Item 4 – Advisory Business

Established in 2016, Wellington Funds (US) LLC (WFUS) is an indirect subsidiary of Wellington Management Group LLP (WMG), which is the parent holding company of the Wellington Management group of companies (collectively, Wellington Management). WFUS is a Delaware limited liability company that acts as the general partner or manager of several privately-offered pooled investment vehicles exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (collectively, the Funds). The Funds pursue a range of investment strategies. WFUS has claimed an exemption from registration as a commodity pool operator with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) under CFTC Rule 4.13(a)(3).

As the general partner or manager to the Funds, WFUS sets the investment objective, guidelines and restrictions for the Funds. WFUS has appointed its affiliate Wellington Management Company LLP (WMC), a Delaware limited liability partnership and indirect subsidiary of WMG, as investment manager to provide discretionary investment management and related services to the Funds. WMC is registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and as a commodity trading advisor with the CFTC.

WFUS may appoint other Wellington Management affiliates as investment manager to one or more Funds in the future, including Wellington Management International Ltd, a limited company registered in England and Wales and an indirect subsidiary of WMG, Wellington Management Hong Kong Limited, a private limited company organized under the laws of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China and an indirect subsidiary of WMG, Wellington Management Singapore Pte Ltd, a limited liability company organized under Singapore law, and Wellington Management Japan Pte Ltd, a limited liability company organized under Singapore law. Details on these affiliates may be found in the Appendix.

As of 31 December 2017, WFUS had approximately $1.6 billion in assets under management on a discretionary basis in the Funds.

Discussions of the Funds in this brochure, including but not limited to their investments, the strategies used in managing the Funds, the fees and other costs associated with an investment in the Funds, and conflicts of interest faced by WFUS and its affiliates in connection with management of the Funds, are summaries intended only to provide required information on our business and practices to our advisory clients. These discussions are not intended for use in evaluating an investment in a Fund. Investors and prospective investors in a Fund should read a Fund's confidential offering memorandum and governing documents ("offering documents") for complete information on these matters.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The investment manager to each Fund is an affiliate of WFUS and, pursuant to an investment management agreement entered into with each Fund, receives an asset-based fee from the Fund and may in the future receive performance-based compensation from the Fund. Fees and expenses are charged to and deducted from the Funds in arrears. Additional information on each Fund's fees and expenses is provided in the offering documents.

Each Fund also bears the fees and expenses charged by its custodian and other service providers, brokerage costs related to investments, and other expenses incurred in operating the Fund or account. For more information, please see Item 12 – Brokerage practices.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

In the future, WFUS and / or its affiliates may receive performance-based compensation from a Fund. The performance compensation typically would be a percentage of the net excess return of the Fund above a specified benchmark. If earned, the performance compensation typically would be paid annually in arrears or upon a withdrawal or redemption from the Fund.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

WFUS provides advisory services only to the Funds, which are private investment funds exempt from registration as investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investing in securities and other financial instruments involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The Funds are subject to all of the risks associated with each of the underlying asset classes and instruments in which they invest, as well as the risk that the asset classes or strategies do not perform as expected. Information on each Fund's risks, as well as the types of investments it may hold, is provided in the offering documents.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to WFUS's clients' or prospective clients' evaluation of WFUS's advisory business.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics / Personal Securities Trading

WFUS has adopted the Wellington Management Code of Ethics, which applies to all Wellington Management personnel worldwide. The Code describes the standard of conduct Wellington Management requires of its personnel and sets forth certain restrictions on activities, including with regard to personal trading and gifts and entertainment. Compliance with the Code is a condition of employment for all personnel. A serious violation of the Code or related policies may result in dismissal. Key provisions of the Code are summarized below. A copy of the entire document is available upon request.

All Wellington Management personnel are considered “access persons” under the Code. They must preclear their personal transactions in covered securities prior to execution, except as specifically exempted under the Code. Some personal securities transactions that are not subject to pre-clearance must nonetheless be reported, including transactions in open-end mutual funds and variable insurance products that Wellington Management manages. The Code’s restrictions on personal trading apply to accounts over which an access person and / or certain immediate family members have investment discretion, or from which they enjoy economic benefits. Portfolio managers are subject to additional restrictions on their personal transactions. The pre-clearance process tests proposed transactions against a number of substantive restrictions designed to prevent Wellington Management personnel from taking advantage of the firm’s investment activity on behalf of its clients. Wellington Management prohibits all personnel from buying or selling securities issued by broker/dealers that are approved for execution of client trades or by securities markets or exchanges on which Wellington Management affiliates trade on behalf of clients. Likewise, Wellington Management does not allow its personnel to engage in personal transactions involving the direct purchase of any security in an initial public offering. All personnel are required to provide quarterly reports and certifications regarding their securities transactions and annual reports regarding their securities holdings. The WMC Chief Compliance Officer (or his or her designee) may grant an exception from pre-clearance, other trading restrictions, and certain reporting requirements on a case-by-case basis, if he or she determines that the proposed conduct involves no opportunity for abuse and does not conflict with client interests.

Gifts and entertainment

The Code places restrictions on receipt of gifts, travel, and entertainment opportunities by Wellington Management personnel. Wellington Management personnel occasionally participate in entertainment opportunities that are for legitimate business purposes, subject to limitations set forth in the Code.

Investments by Wellington Management personnel in the Funds

Wellington Management personnel, including portfolio managers and other investment personnel, often invest in the Funds. WFUS does not limit the percentage of a Fund that Wellington Management personnel can own. Wellington Management personnel are often the first participants in a new Fund and in some instances will be the only participants for one or more years. However, the vast majority of total assets in the Funds belong to unaffiliated investors.

By virtue of their responsibilities, Wellington Management personnel have access to information that is not available to other participants in the Funds. WFUS has adopted policies and procedures to identify and disclose material information to all investors in the Funds and to manage conflicts that arise from Wellington Management personnel's investment in the Funds. Those procedures include information barriers and restrictions on transactions in Funds by Wellington Management personnel.

Investments by WFUS and its affiliates in the Funds

WFUS, in its capacity as general partner, invests a minimal amount of capital in each Fund that is a partnership.

From time to time, a WMG affiliate provides seed capital in connection with the launch of a Fund.

None of these investments by WFUS or WMG's affiliates is material (either individually or collectively) to WFUS's or WMG's financial position.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

WFUS has authorized the investment manager to select brokers and dealers to place and execute portfolio transactions on behalf of the Funds. WFUS receives information from the investment manager regarding its exercise of that discretion, including its research and soft dollar practices.

In the future, WFUS may select prime brokers for the Funds. The services to be performed under each prime broker agreement would include the provision of leverage, margin financing, clearing, settlement, securities lending, short selling facilities and foreign exchange facilities. Prime brokers would also provide custody services for investments held on the books of the prime brokers in accordance with the terms of the respective agreements and applicable law.

Additional information on each Fund's brokerage practices is provided in the offering documents.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

The Members of the Risk Team periodically review performance and exposures for such Fund, including leverage and margin, different exposure and diversification metrics, transaction activity and liquidity, on an ongoing basis. WFUS's goal is to understand the exposures in each Fund to confirm that the exposures are in line with WFUS's expectations.

WFUS provides Funds with a variety of reporting, including monthly written reporting on performance and holdings. WFUS also periodically provides commentary on current allocations and positioning, and portfolio manager views on the economy, markets and other investment topics.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

WFUS has not entered into arrangements to pay third parties to solicit new investors in the Funds.

WFUS primarily relies on the business development and marketing activities of its affiliates to solicit investors for the Funds.

From time to time, the prime brokers to the Funds introduce potential investors for the Funds. Introductions are made either at conferences sponsored by the prime broker or through private meetings. Neither WFUS nor the Funds pay the prime brokers fees for making these introductions.

Item 15 – Custody

The assets of each Fund are maintained at qualified third-party custodians.

WFUS does not maintain physical possession of the assets of any Fund. Because WFUS serves as general partner of, or holds another comparable position with respect to, the Funds, it takes additional measures to safeguard Fund assets.

Each Fund provides audited financial statements prepared in accordance with US generally accepted accounting principles to all investors in the Fund typically within 90 days of the applicable fiscal year end.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

WFUS has delegated investment discretion for the Funds to the investment manager, which in turn may delegate some of its portfolio management responsibilities to another Wellington Management affiliate.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

WFUS does not vote proxies directly on behalf of the Funds. It has delegated proxy voting responsibility for the Funds to WMC.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Not applicable.
