inc.

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., IA Reps or other supervised persons incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

Financial Institutions: CUE has entered into contractual arrangements with certain financial institutions (credit unions, banks, thrifts) whereby CUE offers services in the form of investment advisory and insurance products to the institutions' membership. Through these relationships some IA Representatives of CUE may also be employees of the financial institutions. In exchange, the financial institutions may receive a portion of all commission and fee income in accordance with an SEC no-action letter.

Insurance Agency: CUE Financial Group, Inc. is a licensed general insurance agency, and has contractual agreements with various insurance companies for the sale of their products. Management and related personnel of our firm, in their individual capacities, are agents for various insurance companies. As such, these individuals are able to receive separate, yet customary commission compensation resulting from implementing product transactions on behalf of advisory clients. Clients, however, are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., or its supervised persons incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations.

Independent Investment Advisers: Michael G. Dickey ("Dickey"), is an IA Representative of CUE, and is also president of Summit Wealth Resources, Inc., an independent registered investment adviser firm that is not affiliated with CUE Financial Group, Inc. Advisory clients of CUE may be solicited by Summit Wealth Resources Inc. to purchase advisory, financial planning or other services. Clients are not obligated to purchase the services of Summit Wealth Resources Inc.

Outside Business Activities: Some of CUE's IA Reps may be independently licensed as public accountants, insurance agents, mortgage brokers, real estate agents or enrolled agents. They may operate outside business practices through which they offer services such as insurance products, public accounting, tax preparation or other services that are not offered by or provided under the auspices of CUE Financial Group Inc. CUE does not own, control, supervise, participate in, nor receive any compensation for such services. Clients of CUE are not obligated to purchase or use these services.

Management of Private Placements by a related person: Scott M. Hanish ("Hanish") is an IA Representative of CUE Financial Group Inc. Independent of his relationship with CUE, Hanish is the owner-manager of Hanish Business Ventures, LLC, a company formed to create and package alternative investment vehicles such as Private Placements, LLC's and Limited Partnerships, hereinafter referred to as "entities", for investment purposes. Hanish Business Ventures, LLC acts as a managing member of these entities.

CUE is not affiliated with Hanish Business Ventures, LLC or with the entities in any ownership, advisory or management capacity. CUE does not advise the entities or their managers. Activities of the entities will be controlled only by the managers of the entities, and the entities will not be controlled in any way by or through CUE.

Advisory clients of our firm may be solicited to invest in these entities; however, because investment in these types of entities may involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability. Clients are under no obligation to invest in any of the above described entities or to implement any advisory recommendations.

Conflict of Interest: CUE may receive compensation when its clients invest in the entities. Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., IA Reps or other supervised persons incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations.

Conflicts of Interest: CUE Financial Group Inc. endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps to address conflicts of interest:

- we disclose to clients the existence of material conflicts of interest, including the potential for us or our employees to earn compensation from the referral of clients to other registered investment advisers;
- we disclose to the client in a separate disclosure document the compensation we receive in exchange for the client's referral to a selected third party investment adviser;
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- our firm's management conducts reviews of client accounts to verify that all recommendations made to a client are suitable to the client's needs and circumstances;
- we conduct initial and periodic due diligence on third party investment advisers to establish that the advisers are suitable to recommend to our clients; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions, Personal Trading

Code of Ethics: Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that our employees have committed to, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws. CUE Financial Group Inc. and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available upon request to our advisory clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy via the contact information on the cover page and ask for the Compliance Department.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions: Generally the IA Reps do not recommend the purchase of securities that are sponsored by CUE affiliated companies. As disclosed in the preceding section of this brochure (Item 10), a related person of our firm acts as general partner to an investment-related limited partnership, or managing member to an investment-related limited liability company in which advisory clients may be solicited to invest. This would be when the recommendation is suitable for the client, and meets their investment objectives. Clients are not obligated to purchase these investments.

Personal Trading: At times CUE and/or its IA Reps may take positions in the same securities as clients, and we will try to avoid conflicts with clients. The firm and its IA Reps will generally be "last in" and "last out" for the trading day when trading occurs in close proximity to client trades. We will not violate our fiduciary responsibilities to our clients. Scalping (trading shortly ahead of clients) is prohibited. Should a conflict occur because of materiality (i.e. a thinly traded stock), disclosure will be made to the client(s) at the time of trading. Incidental trading not deemed to be a conflict (i.e. a purchase or sale which is minimal in relation to the total outstanding value, and as such would have negligible effect on the market price), would not be disclosed at the time of trading.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

RECOMMENDATION OF BROKER-DEALERS AND CUSTODIANS

CUE will generally maintain an existing broker/dealer relationship when the client is referred to CUE. In maintaining the existing broker/dealer relationship, a conflict of interest may exist in obtaining best execution by CUE on behalf of the client. A conflict of interest may exist in obtaining future referrals from a broker/dealer if CUE did not maintain these existing relationships. Where the client is not referred by an existing broker/dealer and/or the client does not otherwise designate a broker/dealer, CUE recommends a broker/dealer with competitive commission rates.

IA Reps of CUE are registered representatives of Foothill Securities. If our clients freely choose to implement our advice through us, the primary broker-dealer used will be Foothill, and an account in the client's name will be established with Foothill. Foothill maintains an existing clearing and custodial relationship with Pershing LLC ("Pershing"). Client trade orders will be submitted to Pershing for processing and execution. Pershing will be the primary custodian for assets held in our clients' accounts.

Contact Information for Broker-Dealer and Custodians

Primary Broker/Dealer:

Foothill Securities, Inc., 150 E. Dana Street, Mountain View, CA 94041 Phone: (650)625-9701

Primary Custodian/Clearing Firm:

Pershing LLC, One Pershing Plaza, Jersey City, NJ 07399 Phone: (888)367-2563

Alternate Custodian/Clearing Firm:

In circumstances where Pershing cannot be used as the custodian, the IA Rep will recommend the services of an unaffiliated custodian/clearing firm. The alternate firm will be approved by CUE. Clients will be provided with the firm's address and phone number upon entering into an advisory agreement with CUE.

CLIENT DIRECTED BROKERAGE

Client may direct brokerage to a specified broker/dealer other than the firm recommended by CUE. It is up to the client to negotiate the commission rate, as CUE will not. The client may not be able to negotiate the most competitive rate. As a result, the client may pay more than the rate available through the broker/dealer used by CUE. In client directed brokerage arrangements, the client may not be able to participate in aggregated ("blocked") trades, which may help reduce the cost of execution.

SOFT DOLLAR ARRANGEMENTS

CUE Financial Group Inc. does not have any soft-dollar arrangements, and does not receive any soft-dollar benefits.

BLOCK TRADING

While individual client advice is provided each account, client trades may be executed as a block trade. The Advisor encourages its existing and new clients to use the Advisor's "lead custodian." Only accounts in the custody of the lead custodian would have the opportunity to participate in aggregated securities transactions. All trades using the lead custodian will be aggregated and done in the name of the Advisor. The executing broker will be informed that the trades are for the account of the Advisor's clients and not for the Advisor itself. No advisory account within the block trade will be favored over any other advisory account, and thus, each account will participate in an aggregated order at the average share price and receive the same commission rate. The aggregation should, on average, reduce slightly the costs of execution, and the Advisor will not aggregate a client's order if in a particular instance the Advisor believes that aggregation would cause the client's cost of execution to be increased. The Custodian will be notified of the amount of each trade for each account. The Advisor and/or its IA Reps may participate in block trades with clients, and may also participate on a pro rata basis for partial fills, but only if clients receive fair and equitable treatment.

Item 13 Review of Accounts and Reports on Accounts

INVESTMENT SUPERVISION

Reviews: The client's IA Rep monitors the individual investments each day the market is open. Portfolio performance is reviewed on a quarterly basis at a minimum. The IA Rep offers clients an in-person portfolio review meeting on an annual basis. Compliance staff periodically performs supervisory reviews.

Reports: CUE expects that trade confirmations and periodic account statements will be provided directly to the Client by the clearing firm/custodian that at minimum will reflect balances, transactions, deposits, and withdrawals including fee withdrawals.

In addition to the statements and confirmations of transactions that clients receive from the clearing firm/custodian, we offer periodic reports summarizing account performance, balances and holdings.

You are urged to compare the account statements you receive from the custodian with those you may receive from CUE.

INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT SERVICES

Reviews: The client's IA Rep reviews the portfolio and asset allocation at a minimum once per quarter. Market conditions that might cause a wide variance in the specified asset allocation, or other factors could cause a more frequent review. Compliance staff periodically performs supervisory reviews.

Reports: CUE expects that trade confirmations and periodic account statements will be provided directly to the Client by the clearing firm/custodian that at minimum will reflect balances, transactions, deposits, and withdrawals including fee withdrawals.

In addition to the statements and confirmations of transactions that clients receive from the clearing firm/custodian, we offer periodic reports summarizing account performance, balances and holdings.

You are urged to compare the account statements you receive from the custodian with those you may receive from CUE.

THIRD-PARTY MONEY MANAGERS

Reviews: These clients should refer to the independent registered investment adviser's Firm Brochure (or other disclosure document used in lieu of the brochure) for information regarding the nature and frequency of reviews provided by that independent registered investment adviser.

Reports: These clients should refer to the independent registered investment adviser's Firm Brochure (or other disclosure document used in lieu of the brochure) for information regarding the nature and frequency of reports provided by that independent registered investment adviser.

CUE Financial Group Inc. does not typically provide reports in addition to those provided by the independent registered investment adviser selected to manage the client's assets.

FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

Reviews: While reviews may occur at different stages depending on the nature and terms of the specific engagement, typically no formal reviews will be conducted for Financial Planning clients unless otherwise contracted for.

Reports: Financial Planning clients will receive a completed financial plan. Additional reports will not typically be provided unless otherwise contracted for.

CONSULTING SERVICES

Reviews: While reviews may occur at different stages depending on the nature and terms of the specific engagement, typically no formal reviews will be conducted for Consulting Services clients unless otherwise contracted for. Such reviews will be conducted by the client's account representative.

Reports: These client accounts will receive reports as contracted for at the inception of the advisory engagement.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

REFERRAL FEES PAID

CUE Financial Group Inc. currently does not compensate persons for referring clients to our firm.

REFERRAL FEES RECEIVED

We may recommend to our clients the services of various third-party Money Managers. In exchange for this recommendation, we receive a referral fee from the selected Money Managers. The fee received by us is typically a portion of the total management fee charged by that Money Manager to the referred client. The portion of the Money Manager's fee that is paid to us does not increase the total management fee charged by the Money Manager. We do not charge the client any fees for these referrals. We will only recommend Money Managers that pay us a referral fee.

We are aware of the special considerations required under Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. As such, all appropriate disclosure shall be made, and all applicable Federal and State laws will be observed.

Conflict of Interest: Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation gives CUE Financial Group Inc., IA Reps, or other supervised persons incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs, and therefore creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

OTHER COMPENSATION SALES AWARDS

It is CUE Financial Group Inc.'s policy not to offer incentive awards to our IA Reps for recommending specific products or types of products. Occasionally an outside sponsor such as an insurance company or investment company may offer our IA Reps such an award to recognize their sales achievements. CUE discourages our IA Reps from accepting such awards, and/or requires all such award offers to be reported to and pre-approved by the Chief Compliance Officer.

Conflict of Interest: While we endeavor at all times to put the interest of our clients first as part of our fiduciary duty, the possibility of our IA Reps receiving incentive awards creates a conflict of interest, and may affect the judgment of these individuals when making recommendations.

Item 15 Custody

Although client assets are held at a third-party independent custodian, CUE is deemed to have custody of client funds solely because of the fee deduction authority granted by the client in the investment advisory agreement. Except for this fee deduction, we do not have authority to withdraw funds out of client accounts.

As part of the billing process, CUE advises the custodian of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. CUE expects that trade confirmations and periodic account statements will be provided directly to the Client by the clearing firm/custodian, at least on a quarterly basis, and that at minimum will reflect balances, transactions, deposits, and withdrawals including fee withdrawals.

It is the client's responsibility to verify the accuracy of the fee calculation. The custodian will not determine whether the fee is properly calculated. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

In addition to the statements and confirmations of transactions that clients receive from the clearing firm/custodian, we provide periodic reports summarizing account performance, balances and holdings.

You are urged to compare the account statements you receive from the custodian with those you may receive from CUE. Minor variations may occur because of reporting dates, accrual methods of interest and dividends, and other factors. The custodial statement is the official record of your account for tax purposes.

Custody by a related person: Scott M. Hanish ("Hanish") is an IA Representative of CUE Financial Group Inc. Independent of his relationship with CUE, Hanish is the owner of Hanish Business Ventures, LLC, a company formed to create and package alternative investment vehicles such as Private Placements, LLC's and limited partnerships, hereinafter referred to as "entities", for investment purposes. Hanish Business Ventures, LLC acts as a managing member of these entities.

CUE is not affiliated with the entities in any ownership, advisory or management capacity. CUE does not advise the entities or their managers. Activities of the entities will be controlled only by the managers of the entities, and the entities will not be controlled in any way by or through CUE.

Clients of CUE may be solicited to invest in the entities. When a client chooses to invest in the entities, their funds will initially be deposited in a bank account controlled by the managers of the entities. As a result of his position as both a CUE IA Rep, and a manager of the entities, Hanish may be deemed to have custody of client assets when those assets are invested in these or other products in which Hanish acts as owner, manager or director.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services under a limited power of attorney, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting the client prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give the IA Representative discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary services agreement with our firm, or when they so indicate when completing third-party applications for variable products, alternative investment products, or other direct application products. Clients may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

CUE does not vote proxies on behalf of clients. Therefore, although our firm may provide investment advisory services relative to client investment assets, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets. Clients are responsible for instructing each custodian of the assets, to forward to the client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the client's investment assets.

We may provide clients with consulting assistance regarding proxy issues if they contact us with questions at our principal place of business.

Item 18 Financial Information

An investment advisor must provide financial information if a threshold of fee prepayments is met; there is a financial condition likely to impair the ability to meet contractual commitments; or, a bankruptcy within the past ten years. CUE does not have any disclosure items in this section.
