INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

Highland International provides investment advisory services. We provide advice to clients regarding investments based on the individual needs of each client. Through discussions in which goals and objectives based on each client's particular circumstances are established, we assist the client in developing an investment policy and base our services on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we help to determine each client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history.

Highland International provides services to clients on a non-discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Futures contracts on tangibles
- Futures contracts on intangibles
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate
- Interests in partnerships investing in oil and gas interests
- Interests in partnerships investing in other assets
- Other

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

As part of the process, we will assist the client in reviewing and monitoring fees associated with investments as well as other related costs (e.g. custody).

INSTITUTIONAL RETIREMENT PLAN CONSULTING SERVICES

Highland International provides institutional retirement plan consulting services. The primary clients for these services will be plan sponsors of defined benefit and defined contribution plans, however, we may offer these services, where appropriate, to other entities. Highland International provides services to clients on a non-discretionary basis. Institutional Retirement Plan Consulting Services are comprised of three distinct services. Clients may choose to use any or all of these services.

Investment Policy Preparation:

We will meet with the client to determine an appropriate investment strategy that reflects the plan sponsor's stated investment objectives for management of the overall plan. Our firm then prepares a written investment policy detailing those objectives, constraints, etc. The investment policy also lists the criteria for selection of investment vehicles as well as the procedures and timing interval for monitoring of investment performance.

Selection of Investment Vehicles:

We will assist the client, where appropriate, in developing an asset allocation or allocation model. We will also review various investment managers and available investment vehicles to determine which investments are appropriate to implement according to the client's investment policy. The number of investments to be recommended will be determined by the client, based on the investment policy.

Monitoring of Investment Performance:

We monitor client investments continually, based on the procedures and timing intervals delineated in the investment policy. We monitor the client's portfolio, including managers, and will make recommendations as market factors and the client's needs dictate. As part of the process, we will assist the client in reviewing and monitoring fees associated with investments as well as other related costs (e.g. recordkeeping, custody, etc.)

AMOUNT OF ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

As of 12/31/2016, Highland International had no assets under management.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

FEES FOR INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONAL RETIREMENT PLAN CONSULTING

Our annual fees for Investment Advisory Services are generally based upon a percentage of assets under management and vary based on the scope of the engagement. Fixed fee arrangements may be negotiated in certain circumstances.

Clients are invoiced in advance at the beginning of each calendar quarter based upon the value of the client's account at the end of the previous quarter.

A minimum level of assets under management is generally required for this service. This account size may be negotiable under certain circumstances. Highland International may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size and determining the annualized fee.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Highland International retains the discretion to negotiate fees on a client-by-client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets, related accounts, portfolio style, account composition, and reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

Discounts, not generally available to our advisory clients, may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of our firm.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. As disclosed above, certain fees are paid in advance of services provided. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. In calculating a client's reimbursement of fees, we will prorate the reimbursement according to the number of days remaining in the billing period.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to Highland International for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and/or ETFs. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers for similar or lower fees.

Limited Prepayment of Fees: Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1200 more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Highland International does not charge performance-based fees.

Item 7 Types of Clients

Highland International provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Defined benefit and defined contribution plans
- Charitable organizations
- Foundations and endowments
- Corporations or other businesses not listed above

As previously disclosed in Item 5, our firm has established certain initial minimum account requirements, based on the nature of the service(s) being provided. For a more detailed understanding of those requirements, please review the disclosures provided in each applicable service.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice:

Asset Allocation. When applicable, we assist each client to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Investment Manager Analysis. Our analysis also focuses on the evaluation of investment managers including those who manage mutual funds, separate accounts, commingled trust funds, stable value funds, hedge funds, fund of funds, private equity funds and other investments. One of our primary roles is to identify managers whose strategies complement the investment objectives of our clients. Our evaluation of these managers includes gaining an understanding of the manager's credentials, their process of investing, their historical performance relative to appropriate benchmarks, pricing, and other measures.

Highland International assists its clients by helping them to formulate an investment strategy appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizon, among other considerations.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our analysis methods rely on the assumption that data, including data provided by managers, is accurate and unbiased. We also purchase manager data and other information that allows us to corroborate manager provided data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Highland International and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Highland International does not have any soft-dollar arrangements and does not receive any soft-dollar benefits.

Highland International is an independent investment adviser and is not affiliated with any brokerage firm. Highland International provides non-discretionary advisory services and will not take custody or control of a client's assets at any time or under any circumstances. Clients may enter into arrangements with third parties for custodial and brokerage services.

Highland International may advise a client, upon request, with regard to a client's selection of broker-dealers to provide additional services. Highland International's primary consideration in making a recommendation will be the broker's ability to provide best execution of trades. In making a determination about best execution (and subject to section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended), Highland International may consider a number of factors including, but not limited to, trade price, speed of execution, certainty of execution, and the overall transaction costs. Highland International is not obligated to solicit competitive bids for any transaction and commission rates are only one of many factors considered by Highland International.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

It is Highland International's policy not to engage solicitors or to pay for referring potential clients to our firm.

It is Highland International's policy not to accept or allow our related persons to accept any form of compensation, including cash, sales awards or other prizes, from a non-client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our clients.

Item 15 Custody

Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of client accounts.

In some situations, a client may direct that an advisory fee be deducted directly from the client's accounts. This occurs only after a client has provided the requisite direction and authorization to the appropriate parties.

The custodian is required, on at least a quarterly basis, to send to the client a statement showing all transactions, including any payment of advisory fees, within the account during the reporting period. It is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify its accuracy, among other things. Clients should contact Highland International or their custodian if they believe that there may be an error.

In addition to the periodic statements that clients receive directly from their custodians, we also provide a detailed portfolio summary directly to our clients on a quarterly basis. We encourage our clients to carefully compare the information contained in their custodial statements with that presented in the quarterly portfolio summary to ensure that all account transactions, holdings and values are correct and current.

As previously disclosed in Item 4 of this brochure, Highland International does not provide discretionary asset management services; we advise clients only on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy, we do not vote proxies on behalf of clients. Therefore, although our firm may provide investment advisory services relative to client investment assets, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets. Clients are responsible for instructing each custodian of the assets, to forward to the client copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the client's investment assets.
