Firm Description

Dominion Portfolio Management, Inc. ("hereinafter called DPM") was founded in 1995 and is a SEC registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Texas. DPM engages in fee based portfolio asset management on behalf of its clients.

Principal Owner

DPM is a wholly owned subsidiary of Dominion Financial Services, Inc. ("hereinafter called DFS").

Type of Advisory Services

DPM provides portfolio management services predominately on a discretionary basis, either directly through a DPM Investment Advisor Representative (hereinafter called IAR's") or through DPM approved third-party money managers.

For customers preferring a more consultative process, DPM offers a non-discretionary portfolio management service which requires discussion with and approval by the customer prior to portfolio changes.

Third-party Money Managers

Third-party money manager fees are disclosed in their advisory agreement and ADV Part 2.

Morningstar and Investment Management Associates, Inc. have clearing and custody arrangements through TD Ameritrade, a member of FINRA, SIPC and NFA. TD Ameritrade provides standard industry services to its brokerage clients. DPM has service agreements with these managers and TD Ameritrade. DPM does not add additional fees to that of the third-party money managers' program. The third-party money manager compensates DPM with a portion of its fee.

DPM Managed Accounts

DPM recommends that its clients open their accounts at DPM's related broker/dealer, Dominion Investor Services, (hereinafter called "Dominion") for accounts it manages.

Generally, DPM will use Class F-2 or equivalent shares of mutual funds for a Client. If the account will be held directly at the mutual fund group, then DPM will follow the policies of the fund group and also their minimum account size. In the event there may be an advantage to the client when using 12b1 paying fund classes, the 12b1 fees will be used to offset DPM fees.

All accounts that are managed on a discretionary basis will have security transactions placed on their behalf when deemed necessary and prudent or by specific client request. To determine the individual needs of a client, each non-institutional client will be required to complete a confidential investor profile containing a variety of personal and financial information. Requested information includes investment goals, time horizons and risk tolerance. DPM may require the client to complete additional investor profiles should client experience significant change in their financial condition or familial obligations.

Through an analysis of this data, DPM develops a portfolio for each client. All portfolios are client specific. A DPM IAR will consult with the client on the overall investment strategy to be implemented. The client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the management of their portfolio, such as limiting individual securities, asset allocation weightings, industries, etc. Any restrictions will be detailed in the advisory contract. DPM will then implement, on behalf of each client, the chosen investment strategy through the purchase of a number of stocks, bonds, ETF's or mutual funds (no-load or load waived) that are deemed to be appropriate risk adjusted choices for the client. DPM will then monitor each client's portfolio and when deemed appropriate for the client will make changes in specific security selections. DPM may alter asset allocations as situations warrant based on market conditions or changes in the client's personal or family obligations.

Accounts that are managed on a non-discretionary basis, will be done so in consultation with the client.

An individual representing DPM is designated as an IAR. This IAR may be designated as a Portfolio Manager (hereinafter called PM) for a client account. If so, the PM will be designated in the advisory contract.

An IAR of DPM may also be a security licensed registered representative (hereinafter called RR) of Dominion.

At the inception of each client relationship, the client will be provided Part 2A and 2B of Form ADV which serves as DPM's required disclosure document for individual portfolio management services.

Tailored Relationships

The goals and objectives for each client are documented in the client account application. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Such restrictions will be detailed in the advisory contract and the DPM will manage the account accordingly. Agreements may not be assigned without client prior written consent.

Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily in individual securities, exchanged traded funds (ETF's) or mutual funds (load-waived or no-load). Fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades which is disclosed in the contract.

Investments may also include: equities (stocks), warrants, corporate debt securities, options, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities, mutual funds shares and U. S. government securities. See page 6 for specific risk disclosure.

Termination of Agreement

DPM or the client may terminate an advisory contract with ten (10) days written notice to the other party.

If Part 2 of Form ADV is not delivered to the client at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to the client entering into any written contract with this investment adviser, then the client has the right to terminate the contract without penalty within five (5) business days after entering into the contract. For the purposes of this provision, a contract is considered entered into when all parties to the contract have signed the contract.

In cases where the account is terminated, all pre-paid and unearned advisory fees will be promptly refunded to the client.

Fees and Compensation (Item 5)

Discretionary

A 2.00 % fee is charged on assets under management.*

If client(s) have more than one account under management, the value of all accounts combined will be used to determine the current fee to be paid.

Similar services may be found for lower fees within the industry.

Fees may be negotiable*

Non-Discretionary

A 2.00 % fee is charged on assets under management.*If client(s) have more than one account under management, the value of all accounts combined will be used to determine the current fee to be paid.

Similar services may be found for lower fees within the industry.

Fees may be negotiable*

Third-party Money Managers

DPM is compensated by reallowance of fees that the third-party money manager collects. DPM's fee schedule does not apply to third-party money managers.

DPM does not do billing when third-party management companies are managing the client account. These accounts are held at broker/dealers unaffiliated with DPM and the fees are billed and collected by the third-party money manager. The third-party manager does all calculations. The billing by the third-party money manager includes the DPM fee which is collected and then paid to DPM. These items are disclosed in the client's contract with the third-party money manager.

Assets Under Management

DPM had $133,638,963 under management as of 12-31-2019.

Fee Billing

Advisory fees will be billed quarterly in advance of the services provided. Amounts are based on the portfolio value on the last day of the previous quarter. For accounts that are opened or closed during a calendar quarter, the fee payable will be pro-rated for the period.

DPM or the client may terminate an advisory contract with ten (10) days written notice to the other party. In cases where the account is terminated, all pre-paid and unearned advisory fees will be promptly refunded to the client. The refund of a fee is determined as follows: the daily rate is calculated by dividing the quarterly fee by the number of days in the quarter. The refund is equal to the daily rate times the number of days remaining in the quarter including the day of notice from the client.

Typically, DPM will receive its fees on a directly deducted basis, that is, the client will authorize DPM to have the advisory fee directly deducted from the account through our advisory contract wherein the client advises their custodian to pay the fee. DPM will send a quarterly invoice to the client that reflects the period covered, the amount of assets that the fee was based on, the percentage fee, the calculation of the fee and amount due. Each client will receive a statement from their custodian, at least quarterly, showing all debits and credits to the account, including fees payable to DPM. If a client's account does not have sufficient cash or cash equivalents to pay fees due, an appropriate amount of assets will be liquidated to cover the fee.

Other Fees

DPM does not charge fees in addition to commissions and/or markups. Commissions are charged by Dominion which is DPM's affiliated Broker/Dealer. All of the commissions and fees are disclosed and established in the contract. Advisory Fees are not reduced to offset commissions on DPM accounts.

HTS deducts an annual $35.00 IRA fee from the account (waived the first year). HTS charges an account a $50.00 termination fee. (Please refer to item 5 for detail of HTS's relationship with DOMI and DPM).

Third-party money manager's fees are disclosed in their ADV fee schedule

DPM, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to DPM.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

DPM reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 30 days overdue. In addition, DPM reserves the right to terminate any management agreement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in DPM's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unearned portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 5 days.

Performance-Based Fees (Item 6)

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

DPM does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients (Item 7)

Description

DPM may provide investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals and businesses. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

For accounts held at HTS, due to DPM's minimum managed account fee and other expenses client accounts may experience, DPM has determined that it is not advisable to accept accounts of less than $25,000. Should market conditions subsequently cause the account value to fall below $25,000 it will not automatically be terminated. However, the client should be advised that continued managed account status may no longer be a good value should the account value drop below $15,000. Under certain circumstances, exceptions to the minimum account size may be granted at the President's discretion.

For an account held directly at a mutual fund group, DPM will follow the policy of the fund group and also their minimum account size.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss (Item 8)

Methods of Analysis

Fundamental analysis concentrates on factors that determine a company's value and expected future earnings. This strategy would normally encourage equity purchases in stocks that are undervalued or priced below their perceived value. The risk assumed is that the market will fail to reach expectations of perceived value.

Technical analysis attempts to predict a future stock price or direction based on market trends. The assumption is that the market follows discernible patterns and if these patterns can be identified then a prediction can be made. The risk is that markets do not always follow patterns and relying solely on this method may not work long term.

Charting analysis strategy involves using and comparing various charts to predict long and short-term performance or market trends. The risk involved in solely using this method is that only past performance data is considered without using other methods to crosscheck data. Using charting analysis without other methods of analysis would be assuming that past performance will be indicative of future performance. This may not be the case.

Economic analysis focuses on how economic conditions may impact securities.

Investment Strategies

Long-term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Frequent trading, when done, can affect investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

Short term trading, short sales, margin transactions, and options generally hold greater risk and clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any of those strategies.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

The adviser generally seeks investment strategies that do not involve significant or unusual risk beyond that of the general domestic and/or international equity markets. However, it may utilize options when account appropriate. Options generally hold greater risk of capital loss and clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any of those strategies. The investment types listed below (leaving aside Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds) are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency.

Mutual Funds: Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss and thus you may lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. They can be of bond “fixed income” nature (lower risk) or stock “equity” nature (mentioned above).

Equity investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks by an individual or firms in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and capital gains if the value of the stock increases. There is an innate risk involved when purchasing a stock that it may decrease in value and the investment may incur a loss.

Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds: The Risk of default on these bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing price value, albeit rather minimal.

Fixed Income is an investment that promises fixed periodic payments in the future that may involve economic risks such as inflationary risk, interest rate risk, default risk, repayment of principal risk, etc. Investing in fixed income carries the risk of capital loss.

Debt securities carry risks such as the possibility of default on the principal, fluctuation in interest rates, and counterparties being unable to meet obligations. Investing in debt securities carries the risk of capital loss.

Stocks & Exchange Traded Funds (ETF): Investing in stocks & ETF's carries the risk of capital loss (sometimes up to a 100% loss in the case of a stock holding bankruptcy).

REITs have specific risks including valuation due to cash flows, dividends paid in stock rather than cash, and the payment of debt resulting in dilution of shares. Investing in REITS carries the possible risk of capital loss.

Precious Metal ETFs (e.g., Gold, Silver, or Palladium Bullion backed “electronic shares” not physical metal): Investing in precious metal ETFs carries the possible risk of capital loss.

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, the long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various other types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.

Short term trading risks include liquidity, economic stability and inflation and possible loss of capital.

Options involve a contract to purchase or sell a security at a given price, not necessarily at market value, depending on the market. This strategy includes the risk that an option may expire out of the money resulting in minimal or no value and the possibility of leveraged loss of trading capital due to the leveraged nature of stock options. An uncovered option is a type of options contract that is not backed by an offsetting position that would help mitigate risk. The risk for a “naked” or uncovered put is not unlimited, whereas the potential loss for an uncovered call option is limitless. Spread option positions entail buying and selling multiple options on the same underlying security, but with different strike prices or expiration dates, which helps limit the risk of other option trading strategies. Option writing also involves risks including but not limited to economic risk, market risk, sector risk, idiosyncratic risk, political/regulatory risk, inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk and possible loss of capital.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in any securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

DPM may employ different investment strategies that are determined by consultation and the objectives of the Client. These strategies primarily use common stock, ETF's and open end and closed end mutual funds. The resulting portfolios are not always diversified. Some strategies may include the use of treasury securities, option, fixed income (debt securities) and real estate investment trusts.

The client may change these objectives at any time.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Investing in securities involves risk of loss Clients should be prepared to bear. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.

- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of clients who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Disciplinary Information (Item 9)

Legal and Disciplinary

The firm paid $122,200 in 2019 to settle client complaints against a former advisor.

Robert Werr, Investment Advisor Representative, was subjected to heightened supervision by the Illinois Securities Department for a period of 12 months commencing in March 2019.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations (Item 10)

Affiliations

DPM has arrangements that are material to its advisory business or its clients with a related entity which is a broker/dealer. Please refer to the section "Brokerage Practices" for complete details.

DPM has affiliations with other investment advisers under an agreement. DPM receives compensation from the third-party investment advisers but does not otherwise receive any additional fees from the client. DPM has no other business relationship with third-party investment advisers. The investment advisers that DPM currently has arrangements with are listed on page 1. DPM does not have a material conflict of interest with these investment advisers.

Some of DPM's IAR's own an accounting firm or an insurance company (see Part 2B for information). DPM does not control the accounting firm or insurance company.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading (Item 11)

DPM Code of Ethics and Personal Securities Transactions: Federal and SRO registered personnel, employees, and members of their immediate family for potential violations of insider trading rules, front-running, free-riding and withholding. In addition, DPM now also monitors for evidence of mutual fund arbitrage trading.

To facilitate review and supervision of its associated persons personal and familial securities accounts, DPM most strongly encourages each IAR and employee to maintain all non-employer sponsored securities accounts through DPM. Individuals that prefer to hold personal or familial accounts at another institution or possess certificates will be held to strict adherence to the rules of ensuring copies of all statements and transactions are promptly forwarded to DPM for review and inclusion in the IAR's file. It is the IAR'S responsibility to ensure copies of statements are delivered to DPM. IAR's holding accounts at other broker-dealers will be charged reasonable fees for supervision of outside accounts

Personnel who fail to ensure or are negligent in providing required documents as specified above will be compelled to hold their accounts at DPM. The sanction for willful evasion of DPM's supervisory requirements is immediate termination.

DPM has adopted the following Code of Ethics relative to personal securities transactions and our insider trading policy:

DPM CODE OF ETHICS

Dominion Portfolio Management is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission to engage in the investment advisory business. SEC Rule 204A-1 (the Rule) requires all RIA's to have a code of ethics to which all access persons must adhere. This Code of Ethics (Code) requires all IAR's to know, acknowledge and comply with all applicable securities laws. The Code is intended to reflect the fiduciary principles and standards that regulate the conduct of DPM RIA and its associated and access persons. The Code includes provisions covering Insider Trading, confidentiality of client information, spreading rumors, acceptance of gifts and business entertainment items (and reporting thereon). All of these are detailed in the following sections.

- A(1) Individuals covered by the Code – any person deemed to be an access person. This would include all DPM Main Office personnel that may have access to client files, trading, and personal client information.
- A(2) All IAR's and any potential access person will be required to execute acknowledgement of the Code. Additionally, all personnel are required to disclose any financial interest that may impact their duties or potentially create conflicts of interest.
- B. Protection of non-public information
 - 1. Confidential client information – in the normal process of business DPM IAR's may receive confidential client information. This client information is subject to Regulation S-P.
 - 2. Material non-public information – insider trading. See Section 4.8 of the DPM Compliance Manual.

C. Personal Securities Transactions

The staff and IAR's of DPM are allowed to have securities accounts to own securities that are also owned by clients. These transactions (buy/sell/exchange) are subject to numerous restrictions to prevent conflicts of interest or in any other way interfere with the portfolio management obligations of DPM. The Code specifically prohibits transactions in advance of customer transaction (aka frontrunning) to prevent possible abuses. Additionally, since most IAR's are also series 7 registered RRs, they are prohibited from soliciting transaction in securities in advance of DPM clients. Exceptions to this restriction are batched transactions with clients where there is no reason to believe there would be any impact on client prices. In the event of partial fills client accounts will always be prioritized. Open ended mutual funds that price after-market daily is not subject to these restrictions.

In the event DPM participates in an IPO for client accounts, IAR's will not receive allocations of the IPO but may purchase in the aftermarket.

All of the following are always prohibited:

1. Defraud a client in any manner
2. Mislead a client; including omitting omissions of material fact
3. Engage in any act or practice that will deceive a client
4. Engage in any manipulative with clients or securities
5. Favor one client over another

All DPM Access persons are required to disclose any significant gifts or entertainment over $100 that is business related.

All DPM access persons are required to acknowledge this Code and the associated compliance manual no less than annually.

Penalties for violations to include warnings, suspension, and termination.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

DPM, its employees and IAR's, with knowledge of DPM's trading activity, may buy or sell publicly traded securities that are also held by clients. Employees and IAR's may not trade their own securities within a time frame ahead of client trades that may affect client transactions. Employees and IAR's comply with the provisions of the DPM Compliance Manual. DPM does not recommend securities in which DPM or related persons has a material financial interest other than publicly traded securities as described earlier in this paragraph.

Personal Trading

The Chief Compliance Officer of DPM is Shirley Crisler. The CCO reviews employee and IAR's trades each quarter that were previously reviewed by Rix Smith. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees and IAR's does not affect the markets, and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment. Since most employee trades are small relative to the volume in the securities being traded, the trades have little or no effect on those securities. DPM does monitor transactions regardless.

Brokerage Practices (Item 12)

Selecting Brokerage Firms

Dominion is an introducing broker/dealer who has established agreements with HTS, a member of FINRA and SIPC, to provide execution of orders and custody of client's cash and securities.

DPM believes the conflicts of interest in recommending Dominion/HTS as their preferred broker/dealer arrangement is mitigated by improvement in transaction costs to the client, along with transaction speed, reliability, internal audit capability and general efficiency.

Dominion routinely monitors the quality of client trade executions to ensure clients are receiving the best available execution price among the competing stock exchanges and market-makers. Transaction costs paid to Dominion are fixed flat-rate fees for advisory accounts. A copy of the transactions cost schedule is provided to the client as part of the advisory contract.

DPM believes that the transaction, HTS custody and clearing costs available through the Dominion/HTS arrangement are continuously monitored and have been and remain competitive.

Refer to the section "Other Fees" on page 4 regarding IRA annual fee charges.

Best Execution

DPM's executed trades are reviewed daily by Dominion for quality of execution. DPM does not receive any portion of the clearing charges.

Soft Dollars

DPM has no "soft dollar" arrangements with HTS or Dominion to provide additional goods or services (such as security research or portfolio software) in exchange for direction of the client's brokerage account. The services used by DPM are available without reservation to all users of the HTS trading platform. As part of its fiduciary obligation to its clients, DPM will monitor transaction related costs to its client's accounts for reasonableness with prevailing market costs.

Order Aggregation

All accounts are individually managed. Order aggregation benefits are minimal in these circumstances. Therefore, DPM rarely aggregates orders. DPM does not see a cost benefit to order aggregation as transaction costs are fixed regardless of the number of shares.

Review of Accounts (Item 13)

Periodic Reviews

DPM managed accounts are reviewed by Rix Smith (additional information about Mr. Smith can be found in Part 2B). Mr. Smith reviews the account holdings no less than on a monthly basis to ensure that the account continues to reflect the client's stated account objectives.

Reviews will be held at least annually between the assigned IAR and the client to discuss an account that is managed by a third-party manager. More frequent reviews, as determined by the IAR and client, may be conducted based on economic events, changes in markets or client circumstances.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's personal situation.

Performance Reports

Written quarterly performance reports are provided to DPM clients. Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodian to the performance report statements provided by DPM.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation (Item 14)

Incoming Referrals

DPM has been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals.

Referrals Out

DPM does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them. DPM does receive fees from third-party money managers for their management of DPM client accounts. See other fees in item 5.

Other Compensation – None

Custody (Item 15)

Account Statements

Unless the client(s) have chosen an outside money manager, all assets are held at HTS which provides account statements directly to clients at their address of record at least quarterly. Clients are encouraged to compare these account statements they receive from the qualified custodian to invoices and reports they receive from DPM.

DPM does not have custody of any client funds or securities, except for its authorization for deduction of management fees.

Investment Discretion (Item 16)

Discretionary Authority for Trading

For all discretionary portfolio management clients, DPM will be provided with full, discretionary authority to pick which securities and the amount of securities for the purchase and sale in the client's account, without obtaining specific client consent. The purchases and sales will be guided by the stated investment objectives of each client. A client may impose reasonable restrictions (identified in the client contract) on the services provided for the account (for example, indication that no tobacco or defense stocks may be purchased). All such restrictions shall be documented to DPM in writing. They may be amended in writing and will be implemented when accepted by DPM. DPM reserves the right to refuse or terminate any client account (pursuant to the contract's termination clause) if the client imposes unreasonable restrictions as determined by DPM.

Non-discretionary contracts do not include any discretionary authority.

Limited Power of Attorney (for discretionary accounts only)

A limited power of attorney is included in the contract for the purpose of discretionary account management.

Voting Client Securities (Item 17)

Proxy Votes

Each party to DPM's Investment Advisory Agreement acknowledges that client(s) will make decisions on the voting of proxies unless DPM is authorized to do so. If authorized, DPM will always vote in the best interest of the client(s). The client(s) have to indicate on the contract if DPM is not authorized to vote proxies. DPM does not invest in securities that will result in conflicts with client interests. A client may ask how their proxies were voted as any time. DPM may choose not to vote.

DPM reviews the following prior to voting to determine whether we believe they are in our clients' best interest:

1. Director nominee
2. Proposals that affect shareholder rights
3. Share par value adjustments, dilutive issuance, recapitalization plans, share repurchase plans, management incentive plans and any other items that may affect shareholder interest.

Below are our policies and procedures for determining each vote. A client may request information on why any vote was made at any time.

DPM votes yes only on items that we believe are positive or neutral relative to the investment in our clients' interests. We vote no when we determine the outcome is likely negative. We may decline to vote on an item when uncertain.

If subject to ERISA, all decisions are reserved to the trustee or a named fiduciary of client(s) account.

Financial Information (Item 18)

Financial Condition

DPM does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients. DPM has never filed for bankruptcy protection.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because DPM does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $500 per client, six months or more in advance.

Business Continuity Plan

General

DPM has a Business Continuity Plan in place that provides detailed steps to mitigate and recover from the loss of office space, communications, services or key people.

Disasters

The Business Continuity Plan covers natural disasters such as snow storms, hurricanes, tornados, and flooding. The Plan covers man-made disasters such as loss of electrical power, loss of water pressure, fire, bomb threat, nuclear emergency, chemical event, biological event, T-1 communications line outage, Internet outage, railway accident and aircraft accident.

Alternate Offices

Alternate offices are identified to support ongoing operations in the event the main office is unavailable. It is our intention to contact all clients within five days of a disaster that dictates moving our office to an alternate location.

Loss of Key Personnel

DPM office personnel are able to implement strategies in the event of Rix Smith's serious disability or death.
