Item 2 – Summary of Material Changes

We review our policies and procedures on a regular basis to evaluate their continuing effectiveness. As a result of that process or due to changes in our firm and business, we may amend our policies and procedures and/or this document from time to time. We will describe material changes in this space.

Beginning in January 2017, the company provides non-discretionary, portfolio advisory services to clients who seek to pursue an investment strategy similar to one or more existing multi-strategy funds.

Item 4 – Advisory Business

Established in 1994, Wellington Alternative Investments LLC (WAI) is an indirect subsidiary of Wellington Management Group LLP (WMG), which is the parent holding company of the Wellington Management group of companies (collectively, Wellington Management). WAI is a Delaware limited liability company that acts as the general partner or manager of several privately-offered pooled investment vehicles exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (collectively, the Funds). The Funds pursue a range of investment strategies, including long / short equity, long / short credit, macro, relative value, multi-strategy and private equity. WAI is registered as a commodity pool operator (CPO) with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC).

WAI provides discretionary investment management services directly to the Funds employing a multi-strategy investment approach (the Multi-Strategy Funds). The Multi-Strategy Funds invest in other Funds and accounts managed by Wellington Management affiliates. WAI manages each Multi-Strategy Fund in accordance with the investment strategies and restrictions set forth in its limited partnership agreement or management agreement, as applicable.

WAI may also provide non-discretionary, portfolio advisory services to other clients who seek to pursue an investment strategy similar to one or more of the Multi-Strategy Funds. Advisory accounts are often customized to meet a client's specific requirements. For example, WAI may recommend different allocations to an advisory account than those of a similar Multi-Strategy Fund based on that client's requirements or guidelines. Initial account requirements or guidelines are generally established by agreement between WAI and the client and are typically stated in the portfolio advisory agreement. From time to time, WAI may negotiate changes with a client.

WAI is the general partner or manager to the other Funds (the Single Strategy Funds). In that capacity it sets the investment objective, guidelines and restrictions for the Single Strategy Funds. WAI has appointed its affiliate Wellington Management Company LLP (WMC), a Delaware limited liability partnership and indirect subsidiary of WMG, as investment manager to provide discretionary investment management and related services to the Single Strategy Funds. WMC is registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and as a commodity trading advisor with the CFTC.

WAI may appoint other Wellington Management affiliates as investment manager to one or more Funds in the future, including Wellington Management International Ltd, a limited company registered in England and Wales and an indirect subsidiary of WMG, and Wellington Management Hong Kong Limited, a private limited company organized under the laws of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China and an indirect subsidiary of WMG.

As of 31 December 2016, WAI had approximately $12.9 billion in assets under management on a discretionary basis in the Funds.

Discussions of the Funds in this brochure, including but not limited to their investments, the strategies used in managing the Funds, the fees and other costs associated with an investment in the Funds, and conflicts of interest faced by WAI and its affiliates in connection with management of the Funds, are summaries intended only to provide required information on our business and practices to our advisory clients. These discussions are not intended for use in evaluating an investment in a Fund. Investors and prospective investors in a Fund should read the Fund's confidential offering memorandum and governing documents ("offering documents") for complete information on these matters.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

WAI receives asset-based fees from some Multi-Strategy Funds. It also receives asset-based fees from some Funds with regard to illiquid securities held by those Funds in side pocket accounts.

WAI receives performance-based compensation from most of the Funds.

Some Multi-Strategy Funds bear their pro rata portion of the asset-based fees charged by the underlying Funds and accounts in which they maintain an investment. In such cases the investment manager to the Single Strategy Fund or account receives the asset based fee. Other Multi-Strategy Funds do not pay asset-based fees charged by the underlying Funds and accounts in which they maintain an investment.

Fees and expenses are charged to and deducted from the Funds in arrears. Additional information on each Fund's fees and expenses is provided in the offering documents.

WAI also receives asset-based fees and performance-based compensation from portfolio advisory clients. WAI negotiates fees and compensation in light of a client's special circumstances, asset levels, service requirements or other factors. Asset-based fees for portfolio advisory clients are typically calculated monthly in arrears based on the portfolio value. Portfolio advisory clients do not pay asset-based fees to underlying Funds and accounts in which they maintain an investment. These clients can choose to receive an invoice generated by WAI or they can calculate and remit fee payments directly to the firm.

See Item 6 for a description of the performance-based compensation applicable to both Funds and portfolio advisory clients.

Each Fund and account also bears the fees and expenses charged by its custodian and other service providers, brokerage costs related to investments, and other expenses incurred in operating the Fund or account. For more information, please see Item 12 -- Brokerage practices.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

WAI receives performance-based compensation from most of the Funds. The performance compensation typically is a percentage of the total net increase in the value of the Fund, including both realized and unrealized profits, subject to recoupment of previous losses. Some Funds calculate the performance allocation based on the excess return above a specified benchmark. Other Funds calculate it based on realized net profits only. If earned, the performance compensation typically is paid annually in arrears or upon a withdrawal or redemption from a Fund.

WAI also receives performance-based compensation from portfolio advisory clients. This performance compensation typically is a percentage of the total net increase in the value of the portfolio, including both realized and unrealized profits, subject to recoupment of previous losses. In some cases, it is based on the excess return above a specified benchmark. If earned, performance compensation typically is paid annually (or on another agreed-upon performance period) in arrears.

WAI has an incentive to favor Funds and portfolio advisory clients that pay it performance-based compensation over Funds and other clients that do not. For Multi-Strategy Funds that pay the performance-based fees charged by the underlying Funds and accounts in which they invest, WAI has an incentive to invest in underlying Funds and accounts with more favorable performance compensation arrangements than other Funds and accounts. For all Multi-Strategy Funds and for portfolio advisory clients, WAI may also have an incentive to invest in riskier or more speculative underlying Funds and accounts. WAI manages these conflicts through internal review processes that are designed to provide for allocations to the underlying Funds and accounts based on the investment strategy of the Funds and accounts, and not on the fee structures.

If a Single Strategy Fund holds an investment with respect to which market quotations and/or other independent pricing information are not readily available, WMC recommends a valuation to the Funds based on fair valuation methodologies. WAI faces a conflict of interest in accepting these valuations for the Funds because these valuations affect WAI's compensation. WAI manages this conflict through internal review and oversight processes.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

WAI provides discretionary advisory services only to investment vehicles that are private investment funds exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940. WAI may also provide non-discretionary, portfolio advisory services to public funds and other large institutions.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

WAI manages the Multi-Strategy Funds using a multi-strategy allocation approach involving both strategic and active asset allocation decisions. Some Multi-Strategy Funds include diversified exposure to a range of asset classes and strategies, while others are concentrated on specific asset classes or strategies. WAI implements its investment approach by allocating the assets of each Multi-Strategy Fund to various Funds and accounts managed by Wellington Management affiliates.

WAI may also provide non-discretionary advice to clients that seek to pursue an investment strategy similar to one or more of the Multi-Strategy Funds. These services generally consist of providing recommendations on the allocation of assets among various Funds and accounts managed by Wellington Management affiliates. WAI may provide some portfolio advisory accounts with non-discretionary advice on underlying Funds and accounts with exposure to a range of asset classes and strategies and advice to others on underlying Funds and accounts that are concentrated on specific asset classes or strategies.

Investing in securities and other financial instruments involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The Multi-Strategy Funds and portfolio advisory accounts are subject to all of the risks associated with each of the underlying Funds and accounts in which they invest, as well as the risk that the asset classes or strategies do not perform as expected. Additional information on each Fund's risks is provided in the offering documents.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to WAI's clients' or prospective clients' evaluation of WAI's advisory business.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

The following is a list of WAI's investment advisory affiliates:

- o Wellington Management Company LLP (WMC), manages Wellington Management's business in the United States and Latin America and coordinates global operations.
- o Wellington Management Canada LLC manages Wellington Management's business in Canada.

- o Wellington Management International Ltd manages Wellington Management's business in Europe (ex-Switzerland), the Middle East and Africa.
- o Wellington Management Switzerland GmbH services clients in Switzerland.
- o Wellington Management Australia Pty Ltd manages Wellington Management's business in Australia and New Zealand.
- o Wellington Management Hong Kong Limited manages Wellington Management's business in greater China and Korea.
- o Wellington Management Japan Pte Ltd manages Wellington Management's business in Japan.
- o Wellington Management Singapore Pte Ltd manages Wellington Management's business in the remainder of Asia ex-Japan.

In addition to WAI, the following affiliates sponsor pooled investment vehicles.

- o Wellington Funds (US) LLC
- o Wellington Luxembourg S.à r.l.
- o Wellington Management Funds LLC
- o Wellington Trust Company, NA.

Wellington Management Advisers, Inc., (WMA) a limited-scope broker/dealer registered with the US Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), introduces prospects to the Funds, to other investment vehicles sponsored by Wellington Management and to certain SEC-registered investment companies. WMA does not execute securities transactions or engage in any other business.

For additional information on the Wellington Management group companies, please refer to the Appendix.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics / Personal Securities Trading

WAI has adopted the Wellington Management Code of Ethics, which applies to all Wellington Management personnel worldwide. The Code describes the standard of conduct Wellington Management requires of its personnel and sets forth certain restrictions on activities, including with regard to personal trading and gifts and entertainment. Compliance with the Code is a condition of employment for all personnel. A serious violation of the Code or related policies may result in dismissal. Key provisions of the Code are summarized below. A copy of the entire document is available upon request.

All Wellington Management personnel are considered "access persons" under the Code. They must preclear their personal transactions in covered securities prior to execution, except as specifically exempted under the Code. Some personal securities transactions that are not subject to pre-clearance must nonetheless be reported, including transactions in open-end mutual funds and variable insurance products that Wellington Management manages. The Code's restrictions on personal trading apply to accounts over which an access person and/ or certain immediate family members have investment discretion, or from which they enjoy economic benefits. Portfolio managers are subject to additional restrictions on their personal transactions. The pre-clearance process tests proposed transactions against a number of substantive restrictions designed to prevent Wellington Management personnel from taking advantage of the firm's investment activity on behalf of its clients. Wellington Management prohibits all personnel from buying or selling securities issued by broker/dealers that are approved for execution of client trades or by securities markets or exchanges on which Wellington Management affiliates trade on behalf of clients. Likewise, Wellington Management does not allow its personnel to engage in personal transactions involving the direct purchase of any security in an initial public offering. All personnel are required to provide quarterly reports and certifications regarding their securities transactions and annual reports regarding their securities holdings. The WMC Chief Compliance Officer (or his or her designee) may grant an exception from pre-clearance, other trading restrictions, and certain reporting requirements on a case-by-case basis, if he or she determines that the proposed conduct involves no opportunity for abuse and does not conflict with client interests.

Gifts and entertainment

The Code places restrictions on receipt of gifts, travel, and entertainment opportunities by Wellington Management personnel. Wellington Management personnel occasionally participate in entertainment opportunities that are for legitimate business purposes, subject to limitations set forth in the Code.

Investments by Wellington Management personnel in the Funds

Wellington Management personnel, including portfolio managers and other investment personnel, often invest in the Funds. WAI does not limit the percentage of a Fund that Wellington Management personnel can own. Wellington Management personnel are often the first participants in a new Fund and in some instances will be the only participants for one or more years. However, the vast majority of total assets in the Funds belong to unaffiliated investors.

By virtue of their responsibilities, Wellington Management personnel have access to information that is not available to other participants in the Funds. WAI has adopted policies and procedures to identify and disclose material information to all investors in the Funds and to manage conflicts that arise from Wellington Management personnel's investment in the Funds. Those procedures include information barriers and restrictions on transactions in Funds by Wellington Management personnel.

Investments by WAI and its affiliates in the Funds

WAI, in its capacity as general partner, invests a minimal amount of capital in each Fund that is a partnership.

From time to time, a WMG affiliate provides seed capital in connection with the launch of a Fund.

Wellington Management offers a deferred compensation plan to some employees through which the employees can make a notional investment in the Funds. A WMG affiliate invests in the Funds in order to hedge the liabilities associated with the deferred compensation plan.

None of these investments by WAI or WMG's affiliates is material (either individually or collectively) to WAI's or WMG's financial position.

Client investments in the Funds and other Accounts

WAI also recommends investments in the Funds and other accounts managed by Wellington Management affiliates. WAI monitors these arrangements to ensure that allocation recommendations are based solely upon an account's investment objectives, guidelines, and risk tolerance.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

The Multi-Strategy Funds and portfolio advisory accounts invest in other Funds and accounts managed by Wellington Management and do not directly engage brokers or execute trades.

WAI has authorized the investment manager to select brokers and dealers to place and execute portfolio transactions on behalf of the Single Strategy Funds. WAI receives information from the investment manager regarding its exercise of that discretion, including its research and soft dollar practices.

WAI does select prime brokers for the Single Strategy Funds. The services to be performed under each prime broker agreement may include the provision of leverage, margin financing, clearing, settlement, securities lending, short selling facilities and foreign exchange facilities. Prime brokers also will provide custody services for investments held on the books of the prime brokers in accordance with the terms of the respective agreements and applicable law.

Additional information on each Fund's brokerage practices is provided in the offering documents.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

The Investment Directors of the Funds review performance and exposures for each Fund, including leverage and margin, different exposure and diversification metrics, transaction activity, and liquidity, on an ongoing basis. WAI's goal is to understand the exposures in each Fund to confirm that the exposures are in line with WAI's expectations.

Similarly, the Investment Directors for each portfolio advisory account review performance and exposures for each Fund held in that account, including leverage and margin, different exposure and diversification metrics, transaction activity, and liquidity, on an ongoing basis. WAI's goal is to understand the aggregate exposures in the account in order to confirm that these exposures are in line with WAI's recommendations.

WAI provides Funds and advisory clients a variety of reporting, including monthly written reporting on performance and holdings. WAI also periodically provides commentary on current allocations and positioning, and portfolio manager views on the economy, markets and other investment topics. Clients may receive different levels of service from WAI or have varying access to investment and other personnel.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

WAI does not enter into arrangements with third parties to solicit new advisory clients.

WAI primarily relies on the business development and marketing activities of its affiliates to solicit investors for the Funds. However, WAI and some Funds have entered into arrangements to pay third parties to solicit new investors for those Funds.

From time to time, the prime brokers to the Funds introduce potential investors for the Funds. Introductions are made either at conferences sponsored by the prime broker or through private meetings. Neither WAI nor the Funds pay the prime brokers fees for making these introductions.

Item 15 – Custody

The assets of each Fund are maintained at qualified third-party custodians.

WAI does not maintain physical possession of the assets of any Fund. Because WAI serves as general partner of, or holds another comparable position with respect to, the Funds, it takes additional measures to safeguard Fund assets.

Each Fund provides audited financial statements prepared in accordance with US generally accepted accounting principles to all investors in the Fund typically within 90 days of the applicable fiscal year end.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

WAI exercises investment discretion on behalf of each Multi-Strategy Fund in accordance with its particular investment objectives, policies and strategies as set forth in its limited partnership agreement or management agreement, as applicable. WAI has delegated investment discretion for the Single Strategy Funds to the investment manager, which in turn may delegate some of its portfolio management responsibilities to another Wellington Management affiliate.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

WAI does not vote proxies directly on behalf of the Funds. It has delegated proxy voting responsibility to WMC.

WAI does not have authority to vote securities held in portfolio advisory accounts. These clients will receive proxies and other solicitations with respect to the Funds from WAI or the Fund's transfer agent and may reach out to their relationship team with questions about a particular solicitation.

Item 18 – Financial Information
