Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Cabbage will charge Clients a single wrap fee which bundles fees for advisory services, trade execution, clearance, custody, and account reporting. The wrap fee is calculated based on the Client's month ending balance and charged monthly in arrears. For accounts with average daily balances of more than $5,000, Cabbage will charge an annualized 0.25% wrap fee which is charged monthly. The custodian for Cabbage will deduct fees from the assets in the Client's account monthly to pay the wrap fee. For accounts with less than a $5,000 average daily balance, Cabbage will charge a monthly advisory fee of $1.00 which will be deducted from the Client's funding bank account. If this bank account cannot be charged, the custodian will charge the monthly fee against the Client's Cabbage investment account.

Transaction costs are absorbed by Cabbage as part of the Program. The ETFs recommended by Cabbage have fees that are separate and distinct from the fees paid to Cabbage for its wrap fee program. These fees are outlined in the prospectus for each ETF. These fees are generally composed of a management fee and other fund expenses. Cabbage does not earn or receive a portion of such fees.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Cabbage provides Clients with investment advice that is based on Modern Portfolio Theory (MPT). MPT attempts to create an optimal portfolio offering the maximum possible expected return for a given level of risk.

Investment Strategies

Cabbage uses a proprietary formula and algorithm in selecting the investments for an individual Client using our interactive website or mobile application. This formula uses the Client's personal information provided (age, financial resources, investment experience, investment goals, and risk tolerance) to identify suitable investment choices which are intended to maximize return within the client's individual suitability limits and risk tolerance.

Risk of Loss

Cabbage does not guarantee any level of performance or that any Client will avoid a financial loss of account assets. Any investment in securities involves the possibility of a financial loss. The following risks are not all-inclusive, but should be considered carefully by a prospective Client before using Cabbage's services.

Market Risk - The price of any security can decline for a variety of reasons outside of Cabbage's control, including, but not limited to, macroeconomic environment changes, market sentiment, economic developments, interest rates, regulatory changes, and political changes.

Advisory Risk - There is no guarantee that Cabbage's judgment or investment decisions about securities, portfolios, or asset classes will necessarily produce the intended results. Cabbage may also make future change to the investing algorithm. Cabbage and its representatives are not responsible to any Client for losses unless caused by Cabbage breaching its fiduciary duty.

Volatility and Correlation Risk – Cabbage's investment selection process is based in part on consideration of a security's past price performance and volatility. Past performance is no guarantee of future results, and any historical returns, expected returns, or probability projections may not reflect actual realized performance.

Liquidity Risk / Valuation Risk - High volatility and/or the lack of an active, liquid market for a security may prevent a Client from selling his/her securities at all, or at an advantageous time or price because Cabbage and the Client's Broker may have difficulty finding a buyer and may be forced to sell at a significant discount to market value. Additionally, Cabbage receives security valuation data from external sources and this data may be inaccurate causing incorrect valuations of portfolios.

Credit Risk – Any issuer of securities may experience a credit event that could impair the value of that issuer’s securities held by a Client. Financial intermediaries or security issuers may also experience adverse economic consequences including impaired credit ratings, default, bankruptcy or insolvency. Any of this may affect the portfolio values negatively. Exchange trading venues or trade settlement and clearing intermediaries may experience adverse events that may temporarily or permanently limit trading or adversely affect the value of Client securities.

Legislative and Tax Risk – Portfolio performance may directly or indirectly be affected by government legislation or regulation, including but not limited to changes in investment advisor or securities trading regulation, change in the U.S. government’s guarantee of principal and interest on certain government securities, and changes in the tax code that could affect interest income, income characterization and/or tax reporting obligations. Cabbage does not provide tax or financial planning services. Clients may also incur a taxable event without a cash distribution. Clients should contact a qualified tax advisor for questions related to their individual tax situation and their Cabbage portfolio.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information
