Item 4 Advisory Business

Legacy Financial Group, LLC ("we", "our", "us") is a registered investment adviser based in Torrance, CA. We are organized as a limited liability company under the laws of the State of California. We have been providing investment advisory services since 2001. Melanie Tanaka, Managing Member is our principal owner. Legacy Financial Group, LLC is an independent financial adviser that provides financial planning services including personal financial planning, asset allocation and asset management. These services are independent of the investment supervisory services the firm offers through SagePoint Financial, Inc. and other third party investment advisers.

Currently, we offer the following investment advisory services, which are personalized to each individual client:

- Financial Planning Services
- Selection of Advisers (Third Party Management)
- Asset Allocation and Management Services

Such services are provided by our Investment Adviser Representatives ("Advisory Representative").

As used in this brochure, the words "you", "your" and "client" refer to you as either a client or prospective client of our firm. The following paragraphs describe our services and fees. Please refer to the description of each investment advisory service listed below for information on how we tailor our advisory services to your individual needs.

Financial Planning Services

We offer financial planning services which typically involve providing a variety of advisory services to clients regarding the management of their financial resources based upon an analysis of their individual needs. These services can range from broad-based financial planning to consultative or single subject planning. If you retain our firm for financial planning services, we will meet with you to gather information about your financial circumstances and objectives. We may also use financial planning software to determine your current financial position and to define and quantify your long-term goals and objectives. Once we specify those long-term objectives (both financial and non-financial), we will develop shorter-term, targeted objectives. Once we review and analyze the information you provide to our firm and the data derived from our financial planning software, we will deliver a written plan to you, designed to help you achieve your stated financial goals and objectives.

Financial plans are based on your financial situation at the time we present the plan to you, and on the financial information you provide to us. You must promptly notify our firm if your financial situation, goals, objectives, or needs change.

You are under no obligation to act on our financial planning recommendations. Should you choose to act on any of our recommendations, you are not obligated to implement the financial plan through any of our other investment advisory services. Moreover, you may act on our recommendations by placing securities transactions with any brokerage firm.

Refund/Termination Policy

You may terminate the agreement upon our receipt of written notice. Upon termination any prepaid fees will be prorated to the date of termination and returned to you. A full refund of any fees paid will be made if the contract is terminated within 5 business days of signing the agreement.

Selection of Other Advisers (Third Party Management)

As part of our investment advisory services, we may recommend that you use the services of a third party investment adviser ("TPA") to manage your entire, or a portion of your, investment portfolio. All third-party investment advisers to whom we refer clients must be licensed as an investment adviser by the State of California or a registered investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

After gathering information about your financial situation and investment objectives, one of our representatives will assist you in selecting a particular third-party management program. Factors that we consider in the selection of a particular third-party may include, without limitation: i) our qualitative assessment of a particular third-party program; ii) your risk tolerance, goals, objectives and restrictions, as well as investment experience; and, iii) the assets you have available for investment.

Advisory fees charged by TPAs are separate and apart from our advisory fees. Assets managed by TPAs will be included in calculating our advisory fee, which is based on the fee schedule set forth in the "Fees and Compensation" section in this brochure. Advisory fees that you pay to the TPA are established and payable in accordance with the brochure provided by each TPA to whom you are referred. These fees may or may not be negotiable. You should review the recommended TPA's this brochure and take into consideration the TPA's fees along with our fees to determine the total amount of fees associated with this program.

Certain programs may charge a "wrap fee." Selection of a "wrap fee" program may result in the payment of fees by you in excess of the combined total of separate advisory fees and brokerage commissions paid on a transactional basis. If a "wrap fee" program is not selected, you may incur additional fees, in addition to the fees charged by the third-party investment advisers; you may be charged transaction charges by securities broker-dealers.

Clients who are referred to third-party investment advisers will receive full disclosure, including services rendered and fee schedules, at the time of the referral, by delivery of a copy of the relevant third-party adviser's Form ADV Part 2A or equivalent disclosure document. In addition, if the investment program recommended to you is a wrap fee program, you will also receive the Part 2A, Appendix #1, or equivalent wrap fee brochure provided by the sponsor of the program. We will provide to each client all appropriate disclosure statements, including disclosure of solicitation fees to us and our Advisory Representatives.

You will be required to sign an advisory agreement with us and will also sign an advisory agreement directly with the third-party adviser of the program selected. You, our firm or the third-party adviser in accordance with the provisions of those agreements may terminate the advisory relationship. You will typically receive a pro rata refund of any prepaid advisory fees upon termination of an advisory agreement. Additionally, you may terminate our advisory relationship without being assessed any penalty within five (5) business days of its signing an advisory agreement.

We will contact you at least annually, and will inquire about changes in your financial situation and investment objectives, as well as the performance of the programs managed by the third-party investment adviser.

VISION2020 Wealth Management Platform - Advisor Managed Portfolios

The Wealth Management Platform - Advisor Managed Portfolios Program ("Advisor Managed Portfolios") provides comprehensive investment management of your assets through the application of asset allocation planning software as well as the provision of execution, clearing and custodial services through Pershing, LLC ("Pershing") or, on a limited basis National Financial Services, Inc. ("NFS").

Advisor Managed Portfolios provides risk tolerance assessment, efficient frontier plotting, fund profiling and performance data, and portfolio optimization and re-balancing tools. Utilizing these tools, and based on your responses to a risk tolerance questionnaire ("Questionnaire") and discussions that we have together regarding, among other things, investment objective, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, account restrictions, and overall financial situation, we construct a portfolio of investments for you. Your Advisory Representative has the option to allocate your portfolio amongst a mix of stocks, bonds, options, exchange-traded funds, mutual funds and other securities ("Program Investments") which are based on your investment goals, objectives, and risk tolerance.

Each portfolio is designed to meet your individual needs, stated goals and objectives. Additionally, you have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio.

For further Advisor Managed Portfolios details, please see the Advisor Managed Portfolios Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in Advisor Managed Portfolios. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

VISION2020 Wealth Management Platform - SMA and UMA Program

The Wealth Management Platform - SMA and UMA Account Program ("Wealth Managed Account Program" or "WMAP") provides you with the opportunity to invest your assets across multiple investment strategies and asset classes by implementing an asset allocation strategy. WMAP is a Wrap Account program that offers these advisory services along with brokerage and custodial services for a single, annual, asset-based advisory fee.

We will present you with a WMAP asset allocation model ("WMAP Model") for your approval which will consist of: 1) third party money managers ("WMAP Managers") who will manage your WMAP account according to a particular equity or fixed income model or strategy, or 2) no-load mutual funds ("Funds"), or 3) exchange traded funds ("ETFs") or any combination thereof (individually or collectively, "WMAP Investments"). WMAP Investments will be managed according to the selected WMAP Model. WMAP Investments are held within a separately managed account or a series of separately managed accounts (collectively, "SMA Account") or in one, unified managed account ("UMA Account").

We will suggest a WMAP Model to you based on your responses to a risk tolerance questionnaire ("Questionnaire") and discussion that we have together regarding among other things, investment objective, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, account restrictions, and overall financial situation. In addition, you have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on investments held within your WMAP account.

For further WMAP details, please see the WMAP Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in WMAP. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

VISION2020 WEALTH MANAGEMENT PLATFORM - GENESIS MODEL PORTFOLIOS PROGRAM

The Wealth Management Platform - Genesis Model Portfolios Program ("Model Program") offers you managed asset allocation models ("Asset Allocation Models") of mutual funds, exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), or a combination thereof, diversified across various investment styles and strategies. The Asset Allocation Models are constructed by managers ("Program Managers") such as BlackRock Investment Management, LLC and Vanguard Advisers, Inc.

Based upon your risk tolerance, the Model Program utilizes a system that selects a specific Asset Allocation Model. After the Asset Allocation Model is chosen, we, with the assistance of the Model Program sponsor, will open a Model Program account. Your assets will be invested in the specific investments contained within the recommended Asset Allocation Model. You have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on investments held within the Model Program account.

For further Model Program details, including a full list of Program Managers, please see the Model Program Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in the Model Program. Please read it thoroughly before investing.

Types of Investments

We offer advice on equity securities, warrants, corporate debt securities, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities, US Government securities, exchange-traded fund (ETF), and interest in partnerships investing in real estate, oil and gas interests.

Additionally, we may advise you on any type of investment that we deem appropriate based on your stated goals and objectives. We may also provide advice on any type of investment held in your portfolio at the inception of our advisory relationship.

You may request that we refrain from investing in particular securities or certain types of securities. You must provide these restrictions to our firm in writing.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2019, we provide continuous management services for $12,806,325 in client assets on a discretionary basis, and $62,544,058 in client assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Financial Planning Services

We charge a fixed fee for financial planning services, which generally ranges between $1,500 and $5,000. The first half of the estimated fee is due in advance of services rendered with the remaining balance payable upon completion of the contracted services. The fee is negotiable depending upon the complexity and scope of the plan, your financial situation, and your objectives. Typically the financial plan will be presented to you within 90 days or less of the contract date, provided that you promptly provide all information needed to prepare the financial plan. We will not require prepayment of a fee more than six months in advance and in excess of $1200. Should the engagement last longer than six months between acceptance of financial planning agreement and delivery of the financial plan, any prepaid unearned fees will be promptly returned to you less a pro rata charge for bona fide financial planning services rendered to date.

We also provide financial planning services based upon an hourly fee of $250, which is negotiable depending on the scope and complexity of the plan, your situation, and your financial objectives. An estimate of the total time/cost will be determined at the start of the advisory relationship. In limited circumstances, the cost/time could potentially exceed the initial estimate. In such cases, we will notify you and request that you approve the additional fee.

We also offer advice on single subject financial planning/general consulting services at the same hourly rate.

At our discretion, we may offset our financial planning fees to the extent you implement the financial plan through our investment management service.

The financial planning fee will be waived if a client also engages our firm to provide investment management service in conjunction with the financial planning engagement. This fee waiver is only available for clients that engage for both services prior to the conclusion of the financial planning arrangement.

When you receive financial planning services, you may also purchase securities or insurance products offered through SagePoint pursuant to the plan or consultation. Our Advisory Representatives may receive commissions (and this may be their primary method of compensation) as Registered Representatives of SagePoint or insurance agents in connection with such transactions. Thus, we may have a conflict of interest when providing financial planning services to you as there may be an incentive for us to recommend specific courses of action through our financial planning services that may lead to our Advisory Representatives receiving additional compensation.

Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm in connection with our providing you with financial planning services, or any advisory service that we offer.

Either party can terminate the agreement in writing within 5 days of execution without fee or penalty. Thereafter the agreement may be terminated by either party upon 30 day written notice. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the agreement, based on the work performed prior to termination and any pre-paid unearned fees will be refunded. In the event of termination fee refunds are calculated by using the following formula: Any prepaid fee - (number of hours spent prior to termination x $250).

Selections of Other Advisers

We do not charge you a separate fee for the selection of other advisers. We will share in the advisory fee you pay directly to the Third Party Investment Adviser ("TPA"). The advisory fee you pay to the TPA is established and payable in accordance with the brochure provided by each TPA to whom you are referred. These fees may or may not be negotiable. Our compensation may differ depending upon the individual agreement we have with each TPA. As such, a conflict of interest exists where our firm or persons associated with our firm has an incentive to recommend one TPA over another TPA with whom we have more favorable compensation arrangements or other advisory programs offered by TPAs with whom we have less or no compensation arrangements.

You may be required to sign an agreement directly with the recommended TPA(s). You may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA according to the terms of your agreement with the TPA. You should review each TPA's brochure for specific information on how you may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA and how you may receive a refund, if applicable. You should contact the TPA directly for questions regarding your advisory agreement with the TPA.

Fees paid by you to independent third-party advisers are established and payable in accordance with the Form ADV Part 2A or Wrap Fee or other equivalent disclosure provided by each independent third-party adviser to whom we refer our clients, and may or may not be negotiable, as disclosed in the disclosure documents of the third-party adviser.

VISION2020 Wealth Management Platform - Advisor Managed Portfolios

Advisor Managed Portfolios is offered as an account where no separate transactions charges apply and a single fee is paid for all advisory services and transactions ("Wrap Account"). In a Wrap Account, the wrap fee can be set-up so that either the Firm or the Advisory Representative pays the underlying ticket charges for securities transactions. In cases where the Advisory Representative pays the ticket charges, the Advisory Representative may be incentivized to trade less frequently which results in the Advisory Representative retaining a greater portion of the wrap fee. The Firm has policies and procedures to monitor and reduce the risk of this occurring.

Advisor Managed Portfolios is also offered with separate advisory fees and transaction charges ("Non-Wrap Account"). As such, in addition to the quarterly account fee described below for advisory services, you may also pay separate per-trade transaction charges.

You will pay a quarterly account fee, in advance, based upon the market value of the assets held in your account as of the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter. Your account fees are negotiable and will be debited from your account by our custodian. If you terminate your participation in this program, you will be entitled to a pro rata refund of any prepaid quarterly fees based upon the number of days remaining in the quarter after the date upon which the notice of termination is received.

Mutual funds and ETFs invested in the account have their own internal fees which are separate and distinct from the program account fees (for more information on these fees, see the applicable fund prospectus). Some Fund fees include 12b-1 fees which are internal distribution fees assessed by the Fund, all or a portion of which are paid to the distributor(s) of the Funds. The Firm and your Advisory Representative do not retain 12b-1 fees paid by Funds. In certain instances, you may be eligible to purchase certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds without incurring transaction charges subject to certain conditions. For details, please refer to Item 4 (No Transaction Fee Programs) of the Advisor Managed Portfolios wrap fee brochure. If your assets are held in a certain type of Wrap Account, an incentive may exist for your Advisory Representative to purchase mutual funds or exchange-traded funds that are part of the No Transaction Fee Programs to avoid paying a transaction fee.

For complete fee details, including account fee schedule guidelines and a list of transaction charges, please see the Advisor Managed Portfolios Wrap Fee Program Brochure

VISION2020 Wealth Management Platform - SMA and UMA Program

The Wealth Management Platform - SMA and UMA Account Program ("Wealth Managed Account Program" or "WMA") provides you with the opportunity to invest your assets across multiple investment strategies and asset classes by implementing an asset allocation strategy. WMA is a Wrap Account program that offers these advisory services along with brokerage and custodial services for a single, annual, asset-based advisory fee.

You will pay a quarterly account fee, in advance, based upon the market value of the assets held in your account as of the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter. Your account fees are negotiable and will be debited from your account by our custodian. You will receive a full account fee refund in the event that you terminate your client agreement with us within five business days of signing. If you terminate after the first five days, the account fee will be credited back to you on a pro-rata basis for the unused portion of the quarter.

For complete fee details, including account fee schedule guidelines please see the WMA Wrap Fee Program Brochure. We provide this brochure to you prior to or concurrent with your enrollment in WMA. Please read it thoroughly before investing

We offer the Genesis Model Portfolios Program as an account where no separate transactions charges apply and a single fee is paid for all advisory services and transactions ("Wrap Account").

You will pay a quarterly account fee, in advance, based upon the market value of the assets held in your account as of the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter. Your account fees are negotiable and will be debited from your account by our custodian. If you terminate your participation in this program, you will be entitled to a pro rata refund of any prepaid quarterly fees based upon the number of days remaining in the quarter after the date upon which the notice of termination is received.

Each of our Advisory Representatives negotiates his or her own account fee schedule. The account fees paid by client include portions paid to your Advisory Representative ("Adviser Fees"), as well as to the Firm, the custodian, and the third party money managers selected ("Program Fees"). Adviser fees are set independently regardless of manager selected. Mutual funds and ETFs invested in the account also have their own internal fees ("internal fund expenses") which are separate and distinct from the program account fees (for more information on these fees, see the applicable fund prospectus). Since fees billed to your Model Program account are comprised of both program fees and adviser fees, Advisory Representatives may have an incentive to select third party money managers with lower program fees in order to manage the overall fee charged to you. You and your Advisory Representative should consider the overall fees and expenses, including internal fund expenses, when selecting managers and other portfolio investments.

For complete fee details, including account fee schedule guidelines, please see the Model Program Wrap Fee Brochure.

Additional Fees and Expenses

Mutual fund investments in the programs that we offer are no-load or load at NAV. Your mutual fund investments may be subject to early redemption fees, 12b-1 fees and mutual fund management fees as well as other mutual fund expenses. These fees are in addition to the fees and expenses referenced above. Please review the mutual fund prospectus for full details.

For SagePoint programs that may have per-trade transaction charges (Wrap Accounts), you will be charged an additional minimal fee for each trade confirmation that you do not elect to receive electronically. You may also be subject to an additional, per-trade transaction charge on the selling of certain securities as disclosed on your trade confirmation (generally less than $1.00 on trades of $50,000 or less). These fees are not shared with us but are transaction charges paid to SagePoint and our custodian. Please see Section: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations which explains our relationship with SagePoint.

There are additional fees relating to IRA and Qualified Retirement Plan accounts that you may incur such as maintenance and termination fees. You will find these fees disclosed in the account application paperwork provided to you associated with these accounts.

In addition to providing advisory services, our Advisory Representatives may also sell you securities products and other investment and insurance products in their capacity as registered representatives of SagePoint and as licensed insurance agents. We may receive additional compensation in connection with this activity and the amount of compensation may depend on the type of product purchased. We may have a financial incentive to sell certain products as opposed to others (for example, in the case of mutual funds those that have a higher 12b-1 fee than others). Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm in connection with providing you with any advisory service that we offer.

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may invest, or recommend that you invest, in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. You will also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian through whom your account transactions are executed. We do not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds, our firm, and others. For information on our brokerage practices, please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section of this brochure.

Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are registered representatives with SagePoint Financial, Inc., a securities broker-dealer, and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"). In their capacity as registered representatives, these persons may receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by these persons in their capacities as registered representatives is separate and in addition to our advisory fees. Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to you. Insurance commissions earned by these persons are separate and in addition to our advisory fees.

This practice may present a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives and insurance agents may have an incentive to effect securities and insurance transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs.

We will endeavor at all times to place your interests first when making recommendations regarding insurance and investment products and you are under no obligation to purchase either insurance or investment products through any person affiliated with our firm.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not accept performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's account. Our fees are calculated as described in the Advisory Business section above, and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon, or capital appreciation of, the funds in your advisory account.

Item 7 Types of Clients

We offer investment advisory services to individuals, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, and other business entities.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our investment strategies and advice may vary depending upon each client's specific financial situation. As such, we determine investments and allocations based upon your predefined objectives, risk tolerance, time horizon, financial horizon, financial information, liquidity needs, and other various suitability factors. Your restrictions and guidelines may affect the composition of your portfolio.

Methods of Analysis

We may use one or more of the following methods of analysis when providing investment advice to you:

- Modern Portfolio Theory (MPT) is a theory of investment which attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, by carefully diversifying the proportions of various assets. We will use this method of analysis as our core investment strategy and we will select asset allocation models based on your risk profile and investment objectives.
- Charting Analysis - involves the gathering and processing of price and volume information for a particular security. This price and volume information is analyzed using mathematical equations. The resulting data is then applied to graphing charts, which is used to predict future price movements based on price patterns and trends.
- Fundamental Analysis - involves analyzing individual companies and their industry groups, such as a company's financial statements, details regarding the company's product line, the experience and expertise of the company's management, and the outlook for the company's industry. The resulting data is used to measure the true value of the company's stock compared to the current market value.
- Technical Analysis - involves studying past price patterns and trends in the financial markets to predict the direction of both the overall market and specific stocks.
- Cyclical Analysis - a type of technical analysis that involves evaluating recurring price patterns and trends.

Associated Risks

Charting and Technical Analysis - The risk of market timing based on technical analysis is that charts may not accurately predict future price movements. Current prices of securities may reflect all information known about the security and day to day changes in market prices of securities may follow random patterns and may not be predictable with any reliable degree of accuracy.

Fundamental Analysis - The risk of fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect and the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a stock's value. If securities prices adjust rapidly to new information, utilizing fundamental analysis may not result in favorable performance.

Cyclical Analysis - Economic/business cycles may not be predictable and may have many fluctuations between long term expansions and contractions. The lengths of economic cycles may be difficult to predict with accuracy and therefore the risk of cyclical analysis is the difficulty in predicting economic trends and consequently the changing value of securities that would be affected by these changing trends.

Investment Strategies

We may use one or more of the following investment strategies when formulating investment advice:

- Long Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year.

- Short Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities' short-term price fluctuations.

We will not perform quantitative or qualitative analysis of individual securities. Instead, we will advise you on how to allocate your assets among various classes of securities or third party investment advisers. We primarily rely on investment model portfolios and strategies developed by the various third party investment advisers and their portfolio managers. We may recommend replacing any of these third party investment advisers if there is a significant deviation in characteristics or performance from the stated strategy and/or benchmark.

Tax Considerations

Our strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. However, unless we specifically agree otherwise, and in writing, tax efficiency is not our primary consideration in the management of your assets. Regardless of your account size or any other factors, we strongly recommend that you continuously consult with a tax professional prior to and throughout the investing of your assets.

Moreover, as a result of revised IRS regulations, custodians and broker-dealers will begin reporting the cost basis of equities acquired in client accounts on or after January 1, 2011. Our firm or the TPA managing your account will either instruct the custodian to use the first-in, first-out ("FIFO") accounting method for calculating and reporting the cost basis of your investments or the custodian will default to the FIFO method where no instruction is given.

You are responsible for contacting your tax adviser to determine if this accounting method is the right choice for you. If your tax adviser believes another accounting method is more advantageous, please provide written notice to our firm immediately and we will alert your account custodian of your individually selected accounting method. Please note that decisions about cost basis accounting methods will need to be made before trades settle, as the cost basis method cannot be changed after settlement.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. We do not represent or guarantee that our services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives will be met. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance.

Other Risk Considerations

When evaluating risk, financial loss may be viewed differently by each client and may depend on many different risks, each of which may affect the probability and magnitude of any potential losses. The following risks may not be all-inclusive, but should be considered carefully by a prospective client before retaining our services.

Liquidity Risk: The risk of being unable to sell your investment at a fair price at a given time due to high volatility or lack of active liquid markets. You may receive a lower price or it may not be possible to sell the investment at all.

Credit Risk: Credit risk typically applies to debt investments such as corporate, municipal, and sovereign fixed income or bonds. A bond issuing entity can experience a credit event that could impair or erase the value of an issuer's securities held by a client.

Inflation and Interest Rate Risk: Security prices and portfolio returns will likely vary in response to changes in inflation and interest rates. Inflation causes the value of future dollars to be worth less and may reduce the purchasing power of a client's future interest payments and principal. Inflation also generally leads to higher interest rates which may cause the value of many types of fixed income investments to decline.

Horizon and Longevity Risk: The risk that your investment horizon is shortened because of an unforeseen event, for example, the loss of your job. This may force you to sell investments that you were expecting to hold for the long term. If you must sell at a time that the markets are down, you may lose money. Longevity Risk is the risk of outliving your savings. This risk is particularly relevant for people who are retired, or are nearing retirement.

Recommendation of Particular Types of Securities

As disclosed under the "Advisory Business" section in this brochure, we primarily recommend mutual funds and exchange traded funds ("ETFs"). However, we may advise on or recommend other types of investments as appropriate, based on your specific needs and risk tolerance. Each type of security has its own unique set of risks associated with it, and it would not be possible to list here all of the specific risks of every type of security. Even within the same type of investment, risks can vary widely.

Money Market Funds: A money market fund is technically a security. The fund managers attempt to keep the share price constant at $1/share. However, there is no guarantee that the share price will stay at $1/share. If the share price goes down, you can lose some or all of your principal. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") notes that "While investor losses in money market funds have been rare, they are possible." In return for this risk, you should earn a greater return on your cash than you would expect from a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insured savings account (money market funds are not FDIC insured). Next, money market fund rates are variable. In other words, you do not know how much you will earn on your investment next month. The rate could go up or go down. If it goes up, that may result in a positive outcome. However, if it goes down and you earn less than you expected to earn, you may end up needing more cash. A final risk you are taking with money market funds has to do with inflation. Because money market funds are considered to be safer than other investments like stocks, long-term average returns on money market funds tends to be less than long term average returns on riskier investments. Over long periods of time, inflation can eat away at your returns.

Certificates of Deposit: Certificates of deposit are generally the safest type of investment since they are insured by the federal government up to a certain amount. However, because the returns are generally very low, it is possible for inflation to outpace the return. Likewise, U.S. government securities are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government but it is also possible for the rate of inflation to exceed the returns.

Municipal Securities: Municipal securities, while generally thought of as safe, can have significant risks associated with them including, but not limited to: the credit worthiness of the governmental entity that issues the bond; the stability of the revenue stream that is used to pay the interest to the bondholders; when the bond is due to mature; and, whether or not the bond can be "called" prior to maturity. When a bond is called, it may not be possible to replace it with a bond of equal character paying the same amount of interest or yield to maturity.

Bonds: Corporate debt securities (or "bonds") are typically safer investments than equity securities, but their risk can also vary widely based on: the financial health of the issuer; the risk that the issuer might default; when the bond is set to mature; and, whether or not the bond can be "called" prior to maturity. When a bond is called, it may not be possible to replace it with a bond of equal character paying the same rate of return.

Stocks: There are numerous ways of measuring the risk of equity securities (also known simply as "equities" or "stock"). In very broad terms, the value of a stock depends on the financial health of the company issuing it. However, stock prices can be affected by many other factors including, but not limited to the class of stock (for example, preferred or common); the health of the market sector of the issuing company; and, the overall health of the economy. In general, larger, better established companies ("large cap") tend to be safer than smaller start-up companies ("small cap") are but the mere size of an issuer is not, by itself, an indicator of the safety of the investment.

Mutual Funds and Exchange Traded Funds: Mutual funds and exchange traded funds ("ETF") are professionally managed collective investment systems that pool money from many investors and invest in stocks, bonds, short-term money market instruments, other mutual funds, other securities, or any combination thereof. The fund will have a manager that trades the fund's investments in accordance with the fund's investment objective. While mutual funds and ETFs generally provide diversification, risks can be significantly increased if the fund is concentrated in a particular sector of the market, primarily invests in small cap or speculative companies, uses leverage (i.e., borrows money) to a significant degree, or concentrates in a particular type of security (i.e., equities) rather than balancing the fund with different types of securities. ETFs differ from mutual funds since they can be bought and sold throughout the day like stock and their price can fluctuate throughout the day. The returns on mutual funds and ETFs can be reduced by the costs to manage the funds. Also, while some mutual funds are "no load" and charge no fee to buy into, or sell out of, the fund, other types of mutual funds do charge such fees which can also reduce returns. Mutual funds can also be "closed end" or "open end". So-called "open end" mutual funds continue to allow in new investors indefinitely whereas "closed end" funds have a fixed number of shares to sell which can limit their availability to new investors.

ETFs may have tracking error risks. For example, the ETF investment adviser may not be able to cause the ETF's performance to match that of its Underlying Index or other benchmark, which may negatively affect the ETF's performance. In addition, for leveraged and inverse ETFs that seek to track the performance of their Underlying Indices or benchmarks on a daily basis, mathematical compounding may prevent the ETF from correlating with performance of its benchmark. In addition, an ETF may not have investment exposure to all of the securities included in its Underlying Index, or its weighting of investment exposure to such securities may vary from that of the Underlying Index. Some ETFs may invest in securities or financial instruments that are not included in the Underlying Index, but which are expected to yield similar performance.

Variable Annuities: A variable annuity is a form of insurance where the seller or issuer (typically an insurance company) makes a series of future payments to a buyer (annuitant) in exchange for the immediate payment of a lump sum (single-payment annuity) or a series of regular payments (regular-payment annuity). The payment stream from the issuer to the annuitant has an unknown duration based principally upon the date of death of the annuitant. At this point, the contract will terminate and the remainder of the funds accumulated forfeited unless there are other annuitants or beneficiaries in the contract. Annuities can be purchased to provide an income during retirement. Unlike fixed annuities that make payments in fixed amounts or in amounts that increase by a fixed percentage, variable annuities, pay amounts that vary according to the performance of a specified set of investments, typically bond and equity mutual funds. Many variable annuities typically impose asset-based sales charges or surrender charges for withdrawals within a specified period. Variable annuities may impose a variety of fees and expenses, in addition to sales and surrender charges, such as mortality and expense risk charges; administrative fees; underlying fund expenses; and charges for special features, all of which can reduce the return. Earnings in a variable annuity do not provide all the tax advantages of 401(k)s and other before-tax retirement plans. Once the investor starts withdrawing money from their variable annuity, earnings are taxed at the ordinary income rate, rather than at the lower capital gains rates applied to other non-tax-deferred vehicles which are held for more than one year. Proceeds of most variable annuities do not receive a "step-up" in cost basis when the owner dies like stocks, bonds and mutual funds do. Some variable annuities offer "bonus credits." These are usually not free. In order to fund them, insurance companies typically impose mortality and expense charges and surrender charge periods. In an exchange of an existing annuity for a new annuity (so-called 1035 exchanges), the new variable annuity may have a lower contract value and a smaller death benefit; may impose new surrender charges or increase the period of time for which the surrender charge applies; may have higher annual fees; and provide another commission for the broker.

Real Estate Investment Trust: A real estate investment trust ("REIT") is a corporate entity which invests in real estate and/or engages in real estate financing. A REIT reduces or eliminates corporate income taxes. REITs can be publicly or privately held. Public REITs may be listed on public stock exchanges. REITs are required to declare 90% of their taxable income as dividends, but they actually pay dividends out of funds from operations, so cash flow has to be strong or the REIT must either dip into reserves, borrow to pay dividends, or distribute them in stock (which causes dilution). After 2012, the IRS stopped permitting stock dividends. Most REITs must refinance or erase large balloon debts periodically. The credit markets are no longer frozen, but banks are demanding, and getting, harsher terms to re-extend REIT debt. Some REITs may be forced to make secondary stock offerings to repay debt, which will lead to additional dilution of the stockholders. Fluctuations in the real estate market can affect the REIT's value and dividends.

Structured Products: A structured product, also known as a market-linked product, is generally a pre-packaged investment strategy based on derivatives, such as a single security, a basket of securities, options, indices, commodities, debt issuances, and/or foreign currencies, and to a lesser extent, swaps. Structured products are usually issued by investment banks or affiliates thereof. They have a fixed maturity, and have two components: a note and a derivative. The derivative component is often an option. The note provides for periodic interest payments to the investor at a predetermined rate, and the derivative component provides for the payment at maturity. Some products use the derivative component as a put option written by the investor that gives the buyer of the put option the right to sell to the investor the security or securities at a predetermined price. Other products use the derivative component to provide for a call option written by the investor that gives the buyer of the call option the right to buy the security or securities from the investor at a predetermined price. A feature of some structured products is a "principal guarantee" function, which offers protection of principal if held to maturity. However, these products are not always Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured; they may only be insured by the issuer, and thus have the potential for loss of principal in the case of a liquidity crisis, or other solvency problems with the issuing company. Investing in structured products involves a number of risks including but not limited to: fluctuations in the price, level or yield of underlying instruments, interest rates, currency values and credit quality; substantial loss of principal; limits on participation in any appreciation of the underlying instrument; limited liquidity; credit risk of the issuer; conflicts of interest; and, other events that are difficult to predict.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Legacy Financial Group, LLC has been registered and providing investment advisory services since 2001. Neither our firm nor any of our Associated Persons has any reportable disciplinary information.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Registrations with Broker-Dealer

All representatives of our firm that provide advice to you ("Advisory Representatives") are associated with SagePoint Financial, Inc. ("SagePoint") as Registered Representatives. SagePoint is a diversified financial services company registered with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") as a broker-dealer engaged in the offer and sale of securities products. Our Advisory Representatives may recommend the purchase of securities offered by SagePoint. If you purchase these products through them, they will receive normal commissions which may be in addition to customary advisory fees. As such, Advisory Representatives may have an incentive to sell you commissionable products in addition to providing you with advisory services when such commissionable products may not be suitable.

Alternatively, they may have an incentive to forego providing you with advisory services when appropriate, and instead recommend the purchase of commissionable investments, if they deem that the payout for recommending the purchase of these investments would be higher than providing management advice on these products for an advisory fee. While our security sales are reviewed for suitability by an appointed supervisor, you should be aware of the incentives we may have to sell certain securities products and are encouraged to ask us about any conflict of interest that may be presented. Please be aware that you are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by us or members of our Firm in connection with providing you with any advisory service that we offer.

Recommendation of Other Advisers

We may recommend that you use a third party investment advisers ("TPA") based on your needs and suitability. We do not charge you a separate fee for the selection of other advisers. We will share in the advisory fee you pay directly to the TPA. The advisory fee you pay to the TPA is established and payable in accordance with the brochure provided by each TPA to whom you are referred. We do not have any other business relationships with the recommended TPA(s). Refer to the Advisory Business section above for additional disclosures on this topic.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Description of Our Code of Ethics

We strive to comply with applicable laws and regulations governing our practices. Therefore, our Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair dealing with you. All of our Associated Persons are expected to adhere strictly to these guidelines. Our Code of Ethics also requires that certain persons associated with our firm submit reports of their personal account holdings and transactions to a qualified representative of our firm who will review these reports on a periodic basis. Persons associated with our firm are also required to report any violations of our Code of Ethics. Additionally, we maintain and enforce written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse or dissemination of material, non-public information about you or your account holdings by persons associated with our firm.

Clients or prospective clients may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Neither our firm nor any of our Associated Persons has any material financial interest in client transactions beyond the provision of investment advisory services as disclosed in this brochure.

Personal Trading Practices

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. Please be aware that open-end mutual funds are purchased or redeemed at a fixed net asset value price per share specific to the date of purchase or redemption. As such, transactions in mutual funds by our Advisory Representatives are not likely to have an impact on the prices of the fund shares in which Clients invest.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

We recommend the brokerage and custodial services of SagePoint Financial, Inc., a securities broker-dealer and a member of FINRA/SIPC. We believe that SagePoint Financial, Inc. provides quality execution services for you at competitive prices. Price is not the sole factor we consider in evaluating best execution. We also consider the quality of the brokerage services provided by SagePoint Financial, Inc., including the value of research provided, the firm's reputation, execution capabilities, commission rates, and responsiveness to our clients and our firm. In recognition of the value of research services and additional brokerage products and services SagePoint Financial, Inc., provides, you may pay higher commissions and/or trading costs than those that may be available elsewhere. We do not receive research and soft dollar benefits. We do not receive client referrals from broker-dealers in exchange for cash or other compensation, such as brokerage services or research.

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives of SagePoint Financial, Inc. will recommend SagePoint Financial, Inc. to you for brokerage services. These individuals are subject to applicable rules that restrict them from conducting securities transactions away from SagePoint Financial, Inc. unless SagePoint Financial, Inc. provides the representative with written authorization to do so. Therefore, these individuals are generally limited to conducting securities transactions through SagePoint Financial, Inc. It may be the case that SagePoint Financial, Inc. charges higher transactions costs and/or custodial fees than another broker charges for the same types of services. If transactions are executed through SagePoint Financial, Inc., these individuals (in their separate capacities as registered representatives of SagePoint Financial, Inc.) may earn commission-based compensation as a result of placing the recommended securities transactions through SagePoint Financial, Inc. This practice presents a conflict of interest because these registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. You may utilize the broker-dealer of your choice and have no obligation to purchase or sell securities through such broker as we recommend. However, if you do not use SagePoint Financial, Inc., we may not be able to accept your account. Please see the "Fees and Compensation" section in this brochure for more information on the compensation received by registered representatives who are affiliated with our firm.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

We do not have any soft dollar arrangements.

Economic Benefits

As a registered investment adviser, we have access to the institutional platform of your account custodian. As such, we will also have access to research products and services from your account custodian and/or other brokerage firms. These products may include financial publications, information about particular companies and industries, research software, and other products or services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Such research products and services are provided to all investment advisers that utilize the institutional services platforms of these firms, and are not considered to be paid for with soft dollars. However, you should be aware that the commissions charged by a particular broker for a particular transaction or set of transactions may be greater than the amounts another broker who did not provide research services or products might charge.

Additionally, various service platforms offer programs that may pay additional compensation and/or may provide consulting, education, training, marketing support and/or other services to assist Legacy Financial Group. Under these programs, individual Financial Advisers of Legacy Financial Group are entitled to receive a quarterly business development allowance for reimbursement of qualified marketing/practice development expenses incurred by the Financial Adviser. These amounts vary depending on the value of the Account assets of Clients referred to service platform by the Financial Adviser. These payments will not increase the fees assessed to those client accounts associated with these Financial Advisers or their firms. Marketing support may take the form of sponsoring conferences, payment of certain expenses, such as fees to allow Legacy Financial Group to participate in educational conferences of Financial Advisory Firms, expenses of presenting workshops/seminars for prospective and existing Clients, or expenses of Financial Adviser attendance at informational or due diligence meetings held at the services platforms offices, commercial lodging or resort facilities. Gifts of a nominal value and/or promotional incentives may be provided when permissible.

Directed Brokerage

We routinely require that you direct our firm to execute transactions through SagePoint, Pershing, and SEI. As such, we may be unable to achieve the most favorable execution of your transactions and you may pay higher brokerage commissions than you might otherwise pay through another broker-dealer that offers the same types of services. Not all advisers require their clients to direct brokerage.

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives of SagePoint Financial will recommend SagePoint Financial to you for brokerage services. These individuals are subject to applicable rules that restrict them from conducting securities transactions away from SagePoint Financial unless SagePoint Financial provides the representative with written authorization to do so. Therefore, these individuals are generally limited to conducting securities transactions through SagePoint Financial. It may be the case that SagePoint Financial charges higher transactions costs and/or custodial fees than another broker charges for the same types of services. If transactions are executed through SagePoint Financial, these individuals (in their separate capacities as registered representatives of SagePoint Financial) may earn commission-based compensation as result of placing the recommended securities transactions through SagePoint Financial. This practice presents a conflict of interest because these registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. You may utilize the broker-dealer of your choice and have no obligation to purchase or sell securities through such broker as, we recommend. However, if you do not use SagePoint Financial, we may not be able to accept your account. See the Fees and Compensation section in this brochure for more information on the compensation received by registered representatives who are affiliated with our firm.

Block Trades

We may aggregate your orders with those of other clients in a bunched trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold. For each account that we include in the bunched trade, we must reasonably believe that the bunched order is consistent with our duty to seek best execution and benefit you and each client participating in the aggregated order. The average price per share of each bunched trade is allocated to each account that participates in the bunched trade. Accounts that participate in the same bunched trade are charged transactions costs, if applicable, in accordance with their advisory contracts.

If a bunched order cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation. Partial fills will be allocated in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular client accounts and are generally filled pro-rata among participating accounts.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

For investment management services, securities are reviewed on a regular basis. Triggering factors include but are not limited to, the state of the markets, price momentum, relative strength, group relative strength, volume, accumulation, distributions, earnings and earning potential. In the case of mutual funds, the funds are reviewed to see if they are meeting expectations on a basis of risk versus reward. Additional reviews are available at your request. All reviews will be conducted by our Advisory Representatives.

For financial planning services, at a minimum, you will receive an annual review and consultation. Such review and consultation will contain some or all of the following; specific advice concerning any changes in your investments that we believe you should make and specific advice concerning the manner in which you can make the changes advised by either us or your third party adviser. All reviews will be conducted by our Advisory Representatives.

All investment management services clients will receive statements from their custodians on either a monthly or quarterly basis. These reports will show the current market values and transactions during the past month or quarter as well as interest, dividends and capital gains for the reporting period.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not directly or indirectly compensate non-employee (outside) consultants, individuals, and/or entities (Solicitors) for client referrals.

As discussed previously, all our Advisory Representatives are Registered Representatives of SagePoint. This arrangement requires us to offer you advisory services and programs sponsored or approved by SagePoint. SagePoint sets limits on how much we can charge you for these advisory services. Some advisory programs have higher fee limits than others. As such, there may be an incentive for us to recommend to you advisory services or programs with higher limits. In addition, SagePoint may charge us certain usage fees and expenses to use their advisory programs which may decrease the amount of money we make when offering investment advice to you. Therefore, there may be an incentive to provide you with advisory programs and services that may be cheaper for us to use but not as suitable to your needs as other advisory programs that SagePoint sponsors which may be more expensive for us to use.

While our security sales are reviewed for suitability by an appointed supervisor, you should be aware of the incentives we have to sell certain securities products and are encouraged to ask us about any conflict presented.

Legacy Financial Group and its representatives has an incentive to join and remain affiliated with SagePoint through certain compensation arrangements which could include bonuses, enhanced pay-outs, forgivable loans and/or business transition loans. Receiving such compensation is considered a conflict of interest. We encourage you to review this ADV closely and discuss any potential conflicts of interest with your representative.

SagePoint can issue payments in the form of loans to representatives which can be forgivable based on years of service with SagePoint. This practice can create a conflict of interest because the representative can have a financial incentive to recommend a client engage SagePoint for brokerage services in order for the loan to be forgiven. However, if you engage Legacy Financial Group for an adviser managed account, your representative will obtain the necessary financial data from you, assist you in determining suitability for the account and help you set appropriate investment objectives. Your representative will then be able to purchase and sell securities in accordance with your investment objectives. Legacy Financial Group periodically reviews advisory accounts to ensure suitability and adherence to investment objectives. Please consult with your representative if you have questions regarding this issue.

Other Compensation

We receive compensation from Third Party Advisers for referring clients to them. This arrangement will not cause you to pay more in advisory fees than you would otherwise pay had there been no solicitor's compensation. All referral fees paid to our firm represent a portion of the fees actually charged to you by Third Party Adviser for investment advisory services. There is no differential between the amount or level of investment advisory fees that Third Party Adviser will charge for managing the client account(s) in excess of that which they would customarily charge for managing any other new client's account with similar assets and which was not referred to the Third Party Adviser by our firm.

Additionally, with respect to the Third Party Adviser Services Platform, Legacy Financial Group may, subject to negotiation with these service platform, receive certain allowances, reimbursements or services from these services platforms in connection with Legacy Financial Group's investment advisory services to its clients, as described below and in further detail in the Third Party Adviser Form ADV Part 2A or Appendix 1 of the Third Party Adviser Platform Disclosure Brochure.

The Third Party Adviser Services Platform's offer Business Development Allowance program, where Legacy Financial Group may receive a quarterly business development allowance for reimbursement of qualified marketing/practice development expenses incurred by the Financial Adviser. These amounts vary depending on the value of the assets on the Third Party Adviser Services Platform held by Clients of the Financial Adviser.

Item 15 Custody

We do not directly debit advisory fees from your account and we do not exercise custody over your funds or securities. Your funds and securities will be held with a bank, broker-dealer, or other qualified custodian. You will receive account statements from the qualified custodian(s) holding your funds and securities. If you have a question regarding your account statement or if you did not receive a statement from the custodian, please contact Legacy Financial Group as noted on the cover page of this brochure.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

We may manage your accounts on a discretionary basis upon obtaining your consent. Your consent is typically granted and evidenced in the client agreement that you signed with us. We define discretion as: the ability to trade your account, without obtaining your prior consent, the securities and amount of securities to be bought or sold, and the timing of the purchase or sale. It does not extend to the withdrawal or transfer of your account funds.

We do not permit clients to impose any restrictions on a grant of discretionary authority. Refer to the Advisory Business section in this brochure for more information on our discretionary management services.

If you enter into non-discretionary arrangements with our firm, we will obtain your approval prior to the execution of any transactions for your account(s). You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

As noted above in Item 4-Advisory Business, we gather information about your financial situation and objectives, then we will recommend that you engage a specific third party investment adviser ("TPA"). Factors that we take into consideration when making our recommendation(s) include, but are not limited to, the following: the TPA's performance, methods of analysis, fees, your financial needs, investment goals, risk tolerance, and investment objectives. We will periodically monitor the TPA(s)'s performance to ensure its management and investment style remains aligned with your investment goals and objectives. We assist in automatic rebalancing of an account through purchase and sale transactions based on changes made to the asset allocation models by the Portfolio Strategist selected by the client.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

We will not vote proxies on behalf of your advisory accounts. At your request, we may offer you advice regarding corporate actions and the exercise of your proxy voting rights. If you own shares of common stock or mutual funds, you are responsible for exercising your right to vote as a shareholder.

In most cases, you will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event we were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to you by mail, unless you have authorized our firm to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, we would forward any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Item 18 Financial Information

Our firm does not have any financial conditions or impairments that would prevent us from meeting our contractual commitments to you. We do not take physical custody of client funds or securities, or serve as trustee or signatory for client accounts, and, we do not require the prepayment of more than $500 in fees six or more months in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a financial statement with this brochure.

While the firm endeavors at all times to offer clients its specialized services at reasonable costs, the fees charged by other advisers for comparable services may be lower than the fees charged by Legacy Financial Group.

Financial Planning Services

Pursuant to California Code of Regulations, 10 CCR Section 260.235.2, Legacy Financial Group hereby makes the following statement: a conflict exists between the interest of Legacy Financial Group and the interests of the client. Trade Errors

In the event a trading error occurs in your account, our policy is to restore your account to the position it should have been in had the trading error not occurred. Depending on the circumstances, corrective actions may include canceling the trade, adjusting an allocation, and/or reimbursing the account.

Class Action Lawsuits

We do not determine if securities held by you are the subject of a class action lawsuit or whether you are eligible to participate in class action settlements or litigation nor do we initiate or participate in litigation to recover damages on your behalf for injuries as a result of actions, misconduct, or negligence by issuers of securities held by you.

IRA Rollover Considerations

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may recommend that you withdraw the assets from your employer's retirement plan and roll the assets over to an individual retirement account ("IRA") that we will manage on your behalf. If you elect to roll the assets to an IRA that is subject to our management, we will charge you an asset based fee as set forth in the agreement you executed with our firm. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on our behalf have an incentive to recommend a rollover to you for the purpose of generating fee based compensation rather than solely based on your needs. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to complete the rollover. Moreover, if you do complete the rollover, you are under no obligation to have the assets in an IRA managed by our firm.

Many employers permit former employees to keep their retirement assets in their company plan. Also, current employees can sometimes move assets out of their company plan before they retire or change jobs. In determining whether to complete the rollover to an IRA, and to the extent the following options are available, you should consider the costs and benefits of:

1. Leaving the funds in your employer's (former employer's) plan.
2. Moving the funds to a new employer's retirement plan.
3. Cashing out and taking a taxable distribution from the plan.
4. Rolling the funds into an IRA rollover account.

Each of these options has advantages and disadvantages and before making a change we encourage you to speak with your CPA and/or tax attorney.

If you are considering rolling over your retirement funds to an IRA for us to manage here are a few points to consider before you do so:

1. Determine whether the investment options in your employer's retirement plan address your needs or whether you might want to consider other types of investments.
 - a. Employer retirement plans generally have a more limited investment menu than IRAs.
 - b. Employer retirement plans may have unique investment options not available to the public such as employer securities, or previously closed funds.
2. Your current plan may have lower fees than our fees.
 - a. If you are interested in investing only in mutual funds, you should understand the cost structure of the share classes available in your employer's retirement plan and how the costs of those share classes compare with those available in an IRA.
 - b. You should understand the various products and services you might take advantage of at an IRA provider and the potential costs of those products and services.
3. Our strategy may have higher risk than the option(s) provided to you in your plan.
4. Your current plan may also offer financial advice.
5. If you keep your assets titled in a 401k or retirement account, you could potentially delay your required minimum distribution beyond age 70.5.
6. Your 401k may offer more liability protection than a rollover IRA; each state may vary.
 - a. Generally, federal law protects assets in qualified plans from creditors. Since 2005, IRA assets have been generally protected from creditors in bankruptcies. However, there can be some exceptions to the general rules so you should consult with an attorney if you are concerned about protecting your retirement plan assets from creditors.

7. You may be able to take out a loan on your 401k, but not from an IRA.
8. IRA assets can be accessed any time; however, distributions are subject to ordinary income tax and may also be subject to a 10% early distribution penalty unless they qualify for an exception such as disability, higher education expenses or the purchase of a home.
9. If you own company stock in your plan, you may be able to liquidate those shares at a lower capital gains tax rate.
10. Your plan may allow you to hire us as the manager and keep the assets titled in the plan name.

It is important that you understand the differences between these types of accounts and to decide whether a rollover is best for you. Prior to proceeding, if you have questions contact your investment adviser representative, or call our main number as listed on the cover page of this brochure.

Additionally, Ms. Gerhart could be eligible to receive incentive awards such as Sagepoint Financial, Inc. may offer. She will also receive 12b-1 fees from mutual funds that pay such fees. The receipt of additional compensation will give Ms. Gerhart an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on your investment needs.

As stated above, persons providing investment advice to advisory clients on behalf of our firm are registered representatives with Sagepoint Financial, Inc. In their capacity as registered representatives, these persons receive compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges, service fees or 12b-1 fees for the sale or holding mutual funds. Compensation earned by these persons in their capacities as registered representatives is separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice to advisory clients on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives have an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received rather than solely based on your needs. Persons providing investment advice to advisory clients on behalf of our firm can select or recommend, and in many instances will select or recommend, mutual fund investments in share classes that pay 12b-1 fees when clients are eligible to purchase share classes of the same funds that do not pay such fees and are less expensive. This presents a conflict of interest. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase securities products through a person affiliated with our firm.

Judith A. Gerhart is separately licensed as an independent insurance agent. In this capacity, she can effect transactions in insurance products for her clients and earn commissions for these activities. The fees you pay our firm for advisory services are separate and distinct from the commissions earned by Ms. Gerhart for insurance related activities. This presents a conflict of interest because Ms. Gerhart may have an incentive to recommend insurance products to you for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. However, you are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any person affiliated with our firm.

Judith A. Gerhart is an Investment Adviser Representative of Sagepoint Financial, Inc., a registered investment adviser.
