INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES OVERVIEW

Granite Financial Partners, LLC offers a selection of advisory services to individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, Trusts, Estates, charitable organizations, corporations and other business entities.

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary and nondiscretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client’s stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Granite Financial Partners, LLC creates client portfolios consisting of one of, or a combination of, the following: individual equities, exchange traded funds, bonds, no-load or load-waived mutual funds, or private investments.

Granite Financial Partners, LLC’s services include:

Separately Managed Accounts (SMA)

These accounts are actively managed portfolios of individual securities (which may include common stocks, preferred stocks, exchange traded funds, bonds, and other corporate obligations, U.S. government or agency securities, municipal obligations, mutual funds, or private investments). The primary objective is to achieve long-term investment returns consistent with the needs and objectives of individual clients. Portfolios managed as Separately Managed Accounts may differ substantially due to individual client’s risk/reward profile, investment objective, timing of deposits, near term cash needs, and tax issues.

Financial Planning

Granite Financial Partners, LLC provides investment analysis and advice in the form of a Financial Plan. Clients desiring financial planning advice and services can purchase these services and they will receive a written report addressing as many of the following concerns as are relevant: personal goals including budgeting, personal liabilities, estate information and financial goals; taxes and cash flows; education planning; retirement planning; and death and disability issues. Granite Financial Partners, LLC always encourages clients to work closely with their attorney, accountant, insurance agent and other appropriate advisors. Financial Planning recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company. All investment recommendations are generic in nature but tailored to client needs determined by the financial plan.

The Firm will on occasion advise the principal owners of closely held companies and/or business valuation companies on issues of succession planning strategies which may include estate planning considerations.

Selection of Other Advisers

Granite Financial Partners, LLC may direct clients to third-party investment advisers. Before selecting other advisers for clients, Granite Financial Partners, LLC will verify that all recommended advisers are properly licensed, notice filed, or exempt in the states where Granite Financial Partners, LLC is recommending the adviser to clients.

Pension Consulting Services

Granite Financial Partners, LLC offers consulting services to pension or other employee benefit plans (including but not limited to 401(k) plans). Pension consulting may include, but is not limited to:

- identifying investment objectives and restrictions
- providing guidance on various assets classes and investment options
- recommending money managers to manage plan assets in ways designed to achieve objectives
- monitoring performance of money managers and investment options and making recommendations for changes
- recommending other service providers, such as custodians, administrators and broker-dealers
- creating a written pension consulting plan
- fiduciary investment advice to participants

These services are based on the goals, objectives, demographics, time horizon, and/or risk tolerance of the plan and its participants.

Wrap Fee Programs

A wrap fee program is an investment program where the investor pays one stated fee that includes management fees and transaction costs. The Firm sponsors a wrap fee program which is described in the Firm's separate wrap fee brochure. Since the wrap fee includes transactions costs, GFP has an incentive to limit trading activities and/or select investments that may not have a transaction fee in wrap accounts so that it retains a larger portion of the wrap fee. Certain other fees may still apply, including, but not limited to, margin costs, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or exchange traded fund, fees associated with "step out" transactions if the account uses different custodians or broker-dealers, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, account transfer/closure fees, markups and markdowns, bid-ask spreads, alternative investment fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

As of December 2019, The Firm manages approximately $ 131,854,407 on a discretionary basis. The Firm manages approximately $ 9,733,083 on a non-discretionary basis. GFP also has $6,901,083 in assets under advisement.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation:

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES

Separately Managed Accounts ("SMA")

The annual fee for SMA accounts will be charged as a percentage of assets under management, according to the following schedule:

Account Asset Value	Standard Annualized Fee
First $500K	1.50%
500K - $1,500,000	1.25%
$1,500,000 +	1.0%

The fee schedule for SMAs are negotiable. Client accounts are debited either monthly or quarterly by the custodian to collect the pro-rata portion of the annual fee charged by Granite Financial Partners, LLC. These monthly or quarterly fees may be charged either in advance or in arrears. Each client's advisory agreement will state the frequency and method the advisory fee payable to Granite Financial Partners, LLC is paid.

We group related household client accounts for the purposes of determining the annualized fee.

For client accounts held at Schwab or Pershing ("Custodian"), accounts are debited monthly in advance by the Custodian to collect the pro-rata portion of the annual fee charged by Granite Financial Partners, LLC and that fee is remitted back to Granite Financial Partners, LLC. The monthly fee calculation is based upon the value of the client's account at the end of the previous month after adjustments for contributions and withdrawals of funds in the client's account. Initial and ongoing contributions during a billing period will be charged a prorated advisory fee for the days from inception to the end of the billing period based on the inception value. For distributions during the billing period, a portion of the fee will be refunded to the Client based on the number of days remaining in the billing period and the distribution value.

Clients may terminate an advisory agreement as described below. If an account is terminated in the middle of a billing period, a portion of the fee collected in advance will be refunded in an amount equal to the balance of the fees collected in advance minus the prorated fee based on the number of days elapsed in the billing period up to and including the day of termination.

In addition to the management fee, SMA accounts may pay an annual custody fee directly to the custodian which is a client expense.

OTHER COMPENSATED SERVICES

Financial Planning

Financial planning fees will be calculated based on a charge of $290.00 per hour but depending on the nature and complexity of the individual client's personal circumstances that rate may be discounted on a client by client basis. The length of time it will take to provide a financial plan will depend on each client's personal situation. For hourly financial planning fees that are collected in advance, the fee refunded will be the balance of the fees collected in advance minus the hourly rate times the number of hours of work that has been completed up to and including the day of termination.

Selection of Other Advisers Fees

Granite Financial Partners, LLC may direct clients to third-party investment advisers. Granite Financial Partners, LLC will receive its standard fee as described above on top of the fee paid to the third-party adviser. The fees shared are negotiable and will not exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency. The notice of termination requirement and payment of fees for third-party investment advisers will depend on the specific third-party adviser selected. Fees are paid either monthly or quarterly. The timing, frequency, and method of paying fees for selection of third party managers will depend on the specific third-party adviser selected and will be disclosed to the client prior to entering into a relationship with the third-party advisor.

Consulting/Business Succession Planning

Granite Financial Partners, LLC's consulting, including succession planning fees will be calculated based on a charge of $290.00 per hour. The length of time it will take to complete the consulting service will depend on the nature and complexity of the individual client's personal circumstances and/or the complexity of the business succession strategy developed. An estimate for total hours will be determined at the start of the advisory relationship. For clients that have no pre-existing relationship with the Firm, management reserves the right to request the client fund a retainer to secure payment for such services. Where a successful succession strategy results in the sale of a business, the Firm may also receive a percentage of the sales proceeds. That percentage is negotiated up front when the fee agreement is signed.

Pension Consulting Services Fees

The rate for pension consulting services is currently ranges from 0.18% and 0.50% of the plan assets for which Granite Financial Partners, LLC is providing such consulting services. These fees are negotiable. Pension consulting fees are withdrawn directly from the client's accounts with client's written authorization or may be invoiced and billed directly to the client and clients may select the method in which they are billed. Fees are paid either monthly or quarterly in arrears.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss:

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially predict future price movement. We review charts of market and security activity in an attempt to identify when the market is moving up or down and to anticipate how long the trend may last and when that trend might reverse.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. This presents a risk in that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company may underperform regardless of market movement.

Qualitative Analysis. We subjectively evaluate non-quantifiable factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement and predict changes to share price based on that data. A risk in using qualitative analysis is that our subjective judgment may prove incorrect.

Asset Allocation. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis. We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also look at the underlying assets in a mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if there is significant overlap in the underlying investments held in another fund) in the client's portfolio. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy.

A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

To assist our own analysis, we subscribe to FI360 Fiduciary scoring service. The essence of their scoring service is described below:

The fi360 Fiduciary Score is a peer percentile ranking of an investment against a set of Investment meets the criterion quantitative due diligence criteria selected to reflect prudent fiduciary management. The criteria include total returns, risk-adjusted returns, expenses, and other portfolio statistics. Investments are ranked according to their ability to meet due diligence criteria every month. The rank becomes the fi360 Fiduciary Score. The fi360 Fiduciary Score Average is a one-, three-, five- or ten-year rolling average of an investment's fi360 Fiduciary Score. The fi360 Fiduciary Score represents a suggested course of action and is not intended, nor should it be used, as the sole source of information for reaching an investment decision. Visit the Glossary or fi360.com/fi360-Fiduciary-Score for more information.

Risks For All Forms of Analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategy(ies) in managing client accounts, provided that such strategy(ies) are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

A short-term purchase strategy poses risks should the anticipated price swing not materialize; we are then left with the option of having a long-term investment in a security that was designed to be a short-term purchase, or potentially taking a loss.

In addition, this strategy involves more frequent trading than does a longer-term strategy and will result in increased brokerage and other transaction-related costs, as well as less favorable tax treatment of short-term capital gains.

Trading. We purchase securities with the idea of selling them very quickly (typically within 30 days or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of our predictions of brief price swings.

Utilizing a trading strategy creates the potential for sudden losses if the anticipated price swing does not materialize. Moreover, under those circumstances, we are left with few options: having a long-term investment in a security that was designed to be a short-term purchase, or the potential of having to take a loss.

In addition, because this strategy involves more frequent trading than does a longer-term strategy, there will be a resultant increase in brokerage and other transaction-related costs, as well as less favorable tax treatment of short-term capital gains.

Timing. Even if we are correct in determining that the price of a stock will decline, we run the risk of incorrectly determining when the decline will take place, i.e., being right too soon. Although a company is overvalued, it could conceivably take some time for the price to come down; during which you are vulnerable to interest, margin calls, etc.

Risk of Loss. Securities investments are not guaranteed, and you may lose money on your investments. In managed accounts, our use of these more aggressive strategies is often infrequent. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information:

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

A. Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers

We recommend broker-dealers based on our duty to seek "best execution," which is the obligation to seek to execute securities transactions for a client on terms that are the most favorable to the client under the circumstances. The client will not necessarily pay the lowest commission or commission equivalent, and we may also consider the market expertise and research access provided by the payment of commissions, including but not limited to access to written research, oral communication with analysts, admittance to research conferences and other resources provided by the brokers to aid in the research efforts of our Firm. We will never charge a premium or commission on transactions, beyond the actual cost imposed by the broker-dealer.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

If the Firm buys or sells the same securities on behalf of more than one client, it might, but would be under no obligation to, aggregate or bunch, to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulations, the securities to be purchased or sold for multiple clients in order to seek more favorable prices, lower brokerage commissions or more efficient execution. In such case, the Firm would place an aggregate order with the broker on behalf of all such clients in order to ensure fairness for all clients; provided, however, that trades would be reviewed periodically to ensure that accounts are not systematically disadvantaged by this policy.

The Principal of Granite Financial Partners, LLC reviews these accounts.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period. Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation.
