Material Changes

HeartStone Advisors (“HeartStone, we, us, our, ours”) provides its wrap program Disclosure Brochure (“wrap brochure”) initially when we enter into an advisory agreement with you. Going forward, we will deliver a summary of material changes and/or an updated wrap brochure on an annual basis, no later than April 29 of each year.

HeartStone Advisors has made the following Material Changes to our Brochure since our last Brochure filing on March 2019:

We may also provide updated disclosure information about material changes on a more frequent basis. Any summaries of changes will include the date of our last annual update of our brochure.

Currently, our brochure may be requested by contacting Alfred F. Matarazzo, Chief Compliance Officer, at 406-862-3795. We will provide you with a new brochure at any time without charge.

Additional information about us is available via the SEC’s website: www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. This website also provides information about any persons affiliated with HeartStone Advisors who are registered as investment adviser representatives (“your advisory representative”) of HeartStone Advisors. Information on our investment adviser representatives who work with your account can be found in our brochure supplements.

Services, Fees and Compensation

Our firm provides continuous advice to a client (individuals and trusts, estates, non-profit organizations and charitable organizations) regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (e.g. conservative, moderate, balanced, growth, aggressive), as well as tax considerations.

Individual Wealth Management Services

Our firm offers discretionary and non-discretionary individual wealth management services through the HeartStone Wealth Management Program on a wrap fee basis. A wrap-fee program is a type of investment program that provides clients with asset management and brokerage services for one all-inclusive fee. If you participate in our wrap fee program, you will pay us a single fee, which includes money management fees, certain transaction costs, and custodial and administrative costs. You are not charged separate fees for the respective components of the total service.

Our firm provides continuous advice to a client (individuals and trusts, estates, non-profit organizations and charitable organizations) regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition and background.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issuers
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Options contracts on securities
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our firm also provides Comprehensive Wealth Management Services to clients which include all of the services listed above plus certain financial planning services which may involve tax planning, retirement planning, risk management analysis, estate planning, cash flow planning, business planning and/or education planning.

Custody

An unaffiliated entity acts as custodian for Program Accounts. We will generally recommend that the broker-dealer/custodian for your account be TD Ameritrade, Inc. through its TD Ameritrade Institutional program. The broker dealer/custodian will assist us in servicing your accounts. You will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer that holds your Program Account on at least a quarterly basis.

Fees and Compensation

We offer our individual wealth management services on a fee-only basis. All fees are negotiable at our sole discretion. Our fees may be higher or lower than the fees charged by other advisors for similar services.

Our fee is calculated based upon the net market value of the investment assets in your account. One-fourth our fee is billed each calendar quarter based on the value of your account on the last day of that quarter.

Broker-dealers and other financial institutions that hold investment accounts for advisory clients are referred to as custodians (hereinafter referred to as “custodian/broker-dealer”). Your custodian/broker-dealer will determine the values of the assets in your account.

We require that you authorize us in writing to direct your custodian to pay our investment advisory fees directly to us by charging your account. This authorization is set forth in the investment advisory agreement you will execute to retain our services.

Our fees are charged on a tiered schedule, in which a different rate is applied to different portions of your assets based on established breakpoints. Our annual fees for the direct management of your account are as follows:

☐ INDIVIDUAL INVESTORS

SCHEDULE A

ASSET LEVEL	ANNUAL FEE %
First $1,000,000	1.00%
Next $4,000,000	0.50%
Amounts Above $5,000,000	0.25%

Your custodian/broker-dealer provides you with statements that show the amount paid directly to us. You should review the custodian/broker-dealer's statement and verify the calculation of our fees. Your custodian/broker-dealer does not verify the accuracy of fee calculations.

This wrap fee program may cost you more or less than purchasing these services separately, depending on the amount of trading activity in your account, the value of services that are provided to you under this program, and other factors. Therefore, we may have a financial incentive to recommend the wrap fee program over other programs or services. Generally, wrap programs may result in higher overall costs to you in accounts that experience little trading activity.

General Fee Information

In addition to our fee, certain additional charges may be assessed. These fees are not assessed or paid by HeartStone and may include:

- internal fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds ("ETFs"),
- maintenance and termination fees for IRAs, certain retirement and qualified accounts; and
- other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

Mutual fund companies, ETFs, and variable annuity issuers charge internal fees and expenses for their products. These fees and expenses are in addition to any advisory fees charged by us. Complete details of these internal fees and expenses are explained in the prospectuses for each investment. You are strongly encouraged to read these explanations before investing any money. You may ask us any questions you have about fees and expenses.

If you purchase mutual funds through the custodian/broker-dealer, you may pay a transaction fee that would not be charged if the transactions were made directly through the mutual fund company. Also, mutual funds held in accounts at brokerage firms may pay internal fees that are different from funds held at the mutual fund company.

Other Compensation

Our advisory representatives receive no additional compensation.

Account Requirements and Types of Clients

We provide retirement plan services to corporations or business entities including their pension and profit sharing plans. We also provide investment management and retirement planning services to individuals.

As a condition for starting and maintaining an advisory relationship, we generally require a minimum portfolio value of $1,000,000. We, at our sole discretion, may accept clients with smaller portfolios based upon certain factors including anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, account composition, related accounts, and pre-existing client relationships. We may consider the portfolios of your family members to determine if your portfolio meets the minimum size requirement.

Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

Your HeartStone advisory representative is the sole portfolio manager for your account in this Program. Please refer to your advisory representative's Brochure Supplement to this brochure for information about his education, business experience, and disciplinary information.

Portfolio Management Services

As described in “Services, Fees and Compensation” above, clients inform their Advisory Representative of their investment objectives, risk tolerance, and investment time horizon and give their Advisory Representative any applicable investment policies, guidelines, or reasonable restrictions. Based on this information, the Advisory Representative assists the client in selecting an investment strategy.

Clients may impose restrictions on the investments in their accounts, including designating particular securities or types of securities that should not be purchased for an account. The Firm may reject the restriction or the account if the Firm deems the restriction to be unreasonable.

A client also may request that HeartStone manage the client's account in accordance with client-specified investment guidelines or policies or otherwise implement a strategy in the client's account in a manner that may differ from that in which the Firm would otherwise implement the strategy in the account. The Firm may either reject these changes or reject the account.

In the absence of client-specified investment restrictions, guidelines or policies and/or other modifications to the implementation of a strategy that have been accepted by HeartStone, the Firm will generally manage accounts in a manner very similar to that of other clients who have selected the same strategy.

Advisory Services

HeartStone provides advice through other programs and services. These programs and services are described in HeartStone’s Disclosure Brochure which is available upon request. These programs and services generally are not managed using the same strategies and funds used in the Program. HeartStone does not manage these accounts differently than accounts in the Program.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2019 we managed approximately $202 million in client assets on a discretionary basis (where we made all of the investment decisions). We did not have any client assets managed on a non-discretionary basis (where our clients made the investment decisions based upon our recommendations).

No Performance-Based Fees

Neither HeartStone nor any of its supervised persons charge performance-based fees on any of our client accounts. Performance-based fees are fees based on a share of capital gains or on capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We select specific investments for your portfolios through the use of fundamental and technical analysis, as well as, charting.

Fundamental analysis is a method of evaluating a company that has issued a security by attempting to measure the value of its underlying assets. It entails studying overall economic and industry conditions as well as the financial condition and the quality of the company's management. Earnings, expenses, assets, and liabilities are all important in determining the value of a company. The value is then compared to the current price of the issuing company's security to determine whether to purchase, sell or hold the security.

Technical analysis is a method of evaluating securities by analyzing statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity.

Charting involves identifying patterns that can suggest future activity in price movements. A chart pattern is a distinct formation on a stock chart that creates a trading signal or a sign of future price movements. Chartists use these patterns to identify current trends and trend reversals to trigger buy and sell signals. Some of the chart types are Line Charts, Bar Charts, Candlestick, Point and Figure, etc.

Although we manage your portfolio in a manner consistent with your risk tolerances, there can be no guarantee that our efforts will be successful. You should be prepared to bear the risk of loss.

All investments involve the risk of loss, including (among other things) loss of principal, a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends and other distributions), and the loss of future earnings. These risks include market risk, interest rate risk, issuer risk, and general economic risk.

Our investment strategies may include long-term and short-term purchases and sales, and the use of options, and trading (securities sold within 30 days). You may place reasonable restrictions on the strategies to be employed in your portfolio and the types of investments to be held in your portfolio.

Voting Client Securities

We do not take any action or give any advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which your accounts may be invested. In addition, we do not take any action or give any advice with respect to any securities held in any accounts that are named in or subject to class action lawsuits. You will receive proxy information from your account custodian. We will, however, forward to you any information received by us regarding proxies and class action legal matters involving any securities held in your accounts.

Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

HeartStone obtains information about you through:

- Paperwork you provide, such as the Confidential Investor Profile, and product applications
- Interviews and conversations with you and
- Product or service vendors related to your HeartStone account(s)

This information is updated when you communicate new information about your financial circumstances, objectives, or goals to your advisory representative.

HeartStone values you as a client and recognizes the importance of protecting the personal information you provide. HeartStone protects your information in accordance with our Privacy Statement which has been provided to you.

Client Contact with Portfolio Manager

Clients are encouraged to contact their Advisory Representatives when they have questions about their Account, or to update their investment objectives, risk tolerance or other financial information that may affect the manner in which their accounts are managed.

Advisory Representatives are expected to periodically meet with you and generally be available to take your call on advisory-related matters.

Disciplinary Information

We have not been the subject of any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of our business or the integrity of our management.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Al Matarazzo, Jr., managing partner and Chief Compliance Officer of HeartStone Advisors, is also owner and Chief Compliance Officer of Main Retirement Advisors, LLC (“MLRA”). MLRA is an SEC-registered investment adviser.

Information about your advisory representative’s financial industry activities and affiliations is disclosed in the advisory representative’s brochure supplement which you will receive with this brochure. Additional information about your advisory representative is also available at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Code of Ethics; Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”) to address the securities-related conduct of our advisory representatives and employees. The Code includes our policies and procedures developed to protect your interests in relation to the following:

- the duty at all times to place your interests ahead of ours;
- that all personal securities transactions of our advisory representatives and employees be conducted in a manner consistent with the Code and avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest, or any abuse of an advisory representative’s or employee’s position of trust and responsibility;
- that advisory representatives may not take inappropriate advantage of their positions;
- that information concerning the identity of your security holdings and financial circumstances are confidential; and
- that independence in the investment decision-making process is paramount.

We will provide a copy of the Code to you or any prospective client upon request. We do not buy or sell securities for our firm that we also recommend to clients. Our advisory representatives and employees are permitted to buy or sell the same securities for their personal and family accounts that are bought or sold for your account(s). The personal securities transactions by advisory representatives and employees may raise potential conflicts of interest when they trade in a security that is owned by your or considered for purchase or sale for you.

We have adopted policies and procedures that are intended address these conflicts of interest. These policies and procedures:

- require our advisory representatives and employees to act in your best interest,
- prohibit favoring one client over another, and
- provide for the review of transactions to discover and correct any same-day trades that result in an advisory representative or employee receiving a better price than a client.

Advisory representatives and employees must follow our procedures when purchasing or selling the same securities purchased or sold for you.

Brokerage Practices

We may recommend that the broker-dealer/custodian for your account be TD Ameritrade, Inc. through its TD Ameritrade Institutional program (collectively “the broker dealer/custodian”). The broker dealer/custodian will assist us in servicing your accounts. We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with the broker dealer/custodian. Our use of the broker dealer/custodian is, however, a beneficial business arrangement. Information regarding the benefits of this relationship is described below.

Our recommendation of a specific custodian is based in part on our existing relationships; the custodian’s financial strength; reputation; breadth of investment products; and, the cost and quality of custody and brokerage services provided to you and our other clients.

The determining factor in the selection of the broker dealer/custodian to execute transactions for your accounts is not the lowest possible transaction cost, but whether the broker dealer/custodian can provide what is in our view the best qualitative execution for your account.

In addition to brokerage and custody services, services customarily made available to advisers include access to investments generally available to institutional investors; research; software; and, educational opportunities. Custodians may also make available or arrange for these types of services to be provided to us by independent third parties. Custodians may discount or waive the fees they would otherwise charge for some of the services they make available to us. They may also pay all or a part of the fees of a third party providing these services to us.

We receive economic benefits as a result of our relationship with the custodians because we do not have to produce or purchase the products and services listed above. These services are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to the custodians in trading commissions. We do not enter into soft-dollar arrangements with custodians or brokers

Because the amount of our compensation or the products or services we receive may vary depending on the custodian/broker-dealer we recommend to be used by our clients, we may have a conflict of interest in making that recommendation. Our recommendation of specific broker dealer/custodian may be based in part on the economic benefit to us and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided to you and our other clients. We nonetheless strive to act in your best interests at all times.

The custodians do not charge separately for holding our client accounts, but may be compensated by you through other transaction-related fees associated with the securities transactions they execute for your account.

Commissions and other fees for transactions executed through the broker dealer/custodian may be higher than commissions and other fees available if you use another custodian/broker-dealer firm to execute transactions and maintain custody of your account. We believe, however, that the overall level of services and support provided to our clients by the broker dealer/custodian outweighs the benefit of possibly lower transactions cost which may be available under other brokerage arrangements.

Many of the services described above may be used to benefit all or a substantial number of our accounts, including accounts not maintained at through the broker dealer/custodian. We do not attempt to allocate these benefits to specific clients.

You may direct us in writing to use a particular broker-dealer to execute some or all of the transactions for your account. If you do so, you are responsible for negotiating the terms and arrangements for the account with that broker-dealer. We may not be able to negotiate commissions, obtain volume discounts, or best execution. In addition, under these circumstances a difference in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to clients who direct us to use a particular broker or dealer and other clients who do not direct us to use a particular broker or dealer.

Review of Accounts

All accounts are reviewed with you by your assigned advisory representative, initially and at least annually or as agreed upon with you. The reviews focus on consistency of portfolio investments with investment objectives and risk tolerances. In addition, investment constraints are considered and tested against portfolio holdings. These constraints include but are not limited to:

- time horizon,
- liquidity needs,
- tax considerations,
- legal/regulatory constraints and
- any other unique circumstances.

We will monitor accounts on an ongoing basis. Account reviews may be triggered by potential changes in general economic and market conditions, analyst reports, company news and interest rate movement. There is no limit to the number of accounts assigned to the reviewer.

As previously noted, we strongly encourage you to advise your advisory representative of any changes in your personal circumstances, your investment goals or objectives, and your risk tolerances to ensure that your investments and investment strategies are most appropriate for you.

We do not perform review of financial plans unless you request us to do so. Our advisory representatives perform reviews in the ordinary course of their duties. Review of pension client assets will be conducted in accordance with the specific contract with each plan sponsor. All reviews will be conducted by Alfred Matarazzo, Jr. and the HeartStone team.

You will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer at least quarterly. These statements identify your current investment holdings, the cost of each of those investments, and their current market values.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We may enter into written agreements with certain unaffiliated investment advisers and other professionals (such as CPAs, attorneys, etc.) to compensate them for referring clients to us. We will pay these individuals (referred to as “solicitors”) a percentage of the advisory fee that you pay us if it is determined that you have become a client of ours as a result of their direct or indirect efforts.

The payments we make to a solicitor will not result in an increase in the amount of the advisory fee that the referred client will pay.

Our solicitation or referral arrangements will comply with applicable laws that govern the nature of the services provided, the fees to be paid, disclosure of solicitor arrangements to clients, and client consents, as required.

We receive certain economic benefits as a result of our participation in a custodian institutional program. Those benefits are described in detail in the preceding section entitled “Brokerage Practices.”

As noted above, we may receive compensation when we refer you to third party asset managers. In practice we do not receive any additional compensation from third part asset managers. This possible compensation arrangement creates a conflict of interest because we have an incentive to recommend those third party asset managers based on the compensation we receive rather than what’s in your best interest. We address this conflict by disclosing it to you. Additionally, as fiduciaries we place your interests above our own in determining whether a referral to a third party asset manager is appropriate for you. You are under no obligation to use the services of a third party asset manager we recommend.

Financial Information

We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to you and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
