Item 4 – Advisory Business

At Kelley Investments, we provide you with active and on-going Wealth Management services for an asset-based charge. We offer you comprehensive Wealth Management solutions on either a discretionary or non-discretionary basis.

Discretionary Wealth Management: Our discretionary Wealth Management Services offer you three Strategies to choose from: INCOME & GROWTH, MODERATE GROWTH and AGGRESSIVE GROWTH.

Our INCOME & GROWTH Strategy is managed in a conservative manner and seeks long-term Total Return from capital appreciation and income with limited volatility.

Our MODERATE GROWTH Strategy is managed in an aggressive manner and seeks long-term Total Return from capital appreciation and income, but its volatility is likely to be much higher over time than that of our Income & Growth Strategy.

Our AGGRESSIVE GROWTH Strategy is managed in an aggressive manner and seeks long-term growth of capital. The volatility is likely to be much higher over time than that of our Moderate Growth or Income & Growth Strategy.

Non-Discretionary Wealth Management: We can also provide you with non-discretionary Wealth Management services where we will assist you in designing a custom portfolio of your own allocation and security selections based upon your investment objectives, risk tolerance and time horizon. We will then assist you with the implementation of an agreed upon investment strategy. You may also elect to direct the purchase and sale of securities on an un-solicited basis.

Custody of your accounts for both securities and funds will be maintained at a qualified designated custodian and clearing firm.

Our registration as an Investment Adviser does not imply any level of skill or training. This Brochure provides information about our qualifications and business practices.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Wealth Management Fees: You will compensate us for our Wealth Management solutions in the form of an annual, on-going fee. Our standard annual fee is 1.75% of the total assets held in each account that we manage for you. We may jointly agree to negotiate our compensation lower based on a variety of factors including:

- The scope and nature of the Investment & Wealth Management services you request which might involve:
 - Active Investment Management
 - Wealth Management
 - Estate Planning and Wealth Transfer Strategies
 - Risk Management, Asset Protection, and Insurance Reviews
 - Strategies to Minimize Taxes
 - Retirement Plan Consulting
 - Retirement Income Strategies
 - Charitable Giving Strategies
 - Executive Services
 - Closely-held Business Owners Services
 - Behavioral Finance Consulting
 - Leading Family meetings to resolve conflicts relating to money
 - Leading multi-generational Family meetings about business and wealth
- The complexity and time involved in delivering these services to you.
- The total amount of assets that we manage for you.
- The number and type of accounts we manage for you.
- Your historical level of your activity.
- Our involvement in communicating and coordinating financial solutions for you with non-affiliated financial service providers.

Our annual compensation is due and payable monthly in arrears on the first business day of each month. Our compensation is assessed based on the total market value of all assets held in each of your account(s) as of the close of business on the last business day of the month. We calculate the amount of our compensation each month in good faith from asset balances reflected on your monthly account statement provided by the third-party custodian, and we fully disclose this amount to you on each of your monthly account statements. (Our monthly calculation formula is: ending month account value x management fee % ÷ 12 = compensation).

Any additional money and/or securities you deposit or withdrawal are subject to the same billing procedures as outlined above. Our compensation is automatically deducted from your account(s) on a monthly basis pursuant to our Wealth Management Agreement unless other arrangements have been made in writing.

You will be notified by us in writing should there be any changes to the compensation schedule for your account(s). Your original compensation schedule will remain in effect for thirty (30) days after you have received our written notification of any changes. The new compensation schedule will automatically go into effect thirty (30) days after you have been notified by us in writing, unless you inform us otherwise.

The Wealth Management fees that you pay to us do not include any fees due to brokers or custodians, transaction fees, wire transfer fees, IRA and qualified retirement plan fees, third-party manager's fees, and other fees that may be incurred in the normal course of business.

Termination: From the time you execute our Wealth Management Agreement, you have five (5) business days to terminate the agreement without penalty. After five (5) days, the Wealth Management Agreement may be terminated by either of us upon receipt of written notice to the other party. Our compensation schedule will continue for thirty (30) days after receipt of the termination notice. There are no refunds of fees after 5 days, and we do not pro-rate fees for the first or last month that your account is under our management. After the Wealth Management Agreement is terminated, we may bill transactions in your account at normal brokerage rates for standard brokerage only accounts.

Other Related Compensation: In addition to our compensation outlined above, you will be assessed a transaction charge ("Transaction Charge") by the third party broker/dealer and/or Qualified Custodian for each separate transaction to pay for the costs associated with trade execution. All Transaction Charges are identified under the commission column on the confirmation statement, which is sent following the trade. This charge represents a reimbursement for transaction costs to the broker/dealer and/or Qualified Custodian and is not a commission. We do not receive any portion of the Transaction Charge.

Some mutual funds pay commissions, dealer concessions, 12b-1 fees, solicitor's fees and/or service fees. These fees are passed through to us and are subject to change by the fund's distributors. A detailed description of these fees is available in the products prospectus or SAI (Statement of Additional Information). Often these expenses are referred to as the "distribution and/or service fees" of the particular product. These fees are often collected by the broker/dealer and paid to us as a broker/dealer agent.

Our Wealth Management services may cost you more or less than purchasing the investments or services separately. There are several factors that affect the cost of our services when compared to the cost of the same services purchased separately including:

- The effectiveness of our Management decisions.
- The scope and nature of the services that you request.
- The complexity and time involved in delivering these services to you.
- The number of accounts and amount of assets we manage for you.
- Your historical and or expected transaction volume.
- The amount of time and complexity involved in communicating and coordinating with non-affiliated financial service providers for your behalf.

Other Fees: Circumstances may arise where you request us to provide additional services that are not covered under the terms of our Wealth Management Agreement. The amount of fees for such services and method of payment will be determined and mutually agreed upon in writing before we start any additional work.

ERISA and the Pension Protection Act of 2006 (PPA): We may also have retirement accounts which are subject to the Pension Protection Act of 2006 (PPA). In those cases, an "eligible investment advice arrangement" or advisory agreement will be executed with the Client. We will be considered a "fiduciary advisor" and will charge fees to the retirement account based on a Level Fees basis, which means the fees, will not vary depending on the basis of the investment option selected.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not charge you performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Our principal Objectives and Strategies for our Discretionary Wealth Management Services:

For your accounts that we will manage on a discretionary basis, our core investment strategy is to capitalize on anticipated fluctuations in the financial markets by changing the mix of investments in targeted asset classes.

We often use a focused or concentrated global, multi-sector, multi-strategy, value-based approach when investing your money, and there is no guarantee we will achieve our objectives.

We seek long-term “Total Return” from a combination of both capital appreciation and income. Under normal circumstances, we seek to achieve these objectives by investing “opportunistically” in a focused or concentrated portfolio of investments in the equity, fixed-income and cash-equivalent asset classes.

The amount of money we invest in each asset class will vary from time to time based upon:

- Our assessment of relative fundamental values of securities and other investments in the class
- The attractiveness of investment opportunities within each asset class
- General market and economic conditions
- Expected future returns of investments

We may invest in any, all or none of the targeted asset classes at any given time, and there is no limitation on the amount or percentage of your assets that may be allocated to any one of these asset classes. We may, for example, invest up to 100% of your assets in any one of these asset classes at any point in time.

We may maintain a significant portion of assets in cash-equivalent securities. In addition, we may invest your assets in securities and other investments without regard to geographic location and without regard to the market capitalizations or sectors of the issuers. We may also invest your assets in securities without regard to maturity or the rating of the issuer of the security.

RISK OF LOSS: Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear.

The Principal Risks of Investing with us include, but are not limited to:

General Risks: Your investments with us are not a deposit of a bank and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Accordingly, you may lose money by investing with us. When you sell your investments, they may be worth less than what you paid for them because the value of investments will fluctuate reflecting day-to-day changes in market conditions, interest rates and a number of other factors.

Allocation Risk: Our allocation of investments among different asset classes, such as equity or fixed-income assets classes, may have a more significant effect on your returns when one of these classes is performing more poorly than others.

Management Risk: By investing your money with us you are subject to the risk of poor investment selection. In other words, we may not be successful in our choice of investments, and your investments may be worth less than you paid for them regardless of general market conditions.

Market Risk: Stock and bond markets often trade in random price patterns, and prices can fall over sustained periods of time. The value of the investments we make for you will fluctuate as the financial markets fluctuate. This could result in your account value(s) declining over short or long term periods of time.

Focused and Concentrated Portfolio Risks: We will often invest your assets in a smaller number of securities than other broadly diversified investment strategies. Our approach is often referred to as “focused, concentrated, or non-diversified”. Accordingly, the money we manage for you may have more volatility and is often considered to have more risk than a strategy that invests in a greater number of securities because changes in the value of a single security may have a more significant effect, either negative or positive, on your overall portfolio value. To the extent we invest your assets in fewer securities, or we invest in non-diversified funds that take a focused or concentrated approach, your assets are subject to greater risk of loss if any of those securities become permanently impaired.

Equity Risk: Your investments will be subjected to the risk that stock prices may fall over short or extended periods of time. Historically, the equity markets have moved in cycles, and the value of equity securities in your portfolio may fluctuate drastically from day to day. Individual companies may report poor results or be negatively affected by industry and/or economic trends and developments. The prices of securities issued by such companies may suffer a decline in response. These factors will contribute to the volatility and risk of your assets.

Long/Short Mutual Fund Risk: In addition to Long-only Mutual Funds, we may invest your assets in Long/Short Mutual Funds. Long/Short Mutual Funds invest in long positions in stocks identified as undervalued that are believed may go up in value, and sell short positions in stocks that are identified as overvalued that are believed may fall in value. Since Long/Short Mutual Fund managers are both buying securities long and selling securities short, there is the risk that a long/short mutual fund manager may make more poor investment decisions than a manager of a typical stock mutual fund with only a long portfolio may make.

Short Sale Risk: Short sales of securities may result in gains if a security's price declines, but may result in losses if a security's price rises. Short sales may result in unlimited losses.

Special Situation Risk: We may invest your assets in special situations. Investments in special situations may involve greater risks when compared to other strategies due to a variety of factors. Expected changes may not occur, or transactions may take longer than originally anticipated, resulting in lower returns than contemplated at the time of investment. Additionally, failure to anticipate changes in the circumstances affecting these types of investments may result in permanent loss of capital, where we may be unable to recoup some or all of its investment.

Foreign Securities Risk: We have the ability to invest in foreign securities, and, from time to time, a significant percentage of your assets may be composed of foreign investments. Foreign investments involve greater risk in comparison to domestic investments because foreign companies/securities: may have different auditing, accounting, and financial reporting standards; may not be subject to the same degree of regulation as U.S. companies, and may have less publicly available information than U.S. companies; and are often denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar.

Currency Risk: Your investments may be subject to currency risk. Currency fluctuations and changes in the exchange rates between foreign currencies and the U.S. dollar could negatively affect the value of your investments in foreign securities.

Interest Rate Risk: Your investments are subject to interest rate risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a security will decline because of a change in general interest rates. Investments subject to interest rate risk will usually decrease in value when interest rates rise. For example, fixed-income securities with long maturities typically experience a more pronounced change in value when interest rates change.

Credit Risk: Your investments are subject to credit risk. An investments credit quality depends on its ability to pay interest on and repay its debt and other obligations.

Small- to Medium-Capitalization Risk: We may invest your assets in small to medium sized companies. Shares of small to medium sized companies may have more volatile share prices. Furthermore, the securities of small to medium companies often have less market liquidity and their share prices can react with more volatility to changes in the general marketplace.

Junk Bond/High-Yield Security Risk: We may invest your assets in Junk Bonds or High-Yield, lower rated securities. Investments in fixed-income securities that are rated below Investment grade can be subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest than investments in higher-rated fixed-income securities. The market for high yield securities may be less liquid than the market for higher-rated securities. High yield securities are also generally considered to be subject to greater market risk than higher-rated securities. The capacity of issuers of high yield securities to pay interest and repay principal is more likely to weaken than is that of issuers of higher-rated securities in times of deteriorating economic conditions or rising interest rates.

Prepayment Risk: Your investments may be subject to prepayment risk. Prepayment risk occurs when the issuer of a security can repay principal prior to the security's maturity. Securities subject to prepayment can offer less potential for gains during a declining interest rate environment and similar or greater potential for loss in a rising interest rate environment. In addition, the potential impact of prepayment features on the price of a security can be difficult to predict and result in greater volatility.

Inflation Risk: This is the risk that the value of your assets or income will be less in the future as inflation decreases the value of your money. As inflation increases, the value (purchasing power) of your assets can decline. This risk increases as we invest a greater portion of your assets in fixed-income securities with longer maturities.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell, possibly preventing us from selling out of these illiquid securities at an advantageous price.
