Material Changes

On March 27, 2017, Merrill Lynch filed its last annual update for its Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program brochure ("Brochure"). There have been no material changes to this Brochure since that date.

We periodically review our Brochure disclosures and consider enhancing existing disclosures when we believe our clients would benefit from enhanced or clarified disclosures relating to the Program and its Services, the Program Fees, conflicts of interest or other important information. We have made the enhancements and clarifications outlined below. We encourage you to review the text of these enhanced disclosures in the Brochure. Capitalized terms that are not defined in this Brochure have the meanings provided in the Glossary.

THESE CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE AS PART OF AN UPDATE ON OCTOBER 30, 2017.

- Disclosures have been changed regarding the periodic reporting that we provide of the asset allocation for Portfolios that have invested in a Managed Strategy of Custom Managed Strategy. For these Portfolios, we will provide periodic reporting of the asset allocation based on the allocation in the Strategy's Style Index or benchmark chosen to provide a relevant comparison to the performance of the particular Strategy. Please refer to the section titled "Creating Your Portfolio(s) – c. Portfolio Advice and Guidance".
- Disclosures have been enhanced regarding certain Discretionary Managers that have historically executed all or a portion of their trades through Unaffiliated Investment Firms to provide, among other things, that additional information is available in the document entitled "Style Manager Step Out Information Document" available at <http://www.ml.com/SMA> and from your Advisor upon request. Please refer to the section titled "Brokerage and Custody Services – 1. Brokerage Services".
- Disclosures have been enhanced regarding the effect of federal margin rule requirements on certain Program account trading activity and the related risks. Please refer to the sections titled "Brokerage and Custody Services – 1. Brokerage Services" and "Funding and Operation of Accounts – Withdrawals and Contributions of Assets".

Services, Fees and Compensation

This Brochure describes the Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program (the “Program”), which is offered by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated (“MLPF&S”) and Managed Account Advisors LLC (“MAA”). Both MLPF&S and MAA are indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries of Bank of America and are referred to in this Brochure as “Merrill Lynch,” “we,” or “us.” Both MLPF&S and MAA provide services in the Program, as described in detail below.

All capitalized terms are defined in the body of this Brochure and/or in the Glossary, which can be found at the end of this Brochure.

SUMMARY DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

The Program is designed to help you pursue your investment goals by providing you with investment advice and guidance and access to a range of financial services and investment solutions (“Services”). This section contains a summary description of the Services generally available in the Program. A more detailed description of each Service is provided elsewhere in this Brochure, along with other material information about us and the Program. Before investing through the Program, please review this Brochure carefully and speak with your Advisor if you have any questions.

- Portfolio Advice. The Program offers you the ability to combine the assets held in your Account(s) into one or more groups, each of which we refer to as a “Portfolio.” You may also group assets of yours with assets of another person or persons into a Portfolio. By grouping assets held in multiple Accounts(s) into Portfolios, the Program provides you with the flexibility to pursue different investment goals by allowing you to have each Portfolio, and each Account within a Portfolio, managed in accordance with a different objective or Strategy type, should you so choose. We will provide you with investment advice and guidance, tailored by your Advisor, to help meet your specific investment needs:
 - Your Advisor will work with you to create a Portfolio tailored for each group of assets that you identify. For each Portfolio, your Advisor will recommend: (i) an allocation of your assets across one or more asset classes (“Target Asset Allocation”); and (ii) a single investment strategy (“Strategy”) or group of Strategies aligned to that Target Asset Allocation and the specific needs of your Portfolio.
 - On a periodic basis, we will monitor the assets in your Portfolio for alignment with your Target Asset Allocation, and if appropriate, we will make recommendations regarding changes to your Portfolio, including changes to the Strategy(ies) you selected.
- Strategies. There are different Strategies available in the Program to choose from. You may choose a single Strategy or combine multiple Strategies for each Portfolio. Our Strategies are generally differentiated by the way in which we deliver our advice to you and the types of investments we make available to you.

- Brokerage and Custody Services. If you maintain your Program assets with us or one of our Affiliates, the Program Fee you pay for investment advisory services also generally covers the custody of such assets and the execution of securities transactions occurring through the Program (except as otherwise indicated in this Brochure).
- Account Preferences and Other Elective Services. Depending on the Strategy you select, and other factors, you may set certain preferences for your Accounts (“Account Preferences”) or elect additional Services (“Elective Services”), such as:
 - Retaining or delegating the authority to vote proxies;
 - Imposing Reasonable Investment Restrictions;
 - Determining the frequency that you will receive trade confirmations;
 - Choosing to receive certain materials either electronically or in paper;
 - Optional Rebalancing Service; and
 - Automatic Contribution and Withdrawal Services.

Investment Advisory Agreement.

To take advantage of the Services available through the Program, you must first enter into an investment advisory agreement with us (the “Client Agreement”). The Client Agreement will cover each separate Account you choose to enroll in the Program and each Portfolio you choose to create.

In the Client Agreement we agree to act as your investment adviser and agent and to provide the Services described in this Brochure, and you grant to us the investment discretion and trading authority necessary to deliver the Services you select and agree to the terms and conditions of the Program. After you are enrolled in the Program, you will generally be able to enroll new Accounts in the Program and select or change most Services with verbal instructions to your Advisor; however, in certain circumstances we may ask you to sign a separate Client Agreement or complete additional documentation.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

Portfolio Advice and Guidance

In this section we describe for you our investment advice and guidance with respect to the assets in each of your Portfolios.

Creating Your Portfolio(s).

Your Advisor will work with you to create one or more Portfolios. To create each Portfolio, your Advisor will:

- Gather information about you and your objectives for the Portfolio;
- Recommend a Target Asset Allocation; and
- Recommend a Strategy or group of Strategies suitable for each Portfolio.

a. Gathering Information About You.

Your Advisor will gather from you, or confirm with you, important financial and personal information that we will use as a basis for our advice and guidance about your Portfolio.

It is your responsibility to ensure that the information you provide to your Advisor is complete and accurate. It is also your responsibility to notify your Advisor if any information we have about you is inaccurate or becomes inaccurate. By providing accurate and complete information, your Advisor will be better able to make suitable recommendations for you and your assets. This information helps determine whether this Program is, and continues to be, appropriate in light of your preferences and objectives. Your continued enrollment in the Program indicates your willingness and preferences to receive ongoing investment advice and guidance with respect to your Portfolio(s), continued access to investment solutions, ongoing investment monitoring and other fiduciary services under the Program. For more information regarding the factors you should consider when enrolling or remaining in the Program, please refer to the section, “Ability to Obtain the Program Services Separately”.

Using the information you provide, we will first help you determine whether you should group your assets into one or more Portfolios. You may choose to create more than one Portfolio for many reasons, including: (i) if you identify more than one investment goal (e.g., paying for retirement, paying for college, general investing, paying for a vacation home, etc.); (ii) if you want separate groups of your assets managed in different ways; or (iii) if you simply want one group of your assets managed independently from another group of assets.

b. Portfolio Target Asset Allocation.

For each Portfolio you choose to create, we will help you identify the following information:

- Portfolio Risk Tolerance. Your Portfolio Risk Tolerance is a reflection of your ability and willingness to lose some or all the assets in your Portfolio in exchange for greater potential returns. There are three Portfolio Risk Tolerance choices: Conservative; Moderate; or Aggressive.
- Portfolio Time Horizon. Your Portfolio Time Horizon is a reflection of how long you expect to invest in order to achieve your investment goal. There are various time horizon ranges from which you may select.

We will use your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Portfolio Time Horizon to assist in recommending a Portfolio Target Asset Allocation and one or more Strategies for your Portfolio. Your Advisor will use your Target Asset Allocation, along with other information about you, including the liquidity needs and objective associated with the Portfolio or Account, to determine the types of investments to recommend to you.

For each Portfolio, we will assist you in establishing a Target Asset Allocation based on the information we gathered about you and how you want your Portfolio managed. We currently offer different Target Asset Allocations including: Conservative, Moderately Conservative, Moderate, Moderately Aggressive and Aggressive. Depending on your Portfolio attributes, objectives and other information about you, we also may make available under certain circumstances a Target Asset Allocation with a focus on a single asset class, like “Equity”, “Fixed Income” or a custom allocation. There may be additional Target Asset Allocation categories added by us from time to time.

Currently, our Target Asset Allocations recommend allocation ranges of 0% to 100% to four asset classes:

- Equity Securities;
- Fixed-Income Securities;
- Alternative Investments (including non-traditional Funds); and
- Cash.

We will generally adjust our Target Asset Allocation ranges based on market conditions and other factors and may do so without prior notice to you.

We will recommend a Target Asset Allocation based on a combination of your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon. Our more conservative Target Asset Allocations typically recommend a greater percentage of your assets be allocated to fixed-income investments and cash, rather than to equity securities. Our more aggressive Target Asset Allocations typically recommend a greater percentage of your assets be allocated to equity investments and Alternative Investments, rather than to fixed-income investments and cash.

You may choose a Target Asset Allocation that is more conservative than our recommendation by speaking with your Advisor. If you would like a more aggressive Target Asset Allocation, you must discuss with your Advisor whether certain information that we have about your Portfolio accurately reflects how you want your assets managed, and your Advisor may recommend that you adjust your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and/or Time Horizon to reflect your preference for a more aggressive Target Asset Allocation.

Depending on your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon, you may also choose a Target Asset Allocation with an “Equity” or “Fixed Income” focus if you have a preference for significant exposure to a single asset class in excess of our recommended target asset ranges for a particular asset class. These options will not provide the same diversification benefits as other Target Asset Allocations, and you should discuss this single asset class preference with your Advisor before investing. Please see the section “Risk and Tax Disclosure” for further details.

We may also offer customized allocations for certain situations and specific client circumstances. These custom allocations do not align with the recommended Target Asset Allocations, may involve greater degrees of risk, and may consider assets held outside of the Program. Because customized allocations do not align with our advice and guidance around asset allocation, customized allocations generally need to be consented to by you, your Advisor, and other personnel in MLPF&S.

c. Portfolio Advice & Guidance.

You will have the flexibility to direct your Advisor to manage multiple Accounts, each with a different Strategy, in a single Portfolio. Your Portfolio assets in the aggregate should be aligned to the applicable Target Asset Allocation, which is based on your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon. Because the Target Asset Allocation is determined at the Portfolio level, you should understand that each Account and the Funds and other investment solutions held in each particular Account, must be evaluated in the context of the overall Portfolio. The Accounts, Funds and other investment solutions that comprise a Portfolio will not necessarily be consistent with your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon if they are evaluated on a stand-alone basis.

The Portfolio Target Asset Allocation applies to the assets held in the Portfolio. While assets held outside of the Program may affect or influence the Target Asset Allocation that you may select for the Portfolio, these outside assets will not be considered part of the Portfolio and will not be covered under the Program and the Services provided hereunder.

On a periodic basis we will monitor the assets in each Portfolio to help ensure that they generally remain aligned to the applicable Target Asset Allocation, regardless of the Strategies you select. If you have multiple Strategies in a Portfolio, we will measure your alignment to your Target Asset Allocation across each Strategy in the Portfolio in the aggregate. Because your Target Asset Allocation is based on your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon, if you make changes to any of the foregoing, your Target Asset Allocation may be adjusted accordingly, which may require one or more adjustments to your Portfolio.

We will also periodically report to you in writing an asset allocation for each Portfolio against the Target Asset Allocation. The asset allocation will be based on the actual holdings of the Portfolio, or where the Portfolio includes a Style Manager Strategy, the asset allocation for the portion of assets invested in a Style Manager Strategy will be reported based on the allocation of the Strategy’s Style Index.

The Style Index provides a relevant market comparison to the performance of the Managed Strategy. It can be either a single index or a combination of indexes. The Style Index is determined by Merrill Lynch based on several factors such as the Style Manager’s investment philosophy and style, the Style Manager’s asset mix over time, the range and average market capitalization of the stock holdings over time, and maturities and duration of fixed income holdings. An Asset Allocation may become misaligned with your Target Asset Allocation for many reasons, such as market movement, additions and withdrawals of assets from your Portfolio, changes in the Strategies you select, or purchases and sales of certain securities in your Strategies. If an Asset Allocation reported for a Portfolio is outside the applicable Target Asset Allocation ranges, we may recommend that you take action to realign your assets, including by:

- Changing the Strategies in the Portfolio;
- Buying or selling certain investments;
- Adding or removing certain assets to or from a Portfolio; and
- Adjusting your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and/or Time Horizon, which would result in a change to your Target Asset Allocation.

In addition, where we are authorized to do so, we may take other actions that we deem suitable and appropriate under the circumstances without notifying you. In most instances it is solely your responsibility to determine whether you follow our recommendations. If you choose to invest your assets in a manner that differs materially from our recommendations, you may assume additional risks that result from your decisions. We may also, at our discretion, terminate a Portfolio, or any Strategy within it (including any Accounts), if you do not agree to adjust your Portfolio's Actual Asset Allocation if it is outside the applicable Target Asset Allocation ranges.

d. Selecting Strategies.

After we help you establish a Target Asset Allocation for your Portfolio, your Advisor will recommend to you one or more Strategies that we believe will meet the specific investment needs of your Portfolio and your investment preferences based on the information that you have provided to us. The Strategies are generally differentiated by the way in which we will deliver our advice to you and the types of investments made available to you. The Strategies currently available in the Program are: (1) Managed Strategies; (2) Custom Managed Strategies; (3) Personalized Strategies; and (4) Defined Strategies.

There may be more than one Strategy that is suitable for your investment needs and the same or similar types of investments may be available in multiple Strategies, as well as available through other programs and services, offered by Merrill Lynch and other firms. Before choosing a Strategy you should read the detailed descriptions below in the section "Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines", and "Ability to Obtain the Program Services Separately", and speak with your Advisor.

In general, you will be required to open a separate Account for each Strategy you select. Your Advisor will work with you to determine the type of "Authority" that you designate for each Strategy, either: (i) Advisor Discretion or (ii) Client Discretion. The Authority you choose will dictate who (us, a third-party, you or a combination of all three) is responsible for making certain investment and trading decisions for the assets in each Strategy. It is important that you understand how each type of Authority will affect who will be responsible for making certain investment and trading decisions for the assets in each Strategy. How the Authority you choose will affect each Strategy is described in the section "Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines".

You will have the flexibility to direct your Advisor to manage multiple Accounts, each with a different Strategy in a single Portfolio. Your Portfolio assets in the aggregate should be aligned to the applicable Target Asset Allocation, which is based on your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon. Because the Target Asset Allocation is determined at the Portfolio level, you should understand that each Account, and the Funds and other investment products held in each particular Account, must be evaluated in the context of the overall Portfolio. The Accounts, Funds and other investment products that comprise a Portfolio will not necessarily be consistent with your Portfolio Risk Tolerance and Time Horizon if they are evaluated on a stand-alone basis.

e. Multi-Client Portfolios.

You may choose to group one or more of your Accounts with the accounts of another Program client or clients into one or more Portfolios in order to pursue a common investment goal. To do this, you and each of the other clients as part of this group must execute written instructions to include your respective Accounts in such a Portfolio. Your written instruction will not become effective unless each of the clients in the Portfolio provides such written instruction.

Your Advisor will assist in establishing a recommended Target Asset Allocation for each multi-client Portfolio. The Accounts included in a Portfolio may include multiple Strategies. The Accounts in a Portfolio must, in the aggregate, be consistent with the Target Asset Allocation established for the applicable Portfolio. Any advice provided by your Advisor with respect to the assets in each Account included in a multi-client Portfolio is intended to be consistent with the financial and personal information you have provided to your Advisor, and at all times limited by, the stated and agreed upon:

- Portfolio Target Asset Allocation;
- Account Strategy or other applicable factors; and
- Account investment restrictions, if any.

If you want to designate a specific Target Asset Allocation for any individual Account, such Account must be established in its own Portfolio.

Once your multi-client Portfolio is established, you and the other participating clients may add or remove Accounts to or from the Portfolio or make other changes, such as creating new Portfolios together or changing a Portfolio's Investment Objective, Risk Tolerance, Time Horizon, Liquidity Needs or Target Asset Allocation by verbal instruction to your Advisor. We may require you and the other participating client(s) to execute a new client instruction before making certain changes, such as adding a new participating client to a Portfolio.

You and the other participating client(s) are each responsible for determining the appropriateness of the Portfolio's Investment Objective, Risk Tolerance, Time Horizon, Liquidity Needs and Target Asset Allocation. Your Account(s) will incur any fees, trading or other costs occurring in the Account, as described in the Client Agreement. You are responsible, together with the other participating client(s) where appropriate, for all decisions, changes and instructions for the Portfolio.

We will not be responsible for any loss or expense arising out of: (1) your instructing us to group your Account(s) in a multi-client Portfolio with other clients and to share information about those Account(s) with such other client(s); or (2) any act or failure to act by you or the other client(s) with respect to any decisions, changes or instructions to be made or given for a Portfolio.

You may terminate your instruction to participate in a multi-client Portfolio at any time upon verbal or written notice to your Advisor. We may terminate such instruction at any time upon written notice to you. Termination of the instruction will not affect the continuing validity of your Client Agreement unless either you or we also terminate the Client Agreement. Your instruction to participate in a multi-client Portfolio will automatically terminate if:

- your Client Agreement is terminated;
- all participating clients' instructions are terminated; or
- all participating clients remove all of their Accounts from all of the Portfolios covered by the instruction.

If you participate in more than one multi-client Portfolio, and you remove all of your Accounts from a particular Portfolio, your Portfolio grouping instruction will be automatically terminated only with respect to that Portfolio.

Your Portfolio grouping instruction will not automatically terminate if less than all of the participating clients terminate their instructions or withdraw all of their Accounts from the Portfolio.

If you participate with other clients in a multi-client Portfolio, any changes made to the Portfolio's goal, Investment Objective, Risk Tolerance, Time Horizon, Liquidity Needs and Target Asset Allocation must be agreed to by you and any other client(s) participating in the Portfolio and communicated to your Advisor. Any of these changes may impact the management of the Portfolio and your Account(s) in the Portfolio. To the extent any requested changes to a Portfolio would cause a change in your Account, Account changes will be made in accordance with the Authority you granted to your Advisor under the Client Agreement, and therefore, we may make certain Account changes based on such Authority without seeking your further consent. You continue to own the assets in your Account(s) within the Portfolio. The other client(s) that participate in a Portfolio with you cannot make any changes to or direct your Advisor to take any action in your Accounts, even if they are included in a multi-client Portfolio.

If you participate in a multi-client Portfolio, your instruction to group your Account(s) with the Account(s) of one or more other clients will authorize us to share information about your Accounts that are included in a multi-client Portfolio with the other client(s) participating in that Portfolio. Your Accounts, as well as certain Strategy information, including Account values and performance, holdings, elections and preferences, will be combined and included on a Portfolio Summary or other materials in a single communication that will be provided to each participating client.

Strategies and Program Guidelines

This section describes in detail the Strategies available in the Program and the impact that the Authority you choose will have on who will be responsible for making certain investment and trading decisions. Some Advisors may not offer all of the Strategies or investment options described below, and we may choose, in our discretion, not to offer certain Strategies or investment options from time to time. You should discuss with your Advisor which Strategies are currently available and which Strategies and investment options are offered by your Advisor.

The Strategies currently available in the Program include the: (1) Managed Strategy; (2) Custom Managed Strategy; (3) Personalized Strategy and (4) Defined Strategy.

- In a Managed Strategy and in a Custom Managed Strategy, the available investments consist of Style Manager Strategies and certain Funds identified by us through our portfolio manager selection and evaluation process described below and approved for use in such Strategies after a review and approval process described in more detail below in the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation – Review, Selection and Strategy Construction for Strategies Available in the Program." In Custom Managed Strategies, Funds available as investment options may also include certain of the Funds identified as available in the Program but not all of these Funds may be subject to the same review process. Please refer to the section referenced immediately above for more information.
- In Managed Strategies, you can select a single Style Manager Strategy or a combination of Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds in allocations determined by us, an Affiliate, Related Company or a third party. Certain Style Manager Strategies may only be only available as a Managed Strategy and may not be invested in through a Custom Managed Strategy.
- In a Custom Managed Strategy, depending upon the Authority you choose, either you (Client Discretion) or your Advisor (Advisor Discretion) has the ability to select combinations and allocations of Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies and /or Funds.

- We generally do not limit the Funds or securities available for investment under the Defined Strategy, Personalized Strategy, or Custom Managed Strategy from those available in other investment programs at Merrill Lynch. Not all Funds or securities may be purchased or held in an Account or in a securities account at Merrill Lynch. With certain exceptions, the securities and Funds available in such Strategies are the same securities and Funds available for your purchase in our brokerage or other securities accounts. While all Funds in these Strategies are reviewed for the administrative and operational requirements for Merrill Lynch's platform, not all of the Funds are subject to the same review process described in the section "Managed and Custom Managed Strategies – Review, Selection and Strategy Construction."

You may be able to obtain the same or similar investment solution offered in one Strategy in another Strategy in this Program. Additionally, in certain circumstances, the same or similar investment solution offered in the Program may be offered through other investment advisory programs or services sponsored by Merrill Lynch or its Affiliates, at a lower or higher cost than the investment solution offered in a Strategy in this Program. The services you receive by investing in such solutions through the other investment advisory programs or services sponsored by Merrill Lynch or Affiliate offerings, may or may not be similar to the Services you receive through the Program.

The other Merrill Lynch investment advisory programs, which have lower program fee rates than the Program, are the Merrill Edge Guided Investing program (MEGI) and Merrill Edge Select Portfolios through the Merrill Edge Advisory Account program (MESP). The services that you receive by investing through MEGI or MESP will be different from the Services you receive through the Program. The Program differs from MEGI and MESP in a number of important respects, including that it provides a broader range of investment options and asset classes, a potentially more customized investment solution, and access to your own personal Advisor. For additional information, refer to the section "Ability to Obtain the Program Services Separately" below. You should discuss with your Advisor the investment solutions, services and Strategies available to determine which may be most appropriate for you.

1. Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies.

a. Managed Strategies.

A Managed Strategy is a group of securities constructed and managed to achieve one or more investment styles or disciplines. In addition, a Managed Strategy may have an allocation to cash and/or cash alternatives as we describe below in the section "Funding and Operation of Accounts - Investment of Cash Balances." A Managed Strategy is constructed and/or implemented by Merrill Lynch, an Affiliate, a Related Company, and/or a third party in a single Account, which includes a determination of the allocations and the rebalancing frequencies. A Managed Strategy may consist of one or more Style Manager Strategies, or Funds, or any combination of both. Style Manager Strategies are generally based on advice we receive from a "Style Manager," which is an investment adviser (either a third party, Merrill Lynch, an Affiliate or a Related Company) that provides us with advice regarding the securities or other property to be purchased or sold within the Style Manager Strategy.

You may select a Managed Strategy with Client Discretion or Advisor Discretion. However, as we describe in detail below in the section "Investment and Trading Authority for Managed and Custom Managed Strategies", we or a third party will have full trading authority to implement the Managed Strategy selected. Additionally, not all Managed Strategies may be available to you based on the level of Authority you have selected.

Client Discretion. Any change from one Managed Strategy to another Managed Strategy will require your consent, because you retain Authority to select and implement any changes between Managed Strategies.

Advisor Discretion. Any change from one Managed Strategy to another Managed Strategy where the investment objective of the replacement Managed Strategy is consistent with your originally selected Managed Strategy will not require your consent, because you grant to us the Authority to select and implement these changes.

b. Custom Managed Strategies.

A Custom Managed Strategy is comprised of two or more Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds in a single Account. In addition, a Custom Managed Strategy may have an allocation to cash and/or cash alternatives as we describe below in the section “Funding and Operation of Accounts - Investment of Cash Balances.”

You may select a Custom Managed Strategy with Client Discretion or Advisor Discretion. However, as we describe in detail below in the section “Role of MAA and Investment and Trading Authority for Managed and Custom Managed Strategies”, we or a third party, will have full trading authority to implement the Custom Managed Strategy selected.

Client Discretion. You will select the Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds that make up the Custom Managed Strategy from a list provided by us, assign a corresponding allocation percentage for each Managed Strategy, Style Manager Strategy, Funds, cash and/or cash alternatives, and select the rebalancing frequency. Any change to Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies, Funds, cash and/or cash alternatives, allocations, rebalancing frequency, or moving from one Custom Managed Strategy to another Custom Managed Strategy will require your consent, because you retain Authority to select and implement these changes.

Advisor Discretion. Your Advisor will select the Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds that make up the Custom Managed Strategy from a list provided by us, assign a corresponding allocation percentage for each Managed Strategy, Style Manager Strategy and/or Funds, and select the rebalancing frequency. Any change to Managed Strategies, Style Manager Strategies, Funds, cash and/or cash alternatives, allocations, rebalancing frequency, or moving from one Custom Managed Strategy to another Custom Managed Strategy within the same investment objective will not require your consent, because you grant to us the Authority to select and implement these changes. You may also choose to have your Custom Managed Strategy constructed by an Advisor who is not the Advisor primarily responsible for your relationship with Merrill Lynch.

c. Role of MAA and Investment and Trading Authority for Managed and Custom Managed Strategies.

Regardless of Authority, all Style Manager Strategies will be implemented by MAA with full investment and trading discretion based on advice provided by Style Managers or based on an investment strategy developed by us. Some Style Manager Strategies will also be managed with investment and trading discretion by a Style Manager (“Discretionary Manager”).

By granting to MAA or a Discretionary Manager investment and trading discretion, we or the Discretionary Manager will have complete and unlimited trading authority and may invest, reinvest, purchase, sell, exchange, convert and otherwise trade assets in your Managed Strategy or Custom Managed Strategy. You grant this investment and trading authority through the Client Agreement and it will remain in full force and effect until we have either received and accepted instructions from you to either change the Strategy or terminate your Account(s). Neither MAA nor a Discretionary Manager, as applicable, will contact you before exercising their investment and trading discretion over the assets in your Managed or Custom Managed Strategy.

d. MAA's Role in Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies.

As described above, MAA, as opposed to you or MLPF&S through your Advisor, will have authority to make certain investment and trading decisions in Managed and Custom Managed Strategies. MAA will:

- Implement, as applicable, the Style Manager's recommendations for each Strategy;
- Implement for Style Manager Strategies for which it is a Style Manager;
- Invest the initial and any subsequent cash and securities deposited in the Managed or Custom Managed Strategy;
- Monitor available cash, contributions and distributions in the Managed or Custom Managed Strategy;
- Process all contributions, withdrawal requests and Account terminations;
- Periodically review the Managed or Custom Managed Strategy for rebalancing if applicable;
- Implement any Reasonable Investment Restrictions in your Managed or Custom Managed Strategy; and
- Implement your tax-selling instructions, if any.

In our sole discretion, we may make available certain options overlay strategies from MAA designed to be utilized with certain Style Manager Strategy(ies) within a Custom Managed Strategy. Once available, information relating to these options overlay strategies from MAA, including descriptions of the strategies, related fees and expenses and the risks and potential conflicts these strategies present and the criteria for determining eligibility to participate in a MAA designed options overlay strategy will be provided to qualified prospective clients through the applicable MAA options overlay strategy profiles and other related documentation that eligible clients will be required to complete.

e. Investment Options Available in Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies.

We will generally provide you with important information about each Managed Strategy and Custom Managed Strategy you select through a document known as a “Profile”, as discussed below. The Style Manager Strategies and Funds available in Managed and Custom Managed Strategies are generally subject to a review and approval process as described in the section “Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation”. The Funds made available as investment options in Custom Managed Strategies may also include Funds that are available as investment options in Personalized and Defined Strategies, as further described in the section “Defined Strategies, Personalized Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies – Review, Selection and Construction”. Some Advisors may not offer these additional Funds in Custom Managed Strategies. You should discuss with your Advisor which investment options are offered by your Advisor.

If available, you should review the applicable Profile before you select such Strategies.

Consistent with your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation, your assets may also be allocated to cash and/or cash alternatives (collectively referred to as “cash”) for a variety of purposes, such as:

- Fulfilling your Strategy's (or Portfolio's) allocation to cash (as an asset class);
- Transaction execution;
- Program Fee collection; and
- Asset protection purposes (e.g., during periods of volatile market conditions).

As described in more detail below in the section “Program Fees”, your cash and cash alternatives in all Program Accounts and Strategies will be subject to the Program Fee.

MAA has entered into investment advisory agreements with a variety of Style Managers, some of which may include our Affiliates. In general, Style Managers provide advisory services through the Program by furnishing investment recommendations to MAA for one or more Style Manager Strategies based on model portfolios in accordance with the applicable Profiles. MAA will generally implement the Style Manager's recommendations for a Style Manager Strategy without change, subject to your Reasonable Investment Restrictions, cash flow and other considerations.

A Discretionary Manager is responsible for making and implementing investment decisions for your Style Manager Strategy in accordance with the applicable Profile. MAA does not have responsibility for implementing investment decisions for any portion of the assets in your Style Manager Strategy that is managed by a Discretionary Manager. However, MAA is responsible for enforcing any Reasonable Investment Restrictions for your Account.

We will generally determine the manner and extent to which Style Managers, Style Manager Strategies and Funds are made available to clients through the Program, including when they may no longer be offered. For information regarding selection and evaluation of Style Managers, Style Manager Strategies and Funds, please see the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation".

Style Manager Strategies offered by our Affiliates and Strategies that include Related Funds are among the choices that may be made available to you through the Program.

You will not enter into a separate investment advisory agreement with any Style Manager, and the Style Manager will not ordinarily know your identity. However, you authorize and direct MAA to provide any necessary information about you to a Style Manager as needed to provide services to you in the Program.

Occasionally, we may decide to discontinue offering or to replace certain Style Managers, Style Manager Strategies or Funds that comprise a Managed Strategy or Custom Managed Strategy. As described above, if your Managed or Custom Managed Strategy is with Client Discretion, we generally will provide you with prior written notice before selecting a replacement or provide you with information regarding the updated Strategy after such replacement is made. If you do not instruct us to select a different replacement or no replacement at all, your continued participation in the Program after the termination of the Style Manager, Style Manager Strategy or Fund will be your consent to the replacement; if your Account is not eligible for the replacement we may terminate your Account(s). In certain circumstances, we may terminate the offering of a Style Manager, Style Manager Strategy or Fund and promptly select a replacement that we believe to be in your best interest. Such replacements that we may propose or select may be subject to a higher Style Manager Expense Rate than the previous selection.

f. Rebalancing of Managed and Custom Managed Strategies.

Certain Managed Strategies have target allocations and are subject to automatic rebalancing on a periodic basis, as indicated in the Profile. Other Managed Strategies are dynamically managed and are not subject to rebalancing. For Custom Managed Strategies, the frequency of rebalancing where available is determined by you if you chose Client Discretion and by your Advisor if you chose Advisor Discretion.

Investment performance may cause the Managed or Custom Managed Strategy to drift away from the original targets. When appropriate, your Managed and Custom Managed Strategies may be rebalanced back to the target allocations prior to the scheduled rebalancing. Rebalancing will be accomplished by selling securities in overweighted investment categories and purchasing a corresponding dollar amount of securities in underweighted investment categories. In general, any contributions and/or withdrawals of assets to and from your Managed and Custom Managed Strategy will be applied to the target allocations. In our discretion, we may decide not to process certain rebalancing transactions.

Delays in the processing of any rebalancing may be caused by market conditions, illiquid securities or those with limited subscription and redemption schedules, as well as the availability of funds and other factors. Please see the section "Risk and Tax Disclosure" for tax-related risk factors and disclosure.

2. Personalized Strategies and Defined Strategies.

a. Personalized Strategies.

A Personalized Strategy is an investment solution constructed by you or your Advisor. A Personalized Strategy may consist of individual securities, Funds or a combination of both. In addition, a Personalized Strategy may have an allocation to cash and/or cash alternatives as we describe in the section "Funding and Operation of Accounts - Investment of Cash Balances." If eligibility and other applicable qualification requirements are met, certain Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion that you construct may also invest in Annuities, Precious Metals and/or Alternative Investment Funds as further described below.

The Funds available in Personalized Strategies may not be subject to the same review and approval process as are the Funds offered in Managed Strategies and for certain Funds available for Custom Managed Strategies as described in the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation"; please see the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation - Review, Selection and Strategy Construction for Strategies Available in the Program" for more information on how Personalized Strategies are constructed.

You may select a Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion or Advisor Discretion.

Client Discretion. Your Advisor will assist you in selecting the investments that make up the Personalized Strategy, assigning a corresponding asset allocation percentage for each investment where applicable, and selecting the rebalancing frequency for the assets where applicable. Any change to investments (transaction by transaction), asset allocation, or rebalancing will require your consent because you retain the Authority to select and implement these changes. You have also retained full trading authority, and your consent generally is required for each trade.

Although your Advisor will provide you with investment advice and guidance, you may place orders to buy (or sell) securities without having received a recommendation from your Advisor to do so as well as buy (or sell) securities against the advice, guidance or recommendations of your Advisor ("unsolicited trades"). Unsolicited trades may involve securities in which we currently maintain a recommendation or those we do not cover at all. Effecting unsolicited trades may limit your Advisor's ability to make recommendations in accordance with your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation. If you choose to invest assets in a manner that differs materially from our investment recommendations, you may assume additional risks that result from your decisions. Neither we nor your Advisor have an obligation to obtain research concerning, or to monitor and recommend sales (or additional purchases) of, securities acquired on an unsolicited basis. If you effect trades in securities that we do not follow or about which we have a contrary recommendation, this will be at your own risk.

Advisor Discretion. Any change to investments (and trading thereof), asset allocation, or rebalancing within the same investment objective will not require your consent because you grant to us the Authority to select and implement these changes. We, through your Advisor, will have investment and trading discretion over your assets, which will empower your Advisor to make investment and trading decisions with respect to your Personalized Strategy assets without contacting you. Additionally, where your Advisor is a member of a team of Advisors, an Advisor, other than the Advisor primarily responsible for your relationship with Merrill Lynch, may exercise discretion over certain investment decisions made in your Account. You should speak to your Advisor to better understand who may make investment decisions in your Account.

b. Defined Strategies.

A Defined Strategy is a group of securities constructed and managed by an Advisor to achieve one or more investment style disciplines, and is generally managed consistently across multiple clients. A Defined Strategy is managed with Advisor Discretion only, and may consist of individual securities, Funds or a combination of both. In addition, a Defined Strategy may have an allocation to cash and/or cash alternatives as we describe below in the section "Funding and Operation of Accounts - Investment of Cash Balances".

Each Advisor that creates a Defined Strategy must meet certain qualifications set by us. Not all Advisors can or will offer Defined Strategies. You may also choose to select a Defined Strategy that is managed by an Advisor who is not the Advisor primarily responsible for your relationship with Merrill Lynch. In these cases, the Advisor selected to manage your assets will be responsible for implementing the Defined Strategy. Under certain circumstances, the Advisor managing a Defined Strategy may change the Defined Strategy used to manage your Account based on various factors, including changes in your financial situation and objectives, your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation and/or market conditions.

Please see the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation - Review, Selection and Strategy Construction for Strategies Available in the Program" for more information on how Defined Strategies are constructed.

In certain circumstances, we may terminate the Defined Strategy offering of an Advisor. Your Advisor will work with you to recommend an alternative investment solution; however, in certain circumstances we may determine to select a replacement Managed Strategy (which may be a Related Style Manager Strategy), that we believe to be in your best interest. If we select a replacement Managed Strategy, your Account may be subject to a Style Manager Expense Rate. We generally will provide you with prior written notice before selecting such a replacement and provide you with information regarding the updated Strategy after such replacement is made. If you do not instruct us to select a different replacement or no replacement at all, your continued participation in the Program will be your consent to the replacement. If there is no acceptable alternative to the terminated Defined Strategy or your Account is not eligible for the selected replacement, we may elect to terminate your Account(s) from the Program.

Advisor Discretion. Your Advisor will select the types of investments that make up the Defined Strategy, assign a corresponding asset allocation percentage for each investment where applicable, and select the rebalancing frequency for the assets where applicable. Any change to investments (and trading thereof), asset allocation, or rebalancing will not require your consent. We, through your Advisor, will have investment and trading discretion over your assets, which will empower us to make investment and trading decisions with respect to your assets without contacting you.

c. Research and Tools Available to Your Advisor in Defined and Personalized Strategies.

The implementation and management of both a Defined and Personalized Strategy, as with any of the Program's Strategies, will be dependent upon your Advisor's investment expertise, philosophy and process. Your Advisor has support from various sources, including securities research and guidance prepared by our research department, BofAML Global Research, investment guidance and management research and publications from the Merrill Lynch Global Wealth and Investment Management Chief Investment Office ("GWIM CIO"), other Merrill Lynch internal specialists and support teams as well as other selected third-party research providers and other resources. Please refer to the section "Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation" below for a more detailed discussion of the Fund review and due diligence process.

We use various securities analysis methods, including fundamental, technical, quantitative and economic analyses. The primary sources of information we use may include company management contacts, company releases, financial and trade newspapers and magazines, corporate rating services, annual reports, and filings with governmental agencies.

An Advisor's investment analysis may also use other sources of information including, among other things, research reports and market commentary issued by other investment firms that are not affiliated with us. In addition, your Advisor may also use our proprietary model portfolios, including those constructed and managed by the GWIM CIO, as a preliminary basis in formulating investment recommendations designed to implement the Strategy you choose. The use of such proprietary model portfolios does not assure or guarantee that the performance of your Strategy or any investments therein will be consistent with the proprietary model portfolio or will necessarily be profitable.

d. Investment Options Available in a Defined and Personalized Strategy.

In your Defined and Personalized Strategies, your Advisor may purchase or recommend different types of securities or investments, including, although not necessarily limited to, the following (available securities may change over time as determined by us):

- Equity Securities, including exchange-listed and over-the-counter equity securities;
- Certain Funds
- Certain Exchange Traded Notes ("ETNs");
- Rights and Warrants;
- Foreign ordinary and certain foreign-debt securities;
- Certain American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs");
- Corporate, municipal and U.S. government-debt securities, including those guaranteed or issued by their agencies;
- Certificates of Deposit ("CDs");
- Certain asset-backed securities;
- Master Limited Partnerships ("MLPs");
- Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs");
- Certain Unit Investment Trusts ("UITs");
- Listed Securities options;
- Certain Market Linked Investments ("MLIs");
- Money market instruments;
- Cash holdings as an investment position;
- Annuities for eligible investors;
- Alternative Investments for eligible investors; and
- Precious Metals for eligible investors.

Please note that investments in Annuities, Market Linked Investments, Alternative Investment Funds and Precious Metals may be limited to certain Strategies with Client Discretion and are subject to additional client suitability and eligibility requirements. We may, in our discretion, expand the offering of the investments to include additional types of clients in the future.

The Program has certain guidelines as to the recommendations and purchases of securities investments in Portfolios. These guidelines may change from time to time at our discretion or may be waived under certain circumstances for certain clients. Subject to certain guidelines, an Advisor may purchase or recommend the purchase of equity securities that have a “Buy,” “Neutral” or “Underperform” rating by BofAML Global Research, or that may not have a rating by BofAML Global Research. Your Advisor also may purchase or recommend the purchase of fixed-income securities rated by a rating agency as investment grade or below investment grade or that are not rated. To the extent one or more ratings change on a particular security, your Advisor may determine or recommend the disposition of that security.

All Funds available for the Program are reviewed in light of the administrative and operational requirements for Merrill Lynch’s platform and are subject to review under the review process outlined in “Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation”. The Funds that are available for investment through Personalized and Defined Strategies will include those available in a Managed Strategy. Certain of the Funds and Style Manager Strategies may not be subject to the ongoing review process outlined in more detail below in the section “Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation”. With certain exceptions, the securities and Funds available for investment in the Program are available for investment in a Merrill Lynch brokerage account. Not all Funds may be available in all of the Strategies.

As part of the Strategy and the Authority that you select for your Portfolio, your assets may be held as cash and not invested in any securities or Funds. Consistent with your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation, your assets may also be held as cash for a variety of purposes, such as:

- Fulfilling your Strategy’s (or Portfolio’s) allocation to cash (as an asset class);
- Facilitating Transaction execution;
- Providing for Program Fee collection; and
- Providing for asset protection (e.g., during periods of volatile market conditions).

As described in more detail below in the section “Program Fees”, your cash and cash equivalents, including money market funds and instruments, in all Accounts and Strategies will be subject to the Program Fee.

You may determine to hold any cash positions that are part of an Account in a securities account or other account that is outside of the Program. Merrill Lynch has other account types in which cash that you do not intend or desire to be part of a Portfolio Target Asset Allocation may be held and for which a Program Fee will not be charged. These account types may provide you with different cash sweep alternatives and yields (which may be higher) than provided in the Program. Any cash positions that are held outside of the Program will not be considered part of the Portfolio Target Asset Allocation or subject to Services under the Program.

3. Program Guidelines.

We have established certain guidelines relating to the management of assets in the Program. These guidelines, which we may modify from time to time, cover various topics including:

- The types of securities available to be purchased for your Strategy based on our internal and third-party research opinions;
- Investment specific guidelines (i.e., levels of or targets for diversification, concentration, and certain other guidelines and oversight measures); and
- Certain regulatory requirements.

The impact of any guidelines on your Strategy and/or Portfolio will depend upon a variety of factors, including, but not limited to:

- The Advisor responsible for implementing your Strategy;
- The Strategy or Strategies being implemented in your Portfolio;
- The applicable Portfolio Target Asset Allocation;
- The Reasonable Investment Restrictions that you may impose (if any);
- The amount of cash maintained in your Strategy or in your Portfolio; and
- Market conditions.

You may be notified on a periodic basis if your Portfolio deviates from the internal guidelines based on the Strategy managed in your Portfolio. Action may be required to bring the Portfolio or Account back in line with applicable guidelines.

If you decide not to do so, your Portfolio and/or Account may, in our discretion, be terminated by us.

Our supervision and monitoring does not substitute for your own continued review of your assets and the performance of your investments. You are responsible for reviewing the Program letters and reports, performance reports, trade confirmations, monthly account statements, and other information we send to you. If you identify any discrepancies, you should promptly report them to your Advisor.

Because of our and our Affiliates’ business relationships, there may be occasions when we will be unable to recommend the purchase or sale of certain securities for your Accounts, even if it is in your best interests to do so. This can arise in instances when insider trading policies, changes in research opinions or other activities prohibit trading in your Program Accounts. In addition, we may obtain information anytime through various non-Program-related businesses that could be used to benefit the management of your Account, but which cannot be used for this purpose because of various legal prohibitions, such as the insider trading prohibition. Our investment advice will generally not include any recommendations concerning the purchase or sale of common stock, preferred stock and debt securities issued by Bank of America Corporation, and certain Affiliates and other Related Companies, as well as other securities that we may determine from time to time.

4. Differences in Strategy Implementation.

Your Advisor may offer the same or similar investment strategy to different clients as a Custom Managed Strategy, Defined Strategy, or Personalized Strategy depending on client preferences, investment restrictions, tax considerations, and other factors. In doing so, clients invested in the same or similar investment strategy in different Strategy types will likely not experience the same investment results due to timing and implementation differences between Strategies. We seek to mitigate potential conflicts that may arise through these scenarios with our MLPF&S Investment Adviser Code of Ethics and internal policies. Please refer to the section “Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading” for additional information.

Brokerage and Custody Services

If you maintain your Account at Merrill Lynch or an Affiliate, the Program Fees you pay generally cover the custody of your assets and the execution of transactions in the Program (except as otherwise indicated). Certain brokerage or banking features may not be available depending on the Strategy you select.

1. Brokerage Services.

In your Client Agreement, you appoint us and/or a Discretionary Manager, depending on the Strategy and Authority you select, to act as your agent and attorney-in-fact with such discretionary power and authority to buy, sell or otherwise effect transactions in stocks, options, bonds and any other securities or other property, in whole or in part, on margin and in your name for your Accounts. You also authorize and direct us to cause all transactions (including foreign ordinary security transactions placed by Discretionary Managers) to be effected through Merrill Lynch or our Affiliates acting as agent, or as permitted by law, as principal. Principal transactions are only effected in accordance with Program guidelines and applicable regulations. In effecting transactions for your assets in the Program, we or our Affiliates will be acting exclusively as a broker-dealer. Trades will be handled by Merrill Lynch and MAA consistent with their regulatory and best execution obligations.

Please be aware that, under certain circumstances, you may be able to obtain better prices for transactions, including smaller spreads (the difference between the bid and the offer price) or more favorable net prices, from other broker-dealers or third parties or obtain better pricing through different types of accounts available at Merrill Lynch; however, you will pay commissions on transactions executed through those accounts, which are in addition to the Program Fees.

If we, an Affiliate, or a Discretionary Manager cannot effect a transaction on your behalf, you authorize and direct us and Discretionary Managers to effect the transaction through an Unaffiliated Investment Firm, and to establish accounts as necessary for the purpose of effecting transactions in the Program.

Discretionary Managers have authority to place all orders (except for foreign ordinary securities) for transactions with a broker-dealer selected by the Discretionary Manager, including an Unaffiliated Investment Firm, when consistent with their obligation to obtain best price and execution. For certain Discretionary Managers, we may provide administrative services to the Discretionary Manager to assist with the placement of orders at its direction. In selecting a firm to execute transactions and the markets on or in which the transactions will be executed, the Discretionary Manager is not obligated to solicit competitive bids for each transaction or seek the lowest available commission cost to you, so long as it reasonably believes that the firm it selects can be expected to obtain a "best execution" market price on the particular transaction. Each Discretionary Manager is responsible for ensuring that it complies with its best execution obligations.

For certain Discretionary Managers who have authority to place orders for particular (but not all) transactions in an Account, they have authority to place orders for such trades with us and our Affiliates or an Unaffiliated Investment Firm if the Discretionary Manager determines, after consultation with us, that: (i) they are able to aggregate a particular trade for Program clients in a block trade; and (ii) such aggregation is expected by them to be for the overall benefit of our Program clients.

When a Discretionary Manager selects a firm to execute transactions, or when we select an Unaffiliated Investment Firm to execute transactions because we cannot effect a transaction, the Discretionary Manager or MAA, as applicable, will take into account various factors, such as:

- The nature and quantity of the securities involved;
- The markets involved;
- The importance of speed, efficiency and confidentiality;
- The firm's apparent knowledge of such markets and sources from or to whom particular securities might be purchased or sold;
- The reputation and perceived soundness of the firm;
- The ability and willingness of the firm to facilitate both purchases and sales of securities for client accounts by participating in such transactions for its own account;
- The firm's clearance and settlement capabilities; and
- Other factors relevant to the selection of a broker-dealer for the execution of client securities transactions.

The cost of brokerage commissions for any trades placed by a Discretionary Manager and executed by an Unaffiliated Investment Firm, except for those in foreign ordinary and ADR securities, will be deducted from the Style Manager Expense that would otherwise be paid to the Discretionary Manager. However, for some Discretionary Managers, the Style Manager Expense will be higher than that for other Style Managers with the same or similar Strategies, and, as a result, you will indirectly bear the cost of trades executed with Unaffiliated Investment Firms. Since you will pay the same Style Manager Expense regardless of whether or not a Discretionary Manager trades for your Account through an Unaffiliated Investment Firm, this may create a material conflict of interest, or the appearance of a material conflict of interest, between the Discretionary Manager and you.

You, rather than us or the Discretionary Manager, will bear the cost of markups or markdowns that are not covered by the Program Fees and that are payable to Unaffiliated Investment Firms (including on fixed-income or over-the-counter transactions in which MLPF&S and its Affiliates act as agent).

The Discretionary Managers that have the authority (full or limited) to trade through Unaffiliated Investment Firms for a particular Style Manager Strategy are identified on the Style Manager Expense Rate Supplement. Certain Discretionary Managers have historically executed all or a portion of their trades through Unaffiliated Investment Firms, such trades commonly referred to as "step outs". Frequently, these trades have been for fixed-income, foreign or small cap securities or strategies. The Discretionary Managers that we have identified as trading through Unaffiliated Investment Firms are designated in the document entitled "Style Manager Strategy Step Out Information Document" available at <http://www.ml.com/SMA> and from your Advisor upon request. The Discretionary Managers identified include those Discretionary Managers that have regularly traded through Unaffiliated Investment Firms and those Discretionary Managers that have traded with Unaffiliated Investment Firms on a limited basis. This information is based solely on the historical information that has been provided by the Discretionary Managers. We do not make any representation regarding the future trading practices of any particular full or limited Discretionary Manager for a Style Manager Strategy. Please review the full or limited Discretionary Manager's Form ADV, Part 2A brochure, which contains more detailed information about the Style Manager's brokerage practices before selecting a Style Manager Strategy with a full or limited Discretionary Manager.

In effecting transactions for your assets in the Program, we or our Affiliates will be acting exclusively as a broker-dealer. We or a Discretionary Manager may, but are not required to, aggregate orders for the sale or purchase of securities for your Strategies with orders for the same security for our other clients, proprietary accounts or the accounts of our employees (including your Advisor) and/or related persons, without your prior authorization. In such cases, each account in the aggregated transaction will be charged or credited with the average price and, when applicable, its pro-rata share of any fees. To the extent Style Managers provide similar investment recommendations for a particular Strategy or Strategies to MAA for implementation, MAA's ability to implement those recommendations may be affected by the liquidity of the security, market volatility, and any price limits that may be imposed by the Style Managers. This may in turn have a negative impact on the performance of a Strategy.

For Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion, your Advisor will enter trade orders promptly upon your instruction. In implementing your instructions, we have discretion as to the price or time at which we can execute an order for a transaction, as long as the transaction is exercised the same day the order is given and is consistent with our duty to seek best execution. If we believe that it may be appropriate to execute an order later than on the same day we receive the order, we will ask for your written authorization to do so.

We may, but are not required to, exercise time and price discretion to aggregate orders for the sale or purchase of securities for your Defined and Personalized Strategy (including Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion) with orders for the same security for our other clients, our own accounts, or the accounts of Affiliates or employees (including your Advisor). Generally, each account in an aggregated transaction will be charged or credited with the average price per share or unit, and when applicable, a pro-rata share of any fees.

Advisors have broad discretion to trade Accounts participating in Defined Strategies and there can be no assurance that an Advisor will purchase or sell the same securities for all such Accounts at the same time, or that the Advisor will aggregate your orders with those of other clients and charge an average price per share or unit and, when applicable, a pro-rata share of any fees. As a result, you may receive different prices and executions for the same securities as compared to other clients investing in accordance with the same Defined Strategy. In addition, although we monitor performance dispersion and other characteristics of Accounts participating in Defined Strategies, investment opportunities will not necessarily be allocated among participating Accounts on a fair and equitable basis.

For foreign ordinary security transactions, when we execute outside the United States we may use the services of foreign Unaffiliated Investment Firms. These foreign Unaffiliated Investment Firms may handle your order as agent and assess a commission charge, or they may transact as principal and receive a dealer spread or markup/down. Additionally, to the extent a foreign currency conversion transaction is required to facilitate trade settlement, the foreign Unaffiliated Investment Firm (or its Affiliate) effecting the currency conversion will be remunerated in the form of a dealer spread or markup/down. Although the remuneration received by the foreign Unaffiliated Investment Firm is not disclosed to or by us in net price transactions, we will undertake, at your written request, to determine or ascertain from the counterparty this remuneration in a given transaction for your Strategy. The commission charges and/or dealer spreads of foreign Unaffiliated Investment Firms may also accrue when foreign issuers terminate an ADR facility, thereby necessitating conversion of ADRs to foreign ordinary share form. In such circumstances, the prices obtained for the post-ADR security may be less beneficial to you than if the ADR remained intact. These commission charges and/or dealer spreads are in addition to the Program Fee.

MLPF&S as broker/dealer and Merrill Lynch Life Agency Inc. ("MLLA") as general agent and insurance broker have entered into selling agreements with unaffiliated insurance companies to offer Annuities. For Annuity transactions, MLPF&S and its subsidiary, licensed insurance agency MLLA, and your Advisor will represent you in connection with your purchase of an Annuity. Your Advisor must be state insurance licensed to offer Annuities.

Your Annuity assets are maintained at the specific insurance company that issued the Annuity (Annuity Issuer). Variable Annuities are publicly registered securities under federal securities law. You must receive a prospectus for the Variable Annuity offering prior to or concurrent with the sale, as with any new registered securities offering. We will not have investment discretion over the Variable Annuity assets in your Account and you authorize your Advisor to implement your investment decisions and process all transactions related to your purchase of any Variable Annuity in the Account. Fixed Indexed Annuities are not securities. These products have a similar document with important information called a statement of understanding. The prospectus and statement of understanding contain details on the product, potential benefits and risks, fees, charges and expenses as well as information about the available investment options and choices. Before buying an Annuity, you should review the prospectus/statement of understanding carefully.

For purchases or sales of Precious Metals under the Precious Metals Program, we will enter into a corresponding agency trade on your behalf with GBI. GBI, in turn, will seek best execution pricing from its network of dealers approved under the Precious Metals Program and will enter into a corresponding principal trade with an approved dealer. GBI will use commercially reasonable efforts to execute its order as soon as reasonably practicable and at best execution pricing. Each purchase or sale of Precious Metals executed by GBI will be subject to a transaction fee of up to 1.00%, which will be paid to GBI. In addition, Precious Metals held at an approved vault by us as agent for your exclusive benefit will be subject to a service fee of up to 1/12 of 0.40% per month. The service fee will be allocated between GBI and Financial Data Services, a Merrill Lynch Affiliate, as compensation for ongoing sub-accounting, reconciliation, transaction and related expenses. Both the transaction and service fees will be in addition to Program Fees charged to your Account.

We seek to effect transactions correctly, promptly and in the best interests of clients. In the event an error occurs in our handling of client transactions, we seek to identify and correct any errors as promptly as possible without disadvantaging you. Depending on the circumstances, corrective actions may include canceling the trade, adjusting an allocation, and/or reimbursing you. In general, in instances where we are responsible for effecting the transaction, we may: (i) reimburse you for any losses directly resulting from trade errors; (ii) credit to you any profits directly resulting from such trade errors that are corrected after the settlement of the transaction; or (iii) retain for ourselves any profits directly resulting from such trade errors that are corrected prior to the settlement of the transaction.

As a broker-dealer, Merrill Lynch is responsible for compliance with federal margin rules. Program Accounts are generally cash Accounts except in limited circumstances for investment strategies where the use of margin is permitted and a client has executed the relevant margin agreement. With a cash Account, there is a risk that your Account could become restricted for 90 days if securities are sold before payment for their purchase has settled, a practice known as "freeriding". Freeriding is prohibited, and could result in an Account being "frozen". This means that while purchases of securities would be permitted, they must be fully paid for on the date of the trade. Imposition of such a freeze could have a negative effect on your ability to attain your investment objectives, and may cause your Account to perform differently than other accounts pursuing similar objectives.

The use of multiple Style Managers presents the risk that transactions recommended or effected by them could inadvertently cause such a freeze. This is because each Style Manager operates independently and is unaware of purchase or sale activity by the other Style Managers. Another factor that can increase the risk of a freeriding violation is changing Style Managers, which may result in the sale of securities held and the purchase of new securities for your Account. Periodic rebalancing of your investments and changes in investment models used in certain investment strategies also can cause an increase in purchases and sales of securities over a short period of time, which will increase the risk of a freeriding violation. Client requests to withdraw cash from an Account also can cause a transaction to violate the freeriding prohibition.

2. Custodial Arrangements.

Generally, MLPF&S or one of our Affiliates will act as the custodian for the assets held in the Program. Your assets will be maintained in one or more central asset accounts established at MLPF&S through the applicable securities account. In the Client Agreement, you agreed to open any necessary securities accounts and execute the applicable MLPF&S securities account agreements. If you already have an existing MLPF&S securities account ("existing account") and instruct us to open a similar type of account for the Program ("new account"), the agreement and related documentation for your existing account will apply to your new account.

In limited circumstances, if we agree, you may use an Unrelated Custodian to maintain custody of assets in the Program. You should understand that, if you choose an Unrelated Custodian, you will be responsible for all related custodial fees and expenses, which will not affect and are in addition to the Program Fee. You will be responsible for ensuring that we, and/or any vendor utilized by us, is provided with daily access to the Unaffiliated Custodian's systems, transaction and account data and other information necessary for us (or our vendor) to provide adequate account supervision, transaction, billing and/or other client reports and/or other necessary services to your Account(s). You understand that as a result of your use of an Unaffiliated Custodian, you may receive more limited Account/Strategy information and/or reporting, including performance reporting, where certain required information cannot be obtained from or is not provided by the Unaffiliated Custodian.

Furthermore, you should understand that the performance reports and/or other reports or statements provided by us for your Portfolios and Strategies will be based on information provided to us by the Unrelated Custodian, which we will use for purposes of calculating the Program Fee, monitoring your Target Asset Allocation and for other purposes. We may rely on the information provided to us by the Unaffiliated Custodian and are not responsible for verifying the accuracy of such information, including but not limited to, the accuracy of detailed account holdings information. We will not be responsible or liable for any losses or errors occurring in the Account, including but not limited to errors in performance reports and/or fees charged to the Account, if caused by, or in any way related to, its reliance on such information and/or the acts or omissions of the Unaffiliated Custodian with respect to the Account. You agree to promptly notify your Advisor about any additions of assets to any account maintained at an Unrelated Custodian and that we will not be responsible or liable for any losses due to your failure to provide such prompt notification.

Any assets held in the Program must be and remain free from any lien, charge or other encumbrance (other than a lien, charge or other encumbrance in favor of us or our Affiliates), unless we agree otherwise. You must notify us in writing prior to effecting loans secured by securities in the Program (including loans by our Affiliates) (commonly referred to as "collateralizing"). We will not provide advice on or oversee any of your collateral arrangements. Unless we otherwise agree, in the event of any conflict between the terms of the Client Agreement and your collateral arrangements, the terms of the Client Agreement will prevail. You must also disclose to any lender the terms of the Client Agreement. No specific securities in your Strategies should be held as collateral to secure your loan. There are adverse effects of collateralizing Strategies, including, but not limited to, the fact that the lending institution may require additional collateral or liquidation of securities to meet a call, as well as the related tax consequences. You must promptly notify us of any default or similar event under your collateral arrangements as defined in the respective collateral arrangements.

Cash and cash alternatives held with Unrelated Custodians will not be subject to the same sweep arrangements as securities accounts held with us (as described below), but will be included in the value of your Account for the calculation of the Program Fees. You should establish appropriate sweep arrangements with the Unrelated Custodian.

Annuity assets purchased for an Account will be maintained at the Annuity Issuer.

Custody of Precious Metals purchased through the Precious Metals Program will be maintained at approved vaults in the name of Merrill Lynch as agent for your exclusive benefit. Based on availability of the requested Precious Metals and the available capacity at the requested approved vault, you may choose to store the Precious Metals held by Merrill Lynch on your behalf in the approved vaults in New York, Salt Lake City, London or Zurich. Although the Precious Metals Program provides for periodic verification procedures by the Precious Metals Program's accounting firm and by Merrill Lynch, Merrill Lynch may not be able to regularly confirm the existence and amount of Precious Metals held under the Precious Metals Program at a given approved vault. Alternatively, you may elect to take physical delivery of Precious Metals purchased under the Precious Metals Program. Doing so, however, involves the possibility of significant additional costs and risks. Please read the Precious Metals Disclosure Statement for additional information regarding the storage and physical delivery of Precious Metals and the associated risks thereof.

Account Preferences and Other Elective Services.

You are able to set certain "Account Preferences" for each of your Accounts in the Program based on the Strategy you selected, including:

- Proxy Voting and other Legal Matters;
- Frequency of Trade Confirmation Statements;
- Electronic Delivery of Certain Materials; and
- Reasonable Investment Restrictions.

You also have the option to participate in certain of our "Elective Services", such as:

- Optional Rebalancing Service; and
- Automatic Contribution and Automatic Withdrawal Services.

You should discuss the availability of these Account Preferences and Elective Services with your Advisor as certain of them are not available in all Strategies. To take advantage of certain of these Account Preferences and Elective Services, you may be asked to complete additional documentation.

1. Proxy Voting and Other Legal Matters.

a. Proxy Voting.

You have the right to vote proxies for securities held in your Account(s) or to select a third-party agent to vote on your behalf. If you grant investment discretion and trading authority to either us or a Discretionary Manager, you may delegate proxy voting authority for all securities that are not Specified Investments directly to a proxy voting service provider we have engaged and made available to you ("Proxy Delegation Vendor"). You may not delegate to us, and we do not assume, proxy voting authority from you for securities except with respect to Specified Investments as described below.

You will provide to us your initial instruction regarding proxy voting in Your Account Preferences Page to your Client Agreement. You may have a different election for each of your Accounts. Each election will apply to the Account specified unless the proxy voting option you elect is no longer available, or until you make a different election. For each Account, your proxy voting election will be reflected in your Portfolio Summary, which is a periodic communication to you that contains important information about your Portfolios, Accounts and Strategies.

As indicated in the Client Agreement, for all account enrollments unless you notify us in writing, you have instructed us as follows: (1) for Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Accounts, you will retain proxy voting authority; (2) for all other Strategies, you delegate voting discretion to the Proxy Delegation Vendor, Institutional Shareholder Services, Inc.

("ISS") or a successor proxy voting service, voting under the Proxy Delegation Vendor's voting policies and guidelines, or to us for Specified Investments, all as described below.

If you elect the Proxy Delegation Vendor and subsequently change your Account to a Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion, your delegation will become invalid and you will be deemed to have changed your delegation to retain proxy voting authority for your Account. This is because the Proxy Delegation Vendor option is not available for Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion.

When you elect the Proxy Delegation Vendor, you delegate proxy voting authority directly to the Proxy Delegation Vendor with respect to all securities that are not Specified Investments, including shares of Funds, held in your Account.

If we replace the current Proxy Delegation Vendor with another Proxy Delegation Vendor, we will provide you with notice of the change. MAA or MLPF&S, as applicable, will vote proxies and receive other issuer-related material for Specified Investments – securities held in your Account for which the Proxy Delegation Vendor is unable to vote, with certain exceptions as noted below.

For proxies neither covered by the Proxy Delegation Vendor nor included as Specified Investments, you will retain the right to vote those proxies.

When you retain proxy voting authority:

- We will promptly send you proxy ballots and related shareholder communications that we receive, as well as any other information intended for distribution to you.
- You are responsible for taking any actions.
- If your Account is an ERISA Plan, you represent that plan documents and applicable law authorize voting authority to be reserved to the trustee(s) either in the discretion of the trustee(s) or pursuant to the discretion of a named fiduciary.
- If we are the custodian of your Account, and we do not receive voting instructions from you or your delegate, we will comply with the rules of the SEC and applicable self-regulatory organizations relating to such matters, as required by law.

Unless you and we agree otherwise, you must retain the right to vote proxies for:

- Any securities held in an Account at an Unrelated Custodian; and
- A Retirement Account subject to ERISA where you wish to apply proxy voting objectives in addition to ERISA standards.

In the event a security that is a Specified Investment becomes covered by the Proxy Delegation Vendor's proxy voting services, then MAA's and MLPF&S's authority (as applicable) to vote proxies for that security terminates, and the authority to vote proxies for that security will extend to the Proxy Delegation Vendor. In the event a conflict arises with a Specified Investment and MAA or MLPF&S is not able to render a vote, then MAA or MLPF&S's authority to vote proxies for that investment will terminate and voting authority will revert to you. In that event, we will use our best efforts to send to you all issuer-related materials for such security held in your Account. In instances where we have determined it is not possible given timing or other circumstances, the proxies of such securities will not be voted. Delivery of those issuer-related materials to you will constitute notice that proxy voting authority with respect to a security has reverted to you.

Generally, none of MAA, MLPF&S or ISS or a successor Proxy Delegation Vendor, as the case may be, will vote in the following circumstances:

- The proxy or other relevant materials are not received a sufficient time in advance to allow an appropriate analysis or to allow a vote to be cast by the voting deadline;
- MAA, MLPF&S or ISS or a successor proxy voting service, as the case may be, concludes that the cost of voting the proxy will exceed the potential benefit to you;
- In respect of foreign ordinary securities if voting may cause the sale of the security to be prohibited under foreign law for a period of time, usually the time between the record and meeting dates; or
- Any Specified Investments held in your Account in any instance where MAA or MLPF&S is unable to obtain supplemental information that it deems necessary to make an informed decision regarding the manner in which to vote.

You may choose to rescind the proxy voting authority that you granted to the Proxy Delegation Vendor and MAA or MLPF&S, as applicable, by contacting your Advisor.

If you direct the Proxy Delegation Vendor, and as applicable to Specified Investments, Merrill Lynch and/or MAA, to vote proxies, each will exercise the applicable voting authority in its sole discretion in accordance with its respective proxy voting policies and procedures without any reservation of authority by you to direct voting with respect to a specific proxy. The applicable policies and procedures are available on the Proxy Website. MAA's and MLPF&S's proxy voting policies and procedures are also summarized below.

b. Summary of Proxy Voting Policies.

MAA and MLPF&S Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures. MAA and MLPF&S each has written policies and procedures for the voting of securities in accounts where it has proxy voting responsibility. These policies and procedures are designed to ensure that proxy voting decisions are made in the best interests of our clients. In exercising proxy voting delegation for Specified Investments, MAA and MLPF&S will seek to act in a manner that we believe is most likely to enhance the economic value of the underlying securities held in client Accounts.

Given the complexity of the issues that are raised in connection with proxy votes, MAA and MLPF&S have each established a proxy voting committee to address proxy voting issues on behalf of clients that have delegated proxy voting authority to it. Each proxy voting committee:

- Determines how to vote proxies and seeks to ensure that all votes are consistent with the best interests of clients and are free from unwarranted or inappropriate influences;
- Has established general proxy voting guidelines and is responsible for determining how those guidelines are applied to specific proxy votes in light of each issuer's unique structure, management, strategic options and, in certain circumstances, the probable economic and other anticipated consequences of alternate actions; and
- May determine that the specific circumstances of each Account require that the Account's proxies be voted differently.

To assist in voting proxies, MAA and MLPF&S have retained ISS for vote execution and recordkeeping.

The proxy voting guidelines represent each proxy voting committee's usual voting position on certain recurring proxy issues that are not expected to involve unusual circumstances. These issues include proposals related to:

- The composition of an issuer's board of directors;
- The selection of an issuer's auditors;
- Management compensation and employee benefits;
- Requests for approval of amendments that would alter an issuer's capital structure;

- Requests for approval of amendments to an issuer's charter or by-laws;
- Requests regarding the formalities of corporate meetings; and
- Limiting corporate conduct in some manner that relates to the shareholder's environmental or social concerns.

The respective proxy voting committee may elect to vote a particular proxy in a manner contrary to its generally stated guidelines if the committee determines that doing so is, in the committee's judgment, in the best interest of MAA's or MLPF&S's clients, as applicable.

Each of MAA and MLPF&S has adopted specific proxy voting procedures to address potential conflicts of interest, such as when proxies relate to an Affiliate of MAA or MLPF&S or to money management or other clients of MAA or MLPF&S. When a potential conflict is identified, the proxy voting procedures require that the respective proxy voting committee document and consider all relevant facts and circumstances, including the nature of the conflict and the expected economic significance to clients of the items subject to vote. After consideration of such facts and circumstances, the respective proxy voting committee may choose to manage the potential conflict by:

- Determining that the potential conflict does not apply to MAA or MLPF&S, as applicable, and proceeding to vote according to its proxy voting guidelines;
- Retaining an independent fiduciary to advise the respective proxy voting committee on how to vote;
- Passing the vote to a subcommittee solely consisting of members appointed by the chair of the respective proxy voting committee;
- Making a best efforts attempt to revert proxy voting authority to the client; or
- Not voting in instances where the committee determines that reversion of proxy voting authority and delivery of issuer-related material to the client is not possible due to timing or other circumstances.

A copy of each of MAA's and MLPF&S's proxy voting policies and procedures is available upon request. If you would like a copy, or if you would like information about how MAA or MLPF&S voted securities held in your Account, please refer to the Proxy Website or contact your Advisor.

ISS Voting Policies and Proxy Voting Guidelines (ISS Voting Policies) and Other Matters. ISS will vote proxies in accordance with the ISS Voting Policies-Benchmark Policy Recommendations unless you elect another available ISS Voting Policy. ISS Voting Policies are updated annually by ISS and are available via the Proxy Website or upon request. ISS represents to us that the ISS Voting Policies are consistent with ERISA standards.

ISS has significant relationships with companies on which ISS also furnishes proxy voting advice to its clients who are shareholders of those companies. Information relating to ISS' significant relationships with companies whose securities are held in your Account is available by contacting us at dg.msg-proxy@ml.com. Additional information about ISS is available on ISS' website at www.issgovernance.com (currently under "Compliance" then "Due Diligence") or by contacting us at dg.msg-proxy@ml.com. ISS' ADV 2A firm brochure is also available at the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

On May 23, 2013, ISS consented to the entry of an administrative order issued by the SEC (the "SEC Order") on matters relating to policies and procedures to prevent the misuse of material, nonpublic proxy voting information of ISS' shareholder advisory clients. A copy of the SEC Order is available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. In the SEC Order, ISS was censured and ordered: (1) to pay a civil money penalty in the amount of $300,000; (2) to cease and desist from committing or causing any violations and any future violations of Section 204(A) of the Advisers Act; and (3) to comply with the undertakings enumerated in the SEC Order.

These ISS undertakings in the SEC Order were, among other things: (1) to retain, at ISS' expense, an independent consultant not unacceptable to the SEC staff (the "Consultant") to conduct a comprehensive review of ISS' supervisory and compliance policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that its proxy voting services business complies with the Advisers Act in connection with the treatment of confidential information, communications with proxy solicitors and gifts and entertainment; (2) to require the Consultant to submit a report that includes recommendations for any changes in or improvements to ISS' supervisory and compliance policies and procedures (the "Report"); and (3) to adopt and implement all recommendations included in the Report. In determining to accept ISS' settlement offer, the SEC considered remedial acts promptly undertaken by ISS and cooperation afforded the SEC staff.

In connection with the SEC Order against ISS, Merrill Lynch conducted supplemental reviews of ISS and its policies and procedures and presented the results of such reviews to the Proxy Committees of MLPF&S and MAA. Based upon these reviews and Merrill Lynch's monitoring and evaluation of ISS, the Proxy Committees of MLPF&S and MAA determined to continue to make ISS available as the proxy voting service provider in the Program and other relevant Merrill Lynch programs for those clients who have elected, and who will elect, the delegation of their proxy voting authority to ISS.

c. Other Legal Matters.

We will not advise or act for you with respect to any legal matters (other than proxy voting as described above) for securities held in your Account, including bankruptcies or class actions, and we will use our best efforts to send you any documents received with respect to such matters. You may enroll in the Merrill Lynch Class Action Settlement Service, which is a separate administrative service and not part of the services provided in or fees of the Program. For more information on this additional service, contact your Advisor.

2. Frequency of Trade Confirmation Statements.

You will receive trade-by-trade confirmation for transactions in your Accounts; however, you may elect to receive transaction information on a periodic basis, which will be no less than quarterly, except for (i) Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Accounts, (ii) for certain Custom Managed Strategy Accounts and (iii) for Accounts where the assets are held by an Unrelated Custodian where you can only receive trade-by-trade confirmation for transactions. Your initial instruction in the Account Preferences section in your Client Agreement regarding receipt of trade-by-trade confirmations will apply to your applicable Accounts until such instruction is changed. Your election regarding receipt of trade confirmation statements will be reflected in your Portfolio Summary.

If you elect to receive trade information on a periodic basis, you understand the following:

- We will send copies of trade-by-trade confirmation information to your Discretionary Manager or Advisor;
- You will not pay a different fee if you elect to receive periodic confirmation statements;
- You can rescind this instruction in writing at any time;
- Electing periodic confirmations is not a condition for entering into or continuing to participate in a Strategy or the Program;
- You may request to receive, at no additional cost, trade-by-trade confirmations for transactions effected for your Account for up to one year after we send the last periodic statement reflecting those transactions; and
- You may receive interim updates and further details concerning any transaction effected between periodic statements either online (if you're enrolled) or by calling your Advisor.

3. Electronic Delivery of Certain Materials.

You may request and provide us with your consent to electronic delivery of Program materials by accessing an internet website designated by us. When you consent, you will generally authorize us to deliver all disclosures and notices related to the Program to you electronically. Electronic delivery may not be available for all Program related communications, in which case, we will send paper copies to you. Regardless of whether you provide us the foregoing consent, unless you indicate otherwise on Your Account Preferences Page, you agree to electronic delivery of applicable disclosure documents and brochures for any Style Managers in the Program through CD-ROM (to be viewed on a computer), USB memory stick or other digital media format.

4. Reasonable Investment Restrictions.

You may impose "Reasonable Investment Restrictions" on the management of your Program assets. Your initial instruction to your Advisor regarding investment restrictions, if accepted by us, will be reflected in your Portfolio Summary and will apply to your applicable Accounts until such instruction is changed or withdrawn. You may request to have different investment restrictions applicable to each of your Accounts.

Based on the Strategy you select, different parties will be primarily responsible for determining whether an investment restriction is reasonable and, if deemed reasonable, how to allocate the assets that would have been invested in the restricted security(ies). Even if one of the parties below deems an investment restriction to be reasonable, we reserve the right to deem it to be unreasonable.

STRATEGY	RESPONSIBLE PARTY
Managed Strategies	MAA
Custom Managed Strategies	MAA
Personalized Strategies	Your Advisor
Defined Strategies	Your Advisor*

* If you request that your Defined Strategy be managed by an Advisor other than your Advisor, such designated Advisor will also be responsible for managing your Strategy in accordance with your investment restrictions.

If an investment restriction is reasonable, the responsible party will allocate the assets that would have been invested in the security(ies) impacted by the investment restriction: (1) pro-rata across other investments held in the Portfolio or Strategy; (2) to one or more substitute securities, which might include ETFs; or (3) to cash.

If one or more investment restrictions are determined to be unreasonable, the Account may not be enrolled and you should consider other more appropriate Strategies in the Program, or other more appropriate products or services. We reserve the right to modify our practices regarding investment restrictions in our sole discretion at any time without notice.

If you elect to restrict investments, you accept any effect such restrictions may have on the investment performance and diversification of the Strategy or your Portfolio. The performance of Accounts with Reasonable Investment Restrictions will differ from and may be lower than the performance of Accounts without such restrictions. In addition, investment restrictions or any other limitations provided by you will not apply to the securities held in the portfolio of any Fund in which your Strategy may be invested; consequently, your ability to restrict investments in a Strategy holding Funds will be limited.

5. Optional Rebalancing Service; Automatic Contribution and Withdrawal Services.

If you want to schedule automatic rebalancing, contributions to or withdrawals from your Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Account, you may enroll in the Optional Rebalancing Service or the Automatic Contribution and/or Withdrawal Service by completing the applicable Letter of Authorization. Once completed, signed and submitted to your Advisor, the Letter of Authorization supplements your Client Agreement and enrolls you in the Optional Rebalancing Service and the Automatic Contribution and/or Withdrawal Service at no additional cost.

By executing the Letter of Authorization, you authorize us to effect such scheduled securities transactions (each, an "Automatic Transaction") on an ongoing basis without making any additional contact with you. Your instructions will continue in effect until the expiration date is reached (if applicable) or you change or cancel your instructions, or your Account is terminated. You can change or cancel instructions at any time. If you decide to cancel the instructions, you may keep any or all of the Eligible Assets in your Account or sell part or all of them.

Only certain types of assets (which may not include all of the assets in your Account) are eligible for these Services. Eligible Assets consist of certain equity securities available in the Program, including the securities of certain Funds (excluding Alternative Investment Funds), and cash and cash alternatives ("Eligible Assets"). Foreign ordinary shares, securities rated "Underperform" by BofAML Global Research, other securities that are "Restricted" by us, and Precious Metals in the Precious Metals Program are currently not Eligible Assets. While Annuities are not Eligible Assets for these Optional Services, similar services may be available directly from the Annuity Issuer. See your Annuity contract and prospectus/statement of understanding for more complete details on available services.

We may, from time to time, change which securities are considered Eligible Assets with respect to these Optional Services.

You will be responsible for designating which of the Eligible Assets held in your Account you want to participate in these Optional Services, as well as setting the individual target allocation percentage for each Eligible Asset. You may also set a range above and below the target allocation percentage for each Eligible Asset within which any Automatic Transaction(s) will not be effected. For both the Optional Rebalancing Service and the Automatic Contribution and Withdrawal Service, your designations will be recorded on Schedule A to the applicable Letter of Authorization.

If you want to add to, delete or otherwise change your Eligible Assets or target allocation percentage designations, you must confirm these changes with your Advisor.

You will also designate the frequency at which the Automatic Transactions will be performed in your Account (i.e. quarterly, semi-annually or annually, as applicable). For new enrollments, the initial rebalance will be performed either on the first scheduled rebalance date after the enrollment of your Account into the Program and the related Letter of Authorization are approved or on the initial trade date agreed to between you and your Advisor (whichever is later). For existing Accounts previously enrolled in the Program, you and your Advisor will determine the initial rebalance date. The initial transactions executed in connection with an automatic contribution or withdrawal will take place on the initial trade date as determined by you and your Advisor.

If the selected trade date falls on a non-business day, the Automatic Transactions will take place on the next business day.

You can deposit, transfer or contribute additional Eligible Assets to your Account at any time. These securities may or may not be included in the next scheduled Automatic Transaction. The addition of Eligible Assets, where such assets are already part of your Schedule A, will be included in the next Automatic Transaction. The addition of Eligible Assets from your Account that are not already part of your Schedule A will not be included in the next Automatic Transaction or any Automatic Transaction thereafter until a new Schedule A is issued with respect to such assets.

Additional cash deposited into an Account can be invested at any time as you instruct. Like additional Eligible Assets, additional cash may or may not be automatically invested upon the next scheduled rebalance date or automatic contribution date. Cash in an Account will be automatically invested in Eligible Assets upon the next rebalance date, and cash added to an Account through automatic contributions will be invested in Eligible Assets on the next automatic contribution date, provided that you have designated a target allocation percentage within your Schedule A for cash in your Account and the cash position exceeds that target allocation percentage within your Schedule A. Cash that does not have a target allocation is invested only if you specifically instruct your Advisor to invest the cash and you provide the Advisor with instructions on how you want that cash invested.

Under applicable regulations, we will report any trades executed in connection with the Optional Rebalancing Service or the Automatic Contribution and Automatic Withdrawal Service to you in your monthly account statement for the month during which the transactions occurred.

For Accounts enrolled in both the Optional Rebalancing Service and the Automatic Contribution and Automatic Withdrawal Service, if the Automatic Transactions are set to occur on the same date, the rebalancing transactions will take place on the next business day after the automatic contribution or withdrawal transactions are effected.

Your scheduled Automatic Transactions for a particular trade date can be canceled by us as a result of changes in, or the availability (or lack thereof) of, one or more of the Eligible Assets, specific circumstances in your Account, or for other operational, technical or administrative reasons. Examples of situations where Automatic Transactions for your Account may not occur include, among other things:

- One or more securities listed as Eligible Assets in your Account are rated “Underperform” by BofAML Global Research or become designated as “Restricted” by us;
- Corporate actions (e.g., merger, fund closure, liquidation) relating to a security;
- If you selected a price range for one or more securities and all securities are within the range;
- A transaction that would result in a purchase below $100 for a full rebalance or $10 for a cash rebalance; or
- When an Account is reduced to cash and you have provided no target allocation percentage for cash.

If we cancel your scheduled Automatic Transactions, your Advisor will notify you of the reason(s) for the cancellation so that you may verbally provide us with instructions to execute the scheduled transactions. Where Automatic Transactions are cancelled by us, future scheduled Automatic Transactions will resume after the cancelled trade date at the frequency you previously authorized.

Neither we nor our Affiliates, employees, or agents will be liable for any loss or expense that may result from your use of the Optional Rebalancing Service or the Automatic Contribution and/or Withdrawal Service. Each time Eligible Assets are sold (whether in connection with an Optional Service or otherwise), there may be current tax consequences. Neither we nor our Advisors provide tax, accounting or legal advice. You should review any planned financial transactions or arrangements with your professional advisors for these matters.

a. Optional Rebalancing.

If you elect to participate in our Optional Rebalancing Service, each scheduled rebalancing generally will take the form of a Full Rebalance. A “Full Rebalance” will execute trades (purchases or exchange-purchases and sales or exchange-sales) designed to bring the Eligible Assets in your Account as close as possible back to your target allocation percentages consistent with the methodology described herein. A Full Rebalance can potentially trade every position in your Account if all such positions consist of Eligible Assets. The rebalancing system will first execute sales and then purchases. The rebalancing system will enter purchases for 1% below the calculated amount to avoid purchasing more than the amount sold.

Additional cash deposited into an Account can be invested at any time, as instructed by you, and will take the form of a one-time “Cash Rebalance”. A Cash Rebalance will use cash in an Account and purchase shares of the Eligible Asset that is the most underweight relative to its target allocation percentage. When that Eligible Asset is brought back to its target allocation percentage, the Eligible Asset next furthest below its target allocation percentage will be purchased, and so on, until the cash is brought into its target allocation percentage. A Cash Rebalance may or may not bring all Eligible Assets to their target allocation percentages because Eligible Assets that are overweight in the Account, if any, will not be sold.

b. Automatic Contribution.

Automatic contribution amounts will be used to purchase Eligible Assets in your Account. We will first purchase shares of the Eligible Asset that is the most underweight relative to its target allocation percentage. If that security is brought back to its target allocation percentage, without using the entire contribution amount, the security next furthest below its target allocation percentage will be purchased, and so on, until the contributed amount is fully utilized. An automatic contribution may or may not bring all underweight Eligible Assets to their target allocation percentages. If all underweight Eligible Assets are brought to their target allocations, any additional security transactions needed to fully utilize the contributed amount will be effected on a pro-rata basis using the target allocation percentages you have elected. Trades will not be executed unless sufficient cash is held in your Account as of the scheduled trade date.

c. Automatic Withdrawal.

Automatic withdrawal amounts will be generated through the sale of Eligible Assets in your Account. To generate the specified withdrawal amount, we will sell shares of the Eligible Asset that is the most overweight relative to its target allocation percentage. If that security is brought back to its target allocation percentage, without generating the specified withdrawal amount, the security next furthest above its target allocation percentage will be sold, and so on, until the amount of the specified withdrawal is achieved. An Automatic Withdrawal may or may not bring all overweight Eligible Assets to their target allocation percentages. If all overweight Eligible Assets are brought to their target allocations, any additional security transactions needed to fulfill the specified amount will be effected on a pro-rata basis, using the target allocation percentages you have elected. Cash generated by trades executed in connection with automatic withdrawals will remain in your Account until you provide instructions to withdraw the cash from the Account.

Program Fees

For the Services provided in the Program, you will pay to us an annual asset-based fee (“Program Fee”) based on the rates set forth in the fee schedule below (“Program Fee Rate”), which will be payable monthly in advance. Please see the section “Other Fees and Expenses” for a list of other fees and expenses that you may be charged and that are not included in the Program Fee.

The Program Fee Rates applicable to each of your Account(s) will be set forth in the fee schedule section of your initial Portfolio Summary provided to you upon enrollment. Please review the Portfolio Summary carefully to confirm that the Program Fee Rates provided are consistent with the rates you agreed with your Advisor. You will receive an updated Portfolio Summary each time you and your Advisor agree to a change to your Program Fee Rate(s). Upon your request, and at no charge, we will provide to you additional detailed information regarding your Program Fees. Please contact your Advisor if you would like to receive this more detailed Program Fee information.

1. Program Fee Rate.

The Program Fee Rate is a combination of (i) the fee rate for our Services, referred to as the “Merrill Lynch Fee Rate” and, if applicable, (ii) the expense rate for the Style Manager’s services with respect to each Style Manager Strategy in your Account, referred to as the “Style Manager Expense Rate”. Each of your Accounts may be subject to a different Program Fee Rate, and your Program Fee will be calculated separately for each Account.

For participating Trust Management Accounts (“TMA”) (i.e., accounts over which U.S. Trust has investment discretion), please refer to your U.S. Trust Agency Agreement (or a similar agreement), as applicable, and/or TMA Brochure and Fee Schedule in addition to the Brochure for information relating to fees and expenses and other matters regarding your TMA account.

a. Merrill Lynch Fee Rate.

In the Client Agreement you agree to pay the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate set forth in the Program Fee Schedule below. Notwithstanding the foregoing, you and your Advisor may agree to a Merrill Lynch Fee Rate that is less than the maximum rate. The extent to which we may agree on a fee rate that is less than the maximum Merrill Lynch Fee Rate is solely within your Advisor’s and our discretion.

The Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to your Account is generally based on the value of the assets in your Account.

Subject to our sole discretion, we may consider, in addition to the assets in your Account, certain assets and liabilities at Merrill Lynch held by you or others in determining the applicable Merrill Lynch Fee Rate from month to month. Our consideration of these other assets may result in a Merrill Lynch Fee Rate that is lower than the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate that would have been applicable to your Account if only the value of the assets in your Account were used to determine your Merrill Lynch Fee Rate. If such other assets and liabilities are considered, the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to your Account may vary from month to month based on the fluctuations in the value of these other assets and liabilities. At any time we may decide to no longer consider those other Merrill Lynch assets and liabilities in determining your Merrill Lynch Fee Rate. In no case will the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to your Account be higher than the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate you agreed to with your Advisor (set forth in your Portfolio Summary) as determined based solely on the value of the assets in your Account.

b. Style Manager Expense Rate.

The Style Manager Expense Rate applicable to your Account will vary depending on the Style Manager Strategy selected. Please see the “Style Manager Expense Rate Supplement” to this Brochure for more information on each Style Manager’s Expense Rate.

THE PROGRAM FEE* SCHEDULE IS AS FOLLOWS:

ACCOUNT VALUE	MAXIMUM MERRILL LYNCH FEE RATE
Less than $5 million	2.20%
$5 million+	2.00%

IAPB-103017

* You will also be charged a Style Manager Expense Rate, if applicable. The applicable Style Manager Expense Rate currently ranges from 0.14% to 0.65% or as otherwise indicated on the applicable Profile. In certain cases, the Style Manager Expense Rate may have a fee rate above 0.65%; you will be provided with prior notice regarding such fee. (See the Style Manager Expense Rate Supplement to this Brochure.)

2. Calculation of Fees.

The Program Fee is calculated monthly as follows:

For each calendar month, the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate that will be applied to your Account will be one twelfth of the annual Merrill Lynch Fee Rate.

The Style Manager Expense Rate that will be applied to your Account will be one twelfth of the annual Style Manager Expense Rate applied to the assets invested with the Style Manager(s) Strategy. If the Strategy you have selected includes a combination of Style Manager Strategies, the relevant Style Manager Expense Rates will be applied to the value of your assets invested with the respective Style Manager Strategies. In the event that your actual asset allocation is not available, the strategy allocation of the Style Manager (instead of your actual allocation) will be used to calculate the Style Manager Expense component of the Program Fee.

In calculating the market value of the assets in your Account, as described below, Merrill Lynch will use a variety of pricing sources. These pricing sources include affiliates of Merrill Lynch.

a. Initial Program Fee.

When you enroll a new Account in the Program, an initial Program Fee will be assessed during the week following the date on which you have contributed the required minimum level of assets to the Account for the Strategy selected by you.

- The initial Merrill Lynch Fee will be calculated and paid to Merrill Lynch based on: (i) the market value of the assets in your Account as of the earlier to occur of the last business day of the week or the last business day of the month following required funding; and (ii) one twelfth of the annual Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to such market value, and prorated based on the number of days remaining in the month from the date of required funding; and
- The initial Style Manager Expense will be calculated based on: (i) the market value of your assets invested with each Style Manager or Strategy as of the earlier to occur of the last business day of the week or the last business day of the month following required funding; and (ii) one twelfth of the annual Style Manager Expense Rate applicable to such market value, and prorated based on the number of days remaining in the month from the date of required funding.

b. Monthly Program Fee.

The Program Fee is typically charged to your Account during the first week of the current calendar month; and

- The Merrill Lynch Fee will be calculated and paid to Merrill Lynch based on: (i) the market value of the assets in your Account as of the last business day of the previous calendar month; and (ii) one twelfth of the annual Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to such market value; and
- Except as noted above, the Style Manager Expense will be calculated based on: (i) the market value of your assets invested with each Style Manager Strategy as of the last business day of the previous calendar month; and (ii) one twelfth of the annual Style Manager Strategy Expense Rate applicable to such market value.

Except as described below, the following changes to your Account that may occur during the month will not change the Program Fees calculated for the month but will be applied in determining the next month’s Program Fee. These include but are not limited to:

- Changes in the value of your Program Account(s);

- Fluctuations in the value of your assets and liabilities at Merrill Lynch that we, in our discretion, have decided to consider or to no longer consider;
- Changes in the Strategies or Style Managers selected or your allocations among them; and
- Changes in rates you may negotiate with Merrill Lynch.

c. Termination of Account(s).

If you or we terminate your Account we will refund to you a pro-rata portion of the Program Fee based on the number of calendar days remaining in the month. The refund, if any, will be applied to your Account typically during the week following Account termination. See the section “Closing an Account and/or Terminating the Client Agreement” for further information.

d. Certain Strategy Changes.

If you make the following Strategy changes, the calculation of the Program Fees for the old Strategy and the new Strategy will be subject to the “Termination of Account(s)” and “Initial Program Fee” provisions, respectively, in the “Calculation of Fees” section above for the month during which the move occurs:

- Managed or Custom Managed Strategies to Personalized or Defined Strategies;
- Defined Strategies or Personalized Strategies with Advisor Discretion to any other Strategy; and
- Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion to any other Strategy.

3. Fee Deferred Assets and Excluded Assets.

You will be charged the Program Fee on all assets in your Account, including cash, except those on which the Program Fee is deferred (“Fee Deferred Assets”) or that are excluded from the Program Fee (“Excluded Assets”). Fee Deferred Assets include, but are not limited to, certain equity and fixed-income securities sold in new-issue offerings for which an underwriting concession or other sales commission is paid to the Advisor under the terms of the new-issue offering.

The Program Fee does not apply to Fee Deferred Assets until one year after the Fee Deferred Asset was purchased in the Program. The Program Fee does not apply to Excluded Assets or certain investments designated by Merrill Lynch from time to time. Merrill Lynch reserves the right to designate assets as Fee Deferred or Excluded and to re-designate Fee Deferred or Excluded Asset as a Fee Covered Asset without notice to you.

It is important to note that any asset other than an Excluded Asset purchased, either outside of an Account and later transferred into an Account, or in a securities brokerage account which is later enrolled in the Program, will be subject to the Program Fee immediately upon such transfer or the enrollment of the account in the Program. This includes assets that would otherwise have been Fee Deferred had they been purchased in an Account enrolled in the Program. Therefore, you may pay an up-front commission or transaction charge (when the security was purchased outside of your Account or prior to enrolling your account in the Program) as well as the Program Fee once the asset is held in an Account enrolled in the Program.

You should assess your own trading patterns, objectives and intention to utilize the Services under the Program to determine whether purchases and sales of Fee Deferred Assets should be effected in your Account where the Program Fee will apply after one year or in a brokerage account where you will pay commissions.

Commissions or other transaction-based compensation will apply to purchases and sales of Excluded Assets and Fee Deferred Assets. Generally, the Program Fee does not apply to Excluded Assets and Fee Deferred Assets as stated above and we receive sales-related or other fees, including ongoing fees, in connection with such assets. This compensation may be more than the Program Fee that would have been charged had the Excluded Asset or Fee Deferred Asset been subject to the Program Fee.

AI Advisory Units of certain Alternative Investment Funds, as well as Precious Metals purchased and sold under the Precious Metals Program are subject to the Program Fee. Your ability to purchase AI Advisory Units and/or Precious Metals is subject to certain suitability and eligibility requirements. Not all AI Advisory Units will be available to all types of Retirement Accounts. Non-U.S. resident clients currently are not permitted to invest in AI Advisory Units. We may, in our discretion, expand the offering of AI Advisory Units to include additional types of clients in the future.

Please note that consistent with regulation and the terms of the Client Agreement, we will not be an investment adviser or a fiduciary with respect to any Excluded Asset.

Merrill Lynch may determine that Excluded Assets should be removed from the Account and moved to another account, including a Merrill Lynch brokerage account. In certain situations, with prior notice, we may require that such identified assets be moved from an Account in the Program to a brokerage account. The request to take such action may be in respect of certain of your Accounts in the Program and not others. Failure to comply with the request to transfer such assets to the brokerage account may result in the termination of the Account with such asset from the Program. This is in addition to our rights to terminate Accounts from the Program as set forth in this Brochure.

4. Deduction of Program Fees From Your Account.

You have agreed in the Client Agreement as follows:

- Unless otherwise agreed to between you and MLPF&S, the Program Fee (and any other fees payable under the Client Agreement) will be deducted directly from your Account. You may be able to pay the Program Fee from assets held outside of your Program Account. You should contact your Advisor for additional information;
- MLPF&S is authorized to deduct the Program Fee (and any other fees payable) from the assets held in your Account, to the extent permitted by law, if full payment of such fees has not been timely received or, if earlier, at the time the Account is terminated;
- The Program Fee and any other fees for your Account will be payable, unless otherwise indicated, first from the liquidation or withdrawal by MLPF&S of your shares of any money market funds or balances in any money market or bank deposit account(s), as you authorize in the Client Agreement or other document, and second from free credit or cash balances, if any, in your Account;
- You will make timely payment of all amounts due to MLPF&S under the Client Agreement, and any unpaid Program Fees may result in the termination of your Account(s);
- To the extent permitted by law, all assets in your Account or otherwise held by MLPF&S or its Affiliates for you will be subject to a lien for the discharge of your obligation to make timely payment to MLPF&S of the Program Fee (and any other fees payable under the Client Agreement), and MLPF&S may sell assets in your Account to satisfy this lien; and
- If free credit or cash balances within the alternate account you have designated for your Program Fees to be deducted from are not available, the Program Fee will be moved to and deducted from your Program Account.

5. Services Covered by the Program Fee.

The Program Fee you pay for the investment advisory services described in this Brochure also covers our brokerage services, including clearance and settlement of transactions and custody of assets.

In addition to these Services, the Program Fee covers the following (where applicable):

- Annual underlying MLPF&S securities account fee for all Accounts;
- Fees associated with Electronic bill payment through MyMerrill;
- ATM fees imposed by Merrill Lynch (but not other institutions); and
- Fees on Secretarial/executive checks, stop payment orders, returned checks, returned deposits and canceled check requests.

Certain of these services are not available in all types of securities accounts, Strategies and/or the jurisdiction in which you reside. Please speak with your Advisor about the availability of these services.

There are certain investments (such as investments in mutual funds and AI Advisory Units) for which you do not incur brokerage commissions or other transaction charges when those securities are purchased through your Program Account. Accordingly, although you may be charged a Program Fee that covers charges for brokerage execution, you should be aware that transactions involving these investments are not subject to separate charges for brokerage execution. However, by purchasing such securities through an account enrolled in the Program, you will be able to purchase different share classes typically with lower expense ratios than what you would be able to purchase in your brokerage account. The full amount of the Program Fee payable under the Agreement will be charged in accordance with the terms of such Agreement, regardless of your use of any of the services offered or of the amount of transactions effected in your Account.

Please keep in mind that although the Program offers a wide range of services, the primary purpose of the Program is to provide you with investment advice and guidance. The Program Fee covers a range of services, as described above that are intended to be supplemental and enhance the investment advisory services you receive. However, the Program Fee that you agree upon with your Advisor is determined on the value of the advisory services provided and these collateral services should not be a principal consideration in deciding to invest through the Program.

6. Other Fees and Expenses.

The Program Fee does not cover:

- Transaction charges on trades effected through or with an Unaffiliated Investment Firm (including fixed-income or over-the-counter transactions in which we act as agent);
- Any charge (i.e., commission, markup or markdown) that is incurred in connection with effecting a transaction for your Account;
- Applicable transaction charges (commissions, markups or markdown charges, sales charges or penalties) on purchases and sales of Excluded Assets and Fee Deferred Assets;
- Transfer taxes;
- Margin interest and fees and charges, charged by us or third parties, that are imposed for any securities that are shorted as part of an options strategy and that are in limited supply (i.e. the shorted securities are "in demand"); the related fees are separate and apart from the Program Fee and are more fully described in the relevant margin agreement;
- Fees charged by us or third parties that are not Affiliates in connection with short-sale transactions;
- Certain Fund redemption and other fees that are imposed by a Fund manager as part of an investment in the shares of a Fund investment as described in more detail below;
- Transaction charges and ongoing service charges for Precious Metals purchased and sold under the Precious Metals Program described in more detail below in the section "Investments in Precious Metals";

- Exchange or similar fees (such as for ADRs) charged by third parties, including issuers, and fees required by the SEC;
- Alternative trading system fees;
- Electronic fund, wire and other Account transfer fees;
- Custodial fees and expenses associated with your use of an Unrelated Custodian; and
- Any other charges imposed by law or otherwise agreed to with regard to the Account.

When your Account invests in Funds that are included in your Program Fee, you generally will purchase shares that have no front-end sales load or contingent deferred sales charge, or for which such loads or charges are waived. In the case of Alternative Investment Funds, you may purchase AI Advisory Units, which are not subject to an upfront sales commission, if you meet applicable suitability and eligibility requirements. However, as a Fund investor, you will bear your proportionate share of such Fund's fees and expenses including, but not limited to, management fees and performance-based compensation paid to the Fund's investment managers or their Affiliates, fees payable to the Fund's professional and other service providers, transaction costs and other operating costs (all of which may be material). An investor in a fund-of-funds vehicle will also bear a proportionate share of the fees and expenses of each underlying investment fund. The Program Fee does not cover or offset any of the fees and expenses of any Fund purchased for your Account, including commissions and other transaction-related charges incurred by the Fund, even if we effect these transactions for the Fund. Except as otherwise provided for Retirement Accounts, the Program Fee will not be reduced even if Merrill Lynch or an Affiliate effects transactions for the Funds or otherwise provides services to the Funds for compensation.

A Discretionary Manager may, subject to its obligation to implement trades for clients, batch or aggregate some or most of Program client transactions with other clients of the Discretionary Manager and place the aggregated order through Unaffiliated Investment Firms for execution. Typically, those Unaffiliated Investment Firms fill orders as dealers and the cost of execution is included in the price of the security as a markup/down. The portion of the aggregated order so executed for Program clients is then cleared and settled through MLPF&S in a practice referred to as a "step in". Clients for which the Discretionary Manager places some or most transactions through Unaffiliated Investment Firms will not receive a discount from, or credit against, the Account fees and the markup/down imposed by the executing Unaffiliated Investment Firm could be deemed to be a duplicative payment for transaction execution services. You should contact your Advisor for more information regarding step-in transactions.

You will pay the public offering price on securities purchased from an underwriter or dealer involved in a distribution.

When we execute transactions in foreign ordinary securities outside the United States, we may use the services of Unaffiliated foreign broker-dealers. These foreign broker-dealers may handle your order as agent and assess a commission charge, or they may transact as principal and receive a dealer spread or markup/down. Additionally, to the extent a foreign currency conversion transaction is required to facilitate trade settlement, the foreign broker-dealer (or its Affiliate) effecting the currency conversion will be remunerated in the form of a dealer spread or markup/down. Although the remuneration received by foreign broker-dealers is not disclosed to or by us in net price transactions, we shall undertake, at your written request, to determine this remuneration in a given transaction. The commission charges and/or dealer spreads of other broker-dealers also may accrue when foreign issuers terminate an ADR facility, thereby necessitating conversion of ADRs to foreign ordinary share form. In such circumstances, the prices obtained for the post-ADR security may be less beneficial to you than if the ADR remained intact. These commissions/dealer spreads are in addition to the Program Fees payable under the Agreement.

7. Investments in AI Advisory Units.

For investments in AI Advisory Units of certain Alternative Investment Funds, the Program Fee is generally calculated on the basis of estimated and unaudited net asset values provided by the investment managers of such Alternative Investment Funds. In most cases, Alternative Investment Funds provide estimated valuations only periodically, typically as of a month- or quarter-end. As a result, the portion of the Merrill Lynch Fee attributable to your investments in AI Advisory Units may be calculated using estimated net asset values provided for the prior period and, therefore, would be based on a valuation that does not reflect the current net asset value of your AI Advisory Units as of the date the Program Fee is actually calculated for your Account.

There also can be no assurance that the estimated net asset values provided by the investment managers of the Alternative Investment Funds and used to calculate the Program Fee are accurate. Merrill Lynch does not verify the valuations provided by the investment managers.

Investment managers generally do not adjust estimated valuations retroactively; instead, they typically reflect any difference between the initial estimate and the final valuation in the following monthly or quarterly performance estimate. For more information about how net asset value is determined, please refer to the Offering Materials for the relevant Alternative Investment Fund.

Alternative Investment Funds generally impose material restrictions on your ability to redeem or otherwise dispose of your investment, including the imposition of redemption fees. If you are permitted to redeem your interest in an Alternative Investment Fund, the redemption proceeds generally will not be available to you for a substantial period of time (in certain cases, this could be a number of months) following the periodic date (the month-end or quarter-end date) on which your redemption of an investment in an Alternative Investment Fund is deemed to be effective (the "Effective Redemption Date"). You will pay the Program Fee on the value of your investment in an Alternative Investment Fund until the Effective Redemption Date.

8. Investments in Precious Metals.

When you trade and hold Precious Metals under the Precious Metals Program, you will be subject to transaction and service fees which will be in addition to the Program Fees and will not be covered or offset by the Program Fees. A per-transaction fee will be charged on each purchase or sale of Precious Metals and will be paid to GBI. The transaction fee will be calculated on a per-transaction basis and is included within the per-unit cost basis for each purchase and sale and will range from 0.40% to 1.00%, as further described in the Precious Metals Disclosure Document, based on the size of the transaction amount.

In addition, Precious Metals owned and held by us as agent for your exclusive benefit at approved vaults and reflected on your Account statement will be subject to a monthly fee for administrative and liquidity services. The service fee will be 1/12 of 0.30% for investments in gold, platinum or palladium and 1/12 of 0.40% for investments in silver, debited from your Account on a monthly basis, in arrears, based upon the average daily valuation of the Precious Metals held in your Account. The service fee will be allocated between GBI and a Merrill Lynch Affiliate, as compensation for ongoing sub-accounting, reconciliation, transaction and related expenses. Please consult the Precious Metals Disclosure Document for further details on the allocation of the service fee.

Valuations of Precious Metals held under the Precious Metals Program and used to calculate the Program Fee and applicable service fees will be based on daily end-of-day valuations provided by GBI. Daily valuations by GBI will in turn be based on the closing average of the top three indicative bids for the relevant bar type and will not be verified by Merrill Lynch.

9. Annuities.

When you invest in Annuities, you will be subject to fees and charges that are specific to these products. These charges and fees will reduce the value of your Account and return on your investment. In addition to the Annuity Contract fees and expenses, you will be subject to the Program Fee. The Program Fee will not be taken from the Annuity Contract. Over time, your total expenses to own an Annuity in an Account enrolled in the Program may be greater than the total expenses to own a similar annuity outside your Account.

The fees and charges associated with Annuities may include, but are not limited to mortality and expense risk charges, administrative and distribution fees, charges for optional benefits, surrender charges as well as charges for the underlying investment options. Some Annuity Contracts permit the insurance company to increase such charges while you own the Annuity. See your Annuity Contract and prospectus/statement of understanding for more complete details.

Valuations of Annuities used to calculate the Program Fee will be based on the daily end-of-day contract values provided by the insurance company that issues the Annuity. We provide no assurance that the end-of-day contract values given us by insurance companies and used to calculate the Program Fee are accurate. Merrill Lynch does not verify the Annuity Contract values provided by insurance companies.

10. Excessive Trading.

The Program is not designed for day trading or other extreme trading activity. If your trading is deemed excessive by us, we reserve the right to terminate the Account at our discretion.

11. Treatment of Cash Assets.

The Program Fee will be applied to cash and cash alternatives held within your Account, including assets in your bank deposit programs and money market fund shares. The Program Fee is in addition to other compensation that MLPF&S and its Affiliates will earn in connection with these assets. Although your cash will be swept into the cash sweep vehicle you choose in your underlying securities account agreement, you may experience negative performance on the cash portion of your Strategy if the applicable Program Fee charged on your cash is higher than the return you receive from your cash sweep vehicle.

Any holdings of cash should be consistent with your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation, Program guidelines and consistent with your preferences for your Account or Portfolio, including to: (i) fulfill your Strategy's (or Portfolio's) allocation to Cash as an asset class; (ii) facilitate transaction execution or provide for fee collection; or (iii) to meet your objective of having asset protection in the event of periods of volatile market conditions or otherwise.

There are other alternatives available to you for cash assets that are not intended to be part of a Portfolio Target Asset Allocation strategy. Merrill Lynch and its Affiliates have other accounts, for example a brokerage or a banking account, in which cash may be held and as to which a Program Fee will not be charged. These accounts may offer a different cash sweep alternatives and yields (potentially higher) than is offered in the Program. Any cash or other assets held outside of the Program will not be considered as part of the Portfolio Target Asset Allocation. We will not be considered an investment advisor or fiduciary with respect to any cash held outside of the Program.

12. Additional Information.

Generally, all Account values used to determine the Program Fees described above are based on the market value of the assets in your Account, as determined by MLPF&S. In calculating such Account values, Merrill Lynch will use a variety of pricing sources. These pricing sources include affiliates of Merrill Lynch.

However, if you maintain the assets in your Account with an Unrelated Custodian, MLPF&S will calculate the Program Fee based on information provided by the Unrelated Custodian, which may use a different method to value the securities in the Account than that described above. MLPF&S generally will calculate Program Fees based on the asset values or securities and cash positions we obtain from such Unrelated Custodian.

For additional information regarding the billing methodology used for Accounts with an Unrelated Custodian (including, for example, circumstances relating to the addition of new Accounts or termination of Accounts), please speak with your Advisor. MLPF&S will not be responsible for verifying the accuracy of such information or any losses or errors that result from the information provided by the Unrelated Custodian in your Account.

Ability to Obtain the Program Services Separately

You should discuss the brokerage and investment advisory services we make available with your Advisor to determine which may be most appropriate for you. You may be able to obtain some or all of the types of Services described herein from us without participating in the Program, subject to certain restrictions, including the type of account for which you are seeking these types of Services. If you were to do so, your total cost may be lower or higher than the Program Fee.

You may also be able to obtain the same or similar Services or types of investments through more than one Strategy in the Program, or through other programs and services, both investment advisory and brokerage, offered by Merrill Lynch; these may be available at lower or higher fees than charged by the Program. These other investment advisory programs, which have lower program fee rates than the Program, are the Merrill Edge Guided Investing program (MEGI) and Merrill Edge Select Portfolios through the Merrill Edge Advisory Account program (MESP). The services that you receive by investing through MEGI or MESP will be different from the Services you receive through the Program. The Program differs from MEGI and MESP in a number of important respects including that it provides a broader range of investment options and asset classes, a potentially more customized investment solution, and access to your own personal Advisor. You may also be able to obtain some or all of these types of services from other firms, and if they are available, the fees associated with them may be lower or higher than the fees we charge.

You should discuss the Services and Strategies we make available with your Advisor to determine which may be most appropriate for you. More broadly, when you compare the Strategies, account types and programs and their relative costs, you should consider various factors, including, but not limited to:

- Your preference for an investment advisory or brokerage relationship;
- Your preference for a discretionary or a non-discretionary relationship;
- Your preference for a fee-based or commission-based relationship;
- Your preference for access to a dedicated Advisor;
- The types of investment vehicles and solutions that are available in each Strategy, Merrill Lynch program or service;
- Whether a particular investment solution offered in one Strategy or service is available through another Strategy or Merrill Lynch program or service at a lower or higher cost;

- How much trading activity you expect to take place in your Account;
- How much of your assets you expect to be allocated to cash;
- Whether you wish to invest in mutual funds, and which mutual funds (if any) are available in particular Strategies or programs;
- The frequency and type of client profiling reports, performance reporting and account reviews that are available in each program or service; and
- The scope of ancillary services that may be available to you in a brokerage account, but which are not available in the Program.

You should also understand that the Program is currently not available to all existing Merrill Lynch clients. Certain existing Merrill Lynch investment advisory programs (Merrill Lynch Consults®, Merrill Lynch Personal Advisor® Program, Merrill Lynch Unified Managed Account, and Merrill Lynch Personal Investment Advisory® Program, collectively known as “Existing Programs”) are generally closed to new account enrollments subject to exceptions in our sole discretion. We anticipate that existing clients in Existing Programs may remain enrolled until such time, in our discretion, that those Existing Programs are closed.

You should carefully consider if and when you will enroll in the Program. While the Program, any of our Existing Programs and our brokerage account platform may have certain similar features, there are important differences that should be discussed with your Advisor, including the extent of the Services, the Program Fee and the investments available to you. It is important that you discuss with your Advisor how enrollment in the Program will affect these fees and the Services that will be available to you.

Funding and Operation of Accounts

1. Opening a Program Account.

With the Client Agreement, you can open or enroll into the Program an Account and any subsequent Accounts in the same capacity with verbal, electronic or written instructions. You may need to sign a separate Client Agreement if you want to open an Account in any other capacity. Examples of different capacities include an individual capacity, a trustee of a trust, a personal representative or executor of an estate, a guardian for a minor, a business entity (e.g., corporation, partnership), a non-IRA retirement plan and an endowment.

The effective date of the Client Agreement for each of your Accounts will be the date of its acceptance by us. The effective date for each Account will be set forth in the Portfolio Summary. The Client Agreement will not apply to any Account that is not reflected in the applicable Portfolio Summary.

2. Funding Your Account.

You may fund your Account by depositing cash and/or securities acceptable to us.

If we determine any contributed investments are not eligible or are unacceptable for the applicable Service, you authorize and direct us to sell those investments as promptly as practicable. We will not act as a fiduciary or an investment adviser in connection with these transactions, but we are entitled to charge a commission for the sale of these investments. We may also execute a principal trade for the sale and may retain the compensation from the transaction to the extent permitted by law.

Depending on the type of investment involved, the sale of these securities may cause you to incur taxable gains or losses or to pay applicable fees or charges. You are responsible for all tax liabilities arising from the sale of these securities and should review the potential tax consequences of these liquidations with your tax advisor before funding an Account.

In lieu of selling the ineligible or unacceptable investment, we may transfer this asset to a securities brokerage account. As part of the Client Agreement, you authorize us to open and transfer ineligible or unacceptable investments to a similar type of Merrill Lynch securities (brokerage) account when:

- We are unable to sell the investment; or
- You specifically direct us, in writing, not to liquidate the investment.

In this case, the Client Agreement and related documentation for your existing Merrill Lynch securities (brokerage) account will apply with full force and effect to your new account.

In certain situations, with prior notice, we may require that you move or transfer such ineligible or unacceptable assets from an Account in the Program to another account. Our request that you take such action may be limited to certain ineligible or unacceptable assets, but not others, as we determine in our sole discretion. Failure to comply with the request to transfer such assets out of an Account enrolled in the Program may result in the termination of such Account holding the ineligible asset from the Program.

You should consider all relevant factors before contributing Fund shares to the Program, including the fact that you may have paid a front-end sales charge and any applicable contingent deferred sales charges or redemption fees will remain your responsibility and will be in addition to the Program Fees.

If you are contributing or holding mutual fund shares in your Account, you should consider the following information. Certain mutual funds may offer only one class of shares, while other mutual funds may offer multiple share classes which are available for investment based upon certain eligibility and/or purchase requirements. You should refer to the additional client disclosure pamphlets entitled "Mutual Fund Investing at Merrill Lynch" and "Offshore Fund Investing at Merrill Lynch" for additional information on mutual fund share classes. Classes of shares eligible for the Program will be subject to the Program Fee.

Mutual funds often permit the conversion of shares from one class to another, subject to certain conditions as determined by the applicable registered fund. If you contribute or hold mutual fund shares that we deem to be ineligible for the Program, such shares will be converted into a class of shares of the same mutual fund we deem to be eligible, and will be subject to the Program Fee; depending on your circumstances, you could be subject to higher expenses overall once the shares convert to a class we deem to be eligible. We may not elect to convert particular share classes of a mutual fund if, for example, there is no equivalent class eligible for the Program in other circumstances as we may determine. Prior to contributing any mutual fund shares to your Account, you should discuss the impact of a conversion of these shares with your Advisor. If you do not want your mutual fund shares converted, you should discuss your ability to transfer such holdings to another account with your Advisor.

In addition, from time to time a mutual fund that is a Registered Fund may authorize us to make available to clients participating in the Program a class of shares of such Registered Fund with a lower fee structure that we believe is more beneficial to you than the class of shares previously made available in the Program. Where such conversion is available, we will effectuate an exchange to the other class of shares of the same Registered Fund with the lower fee structure.

Units of certain Alternative Investment Funds, other than AI Advisory Units may not be contributed to your Account. However, you may be able to elect to convert such units to AI Advisory Units if permitted under the applicable Offering Materials.

3. Withdrawals and Contributions of Assets.

In connection with withdrawal requests, liquidation of certain securities may be required. Further:

- You must notify us at least five business days prior to withdrawing funds or securities from Managed and Custom Managed Strategy Accounts;
- For Managed and Custom Managed Strategies, funds must be withdrawn from the Account by you as soon as practicable after settlement date, and if the requested funds are not withdrawn from the Account within fifteen calendar (15) days after settlement, the funds may be subject to reinvestment without notification to you by us;
- We reserve the right to terminate any Managed or Custom Managed Strategy Account that falls below the required minimum asset size as reflected in the applicable Profile;
- We or Style Managers require time to make decisions regarding the securities to liquidate to accommodate the withdrawal request;
- For certain Strategies and/or securities, such as foreign ordinary securities, convertibles, fixed-income, and/or securities that trade on a when-issued basis or as odd-lots, it may take longer than five business days before you can access your requested funds;
- Program Fees paid by you may increase and taxable gains and losses may be realized as a result of your withdrawal instructions;
- Frequent withdrawals from your Account may affect the achievement of investment objectives for the applicable Portfolio or Strategy you selected;
- In certain circumstances, you may not be permitted to redeem all or a portion of your investment in an Alternative Investment Fund at the time of your choosing and may be required to hold such investments indefinitely. If you are permitted to redeem your interest in an Alternative Investment Fund, all or a portion of your redemption proceeds may not be available to you for a substantial period of time (which in certain cases could be a number of months) following the Effective Redemption Date. You will continue to pay the Program Fee with respect to the value of your investment in a particular Alternative Investment Fund held through your Account until the Effective Redemption Date; and
- As a broker-dealer, Merrill Lynch is responsible for compliance with federal margin rules relating to an Account's trading activity which may impact available funds for an Account. Please see the section "Brokerage and Custody Services – 1. Brokerage Services" for additional information.

Contributions of Funds and securities to your Accounts do not require advance notice, except as specifically provided in the section titled "Brokerage and Custody Services - Custodial Arrangements". There may be a delay between the date that funds or securities are contributed to a Managed or Custom Managed Strategy and the date that MAA invests such funds (or potential liquidation of additions of Securities occurs) in accordance with the applicable Strategy Profile. We will not be liable for any lost opportunity profits that may result from a delay in investing any contributed funds or securities.

Depending upon the Strategy you choose, you may not be able to use Visa® cards or write checks on an Account while it is enrolled in the Program.

4. Client's Selection Changes or Additions.

You may change or add a Service (including Strategies) or Portfolio, subject to approval by us, by contacting your Advisor. We will implement any approved change or addition to the Portfolio or Strategy that you select as soon as reasonably possible.

5. Closing an Account and/or Terminating the Client Agreement.

The Client Agreement may be terminated at any time by either us or you, with verbal or written notice to the other parties.

The termination of the Client Agreement will terminate all Accounts. You may also terminate any Accounts subject to the Client Agreement by giving us notice of such termination. Upon termination of an Account or the Client Agreement, a pro-rata adjustment to the Program Fees for the remainder of the billing period will be made, which may result in a refund of your Program Fees. Your termination of a particular Account will not automatically terminate any of your other Accounts. Upon termination of a particular Account or the Client Agreement, you (or the legal representative of your estate) will have the sole responsibility for the investment of assets in your Account(s).

In the event of a termination of the Client Agreement or of an Account, the Assets in the Account, including Fund investments, will not be liquidated but will be held in your account, which will be subject to the brokerage account agreement, for further disposition and action by you. Notwithstanding the foregoing or any instruction by you, certain Funds and other securities held in your Account will be automatically liquidated or redeemed, as described in the applicable Offering Materials upon termination of an Account that holds such Funds and other securities or the Client Agreement. Such liquidation or redemption will generally be effected by the close of the next business day following termination, although for certain securities, such as those traded on a when-issued basis or as odd-lots, the liquidation or redemption process may take longer. Termination of your Account will be effective following the liquidation of such Funds and other securities, and the completion of other processes that may be required to terminate the Account. If you hold an Annuity in your Account, upon the termination of your Account from the Program, Merrill Lynch will no longer be the broker-dealer of record for such Annuity and may no longer serve as custodian (or beneficiary) for such Annuity. Additionally, MLLA will no longer serve as general agent and insurance broker for such Annuity. You should discuss the impact of an Account's termination from the Program with respect to an Annuity with your Advisor.

AI Advisory Units are not eligible to be held outside of your Account and may be converted to another appropriate class of units of the Alternative Investment Fund, or may be redeemed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Offering Materials of the Alternative Investment Fund. Additional fees and expenses may apply upon such conversion or redemption.

The termination of your Advisor's employment with Merrill Lynch will not automatically terminate the Client Agreement. In the event that your Advisor is no longer able to service your Account, we may transfer that Account to a different Advisor and you will be notified of any such changes.

6. Investment of Cash Balances.

Cash balances and funds pending investment in each of your Accounts will automatically be invested or "swept," in accordance with the cash sweep option that you selected in the underlying Merrill Lynch securities account agreement relating to your Account(s); provided, however, that for newly opened securities accounts, your sweep selection will not take effect (i.e. your cash will not be deposited/invested in such sweep option) until Merrill Lynch receives your signed securities account agreement. Your failure to return your signed securities account agreement may result in your Account's termination from the Program, among other things. Depending upon the type of securities account that you establish, cash balances will be swept to one or more banks related to us, money market mutual funds, or to another available cash option. With certain account types, a sweep option is not available and you will not be invested in one of the above sweep options.

Your Advisor can help you identify the sweep option or other cash options, if any, available to you, but neither we, nor your Advisor has the discretion to make the selection for you. Additionally, you may elect a "no sweep" option for the cash balances held in your Account. If you select the no sweep option, your cash balances will remain in your Account until they are needed to satisfy any debits (due to securities purchases or other transactions) in your Account and will not earn interest or dividends. If you elect the no sweep option for your Account, you should understand that Merrill Lynch will continue to charge the Program Fee on the cash held in your Account even though you are not earning any interest or dividends on that cash and that may create a conflict between you and us. You should carefully consider whether the no sweep option is right for you. Cash balances in accounts with Unrelated Custodians will not be subject to these sweep arrangements. Unless otherwise agreed, your Account will be credited with any dividends, interest and principal paid on cash balances held in your Account.

Cash balances held in a money market fund are subject to the Fund's management, distribution, transfer agent, and other expenses. See the section "Receipt of Compensation from Investment Advisers - Mutual Funds and Offshore Funds" for more information. These fees and expenses are in addition to, and will not reduce your Program Fees, except as required by law.

If cash balances are deposited in a bank deposit account pursuant to the Merrill Lynch Bank Deposit Program, Insured Savings Account Program or Retirement Assets Savings Program:

- Cash will be placed in an account bearing a reasonable rate of interest and the participating depository institution will benefit from its use of the deposits, and we or our Affiliates will receive compensation from the participating depository institution, including any Merrill Lynch Bank. This compensation will be in addition to, and will not reduce, your Program Fee, except as required by law.
- The applicable terms are described in the disclosures that the client received in connection with the underlying MLPFS securities account for the client's account, and are also available from your Advisor.
- The availability to you of any of these different options will depend on your underlying securities brokerage account type, as well as whether the particular option you have selected in connection with your securities brokerage account is available in the Program.

You will be charged a Program Fee on all cash balances maintained in the Program. At times, each of your Strategies may have different cash allocations based on the investment solutions used in the Strategy or current market conditions. In certain circumstances, including periods of volatile or uncertain market conditions, for defensive purposes and for other cash management purposes, such cash allocations may comprise all or a substantial portion of your assets invested in a particular Strategy.

Risk and Tax Disclosure

1. General Risks of Investing.

All investments involve risk (the amount of which may vary significantly), investment performance can never be predicted or guaranteed, and the values of your assets will fluctuate due to market conditions and other factors.

We make no representations or warranties with respect to the present or future level of risk or volatility in your Portfolios, Strategies, or any Style Manager Strategy's, Fund's, or investment's future performance or activities. You are assuming the risks involved with investing in securities and other investment products, and you could lose all or a portion of the amount held in the Program. As required by law, you will be sent a copy of the prospectus or disclosure document for certain assets purchased for your Strategies, and you should read such documents.

Any target asset allocations (including your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation) or benchmarks, as applicable, referred to in connection with your Strategy or Portfolio are not intended to be an assurance or guarantee of the performance of any investments in or of the Strategy or Portfolio. There is no assurance that the performance results of any benchmark or index used in connection with a Strategy, including those shown in a Profile can be attained. Market movements and other factors may result in significant differences between the performance of your Strategies and any target asset allocations set forth for your Strategy, Account or Portfolio. Investments made, and the actions taken, for your Program assets will be subject to various market, liquidity, currency, economic and political risks, and will not necessarily be profitable.

With respect to Equity and Fixed Income Target Asset Allocation options, these options will limit the Portfolio to exposure in a specific asset class, either Equity or Fixed Income only. These specific asset allocation options will limit the diversification benefits offered in other Target Asset Allocation choices. Typically Merrill Lynch recommends that a client seek a diversified portfolio in an effort to meet his or her investment objectives and have assets invested in a diversified manner across multiple asset classes, issuers, sectors or industries in order to reduce the additional investment risk frequently associated with concentrated investments. You should understand that Portfolio(s) [and Account(s)] with a concentration in one asset class will result in a decrease in diversification in your Portfolio(s) [and Account(s)], and as such, will involve a higher degree of risk and volatility. Such decrease in diversification and increase in risk/volatility could result in significant losses in your Portfolio(s) [and Account(s)], and in certain circumstances, your Portfolio(s) [and Account(s)] may lose all of its original investment. In addition, you should understand that the individual investments that comprise these specific asset classes could result in variations between the performance and risk exposure for your Strategy, Account, or Portfolio and other Strategies, Accounts, or Portfolios with the same Equity or Fixed Income Target Asset Allocation.

In addition, you may impose guidelines or restrictions on your Account that may result in your Account being concentrated in one or a few sectors, industries or securities. Concentrated portfolios typically increase the risk and volatility of an Account and may result in a decrease in diversification. We may determine not to accept such guidelines and/or restrictions.

2. Multi-Client Account Portfolio Grouping.

If you choose to include one or more of your Accounts in a multi-client Portfolio, the other clients participating in the multi-client Portfolio will have access to information about the Accounts that you have included in the Portfolio. We will include your Accounts, and certain Strategy information, including Account values and performance, holdings, elections and preferences in a Portfolio Summary and other communications that we provide to each client participating in the multi-client Portfolio. In addition, the management of the Accounts that you include in a multi-client Portfolio may be affected by the Portfolio's Investment Objective, Risk Tolerance, Time Horizon, Liquidity Needs and Target Asset Allocation, as well as by the addition and removal of accounts by other clients participating in the Portfolio. To the extent any requested changes to a Portfolio would cause a change in your Account, Account changes will be made in accordance with the Authority you granted to your Advisor under the Client Agreement, and therefore, we may make certain Account changes that result from a Portfolio level change based on such Authority without seeking your further consent. The fees, trading or other costs occurring in your Accounts that are included in a multi-client Portfolio may be more or less than if your Accounts were not in such a Portfolio.

3. Loans and Collateral.

Your Account assets may be "pledged" or used as collateral, if we consent, in connection with loans obtained through certain Unaffiliated or Affiliated loan programs, such as, but not limited to, the securities based lending Loan Management Account® ("LMA") and Mortgage 100®/Parent Power® mortgage programs (collectively referred to as "Lending Programs").

Under such Lending Programs, you may receive loan proceeds as a result of an arrangement whereby your Account is pledged to a lender, and in certain circumstances, the lender may be an Affiliate. If you have elected to participate in a Lending Program, the terms and conditions applicable to that Lending Program are governed by the applicable loan documents and other service agreements and are not included or described further herein. You should review carefully the terms, conditions and any related risk disclosures for such Lending Program and understand that such risks may be heightened in the event you hold a concentrated position in your pledged Account or if your pledged Account makes up all, or substantially all, of your overall net worth or investible assets. A collateral call could disrupt the management of your Account. You should understand that, regardless of whether the lender is an Affiliate, the lender's lien is senior to the roles of MLPF&S, MAA, your Advisor, and (if applicable) your Discretionary Manager as investment advisers to your Account and that, in that connection, the lender has the right to sell securities in the Account that serve as collateral, if needed. You, your Advisor, MAA, or (if applicable) your Discretionary Manager may not be: (1) provided with prior notice of a liquidation of the securities in your pledged Account; or (2) entitled to choose the securities which are to be liquidated by the lender. The costs associated with such a lending arrangement under a Lending Program are not included in the Program Fees and may result in additional compensation to us, our Affiliate(s) and your Advisor. Where the lender is an Affiliate, the lender's lien creates potentially conflicting incentives with respect to the management of your Account. For example, because of such a lien, MLPF&S, MAA, your Advisor, or (if applicable) your Discretionary Manager has an incentive to favor Accounts participating in such Lending Programs where the lender is an Affiliate over other Accounts without loans (e.g., for trade allocations), and to prefer more conservative investment choices than may otherwise be appropriate for the Accounts in such Lending Programs, in order to minimize the risk of loss with respect to the Affiliate's collateral. Please refer to the section "Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading" for additional information, including how conflicts of interest are mitigated. You are encouraged to speak with your Advisor to the extent you have questions about how your Account may be used in connection with a Lending Program and how such arrangement should be taken into consideration when discussing the management of your Account.

4. Writing Uncovered Options, Short Selling, and Options Overlay Strategies.

You may write uncovered options in a Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Account only in circumstances we approve. To engage in options transactions, you must execute an option account agreement. If you write uncovered options, you assume additional risk, including:

- You will be exposed to potentially significant losses;
- For a call option, if the value of the underlying instrument increases above the exercise price, you can incur large and unlimited losses until the option expires or other option contract remedies are pursued;
- For a put option, you bear the risk of loss if the value of the underlying instrument declines below the exercise price;
- If you write combination or straddle options (where a put and a call option are written on the same underlying instrument), the potential risk of loss is unlimited;

- If a secondary market in options were to become unavailable, you could not engage in a closing transaction and you would remain obligated until expiration or assignment; and
- If you do not meet the margin payment requirements described in your option account agreement, we may liquidate stock or options positions in your Account, with little or no prior notice to you.

You may sell stock short in your Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Account. Selling stock short raises similar risks as those described above regarding writing uncovered (call) options, and you will assume similar risks of loss. We reserve the right to not approve any Account to engage in uncovered options transactions or short sales.

You assume full responsibility for writing uncovered options and selling stock short, including the possibility of incurring unlimited losses, and may discontinue writing options and short selling at any time.

As described in the section “MAA’s Role in Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies”, we may make available options overlay strategies from MAA on a limited basis to certain eligible clients in a Custom Managed Strategy. A decision as to when and how to use options involves the exercise of skill and judgment, and even a well-conceived and well-executed options overlay strategy may be adversely affected by market behavior or unexpected events. Successful options overlay strategies may require the anticipation of future movements in markets, securities prices, interest rates and other economic factors. No assurances can be given that these options overlay strategies will accomplish their objectives. Once these strategies are available, please refer to the options overlay strategies profiles and related documentation for additional information about these strategies and the related risks, expenses and potential conflicts.

5. Alternative Investments and Alternative Investment Funds.

If you want to consider Alternative Investments, such as non-traditional funds (“NTFs”) or Alternative Investment Funds as part of a diversified portfolio, careful consideration should be given to the associated risks of these investments. For instance, NTFs are mutual funds and exchange-traded funds that are classified as Alternative Investments by us because their principal investment strategies utilize alternative investment strategies or provide for alternative asset exposure as the means to meet their investment objectives. Though the portfolio holdings of NTFs are generally made up of stocks and bonds, NTFs may also hold other asset classes and may use short selling, leverage and derivatives as principal investment strategies. While the strategies employed by NTFs are often used by other Alternative Investment Funds and other alternative investment vehicles, unlike most Alternative Investment Funds, NTFs are registered with the SEC and thus subject to a more structured regulatory regime and offer lower initial and subsequent investment minimums, along with daily pricing and liquidity. While NTFs can offer diversification within a relatively liquid and accessible structure, it is essential to understand that because of this structure, NTFs may not have the same type of non-market returns as other investments classified as Alternative Investments (such as Alternative Investment Funds). The risk characteristics of NTFs can be similar to those generally associated with traditional Alternative Investments (such as Alternative Investment Funds) and which are further described in the prospectus of each NTF.

Alternative Investment Funds, in general, are speculative and illiquid investments that are subject to a high degree of risk. Each Alternative Investment Fund’s Offering Materials contain confidential material information relevant to making a decision to subscribe to the Fund including, but not limited to the Fund’s investment strategy liquidity terms, fees and expenses, risks and conflicts of interest, as well as other important matters relating to the Fund, its investment manager and their operations. You should read these documents carefully in determining whether an investment in the Fund is suitable for you in light of, among other things, your financial situation, need for liquidity, tax situation and other investments. Investments in Alternative Investment Funds are only available to certain advisory clients (for instance, U.S. residents) who meet applicable eligibility and suitability requirements and in circumstances approved by us.

Only pre-qualified clients may receive an Alternative Investment Fund’s confidential Offering Materials. However, pre-qualification does not imply that investing in one or more Alternative Investment Funds is suitable for you or that an Alternative Investment Fund will accept your subscription. Alternative Investment Funds may be a suitable investment, if at all, only for financially sophisticated investors capable of evaluating the merits and risks of such an investment and whose aggregate investments in Alternative Investment Funds do not represent more than a limited portion of their overall investment portfolio.

Special rules apply to Alternative Investment Funds made available to Retirement Accounts. Please refer to the section below entitled “Retirement Accounts” for more information.

Our Affiliates may share in a portion of the management and/or performance fees paid by an Alternative Investment Fund to its managers or an Affiliate thereof. These relationships and the amount of such fee sharing varies, and could give rise to a conflict of interest in determining which Alternative Investment Funds to make available to our clients and recommending investments in certain Alternative Investment Funds over others.

6. Mutual Funds and Offshore Funds.

The Strategies you select may invest in shares of, or interests in, mutual funds. As a mutual fund shareholder, you, along with other shareholders of the mutual fund, will bear a proportionate share of the mutual fund’s expenses, including, as permitted by applicable law, certain fees which may be payable to us, a Related Company, the Style Manager or their respective Affiliates. Please review the mutual fund’s prospectus or other disclosure document for a description of its fees and expenses, as well as its objective, investments, and related risks. Not all mutual fund fees and expenses are applicable to every Strategy offered. For example, a mutual fund redemption fee may apply to a Personalized Strategy or Defined Strategy, but not to a Managed Strategy or Custom Managed Strategy. Additionally, for a Style Manager Strategy available through a Managed Strategy or Custom Managed Strategy, any fees payable to a Style Manager may be reduced by the amount of your proportionate share of any expenses or fees of relevant Style Manager Related Funds or such other amount as indicated in the applicable Profile. If you invest in a mutual fund through the Program, unless fees and expenses borne by the mutual fund are credited against the Program Fees, you will indirectly pay, through the Fund’s net asset value, a proportionate share of the mutual fund’s costs for services that may be similar to, or duplicative of, services rendered as part of the Program and paid for directly through the Program Fees.

To the extent that you hold mutual funds in the Program, the fees and expenses incurred by any mutual fund purchased for you through the Program may be in addition to certain of the expenses covered by the Program Fee. Among other services provided, we or our Related Companies may effect transactions for any of these mutual funds, and any compensation paid to us or our Related Companies by the mutual funds, or their Affiliates, is in addition to the Program Fee. Due to the additional economic benefit to us or our Related Companies when assets in your Account are invested in a mutual fund, a conflict of interest exists. For more information about other compensation MLPF&S or its Related Companies may receive in connection with the Program and from Style Managers participating in the Program, see the section entitled “Receipt of Compensation from Investment Advisers - Mutual Funds and Offshore Funds”.

Certain mutual funds make multiple share classes available for investment based on certain eligibility and/or purchase requirements. It is generally in your best interest to purchase lower-fee share classes because your returns are not reduced by additional fees and expenses. Advisors do not have an incentive to recommend or select share classes that have higher expense ratios because their compensation is not affected by the share class selected. Program Accounts generally are invested in mutual funds with the lowest share class available at Merrill Lynch. That share class includes a fee that we and our Affiliates receive from the performance of sub-accounting and related services including recordkeeping, processing, reporting and dividend reinvestment services from shareholders of such mutual funds who maintain their shares in a Merrill Lynch securities account including participants in the Program. Accordingly, you should not assume that you will be invested in the share class with the lowest possible expense ratio that the mutual fund provider makes available.

You may purchase shares of some (but not all) of the Funds included in a Strategy directly from the Funds, their agents, or through us without enrolling in the Program. If you do so, you would not pay the Program Fee for such assets. However, you may not be eligible to purchase the same share class for each of the Funds available through the Program and the purchase of a different share class may be subject to applicable sales charges.

If you are a person or entity that does not qualify as “U.S. person” under Regulation S of the Securities Act of 1933, the Strategies you select may invest in shares of, or interests in, Offshore Funds. Please review the Offshore Fund prospectus, offering document and/or, if available, a key investor information document, that can be requested from your Advisor for a description of the Offshore Fund’s fees and expenses as well as its objective, investments and related risks.

In the future, your Account may invest in shares of mutual funds which are Related Funds that we may offer from time to time. See the section entitled “Receipt of Compensation from Investment Advisers” for information relating to such Related Funds.

7. ETFs

The Strategies you select may invest in shares of, or interests in, ETFs. As an ETF shareholder, you, along with other shareholders of the ETF, will bear a proportionate share of the ETF’s expenses, including, as permitted by applicable law, certain management and other fees, which may be payable to us or a Related Company. An ETF’s prospectus contains a description of its fees and expenses. When you invest in an ETF, you will indirectly pay a proportionate share of the ETF’s costs for services that may be similar to, or duplicative of, Services rendered as part of the Program and paid for directly through the Program Fees. Additionally, to the extent a Style Manager includes ETFs in its Style Manager Strategy, any fees payable to a Style Manager may be reduced by the amount of your proportionate share of any expenses or fees of relevant Style Manager Related Funds or such other amount as indicated in the applicable Profile.

Among other services provided, we or our Related Companies may effect transactions for any of the ETFs offered through the Program, and any compensation paid to us or our Related Companies by the ETF, or its Affiliates, is in addition to the Program Fee. Due to the additional economic benefit to us or our Related Companies when assets in your Account are invested in an ETF that pays compensation to us or our Related Companies, a conflict of interest exists. We attempt to address this conflict by selecting ETFs based on the investment merits of the particular investment products and not based on the compensation that we and our Related Companies earn and through the disclosure in this Brochure.

You may be able to purchase shares of the ETFs offered through the Program in the secondary market or from an ETF through an authorized participant (in creation unit aggregations only), or through us without enrolling in the Program. If you do so, you would not pay the Program Fee for such assets, however, you will not receive the investment advice and other Services offered through the Program.

Below is a summary of certain risks relating to investing in ETFs that may apply to all or certain types of ETFs offered through the Program. Please refer to the particular ETF prospectus for more information about the risks applicable for a particular ETF.

ETFs are subject to risks relating to market trading that include the potential lack of an active market for ETF shares and disruptions in the creation and redemption process. Although ETF shares are listed on a national securities exchange, it is possible that an active trading market in the shares of a particular ETF may not develop or be maintained, particularly during times of severe market disruption. If ETF shares need to be sold when trading markets are not properly functioning, the ETF shares may be sold at a significant discount to their Net Asset Value (“NAV”). In some cases, it may not be possible to sell ETF shares in the secondary market. For example, an unanticipated closing of the national securities exchange on which an ETF’s shares are listed or one or more markets on which either the ETF’s shares trade or the ETF’s portfolio holdings trade or the inability of such markets to open for trading during normal business hours, such as in response to a natural disaster or other event causing severe market disruption, could result in the inability to buy or sell shares of the ETF and the ETF’s inability to buy and sell exchange-traded portfolio securities during that period, or in a disruption of the ETF’s creation and redemption process, and may make it difficult for the ETF to accurately price its investments, thereby potentially affecting the price at which ETF shares trade in the secondary market. All of these events could adversely affect the performance of the ETF.

Trading in ETF shares also may be halted by an exchange or other markets because of market conditions or other reasons. If a trading halt occurs, an investor may temporarily be unable to purchase or sell shares of the ETF. Similarly, an exchange or other markets may issue trading halts on specific securities or derivatives, which will affect the ability of the ETF to buy or sell certain securities or derivatives. In such circumstances, the ETF may be unable to rebalance its portfolio or accurately price its investments and may incur substantial trading losses.

ETF shares also may trade on an exchange or on other markets at prices below their NAV. The NAV of ETF shares will fluctuate with changes in the market value of the ETF’s holdings and the exchange-traded prices of the ETF’s shares may not reflect these market values.

Only an authorized participant may engage in creation or redemption transactions directly with an ETF. To the extent that these institutions exit the business or are unable to proceed with creation and/or redemption orders with respect to an ETF and no other authorized participant is able to step forward to create or redeem, ETF shares may trade at a discount to NAV and possibly face delisting. This risk is exacerbated if an ETF has a limited number of institutions that serve as authorized participants.

Certain ETFs may effect creations and redemptions for cash, rather than in-kind. As a result, an investment in such an ETF may be less tax-efficient than an investment in a more conventional ETF. ETFs generally are able to make in-kind redemptions and avoid being taxed on gain on the distributed portfolio securities at the ETF level. An ETF that effects redemptions for cash, rather than in-kind distributions, may be required to sell portfolio securities in order to obtain the cash needed to distribute redemption proceeds. If the ETF recognizes gain on these sales, this generally will cause the ETF to recognize gain it might not otherwise have recognized, or to recognize such gain sooner than would otherwise be required if it were to distribute portfolio securities in-kind. ETFs generally intend to distribute these gains to shareholders to avoid being taxed on the gain at the ETF level and otherwise comply with the special tax rules that apply to it. This strategy may cause shareholders to be subject to tax on gains they would not otherwise be subject to, or at an earlier date than, if they had made an investment in a different ETF. Moreover, cash transactions may have to be carried out over several days if the securities market is relatively illiquid and may involve considerable brokerage fees and taxes. These brokerage fees and taxes, which will be higher than if the ETF sold and redeemed its shares principally in-kind, will be passed on to purchasers and redeemers of creation units in the form of creation and redemption transaction fees. In addition, cash transactions may result in wider bid-ask spreads in shares trading in the secondary market as compared to ETFs that transact exclusively in-kind. ETFs that seek to track the performance of a specified underlying index ("Index ETFs") are not actively managed and the investment advisers of such ETFs do not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets. Therefore, Index ETFs may be subject to greater losses in a declining market than a fund that is actively managed.

A number of factors may affect an Index ETF's ability to achieve a high degree of correlation with its underlying index, and there can be no guarantee that an ETF will achieve a high degree of correlation with its underlying index either on a single trading day or for a longer time period. Factors such as ETF expenses, imperfect correlation between the ETF's investments and the components of the underlying index, rounding of share prices, changes to the composition of the underlying index, regulatory policies, a high portfolio turnover rate, and the use of leverage all contribute to tracking error and correlation risk. Failure to achieve a high degree of correlation may prevent an ETF from achieving its investment objective and cause the ETF's performance to be less than you expect.

8. Annuities

Annuities are long-term investments primarily designed for retirement purposes and can offer clients tax-deferred accumulation with options for downside protection, death benefits and lifetime income. The terms of the Annuity are set out in a contract between you (Annuity Owner) and the insurance company (Annuity Issuer). Under this Annuity contract you make payments (annuity premiums), either in a lump sum or periodically over time, to the insurance company that, in turn, agrees to pay out an income stream or lump sum amount at a future date.

Annuities offer tax-deferred treatment of earnings, which means that you are not taxed on any investment gain in your Annuity Contract until you make withdrawals or receive income. You may also transfer money among available Annuity investment options within your Annuity Contract without being taxed. When you do receive payments from the Annuity, the earnings will be taxed at rates for ordinary income rather than for capital gains.

Because Annuities offer tax-deferred treatment of earnings, you should carefully consider if it is appropriate to include an Annuity in a Retirement Account such as an IRA that is already tax-deferred. You should consider holding an Annuity in such a Retirement Account only if you want other benefits and features of an annuity, such as living benefit guarantees, death benefit guarantees or the ability to receive lifelong annuity payments. You should consult with your personal tax advisor before making tax related investment decisions.

Variable Annuities and Fixed Indexed Annuities are currently available in Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion. Variable Annuities are publicly registered securities and offer owners a choice of investment options (called 'subaccounts') across different asset classes. Fixed Indexed Annuities are fixed products (not securities) and offer owners capped performance linked to a choice of indexes usually with no market risk to principal (without directly investing in the markets or an index). Optional enhanced death benefits and living benefits may also be available with an Annuity product for an additional charge.

You should carefully consider the associated risks of investing in Annuities. Annuities are a suitable investment only for a limited portion of the risk segment of an overall portfolio. Investing in Annuities carry additional risks such as:

- Investment losses: Because the value of a Variable Annuity is tied to the performance of the investment options you choose, the Annuity is subject to investment risk. The value of your Annuity will vary and could decline to less than the value of the premiums you have paid.
- Costs of guarantees and other fees: You must pay the Annuity fees, charges and other expenses regardless of how the Annuity performs. Optional guaranteed benefits, which can normally only be elected at the time your Annuity contract is issued, could restrict your investment options and in some cases cannot be reversed. You'll pay additional charges for optional benefits and guarantees, whether or not you use the benefits.
- Charges for early access to assets: If you want to take back the money you've paid in premiums under an Annuity contract, your withdrawal may be subject to surrender charges. These charges are described in the Annuity contract and prospectus/statement of understanding. And, as with qualified retirement accounts, distributions before you reach age 59½ may result in a 10% additional federal tax.
- The insurer's inability to meet its contractual obligations: Your contract with the Annuity issuer may include specific guarantees and payment commitments. Those are obligations of the insurer and aren't guaranteed by Merrill Lynch or its affiliates. If the insurer goes out of business, or if it lacks the funds to meet its obligations—including optional guaranteed benefits—you may not receive all of the promised income.

You should carefully read the Annuity prospectus and/or statement of understanding and consult your Advisor concerning the risks and merits of investing in Annuities in order to determine whether doing so is appropriate for you.

9. Certificates of Deposit.

Certain Strategies you select may invest in certificates of deposit ("CDs"), which are deposit obligations of U.S. depository institutions (each, an "Issuer") which may include, from time to time, an Affiliate of Merrill Lynch. Merrill Lynch may work with Issuers to arrange for a particular offering of CDs or may make CDs available for purchase in the Program through arrangements with another broker-dealer.

Each CD is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"), an independent agency of the U.S. Government, for up to $250,000 (including principal and accrued interest) for all deposits held in the same insurable capacity (e.g., individual, joint, IRA accounts) at any one Issuer. For purposes of the FDIC insurance limit, you must aggregate all deposits that you maintain with an Issuer in the same insurable capacity, including deposits you hold directly with an Issuer and deposits you hold through Merrill Lynch and other intermediaries. You are responsible for monitoring the total amount of deposits that you hold with any one Issuer. Merrill Lynch is not responsible for any such aggregation and is not responsible for any insured or uninsured portion of the CDs or other deposits.

CDs are available with varying interest rates and maturities. You will be provided a fact sheet upon your purchase of a CD, which you should read carefully. The rates paid with respect to the CDs may be higher or lower than the rates available on other deposits directly from the Issuer or through other brokers.

CDs purchased or held in your Account(s) will be subject to a Program Fee. The Program Fee that you pay will reduce the return on any CDs invested in the Program. Depending on the Program Fee and the interest rates of the CDs, your investment in CDs through the Program may result in a negative yield, which means that you are not earning any returns on the CDs and, instead, are being charged for investing in CDs through the Program. You should consider the impact of the Program Fee on the yield of any CDs purchased through the Program.

For CD offerings that Merrill Lynch arranges directly with an Issuer, Merrill Lynch will receive a fee of between 5 to 30 basis points per annum from the Issuer. For those CDs where an unaffiliated broker-dealer is the arranger of the CD offering, the Issuer may pay the unaffiliated broker-dealers a fee for distributing such CDs, but Merrill Lynch will not receive any of that fee. There may or may not be a secondary market in the CDs offered in the Program. Merrill Lynch may, but is not required to, provide assistance in finding a buyer for your CD in any secondary market. If you are able to sell your CD, the price you receive will reflect prevailing market conditions and your sales proceeds may be significantly less than the amount you paid for your CD. If you buy or sell CDs in the secondary market, the price you pay or receive may reflect an amount of mark-up or markdown paid to the executing broker-dealer. This markup or mark down amount will not be paid to the Advisor and will be charged in compliance with applicable rules regarding principal transactions.

The terms of a CD generally require that the funds be kept in the CD instrument for its term. Retirement Account beneficiaries should, therefore, purchase CDs with maturities that correspond to the mandatory withdrawal requirements or rely on the secondary market, if any, for liquidity. In the event that an early withdrawal is permitted, Merrill Lynch will use reasonable efforts to obtain funds from the depository institution on your behalf but it will not, and is not obligated to, advance funds to you in connection with early withdrawals and can give no assurances that payment pursuant to early withdrawals will be made by a specified date.

10. Market Linked Investments.

Certain Strategies you select may invest in market linked investments ("MLIs"), which are generally unsecured debt securities of the companies that issue them (each, an "issuer"), which may include, from time to time, an Affiliate of Merrill Lynch. Merrill Lynch works with third-party issuers to offer MLIs in the Program.

An investment in MLIs involve particular risks. MLIs are not conventional debt securities, typically do not bear any interest, and are not insured by the FDIC or secured by any collateral. Any payment on MLIs will be subject to the credit risk of the issuer. Your return on MLIs, including the amount you receive at maturity, if any, will depend on the performance of an underlying market measure, which may include single stocks, indices, currencies, commodities or interest rates. You may lose some or all of your investment in MLIs. Your return on MLIs may be less than the yield you could earn by owning a conventional debt security of comparable maturity. You should carefully review the prospectus for the MLI before purchasing them in any Strategy.

The economic terms of an MLI, including any potential return or payout, are based on the issuer's internal funding rate (which is the rate the issuer would pay to borrow funds through the issuance of market-linked notes) and the economic terms of certain related hedging arrangements that the issuer may enter into in order to meet its payment obligations under the MLI. The terms of the hedging arrangements will include a charge that reflects an estimated profit to the hedge provider, which, depending on the MLI offered, may be Merrill Lynch or one of its Affiliates with your prior consent or a unrelated financial institution.

As the economic terms of MLIs reflect these charges and fees, and the lower funding rate, the initial estimated value of MLIs will be lower than the price you pay to purchase MLIs. The fees and charges described above, and the initial estimated value of your MLIs, will be disclosed in the prospectus for the MLI delivered to you.

MLIs are not listed on any securities exchange and a trading market is not expected to develop for these securities. None of the issuer, Merrill Lynch or any unaffiliated third-party broker-dealer is obligated to make a market for, or to repurchase, the MLI. The price at which an MLI may be purchased from you at any time will generally equal the purchaser's estimated value of the MLI at that time (as determined by reference to the pricing models it uses) and certain specified charges as outlined in the offering document for the particular MLI. Merrill Lynch expects to, but is not required to, provide assistance in finding a buyer for your MLIs in any secondary market maintained by another broker-dealer. Your sales proceeds may be significantly less than the amount you paid for your MLI.

If, in connection with any MLI offering, an affiliate of Merrill Lynch is the Issuer or hedge provider, or Merrill Lynch receives any of the charges, fees or markdown described above, or Merrill Lynch purchases your MLI in the secondary market, such offering and transaction will be executed in compliance with applicable rules regarding principal transactions for which Merrill Lynch will obtain your consent before effecting the transaction for your Account.

11. Precious Metals.

Eligible Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion may invest in Precious Metals under the Precious Metals Program. Merrill Lynch has entered into an agreement with GBI, which, in conjunction with independent vendors, will manage the purchase, transportation, storage, recordkeeping, verification and sale of Precious Metals for Merrill Lynch. Merrill Lynch will act as agent for the exclusive benefit of clients in dealing with GBI and will purchase, hold and sell Precious Metals as agent for the exclusive benefit of its clients. Precious Metals will be transported by approved third-party providers and stored on a fully allocated, insured and physically segregated basis in approved third-party vaults. Merrill Lynch, as agent for the exclusive benefit of its clients, will be identified as the owner of the Precious Metals. Currently, only non-retirement U.S. clients participating in Personalized Strategies with Client Discretion may invest in the Precious Metals Program.

Investors should carefully consider the associated risks of investments in Precious Metals and the Precious Metals Program. Precious Metals are a suitable investment only for a limited portion of the risk segment of an overall portfolio. The prices of Precious Metals are volatile and influenced by a wide range of economic, political, market-related and other factors. In addition, investing in Precious Metals is subject to all the risks of holding physical assets (including, without limitation, loss, theft, inaccessibility and corruption), which are generally not relevant to most financial instruments. Purchases, sales of Precious Metals through GBI and the holding of Precious Metals at approved vaults will carry additional risks such as counterparty and custody risks.

Investors who invest in Precious Metals through the Precious Metals Program will be charged certain transaction and ongoing service fees, which will be in addition to Program fees, and which are further described in the section entitled "Program Fees". A portion of such ongoing services fees will be shared by GBI and an Affiliate of Merrill Lynch. Such fee sharing may result in a conflict of interest in Merrill Lynch's retaining of GBI and/or recommending investments in Precious Metals generally. There are numerous means of investing in Precious Metals which may involve different risks and costs than investing through the Precious Metals Program and may provide a more or less efficient means of speculating on changes in the price of Precious Metals. You should understand that because you will be subject to the transaction and ongoing service fees, an investment in Precious Metals through the Precious Metals Program will generally be more expensive than alternative investment options that may be available to you. You should carefully read the Precious Metals Disclosure Statement and consult your Advisor concerning the risks and merits of investing in Precious Metals through the Precious Metals Program in order to determine whether doing so is suitable for you.

12. Allocation of Investment Opportunities; No Purchases of Equity Initial Public Offerings in Advisory Accounts.

Equity initial public offerings may not be purchased through an Account or through any of our other non-discretionary advisory programs. Please consult with your Advisor to determine whether you are eligible to access equity initial public offerings through a brokerage account.

We allocate investment opportunities in equity initial public offerings among eligible brokerage accounts in a manner we determine appropriate. Clients who wish to participate in equity initial public offerings through a brokerage account must certify that they are not restricted persons (under applicable FINRA rules), are eligible to purchase new issue offerings and must enroll in electronic delivery to receive required prospectuses and disclosure documents electronically through Merrill Lynch OnLine®. Given the limited availability and size of these offerings and available allocations, there is a very limited opportunity for our brokerage clients to invest in such offerings and, if they do, clients generally will receive smaller allocations than they requested. Accordingly, brokerage clients should not have any expectation that they will have access to initial public offerings or that they will receive an allocation to any particular offering.

Allocations of equity initial public offerings are determined on an aggregate basis at the branch office level and then are allocated by the branch office manager among Advisors within each branch. Advisors are not required to contact all of their eligible clients to notify them of the availability of offerings. When an Advisor receives an allocation, he or she has the flexibility to decide which clients to notify and the discretion to allocate shares among eligible brokerage clients based on a number of different factors, including: client investment objectives, financial circumstances and risk tolerance; the nature, significance, profitability of, and revenues attributable to, a client relationship; relative size of client accounts (and expected future size); available cash for investment; availability of other appropriate investment opportunities; and applicable legal requirements. Additional factors may be considered and these factors may change or be given different weight depending on the circumstances. There will be instances where certain accounts receive an allocation while other accounts (including similarly situated accounts) do not, and preferential allocations will be given to certain clients based on the factors set forth above or other factors. In addition, Advisors may choose not to participate in equity initial public offerings for any clients, or may choose to offer participation to only a small group of clients.

You should be aware that equity securities offered in an initial public offering or any securities purchased in a new issue or primary offering purchased in another account or purchased prior to opening a Program Account and subsequently transferred to the Account will be subject to the Program Fee immediately upon transfer to the Account. This means we and your Financial Advisor initially receive compensation in the form of an up-front underwriting sales commission paid in connection with the offering, as well as compensation from the ongoing Program Fee once the security is transferred to an Account. We recognize that there may be advantages to transferring securities from a brokerage account to an advisory account, including to receive investment advice from your Advisor, to consolidate positions in a single portfolio for reporting and other purposes and to eliminate commissions and other transaction-based fees associated with the sale of such securities in brokerage accounts. Please consult with your Advisor to consider whether it may be more appropriate to hold an equity initial public offering in a brokerage account or an advisory account and the impact of the fees and commissions that you may bear.

13. Margin, Long/Short Strategies and Options Overlay Strategies.

Margin and other types of securities-based lending are offered as part of the brokerage services available to certain account types and clients who are resident in certain jurisdictions. If you wish to access these features for your Program Account(s), we may extend credit to you by making margin available to you, subject to applicable regulatory limits and any other requirements imposed by us. As disclosed in your securities account agreement with MLPF&S, if you use margin to purchase securities, our collateral for the margin debit will be the assets in your Program Account and other accounts at Merrill Lynch. If the securities in a margin account decline in value, the value of the collateral supporting the margin debit also declines, and as a result we can take actions, such as issue a margin call or sell securities or other assets maintained at Merrill Lynch, in order to maintain the required equity in the account. Overall, margin increases the risk of losses in declining markets that negatively affect the value of securities bought on margin. You assume full responsibility for using margin to buy securities and may discontinue the use of margin at any time. If you invest using margin, you assume additional risk, including:

- Your losses may exceed the amount you have in your Account;
- We can force the sale of securities or other assets in your Account(s) and other accounts you have at Merrill Lynch;
- We can sell your securities and other assets without contacting you;
- You are not entitled to choose which securities or other assets in your Account(s) are to be liquidated or sold to meet margin calls;
- We can increase our "house" maintenance margin requirements at any time and we are not required to provide you with advance written notice;
- You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call; and
- If a margin call cannot be fully satisfied from assets in your Account or other assets at Merrill Lynch, you will remain liable for the outstanding debt.

The costs, risks and other features and conditions of margin and other types of securities-based lending are more fully described in the Merrill Lynch Margin Lending Program Client Agreement that you must execute before you may use margin. You should read this document carefully prior to using margin or other types of securities-based lending through your Account.

As described in the section "MAA's Role in Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies," we may make available certain option overlay strategies from MAA on a limited basis to certain eligible clients in a Custom Managed Strategy. These clients would be required to complete the relevant margin agreement to use these options overlay strategies and their Accounts would be subject to the risks described above to the extent margin is utilized. Once these strategies are available, additional information relating to the use of margin and the related risks will be included in these strategies' profiles and related documentation.

14. Tax Matters.

You are responsible for all tax liabilities and tax-return filing obligations arising from the transactions in the Program. You also are responsible for all tax liabilities and tax-return filing obligations arising from all these transactions in your Account. In addition, if you are not a U.S. resident, any adverse tax consequences and other jurisdictional issues associated with investing in U.S. securities are your responsibility. Furthermore, any ordinary income dividends, including distributions of short-term capital gain, paid by Registered Funds generally will be subject to United States withholding tax under existing provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to foreign individuals and entities, unless an exemption from such withholding tax under an applicable tax treaty applies.

If you are a “U.S. person” as defined in section 7701(a)(30) of the Internal Revenue Code (or “Code”) and are considering whether to make an investment in a non-U.S. security, we strongly urge you to consult with your U.S. tax advisor before making such an investment. Shares or other equity interests in a non-U.S. security may constitute an interest in a “passive foreign investment company” (or “PFIC”) as defined in section 1297 of the Code. If the issuer of such security is a PFIC, then you may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences arising from the ownership and disposition of such security. Under certain circumstances, an election can be made to reduce the impact of those adverse tax consequences, but you should discuss with your U.S. tax advisor whether you would be able to make such an election.

In general, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2017, the audit procedures for partnerships will require underpayments of tax to be determined and paid at the level of the Alternative Investment Fund following any adjustment to the relevant entity's items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The amount of any underpayment will generally be computed based on the highest tax rate applicable to an individual or corporation, but the relevant entity may claim a reduction in tax rate based on amended returns of investors who opt to file, the types of income adjusted (e.g., capital gains and qualifying dividend income) and the tax rates applicable to specific investors (e.g., individuals, corporations, tax-exempt organizations). In general, any such underpayment will be an expense of the relevant entity in the year of assessment (not the reviewed year to which the adjustment relates) and any payments made by the relevant entity will be nondeductible. Subject to rules and procedures to be promulgated by the IRS, the relevant entity will be permitted to elect to have a partnership adjustment taken into account by the persons who were investors in the year to which the assessment relates by providing a list of all such investors and identifying each such investor's share of the adjustment. If the election is made, you will be required to take into account such adjustment and will also be required to pay any interest and penalties.

We do not, and will not, offer tax advice to you and we strongly encourage you to seek the advice of a qualified tax professional. You should also understand that we are not responsible for attempting to obtain any tax credit or similar item or preparing and filing any legal document (including, but not limited to, proofs of claim) on your behalf.

Rebalancing, liquidations, redemptions, and other Portfolio changes may cause you to recognize taxable gains or losses (and you may be obligated to pay Fund redemption fees or other charges), and any other tax liabilities and tax-return filing obligations there from will be solely your responsibility.

You may instruct us to effect sale requests in your Account. In connection with such requests:

- We will seek to comply with your instructions on a best-efforts basis;
- We, in our discretion, may limit the amount of losses or gains that can be realized from your Account at any time;
- Account performance may be adversely affected and may increase the volatility of its results;
- If we are directed to realize gains in your Accounts, we will resume normal trading activity, which could generate new taxable losses or gains, and the same or similar securities may be repurchased; and
- If we are directed to realize losses in your Accounts: (i) we will resume normal trading activity, which could generate new taxable losses or gains; (ii) securities sold for a loss will be restricted from being purchased for a minimum of thirty-one (31) calendar days, consistent with wash sale rules set forth in the Code; (iii) securities currently at a loss may not be sold in the Account if a purchase of a substantially similar security occurred within 30 days before the sale; (iv) a higher than normal cash position may result for a period of time; and (v) we may, at our discretion engage in strategies to invest the available proceeds for varying time periods in substitute securities, current holdings, and/or alternative securities such as ETFs.

Compensation

We or our Related Companies and their Affiliates and employees benefit from the fees and charges paid by you and other clients for the Services described in this Brochure. Clients participating in the Program may also use other products or services available from or through Merrill Lynch and its Affiliates and, in such case, pay additional compensation. Advisors offering these services and providing on-going assistance to such clients generally receive compensation from MLPF&S.

Advisors who introduce clients to the Program and provide on-going services to such clients receive compensation from us. The amount of this compensation is based upon, and will vary depending on, the Merrill Lynch Fee, which could vary depending on the concentration of your aggregate assets in certain Strategies or asset compositions, such as Accounts consisting substantially of fixed-income securities or fixed-income strategies. Your Advisor's compensation will not be based on the Style Manager Expense, if applicable, that you pay.

The amount of compensation your Advisor may receive from your enrollment in the Program may also be more or less than the compensation that the Advisor might receive if you had instead participated in other investment advisory programs offered by MLPF&S or its Affiliates or had purchased the services provided through the Program separately. If there is a difference in compensation, the Advisor may have a financial incentive to recommend you select certain Strategies in this Program or this Program over other programs or other services offered by us (or our Affiliates).

Further, separate and apart from the Program, Advisors may assist clients with their brokerage accounts and recommend the purchase or sale of securities, including stocks, bonds, mutual funds and other investments, as well as other products and services available through us and our Affiliates. In such cases, we or our Affiliates and these Advisors will receive the compensation that is usually associated with or generated by such products, services and transactions. This compensation may include commissions, markups or markdowns, asset-based or subscription fees, mutual fund sales loads, Rule 12b-1 fees or other remuneration as may be described in the applicable confirmations, prospectuses, subscription agreements or other offering documents. You should, of course, review all of this material carefully in determining whether to proceed with any such investments. Such compensation will be in addition to the fees charged for the Program. You are encouraged to speak with your Advisor at any time about any of these matters.

Account Requirements and Types of Clients

Client and Advisor Eligibility

Investors generally eligible to participate in the Program include individuals, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, pension and profit sharing plans, corporations and virtually all other types of business as defined by us. Not all types of investors are eligible for each Strategy.

Not all Advisors may offer all Strategies available in the Program. If your Advisor is not able to offer a particular Strategy, you may be able to access such Strategy through another Advisor. You should discuss the Strategies that can be made available to you with your Advisor.

Program Minimums

There is generally no minimum asset requirement to participate in the Program; however, certain Managed Strategies and Style Manager Strategies may require minimum investment amounts. Minimum investment requirements for Managed Strategies and Style Manager Strategies are provided on the applicable Profile.

Retirement Accounts

For a Retirement Account holding shares of a mutual fund, the sub-accounting service or distribution fees received by us or our Affiliate from the mutual fund or a fund service provider or its Affiliate, will be credited to the Retirement Account on a periodic basis. In the future, your Retirement Account may invest in shares of mutual funds which are Related Funds that we may offer from time to time.

If a Retirement Account invests, including through the cash sweep program, in a mutual fund that is a Related Fund or with a Related Style Manager, then any advisory fee or other compensation paid to Merrill Lynch or our Affiliates that is incurred in connection with the investment in a Related Fund, or any Style Manager Expense incurred in connection with the investment with such Related Style Manager, will be credited to the Retirement Account on a periodic basis, to the extent required by law.

If you contribute to a Retirement Account or hold in a Retirement Account mutual fund shares that we deem to be ineligible for the Program, such shares will be converted into a class of shares of the same mutual fund we deem to be eligible, and will thereafter subject to the Program Fee. The timing of any such conversion is determined by us in our sole discretion. Prior to contributing any mutual fund shares to your Retirement Account, you should discuss the impact of a conversion of these shares with your Advisor and any economic impact.

Certain Alternative Investment Funds may use the services of Merrill Lynch or one of our Affiliates in the ordinary course of the fund's business, as directed by a fund's manager that is not our Affiliate. In such cases, Merrill Lynch or one of our Affiliates may receive compensation for its services from the Alternative Investment Fund or the fund's manager. If Merrill Lynch determines that receiving (or continuing to receive) such compensation with respect to a particular Alternative Investment Fund could constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code, Merrill Lynch will offset such additional compensation by crediting against the Program Fee an amount that is equal to the Merrill Lynch Fee Rate applicable to the Alternative Investment Fund's AI Advisory Units held in the Account for the applicable billing period. During periods for which a fee offset is applied to an Alternative Investment Fund investment, your Advisor will not receive compensation with respect to such investment. This may create an incentive for your Advisor to recommend the sale of such investment. Merrill Lynch may also limit or prohibit additional Retirement Account investments in such fund's AI Advisory Units.

Retirement Accounts investing in Alternative Investment Funds do so through units specifically structured for Retirement Account investors, which do not provide for fee sharing with or payment of placement or selling agent fees to Merrill Lynch or our Affiliates.

If your Account is a Retirement Account, and you invest in an Alternative Investment Fund, you may receive an in-kind distribution (that is, a distribution that is not made in cash) from the Alternative Investment Fund. If this occurs, in the Client Agreement, you acknowledged that you will be responsible for ensuring that your Retirement Account may accept and hold the distributed asset, and that no prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code will result. Merrill Lynch will not monitor the ability of Retirement Accounts to receive in-kind distributions from Alternative Investment Funds, and will not be acting as a fiduciary under ERISA or otherwise with respect to an in-kind distribution made to your Retirement Account. You should speak to your own tax, financial, or legal advisors if you have any questions concerning the receipt of in-kind distributions by your Retirement Account.

Retirement Account clients: (i) acknowledge receipt of the prospectus, offering materials or other required disclosure document, and agree to acknowledge receipt of such documents in the future, if applicable, for any Style Manager Related Fund included in a Strategy selected by the client and for any Related Fund; (ii) represent that the client is independent of, and unrelated to, Merrill Lynch, the Style Manager and their Affiliates; and (iii) approve the investment management and other fees paid by any Style Manager Related Fund and by any Related Fund held in your Retirement Account in relation to the Account fees payable pursuant to the Client Agreement.

You may revoke or modify the approval reflected in the prior sentence at any time by notifying your Advisor. Such notice should include instructions regarding the disposition of the proceeds of the sale of shares of any Style Manager Related Fund and any Related Fund then held in the Retirement Account. Redemptions from such funds may be subject to certain limitations and restrictions. Moreover such limitations or restrictions may restrict your ability to take otherwise "Required Minimum Distributions" from your Retirement Account.

Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

Review, Selection and Strategy Construction for Strategies Available in the Program

The Program is designed to provide clients with access to investment solutions offering various investment styles and risk levels through Style Manager Strategies and Funds. The available Style Manager Strategies and Funds may be managed by Merrill Lynch, an Affiliate, a Related Company or a third-party manager.

As a general matter, we decide whether to include particular Style Manager Strategies and Funds in the Program (or to remove them from the Program) based on a variety of factors, including client needs, investment styles available in the marketplace, platform capacity, client demand and the outcome of reviews conducted by or under the auspices of Merrill Lynch, including through the Merrill Lynch GWIM Chief Investment Office ("GWIM CIO"). Please note that not all Funds offered through the Program or that may be held in an Account are subject to the same process for review and selection described in this section and certain Funds may not be available for your Account or may not be recommended by your Advisor. You should discuss with your Advisor which investment options are offered by your Advisor.

1. Initial Review and Selection of Style Manager and Funds; Periodic Reviews.

The initial and periodic reviews of Style Manager Strategies and Funds available for investment in the Program are performed by us, through our business reviews and, for Style Manager Strategies and a significant number of Funds, through an investment review conducted by or under the auspices of personnel of the GWIM CIO. The GWIM CIO is a Merrill Lynch business group providing investment solutions, portfolio construction advice and wealth management guidance to Advisors and clients, and it is separate from the Merrill Lynch business group that administers the Program and from MAA.

The initial and periodic review of Style Manager Strategies and Funds is conducted through our proprietary processes, including those conducted by the GWIM CIO, or through those provided by third-party reviewers, which we have engaged for this purpose (such review processes, including those provided by third-party reviewers are referred to as the “GWIM CIO Review Process”). The services provided by third parties as part of the GWIM CIO Review Process are generally consistent with the multi-factor processes described below, but they are not identical. The third parties may use different factors in evaluating Style Manager Strategies and Funds, or may assign different weightings to the same factors. However, we, through the GWIM CIO, have reviewed such third-party reviewers’ processes and believe they are reasonable and appropriate in light of the objectives of the Program.

Merrill Lynch retains the decision-making authority to add or remove a Style Manager Strategy or Fund from the Program, regardless of or in light of the results of any review conducted, including the GWIM CIO Review Process.

Once we identify a need for a particular investment management style, a multi-factor process is used to review and select appropriate Style Manager Strategies and Funds to meet this need. These factors may include, but are not limited to:

- Organizational structure and stability of a Style Manager or Fund;
- Adherence to investment style;
- Evaluation of risk and volatility;
- Investment professional and strategy resources;
- Investment philosophy and process;
- Portfolio construction;
- Performance; and
- Operating and administrative capability.

Based on these factors and using the information collected, both quantitative and qualitative analytical methods may be used in the context of the GWIM CIO Review Process to review and select Style Manager Strategies and Funds. Some of the analytical methods may be subjective. Different weightings may be assigned to each of the factors considered and generally no single factor will be determinative as to whether a particular Style Manager or Fund is offered. Further, we may replace one or more factors with a different factor that we reasonably believe is suitable and appropriate.

These reviews, including those conducted through the GWIM CIO Review Process, may be accomplished through various means, including, but not limited to, in-person visits, telephone conference calls, reviews of performance, and updates of certain Style Manager or Fund documents and information. We may also conduct periodic analysis of composite performance to determine whether that performance generally appears to be consistent with that of Managed and Custom Managed Strategies. We do not perform audits of Style Managers or Funds to verify past performance information that the Style Managers or Funds provide to us.

For each Style Manager Strategy and Fund, we will periodically, but no less frequently than annually, evaluate factors related to the Style Manager, Style Manager Strategy and Fund investment, that we deem appropriate, including those factors listed above (excepting certain mutual funds not subject to the GWIM CIO Review Process). These reviews may occur as part of the GWIM CIO Review Process or otherwise. In addition, we will evaluate on an as needed basis, as determined by the GWIM CIO or by us, any material change related to such Style Manager or Fund and the impact of any such changes including on the investment advisers managing Fund assets.

We may, in our discretion, conduct additional or more frequent reviews of select Style Managers and Funds that we believe warrant such additional or more frequent review. These reviews can be initiated based on any number of factors determined by us and the GWIM CIO to be appropriate, including the level of assets of the Style Manager or Fund in client accounts at Merrill Lynch or an Affiliate, the number or percentage of Merrill Lynch or an Affiliate clients in the Style Manager Strategy or Fund, the asset class involved, or whether the Style Manager or Fund is used in a Managed Strategy.

2. Information Available to Advisors regarding Style Manager Strategies and Funds.

We make available guidance to Advisors through regular or ad hoc internal publications, including those from the GWIM CIO, that reflect our internal opinions and views with respect to a Style Manager Strategy or Fund. In addition, we will communicate information to Advisors regarding determinations to stop offering certain Style Manager Strategies and Funds in the Program or to terminate such investments from the Program. All such information is available to your Advisor in considering whether a particular Style Manager Strategy or Fund is appropriate for investment. Your Advisor is not obligated in all circumstances to take action with respect to any Style Manager or Fund determination and has the ability to decide not to use or follow this additional guidance and to make independent recommendations with respect to Style Manager Strategies and Funds. You should discuss with your Advisor any questions you may have about our views with respect to a particular Style Manager Strategy or Fund. In addition, not all Funds are reviewed or covered by the GWIM CIO Review Process.

3. Status Change or Termination of Style Manager Strategies and Funds.

If, as a result of our review, we identify material concerns regarding a Style Manager Strategy or Fund, we may choose not to accept any new investments in a Style Manager Strategy or Fund. At times, the style of management of a particular Style Manager Strategy or Fund will vary or drift from the stated style. We will allow a Style Manager Strategy or Fund to vary investment styles without removing the strategy or style from the Program if we determine that the changes to the style are reasonable under the circumstances. Please see the section “Investment Options Available in Managed Strategies and Custom Managed Strategies”.

Our review of Style Manager Strategies or Funds does not substitute for your ongoing monitoring of your Account and the performance of your investments.

4. Strategy Selection and Construction – Responsibility of the Manager or the Advisor.

For Managed Strategies, Merrill Lynch, through the GWIM CIO, a Merrill Lynch Affiliate or another Style Manager will construct the strategy and select the Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds and the allocations or allocation ranges for each strategy. Managed Strategies are generally organized according to a shared characteristic, such as asset class or investment style. Please refer to your Profile for additional information.

For Custom Managed Strategies, your Advisor is responsible for constructing the strategy and selecting the Style Manager Strategies and/or Funds and the allocations for each strategy. Please see the section entitled “Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines”.

Not all Funds are available for inclusion in a particular Strategy. The Funds are reviewed for the administrative and operational requirements for Merrill Lynch’s platform, but not all Funds are subject to the same review process described in the section “Review, Selection and Strategy Construction for Strategies Available in the Program". This process may be supplemented or updated in the future. With certain exceptions, the securities, mutual funds (other than certain no-load funds only available in the Program) and ETFs that are available in the Program are generally the same securities, mutual funds and ETFs available for your purchase in brokerage accounts.

5. Profiles and Other Information.

You will generally be provided with a Profile for each Managed and Custom Managed Strategy made available to you through the Program. You should carefully read the Profiles provided and understand the relevant objectives, styles and risks. While the Profile provides general information, any past performance shown on the Profile is not indicative of future results and the performance of that portion of your assets invested pursuant to a particular Style Manager Strategy may differ from the information presented in the Profile. The Profile will also describe the role of MAA and, if applicable, the Style Manager in implementing each Style Manager Strategy, and any related Account requirements with respect to the Managed or Custom Managed Strategy. If your Managed or Custom Managed Strategy includes Funds, we will also send to you or otherwise make available the applicable prospectus and/or disclosure documents, as required by law. The disclosure documents will describe the relevant objectives, styles and risks of the Fund. For additional information concerning the Style Manager of your Strategy, you may also consult the Style Manager Form ADV Part 2A brochure or equivalent document, which is provided when you enroll your account and is available upon request from your Advisor. Each Style Manager's Form ADV Part 2A brochure is also available on the SEC website at http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Content/Search/iapd_Search.aspx.

Once a Managed Strategy has been approved, a Profile is prepared which includes information about the Style Manager, the Style Manager's investment style and certain performance results. Each Profile is prepared based on certain information provided by the Style Manager, and each Style Manager is responsible for notifying us of any material event or occurrence which would require the Profile to be revised or that would render the Profile inaccurate or incomplete.

It is the obligation of each Style Manager to establish and maintain each Style Manager Strategy in the manner generally described in the then-current Profile. In the case of Style Managers that are not Discretionary Managers, this means that they are obligated to provide us on a timely basis notice as to whether any changes have been made to the Style Manager Strategy and the proper application of a buy, sell or hold decision for each such change. MAA will implement the recommendations for that Style Manager Strategy on a timely basis, subject to reasonable investment restrictions or other factors. It is similarly the obligation of each Discretionary Manager who has full discretion to place orders for all transactions to manage your Account assets allocated to such Style Manager Strategy in the manner generally described in the then-current Profile, subject to reasonable investment restrictions or other appropriate factors.

We cannot guarantee the accuracy or consistency of the information contained in the Profiles. However, each Style Manager is required, upon our request, to review the Profile and to confirm to us following each such review that all of the information reviewed continues to be accurate and complete. Furthermore, the methodology used by each Style Manager to select and aggregate accounts for performance reporting purposes (i.e., the development of the Style Manager Strategy composite), as well as the calculation of performance results provided by each Style Manager for its composite, may not have been created or calculated on a uniform or consistent basis from investment adviser to investment adviser.

No claim is made that the performance information contained in the Profiles has been calculated according to any industry standards. Performance information relating to non-Program accounts includes data pertaining to types of accounts such as mutual funds and tax-exempt or institutional accounts, that are different from Program Accounts, and also includes model results or results of portions of multiple style accounts (such as the equity results of a balanced, equity/fixed-income style), which are generally described as hypothetical performance.

The performance information included in a Profile can be based on the Style Manager implementing its investment decisions directly. For Style Manager Strategies not managed by a Discretionary Manager, the investment decisions will generally be implemented by MAA based on investment recommendations from Style Managers through model portfolios. MAA's implementation of investment advice from Style Managers could result in performance that is materially different from the results that the Style Manager would achieve if it managed your Account directly. Account performance also may differ from the prior results for a variety of other reasons, including:

- Differences in the types, availability and diversity of securities that can be purchased;
- Regulatory restrictions on the purchase of certain securities;
- Economies of scale and other factors applicable to investment in large accounts; and
- Gains or losses caused by currency transactions.

Accordingly, MAA cannot assure that the actual performance of Accounts participating in the Program will be similar to the Style Manager's past performance. However, after considering, among other factors, information and representations provided by the Style Manager, MAA believes that the Style Manager's past performance is reasonably representative of the investment style as it will be implemented in the Program by MAA and is sufficiently relevant for consideration by a potential or existing client.

The performance information included in a Profile is accompanied by important disclosures about the types of accounts included as well as other relevant topics. You should carefully consider all of this information when deciding whether to select the particular Style Manager Strategy. Profiles are updated at least annually and are typically updated quarterly to include performance information as of the most recent quarter-end. You are encouraged to ask your Advisor for the most current Profiles of your selected Style Manager Strategies. You should read carefully the Profile, prospectus and/or disclosure documents and discuss any questions you may have with your Advisor.

Special Information about Related Person and Other Investment Managers – Selection and Review

1. Level of Review.

The Style Manager Strategies available in the Program include those that are constructed, implemented and managed by Merrill Lynch or one of its Affiliates and as to which it or such Affiliate act as the Style Manager. These Strategies, including Managed Strategies and Defined Strategies, constructed and implemented by us or your Advisor, are not subject to the same level of review as described above, that is applicable to third-party Style Managers. The inclusion of Related Managed Strategies and Funds in the Program is subject to internal governance processes and any applicable legal restrictions. These Style Manager Strategies include those constructed and implemented by the GWIM CIO and those that are the subject of BofAML Global Research. In addition, certain Style Manager Strategies and Managed Strategies provided by other Style Managers will also not be subject to the same review process as described above and as further described in the Profile(s).

2. Use of Related Funds in Strategies.

The Program does not currently offer any Related Funds in the Program. However, Related Funds to the extent any such funds may be available, may be part of a Managed Strategy. You acknowledge that, in such case, MAA and Style Managers may purchase certain Related Funds, which may become available in the Program. The Related Funds would include those funds that are advised by our Affiliates.

We would benefit from our economic interest in Related Companies and our relationship with Bank of America whenever such entities or their Affiliates receive compensation for providing investment advisory, administrative, transfer agency, distribution or other services to Related Funds or other investment products. The extent of this benefit will be greater than when we or our Affiliates have an economic interest in the firm providing such services. As a result, we will benefit from increased sales of Funds and other investment products of Related Companies and Bank of America Affiliates to a greater extent than from increased sales of funds or investment products of other firms in which we and our Affiliates do not have a similar economic interest or relationship.

The use of Related Style Managers and Related Funds (to the extent any become available) in your Account in certain cases will result in more overall compensation to us and our Affiliates than if third-party managers and funds were used. MLPF&S and MAA address these conflicts by disclosing them in this Brochure.

3. Our Relationships with Certain Style Managers.

From time to time, Merrill Lynch may enter into distribution agreements with one or more asset managers pursuant to which Merrill Lynch distributes certain products and services sponsored or advised by the asset manager.

Consistent with applicable laws, management and employees of Bank of America and its Affiliates may be provided a broader level of access and exposure to Merrill Lynch, our management, Advisors and other personnel, marketing events and materials, and client-related and other information. Such access and exposure may not be available to other asset managers and may enhance the ability of Bank of America Affiliates to distribute their funds and other investment products through us.

4. Relationship of the Program with other Affiliate Programs at Merrill Lynch.

In addition, other Bank of America Affiliates or divisions, such as U.S. Trust, Bank of America Private Wealth Management, offer their own managed products or wrap programs that are similar to this or other Merrill Lynch programs. Advice and/or recommendations provided to accounts in these programs will be different from or even conflict with the advice and guidance provided in connection with the Program, including as to the Style Manager recommendations and review determinations. This is due to, among other things, the differing nature of the Affiliate's investment advisory services and differing processes and criteria upon which determinations are made. For example, GWIM CIO may recommend a specific investment manager for inclusion in a U.S. Trust program, but not in a Merrill Lynch program.

Further, although the GWIM CIO releases information and analyses about a Style Manager or a Fund to all Affiliates simultaneously and BofAML Global Research may make its research opinions and research reports available regarding securities and research strategies at the same time, it is possible that such Affiliates will act on that information before Merrill Lynch or MAA has had the chance to evaluate and act on those changes. Accounts participating in a Merrill Lynch program that commences trading after those of other Affiliates may be subject to price movements, particularly with large orders or where securities are thinly traded, that would cause them to receive prices that are less favorable than those obtained by Affiliates

5. Role of your Advisor in the Program.

Your Advisor's view of the securities, Funds and Style Manager Strategies will be an important factor in determining which securities, Funds and Style Manager Strategies are recommended to you or purchased for your Accounts(s). The performance of any Defined or Personalized Strategy, and certain Custom Managed Strategies, will be dependent on your Advisor's ability to develop and implement such Strategies. Before choosing a Defined Strategy, Personalized Strategy or Custom Managed Strategy, you should perform your own assessment of the Advisor's ability to manage the Strategy. There will be Style Manager Strategies available to you in Managed Strategies and certain Custom Managed Strategies that are similar to a Defined Strategy offered by your Advisor.

Your Advisor will have available to them a profile for the Defined Strategies they offer ("Defined Strategy Profile"). While the Defined Strategy Profile provides general information, any past performance shown on the Defined Strategy Profile is not indicative of future results and it is possible that the performance of that portion of your assets invested pursuant to a particular Defined Strategy will differ from the information presented in the Defined Strategy Profile.

Your Advisor has the discretion to manage the assets in a Defined Strategy in a manner that is different from the description provided in the Defined Strategy Profile without your consent. However, holdings in your Defined Strategy Account and the asset allocation of the Defined Strategy will be included in your Account statements. You will be notified of any changes to your Defined Strategy Account is managed through your statement and any material changes to the Defined Strategy will be discussed with you. Any such changes as to how the Defined Strategy is managed likely will materially impact the performance of your Account.

No claim is made that the performance information contained in the Defined Strategy Profiles has been calculated according to any industry standards. The performance information included in a Defined Strategy Profile is accompanied by important disclosures about the types of accounts included in the Profile as well as other relevant topics. You should carefully consider all of this information when deciding whether to select the particular Defined Strategy. Defined Strategy Profiles are updated at least annually and are typically updated quarterly to include performance information as of the most recent quarter-end. You are encouraged to ask your Advisors for the most current Defined Strategy Profiles of your selected Defined Strategies.

Merrill Lynch, Certain Affiliates and Advisors Acting as Portfolio Managers

1. Advisory Services Provided by Merrill Lynch; Certain Affiliates; and Advisors.

Except where you select a Strategy with Client Discretion, Merrill Lynch, acting primarily through your Advisor, will generally act as the portfolio manager as described above in the section "Strategies and Program Guidelines". In addition, if you select either Managed or Custom Managed Strategies, MAA will generally act as the portfolio manager as described above in the section "Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines - MAA's Role in Managed and Custom Managed Strategies". Finally, in both Managed and Custom Managed Strategies, if you choose a Related Style Manager Strategy, such Related Style Manager will generally act as a portfolio manager, as described in the applicable Profile for the Related Style Manager Strategy.

2. Tailored Investment Advice.

As described above in the section "Portfolio Advice and Guidance" you may set a Portfolio Target Asset Allocation based on certain factors provided by you, select one or more Strategies for each of your Portfolios, and impose Reasonable Investment Restrictions. As described in the section “Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines,” depending upon the Strategy(ies) you select, your Advisor will help you select or select for you investments, including Style Manager Strategies, Funds and/or securities consistent with your Portfolio Target Asset Allocation, investment objectives and other information you provide to us.

3. Wrap Fee Programs.

We act as both the wrap fee program sponsor and, as described above, the portfolio manager in Strategies described in this Brochure. We also act as the portfolio manager in other wrap fee programs sponsored by us. We receive the entire Merrill Lynch Fee as described in this Brochure. As explained in the section “Program Fees,” the Style Manager Expenses are separate from (and in addition to) the Merrill Lynch Fee. We do not retain any portion of the Style Manager Expense, unless we or an Affiliate serves as the Style Manager.

We also act as a portfolio manager in certain investment advisory programs which are not wrap fee programs but are otherwise similar to the program described in this Brochure.

4. Performance-Based Fees.

The Program does not charge performance-based fees, although certain Alternative Investment Funds available through the Program may be subject to a performance-based fee charged by the Fund’s manager, advisor or other party.

5. Methods of Analysis.

As described in the section “Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines”, our Advisors and personnel have available to them certain research and analysis prepared by us and third parties.

If you have an investment policy statement or other investment guidelines (“IPS”), it is your responsibility to ensure that the IPS is properly reflected in your responses to your Advisor and are reflected in your Portfolio Summary, including any investment restrictions and to the extent the terms of such IPS conflict with an investment or Strategy you select under the Program, by signing the Agreement, you agreed that the terms of such IPS were amended to incorporate by reference such investment or Strategy. We do not have any responsibility to review, monitor or adhere to any IPS relating to your Account, and adherence to such IPS is solely your responsibility.

6. Voting Client Securities.

You have the right to vote proxies for securities held in your Account(s) or to select a third-party agent to vote on your behalf. If you grant investment discretion and trading authority to either us or a Discretionary Manager, you may delegate proxy voting authority for all securities to the Proxy Delegation Vendor.

For all account enrollments, unless you notify us in writing, you instruct as follows: (1) for Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Accounts or Accounts for which the assets are held at an Unrelated Custodian unless otherwise agreed, you will retain proxy voting authority, (2) for all other Program Strategies, you delegate voting discretion to the Proxy Delegation Vendor or a successor proxy voting service, voting under the Proxy Delegation Vendor’s voting policies and guidelines, or to Merrill Lynch, as described in the section “Services, Fees and Compensation - Account Preferences and Other Elective Services”.

Client Information Provided to Investment Managers

As part of the enrollment process, we elicit information about your financial circumstances, investment objectives, risk tolerance and other relevant information relating to your Accounts and Portfolios. We provide this information to Style Managers as necessary and pursuant to the Client Agreement. We do not generally provide this information to Funds.

We rely on information you provide in managing your assets, and it is your responsibility to notify promptly your Advisor of any updates to such information. You have represented that the information that you provide us is accurate and complete in all material respects. It is your responsibility to notify promptly your Advisor of any material changes to the information you furnish to us, since failure to do so could affect the suitability of the services being provided. We will not be required to verify the accuracy of any such information. When we receive from you any material changes to the information you furnish, we will provide this information to MAA and, in certain instances, to Style Managers. If you have an investment policy statement or other investment guidelines, it is your responsibility to ensure that the investment policy statement or guidelines are properly reflected in your responses to your Advisor and are reflected in your Portfolio Summary, including any investment restrictions. We do not have any responsibility to review, monitor or adhere to any investment policy statement, investment guidelines or similar document relating to your Account, and adherence to such investment policy statement, guidelines or similar document is solely your responsibility.

Client Contact with Investment Managers

MAA has agreed to make one or more of its advisory or investment personnel reasonably available for consultation with you and your Advisor regarding a Style Manager Strategy, if you request. Upon request, certain Discretionary Managers periodically will make one or more of their advisory or investment personnel reasonably available for consultation with MAA, with Advisors or with you for a joint consultation with your Advisor regarding a Style Manager Strategy, the composition and performance of a Strategy, and the factors underlying the selection of the securities included in a Style Manager Strategy. You should contact your Advisor to arrange for a consultation with MAA or a Discretionary Manager.

Additional Information

Disciplinary Information

In the past, we have entered into certain settlements with our regulators and other third parties and have been the subject of adverse legal and disciplinary events. Below are summaries of certain events that may be material to your decision of whether to retain us for your investment advisory needs. Please note that certain disclosures discuss disciplinary events associated with Banc of America Investment Services, Inc. (“BAI”) and Banc of America Securities LLC (“BAS”). BAI merged with Merrill Lynch on October 23, 2009, and BAS merged with Merrill Lynch on November 1, 2010. For the purposes of the disclosures on disciplinary information set forth in this section, “Merrill Lynch” shall refer to MLPF&S. In addition to the descriptions below, you can find additional information regarding these settlements in Part 1 of Merrill Lynch’s Form ADV at: http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Content/Search/iapd_Search.aspx.

On June 16, 2014, Merrill Lynch, without admitting or denying the findings, entered into an AWC with FINRA. The AWC related to Merrill Lynch's failure to have an adequate supervisory system to ensure that certain clients received Class A shares with sales charge waivers when purchasing certain mutual funds. As a result, those clients paid sales loads when purchasing Class A shares, or purchased Class B or C shares with higher expenses, during various periods. The clients included those having two types of retirement accounts and another type of client in brokerage accounts offered by Merrill Lynch. Merrill Lynch reported certain of these issues to FINRA and all impacted clients have been or are in the process of being reimbursed as set forth in the AWC. Merrill Lynch consented to the imposition of a censure and a fine of $8 million, and agreed to provide additional reimbursement to impacted clients as set forth in the AWC.

On June 21, 2012, Merrill Lynch, without admitting or denying the findings, entered into an AWC with FINRA related to the following five issues: (1) Merrill Lynch failed to have an adequate supervisory system to ensure that clients in certain investment advisory programs were billed in accordance with applicable contract and disclosure statements, and, as a result, overcharged certain client accounts unwarranted fees from April 2003 to December 2011; the client accounts impacted were less than 5% of Merrill Lynch's total advisory accounts, and the fees overcharged represented less than one-half of 1% ($32,174,369) of the total advisory fees billed during that period; all impacted clients have been reimbursed; (2) between July 2006 and November 2010, Merrill Lynch failed to send contemporaneous and/or periodic trade confirmations to certain client accounts for ten investment advisory programs; (3) between 1992 and June 2011, Merrill Lynch did not include or accurately state whether Merrill Lynch acted as an agent or a principal on trade confirmations and account statements relating to certain mutual fund transactions; (4) between 2007 and 2010, Merrill Lynch, either directly or through third-party vendors, failed to deliver proxy materials to certain clients or to their designated investment advisers, and to have an adequate supervisory system to detect its failure to deliver proxies; the clients impacted constituted less than 1% of Merrill Lynch's clients during that period; and (5) between October 2001 and June 2010, Merrill Lynch failed to send margin risk disclosure statements and/or business continuity plans to certain clients upon the opening of their accounts; the clients impacted constituted less than 1% of Merrill Lynch's clients during that period. In determining the appropriate sanctions, FINRA considered Merrill Lynch's internal review through which it identified the violations, the remedial measures that Merrill Lynch took to correct its systems and procedures, and Merrill Lynch's efforts to provide remediation to affected clients. Merrill Lynch consented to the imposition of a censure and a fine of $2.8 million.

On October 4, 2011, Merrill Lynch entered into a consent agreement with FINRA regarding the following events. FINRA alleged that Merrill Lynch failed to have a supervisory system to ensure that all accounts in which an employee either had a financial interest or over which the employee had control were monitored and reviewed for potential misconduct. In addition, FINRA found that Merrill Lynch failed to establish, maintain and enforce written procedures to adequately supervise a registered representative who was subsequently found to have used a business account at the firm to implement a fraudulent scheme. Without admitting or denying the findings, Merrill Lynch consented to the entry of findings, a censure, and a fine of $1,000,000.

On June 6, 2009, the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York entered a judgment enjoining BAI and BAS from violating, directly or indirectly, Section 15(c) of the Exchange Act. The SEC had filed a complaint alleging that BAI and BAS misled customers regarding the fundamental nature and increasing risks associated with auction rate securities ("ARS") underwritten, marketed and sold by BAS and BAI and that by engaging in such conduct, BAI and BAS had violated Section 15(c) of the Exchange Act. Without admitting or denying the allegations, BAI and BAS entered into a consent, whereby they agreed to a series of undertakings designed to provide relief to "individual investors" (as defined in the consent) including: (1) through their Affiliate, offering to purchase at par from individual investors certain ARS; (2) agreeing to use reasonable efforts to identify individual investors who sold certain ARS below par, and to pay such investors the difference between par and the price at which they sold the securities; (3) agreeing to participate in a special arbitration process for the purpose of arbitrating any individual investor's consequential damage claim related to its investment in ARS; (4) agreeing to refund certain refinancing securities through the firms; and (5) undertaking to make their best efforts to work with issuers and other interested parties to seek to provide liquidity solutions for institutional investors that are not considered "individual investors." Two similar regulatory actions involving the marketing and sale of ARS occurred on January 10, 2012: (1) Merrill Lynch (as successor by merger to BAS and BAI, the "Respondents") agreed to a settlement with the Illinois Securities Department (the "Department"); and (2) Merrill Lynch agreed to a settlement with the North Carolina Department of the Secretary of State, Securities Division (the "Division"). In both actions, it was alleged that inappropriate marketing and sales of ARS occurred without adequately informing certain customers of the increased risks of illiquidity associated with ARS. Both the Department and the Division of the respective states alleged that, through the aforementioned conduct, there occurred dishonest and unethical practices in the offer and sale of securities and failure to supervise agents resulted. In the Illinois action, the Respondents agreed, among other things, to repurchase at par certain illiquid ARS held by certain clients of Merrill Lynch. Additionally, the Respondents agreed to pay a total fine of $1,578,320.87 to the State of Illinois representing Illinois's portion of a total civil penalty of $50,000,000 that will be distributed among the states and U.S. territories that enter into similar administrative or civil consent orders related to ARS. With respect to the North Carolina action, Merrill Lynch agreed, among other things, to repurchase at par certain illiquid ARS held by certain clients of Merrill Lynch. Additionally, Merrill Lynch agreed to pay a total fine of $3,193,552.24 to the Division representing its portion of a total civil penalty of $125,000,000 that will be distributed among the states and U.S. territories that enter into similar administrative or civil consent orders related to ARS.

On March 11, 2009, the SEC issued an order against Merrill Lynch alleging that from 2002 to 2004, several Merrill Lynch retail brokers permitted day traders to hear confidential information regarding Merrill Lynch institutional customers' unexecuted orders as they were transmitted over Merrill Lynch's squawk box system. According to the SEC, Merrill Lynch lacked written policies or procedures to limit access to the equity squawk box, to track which employees had access to the equity squawk box or to monitor employees' use of the equity squawk box in violation of Section 15(f) of the Exchange Act and Section 204A of the Advisers Act. Without admitting or denying the SEC's findings, Merrill Lynch consented to the entry of the order that: (1) found violations of Section 15(f) of the Exchange Act and Section 204A of the Advisers Act for allegedly failing to maintain written policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent the misuse of customer order information; (2) required that Merrill Lynch cease and desist from committing or causing any future violations of the provisions charged; (3) censured Merrill Lynch; (4) imposed a $7,000,000 civil money penalty; and (5) required Merrill Lynch to comply with certain undertakings regarding the enhancement of certain policies and procedures.

On January 30, 2009, the SEC issued an order against Merrill Lynch regarding the Merrill Lynch Consulting Services program and the offering of those services through a Florida branch office for a period of several years concluding in 2005. The Order found that material misrepresentations had been made and certain conflicts of interest not disclosed, and that Merrill Lynch had not maintained adequate records or reasonably supervised certain Florida investment advisory representatives. Without admitting or denying the non-jurisdictional findings thereof, Merrill Lynch consented to a censure, to cease and desist from violations of sections 204 and 206(2) of the Advisers Act and Rule 204-2(a) (14) thereunder, and a fine of $1,000,000. In accepting the settlement, the SEC noted the voluntary and significant remedial acts promptly undertaken by Merrill Lynch.

On May 1, 2008, the SEC issued an administrative order in which it found that BAI had willfully violated Sections 17(a)(2) and 17(a)(3) of the Securities Act, Sections 206(2), 206(4) and 207 of the Advisers Act and Advisers Act Rule 206(4)-1(a)(5) for failing to disclose to clients that in selecting investments for discretionary mutual fund wrap fee accounts, it favored two mutual funds Affiliated with BAI. In the Order the SEC also found that Columbia Management Advisors, LLC ("Columbia Management"), as successor in interest to Banc of America Capital Management, LLC willfully aided and abetted and caused BAI's violations of Sections 206(2) and 206(4) of the Advisers Act, and Advisers Act Rule 206(4)-1(a)(5). In the order, BAI and Columbia Management were censured and ordered to cease and desist from committing or causing such violations and future violations. In addition, BAI was ordered to pay disgorgement plus prejudgment interest in the aggregate amount of $793,773.00 to certain entities specified in the Order, and a civil monetary penalty of $2,000,000; and Columbia Management was ordered to pay disgorgement plus prejudgment interest in the aggregate amount of $516,382 to certain entities specified in the Order, and a civil monetary penalty of $1,000,000. BAI and Columbia Management consented to the Order without admitting or denying the SEC's findings. BAI also agreed to certain undertakings contained within the Order.

On February 14, 2008, Merrill Lynch consented to an AWC issued by FINRA. FINRA alleged that from at least January 2001 until January 2006, as a result of certain operational and supervisory deficiencies Merrill Lynch failed to timely and consistently update the firm's record system relating to certain investment advisory and fee-based accounts. When clients change investment advisers or terminated enrollment in certain investment advisory or fee-based accounts, Merrill Lynch failed to consistently make changes in account proxy delivery addresses and/or remove traits that suppressed trade confirmation delivery in the firm's record systems. Additionally, Merrill Lynch failed to maintain written supervisory procedures and a reasonable system of follow-up and review with respect to such operational changes. Without admitting or denying the findings, Merrill Lynch consented to a censure and a fine of $175,000.

On March 4, 2005, Merrill Lynch entered into a consent order with the State of New Jersey Office of the Attorney General Department of Law and Public Safety and the New Jersey Bureau of Securities ("Attorney General"). The Attorney General alleged: (1) market timing conduct by three Merrill Lynch Advisors engaged in market timing on behalf of their principal client, a hedge fund and that despite warnings from supervisors that they were violating Merrill Lynch's policies, the Advisors continued to market time for the client until they were fired in October 2003, using among other things, multiple accounts and undisclosed agreements to conduct and disguise their trading; (2) that Merrill Lynch failed to adequately supervise certain activities in connection with the conduct described above including failure to keep adequate books and records in violation of the Exchange Act and New Jersey law; (3) the client entered into variable annuity contracts and certain other variable life insurance contracts with certain non-proprietary insurance carriers through the Advisors to engage in short term trading in the investment sub-accounts of these products and although the client's reallocation instructions were relayed through the Advisors to the insurance companies, Merrill Lynch gave no specific instruction to the Advisors concerning the reallocation of the underlying sub-accounts of variable products; and (4) that Merrill Lynch failed to adequately enforce its established policy prohibiting market timing. Without admitting or denying the findings in the order, Merrill Lynch agreed to pay a civil monetary penalty of $10 million and to certain undertakings including implementation of new procedures to maintain, as a required book and record under New Jersey and federal securities laws, records of all client reallocation requests made through a Merrill Lynch employee that involve mutual funds held as sub-accounts of variable annuity products of outside insurance carriers.

On February 9, 2005, pursuant to an offer of settlement by BAS in which it neither admitted nor denied the findings, the SEC issued an administrative order. The SEC found that from July 2000 through July 2003, BAS, Banc of America Capital Management, LLC ("BACAP") and BACAP Distributors, LLC ("BACAP Distributors") facilitated market timing and late trading by some introducing broker-dealers and a hedge fund at the expense of shareholders of Nations Funds and other mutual fund families, provided account management tools and other assistance, and enabled introducing broker-dealers to conceal their client's market timing activities from mutual funds. In the order, BAS was: (1) censured; (2) ordered to cease and desist from committing or causing any present or future violations of 17(a) of the Securities Act, 10(b), 15(c) and 17(a) of the Exchange Act and Rules 10b-5, 15c1-2, and 17a-4 thereunder and Rule 22c-1, as adopted under 22(c) of the Investment Company Act, and from causing any present or future violations of 34(b) of the Investment Company Act and 206(1) and 206(2) of the Advisers Act; and (3) ordered to pay, jointly and severally with BACAP and BACAP Distributors $250 million in disgorgement plus a civil monetary penalty of $125 million. BAS also agreed to comply with certain undertakings including: (1) maintaining a compliance and ethics oversight infrastructure having, among other things, a code of ethics oversight committee, an internal compliance controls committee, a senior level compliance officer for conflicts of interest and a corporate ombudsman; (2) retaining an independent compliance consultant to, among other things, review compliance, supervisory and other policies and procedures and adopt such procedures; (3) undergoing third-party compliance review every other year; and (4) retaining an independent distribution consultant.

On April 28, 2003, as part of a joint settlement with the SEC, NYSE and NASD arising from a joint investigation by the SEC, NYSE and NASD into research analysts' conflicts of interest, Merrill Lynch, without admitting or denying the allegations of the complaint filed by the SEC, consented to the entry of a final judgment ("Final Judgment"). Pursuant to the settlement, which was entered on October 31, 2003 and modified on March 15, 2010, Merrill Lynch: (1) was permanently enjoined from violating Section 15(c) of the Exchange Act and Rule 15c1-2 thereunder, NASD Conduct Rules 2110, 2210 and 3010, and NYSE Rules 342, 401, 472 and 476; (2) was ordered to pay a penalty of $100,000,000, which was deemed satisfied by prior payments to the states in a related proceeding; (3) was ordered to pay substantial amounts for third-party research and investor education; and (4) was ordered to comply with certain additional undertakings. In a related disciplinary event, Merrill Lynch (as successor by merger to BAS) entered into an amended offer of settlement with the SEC on October 9, 2012. The settlement stems from an SEC Order dated March 14, 2007 against BAS (the "2007 BAS Order") claiming that BAS investment bankers inappropriately influenced equity research analysts, resulting in the publication of materially false and misleading research during the period of January 1999 through December 2001. The 2007 BAS Order censured BAS and ordered BAS to: (i) cease and desist from committing or causing any violations or future violations of Section 15(c) and 15(f) of the Exchange Act, and Rule 15c1-2(a); (ii) pay $26 million in disgorgement and penalties into a fair fund for distribution to its affected customers; (iii) retain an independent consultant to conduct a comprehensive review of the firm's internal controls to prevent the misuse of material nonpublic information concerning BAS research; (iv) certify to the SEC's staff in the second year following the issue of the 2007 BAS Order that BAS had established and continued to maintain Exchange Act Section 15(f) policies, practices, and procedures consistent with the findings of the 2007 BAS Order; and (v) comply with Addendum A to the 2007 BAS Order, which implemented certain structural changes to the operations of the firm's equity research and investment banking departments. In the Merrill Lynch action, the District Court, on March 15, 2010, modified Addendum A to the October 31, 2003 Final Judgment by, among other things, removing similar provisions that remained in Addendum A to the 2007 BAS Order. The 2007 BAS Order, which remains in effect and binding on Merrill Lynch (as successor by merger to BAS), was modified on October 9, 2012, to strike Addendum A and provide that Merrill Lynch analysts, including ex-BAS analysts, must comply with the Final Judgment.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

MLPF&S, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, is a leading global investment banking firm and a registered broker-dealer, investment adviser and futures commission merchant. In the United States, MLPF&S acts as a broker (i.e., agent) for corporate, institutional and governmental and private clients and as a dealer (i.e., principal) in the purchase and sale of corporate securities, primarily equity and debt securities traded on exchanges or in the over-the-counter markets. We also act as a broker and/or a dealer in the purchase and sale of mutual funds, money market instruments, government securities, high-yield bonds, municipal securities, financial futures contracts, and options. The futures business and foreign exchange activities are conducted through MLPF&S and other Affiliates.

MLPF&S operates the firm's U.S. retail branch system, and also provides financing to clients, including margin lending and other extensions of credit as well as a wide variety of financial services, such as securities clearing, retirement services, and custodial services.

MAA, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, is a registered investment adviser that provides investment advisory services to clients that establish accounts under the Program and other investment advisory programs. As registered investment advisers, MLPF&S and MAA complete Form ADVs, which contain additional information about those entities, Bank of America and their Affiliates. Information is available through publicly available filings at the SEC or at http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Content/Search/iapd_Search.aspx. For purposes of Form ADV Part 2, certain MLPF&S and/or MAA management persons are registered as registered representatives or associated persons of Merrill Lynch. In the future, certain MLPF&S and/or MAA personnel may be considered management persons and, as such, may be registered, or have applications pending to register, as registered representatives and associated persons of Merrill Lynch to the extent necessary or appropriate to perform their job responsibilities.

Bank of America, through its subsidiaries and Affiliates, provides broker-dealer, investment banking, financing, wealth management, advisory, asset management, insurance, lending and related products and services on a global basis. These products and services include securities brokerage, trading and underwriting; investment banking, strategic advisory services (including mergers and acquisitions) and other corporate finance activities; wealth management products and services including financial, retirement and generational planning; asset management and investment advisory and related record-keeping services; origination, brokerage, dealer and related activities in swaps, options, forwards, exchange-traded futures, other derivatives, commodities and foreign exchange products; securities clearance, settlement financing services and prime brokerage; private equity and other principal investing activities; proprietary trading of securities, derivatives and loans; banking, trust and lending services, including deposit-taking, consumer and commercial lending, including mortgage loans, and related services; insurance and annuities sales and research across the following disciplines: global equity strategy and economics, global fixed-income and equity-linked research, global fundamental equity research, and global wealth management strategy. Bank of America is subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act and additional information about Bank of America can be found in publicly available filings with the SEC.

We, through our Advisors, may suggest or recommend that clients, including Program clients, use our securities account, execution and custody or other services, or such services of an Affiliate. Similarly, Advisors, who also handle clients' brokerage accounts, may suggest or recommend that you purchase our products or our Affiliates' products. Where you use or purchase Merrill Lynch's or our Affiliate's services or products, we and our Affiliates will receive fees and compensation. Advisors may, as permitted by applicable law, receive compensation (the amount of which may vary) in connection with these products and services.

We address these conflicts in a variety of ways, including disclosure of various conflicts in this Brochure. Moreover, our Advisors are required to recommend investment advisory programs, investment products and securities that are suitable for each client based upon the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance and financial situation and needs. In addition, we have established a variety of restrictions, procedures and disclosures designed to address potential conflicts of interest – both those arising between and among Accounts as well as between Accounts and our business.

Receipt of Compensation from Investment Advisers

We and our Affiliates have business relationships with many investment managers, including Style Managers participating in the Program, separate and apart from the Program. For example, these investment managers may direct their clients' transactions to us and receive research, execution, custodial, pricing and other services offered by us in the normal course of its business. We may receive compensation in connection with such transactions and other services. Certain Style Managers may be Related investment managers, as indicated on the respective Profiles.

Investment managers may pay for, or reimburse us or our Affiliates for, various costs arising from client and prospective client meetings, sales and marketing materials, and educational, training and sales meetings held with Advisors and other personnel of MLPF&S, MAA or their Affiliates relating to the Program and asset management generally. The investment manager may also make charitable donations or cover the costs of reasonable entertainment in connection with events sponsored by MLPF&S or its Affiliates or related to clients. Some third-party vendors, including third-party managers, distributors, and insurance companies, will periodically participate in MLPF&S or Affiliate-hosted internal training and education conferences, as well as conferences that MLPF&S or Affiliate may host for clients. The amount paid for participation is used to offset the expenses incurred for these events and cannot be reasonably allocated to any particular client. The amount paid by any third-party vendor may vary. Based on our historical experience, the aggregate value of these payments to MLPF&S (and its Affiliates) in any particular year has represented less than ½ of one basis point (0.005%) of total customer assets that may be used to procure such vendors' products and services. Note that the level of vendor support is not dependent or related to the level of assets invested by you or any other of our clients in or with the products or services of the particular vendor. Neither MLPF&S nor its Affiliates incentivize Advisors to recommend one vendor's product over another vendor.

1. Gifts and Other Non-Monetary Compensation.

From time to time, third-party vendors, including third-party managers, distributors, and insurance companies, may provide MLPF&S with non-monetary gifts and gratuities, such as promotional items (e.g., coffee mugs, golf balls, or gift baskets), meals and access to certain industry related conferences (collectively, "gifts"). Third-party vendors may also make charitable donations or cover the costs of reasonable entertainment in connection with events sponsored by MLPF&S or its Affiliates or related to clients. MLPF&S has implemented policies and procedures intended to identify, quantify and track gifts that MLPF&S receives. MLPF&S will report gifts received by it or its employees to the extent such amounts exceed the thresholds imposed by applicable regulations.

2. Alternative Investment Funds.

We or our Affiliates have negotiated fee sharing arrangements with substantially all of the managers of the Alternative Investment Funds available through the Program. Pursuant to these arrangements, except as restricted under applicable law, we or our Affiliates receive "Additional Compensation" equal to portions of the management fees, performance-based compensation and/or other asset-based fees payable by such Funds to the manager or an Affiliate thereof that are attributable to investments made in the Fund through us or our Affiliates (including investments made by your Account, either directly or indirectly through a Related Fund). We may also receive Additional Compensation from the managers in the form of one time up front payments or periodic flat fee payments. The managers may also reimburse certain Alternative Investment Fund expenses, which has the effect of reducing or eliminating payments that we and our Affiliates would otherwise bear. We or our Affiliates have negotiated to receive such amounts from the Funds, the investment manager or an Affiliate thereof in order to defray costs incurred in connection with and in consideration of certain administrative and operational support that we and our Affiliates provide to Related Funds that have been organized to facilitate our clients' access to Alternative Investment Funds, and/or in connection with and in consideration of certain distribution, marketing, administrative or other investor services we provide in connection with a client's direct investment in an Unrelated Fund. The amounts and types of such Additional Compensation that we and our Affiliates receive: (i) varies among Alternative Investment Funds, including those that pursue the same or similar strategies, based on the arrangements that are negotiated with the managers and the performance of the Alternative Investment Funds; (ii) may be structured as escalating payments meaning that the amount of Additional Compensation increases as the amount of the Alternative Investment Fund assets attributable to AI Advisory Units that are purchased through us or our Affiliates increases; and (iii) may substantially exceed the cost of the services provided in any given year.

The actual terms of our fee sharing arrangements with Fund managers may be disclosed in the Offering Materials of the relevant Alternative Investment Fund, subject to confidentiality requirements and other obligations imposed by the Fund managers.

For investments in AI Advisory Units by non-retirement Accounts (either directly or indirectly through a Related Fund), we or our Affiliates receive: (i) on an on-going basis, a portion of the management fees, services fees or other asset-based fees payable by an Alternative Investment Fund to its manager or an Affiliate thereof in an amount ranging from 0% to 1% of the average net asset value attributable to AI Advisory Units that are purchased through us or our Affiliates; (ii) on an on-going basis, an amount ranging from 0% to 25% of the total performance-based compensation (i.e., up to approximately 5% of new appreciation over a high water mark or hurdle rate, as applicable) payable by an Alternative Investment Fund to its manager or an Affiliate thereof that is attributable to AI Advisory Units that were purchased through us or our Affiliates; and/or (iii) one time up front payments which generally do not exceed $250,000. Third-party investment managers may also reimburse Alternative Investment Funds sponsored by our Affiliate for certain fund expenses, the amounts of which will vary, but which generally in the aggregate do not exceed $250,000. The amount of Additional Compensation we or our Affiliates receive in connection with any additional AI Advisory Units made available through the Program after the date of this Brochure may exceed the foregoing amounts and ranges. In addition, the amount and nature of the Additional Compensation that we and our Affiliates receive may change over time.

Retirement Accounts investing in Alternative Investment Funds do so through AI Advisory Units specifically structured for Retirement Account investors, which do not provide for fee sharing with or the payment of placement or selling agent fees to Merrill Lynch or its affiliates.

As a result of such fee sharing arrangements, we may have a conflict of interest in selecting certain Alternative Investment Funds for inclusion in the Program over others. You should be aware that the amount of fees paid by the different Fund managers varies and that Fund managers who would otherwise meet our criteria for inclusion in the Program but who do not agree to pay such fees may not be selected, thereby limiting the available universe of Alternative Investment Funds. If you are a non-Retirement Account, the presence of the fee sharing arrangements with certain Alternative Investment Funds, and the fact that they vary with respect to different Alternative Investment Funds, may also create an incentive for us to recommend that you invest in Alternative Investment Funds that pay higher fees to us or our Affiliates. In addition, escalating fee arrangements create an added financial incentive to recommend particular Alternative Investment Funds in order to reach breakpoints necessary to increase the fees paid to us and our Affiliates. The presence of these compensation arrangements may also cause us and our Affiliates to forego opportunities to negotiate more favorable financial terms for client investments in Alternative Investment Funds or to recapture all or a portion of the amount of such Additional Compensation for your benefit.

Any Additional Compensation we and our Affiliates receive in connection with investments in an Alternative Investment Fund will be in addition to the Program Fee and, except to the extent required by applicable law or as otherwise provided herein, we and our Affiliates do not offset any fees and expenses owed to us (including, but not limited to, the Program Fee) by the amount of such Additional Compensation we receive.

We address the conflicts of interests associated with our fee sharing arrangements by calculating the compensation paid to our Advisors on the same basis for all Program assets, including the AI Advisory Units, without regard to the amount of such Additional Compensation we or our Affiliates receive in connection with the Investments. Additionally, we and our Affiliates select the Alternative Investment Funds and managers that are available on our brokerage and advisory platforms and offered through the Program based on qualitative and quantitative evaluation of such factors as performance, risk management policies and procedures and consistency of the execution of their strategy. We have adopted various policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent the receipt of the Additional Compensation, and other business arrangements from affecting the nature of the advice we provide, although such policies and procedures do not eliminate such conflicts of interest.

3. Mutual Funds and Offshore Funds.

Your Accounts may invest in mutual funds. Each mutual fund or its respective principal underwriter or other agent has entered into an agreement with us for the performance of sub-accounting and related services including recordkeeping, processing, reporting and dividend reinvestment services for shareholders of such mutual funds who maintain their shares in a Merrill Lynch securities account including participants in the Program. We and our Affiliates receive sub-accounting fees for the performance of these services, which are either borne by the mutual fund (like other mutual fund expenses) or by its adviser, principal underwriter or other agent. These sub-accounting and related service arrangements generally vary by mutual fund. Depending on the mutual fund or its adviser's, principal underwriter's or other agent's arrangement with us or our Affiliate, we or our Affiliate will receive from the mutual fund or the mutual fund's service provider or its Affiliate, sub-accounting fees of either up to 0.15% per annum of the amount invested in such mutual fund or up to $21 annually per Merrill Lynch client position in the mutual fund. These sub-accounting fee rates are subject to change from time to time.

Sub-accounting fee rates may be received individually, or may be part of a "bundled" arrangement with a mutual fund that includes other types of fees, such as distribution and marketing support payments. We may also receive compensation from some mutual fund sponsors for our distribution, marketing services and other support with regard to their mutual funds in amounts that may vary but will not exceed 0.10% per annum of the amount invested in their mutual funds. We do not retain compensation for sub-accounting distribution, marketing services and other support with respect to mutual funds in Retirement Accounts. For more information, please refer to the document entitled "Mutual Fund Investing at Merrill Lynch" available at www.ml.com/funds and also available from your Advisor upon request. These fees are not paid directly out of your Account, but are either borne by the mutual fund, like other mutual fund expenses, or by the mutual fund's principal underwriter or other agent.

For Offshore Funds, MLPF&S and its Affiliates perform similar distribution, marketing, shareholder servicing, sub-accounting and related services as described above for which MLPF&S and its Affiliates receive asset based compensation from the Offshore Fund's distributor or other service provider. For more information, please refer to the document entitled "Offshore Fund Investing at Merrill Lynch" available at www.ml.com/OffshoreFunds and also available from your Advisor upon request.

In the future, your Account may invest in shares of mutual funds which are Related Funds that we may offer from time to time. Due the additional economic benefit to Merrill Lynch, our Related Companies or their respective Affiliates, as applicable, and, potentially, your Advisor, from investments in such funds, a conflict of interest may exist. For any mutual funds that are Related Funds advised, sponsored or distributed by Merrill Lynch, a Related Company or their respective Affiliates, Merrill Lynch, a Related Company or their respective Affiliates, as applicable, will receive investment management fees and, if applicable, Rule 12b-1 fees or other service fees from the mutual funds. For other mutual funds, Merrill Lynch and its Affiliates also may only receive Rule 12b-1 fees or other services fees from the mutual funds. Rule 12b-1 fees generally cover shareholder servicing and distribution services relating to the mutual funds. We generally do not receive 12b-1 fees with respect to Retirement Account investments through the Program. We potentially benefit from our economic interest in Related Companies and our relationship with Bank of America whenever such entity or its Affiliates receive compensation for providing investment advisory, administrative, transfer agency, distribution, shareholder servicing or other services to its mutual funds or other investment products. The extent of this benefit may be greater than when we or our Affiliates do not have an economic interest in the firm providing such services. As a result, we may benefit from increased sales of Funds and other investment products of Related Companies and Bank of America Affiliates to a greater extent than from increased sales of Funds or investment products sponsored by other firms in which we or our Affiliates do not have a similar economic interest or relationship.

From time to time, Merrill Lynch may enter into distribution agreements with one or more asset managers pursuant to which Merrill Lynch distributes certain products and services sponsored or advised by the asset manager.

Consistent with applicable laws, management and employees of Bank of America and its Affiliates may be provided a broader level of access and exposure to Merrill Lynch, our management, Advisors and other personnel, marketing events and materials, and client-related and other information. Such access and exposure may not be available to other asset managers and may enhance the ability of Bank of America Affiliates to distribute their funds and other investment products through us.

If available in the future, each of the mutual funds that are Related Funds would pay investment management fees to an Affiliate and, like other unrelated mutual funds, incurs other expenses. We or our Affiliates may also provide other services to mutual funds that are Related Funds for which they receive compensation such as transfer agency, administrative, shareholder servicing, accounting and printing services, as described in the mutual funds' prospectuses or Statements of Additional Information.

Any fees or compensation we and our Affiliates receive from a mutual fund or a mutual fund's principal underwriter, agent or sponsor in connection with your investment in the mutual fund ("Fund-Related Compensation") will be in addition to the Program Fee and, except to the extent required by applicable law, we and our Affiliates do not offset any fees and expenses you may owe to us (including, but not limited to, the Program Fee) by the amount of such Fund-Related Compensation we receive. You should consider this Fund-Related Compensation when evaluating the amount and appropriateness of the fees we earn in connection with your Account and the Program.

As a result of such Fund-Related Compensation, we may have a conflict of interest in selecting certain Funds for inclusion in the Program over others. You should be aware that the amount of fees paid by the different mutual funds and/or mutual fund sponsors varies and that mutual funds that would otherwise meet our criteria for inclusion in the Program but whose principal underwriters, agents or sponsors do not agree to pay such fees may not be selected, thereby limiting the available universe of mutual funds. The presence of Fund-Related Compensation which may vary with respect to different mutual funds may also create an incentive for us to recommend that you invest in mutual funds that pay higher fees to us or our Affiliates. The presence of these compensation arrangements may also cause us and our Affiliates to forego opportunities to negotiate more favorable financial terms for client investments in mutual funds or to recapture all or a portion of the amount of such Fund-Related Compensation for your benefit.

We address the conflicts of interests associated with the payment of Fund-Related Compensation by calculating the compensation paid to our Advisors on the same basis for all Program assets without regard to the amount of Fund-Related Compensation we or our Affiliates receive in connection with the Investments. Additionally, we and our Affiliates select Funds that are available on our brokerage and advisory platforms and offered through the Program based on qualitative and quantitative evaluation of such factors as performance, risk management policies and procedures, and consistency of the execution of their strategy. We have adopted various policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent the receipt of Fund-Related Compensation and other business arrangements from affecting the nature of the advice we and our Advisors provide, although such policies and procedures do not eliminate such conflicts of interest.

4. ETFs.

We and our Affiliates receive fees paid by certain ETF or similar product sponsors or their Affiliates for licensing or other arrangements. These fees are typically calculated as a percentage of the assets of the ETF or similar product.

5. Exchange Traded Notes.

Assets in your Account may be invested in certain eligible ETNs that we distribute or service, including ETNs issued by Merrill Lynch, its Affiliates, or by companies with which we do business. These assets will be included in the value of your Account. ETNs incur various fees, such as annual investor fees and repurchase fees. These fees are in addition to your Program Fees. The fees and expenses for each of these notes are described in the prospectus or other offering material, as required by law.

6. Diversified Financial Services.

Bank of America is a diversified financial services company that together with Merrill Lynch and their Affiliates generally seeks to provide a wide range of services to retail and institutional clients for which it receives compensation. As a result, Bank of America and Merrill Lynch can be expected to pursue additional business opportunities with the firms whose Funds Merrill Lynch makes available to its clients, and their Affiliates through the Program. Consistent with industry regulations, these services could include (but are not limited to): banking and lending services, sponsorship of deferred compensation and retirement plans, recordkeeping services, investment banking, securities research, institutional trading and prime brokerage services, custody services, investment advisory services, and effecting portfolio securities transactions for Funds and other clients. Merrill Lynch professionals (including your Advisor), involved with the offering of Funds to individual investor clients may introduce Fund distributors, sponsors, service providers or their Affiliates to other services that Bank of America, Merrill Lynch and their other Affiliates provide. As such, Merrill Lynch and its Affiliates may earn additional compensation for services.

Advisors may, as permitted by applicable law, receive compensation (the amount of which may vary and could be significant) in connection with these introductions and/or services. Revenue paid for, or generated by, such services may not be used by Fund distributors, sponsors or service providers to compensate Merrill Lynch, directly or indirectly, for any of the Fund fees described throughout this Brochure. Information about a particular Fund's policies regarding selection of brokers may be found in the Fund's statement of additional information, which you may request from the Fund.

Please refer to the section entitled "Retirement Accounts" for more information about the compensation we and our Affiliates receive and the related conflicts of interest for Retirement Accounts.

7. Receipt of Compensation under the Precious Metals Program.

As discussed above, investments in Precious Metals through the Precious Metals Program will be subject to a per-trade transaction fee and an ongoing monthly service fee, both of which will be in addition to the Program Fees. GBI has agreed to share a portion equal to 0.05% of the service fee with Financial Data Services, a Merrill Lynch Affiliate, as compensation for ongoing sub-accounting, reconciliation, transaction and related expenses. While Merrill Lynch itself will not be allocated a portion of the service fee with respect to investments by clients participating through the Program, Merrill Lynch will be allocated a portion of the service fee with respect to investments by its brokerage clients in the Precious Metals Program. Such relationships and fee-sharing may result in a conflict of interest in Merrill Lynch's retaining GBI and/or recommending investments in Precious Metals through the Precious Metals Program. The presence of these compensation arrangements may cause us to recommend the Precious Metals Program to our Program clients over other alternative means of investing in Precious Metals.

Although Merrill Lynch has no equity ownership in GBI and there are no current Merrill Lynch senior officers serving on the board of GBI, several of GBI's senior executives previously served in management roles at Merrill Lynch.

Please refer to the Precious Metals Disclosure Statement for more information about the additional charges and the associated risks and conflicts of interest.

8. Referral Arrangements.

We have entered into agreements pursuant to which Unaffiliated third-party advisers compensate us for referring clients to such advisers.

Any arrangement you enter into with an Unaffiliated third-party adviser is separate and distinct from your relationship with your Advisor with respect to your Program Account and neither we nor your Advisor is providing you with investment advice in connection with the arrangement. Any recommendation to participate in such an arrangement with an Unaffiliated third-party adviser, as well as the related compensation that we or our Affiliates may receive in connection with any such arrangement, creates potential conflicts of interests between you and us, including your Advisor. The costs associated with the services provided by such adviser to you, including any management fees paid to the Unaffiliated third-party advisers or commissions paid to us in connection with the transactions executed in an account outside the Program, are generally not included in the Program Fees and will result in additional compensation to us and your Advisor.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

a. Conflicts of Interest and Information Walls.

Merrill Lynch is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America. Bank of America engages in a wide range of activities and businesses across a broad spectrum of clients. As a result, we recognize actual, potential and perceived conflicts of interest may develop in the normal course of operations in various parts of the Bank of America organization. To address these potential conflicts, information walls are in place to allow multiple businesses to engage with the same or related clients at the same time while mitigating the conflicts which may arise from such a situation. For example, information walls are designed to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of material nonpublic information and allow public side sales, trading and research activities to continue while other businesses within Bank of America possess material nonpublic information. Additionally, Bank of America maintains a Code of Ethics which provides guidelines for the business practices and personal conduct all associates and board members are expected to adopt and uphold.

Managing conflicts of interest is an integral part of Bank of America's risk management process. We believe that no organization can totally eliminate conflicts that exist explicitly or implicitly. Bank of America, including Bank of America Merrill Lynch's investment advisory business, evaluates its business activities and the actual and possible conflicts that may emerge from its activities on an ongoing basis. To the extent that existing or new business activities raise an actual conflict of interest, or even the appearance of a conflict, we endeavor to provide you with full and clear disclosure or to take action to avoid them.

b. Code of Ethics.

Each of MLPF&S and MAA has adopted an Investment Adviser Code of Ethics (the "Code of Ethics") covering our personnel who are involved in the operation and offering of investment advisory services. Each Code of Ethics is based on the principle that clients' interests come first, and it is intended to assist employees in meeting the high standards that each of MLPF&S and MAA follows in conducting our business with integrity and professionalism. Each Code of Ethics covers such topics as the:

- Requirement that all employees comply with all applicable securities and related laws and regulations;
- Reporting and/or clearance of employee personal trading;
- Prevention of misuse of material nonpublic information; and
- Obligation to report possible violations of the Code of Ethics to management or other appropriate personnel.

All covered personnel must certify to receipt of the Code of Ethics. We will provide a copy of each of the Code of Ethics to you upon request.

MLPF&S and MAA have each imposed policy restrictions on all personnel for transactions for their own accounts and accounts over which they have control or a beneficial interest. In addition, we have special policies requiring that certain personnel obtain specific approval of our securities transactions and have implemented procedures for monitoring these transactions, as well as those of all our employees.

MLPF&S and MAA each acknowledge that it is: (1) subject to fiduciary responsibilities under the Advisers Act when it provides the investment advisory services pursuant to the Client Agreement; and (2) a fiduciary, as defined by ERISA, for a client that is an ERISA plan, with respect to the investment advice it provides such plan.

c. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions.

i. Principal, Agency-Cross and Cross Trades

Principal Transactions. We or an Affiliate may execute transactions in your Account on a principal basis (that is, when we or an Affiliate sell a security to you, or buy a security from you, for our own account) as permitted by law, and upon your consent. Principal transactions may give you access to investment opportunities or trade executions that might not otherwise be available to you. Examples of principal transactions include the purchase of equity or fixed-income securities in a new issue offering where we are an underwriter and the purchase or sale of fixed-income securities from or to us in the over the counter markets. Principal transactions may not be effected for Retirement Accounts, except in accordance with applicable law.

By signing the "Consent to Principal Transactions" form, you will authorize and provide your initial written consent to allow us to execute transactions in your Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Accounts on a principal basis as permitted by law. You may refuse to provide this initial consent or may revoke this initial consent to principal transactions at any time, in writing, by requesting a revocation form from your Advisor. Where you choose not to provide your initial consent or otherwise revoke your initial consent to principal transactions, there will be limitations on certain securities transactions that may be executed in your Personalized Strategy with Client Discretion Account. For instance, you will not have access to our inventory of securities that trade in principal markets, including securities for which we serve as the principal market maker. The inability to trade with us may limit the securities that are available to you and/or may limit your ability to sell securities that are held in the Account at competitive prices. It is important to note that even if you have provided us with your initial written consent to principal transactions, you make all decisions concerning your Account, including whether we may effect a transaction as principal. We will inform you (orally or otherwise) that we may execute a transaction on a principal basis and, at the time of the trade, you will have the opportunity to withhold your consent and may refuse to authorize your Advisor to proceed with the transaction on a principal basis.

There are conflicts of interest present when we execute transactions in your Account on a principal basis. If Merrill Lynch effects a principal transaction for your Account, then in addition to the Program Fee, we may receive a commission, markup or markdown, underwriting fee or selling concession, or other compensation with respect to the transaction, which would result in additional compensation or other benefit to us or our Affiliate. We may also benefit from the "spread" or the difference between the price we pay for a security and the price at which we sell it to you, or between the price we may pay for a security that we may buy from you and the price for which we may later sell it. In addition, we may have an incentive to recommend a transaction in a security that we maintain in our inventory that is otherwise difficult for us to sell. The receipt of additional compensation and an incentive to recommend a transaction involving our inventory present conflicts between our interest and yours. The types of securities that may be purchased or sold on a principal basis in your Account pursuant to the terms of your Agreement may change in the future and could become more limited.

Additionally, in certain cases, if you make an unsolicited request to sell a security, we may, after agreeing on a price with the selling client, recommend the purchase of that security by another client or brokerage customer and execute both sale and purchase transactions simultaneously. Such a transaction involves conflicts of interest similar to those of other principal transactions, and in addition involves a risk that the Adviser may have an incentive to recommend inappropriate trades in order to generate additional income for Merrill Lynch and the Adviser or to unfairly favor one client over another. We address these additional conflicts by requiring that the initial sale be unsolicited, that the sale price be agreed upon before recommending the purchase by another client, following procedures intended to ensure that execution of the sale transaction is not unreasonably delayed, and by reducing the normal spread that Merrill Lynch would charge on the sale and purchase transactions.

Agency-Cross Transactions. We may, at times, have the opportunity to act as agent for both buyer and seller in a transaction for your Account. This is called an agency-cross transaction. Since we generally will receive compensation from each party to an agency-cross transaction, there is a potential conflict between our responsibilities and loyalties to you and to the other party to the transaction. Any compensation we receive will be in addition to the Program Fee. The Client Agreement generally gives us permission to engage in agency-cross transactions for your Account, except where prohibited by law. You may revoke your consent at any time by notifying us in writing.

For a Retirement Account that is subject to ERISA or the Code's prohibited transaction rules, transactions, including agency-cross transactions, will be effected by or through Merrill Lynch or our Affiliates in compliance with ERISA Section 408(b)(19), U.S. Department of Labor Prohibited Transaction Exemption 86-128, or otherwise in a manner that is not prohibited by ERISA or the Code.

Internal-Cross Transactions. At times, we may consider a security being sold by one investment advisory client to be appropriate for purchase by another investment advisory client account. In such cases, we may arrange to transfer or "cross" the security directly between the affected accounts. Any cross transactions in your Account would be effected in accordance with applicable law and your Agreement. Cross transactions generally will be effected at an independently determined market price and will not result in any additional compensation to us.

Internal cross transactions for Retirement Accounts subject to ERISA will be effected for your Account in compliance with U.S. Department of Labor Prohibited Transaction Exemption 2002-12 or otherwise in a manner that is not prohibited by ERISA.

ii. Loans and Collateral

As we describe in detail above in the section “Risk and Tax Disclosure - Loans and Collateral” your Account assets may be “pledged” or used as collateral, with our consent, in connection with loans obtained through certain Affiliated or Unaffiliated Lending Programs. The costs associated with the Lending Programs are not included in the Program Fees and may result in additional compensation to us, our Affiliates and your Advisor. This additional compensation may result in a conflict of interest between us and you. We address this conflict of interest through our disclosure in this Brochure and through the disclosure related to each Lending Program.

iii. Acting as General Partner

Certain Affiliates of MLPF&S and MAA act as general partners in a variety of limited partnerships as well as in other capacities for investment vehicles such as hedge funds and other investment funds in which brokerage clients of MLPF&S may invest, or may be solicited to invest by MLPF&S acting in its broker-dealer capacity. These clients may also be advisory clients of MLPF&S or MAA. The investments of the limited partnerships and other entities may vary but include, without limitation, real estate, futures, hedge funds and other Alternative Investments.

iv. Other Financial Interests

As described above, certain Strategies may involve the use of margin. MLPF&S will receive compensation in connection with any assets purchased in an Account on margin or other extensions of credit by MLPF&S, which is in addition to, and does not reduce, the Program Fee. Margin interest paid by you on debit balances is not included in the Program Fee. Advisors may receive additional compensation in such circumstances as well as in limited cases, from rights or tender offers. Due to the additional economic benefit to MLPF&S from their use of margin, a conflict of interest may exist. Please see the section entitled “Margin, Long/Short Strategies and Options Overlay Strategies” for more information.

Merrill Lynch, a Related Company or their respective Affiliates will receive additional economic benefits from cash investments held in your Account in addition to the Program Fee. This conflict may be greater when higher cash balances are maintained in your Account or where you have elected the “no sweep” option for your cash balances. At times, however, we and a Style Manager, if applicable (including, where applicable, Related Style Manager), may believe that it is in your best interest to maintain assets in cash, particularly for defensive purposes in volatile markets. We or a Style Manager will not be precluded by any of these conflicts from exercising our judgment in your best interest.

As a registered broker-dealer, MLPF&S may also benefit from the possession or use of any free credit balances in your Accounts, subject to restrictions imposed by Rule 15c3-3 under the Exchange Act.

d. Securities Trading by Merrill Lynch and its Personnel.

We and our Affiliates act in a variety of capacities to a wide range of clients. From time to time in the course of those duties, confidential information may be acquired that cannot be divulged or acted upon for advisory or other clients. Similarly, we may give advice or take action with regard to certain clients, including clients in the Program, which may differ from that given or taken with regard to other clients. This includes the advice given or actions taken for certain securities, Funds or investment managers or Style Managers. In some instances, the actions taken by Affiliates for similar services and programs may conflict with the actions taken by us. This is due to, among other things, the differing nature of the Affiliate’s investment advisory service and differing processes and criteria upon which determinations are made.

Related Style Managers may provide advisory services for one or more Strategies available for selection by you. Any Affiliate may be a substantial stockholder in certain Related Style Managers, as indicated in the relevant Profile. If a Related Style Manager is selected, we and/or a Related Company may retain both the Program Fee and the Style Manager Expense attributable to the portion of assets in your Account advised by the Related Style Manager. For this reason, a potential conflict of interest exists when we or your Advisor selects or assists you in the selection of, as applicable, a Strategy (or replacement Strategy, if applicable).

We and our Affiliates may provide some or all of the same services offered in the Program through other financial firms, Affiliated or Unaffiliated with us, which offer programs similar to the Program at fee rates that may differ from the Program Fees.

Please see the section entitled “Brokerage and Custody Services - Brokerage Services” for information about how the Style Manager Expense for Discretionary Managers may be higher than for other Style Managers with the same or similar Strategies.

We or one of our Affiliates may have a position in or enter into “proprietary” transactions in securities purchased or sold for clients, including clients participating in the Program. We or our Affiliates may benefit from such securities positions or transactions.

We address these conflicts in a variety of ways, including: (i) through disclosure in this Brochure; (ii) our Advisors are required to recommend investment advisory programs, investment products and securities that are suitable for each client based upon your investment objectives, risk tolerance and financial situation and needs; and (iii) we have established a variety of restrictions, procedures and disclosures designed to address potential conflicts of interest – both those arising between and among Accounts as well as between Accounts and our business. For example, our personnel also are subject to personal trading restrictions as detailed in our policies and procedures and Code of Ethics. These policies and procedures and the Code of Ethics require our Advisors to obtain preapproval for certain securities transactions, disclose their investment accounts, provide an annual holdings report, and provide a quarterly transaction report. Your Advisor may, however, participate in block trades with you and/or other Program clients.

Review of Accounts

1. Account Reviews.

An important part of the Program relationship involves providing you with the opportunity to engage in periodic reviews with your Advisor or a designated member of the team servicing the Account. These reviews provide updates on the progress of your Portfolios and Accounts towards your goals and other important information about your investments.

Because these reviews provide you with important and necessary information relating to your Accounts, you are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these opportunities to participate in these Account reviews. If you do not participate in your Account review, we may, in our discretion, terminate your Account(s).

2. Client Reports.

a. Portfolio Summary.

We will periodically communicate to you important information about how we are managing your assets in the Program. The primary means through which we will communicate with you and memorialize the important terms, conditions and information about your Portfolios, Accounts and Strategies, is the “Portfolio Summary.” You will receive your first Portfolio

Summary from us after we accept your enrollment in the Program and each time you make changes to certain of the Services you elect, including, but not limited to, when you:

- Add Portfolios or Accounts;
- Add or change Strategies in each Portfolio;
- Change your Portfolio Investment Objective, Risk Tolerance, Time Horizon, Liquidity Needs or Target Asset Allocation;
- Add or Change Account Preferences or Elections (e.g., Automatic Rebalancing or Automatic Contributions or Withdrawals); or
- Your Program Fee rate for an Account is changed.

The information set forth in the initial and each subsequent Portfolio Summary is how we reflect the Services that we will provide to you with respect to the assets in your Accounts and pursuant to the Client Agreement. You should review each Portfolio Summary we send to you carefully to ensure that the information reflected therein is accurate and you should contact your Advisor if you believe any of the information is, or becomes, inaccurate.

As an accommodation to you, we may agree, in our sole discretion, to permit you to add accounts to a Portfolio Summary that are not subject to the Client Agreement (e.g., your commission based brokerage accounts). If we permit you to add accounts to a Portfolio Summary that are not subject to the Client Agreement, we will not be an investment adviser or a fiduciary with respect to the assets in such accounts. Any such accounts will continue to be subject to the terms and conditions of the securities account agreement between you and Merrill Lynch applicable to such account. Any advice that we may provide to you with respect to the assets in such accounts, including asset allocation advice, will be incidental to the services that we provide to you under the other applicable securities account agreement.

b. Other Reports.

In addition to the Portfolio Summary, we will send you periodic updates that contain information about your Portfolios and Accounts, including, trade confirmation information and account statements. We will also provide you with periodic performance reports to help you monitor and assess the performance of your Portfolios, Accounts and the Strategies you select. These reports contain information regarding investment return, risk and selected benchmark comparisons for your assets in each Strategy you select. You should review all such materials carefully and promptly report any discrepancies to your Advisor.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

1. Compensation for Client Referrals.

We have entered or may enter into marketing arrangements with third parties who, for compensation, will provide consulting or other services to us in connection with the marketing of our various advisory programs, or otherwise refer prospective clients to us. Each such marketing arrangement is or will be governed by a written agreement between us, as applicable, and the third party, and will be disclosed to you, as required by law.

We have entered into solicitation arrangements with certain third-party entities to refer prospective clients to us (“Solicitors”). Generally, the fees paid to Solicitors will be paid from investment advisory fees received and retained by us relating to your Account. This fee will generally be a percentage of the investment advisory fee ordinarily credited to your Advisor for the applicable account. We will pay this fee to the Solicitor from the date you establish an Account in the Program for as long as your Account remains enrolled in the Program and the agreement between us and the Solicitor is effective. If we terminate the agreement with the Solicitor for certain reasons, we may continue to pay the Solicitor for a period of time after termination. We will not increase the fees you pay as a result of our payments to the Solicitor. The fees we charge will not be higher than our usual fees because of the payments to the Solicitor.

Our employees may refer advisory clients to BANA, including its private bank, U.S. Trust, Bank of America Private Wealth Management, and other Affiliates for products and services. Similarly, employees of BANA and its Affiliates may refer clients to us for brokerage or advisory services. These referrals may involve the payment of referral fees between us and BANA or its Affiliates.

2. Other Compensation.

Bank of America and its Affiliates have business relationships with many investment managers, including those participating in the Program, separate and apart from the Program. For example, these investment managers may direct clients’ transactions to us and receive research, execution, custodial, pricing and other services offered by us in the normal course of our business. We and our Advisors may receive compensation in connection with such transactions and other services. Your Program Fees will not be increased due to the other compensation received by your Advisor. You are encouraged to speak with your Advisor to discuss any questions that you may have about existing or potential conflicts of interest relating to your selected Funds, Strategies or Style Manager Strategies, including any business relationships that the relevant Funds or Style Managers may have with Bank of America, its Affiliates or Advisors. We address these conflicts of interest through our disclosure in this Brochure and generally through additional disclosures related to certain other transactions or services.

Financial Information

Not Applicable

Additional Information

The Volcker Rule, part of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, which was enacted to regulate certain activities and investments of financial institutions, contains a provision known as “Super 23A” that restricts, with certain exemptions, the types of transactions that banks and their Affiliates can engage in with certain clients defined as “covered funds.” Under these regulations, banks and their Affiliates are prohibited from lending and engaging in other “covered transactions” with entity clients deemed to be covered funds if the bank (either itself or through its Affiliates), among other things, acts as an investment advisor or manager to such clients, including through an investment advisory program, like the Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program. In general, if an entity client is a covered fund, any outstanding margin or other extension of credit by BANA or its Affiliates will need to be repaid and any margin or lending capability removed from the account, or the client must terminate the investment advisory relationship and utilize a brokerage or custody relationship with BANA or its Affiliates for its investments. Certain other transactions between BANA or its Affiliates and the entity client will also be prohibited.

Glossary

“Account” means each of the securities accounts to which the Client Agreement applies, and as set forth in the Portfolio Summary, as amended from time to time.

“Account Investment Objective” means an investment objective (Income, Total Return or Growth) you choose with the help of your Advisor, which, along with other information, informs the Advisor as to how the assets assigned to a particular Account should be managed.

“Additional Compensation” means certain additional compensation received by Merrill Lynch from certain Funds (including Alternative Investment Funds) or their principal underwriters, investment managers or other agents in connection with the investment in such Funds by clients in the Program.

“ADR” means an American Depositary Receipt.

“Advisor” means a Merrill Lynch Financial Advisor or Private Wealth Advisor.

“Affiliate” means a company that is controlled by, in control of, or under common control with another company.

“Aggressive” an Aggressive Risk Tolerance means you are willing to sustain loss of principal in individual transactions in the expectation that overall portfolio results in the balance of their holdings will produce above-average returns. Concentrated positions and frequent portfolio changes typify this type of investor. You may experience a wide variance in results from one year to the next in the pursuit of longer-term goals.

“AI Advisory Units” means certain Alternative Investment Funds that are available to eligible clients in the Program through a class or series of interests, units or shares or interests in a separate fund that has been structured specifically for clients subscribing to such Alternative Investment Funds.

“Alternative Investments” means such investments as we designate from time-to-time in our sole discretion whose risk and return characteristics generally are not correlated with more traditional investments (i.e., equities, fixed-income and cash).

“Alternative Investment Fund” means a hedge fund, Private Equity Fund, managed futures fund, real estate fund, real asset fund, commodity pool, or other Fund (excluding an NTF or ETF) that invests in: (i) alternative asset classes; or (ii) other Funds that invest in whole or in part in any of the foregoing types of Funds, in each case, as we designate from time to time in our sole discretion. Alternative Investment Funds include Alternative Investment Funds held through a Related Fund.

“Annuity” means a long-term insurance product that can offer owners guaranteed lifetime income, tax-deferred accumulation potential and downside protection for owners or their beneficiaries. It is a legal contract between the owner and the insurance company in which the owner makes payments to the insurance company which, in turn, agrees to pay out an income stream or a lump sum amount at a future date.

“Annuity Issuer” means the insurance company that issues the Annuity and is responsible for administering the Annuity contract and backing any and all Annuity guarantees.

“Annuity Owner” means the person or entity which has the ownership rights to the contract. The Annuity Owner makes certain decisions like how to invest the premiums and which benefits/guarantees to elect.

“Annuity Premiums” means the amounts of money paid into an Annuity by the Annuity Owner.

“Authority” means the authority to make certain investment and trading decisions with respect to the assets in an Account. We describe the effect of Authority for each Strategy in the section called “Services, Fees and Compensation - Strategies and Program Guidelines.”

“BANA” means Bank of America, N.A.

“Bank of America” means Bank of America Corporation.

“BlackRock” means BlackRock, Inc. and its Affiliates.

“BofAML Global Research” means Bank of America Global Research.

“Client Agreement” means the investment advisory agreement among the Client, MAA and MLPF&S, as it may be amended from time to time.

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

“Code of Ethics” means each of the Investment Adviser Code of Ethics for MLPF&S and MAA.

“Conservative” a Conservative Risk Tolerance means that preservation of capital is your single most important concern. Adjusted for inflation, investment returns may be very low, or, in some years, negative, in return for high liquidity and reduced risk of principal loss.

“Defined Strategy Profile” means a written document entitled “Defined Strategy Profile” that contains a description of a Defined Strategy offered in the Program and may contain other information relating to the Strategy.

“Discretionary Manager” means a Style Manager that has full discretion to determine both which securities to buy, sell or hold for your Managed or Custom Managed Strategy Account, and which broker-dealer should be selected to effect transactions for your Account, subject to any direction to trade with Merrill Lynch. Where applicable, Discretionary Managers may also include a Style Manager that has the authority from time to time to place particular orders for the purchase and sale of certain securities or other property with respect to a Style Manager Strategy.

“Effective Redemption Date” is the periodic date (the month-end or quarter-end date) on which your redemption of an investment in an Alternative Investment Fund is deemed to be effective.

“Elective Services” includes Optional Rebalancing Service and Automatic Contribution and Automatic Withdrawal Service.

“Eligible Assets” means, with respect to the Optional Rebalancing Service and the Optional Automatic Withdrawal and Contribution Service, the equity securities in an Account that can be included in the target asset allocation for each of the services, including equity securities, certain Funds (mutual funds, ETFs and publicly traded closed-end funds, but excluding certain Alternative Investment Funds and certain other Funds) and cash and cash alternatives. Certain securities, such as fixed-income securities foreign ordinary shares, and Precious Metals in the Precious Metals Program, cannot be purchased through these optional services and are not Eligible Assets.

“ERISA” means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended.

“ERISA Plan” means a plan subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA or any other entity deemed to hold assets of such a plan, including SIMPLE, SEP and other IRAs subject to ERISA’s fiduciary responsibility provisions.

“ETF” means an exchange-traded fund.

“ETN” means exchange-traded note.

“Fund” means registered and unregistered investment companies, including mutual funds, closed-end funds, ETFs, Alternative Investment Funds, real estate investment trusts and other pooled investment vehicles and, to the extent applicable, Offshore Funds.

“GBI” means Gold Bullion International, LLC.

“Growth” means your Investment Objective is to accumulate wealth over time through price appreciation rather than current income. You should be willing to accept the risk of price volatility and principal loss in seeking to achieve growth.

“GWIM CIO” means the Global Wealth and Investment Management Chief Investment Office.

“Income” means your Investment Objective is to obtain a continuing stream of income from investments. In order to satisfy current yield requirements, you should be willing to accept the risk of principal loss.

“ISS” means Institutional Shareholder Services, Inc.

“Investment Advisers Act” means the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

“Investment Company Act” means the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

“Lending Programs” means, collectively, certain Unaffiliated or Affiliated loan programs, such as, but not limited to, the securities based lending Loan Management Account® (“LMA”) and Mortgage 100®/Parent Power® mortgage programs.

“LMA” means the securities based lending Loan Management Account® program.

“MAA” means Managed Account Advisors LLC.

“Merrill Lynch” means MLPF&S and MAA, as applicable.

“MLPF&S” means Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated.

“Moderate” a Moderate Risk Tolerance means you are willing to accept possible principal loss as a risk incurred in the pursuit of higher total return. The degree of risk is normally reduced through diversification and asset allocation.

“NASD” means the National Association of Securities Dealers.

“NTF” means non-traditional funds such as mutual funds and exchange-traded funds that are classified as Alternative Investments because their principal investment strategies utilize alternative investment strategies or provide for alternative asset exposure as the means to meet their investment objectives.

“NYSE” means the New York Stock Exchange LLC.

“Offering Materials” means the prospectus or other offering and disclosure documents relating to a Fund.

“Offshore Funds” mean investment companies organized in jurisdictions not within the United States or its territories or possessions, not registered under the Investment Company Act and whose securities are not registered under the Securities Act.

“Portfolio Investment Objective” is a reflection of your overall outlook on how the assets in your Portfolio should be managed. You may choose from three Portfolio Investment Objectives: Income; Total Return; or Growth.

“Portfolio Liquidity Needs” is a reflection of your need to readily convert your Portfolio holdings to cash without experiencing a significant loss due to the lack of a ready market or incurring significant costs or penalties. Your Advisor will help you choose from five levels of Liquidity Needs for your Portfolio:

- None. You anticipate no need for liquidity.
- Low. You anticipate no more than 1/3 of the assets need to be liquid.
- Moderate. You anticipate a need for at least 1/3, but not more than 2/3 of the assets to be liquid.
- High. You anticipate a need for 2/3, but not all, of the assets to be liquid.
- All. All assets must be liquid.

“Portfolio Risk Tolerance” is a reflection of your ability and willingness to lose some or all the assets in your Portfolio in exchange for greater potential returns. Your Advisor will help you choose from three Portfolio Risk Tolerance choices: Conservative, Moderate, or Aggressive.

“Portfolio Summary” a periodic communication sent to you that contains important terms, conditions and information about your Portfolios, Accounts and Strategies. We may, for your convenience, also permit you to add to a Portfolio accounts that are not subject to the Client Agreement. We will clearly identify to you the accounts included in a Portfolio that are not subject to the Client Agreement and you acknowledge and agree that our inclusion of such accounts into a Portfolio shall not subject such account to the Client Agreement nor shall we be deemed an investment adviser or fiduciary (under ERISA or under the Investment Advisers Act) to such account, unless we otherwise agree in writing. We may also display, for your convenience, accounts that are not subject to the Client Agreement in your Portfolio Summary.

“Portfolio Time Horizon” is a reflection of how long you expect to invest in order to achieve your investment goal. Your Advisor will help you choose from the following time frames: 0-1 Years, 1-5 Years, 5-10 Years or 10+ Years.

“Precious Metals” means bars of gold, silver, platinum or palladium and/or gold, silver and palladium coins.

“Precious Metals Disclosure Statement” means the Gold Bullion International, LLC Physical Precious Metals Program Global Disclosure Statement.

“Precious Metals Program” means the Gold Bullion International, LLC Physical Precious Metals Program.

“Private Equity Fund” means an Alternative Investment Fund designated as such by us which is usually typified by a fixed and finite life span and a capital cycle consisting of upfront client commitments, the calling of capital commitments, investment of the capital, and distribution of the capital over time.

“Profile” means a written document entitled “Profile” that contains a description of a Managed Strategy, Custom Managed Strategy, Style Manager Strategy or Style Manager offered in the Program and may contain other related information.

“Program” means the Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program.

“Proxy Delegation Vendor” means the proxy voting service provider.

“Proxy Website” means <http://vds.issproxy.com/3584> upon which the proxy voting policies and procedures of the Proxy Delegation Vendor, MAA and MLPF&S will be available. The Proxy Website also includes a description of Specified Investments and information on how MAA, MLPF&S, or the Proxy Delegation Vendor, as applicable, voted specific proxies.

“Reasonable Investment Restrictions” means one or more reasonable investment restrictions accepted by us that you would like to impose for any Account, such as identifying a security or investment sector that should not be purchased.

“Registered Fund” means any Fund that is registered under the Investment Company Act, including mutual funds, closed-end funds, ETFs and money market funds.

“REIT” means Real Estate Investment Trust.

“Related Company” means a company that is an Affiliate of the Bank or in which the Bank or an Affiliate of the Bank has a material ownership interest. BlackRock is not considered a Related Company.

“Related Funds” means Funds sponsored or advised by a Related Company.

“Related Money Market Fund” means a registered money market fund managed by a Related Company.

“Related Style Manager” means a Style Manager that is a Related Company. For example, U.S. Trust is a Related Style Manager.

“Specified Investments” means securities for which ISS or a successor Proxy Delegation Vendor, as the case may be, does not provide proxy voting services and that are described in our proxy voting policies and procedures included on the Proxy Website. A list of Specified Investments will be made available upon request.

“Strategy” means one or more investment styles or disciplines available in the Program. Our Strategies are generally differentiated by the way in which we will deliver our advice to you and the investments we make available to you. The Strategies currently available in the Program include: (1) Managed Strategy; (2) Custom Managed Strategy; (3) Personalized Strategy; and (4) Defined Strategy.

“Style Manager” means an investment adviser, which may be Merrill Lynch, an Affiliate, a Related Company or a third party that provides MAA or a client’s Account with advice regarding the securities or other property to be purchased or sold in an Account. Style Managers may be registered investment advisers or investment advisers exempt from registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

“Style Manager Expense Rate” means the portion of the Program Fees for the Style Manager’s services that is based on assets in an Account allocated to the Style Manager’s Strategy. The Style Manager Expense Rate varies depending on the Style Manager.

“Style Manager Related Funds” means Funds sponsored or advised by a Style Manager (including a Related Style Manager) or its Affiliates.

“Style Manager Strategy” means one or more investment styles or disciplines that may include specific asset classes or asset types such as Funds or other Style Manager Strategies, or a combination thereof.

“Target Asset Allocation” means a recommended allocation of assets in a Portfolio across one or more asset classes.

“Total Return” means your Investment Objective is to strike a balance between current income and growth. Despite the relatively balanced nature of the portfolio, you should be willing to assume the risk of price volatility and principal loss.

“UIT” means unit investment trust.

“Unaffiliated Investment Firm” means a bank, broker or dealer other than a Related Company.

“Unrelated Custodian” means a custodian that is not Merrill Lynch or a Related Company.

“U.S. Trust” means U.S. Trust, Bank of America Private Wealth Management, a division of BANA.

“Variable Annuity” means an annuity that offers owners a range of investment options, called subaccounts, across different asset classes. Variable annuities are securities and involve market risk as the contract value fluctuates based on the investment performance of the subaccounts selected by the owner.

STYLE MANAGER EXPENSE RATE

The Style Manager Expense rate currently payable to each Style Manager is listed below. The fee paid to a Style Manager will vary depending on particular investment styles, the type of securities involved, the nature of the services provided, the ability of a Discretionary Manager to effect trades for client Accounts with an Unaffiliated Investment Firm or other factors. Unless otherwise noted, MAA is responsible for placing orders for transactions in client Accounts. MLPF&S is the Style Manager for Style Manager Strategies for which there is no separate Style Manager Expense payable to MLPF&S for its services as Style Manager. Availability of Style Managers is subject to change. If you are a Retirement Account and have selected a Related Style Manager, the applicable Style Manager Expense rate is 0% rather than the Style Manager Expense rate for that Related Style Manager.
