Item 4 – Advisory Business Introduction

Our Advisory Business

Garnett Advisors, LLC (“Garnett”, “us”, “we”, “our”) is a Registered Investment Adviser (“Adviser”) which offers investment advice regarding securities to clients.

The firm was founded in 2016 by William R. Coleman who serves as Founding Member. We provide investment advisory and asset management services to trusts, pension funds, foundations and high-net worth individuals.

Advisory Services

Garnett can assist you in developing a custom-tailored portfolio designed to meet your unique investment objectives.

We will meet with you to discuss your financial circumstances, investment goals and objectives, and to determine your risk tolerance. Based on the information you share with us, we will analyze your situation and recommend an appropriate asset allocation or investment strategy. Should you implement our recommendations, we will monitor and track assets under management, provide portfolio statements and performance updates, and advise on asset allocation on a regular basis. Our recommendations and ongoing management are based upon your investment goals and objectives, risk tolerance, and the investment portfolio you have selected. You are obligated to notify us promptly when your financial situation, goals, objectives, or needs change.

The investments in the portfolio account can include mutual funds, stocks, bonds, ETFs, alternative investments, etc.

We can also recommend the services of a third party investment manager (“Manager”). Garnett does not act as a solicitor and is not provided any additional compensation for these recommendations other than the fees as described in Item 5 below. These Managers are recommended based on their ability to fill specific roles towards achieving the client’s overall investment objectives. If the client decides to proceed with the recommendation, the client will enter into a relationship with the recommended Manager. Under these arrangements, the Manager is responsible for portfolio management, best execution, portfolio reporting, trading, trade error resolution, and custodian reconciliations. Garnett will maintain its relationship with the client by monitoring the status of the client’s accounts, make continuing recommendations, and meet with clients either in person or by telephone on an annual basis and act as the client’s primary financial adviser. All questions regarding the Manager’s services and performance will be directed to Garnett.

Clients who are referred to Managers will receive full disclosure, including services rendered and fee schedules, at the time of the referral, by delivery of a copy of the relevant Manager’s Form ADV Part 2A or equivalent disclosure document before receiving investment advisory services from the Manager.

You will have the ability to impose reasonable restrictions on the management of your account, including the ability to instruct us not to purchase certain mutual funds, stocks or other securities. These restrictions could be a specific company security, industry sector, asset class, or any other restriction you request.

If you decide to implement our recommendations, we will help you open a custodial account(s). The funds in your account will be held in a separate account, in your name, at an independent custodian, and not with us. We can recommend using a particular custodian, however, you can use any custodian you wish.

You will enter into a separate custodial agreement with the custodian which authorizes the custodian to take instructions from us regarding all investment decisions for your account. You will be notified of any purchases or sales through trade confirmations and statements that are provided by the custodian. These statements list the total value of the account, itemize all transaction activity, and list the types, amounts, and total value of securities held. You will at all times maintain full and complete ownership rights to all assets held in your account, including the right to withdraw securities or cash, proxy voting and receiving transaction confirmations.

We manage assets on a nondiscretionary basis, which means you have not given us the authority to determine the following without your express consent:

- Securities to be bought or sold for your account
- Amount of securities to be bought or sold for your account

Trading could be required to meet initial allocation targets, after substantial cash deposits that require investment allocation, and/or after a request for a withdrawal that requires liquidation of a position. Additionally, your account can be rebalanced or reallocated periodically in order to reestablish the targeted percentages of your initial asset allocation. This rebalancing or reallocation will occur on the schedule we have determined together. You will be responsible for any and all tax consequences resulting from any rebalancing or reallocation of the account. We are not tax professionals and do not give tax advice. However, we will work with your tax professionals to assist you with tax planning.

We are available during normal business hours either by telephone, fax, email, or in person by appointment to answer your questions.

We do not participate in wrap fee programs.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2019, we manage approximately $181,012,915 in assets on a non-discretionary basis. We do not manage assets on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

We provide investment advisory and asset management services for a fee.

Asset Management Fee Schedule

The fee charged is based upon the amount of money you invest. We do not charge a fee on the cash held in your custodian account. Multiple accounts of immediately-related family members, at the same mailing address, can be considered one consolidated account for billing purposes. Fees are charged quarterly. Beginning of each quarter, payments will be assessed based on the preceding quarter and will be calculated as follows:

Percentage	Portfolio Size (AUM)
1.00%	$0-$5,000,000
0.75%	$5,000,001-$10,000,000
0.50%	$10,000,001- $25,000,000
0.40%	$25,000,001+

The fees shown above are annual fees and can be negotiable based upon certain circumstances. No increase in the annual fee shall be effective without prior written notification to you. We believe our advisory fee is reasonable considering the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs.

Our fees will not be based upon a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of your funds.

Garnett typically sends an invoice directly to the client and accepts payment by check or wire transfer. Garnett will accommodate clients who wish to have their invoices paid by another means, including deducting fees directly from the client's account. Garnett typically bills its clients at the end of a quarter for services rendered, but could bill fees in advance if agreed upon by client.

Either party can terminate the relationship with a thirty (30) day written notice. If a client terminates the Advisory contract with Garnett, the client will have the right to a refund for any unearned portion of the investment management fee. The unearned fee will be calculated by determining the remaining percentage of the calendar quarter during which the Advisory Agreement was no longer in effect, and multiplying this percentage by the previously-paid investment management fee.

Third Party Fees

Our fees do not include brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses. You can incur certain charges imposed by custodians and other third parties. These include fees charged by third party investment managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds, money market funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs) also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus. These fees can include, but are not limited to, a management fee, upfront sales charges, and other fund expenses. Certain strategies offered by us could involve investment in mutual funds and/or ETFs. Load and no load mutual funds can pay annual distribution charges, sometimes referred to as "12(b)(1) fees". These 12(b)(1) fees come from fund assets, and thus indirectly from clients' assets. We do not receive any compensation from these fees. All of these fees are in addition to the management fee you pay us. You should review all fees charged to fully understand the total amount of fees you will pay. Services similar to those offered by us could be available elsewhere for more or less than the amounts we charge. Our brokerage practices are discussed in more detail under Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

Item 6 – Performance Based Fee and Side by Side Management

We do not charge any performance-based fees. These are fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Item 7 – Types of Client(s)

We provide portfolio management services to trusts, pension funds, foundations, individuals and high-net worth individuals.

Our minimum account opening balance is $1,000,000, which can be negotiable based upon certain circumstances.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods and Strategies

Garnett's primary method to determine the proper investment for a client includes fundamental analysis. Fundamental analysis is a technique that attempts to determine a security's value by focusing on the underlying factors that affect a company's actual business and its future prospects.

There are three types of fundamental inputs that Garnett uses to formulate investment advice and manage assets for our clients. First, Garnett evaluates each client's personal needs and objectives and any client-specific considerations. These client-specific factors are the primary determinant of the risk and return objectives for a client's account. Second, Garnett evaluates financial market conditions and determines relative risks and opportunities that can be gained through investing in different markets, or market segments. Third, Garnett analyzes specific investments, which could be individual stocks and bonds, as well as funds that invest in such securities, and selects such investments that are determined to be ideal for a given client. Our investment portfolios will typically be a combination of individual stocks and bonds, but could also include actively managed mutual funds, index funds or exchange traded funds. We also place an emphasis on global diversification and could own foreign equities in a given client portfolio, which can be more volatile and risky than domestic equities. Ultimately, Garnett seeks to develop diversified portfolios of stocks and bonds, which fully incorporate the unique needs of each client and takes into consideration the relative risks and opportunities. From time to time Garnett will hold cash in client's custodian account which could be used during opportune times to purchase securities.

Typical investment time horizon is greater than a year depending on a client's unique situation, but on occasion securities will be sold prior to that time depending on the conditions of the market, the prospects for price appreciation of that particular security, or other reasons consistent with Garnett's sell discipline.

Sources of Information

In order to perform this analysis, we use many resources, such as:

- Financial newspapers and magazines (e.g. Wall Street Journal, Forbes, etc.),
- Annual reports,
- Company press releases, and
- Research reports prepared by others (including research departments of brokerage firms)

Types of Investments

Generally, Garnett provides investment advice across the entire asset allocation and investment opportunities of a client. This would include: equity securities, including exchange listed, over-the-counter, and foreign issuers that are traded on U.S. exchanges. Garnett will provide services concerning other assets, such as corporate debt securities, commercial paper, municipal securities, and United States government securities. In addition to traditional fixed income and equity investments, a certain portion of a client's portfolio can be invested in alternative investment strategies including but not limited to hedge funds, private equity, and real estate.

Risk of Loss

We cannot guarantee our analysis methods will yield a return. In fact, a loss of principal is always a risk. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. You need to understand that investment decisions made for your account by us are subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks. The investment decisions we make for you will not always be profitable nor can we guarantee any level of performance.

A list of all risks associated with the strategies, products and methodology we offer are listed below:

Fundamental Analysis Risk

Fundamental analysis, when used in isolation, has a number of risks:

- There are an infinite number of factors that can affect the earnings of a company, and its stock price, over time. These can include economic, political and social factors, in addition to the various company statistics.

- The data used can be inaccurate or biased.
- It is difficult to give appropriate weightings to the factors.
- It assumes that the analyst is competent.
- It ignores the influence of random events and acts of God.

Equity Risk

Stocks generally fluctuate in value more than bonds and could decline significantly over short time periods. There is the chance that stock prices overall will decline because stock markets tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising prices and falling prices. The value of a stock in which a fund invests could decline due to general weakness in the stock market or because of factors that affect a company or a particular industry.

Bond Risk

Bonds have two main sources of risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that a rise in interest rates will cause the price of a debt security to fall. Securities with longer maturities typically suffer greater declines than those with shorter maturities. Mortgage-backed securities can react somewhat differently to interest rate changes because falling rates can cause losses of principal due to increased mortgage prepayments and rising rates can lead to decreased prepayments and greater volatility. Credit risk is the risk that an issuer of a debt security will default (fail to make scheduled interest or principal payments), potentially reducing income distributions and market values. This risk is increased when a security is downgraded or the perceived creditworthiness of the issuer deteriorates.

Mutual Funds Risk

The following is a list of some general risks associated with investing in mutual funds.

- Country Risk - The possibility that political events (a war, national elections), financial problems (rising inflation, government default), or natural disasters will weaken a country's economy and cause investments in that country to decline.
- Currency Risk - The possibility that returns could be reduced for Americans investing in foreign securities because of a rise in the value of the U.S. dollar against foreign currencies. Also called exchange-rate risk.
- Industry Risk - The possibility that a group of stocks in a single industry will decline in price due to developments in that industry.
- Manager Risk - The possibility that an actively managed mutual fund's investment adviser will fail to execute the fund's investment strategy effectively resulting in the failure of stated objectives.
- Market Risk - The possibility that stock fund or bond fund prices overall will decline over short or even extended periods. Stock and bond markets tend to move in cycles, with periods when prices rise and other periods when prices fall.

Exchange Traded Fund ("ETF") Risk

Most ETFs are passively managed investment companies whose shares are purchased and sold on a securities exchange. An ETF represents a portfolio of securities designed to track a particular market segment or index. ETFs are subject to the following risks that do not apply to conventional funds:

- The market price of the ETF's shares could trade at a premium or a discount to their net asset value;
- An active trading market for an ETF's shares cannot develop or be maintained; and
- There is no assurance that the requirements of the exchange necessary to maintain the listing of an ETF will continue to be met or remain unchanged

Alternative Investment Risk

Investing in alternative investments is speculative, not suitable for all clients, and intended for experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high economic risks of the investment, which can include:

- Loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, or other speculative investment practices
- Lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market for the fund and none expected to develop
- Volatility of returns
- Absence of information regarding valuations and pricing
- Delays in tax reporting
- Less regulation and higher fees than mutual funds.

Overall Risks

Clients need to remember that past performance is no guarantee of future results. All funds carry some level of risk. You can lose some or all of the money you invest, including your principal, because the securities held by a fund goes up and down in value. Dividend or interest payments could also fluctuate, or stop completely, as market conditions change.

Before you invest, be sure to read a fund's prospectus and shareholder reports to learn about its investment strategy and the potential risks. Funds with higher rates of return can take risks that are beyond your comfort level and are inconsistent with your financial goals.

Clients and prospective clients can request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting the CCO.

Personal Trading

We will recommend securities to you that we will purchase for our own accounts. We can trade securities in our account that we have recommended to you as long as we place our orders after your orders. This policy is meant to prevent us from benefiting as a result of transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts.

Certain affiliated accounts will trade in the same securities with your accounts on an aggregated basis when consistent with our obligation of best execution. When trades are aggregated, all parties will share the costs in proportion to their investment. We will retain records of the trade Order (specifying each participating account) and its allocation. Completed Orders will be allocated as specified in the initial trade order. Partially filled Orders will be allocated on a pro rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained on the Order.

Garnett has a personal securities transaction policy in place to monitor the personal securities transactions and securities holdings of "Access Persons". The policy requires that an Access Person of the firm provide the Chief Compliance Officer or his/her designee with a written report of their current securities holdings within ten (10) days after becoming an Access Person. Additionally, each Access Person must provide the Chief Compliance Officer or his/her designee with a written report of the Access Person's current securities holdings at least once each twelve (12) month period thereafter on a date the Adviser selects; provided, however that at any time that the Adviser has only one Access Person, he or she shall not be required to submit any securities report described above.

We have established the following restrictions in order to ensure our fiduciary responsibilities regarding insider trading are met:

- No securities for our personal portfolio(s) shall be bought or sold where this decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, from the role of IARs of Garnett, unless the information is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. In no case, shall we put our own interests ahead of the client's.

Privacy Statement

We are committed to safeguarding your confidential information and hold all personal information provided to us in the strictest confidence. These records include all personal information that we collect from you or receive from other firms in connection with any of the financial services they provide. We also require other firms with whom we deal with to restrict the use of your information. Our Privacy Policy is available upon request.

Conflicts of Interest

Garnett's IARs is allowed to employ the same strategy for their personal investment accounts as it does for its clients. However, IARs cannot place their orders in a way to benefit from the purchase or sale of a security.

We act in a fiduciary capacity. If a conflict of interest arises between us and you, we will make every effort to resolve the conflict in your favor. Conflicts of interest will also arise in the allocation of investment opportunities among the accounts that we advise. We will seek to allocate investment opportunities according to what we believe is appropriate for each account. We strive to do what is equitable and in the best interests of all the accounts we advise.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Custodians

In recommending a custodian/broker-dealer, we look for a company that offers relatively low transaction fees, access to desired securities, trading platforms, and support services. We can recommend clients use a particular financial institution as the qualified custodian for their accounts when utilizing our asset management services.

Soft Dollars

We do not receive any soft dollars from broker-dealers, custodians or third party investment managers.

Best Execution

We have an obligation to seek best execution for you. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible commission cost but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealer's services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, reputation and responsiveness. Therefore, we will seek competitive commission rates, but we cannot obtain the lowest possible commission rates for account transactions.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

In selecting and/or recommending broker-dealers, we do not take into consideration whether or not we will receive client referrals from the broker-dealer or third party.

Directed Brokerage

Clients are permitted to use the custodian of their choosing. If you elect to choose your own broker-dealer or custodian and direct us to use them, you could pay higher or lower fees than what is available through our relationships. Generally, we will not negotiate lower rates below the rates established by the executing broker-dealer or custodian for this type of directed brokerage account, unless we believe that such rate is unfair or unreasonable for the size and type of transaction. In all instances, we will seek best execution for you.

Trading

Transactions for each client account generally will be effected independently, unless we decide to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. We can (but are not obligated to) combine or “batch” such Orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate equitably among our clients’ differences in prices and commission or other transaction costs. Under this procedure, transactions will be price-averaged and allocated among our clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Reviews

Reviews are conducted at least annually or as agreed to by Garnett and the client. Reviews will be conducted by, William Coleman. The annual review is undertaken in conjunction with client meetings, and seeks to incorporate any material changes to client circumstances, such as liquidity needs, tax status, income needs, or general changes in risk tolerance or return objective.

You can request more frequent reviews and can set thresholds for triggering events that would cause a review to take place. Generally, we will monitor for changes and shifts in the economy, changes to the management and structure of a mutual fund or company in which client assets are invested, and market shifts and corrections.

Reports

Your custodian will provide you with account statements reflecting the transactions occurring in the account on at least a quarterly basis. These statements will be written or electronic depending upon what you selected when you opened the account. You will be provided with paper confirmations for each securities transaction executed in the account. You are obligated to notify us of any discrepancies in the account(s) or any concerns you have about the account(s).

In addition to the quarterly statements provided to you by your custodian, we will provide you with quarterly asset consolidation reports regarding your account(s).

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not receive any economic benefit from someone who is not a client for providing investment advice or other advisory services to our clients nor do we directly or indirectly pay any compensation to another person if they refer clients to us.

Item 15 – Custody

We do not have physical custody of any accounts or assets. However, we can be deemed to have custody of your account(s) if we have the ability to deduct your advisory fees from the custodian. We will recommend a particular financial institution as the custodian and/or broker-dealer for all your accounts. You should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker-dealer or custodian that holds and maintains your investment assets.

We do not debit the client fees directly from your advisory account. We send information to your custodian to debit your fees and to pay them to us. Before debiting fees from your account, you will authorize the custodian to pay us directly at the onset of the relationship. Each time a fee is directly deducted from your account, we will concurrently: send the custodian an invoice specifying the amount of the fee to be deducted from your account; and send you an invoice specifying and itemizing the fee. Itemization includes the formula used to calculate the fee, the amount of assets under management the fee is based on, and time period covered by the fee. The custodian will send statements to you showing all disbursements for your account, including the amount of the advisory fee.

We urge you to carefully review such statements and compare this official custodial record to the asset consolidation report that we will provide to you. Our reports can vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities. If you notice any discrepancies, please contact Garnett.

Garnett will comply with the custody rules and safekeeping provisions prescribed under SEC Rule 206(4)-2.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

We do not receive discretionary authority from you to select the type of securities and amount of securities to be bought or sold. We manage assets solely on a non-discretionary basis, which means that we cannot trade in your account without your express permission.

If we determine that opening an account with a third party investment manager is in your best interest, the third party investment manager and/or custodians can have discretion over your account. The Advisory Agreement and ADV Part 2 of the third party investment manager and the custodial new account documentation will detail this in full.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, we do not have any authority to and do not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. You retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in your portfolios. We can provide advice to you regarding your voting of proxies.

The custodian will forward you copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to your account assets.

Item 18 – Financial Information

We are required to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about our financial condition. We have no financial commitment that would impair our ability to meet any contractual and fiduciary commitments to you, our client. We have not been the subject of any bankruptcy proceedings. In no event shall we charge advisory fees that are both in excess of five hundred dollars and more than six months in advance of advisory services rendered.
