Firm Description

Eudaimonia Partners, LLC (“Eudaimonia”) is a Delaware limited liability company formed on May 9, 2016. The Adviser is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Advisers Act”). Eudaimonia is doing business as Harmony Grove Wealth Management, LLC (“Harmony Grove Wealth Management,” or, the “Adviser”) located at 2470 Daniell's Bridge Road, Building 100, Suite 141, Athens, GA 30606.

The primary types of investment advisory services offered by the Adviser are investment consulting, investment advisory services, and financial planning.

Investment Management

Investment advisory services offered by Harmony Grove Wealth Management are specifically tailored to meet the needs of each client. Prior to delivering investment advisory services, the Adviser will ascertain each client's specific investment objective. Then Harmony Grove Wealth Management will allocate, or recommend that the client allocate, their investment assets consistent with the designated investment objective. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on any of the Adviser's investment advisory services at any time, but restrictions must be delivered to the Adviser in writing, and must be signed by the client.

Financial Planning

Harmony Grove Wealth Management works to develop a comprehensive financial plan for every client. Harmony Grove Wealth Management begins with an intensive fact-finding session which helps the Adviser become totally familiar with the client's current financial situation (including among other things, income taxes, investments, insurance, estate affairs and family circumstances), as well as their personal goals and priorities for the next several years. Then, working from this comprehensive information, the Adviser prepares a detailed financial plan which documents the client's situation, identifies all areas which will be impacted, and makes specific goal-oriented recommendations. The Adviser's specific goal-oriented recommendations are designed to educate and allow a client to coordinate his/her financial affairs more efficiently, increase cash flow, prudently reduce income taxes, and attempt to improve his/her overall net worth. Once this written document has been discussed with the client, the recommendations that the client feels comfortable with are scheduled for implementation with specific deadlines to be met. Harmony Grove Wealth Management continues to assist the client based on an annual review of services in all applicable areas of financial planning including estate, retirement, cash flow and tax planning.

Investment Consulting

Harmony Grove Wealth Management works to provide institutional retirement plans and the plan sponsors with diversified investment options for plan participants to choose from. In addition, as requested by the plan sponsor, the Adviser shall provide plan participants with general information seminars and/or educational materials that describe the various investment alternatives available under the plan, information about investing generally, including information about different types of investments, information about different investment allocation strategies, including information about historical returns, and interactive materials designed to help participants identify an appropriate investment strategy.

Please note: It is always the client's responsibility to promptly notify Harmony Grove Wealth Management if there is any change in their financial situation or investment objective. This notification of change allows the Adviser an opportunity to review, evaluate, or revise our previous recommendations or services.

Additional Services

The Adviser may furnish advice on matters not involving securities, such as:

Retirement Income Planning	Personal Financial Planning
Withdrawal Rate Analysis	Education Planning
Cash Flow & Budgeting	Employee Benefits & 401(k) Guidance
Life Insurance Review & Planning	Corporate Retirement Plan Guidance
Estate & Charitable Gift Planning	Tax Planning
Business Successions	Investment Planning
Trust Services	Annuities

Other Services

Managed Non-Discretionary Assets

In addition to providing investment management of client assets on a discretionary basis, the Adviser, for a separate and additional fee, provides certain limited services to clients with respect to "Managed Non-Discretionary Assets." These services consist solely of the following:

Harmony Grove Wealth Management is available to consult with the client on a semi-annual basis (or more often if requested by the client) regarding the Managed Non-Discretionary Assets. However, the client is solely responsible for all decisions and consequences on the client's Managed Non-Discretionary Assets, including decisions on whether to retain or sell all or a portion of the Managed Non-Discretionary Assets. This responsibility remains solely with the client regardless of whether any security is reflected on account reports prepared by the Adviser.

Harmony Grove Wealth Management is available to service Managed Non-Discretionary Assets, such as setting up and monitoring regular distributions and special one-time distribution requests.

The Adviser can process any trades on the Managed Non-Discretionary Assets, but only when requested to do so by the client in writing. Upon receipt of any client's written request, Harmony Grove Wealth Management will endeavor, but cannot guarantee, that any such transaction will be effected on the day received or at any specific time or price.

Limitations for Non-Discretionary Assets

Clients that engage the Adviser on a non-discretionary investment advisory basis must be willing to accept that Harmony Grove Wealth Management cannot effect any account transactions without obtaining prior written consent to any such transaction(s) from the client. Thus, in the event of a market correction during which the client is unavailable, Harmony Grove Wealth Management will be unable to effect any account transactions (as it would for its discretionary accounts) without first obtaining the client's written consent.

Tailored Relationships

At the Adviser, advisory services are tailored to the specific needs of each client. Prior to providing advisory services, the Adviser will ascertain each client's investment goals and objectives. The Adviser then allocates and/or recommends that the client allocate investment assets consistent with the designated investment objective. The client may, at any time, impose reasonable restrictions on the Adviser's services, but restrictions must be delivered to the Adviser in writing, and must be signed by the client.

In performing services for the client, the Adviser is not required to verify any information it received from the client or from the client's other professionals and the Adviser is expressly authorized by the client to rely on this information. Each client is advised that it remains the client's responsibility to promptly notify the Adviser if there is ever any change in the client's financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating or revising the Adviser's previous recommendations or services to the client.

Managed Assets

This is the initial filing on Form ADV for the Adviser.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Managed Discretionary Asset Fees

The Adviser bases its annual investment management fee for managed discretionary assets upon a percentage (%) of the market value of the assets and the specific types of investment management services provided. Harmony Grove Wealth Management charges an annual fee of up to 2% of assets under management. The Adviser may choose to charge a lower asset based fee at its sole discretion.

Managed Non-Discretionary Asset Fees

The annual investment management fee charged on Managed Non-Discretionary Assets is up to 2%. Fees shall be assessed quarterly, in advance, based on the asset values as of the day prior to the period being billed. New accounts will be assessed a prorated fee dependent upon the number of days remaining in the quarter. The Adviser may choose to charge a lower asset based fee at its sole discretion.

Financial Planning Fees

An initial meeting is scheduled with a prospective client at no cost or obligation. The purpose of the meeting is to inform the prospective client of the types of services Harmony Grove Wealth Management provides and to generally discuss what the client desires from such a financial planning relationship. If the prospective client is interested in exploring the Adviser's services in more detail, Harmony Grove Wealth Management will review the prospective client's recent income tax returns and a listing of his/her assets and liabilities. At a subsequent session, the prospective client is given an idea of the specific value of pursuing this financial planning process and is quoted a fee for the financial planning services to be provided. The financial planning fee is quoted on a project basis and covers projected time and expense associated in working with this client for a twelve-month period. This includes gathering data, developing the written plan, reviewing the plan with appropriate advisers, discussing the plan with the client, implementation, and continuing to review, monitor and update the client's affairs throughout the ensuing twelve months. A 50% deposit of the initial financial planning fee is due once the client has agreed to the financial planning relationship.

The financial planning fee is based upon several factors, including: net worth, gross income, complexity of one's financial affairs, and the time necessary to meet each individual client's goals and priorities. Certain unforeseen expenses may not be included in the financial planning fee and would be billed directly.

Once the client verbally agrees to the personal financial planning process, the process to develop the written documents begins. Once the financial plan is completed and the appropriate advisers have reviewed the plan, a meeting is scheduled to discuss the plan and the specific items to be implemented with the client. The client takes from this meeting the written plan.

The balance of the financial planning fee is billed to the client within 180 days of the start of the relationship and can be paid by the client in any manner suitable to the client within 30 days of the invoice date. The financial planning fee shall be mutually agreed upon in advance by and between the client and Harmony Grove Wealth Management. Any such fee shall be separate from the asset-based investment management fee. The Adviser reserves the right to waive some or the entire financial planning fee.

The client can terminate the financial planning and/advisory relationship at any time with a five day written notice.

Investment Consulting Asset Fees

The Adviser bases its annual investment consulting fee for institutional retirement plan assets upon a percentage (%) of the market value of the assets and the specific types of investment consulting services provided. Harmony Grove Wealth Management charges an annual fee of up to 2% of assets under management. The Adviser may choose to charge a lower asset based fee at its sole discretion.

Negotiated Fees

The Adviser, in its sole discretion, may reduce its investment management fee based upon certain factors, like anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with client and other considerations. For all services offered by Harmony Grove Wealth Management, the same or different services may be offered by other firms at the same, higher, or lower fees.

Billing of Fees

Harmony Grove Wealth Management's investment management fees shall be assessed quarterly, in advance, based on the asset values as of the day prior to the period being billed. New accounts will be assessed a prorated fee dependent upon the number of days remaining in the quarter. Harmony Grove Wealth Management clients must provide their consent in advance to direct debiting of investment management fees from their custodial account. The Investment Advisory Agreement and the custodial/ clearing agreement authorize the custodian to debit the client account for the amount of the Adviser's investment management fee, and to directly remit that investment management fee to Harmony Grove Wealth Management in compliance with regulatory procedures. In the limited event that the Adviser bills the client directly, payment in full is expected upon presentation of the invoice.

Other Fees

Unless clients direct otherwise or an individual client's circumstances require, the Adviser generally recommends Raymond James serve as the broker-dealer/custodian for client investment accounts. Raymond James may charge brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees for effecting certain securities transactions. Raymond James may charge commissions for individual equity and fixed income securities transactions or fees may be charged for certain no-load mutual fund transactions. In addition to the Adviser's investment management fee, custodial brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees, clients will also incur, relative to all mutual fund and exchange traded fund purchases, charges imposed at the fund level (e.g., management fees and other fund expenses).

For all services offered by the Adviser, the same or different services may be offered by other firms at the same, higher, or lower fees.

Commission Transactions

The Adviser primarily recommends the purchase of no-load institutional class mutual fund securities and/or exchange traded funds for implementing investment recommendations. Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not actively direct clients to traditional, full service /commission brokers. Most of the Adviser's clients do not use traditional brokers. As described earlier, Harmony Grove Wealth Management generally recommends using the services of a centralized custodian/discount broker.

Harmony Grove Wealth Management employs individuals that are also licensed insurance agents. Clients can choose to engage these persons, in their individual capacities, to effect insurance transactions on a commission basis. The recommendation by a Harmony Grove Wealth Management advisory representative (who is also a licensed insurance agent) that a client purchase an insurance commission product presents a conflict of interest, as the receipt of commissions may provide an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions to be received, rather than on a particular client's need. No Harmony Grove Wealth Management client is under any obligation to purchase any commission products from any of the Adviser's advisory representatives. Clients are reminded that they may purchase insurance products recommended by Harmony Grove Wealth Management through other, non-affiliated insurance agents. Bradley Stark, the Adviser's Chief Compliance Officer, is available to answer any questions that a client or future client may have on any conflict of interest this arrangement may create.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Sharing of Capital Gains

The Adviser does not advise any client accounts that are subject to performance-based fee arrangements.

Item 7: Types of Clients

Description

The Adviser predominantly offers its services to individuals, high net worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans and participants, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations or business entities.

Account Minimums

Harmony Grove Wealth Management generally requires an account minimum of $25,000 for investment management services. When a consolidated client account value in this program falls below $25,000 in value, the minimum quarterly fee of $100.00 may be charged. Harmony Grove Wealth Management Clients with assets at or below the minimum account size may pay a higher percentage rate on their annual advisory fees than the fees paid by clients with significantly greater assets under management.

The Adviser may reduce or waive its minimum asset requirement based upon certain factors, like anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with client and other considerations. Other exceptions may apply to employees of the Adviser and their relatives, or relatives of existing clients.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

The Adviser's security analysis methods may include fundamental analysis, technical analysis, charting and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information for analysis include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Additional research tools and sources of information that the Adviser may use include mutual fund and stock information provided by unaffiliated third parties (e.g., Morningstar, etc.) and many other reports located on the Internet using the World Wide Web.

The Adviser may utilize the following investment strategies when implementing investment advice given to clients:

- Long Term Purchases: (securities held at least a year)
- Short Term Purchases: (securities sold within a year)
- Trading: (securities sold within thirty (30) days)
- Options (contract for the purchase or sale of a security at a predetermined price during a specific period of time)

Strategic and Tactical Asset Allocation may be utilized with domestic mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, or stocks and bonds as the core investments. Global mutual funds, sector funds and specialty exchange-traded funds may be added as satellite positions. Portfolios may be further diversified among large, medium and small sized investments in an effort to control the risk associated with traditional markets. Investment strategies designed for each client are based upon specific objectives stated by the client during consultations. Clients may change their specific objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Policy Statement that documents their specific objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Please Note: Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy recommended or undertaken by the Adviser will be profitable or equal any specific performance level. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Risks of Loss

Risk is inherent in any investment in securities and the Adviser does not guarantee any level of return on a client's investments. There is no assurance that a client's investment objectives will be achieved. A client may be subject to certain risks, including, but not limited to, the risks described below. The risks discussed below vary by investment style or strategy, and may or may not apply to a client. A client should also review the prospectuses or other disclosure documents for the securities purchased for the client's account, as they will contain important information about the risks associated with investing in such securities.

Investment strategies recommended by the Adviser may also be subject to some or all of the following types of risk:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They may carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many investors are interested in buying or selling a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Please Note: In light of these risks of loss and potentially enhanced volatility, clients may direct the Adviser, in writing at any time, not to employ any or all of the investment strategies recommended by Harmony Grove Wealth Management for their account.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

Investment Advisors are required to disclose legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of the Advisor's business or the integrity of the Advisor's management. Harmony Grove Wealth Management offers the following summary of an isolated event involving Seth Walman. Whether the event materially affects Mr. Waltman's abilities and integrity as an Investment Advisor Representative remains the opinion of the individual client or prospective client.

On December 8, 2014, a client filed a complaint against Mr. Waltman that evolved into civil litigation before the Magistrate Court, Oconee County, Georgia. The client alleges that Mr. Waltman misrepresented the tax consequences regarding a loan withdrawal from his annuity. Although Mr. Waltman does not admit liability, the matter was settled for $8,000 to avoid the cost, expense and distraction of further litigation.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Other Financial Industry Activities

The Adviser is not registered as a securities broker-dealer, futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator or commodity trading advisor.

Affiliations

The principal owner and IARs of Harmony Grove Wealth Management are registered representatives at M.S. Howells & Co., an SEC registered broker-dealer and a member of FINRA. In this capacity, these IARs may provide securities brokerage services and implement securities transactions on a commission basis. Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation itself creates an inherent conflict of interest, and may affect the judgment of these individuals when making recommendations. Harmony Grove Wealth Management and M.S. Howells & Co. are separate, nonaffiliated entities. Nevertheless, to the extent that a Harmony Grove Wealth Management representative recommends the purchase of securities or other investment products where the representative receives commissions for doing so, a conflict of interest exists because the representative may be incentivized to make recommendations based on the compensation received rather than on a client's needs.

The principal owner and IARs of Harmony Grove Wealth Management are also insurance agents licensed with the Georgia Department of Insurance. As licensed insurance agents, these IARs offer life, accident, health, variable and long term care insurance-related products to clients. Such compensation is in addition to, and separate from the compensation they receive from the Adviser for providing investment advice. Insurance products are available through channels not affiliated with the Adviser. Clients have no obligation to purchase insurance products through the IARs.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

The Adviser maintains an investment policy for personal securities transactions at its business and it is part of the Adviser's general Code of Ethics (the "Code"). The Adviser establishes the standard of business conduct for all employees that are based on the fundamental principles of openness, integrity, honesty and trust. The Adviser also maintains and enforces written policies reasonably designed to prevent the Adviser or any person associated with Adviser from misusing material non-public information to comply with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act. Neither the Adviser, nor any related person of the Adviser, will recommend, buy, or sell securities within client accounts which the Adviser or a related person of the Adviser may have a material financial interest.

A copy of the Adviser's Code is available to any client or potential client upon request.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

The Adviser and/or its representatives may engage in securities transactions for their own accounts, including the same or related securities that are recommended to or owned by clients of the Adviser. These transactions may include trading in securities in a manner that differs from, or is inconsistent with, the advice given to clients of the Adviser, and the transactions may occur at or about the same time that such securities are recommended to or are purchased or sold for client accounts. This creates a potential for a conflict between the interest of the clients and the interests of the Adviser and/or its representatives.

Personal Trading

To address the potential for conflict of interests, the Adviser has adopted a Code that applies to its representatives who have access to non-public information relating to advisory client accounts ("Access Persons"). The Code prohibits Access Persons from using knowledge about advisory client account transactions to profit personally, directly or indirectly, by trading in his/her personal accounts. In addition, an Access Person who has discretionary authority over client accounts must generally pre-clear his/her trades or obtain prior authorization from the Adviser's Chief Compliance Officer before executing a trade. Unless an enumerated exception exists, the Code also prohibits Access Persons who have discretionary authority over client accounts from executing a security transaction for their personal accounts during a blackout period that can extend from one to seven days before or after the date that a client transaction in that same security is executed.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Broker-Dealer Selection

The Adviser selects broker-dealers to execute trade order for a client's account, unless the client has provided instructions to the Adviser to the contrary. As an investment adviser, the Adviser has an obligation to seek "best execution" of client trade orders. "Best execution" means that the Adviser must place client trade orders with those broker-dealers that the Adviser believes are capable of providing the best qualitative execution of client trade orders under the circumstances, taking into account the full range and quality of the services offered by the broker-dealer. When selecting a broker or dealer, the Adviser may consider the following factors: (i) client preferences, (ii) execution capability and past execution performance, (iii) access to markets, (iv) commission rates, (v) financial standing of executing firm and counterparty risk, (vi) timeliness in rendering services, (vii) availability, cost and quality of custodial services, and (viii) continuity and quality of the overall provision of services.

The Adviser may also purchase or sell debt securities through electronic trading platforms. These electronic trading platforms typically provide access to bids and offers from a greater number of dealers on a timely basis; however, these electronic platforms may impose an execution or transaction fee imbedded in the price paid or received for the security (i.e., a markup or markdown).

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

Harmony Grove Wealth Management may receive brokerage and research services from its qualified custodian, Raymond James. Further, Harmony Grove Wealth Management may receive software services and technology for market research and analysis from Raymond James. These services are for the benefit of Harmony Grove Wealth Management in consideration of the Adviser's allocation of brokerage transactions made on behalf of clients (on both an agency and net basis) and may not directly benefit client accounts. In addition, Raymond James has provided the Adviser with transition assistance contingent upon custodizing the Adviser's assets under management with Raymond James for a period of five years. This transition assistance is intended to assist the Adviser with start-up costs, including rent, overhead expenses, computers, monies owed to third parties and similar costs. The receipt of these benefits may influence Harmony Grove Wealth Management's decision regarding recommending that clients establish accounts at Raymond James, based on Harmony Grove Wealth Management's interest in receiving Raymond James' services that benefit the Adviser's business rather than based on the client's interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of client transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. Harmony Grove Wealth Management believes, however, that its recommendation of Raymond James as custodian and broker is in the best interests of its clients. Harmony Grove Wealth Management believes that its clients do not pay more for investment transactions effected and assets maintained at Raymond James as a result of these arrangements. Harmony Grove Wealth Management's selection is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of Raymond James' services and not Raymond James' services that benefit only Harmony Grove Wealth Management.

Order Aggregation, Allocation and Rotation Practices

In order to seek best execution for clients, the Adviser may aggregate contemporaneous buy and sell orders for the accounts over which it has discretionary authority. This practice of bunching trades may enable the Adviser to obtain more favorable execution, including better pricing and enhanced investment opportunities, than would otherwise be available if orders were not aggregated. Bunching transactions may also assist the Adviser in potentially avoiding an adverse effect on the price of a security that could result from simultaneously placing a number of separate, successive or competing, client orders.

It is within the Adviser's sole discretion to bunch transactions and its decision is subject to its duty to seek best execution. The Adviser will aggregate a client's trade orders only when the Adviser deems it to be appropriate and in the best interests of the client and permitted by regulatory requirements.

All advisory clients participating in a bunched transaction will receive the same execution price for the security bought or sold. Average prices may be used when allocating purchases and sales to a client's accounts because such securities may be purchased and sold at different prices in a series of bunched transactions. As a result, the average price received by a client may be higher or lower than the price the client may have received had the transaction been effected for the client independently from the bunched transaction. In addition, a client's transaction costs may vary depending upon, among other things, the type of security bought or sold, and the commission or markup or markdown charged by the executing broker-dealer.

The amount of securities available in the marketplace, at a particular price at a particular time, may not satisfy the needs of all clients participating in a bunched transaction and may be insufficient to provide full allocation across all client accounts. To address this possibility, the Adviser has adopted trade allocation policies and procedures that are designed to make securities allocations to discretionary client accounts in a manner such that all such clients receive fair and equitable treatment. If a bunched transaction cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day will generally be allocated pro rata among the clients participating in the bunched transaction. Adjustments to this pro rata allocation may be made, at the discretion of the Adviser, to take into consideration account specific investment restrictions, undesirable position size, account portfolio weightings, client tax status, client cash positions and client preferences. Adjustments may also be made to avoid a nominal allocation to client accounts.

When the Adviser is not able to aggregate trades, the Adviser generally uses a trade rotation process that is designed to be fair and equitable to its clients.

Directed Brokerage

The Adviser will comply with any guidelines and/or limitations reasonably requested by a client relating to brokerage for the client's account that are contained in the client's investment management agreement. When possible, the Adviser will also observe any non-binding statement of client preferences with respect to brokerage direction.

If a client directs the Adviser to use a particular broker-dealer for execution of the client's trade orders (a "directed brokerage arrangement"), and the Adviser agrees to the arrangement, a client should understand that the Adviser may be unable to achieve best execution for the client's transactions. Any costs related to the directed brokerage arrangement are not included in the Adviser's fee, and the client is solely responsible for monitoring, evaluating and reviewing the arrangement with the directed broker-dealer and paying any commissions or markups or markdowns or other costs imposed by the directed broker-dealer. Additionally, the Adviser generally will not aggregate the client's directed brokerage trade orders with orders for other clients of the Adviser or include such orders in its trade rotation process.

If the Adviser aggregates a client's directed brokerage trade orders with trade orders for other clients of the Adviser, the Adviser may employ the use of "step-outs" to satisfy the client's directed brokerage arrangement. A "step-out" occurs when an executing broker executes the trade and then "steps out" the trade to a clearing broker (which would be the directed broker-dealer in a directed brokerage arrangement) that confirms and settles the trade. In such a case, a client will bear the costs of any commissions, markups or markdowns imposed by the executing broker-dealer in addition to the costs of any commissions, markups or markdowns imposed by the directed broker-dealer.

If a client directs the Adviser to use a particular broker-dealer, and if the particular broker-dealer referred the client to the Adviser or if the particular broker-dealer refers other clients to the Adviser in the future, the Adviser may benefit from the client's directed brokerage arrangement. Because of these potential benefits, the Adviser may have an economic interest in having the client continue the directed brokerage arrangement. The benefits that the Adviser receives may conflict with the client's interest in having the Adviser recommend that the client utilize another broker-dealer to execute some or all transactions for the client's account.

Before directing the Adviser to use a particular broker-dealer, a client should carefully consider the possible costs or disadvantages of directed brokerage arrangements.

Trading Error Policy

If there is a trade error for which the Adviser is responsible, trades will be adjusted or reversed as needed in order to put the client's account in the position that it would have been in as if the error had not occurred. Errors caused by the Adviser will be corrected at no cost to client's account, with the client's account not recognizing any loss from error. The client's account will be fully compensated for any losses incurred as a result of any such error. If the trade error results in a gain, the gain may be retained by the Adviser.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

The Adviser's portfolio management team generally performs daily reviews on transactions in each client account. The portfolio management team generally reviews reports documenting each account's performance compared to the performance of a relevant benchmark index at least monthly.

Review Triggers

In addition to periodic reviews, the Adviser may conduct account reviews when a triggering event, like a change in client investment objectives, financial situation, market correction or client request occurs.

Regular Reports and Electronic Delivery

The Adviser generally provides written investment summary reports to clients on a monthly basis. These monthly investment summary reports contain the client account's holdings, yield, cash flow, gains and losses, and monthly interest earnings. The Adviser may provide additional information in the investment summary report to meet the specific reporting needs of a client as the client and the Adviser may agree.

All client correspondence, as well as all books and records of the Adviser, will be delivered and stored as electronic images and the originals of the electronically stored documents shall be destroyed. Thereafter, all electronic documents shall be deemed to serve as an original copy.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Other Compensation

The Adviser and its representatives may receive certain economic benefits in connection with providing advisory services to clients, as discussed above.

Client Referrals

The Adviser may provide compensation to individuals who refer clients in some instances. When applicable, the compensation paid is a percentage of the client's fee payments or the value of the client's account. The amount of compensation will vary, with the specific level determined based upon consideration of various factors. The Adviser may pay these fees to unaffiliated solicitors that have entered into a written agreement with the Adviser.

Item 15: Custody

Custody

Custody means holding, directly or indirectly, client funds or securities, or having any authority to obtain possession of them.

Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not have direct custody of any client funds and/or securities. Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not take physical custody of client funds and/or securities under any circumstances. Clients' funds and securities are held by an unaffiliated qualified custodian. Please refer to Item 12 for information regarding our Brokerage Practices. Harmony Grove Wealth Management has implemented written policies and procedures to ensure that it will be in compliance with the required requirements and applicable safeguards with respect to custody. While Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not have physical custody of client funds or securities, the custodian may pay Harmony Grove Wealth Management's management fees through a deduction from the custodial brokerage account that holds client funds. Prior to permitting direct debit of fees, each client provides written authorization permitting fees to be paid direct from the custodian. As part of the billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period. The custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted and does not verify the accuracy of Harmony Grove Wealth Management's advisory calculation. Therefore, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact Harmony Grove Wealth Management directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

Clients are provided with transaction confirmation notices and regular summary account statements directly from the broker-dealer/custodian for the client accounts. The client will also receive monthly statements regarding the account directly from the broker-dealer/custodian. When you receive these statements, please review the statements carefully. Please compare asset values, holdings, and fees to the account statement issued for the previous period. At its sole discretion, Harmony Grove Wealth Management may send such other updates or periodic reports, as it deems appropriate, to clients.

Please Note: To the extent that Harmony Grove Wealth Management may provide clients with periodic account statements or reports, the client is urged to compare any statement or report provided by Harmony Grove Wealth Management with the account statements received from the account custodian.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Clients can determine to engage the Adviser to provide investment advisory services on a discretionary basis. Prior to the Adviser assuming discretionary authority over a client's account, the client is required to execute an investment management agreement with the Adviser, naming the Adviser as client's attorney and agent in fact, granting the Adviser full authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions involving the assets in the client's name found in the discretionary account.

The Adviser generally accepts reasonable limitations to its discretionary authority with respect to brokerage direction and securities selection, including the designation of particular securities or types of securities that should not be purchased for the client's account, but the client may not require that particular funds or securities (or types) be purchased for the client's account. Any such limitations agreed to by a client and the Adviser are generally included as an addendum to the client's investment management agreement or in a separate letter of understanding. When possible, the Adviser will also attempt to observe any non-binding statement of client preferences with respect to factors such as brokerage direction, holding periods, and securities selection.

Non-Discretionary Authority for Trading

Clients may also select the Adviser's non-discretionary service module. Clients retain final say in investment selection and decision making. The Adviser works closely with the client to tailor investment strategy to the client's goals and needs, and consults with the client prior to making trades or other changes to the investment portfolio. The Adviser proactively provides the client with investment ideas and a view on current market situations but no transactions are carried out without prior client approval. The Adviser's non-discretionary services also include, amongst other things, (i) careful monitoring of the client's portfolio to ensure that it remains within investment guidelines; (ii) regular performance updates; and (iii) access to seasoned investment professionals prior to making final investment decisions.

Investment Consulting

The Adviser also assists clients with the selection and monitoring of retirement plan assets, offering a well-designed and well-documented process. The Adviser seeks to design an overall investment menu utilizing a risk-budgeting process that addresses the different expectations of return found in varying asset classes. The Adviser seeks strong managers that complement each other, creating overall value to the client and plan participants.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

Adviser has adopted the following policies and procedures regarding proxy voting for its clients' accounts. At all times, Adviser has a "duty of care" to its clients, and Adviser recognizes and accepts this responsibility. Should the Adviser exercise voting authority over its clients' proxies, it must ensure that all proxies are handled in the best interests of its clients.

Currently, Adviser has chosen not to retain voting authority over its clients' proxy voting and has left the voting authority to the clients. All proxy ballots will be sent directly to a client and not the Adviser. Should the client have any questions on how to vote their proxies, they may contact their Adviser at (706) 433-4180.

Any questions on these policies and procedures should be directed to Bradley Stark who is responsible for updating, maintaining or changing these procedures.

Item 18: Financial Information

Financial Information

The Adviser does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client six months or more in advance and, thus, has not included a balance sheet dated not more than 90 days prior to the date of this brochure. The Adviser is not aware of any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its contractual commitments to clients, nor has it been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

Privacy Policy

Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not disclose nonpublic personal information about its clients or former clients to third parties other than as described below. Harmony Grove Wealth Management collects information about its clients (such as name, address, social security number, assets and income) from the Firm's discussions with clients, from documents that clients may deliver to the Firm (such as subscription documents) and in the course of providing services to clients. In order to service clients' accounts and effect investment transactions, Harmony Grove Wealth Management may provide clients' personal information to the Firm's affiliates and to firms that assist Harmony Grove Wealth Management Partners in servicing client accounts and have a need for such information, such as brokers, distributors, legal counsel, fund administrators, or accountants. Harmony Grove Wealth Management does not otherwise provide information about clients to outside firms, organizations, or individuals except as required or permitted by law. Any party that receives this information will use it only for the services required and as allowed by applicable law or regulation, and is not permitted to share or use this information for any other purpose.
