Advisory Business

Financial Wealth Management, LLC ("FWM") is an investment adviser registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and notice filed in various states. FWM provides a number of advisory programs to clients. FWM offers Limited Discretionary Asset Management, Financial Planning, Retirement Planning, Specific Analysis, Third-Party Manager, and 401(k) Account Services to a wide variety of clients. FWM has been registered as an investment adviser since January 2006 and is wholly owned by Daniel P. Hyland. FWM does not control any other firm and is not under common control with any other firm.

Each program involves different custodial, administrative service and fee arrangements. For each program offered, a client's current financial status is first evaluated, then long- and short-term investment objectives, restrictions, needs, goals and tolerances to risk are established (both economical and psychological). This information allows FWM to determine the kinds and types of financial strategies to recommend and implement.

Clients are also informed about investment alternatives and risks to make them aware that attempting to attain a higher rate of return entails accepting higher levels of risk and the greater potential for loss. Once this initial evaluation is complete, FWM Advisors recommend one or more of the advisory services described below that they will provide in a manner aimed at achieving the client's investment or other objectives. Clients are free to contact their FWM or third-party manager at any time.

As of December 31, 2019, FWM has assets of approximately $236,000,000 under discretionary management, and assets under advisement of $57,000,000.

Financial Planning and Retirement Planning Services

In designing a financial or retirement plan, regardless of the complexity, FWM Advisors will:

- Interview the client, analyze the client's financial needs and assist the client in developing realistic goals and objectives based on information provided by the client. FWM Advisors may also clarify planning problems and outline strategies designed to meet the client's goals.
- Prepare an initial plan in the scope requested by a client based on the information gathered during the client interview and needs evaluation. This plan may include establishing a clear set of objectives, an outline of resources, a written investment policy statement, an asset allocation model, strategy recommendations, retirement, estate, education, or insurance planning, product recommendations, and steps to take for implementing advice provided.
- Help the client implement the plan, including purchasing and/or selling securities and/or insurance products.
- Review the plan periodically in the scope and frequency agreed upon with the client.

FWM Advisors may also, as needed, recommend changes to clients' investment portfolios or plans, either in writing or verbally. Changes in the client's financial condition, personal circumstances, goals, or general economic conditions may trigger changes in the plan. To the extent material changes have occurred to a client's circumstances or goals or to the extent a client requests a new project, the client will be asked to sign a new services agreement. Clients may initiate contact with their FWM Advisor as often as desired and their FWM Advisor will schedule conferences as appropriate, usually no less than annually. Clients are responsible for implementing plans provided by FWM.

All planning is based on information provided by clients. It is the client's responsibility to ensure FWM has current and accurate information for the initial plan. Clients are also responsible for informing FWM of material changes affecting the investments and planning strategies recommended.

Analysis Services

As the name of the service implies, Analysis Services entail performing a specific analysis of individual assets such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities or life insurance policies. The service may also include assisting employers and/or employees in providing advice on the types of investment plans and the selection of various types of investments within a plan. Service may also be provided concerning a client's estate including review of estate assets, re-registration and general assistance with client's estate. Please note that neither FWM nor its representatives provide tax or legal advice.

Company Sponsored Retirement Plan Review

FWM will review client's company sponsored retirement plan allocations, including current allocation and the alternative funds available. FWM will consider clients' financial circumstances, investment objectives, risk tolerance and restrictions imposed by client. If FWM suggests allocation changes, implementation of these changes is the sole responsibility of the client. FWM will not monitor client's company sponsored plans and will only make further review based on future client request. Client understands that FWM does not guarantee results and that losses can occur from client implementation of suggested allocations.

Wrap Program

FWM also offers Limited Discretionary Asset Management and Third-Party Manager Services on a wrap-fee basis. Wrap programs offer both advisory services and brokerage (i.e., transaction) costs for one set fee. FWM receives a wrap-fee for the services it provides under the program. Additional information about FWM's wrap program is available in a separate "Wrap Fee" ADV Brochure.

Fees and Compensation

Fees paid to FWM are for FWM advisory services only. The fees do not include, for example, the fees charged by third parties such as third-party managers, or accountants and attorneys assisting with providing the client with accounting and legal advice. Commissions on transactions and other account fees will also be charged by brokerage firms in accordance with the account's brokerage firm's normal commission schedule -- see Brokerage Practices, beginning on page 5. Customary commissions on insurance are also not included.

Prospective clients should be aware that in addition to FWM's advisory fees, certain investment products held in client accounts, such as mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, pay their own advisory fees (to the investment manager in charge of the fund's portfolio) and incur other internal expenses that are deducted from their reported performance. Depending on the fund, a client may be able to invest directly in the shares issued by the fund with or without incurring any sales or third-party management fees. Account maintenance fees are also deducted by the custodian.

In addition, there may be tax effects pertaining to fund share redemptions, and other sales, made by FWM on behalf of clients. Redemptions and sales may be taxable events which may accelerate the recognition of capital gains, and losses, and frequent redemptions and sales may result in short-term, rather than long-term, capital gains and losses.

Retirement Planning and Financial Planning Service Fees

The fee for a Plan is negotiable and will be based on the anticipated complexity and anticipated amount of work which will be involved to complete the Plan. Hourly rates, which will be quoted in writing in advance, vary between $160 to $250 per hour depending on the scope and nature of services requested. Generally, a deposit of one-half (½) of the anticipated fee is obtained upon execution of the agreement, with the balance invoiced and payable upon delivery of the written Plan.

In the event a client terminates the Plan agreement (which can be done by notice in writing), FWM will determine the number of hours spent developing the Plan to the date of termination. Those hours will be billed at the rate of $160 per hour with a minimum amount billed of three hours. This amount will then be subtracted from the initial deposit and the remainder, if any, will be refunded to the client within thirty (30) days of receipt of the termination notice. Clients are obligated to pay any amount earned by FWM but not paid to date of termination.

Fees do not include product transaction commissions, or the fees for third-party professional services (i.e., attorneys, accountants, or other third parties).

Specific Analysis Service Fees

Analysis service fees are $160 to $250 per hour depending on the anticipated complexity of the analysis and the anticipated amount of work which will be involved to complete the analysis. The hourly rate is established with the clients prior to rendering the service and are payable after services are provided.

Analysis services may be terminated by written notice to FWM. FWM will determine the number of hours spent performing the Analysis prior to the date of termination. Those hours will be billed at the predetermined hourly rate of $160 with a minimum amount of three hours billed.

401(k) Account Servicing Fees

FWM does not charge a separate fee associated with client's company sponsored retirement plan review.

Other Compensation

As further discussed below, FWM Advisors are also licensed to offer securities and insurance products. If clients opt to implement their financial plan through their FWM Advisor (who would then be acting in the capacity of registered representative of a broker-dealer or insurance agent), their FWM Advisor will receive customary commissions for the sale of such products. Receipt of this compensation creates a conflict of interest as FWM Advisors would have an incentive to recommend the purchase of high-commission products. FWM mitigates this risk by only recommending suitable products which are, in FWM's opinion, in the best interests of its clients. FWM Advisors recommend exchange-traded funds and both no-load and load-bearing mutual funds to clients based on the individual facts and circumstances behind each recommendation. FWM's fees for advisory services are not reduced by the amount of outside compensation an FWM Advisor may receive due to clients implementing their plans through their FWM Advisor's affiliation with a broker-dealer or insurance company. Clients are not required to implement their plans through their FWM Advisor and always have the option to implement any plan recommended by FWM on their own or through another party.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

FWM does not charge any performance-based fees. All fees are disclosed above.

Types of Clients

FWM generally provides advisory services to individuals (including high-net worth individuals), but its advisory services are available to a wide variety of clients including, but not limited to, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and other business entities.

Although FWM does not generally impose any conditions for providing its services, there is a minimum account size of $300,000 to open and maintain an account through the Limited Discretionary Asset Management Service or Third-Party Manager Services program (further described in FWM's wrap-fee brochure). The account minimum may be waived for certain client accounts at the discretion of FWM.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

FWM's security analysis method includes, but is not limited to, fundamental analysis (evaluating securities based upon its historical and projected financial performance). Main sources of information include, but are not limited to, financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses and public filings.

Neither FWM, nor the third-party managers it may secure, guarantee the results of the advice given. Thus, significant losses can occur by investing in any security, or by following any strategy, including those recommended or applied by FWM.

FWM may recommend exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"). ETF shares are bought and sold at market price unlike mutual funds. ETFs are subject to risks similar to those of stocks.

FWM may recommend real estate investment trusts (REITs), both traded and non-traded. Non-traded REITs will have limited liquidity without certainty of when future liquidity will occur.

Disciplinary Information

FWM does not have any disciplinary information to report regarding itself or any of its counselors or other related persons.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

FWM Advisors are Registered Representatives of Private Client Services ("PCS") a registered broker-dealer, Member FINRA/SIPC, and are also licensed as insurance agents for various companies. Clients are under no obligation to purchase or sell securities or insurance through these related persons; however, if they choose to implement the plan, commissions may be earned in addition to and separate from any fees paid for advisory services. The commissions may be higher or lower than those obtainable from other firms. Commissions will not be earned on advisory assets on which a fee is charged.

FWM's Representatives may also be registered as Investment Adviser Representatives with PCS and offer that firm's advisory services as well.

FWM primarily utilizes TD Ameritrade with respect to providing comprehensive data, custodial or trustee services for client accounts and tracking support for client transactions. FWM also utilizes Capital Group (American Funds) for Section 529 plan assets, Community National Bank for certain self-directed IRA assets, and Griffin Capital, Phillips Edison and AR Global for certain non-traded Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) accounts. FWM encourages clients to enter into a TD Ameritrade Agreement which provides FWM with software programs to interface with client accounts.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

As noted above, FWM Advisors may also be Registered Representatives and Investment Adviser Representatives for PCS and may be licensed as insurance agents for one or more insurance companies. FWM Advisors will recommend to clients that they use the services of PCS and purchase various insurance products from such insurance companies. Clients are free to use the services of PCS and purchase insurance products through these insurance companies, or to use the services of other broker/dealers and purchase the products of other insurance companies.

FWM and FWM Advisors may purchase or sell the same securities recommended to clients. If they do so, purchase and sell transactions for client accounts are given priority. FWM has established a Code of Ethics applicable to all persons at the firm who have access to confidential client records or to recommendations being made for client accounts. Designed to prevent conflicts of interest between the financial interests of clients and the interests of the firm's staff, the Code requires such "access persons" to obtain preapproval of certain securities transactions, to report transactions quarterly and to report all securities positions in which they have a beneficial interest at least annually. These reporting requirements allow supervisors at the firm to determine whether to allow or prohibit certain employee securities purchases and sales based on transactions made, or anticipated to be made, in the same securities for client accounts. The Code also establishes certain bookkeeping requirements relating to federal reporting rules. The Code is required to be reviewed annually and updated as necessary. A complete copy of the firm's Code is available upon request.

Brokerage Practices

FWM does not exercise discretion to select brokerage firms on behalf of clients but it does generally require clients to use the custodial services of TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade is a service provider to FWM and its clients and there is no control or other type of relationship between TD Ameritrade and FWM in connection with the advice FWM gives to clients. However, FWM does receive certain economic benefits from TD Ameritrade that are not typically available to retail investors resulting from the custody and operating relationships that result from FWM's recommendations.

TD Ameritrade provides FWM with access to the following products and services at a discount or at no cost: duplicate client statements and confirmations, research-related products and tools, consulting services, access to a trading desk serving FWM Advisors, access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares directly to or from client accounts), the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts, access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information, access to mutual funds with no transaction fees, and discounts or no fees on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products and services provided by third-party vendors.

TD Ameritrade may also pay for business consulting, professional services, and research received by FWM affiliated persons and may also pay for or reimburse certain expenses (travel, lodging, meals, and entertainment expenses) for FWM personnel to attend conferences or meetings relating to its service platforms or to its advisor custody and brokerage services generally. Some of these products and services made available by TD Ameritrade may benefit FWM, but may not directly benefit its clients. Such other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help FWM manage and further develop its business enterprise, and such services may or may not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to them. FWM does not process transactions through TD Ameritrade in return for it referring new clients to FWM.

Clients should be aware that FWM's receipt of the economic benefits described above creates an incentive for FWM to recommend the services of TD Ameritrade. This presents a potential conflict of interest between FWM and its clients as the receipt of such benefits may directly or indirectly influence FWM's decision to recommend TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services over one of its competitors. Not all advisers require clients to use a particular brokerage firm and, because FWM requires clients to open accounts with and use the execution services of TD Ameritrade, clients may not always receive the lowest-cost execution of transactions available. Given the quality of services provided by TD Ameritrade, its industry reputation, FWM's longstanding relationship with it, and other factors (including that many of TD Ameritrade's competitors offer similar additional products and services at no cost or discounts, thus creating the same potential conflicts), FWM believes that its use of TD Ameritrade in connection with the advisory services it provides is in the best interest of its clients.

FWM may combine similar client orders into one aggregate order for the purpose of obtaining an average price for all customers participating in the order.

Review of Accounts

For clients receiving Financial Planning and Retirement Planning Services, a written financial or retirement plan is prepared in the scope requested by the client during the initial interview and subsequent client meetings. FWM Advisors review financial and retirement plans as requested by clients and from time to time as deemed appropriate. With prior permission, clients' legal and accounting professionals may be involved in preparing a plan. Clients are solely responsible for all fees and costs charged by such outside professionals.

Clients receiving Third-Party Manager Services receive reports at least quarterly or more frequently as determined between the client's FWM Advisor or third-party manager. Reviews of the account are performed as frequently as appropriate, as determined by the client's FWM Advisor. Supervisory reviews are also performed by supervisors at FWM to ensure the strategies being deployed by the third-party managers are consistent with the investment objectives of the client. Recommendations to change, or discretionary changes to managers are made by an FWM Advisor or supervisor at the times they deem appropriate.

Clients receiving Analysis Services, receive reports in the scope and frequency determined between the client's FWM Advisor and the client at the time of engagement.

Clients receiving 401(k) services will be provided this service upon request.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

By current Company practice, FWM does not compensate third parties for referrals. However, FWM may from time to time compensate, under special circumstances, either directly or indirectly, third parties for client referrals. FWM is aware of the special considerations promulgated under Section 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended and state law. As such, all such solicitation arrangements are designed to comply with applicable federal and/or state laws.

Custody

FWM does not take custody of client funds or securities. These safekeeping services are typically provided by TD Ameritrade or the brokerage firm processing the securities transactions ordered by FWM.

To the extent a client receives any account or other investment ownership statement from FWM, FWM recommends the client carefully compare the information on the report to the information on the custodian's statements. The information contained in the report is obtained from sources believed to be reliable and is dependent on substantial manual input. Therefore, FWM does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness thereof.

Investment Discretion

Other than through FWM's wrap program (further discussed in FWM's Wrap Brochure), FWM does not exercise discretion over clients' accounts.

Voting Client Securities

FWM and FWM Advisors do not vote proxies on behalf of clients who will receive such notices from their account's custodian.

FWM also does not take any action on legal notices it or a client may receive from issuers of securities held in a client's managed account. However, FWM is available to answer questions regarding such notices.

Financial Information

FWM does not receive fees of more than $1,200 six months or more in advance, thus no financial statement for FWM is attached. FWM does not have any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its contracted commitment to any client.
