

ELEMENT POINTE ADVISORS, LLC

a Registered Investment Adviser

40 SW 13th Street, Suite 701
Miami, FL 33130

(786) 655-9790

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Element Pointe Advisors, LLC (hereinafter “Element Pointe Advisors” or the “Firm”). If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact the Firm at the telephone number listed above. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) or by any state securities authority. Additional information about the Firm is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. The Firm is a registered investment adviser. Registration does not imply any level of skill or training.

Item 2. Material Changes

In this Item, Element Pointe Advisors is required to discuss any material changes that have been made to the brochure since the last annual amendment. The following material changes were made since the Firm's last brochure dated June 26, 2017:

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

Element Pointe Advisors ceased voting proxies on behalf of client held securities. Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (i) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities they beneficially own will be voted, and (ii) making all elections relative to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings, corporate actions, or other types of events pertaining to the client's investments.

Item 3. Table of Contents

Item 2. Material Changes	2
Item 3. Table of Contents	3
Item 4. Advisory Business	4
Item 5. Fees and Compensation	6
Item 6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management	9
Item 7. Types of Clients	9
Item 8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss	10
Item 9. Disciplinary Information	12
Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations	13
Item 11. Code of Ethics	13
Item 12. Brokerage Practices	14
Item 13. Review of Accounts	17
Item 14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation	19
Item 15. Custody	19
Item 16. Investment Discretion	19
Item 17. Voting Client Securities	20
Item 18. Financial Information	20

Item 4. Advisory Business

Element Pointe Advisors is a boutique multi-family office and wealth management firm. Element Pointe Advisors offers two primary lines of business: i) Family Office Chief Investment Officer; and ii) Investment Management. Prior to Element Pointe Advisors rendering any of the foregoing advisory services, clients are required to enter into one or more written agreements with Element Pointe Advisors setting forth the relevant terms and conditions of the advisory relationship (the “Advisory Agreement”).

Element Pointe Advisors was formed in 2016 and is owned by David Savir and Carlos A. Dominguez. As of July 21, 2017, Element Pointe Advisors had $308,580,586.86 of regulatory assets under management and $316,618,413.37 of assets under advisement.

While this brochure generally describes the business of Element Pointe Advisors, certain sections also discuss the activities of its Supervised Persons, which refer to the Firm’s officers, partners, directors (or other persons occupying a similar status or performing similar functions), employees or any other person who provides investment advice on Element Pointe Advisors’s behalf and is subject to the Firm’s supervision or control.

Investment and Family Office Services

Element Pointe Advisors manages client investment portfolios on a discretionary and nondiscretionary basis. In addition, Element Pointe Advisors may provide clients with family office services which include a broad range of additional consulting services such as outsourced chief investment officer services, and account aggregation and oversight of assets.

Family Office CIO Services

Element Pointe Advisors serves as an outsourced Chief Investment Officer to ultra-high net worth families (generally with liquid net worth greater than $100 million). The Firm recognizes that these families have a unique set of needs. In addition to holding assets in many different entities, these ultra-high net worth families often hold assets at many different banks, brokerage firms, and other custodians, and often have significant private company interests and real estate holdings. We understand the challenges of managing these many relationships and vast financial interests, and we are able to assist clients by providing:

- Portfolio consulting advice (“manager of managers”) on assets not managed by the Firm.
- Ongoing oversight and management of portfolios across multiple financial institutions.
- Account aggregation and consolidated reporting.
- Management of the client’s bank and brokerage relationships.
- Expense Management.
- Cash flow and liquidity management.
- Coordination of activities between the client’s tax and legal advisors, banks, brokerage firms, and third-party trustees.

- Estate Planning coordination with client's attorneys and tax advisors.

Investment Management Services

Element Pointe Advisors primarily allocates client assets among various mutual funds, exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), individual debt and equity securities, and independent investment managers ("Independent Managers") in accordance with their stated investment objectives.

Where appropriate, the Firm may also provide advice about any type of legacy position or other investment held in client portfolios. Clients may engage Element Pointe Advisors to manage and/or advise on certain investment products that are not maintained at their primary custodian, such as variable life insurance and annuity contracts and assets held in employer sponsored retirement plans and qualified tuition plans (i.e., 529 plans). In these situations, Element Pointe Advisors directs or recommends the allocation of client assets among the various investment options available with the product. These assets are generally maintained at the underwriting insurance company or the custodian designated by the product's provider. Clients may also give the Firm a limited power of attorney to access assets at other Financial Institutions that the client prefers to use for specific accounts (the "Held Away Assets"). Access to the Held Away Assets may include the ability to view and report on the assets and/or the ability to buy and sell securities in the account. When managing Held Away Assets, the Firm is only responsible for the assets it manages and the decisions and recommendation that the Firm makes.

Element Pointe Advisors tailors its advisory services to meet the needs of its individual clients and seeks to ensure, on a continuous basis, that client portfolios are managed in a manner consistent with those needs and objectives. Element Pointe Advisors consults with clients on an initial and ongoing basis to assess their specific risk tolerance, time horizon, liquidity constraints and other related factors relevant to the management of their portfolios. Clients are advised to promptly notify Element Pointe Advisors if there are changes in their financial situation or if they wish to place any limitations on the management of their portfolios. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions or mandates on the management of their accounts if Element Pointe Advisors determines, in its sole discretion, the conditions would not materially impact the performance of a management strategy or prove overly burdensome to the Firm's management efforts.

Use of Independent Managers

As mentioned above, Element Pointe Advisors may select certain Independent Managers to actively manage a portion of its clients' assets. The specific terms and conditions under which a client engages an Independent Manager may be set forth in a separate written agreement with the designated Independent Manager. In addition to this brochure, clients may also receive the written disclosure documents of the respective Independent Managers engaged to manage their assets.

Element Pointe Advisors evaluates a variety of information about Independent Managers, which may include the Independent Managers' public disclosure documents, materials supplied by the Independent Managers themselves and other third-party analyses it believes are reputable. To the extent possible, the Firm seeks to assess the Independent Managers' investment strategies, past performance and risk results in relation to its clients' individual portfolio allocations and risk exposure. Element Pointe Advisors also takes into consideration each Independent Manager's management style, returns, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing and research capabilities, among other factors.

Element Pointe Advisors continues to provide services relative to the discretionary selection of the Independent Managers. On an ongoing basis, the Firm monitors the performance of those accounts being managed by Independent Managers. Element Pointe Advisors seeks to ensure the Independent Managers' strategies and target allocations remain aligned with its clients' investment objectives and overall best interests.

Item 5. Fees and Compensation

Element Pointe Advisors offers services on a fee basis, which may include fixed fees, as well as fees based upon assets under management or the performance of the account. Occasionally, Element Pointe Advisors is asked by clients to report on assets not managed by the Firm. In such cases, Element Pointe Advisors, in its sole discretion, may negotiate to charge a fixed reporting fee or, alternatively, a reporting fee based on the value of the assets on which the firm provides reporting services. This reporting fee shall not exceed 0.20% of the value of the non-managed assets for which we are asked to provide reporting services.

Element Pointe Advisors primarily offers services for an annual fee based on the amount of assets under the Firm's management. This management fee generally varies in accordance with the following blended fee schedule:

PORTFOLIO VALUE	BASE FEE
First $3,000,000	1.00%
Next $7,000,000	0.80%
Next $15,000,000	0.60%
Next $75,000,000	0.40%
Above $100,000,000	0.25%

Alternatively, the Firm may charge a negotiated fixed fee that is based upon the anticipated services and assets managed for a particular client.

The annual fee is prorated and charged quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the average daily account balance for that quarter, including accrued interest and dividends. Since the asset-based fee is determined by average daily account balance, assets that are deposited into or withdrawn from an account after the inception of a quarter (and for assets managed in the initial quarter), are billed on a pro rata basis. Advisory fees on investments in hedge funds and private equity funds will be billed quarterly, in arrears, based on the average daily value, in accordance with the valuation method outlined on the following page in the section titled "Valuation of Hedge Funds and Private Equity Funds for Billing Purposes." For Held Away Assets, the Firm will charge an annual fee (which is pro rated and billed quarterly, in advance), based upon the value of the assets in that account at the close of business on the last day of the previous quarter.

Additionally, for asset management services the Firm provides with respect to certain client holdings (e.g., Held Away Assets, accommodation accounts, alternative investments, etc.), Element Pointe Advisors may negotiate a fee rate that differs from the range set forth above.

Account Value Calculation for Billing Purposes; Trade Date versus Settlement Date, and Accrued Interest and Dividends

Element Pointe Advisors, through its account aggregation and portfolio accounting software provider, receives a daily data feed from each custodian, which includes the daily positions, transactions, and asset values. The value used to calculate advisory fees may differ from the net value shown on the brokerage statement provided by the custodian of your assets. There are two primary reasons for these values to differ:

- 1) Trade Date versus Settlement Date – The brokerage statements provided by most custodians value all securities and cash balances based upon trades not being completed until settlement date (when the money is due), while the value used for billing is derived from Element Pointe Advisors's account aggregation and portfolio accounting software, which values all securities and cash balances based upon trade date (initiation of cost basis for performance and tax reporting purposes). For example, if a recent buy in an account has executed, but not yet settled at quarter-end, the trade will still show as a cash position on the brokerage statement provided by the custodian. In contrast, the purchased security, and value, will be used for performance and billing calculations.
- 2) Accrued Interest and Dividends – Element Pointe Advisors includes accrued interest and dividends in calculating the daily value of assets in accounts on which the Firm serves as advisor. This may differ from the value reflected in statements provided by the custodian, as most custodians do not include the value of interest and dividends accrued; rather, most custodians use a cash accounting method wherein dividend and interest income is not accounted for until paid.

Advisory fees are calculated in a standardized manner, which reflects the initiation and disposition of securities, accrued interest and dividends, and flows into and out of an account as well as the timing of these flows.

Valuation of Hedge Funds and Private Equity Funds for Billing Purposes

Portfolios managed and advised on by Element Pointe Advisors sometimes include investments in hedge funds and private equity funds. For billing valuation purposes, Element Pointe Advisors uses the most recent valuation provided by the manager of the fund, plus any net contributions to the fund since the most recent valuation provided by the fund manager. The value provided for a certain investment will be the fund manager's estimate and may not be the liquidation value of the investment.

Element Pointe Advisors may rely on the data provided by the clients' custodian or record keeper, via a data feed to our portfolio accounting software provider, in computing the billing valuation of a private equity fund or hedge fund position.

Performance-Based Fees

Element Pointe Advisors may also offer investment management services to a limited number of qualified clients for a performance-based fee in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations. Under this arrangement, the Firm charges a fee based upon the performance of a client account in addition to an annual fee based upon assets under management.

The performance fee will be equal to a percentage of the annual net gains achieved in a client's account, subject to a perpetual high water mark. The performance fee is charged annually in arrears, based upon the net portfolio gains achieved on a calendar year basis. The annual asset-based fee will be separately negotiated and will be charged on the same terms (not the fee schedule) as described above.

Fee Discretion

Element Pointe Advisors may, in its sole discretion, negotiate to charge a lesser fee based upon certain criteria, such as anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing/legacy client relationship, account retention and pro bono activities.

Additional Fees and Expenses

In addition to the advisory fees paid to Element Pointe Advisors, clients may also incur certain charges imposed by other third parties, such as broker-dealers, custodians, trust companies, banks and other financial institutions (collectively "Financial Institutions"). These additional charges may include securities brokerage commissions, transaction fees, custodial fees, fees charged by the Independent Managers, margin costs, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or ETF in a client's account, as disclosed in the fund's prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. The Firm's brokerage practices are described at length in Item 12, below.

Direct Fee Debit

Clients generally provide Element Pointe Advisors and/or certain Independent Managers with the authority to directly debit their accounts for payment of the investment advisory fees. The Financial Institutions that act as the qualified custodian for client accounts, from which the Firm retains the authority to directly deduct fees, have agreed to send statements to clients not less than quarterly detailing all account transactions, including any amounts paid to Element Pointe Advisors.

Use of Margin

Element Pointe Advisors generally does not use margin in the management of clients' investment portfolios. If a client specifically requests that the Firm use margin for the purpose of leveraged investing in securities, the Firm may consent to the use of margin for leveraged investing, in its sole discretion, after careful review of the client's financial situation, investment experience, and risk tolerance. In these cases, the fee payable to Element Pointe Advisors will be assessed on the total market value of the client's account, gross of margin.

Some clients may choose to pledge assets held in an account managed by Element Pointe Advisors as collateral for a margin or bank loan used for outside investments, spending, or other needs unrelated to assets managed by Element Pointe Advisors. In these cases, the fee payable to Element Pointe Advisors will be assessed on the total market value of the client's account, gross of margin.

Account Additions and Withdrawals

Clients may make additions to and withdrawals from their account at any time, subject to Element Pointe Advisors's right to terminate an account. Additions may be in cash or securities provided that the Firm reserves the right to liquidate any transferred securities or declines to accept particular securities into a client's account. Clients may withdraw account assets on notice to Element Pointe Advisors, subject to the usual and customary securities settlement procedures. However, the Firm generally designs its portfolios as long-term investments and the withdrawal of assets may impair the achievement of a client's investment objectives. Element Pointe Advisors may consult with its clients about the options and implications of transferring securities. Clients are advised that when transferred securities are liquidated, they may be subject to transaction fees, short-term redemption fees, fees assessed at the mutual fund level (e.g., contingent deferred sales charges) and/or tax ramifications.

Item 6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

As stated in Item 4, Element Pointe Advisors may provide advisory services to qualified clients for a performance-based fee (i.e., a fee based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's assets). Although Element Pointe Advisors believes that this fee arrangement aligns the interests of the Firm and its clients, it may raise conflicts of interest. The performance fee may be an incentive for the Firm to make or recommend investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case absent a performance fee arrangement. In addition, where Element Pointe Advisors charges performance-based fees and also provides similar services to accounts not being charged performance-based fees, there is an incentive to favor accounts paying a performance-based fee. Element Pointe Advisors has procedures in place to ensure that any decisions are made in the best interest of clients regardless of the applicable fee structure.

Item 7. Types of Clients

Element Pointe Advisors offers services to individuals, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and business entities.

Minimum Account Value

As a condition for starting and maintaining an investment management relationship, Element Pointe Advisors generally imposes a minimum portfolio value of $1,000,000. Element Pointe Advisors may, in its sole discretion, accept clients with smaller portfolios based upon certain criteria, including anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing client, account retention, and pro bono activities. Element Pointe Advisors only accepts clients with less than the minimum portfolio size if the Firm determines the smaller portfolio size will not cause a substantial increase of investment risk beyond the client's identified risk tolerance. Element Pointe Advisors may aggregate the portfolios of family members to meet the minimum portfolio size.

Item 8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Investment Philosophy

Element Pointe Advisors believes that a portfolio should be diversified across asset classes as well as geographies. Numerous academic studies have found that diversification across global asset classes, often referred to as "asset allocation," is the main driver of portfolio returns over the long-term. It is therefore important to formulate an asset allocation that will help to preserve and grow wealth over time, while also being consistent with an investor's goals, financial plans, and risk tolerance. Element Pointe Advisors leverages its access to world-class research on economics, global equities, fixed income, and various other key asset classes to construct portfolios that meet clients' overall goals.

The next step in the portfolio management process involves the selection of funds and managers for each of the asset classes within the portfolio. Element Pointe Advisors favors a "core and satellite" approach, using low-fee index funds for beta exposure in undervalued markets, while utilizing active managers/funds for exposure to specific sectors, geographies, concentrated positions, or asset classes where active management can add value.

While diversification is important, over-diversification and high fees can severely dampen a portfolio's long term return potential. Thus Element Pointe Advisors strives to be disciplined and efficient in the portfolio construction process. Furthermore, at times, asset classes are known to have wide deviations from fair value. When asset classes become overvalued or undervalued, you can expect us to make meaningful shifts in the portfolio. These tactical shifts can dramatically reduce risk and preserve capital in times of exuberance and can significantly improve expected returns in times of excessive bearishness.

Element Pointe Advisors uses a "core and satellite" approach to managing U.S. equity allocations. The Firm uses low-cost index funds as the "core," broad-market exposure within equity portfolios. We then complement this core equity allocation with sector over-weights based on our views of the relative values of sectors within the U.S. economy. These sector over-weights are implemented through low-cost, sector-specific index funds, actively managed mutual funds, and individual stocks selected by Element Pointe Advisors's Chief Investment Officer and Investment Committee. Additionally, Element Pointe Advisors may, at its discretion, purchase individual company stocks where the Firm believes that a stock is trading at a significant discount to the Firm's estimate of the company's intrinsic value.

The Element Pointe Approach

Element Pointe Advisors works with clients and their family to identify and address the following Elements of their comprehensive wealth management plan:

- Current Analysis
- Capital Preservation
- Income Needs
- Growth and Capital Appreciation
- Estate and Tax Planning Considerations
- Business Planning and Private Investments

After getting to know the client, their family, and their goals, the Firm works to develop a customized asset allocation to address specific client needs. Element Pointe Advisors then select managers, funds, and individual securities to implement our strategic approach, always mindful of minimizing fees and maximizing liquidity. Once implementation vehicles are selected, the Firm begins prudently investing and building the portfolio, taking a disciplined, patient approach to investing capital. The client's portfolio is then monitored on an ongoing basis and rebalanced as needed to ensure consistency with strategic goals. Additionally, Element Pointe Advisors continuously researches and seeks out tactical (shorter-term) opportunities to allocate smaller percentages of the portfolio to asset classes or investment themes where the Firm sees unique shorter-term opportunities.

Element Pointe Advisors strives to serve clients by maintaining a customized and disciplined approach, combined with an ability to be nimble when unique opportunities arise.

Risk of Loss

Market Risks

Investing involves risk, including the potential loss of principal, and all investors should be guided accordingly. The profitability of a significant portion of Element Pointe Advisors's recommendations and/or investment decisions may depend to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of price movements of stocks, bonds and other asset classes. There can be no assurance that Element Pointe Advisors will be able to predict those price movements accurately or capitalize on any such assumptions.

Mutual Funds and ETFs

An investment in a mutual fund or ETF involves risk, including the loss of principal. Mutual fund and ETF shareholders are necessarily subject to the risks stemming from the individual issuers of the fund's underlying portfolio securities. Such shareholders are also liable for taxes on any fund-level capital gains, as mutual funds and ETFs are required by law to distribute capital gains in the event they sell securities for a profit that cannot be offset by a corresponding loss.

Shares of mutual funds are generally distributed and redeemed on an ongoing basis by the fund itself or a broker acting on its behalf. The trading price at which a share is transacted is equal to a fund's stated daily per share net asset value ("NAV"), plus any shareholders fees (e.g., sales loads, purchase fees, redemption fees). The per share NAV of a mutual fund is calculated at the end of each business day, although the actual NAV fluctuates with intraday changes to the market value of the fund's holdings. The trading prices of a mutual fund's shares may differ significantly from the NAV during periods of market volatility, which may, among other factors, lead to the mutual fund's shares trading at a premium or discount to actual NAV.

Shares of ETFs are listed on securities exchanges and transacted at negotiated prices in the secondary market. Generally, ETF shares trade at or near their most recent NAV, which is generally calculated at least once daily for indexed based ETFs and potentially more frequently for actively managed ETFs. However, certain inefficiencies may cause the shares to trade at a premium or discount to their pro rata NAV. There is also no guarantee that an active secondary market for such shares will develop or continue to exist. Generally, an ETF only redeems shares when aggregated as creation units (usually 20,000 shares or more). Therefore, if a liquid secondary market ceases to exist for shares of a particular ETF, a shareholder may have no way to dispose of such shares.

Use of Independent Managers

As stated above, Element Pointe Advisors may select certain Independent Managers to manage a portion of its clients' assets. In these situations, Element Pointe Advisors continues to conduct ongoing due diligence of such managers, but such recommendations rely to a great extent on the Independent Managers' ability to successfully implement their investment strategies. In addition, Element Pointe Advisors generally may not have the ability to supervise the Independent Managers on a day-to-day basis.

Use of Margin

While the use of margin borrowing can substantially improve returns, it may also increase overall portfolio risk. Margin transactions are generally effected using capital borrowed from a Financial Institution, which is secured by a client's holdings. Under certain circumstances, a lending Financial Institution may demand an increase in the underlying collateral. If the client is unable to provide the additional collateral, the Financial Institution may liquidate account assets to satisfy the client's outstanding obligations, which could have extremely adverse consequences. In addition, fluctuations in the amount of a client's borrowings and the corresponding interest rates may have a significant effect on the profitability and stability of a client's portfolio.

Item 9. Disciplinary Information

Element Pointe Advisors has not been involved in any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of its management.

Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

This item requires investment advisers to disclose certain financial industry activities and affiliations. The Firm does not have any other financial industry activities or affiliations that need to be disclosed.

Item 11. Code of Ethics

Element Pointe Advisors has adopted a code of ethics in compliance with applicable securities laws (“Code of Ethics”) that sets forth the standards of conduct expected of its Supervised Persons. Element Pointe Advisors’s Code of Ethics contains written policies reasonably designed to prevent certain unlawful practices such as the use of material non-public information by the Firm or any of its Supervised Persons and the trading by the same of securities ahead of clients in order to take advantage of pending orders.

The Code of Ethics also requires certain of Element Pointe Advisors’s personnel to report their personal securities holdings and transactions and obtain pre-approval of certain investments (e.g., initial public offerings, limited offerings). However, the Firm’s Supervised Persons are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients if done in a fair and equitable manner that is consistent with the Firm’s policies and procedures. This Code of Ethics has been established recognizing that some securities trade in sufficiently broad markets to permit transactions by certain personnel to be completed without any appreciable impact on the markets of such securities. Therefore, under limited circumstances, exceptions may be made to the policies stated below.

When the Firm is engaging in or considering a transaction in any security on behalf of a client, no Supervised Person with access to this information may knowingly effect for themselves or for their immediate family (i.e., spouse, minor children and adults living in the same household) a transaction in that security unless:

- the transaction has been completed;
- the transaction for the Supervised Person is completed as part of a batch trade with clients; or
- a decision has been made not to engage in the transaction for the client.

These requirements are not applicable to: (i) direct obligations of the Government of the United States; (ii) money market instruments, bankers’ acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, repurchase agreements and other high quality short-term debt instruments, including repurchase agreements; (iii) shares issued by mutual funds or money market funds; and (iv) shares issued by unit investment trusts that are invested exclusively in one or more mutual funds.

Clients and prospective clients may contact Element Pointe Advisors to request a copy of its Code of Ethics.

Item 12. Brokerage Practices

Recommendation of Broker/Dealers for Client Transactions

Element Pointe Advisors generally recommends that clients utilize the custody, brokerage and clearing services of Fidelity Clearing & Custody Solutions (“Fidelity”) for investment management accounts. Factors which Element Pointe Advisors considers in recommending Fidelity or any other broker-dealer to clients include their respective financial strength, reputation, execution, pricing, research and service. Fidelity may enable the Firm to obtain many mutual funds without transaction charges and other securities at nominal transaction charges. The commissions and/or transaction fees charged by Fidelity may be higher or lower than those charged by other Financial Institutions.

The commissions paid by Element Pointe Advisors’s clients to Fidelity comply with the Firm’s duty to obtain “best execution.” Clients may pay commissions that are higher than another qualified Financial Institution might charge to effect the same transaction where Element Pointe Advisors determines that the commissions are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services received. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a Financial Institution’s services, including among others, the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates and responsiveness. Element Pointe Advisors seeks competitive rates but may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client transactions.

Transactions may be cleared through other broker-dealers with whom the Firm and its custodians have entered into agreements for prime brokerage clearing services. In addition, clients may give the Firm the ability to trade securities in accounts held with broker-dealers with whom the Firm does not have an advisory relationship. Should an account make use of these type of relationships, the Client may be required to sign an additional agreement, and additional fees are likely to be charged by the custodian or broker-dealer.

Consistent with obtaining best execution, brokerage transactions may be directed to certain broker/dealers in return for investment research products and/or services which assist Element Pointe Advisors in its investment decision-making process. Such research generally will be used to service all of the Firm’s clients, but brokerage commissions paid by one client may be used to pay for research that is not used in managing that client’s portfolio. The receipt of investment research products and/or services as well as the allocation of the benefit of such investment research products and/or services poses a conflict of interest because Element Pointe Advisors does not have to produce or pay for the products or services.

Element Pointe Advisors periodically and systematically reviews its policies and procedures regarding its recommendation of Financial Institutions in light of its duty to obtain best execution.

Software and Support Provided by Financial Institutions

Element Pointe Advisors may receive without cost from Fidelity computer software and related systems support, which allow Element Pointe Advisors to better monitor client accounts maintained at Fidelity. Element Pointe Advisors may receive the software and related support without cost because the Firm renders investment management services to clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. The software and support is not provided in connection with securities transactions of clients (i.e., not “soft dollars”).

The software and related systems support may benefit Element Pointe Advisors, but not its clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its clients, Element Pointe Advisors endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that Element Pointe Advisors’s receipt of economic benefits from a broker/dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Firm’s choice of broker/dealer over another that does not furnish similar software, systems support or services.

Specifically, Element Pointe Advisors may receive the following benefits from Fidelity:

- Credits to be used toward qualifying third-party service providers used in connection with the initial set up of the Firm’s research, regulatory/compliance, technology and software platforms;
 - In 2016, Element Pointe Advisors received a total of $17,000.00 in credits (“Transition Assistance”) from Fidelity, which was paid directly to an unaffiliated regulatory compliance firm for services rendered in creating Element Pointe Advisors’s compliance policies and procedures, compliance manual, code of ethics, disclosure brochures, and other regulatory and compliance best practices. These compliance policies and procedures benefit our clients by helping to ensure that Element Pointe Advisors has established policies and procedures to ensure that we are meeting our obligations as a fiduciary and acting in our clients’ best interests. This Transition Assistance was a one-time credit in connection with the initial set-up of the Firm’s regulatory compliance protocols and Element Pointe Advisors does not anticipate any further credits from Fidelity.
- Receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements;
- Access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional traders;
- Access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; and
- Access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information.

Element Pointe Advisors may receive, without cost, from certain financial institutions, economic and financial markets research, which assists Element Pointe Advisors in formulating its investment thesis, market views, and individual stock selections. Element Pointe Advisors may receive this institutional research without cost because the Firm invests in funds or investment products offered by the asset management divisions of these financial institutions. In fulfilling its duties to its clients, Element Pointe Advisors endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that Element Pointe Advisors's receipt of institutional research from a broker/dealer or asset manager creates a conflict of interest because these benefits may influence the Firm's choice of funds or investment products.

Specifically, Element Pointe Advisors receives the following research:

- Blackrock
- Deutsche Bank Research
- Goldman Sachs Global Investment Research
- Invesco
- JP Morgan Markets Institutional Research
- Oppenheimer
- PIMCO

This research is not provided in connection with securities transactions of clients (i.e., not "soft dollars"). Element Pointe Advisors makes an updated version of this list available upon request as it may change from time to time.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Element Pointe Advisors does not consider, in selecting or recommending broker/dealers, whether the Firm receives client referrals from the Financial Institutions or other third party.

Directed Brokerage

The client may direct Element Pointe Advisors in writing to use a particular Financial Institution to execute some or all transactions for the client. This includes the Held Away Assets. In that case, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for the account with that Financial Institution and the Firm will not seek better execution services or prices from other Financial Institutions or be able to "batch" client transactions for execution through other Financial Institutions with orders for other accounts managed by Element Pointe Advisors (as described above). As a result, the client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, greater spreads or may receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case. Subject to its duty of best execution, Element Pointe Advisors may decline a client's request to direct brokerage if, in the Firm's sole discretion, such directed brokerage arrangements would result in additional operational difficulties.

Trade Aggregation

Transactions for each client generally will be effected independently, unless Element Pointe Advisors decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. Element Pointe Advisors may (but is not obligated to) combine or “batch” such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate equitably among the Firm’s clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might not have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will generally be averaged as to price and allocated among Element Pointe Advisors’s clients pro rata to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client on any given day. To the extent that the Firm determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which Element Pointe Advisors’s Supervised Persons may invest, the Firm generally does so in accordance with applicable rules promulgated under the Advisers Act and no-action guidance provided by the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Element Pointe Advisors does not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of the aggregation.

In the event that the Firm determines that a prorated allocation is not appropriate under the particular circumstances, the allocation will be made based upon other relevant factors, which may include: (i) when only a small percentage of the order is executed, shares may be allocated to the account with the smallest order or the smallest position or to an account that is out of line with respect to security or sector weightings relative to other portfolios, with similar mandates; (ii) allocations may be given to one account when one account has limitations in its investment guidelines which prohibit it from purchasing other securities which are expected to produce similar investment results and can be purchased by other accounts; (iii) if an account reaches an investment guideline limit and cannot participate in an allocation, shares may be reallocated to other accounts (this may be due to unforeseen changes in an account’s assets after an order is placed); (iv) with respect to sale allocations, allocations may be given to accounts low in cash; (v) in cases when a pro rata allocation of a potential execution would result in a de minimis allocation in one or more accounts, the Firm may exclude the account(s) from the allocation; the transactions may be executed on a pro rata basis among the remaining accounts; or (vi) in cases where a small proportion of an order is executed in all accounts, shares may be allocated to one or more accounts on a random basis.

Item 13. Review of Accounts

Account Reviews

Element Pointe Advisors monitors client portfolios on a continuous and ongoing basis while regular account reviews are conducted on at least a quarterly basis. Such reviews are conducted by the Firm’s Principals. All investment advisory clients are encouraged to discuss their needs, goals and objectives with Element Pointe Advisors and to keep the Firm informed of any changes thereto. The Firm contacts ongoing investment advisory clients at least annually to review its previous services and/or recommendations and quarterly to discuss the impact resulting from any changes in the client’s financial situation and/or investment objectives.

Account Statements and Reports

Clients are provided with transaction confirmation notices and regular summary account statements directly from the Financial Institutions where their assets are custodied. From time-to-time or as otherwise requested, clients may also receive written or electronic reports from Element Pointe Advisors and/or an outside service provider, which contain certain account and/or market-related information, such as an inventory of account holdings or account performance. Clients should compare the account statements they receive from their custodian with any documents or reports they receive from Element Pointe Advisors or an outside service provider.

The value reflected in performance reports provided by Element Pointe Advisors may differ from the net value shown on the brokerage statement provided by the custodian of your assets. There are two primary reasons for these values to differ:

- 1) Trade Date versus Settlement Date – The brokerage statements provided by most custodians value all securities and cash balances based upon trades not being completed until settlement date (when the money is due), while the value used for billing is derived from Element Pointe Advisors's account aggregation and portfolio accounting software, which values all securities and cash balances based upon trade date (initiation of cost basis for performance and tax reporting purposes). For example, if a recent buy in an account has executed, but not yet settled at quarter-end, the trade will still show as a cash position on the brokerage statement provided by the custodian. In contrast, the purchased security, and value, will be used for performance and billing calculations.
- 2) Accrued Interest and Dividends – Element Pointe Advisors includes accrued interest and dividends in calculating the daily value of assets in accounts on which the Firm serves as advisor. This may differ from the value reflected in statements provided by the custodian, as most custodians do not include the value of interest and dividends accrued; rather, most custodians use a cash accounting method wherein dividend and interest income is not accounted for until paid.

Performance reporting is calculated in a standardized manner, which reflects the initiation and disposition of securities, accrued interest and dividends, and flows into and out of an account as well as the timing of these flows.

Element Pointe Advisors, through its account aggregation and portfolio accounting software provider, receives a daily data feed from each custodian, which includes the daily positions, transactions, and asset values. Element Pointe Advisors' may rely on the data provided by the client's custodian or record keeper, via a data feed to our portfolio accounting software provider, in computing performance. Performance reports provided by Element Pointe Advisors are not intended to be a substitute for financial statements issued by the custodian of your assets and should not be relied upon as such.

Valuation of Hedge Funds and Private Equity Funds for Billing Purposes

Portfolios managed and advised on by Element Pointe Advisors sometimes include investments in hedge funds and private equity funds. For billing valuation purposes, Element Pointe Advisors uses the most recent valuation provided by the manager of the fund, plus any net contributions to the fund since the most recent valuation provided by the fund manager. The value provided for a certain investment will be the fund manager's estimate and may not be the liquidation value of the investment.

Element Pointe Advisors may rely on the data provided by the clients' custodian or record keeper, via a data feed to our portfolio accounting software provider, in computing the billing valuation of a private equity fund or hedge fund position.

Item 14. Client Referrals and Other CompensationClient Referrals

The Firm does not currently provide compensation to any third-party solicitors for client referrals. The Firm may, however, compensate employees for client solicitations or referrals. Any such referral fee is paid solely from Element Pointe Advisors's investment management fee and does not result in any additional charge to the client. Any affiliated solicitor of Element Pointe Advisors is required to disclose the nature of his or her relationship to prospective clients at the time of the solicitation and will provide all prospective clients with a copy of the Firm's written brochure(s) at the time of the solicitation.

Item 15. Custody

The Advisory Agreement and/or the separate agreement with any Financial Institution generally authorize Element Pointe Advisors and/or the Independent Managers to debit client accounts for payment of the Firm's fees and to directly remit those funds to the Firm in accordance with applicable custody rules. The Financial Institutions that act as the qualified custodian for client accounts, from which the Firm retains the authority to directly deduct fees, have agreed to send statements to clients not less than quarterly detailing all account transactions, including any amounts paid to Element Pointe Advisors.

In addition, as discussed in Item 13, Element Pointe Advisors may also send periodic supplemental reports to clients. Clients should carefully review the statements sent directly by the Financial Institutions and compare them to those received from Element Pointe Advisors.

Item 16. Investment Discretion

Element Pointe Advisors may be given the authority to exercise discretion on behalf of clients. Element Pointe Advisors is considered to exercise investment discretion over a client's account if it can effect and/or direct transactions in client accounts without first seeking their consent. Element Pointe Advisors is given this authority through a power-of-attorney included in the agreement between Element Pointe Advisors and the client. Clients may request a limitation on this authority (such as certain securities not to be bought or sold). Element Pointe Advisors takes discretion over the following activities:

- The securities to be purchased or sold;
- The amount of securities to be purchased or sold;
- When transactions are made;
- The broker-dealer that executes trades (in the case of a prime brokerage relationship); and
- The Independent Managers to be hired or fired.

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

Element Pointe Advisors does not vote proxies on behalf of client securities. Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (i) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities they beneficially own will be voted, and (ii) making all elections relative to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings, corporate actions, or other types of events pertaining to the client's investments.

Where Independent Managers manage all or a portion of your portfolio, each Independent Manager will have proxy voting responsibility for the portion of the portfolio that the respective Independent Manager is responsible for managing.

Element Pointe Advisors does not render advice to or take any actions on behalf of clients with respect to any legal proceedings, including bankruptcies and shareholder litigation, to which any securities or other investments held in client accounts, or the issuers thereof, become subject, and does not initiate or pursue legal proceedings, including without limitation shareholder litigation, on behalf of clients with respect to transactions, securities or other investments held in client accounts. The right to take any actions with respect to legal proceedings, including shareholder litigation, with respect to transactions, securities or other investments held in a client account is expressly reserved to the client.

Item 18. Financial Information

Element Pointe Advisors is not required to disclose any financial information due to the following:

- The Firm does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees six months or more in advance of services rendered;
- The Firm does not have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients; and
- The Firm has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.