We provide investment management services and financial planning services to individuals, banks or thrift institutions, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates and corporations. We also assist you with the selection of money managers appropriate for the management of your portfolio. We may also provide investment advice on interests in partnerships.

Our service constitutes an ongoing process by which:

- a) Your investment objectives, constraints and preferences are identified and specified;
- b) Your strategies are developed and implemented through a combination of financial assets;
- c) Capital market conditions and your circumstances are monitored; and
- d) Portfolio adjustments are made as appropriate to reflect significant changes to any or all of the above relevant variables.

The following is a detailed description of the programs offered by us.

PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT SERVICES:

We provide portfolio management services on either a discretionary or non- discretionary basis. Our portfolio management service consists of asset allocation and portfolio management tailored to meet your investment goals. The services typically include investment strategies in equity and fixed income securities, mutual funds, fund of funds, options, other hedging strategies or a balance of these investments.

On a discretionary basis, we design, revise and reallocate a custom portfolio for you. The investments are determined based upon your investment objectives, risk tolerance, net worth, net income, age, investment time horizon, tax situation and other various suitability factors.

On a non-discretionary basis, we provide periodic recommendations to you and if such recommendations are approved, we will ensure that the authorized recommendations are carried out.

We will evaluate your financial situation through a review of financial information and personal interviews that include understanding your investment objectives and risk tolerances. We will advise you regarding portfolio diversification utilizing common or preferred stocks, options, mutual funds, warrants, rights, corporate municipal or government bonds, notes or bills, options and futures contracts, partnership interests, and cash or cash equivalents or other products requested by the client.

Custody of your accounts for both securities and funds will be maintained at Pershing, LLC, (Member FINRA/SIPC) the designated custodian and clearing firm for Thornhill Securities, Inc. (Member FINRA/SIPC) or other qualified custodian selected by you or our Firm.

We do not sponsor or act as a portfolio manager for any wrap fee programs.

Independent, objective analysis of personal and business finances based on extensive financial information furnished by you (trust agreements, business agreements, retirement programs, financial statements, tax returns, investment portfolio) may be offered. These services will be invoiced, as charges are incurred and payable within 30 days of the invoice.

Termination:

The term of the agreement will be continuous until terminated by either party upon giving written 30 days advanced notice to the other party. Refunds would be determined on a case by case basis and would be dependent on the amount of time spent in the data gathering function and writing of the financial plan.

The flexibility of our strategies gives us the ability to best manage investment risks in any investment market.

We use Technical and Fundamental compiled by data services. We may use other sources of information that may include, but are not limited to, other professionals in the area of financial planning as well as information obtained through presentations given by professional associations and other sources.

Fundamental Analysis involves using real data to evaluate a security's value. We perform fundamental analysis on a securities value by looking at economic factors, such as interest rates and the overall state of the economy, information about issuers, potential changes in credit ratings, revenues, earnings, future growth, return on equity, profit margins and other data to determine underlying value and potential for future growth.

Technical Analysis involves studying supply and demand in the market to determine what direction, or trend will continue in the future by understanding the emotions in the market as opposed to its components. Understanding the benefits and limitations of technical analysis can give a new set of tools or skills that will enable us to be a better trader or investor.

Our security analysis information is based on a number of sources including financial newspapers, periodicals, commercially available investment services, issuer prepared information, security rating services, general market and financial information, due diligence reviews and specific investment analysis that our clients may request.

Risk of Loss: The advice offered by our Firm to clients is determined by the areas of expertise of the agent providing the service and the client's stated objective. Our clients are advised to notify our Firm promptly if there are ever any changes in your financial situation or investment objective or if you wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon our management services. If you wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon our management services, you will need to advise us in writing of any restrictions.

We do not represent, warrant, or imply that the services or methods of analysis employed by us can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. All securities trading, whether in stocks, options, or other investment vehicles, is speculative in nature and involves substantial risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Clients should make every effort to understand the risks involved.

The Principle Risks of Investing include, but are not limited to:

General Risks: Your investments with us are not a deposit of a bank and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Accordingly, you may lose money by investing with us. When you sell your investments, they may be worth less than what you paid for them because the value of investments will fluctuate reflecting day-to-day changes in market conditions, interest rates and a number of other factors.

Allocation Risk: Our allocation of investments among different asset classes, such as equity or fixed-income assets classes, may have a more significant effect on your returns when one of these classes is performing more poorly than others.

Market Risk: Stock and bond markets often trade in random price patterns, and prices can fall over sustained periods of time. The value of the investments we make for you will fluctuate as the financial markets fluctuate. This could result in your account value(s) declining over short or long term periods of time.

Focused and Concentrated Portfolio Risks: We will often invest your assets in a smaller number of securities than other broadly diversified investment strategies. Our approach is often referred to as "focused, concentrated, or non-diversified". Accordingly, the money we manage for you may have more volatility and is often considered to have more risk than a strategy that invests in a greater number of securities because changes in the value of a single security may have a more significant effect, either negative or positive, on your overall portfolio value. To the extent we invest your assets in fewer securities, or we investment in non-diversified funds that take a focused or concentrated approach, your assets are subject to greater risk of loss if any of those securities become permanently impaired.

Equity Risk: Your investments will be subjected to the risk that stock prices may fall over short or extended periods of time. Historically, the equity markets have moved in cycles, and the value of equity securities in your portfolio may fluctuate drastically from day to day. Individual companies may report poor results or be negatively affected by industry and/or economic trends and developments. The prices of securities issued by such companies may suffer a decline in response. These factors will contribute to the volatility and risk of your assets.

Special Situation Risk: We may invest your assets in special situations. Investments in special situations may involve greater risks when compared to other strategies due to a variety of factors.

Expected changes may not occur, or transactions may take longer than originally anticipated, resulting in lower returns than contemplated at the time of investment. Additionally, failure to anticipate changes in the circumstances affecting these types of investments may result in permanent loss of capital, where we may be unable to recoup some or all of its investment.

Foreign Securities Risk: We have the ability to invest in foreign securities, and, from time to time, a significant percentage of your assets may be composed of foreign investments. Foreign investments involve greater risk in comparison to domestic investments because foreign companies/securities: may have different auditing, accounting, and financial reporting standards; may not be subject to the same degree of regulation as U.S. companies, and may have less publicly available information than U.S. companies; and are often denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar.

Currency Risk: Your investments may be subject to currency risk. Currency fluctuations and changes in the exchange rates between foreign currencies and the U.S. dollar could negatively affect the value of your investments in foreign securities.

Interest Rate Risk: Your investments are subject to interest rate risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a security will decline because of a change in general interest rates. Investments subject to interest rate risk will usually decrease in value when interest rates rise. For example, fixed-income securities with long maturities typically experience a more pronounced change in value when interest rates change.

Credit Risk: Your investments are subject to credit risk. An investments credit quality depends on its ability to pay interest on and repay its debt and other obligations.

Small- to Medium-Capitalization Risk: We may invest your assets in small to medium sized companies. Shares of small to medium sized companies may have more volatile share prices. Furthermore, the securities of small to medium companies often have less market liquidity and their share prices can react with more volatility to changes in the general marketplace.

Junk Bond/High-Yield Security Risk: We may invest your assets in Junk Bonds or High-Yield, lower rated securities. Investments in fixed-income securities that are rated below Investment grade can be subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest than investments in higher-rated fixed-income securities. The market for high yield securities may be less liquid than the market for higher-rated securities. High yield securities are also generally considered to be subject to greater market risk than higher-rated securities. The capacity of issuers of high yield securities to pay interest and repay principal is more likely to weaken than is that of issuers of higher-rated securities in times of deteriorating economic conditions or rising interest rates.

Prepayment Risk: Your investments may be subject to prepayment risk. Prepayment risk occurs when the issuer of a security can repay principal prior to the security's maturity. Securities subject to prepayment can offer less potential for gains during a declining interest rate environment and similar or greater potential for loss in a rising interest rate environment. In addition, the potential impact of prepayment features on the price of a security can be difficult to predict and result in greater volatility.

Inflation Risk: This is the risk that the value of your assets or income you're your investments will be less in the future as inflation decreases the value of your money. As inflation increases, the value (purchasing power) of your assets can decline. This risk increases as we invest a greater portion of your assets in fixed-income securities with longer maturities.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell, possibly preventing us from selling out of these illiquid securities at an advantageous price.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

A. Gary Shilling, an advisory agent and registered representative of Thornhill Securities, Inc. has two regulatory disclosure items.

While employed at Heartland Advisors, Inc. in 2003 A. Gary Shilling in connection with the SEC's filings of civil fraud charges against Heartland Advisors, Inc., certain company officials and others related to certain alleged misrepresentations, mispricing and insider trading involving two Heartland High-Yield bond mutual funds. The SEC instituted a separate administrative proceeding against four independent directors of the funds, including A. Gary Shilling. In the proceeding, the SEC alleged that the directors negligently violated (I) Section 17(A) of the Securities Act of 1933, in that they failed to adequately monitor the liquidity of the funds' portfolios, and (II) Section 22(C) and Rule 22C-1, the firms pricing provisions of the investment company Act of 1940, in that they failed to take adequate steps to address the funds' pricing deficiencies. The SEC issued an order accepting an offer of settlement by A. Gary Shilling and other independent directors, without admitting or denying the allegations, all of the independent directors consented to cease and desist from further violations of the securities laws. No further penalties, financial or otherwise, other than the cease and desist order were imposed. In accepting the directors' offer of settlement, the SEC acknowledged in a public statement that it considered the facts that the directors were lied to by the funds' advisor, hired experts to assist them in performing their duties, and engaged in subsequent remedial actions. Mr. Shilling resigned as a director of the Heartland Funds in November of 2003.

While employed at A. Gary Shilling & Co., Inc., Gary A. Shilling issued from Feb. - Sept. 2003 a newsletter. NASD alleges that Gary A. Shilling violated NASD Conduct Rules 2711(G)(3)&2110 in buying/selling securities in manner inconsistent with recommendations, violated NASD Conduct Rules 2711(G)(2)&2110 in selling securities that were subject to the 30 day trading restriction, violated NASD Conduct Rules 2711(H)(5)&(6)&2110 by failing to provide distribution of ratings and price chart information, and violated NASD Conduct Rules 2711(I) AND 2110 by failing to adopt and implement written supervisory procedures designed to ensure compliance with Conduct Rule 2711. A. Gary Shilling was fined $30,000 and was censured and fined joint and severally an additional $15,000 fine.

Your confidence and trust placed in our Firm and its advisory agents is something we value and endeavor to protect and we want to answer any questions that you may have on the disclosures presented.

Directed Brokerage:

If you want to direct us to use a particular broker dealer to handle security transactions then you are responsible for the custodian fee arrangement. You should understand that this might prevent us from effectively negotiating brokerage compensation or obtaining the most favorable net price and execution. When directing brokerage business, you should consider whether the commission expenses, execution, clearance and settlement capabilities that you will obtain through another broker dealer are adequately favorable in comparison to those that our Firm would otherwise obtain for you using Thornhill Securities, Inc., Pershing, LLC or Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. We do evaluate periodically the execution performance of the brokers-dealers including Thornhill Securities, Inc. or Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. We encourage you to discuss available alternatives with our advisory agents.

Although such concurrent aggregations potentially could be either advantageous or disadvantageous to any one or more particular accounts, they will be effected only when we believe that to do so will be in the best interest of the affected accounts.

When transactions are so aggregated, (a) the actual prices applicable to the aggregated transaction will be averaged, and each client account participating in the aggregated transaction will be deemed to have purchased or sold its share of the security, instrument or obligation involved at that average price and (b) all transaction costs incurred in effecting the aggregated transaction, except to the extent that certain broker-dealers that also furnish custody services may impose minimum transaction charges applicable to some of the participating accounts. When such concurrent aggregation occurs, the objective will be to allocate executions in a manner that is deemed equitable to the accounts involved.

We may also assist you in interpreting and/or compiling statements or reports and transferring relevant information onto the appropriate place on your financial statements as part of our review process.

The SEC instituted a separate administrative proceeding against four independent directors of the funds, including Albert G. Shilling. In the proceeding, the SEC alleged that the directors negligently violated (I) Section 17(A) of the Securities Act of 1933, in that they failed to adequately monitor the liquidity of the funds' portfolios, and (II) Section 22(C) and Rule 22C-1, the firms pricing provisions of the investment company Act of 1940, in that they failed to take adequate steps to address the funds' pricing deficiencies. No further penalties, financial or otherwise, other than the cease and desist order were imposed.
