Funds. See Item 16 of this Brochure below for a discussion of the limits on the discretionary authority of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

A. Management Fee.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC is entitled to a management fee and to a performance fee. These fees are provided for in the governing documents of the Funds and are not negotiable.

This Item 5A describes the management fee. The performance fee is described in Item 6 of this Brochure.

The Funds will pay Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC a management fee, which we refer to in this Brochure as the Management Fee.

In this Brochure, we refer to a company in which the Funds invest as a Portfolio Company, and to an investment made by the Funds as a Portfolio Investment.

The first closing for the Funds took place on April 30, 2012, with additional closings occurring through the termination of the offering period on June 30, 2013.

The Management Fee is subject to reduction after termination of the Investment Period. As referred to in this Brochure, the Investment Period is the initial four (4) year period following the termination of the offering interest in the Funds. The Funds Investment Period terminated on December 31, 2017.

During the Investment Period (from and including April 30, 2012), the Management Fee is an amount equal to the sum of:

- (i) 2% per year of the total investor commitments; and
- (ii) 0.9% per year of the leverage (including the SBA Leverage described in Item 8) deployed by the Funds.

After the Investment Period, the Management Fee equals:

- (i) 1.5% per year of an amount equal to, as of any date,
 - (A) the total amount of the capital contributions of the investors, minus
 - (B) the portion of investor capital contributions attributable to Portfolio Investments disposed of by the Funds, and
- (ii) 0.9% per year of any leverage (including SBA Leverage) deployed by the Funds.

B. Timing and Deduction of Management Fee. The Management Fee is permitted to be paid semi-annually on the first day of January and July, or more frequently as determined by the fund manager. However, in practice the fund manager takes monthly advances on the Management Fee, but in no event will be paid more than five months in advance.

The Management Fee is in addition to the obligations of investors to fund their commitments. The Management Fee is deducted from the Funds.

C. Other Expenses.

Organizational Expenses. The organizational expenses of the Funds, which we refer to in this Brochure as the Formation Expenses, were paid proportionally by the Funds from the initial capital contributions. The aggregate amount of Formation Expenses paid by the Funds is limited to the greater of $1,000,000 or 0.5% of the aggregate investor commitments.

Expenses Paid by the Manager

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC will pay all of its ordinary administrative and overhead expenses, such as:

- the expenses of obtaining office space, supplies and its administrative activities; and
- compensation of its personnel.

Expenses Paid by the Funds

The Funds will pay the expenses of their activities, which we refer to in this Brochure as the Fund Expenses, such as:

- the Management Fee;
- legal, auditing, insurance, consulting, annual meeting, website, investor communication and accounting expenses;
- expenses associated with the preparation of the financial statements, tax returns and K-1s of the Funds;
- out-of-pocket expenses of investments not consummated;
- other expenses associated with acquiring, managing, holding, marketing and disposing of investments of the Funds, including extraordinary expenses (such as litigation, if any); and
- leverage costs and costs associated with obtaining SBA Leverage, a capital line facility or pledged assets facilities. (See Item 8 under Leverage).

Costs relating to an investment in which the Funds co-invest with other investment vehicles (other than costs associated with the use of leverage by the other investment vehicles) are shared between the Funds and the other investment vehicles in proportion to each fund's participation in the investment.

From time to time, investors may be required to make capital contributions to the Funds for their share of any Fund Expenses if the Fund has insufficient cash to pay these expenses. Investors are not required to make an additional capital contribution for Fund Expenses to the extent the contribution would exceed the unused portion of the investor's commitment except to the extent that these amounts constitute the return of distributions previously made to investors. A capital contribution by an investor to pay Fund Expenses (other than returned amounts) reduces that investor's commitment.

- D. Advance Payment of Management Fee. The Management Fee typically is paid a few months in advance, but in no event will be paid more than five months in advance.

If the Funds do not have sufficient cash to pay the Management Fee, the investors are required to contribute an amount equal to their pro rata share of the applicable Management Fee, which contributed amount is in addition to the commitment of that investor.

- E. No Compensation For Sales of Securities. None of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC, Chatham Carried Interest IV, LLC or any of their supervised persons accepts compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products.

Performance Based Fees and Side by Side Management

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC is entitled to a performance based fee under the documents governing the Funds.

Carried Interest

In general, Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC is entitled to a 20% allocation of profits. This allocation is calculated after an 8% per year preferred return to the investors and after the allocation of a catch-up amount to Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC is assessed.

We refer to this 20% allocation of profits as the Carried Interest in the Brochure.

The following describes the Carried Interest in more detail.

The following terms are used in the more detailed description of the Carried Interest.

Available Amounts

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC determines the cash (or other assets) available for distribution to investors after:

- paying or providing for the current obligations of the Funds; and
- setting aside reasonable reserves for anticipated obligations or losses of the Funds, for permitted reinvestment or for amounts due in respect of the Management Fee or Fund Expenses.

We refer to this cash (or other assets) as Available Amounts in this Brochure.

Current Net Revenue

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC also determines the cash (or other assets) received by the Funds that:

- was received as interest, fees or other amounts;
- was not received as a return of principal or other return of capital to the Funds; or
- was allocated to revenue for the period in question.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC then deducts current expenses for the period in question.

We refer to this cash (or other assets) as Current Net Revenue in this Brochure.

Unreturned Contributed Capital

In this Brochure, we refer to the aggregate amount of capital that an investor has contributed to the Funds that has not previously been returned to that investor as the Unreturned Contributed Capital.

Preferred Return

In this Brochure, we refer to an 8% per year return on the average Unreturned Contributed Capital as the Preferred Return.

Detailed Description of Carried Interest

The following is a more detailed description of the Carried Interest using the concepts just discussed.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC will distribute Available Amounts consisting of Current Net Revenue as follows:

1. first, 100% to the investors until the investors have received aggregate distributions equal to Unreturned Contributed Capital with respect to Management Fees and losses of capital incurred as a result of dispositions and write-downs of investments;

2. second, 100% to the investors until the investors have received aggregate distributions equal to their Preferred Return;
3. third, 100% to Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC until Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC (or its affiliate) has received (after giving effect to this distribution and all prior similar distributions) distributions equal to 25% of the aggregate amount of all distributions to investors with respect to the Preferred Return made on or before this distribution; and
4. thereafter, 80% to investors and 20% to Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC (or its affiliate).

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC will make these distributions on a quarterly basis within 45 days after the end of the quarter in question.

Payment of Carried Interest

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC, the C1 Fund, the QP Fund and Chatham Carried Interest IV LLC have entered into Investment Advisory Agreements pursuant to which

- Chatham Carried Interest IV LLC is required to perform certain services to the C1 Fund, the QP Fund and Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC (such as advice regarding administrative, investment management and other services); and

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies. The Funds focus on small and middle-market companies.

The Funds invest in junior debt, as well as provide senior debt in the small and middle markets. The Funds also occasionally make opportunistic investments in syndicated debt in the primary and secondary markets. The portfolio of the Funds is comprised of senior and junior debt, but the Funds reserve the right to modify their investment strategies based on market conditions.

The investments the Funds have made and propose to make involve a risk of loss.

The Funds, and investors in the Funds, should be prepared to bear that loss.

Investment Approach

The Funds make opportunistic investments in lower and middle-market companies and selective purchases of syndicated loans.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC uses a disciplined underwriting approach to identify opportunities to produce an attractive risk/return profile on senior loans and on junior debt financing.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC emphasizes a user-friendly, adaptable approach in making its investments. Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC is flexible as to the form in which capital is invested, so long as the needs of the target Portfolio Companies can be met using our underwriting criteria.

In that context, Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC intends to be opportunistic. In certain cases, the Funds may invest in convertible debt, preferred stock or common equity.

The Funds will concentrate on private transactions, but in some circumstances could purchase public securities, such as bonds, distressed debt or private investments in public equity, also known as PIPES transactions. Without the approval of the Board of Advisors (see Item 11D and Item 16 of this Brochure), the Funds will not be permitted to invest more than 20% of its aggregate commitments in equity securities.

Investments may be made in:

- profitable companies,
- companies in operational turnaround,
- leveraged buy-outs,
- early-stage companies, and/or
- leveraged build-ups.

Portfolio Companies may be in any industry, but Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC intends to focus on proven management teams in the following niche-oriented business areas:

- manufacturing,
- distribution,
- technology,
- service,
- retail,
- restaurant, and
- health care.

The Funds anticipate that a substantial portion of their investments may include leveraged buy-outs or acquisition financing.

Investment Process.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC uses a disciplined underwriting process to perform credit underwriting, including financial modeling and comprehensive operational, industry and management analysis. Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC structures and documents investments taking this analysis into account.

Monitoring Investments.

Once an investment has been made, Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC monitors the performance of the Portfolio Companies of the Funds using techniques similar to those used by large financial institutions. Representatives of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC receive and analyze detailed periodic financial reports, and conduct regular meetings and discussions regarding Portfolio Company financial and operating performance in the context of industry developments, as well as other factors such as the general state of the economy. Regular discussions with Portfolio Company management, as appropriate, also occur. In most cases, the transaction documentation contain financial covenant tests to provide an early warning of performance problems. Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC has audits and consultant reviews conducted where applicable.

Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC believes that this structuring methodology (including taking a secured position in most instances and having a comprehensive loan covenant package, including financial covenants) and these proactive portfolio monitoring procedures should result in enhanced recoveries in the event a Portfolio Company underperforms.

SBIC Program

Part of the investment strategy of the Funds was to obtain an SBIC Debenture License for the Chatham SBIC Funds. A portion of the capital of the Funds was allocated to the Chatham SBIC Funds, as determined by Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC in its sole discretion. In part, because the SBIC Funds had not drawn any leverage proceeds, the SBIC Funds were dissolved on March 1, 2018.

Use of Leverage

Leverage constitutes a significant part of the strategy for enhancing returns of the Funds. The Funds use leverage to enhance potential returns to investors. The Funds leverage their commitments by incurring indebtedness. The Funds have the right from time to time to borrow or otherwise incur indebtedness.

Potential Types of Leverage

It is anticipated that the Funds will obtain leverage through the use of a variety of forms of indebtedness, such as:

- a facility secured by the investors' unfunded investor commitments, which we refer to as a Capital Line Facility in this Brochure. The Capital Line Facility will be provided by a financial institution and operate much like a traditional line of credit;
- a revolving credit line facility, warehouse facility and/or any other credit facility pursuant to which the Funds pledge their assets and investments, which we refer to collectively as the Pledged Assets Facilities in this Brochure; and/or

- a debenture facility through the SBIC Program (since the SBIC Funds were dissolved on March 1, 2018, this leverage option is no longer applicable).

The Capital Line Facility and the Pledged Assets Facilities of the C1 Fund and the Capital Line Facility and the Pledged Assets Facilities of the QP Fund may be cross-defaulted and cross-collateralized.

At the first closing, the C1 and QP Funds entered into a capital call line of credit, which provided for loans in the amount of the lesser of $15 million or one half of uncalled capital commitments. This facility was replaced with a capital call line of credit from a different financial institution. This facility provided for loans in the amount of lesser of $82.5MM or 60% of uncalled capital commitments. This loan was secured by personal property of the C1 and QP Funds, including rights to capital contributions. The primary source of repayment for loans under this line of credit was capital contributions. On June 17, 2016, this facility was replaced by a $45 million revolving loan and security agreement with East West Bank with a discretionary revolving credit extension of $10 million. This credit facility may be renewed or replaced from time to time during the term of the Funds. Additionally, on June 17, 2016, the C1 and QP Funds entered into a Pledged Assets Facilities, which provided a $75 million line of credit with Deutsche Bank. On December 22, 2017, the line was revised to $70 million. On August 8, 2019, the Pledged Assets Facilities was repaid in full and terminated.

Participation in the SBIC program made the Chatham SBIC Funds eligible to receive funds from the SBA in an amount equal to two times, and in some cases up to three times, the amount of private capital allocated to the Chatham SBIC Funds by Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC. We refer to this eligibility as SBA Leverage in this Brochure. The SBIC Funds obtained commitments of $21 million in SBA leverage in the form of debenture securities, which expired September 30, 2017. The SBIC funds did not seek to extend or obtain additional SBA leverage commitments. Instead, given that the SBIC Funds had not drawn any leverage proceeds, the SBIC Funds were dissolve on March 1, 2018.

In addition, it is anticipated that the Funds may, from time to time, pool their portfolio of loan obligations and securitize them as collateralized loan obligations to further enhance the Funds' investment objectives. By using leverage, the investors will receive enhanced return opportunities as they share in the spread between the borrowing cost from the lender and the targeted current yield without increasing paid-in-capital. The extensive use of leverage creates opportunities for enhanced return, but does entail risks. See Items 8B and 8C of this Brochure.

Not more than 70% of the total capital of the Funds, including indebtedness, may be indebtedness incurred by the Funds.

Co-investments with Cascade

Affiliates of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC also manage Cascade. Cascade has co-invested with the Funds from time to time. Co-investments were made on the same terms for Cascade as for the Funds.

Rollover Investments

A significant number of the investments of the Funds may arise from relationships that the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC bring to the activities of the Funds, including those developed through previous investment vehicles they have sponsored. As a result, the Funds may invest in companies or affiliates of companies that constitute portfolio companies of other investment vehicles sponsored by the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC. In addition, the Funds may refinance or replace investments by other investment vehicles sponsored by the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC. These investments may involve the Funds paying the “equity kickers” and other returns due with respect to investments by other investment vehicles sponsored by the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC.

The principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC recognize the potential for conflicts of interest in these types of investments. To protect against conflicts, the Funds may not make these types of investments unless they have been approved by a majority of the members of the Board of Advisors. See Item 11 of this Brochure under Board of Advisors.

These affiliates manage the activities of other investment vehicles they have sponsored, which includes significant involvement with the portfolio companies of those investment vehicles.

In addition, Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC, on behalf of the Funds will have discretion in determining which investments will be made by the C1 or QP Funds. The Funds may also invest in portfolio companies of other investment vehicles sponsored by the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC.

These investments carry the risk that the capital of the Funds may be used to satisfy the additional capital needs of portfolio companies into which other investment vehicles sponsored by the principals of Chatham Capital Management IV, LLC are unable or unwilling to invest further monies. The investment risk to those other investment vehicles in those circumstances is being partially defrayed or ameliorated by capital from the Funds.

Restrictions on Future Funds
