Item 4 – Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

LifeGuide Financial Advisors, LLC (“LifeGuide Financial” or the “Advisor”) is a registered investment advisor with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). The Advisor is organized as a Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. LifeGuide Financial was founded in November 2013 and is owned and operated by Douglas K. Denlinger (Managing Principal) and David (“Zak”) I. Lutz (Principal and Chief Compliance Officer). This Disclosure Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the advisory services provided by LifeGuide Financial.

B. Advisory Services Offered

LifeGuide Financial offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, businesses, charitable organizations, and retirement plans (each referred to as a “Client”).

The Advisor serves as a fiduciary to Clients, as defined under the applicable laws and regulations. As a fiduciary, the Advisor upholds a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client and seeks to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. LifeGuide Financial’s fiduciary commitment is further described in the Advisor’s Code of Ethics. For more information regarding the Code of Ethics, please see Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading.

Wealth Management Services

LifeGuide Financial provides Clients with wealth management services, which generally includes a holistic engagement process comprised of a three (3) step process. Clients may also engage the Advisor for stand-alone services.

Step 1: Introductory Meeting - The goal of initial meeting is for LifeGuide Financial to get to know the Client and what they are looking for, as well as an opportunity for LifeGuide Financial to explain the wealth management process and the costs involved.

Step 2: LifePlan Development - The LifePlanning process is provided as a component of wealth management services or pursuant to a stand-alone financial planning agreement. The LifePlanning process usually involves 2-3 meetings and takes about a month to complete. Generally, the LifePlanning process involve preparing a formal financial plan based on the Client’s financial goals, values and objectives. This planning may encompass one or more areas of need, including but not limited to, investment planning, retirement planning, personal savings, education savings, insurance needs, asset and income protection and other areas of a Client’s financial situation.

A financial plan developed for the Client will usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the Client. For example, recommendations may be made that the Client start or revise their investment programs, commence or alter retirement savings, establish education savings and/or charitable giving programs. LifeGuide Financial may also refer Clients to an accountant, attorney or another specialist, as appropriate for their unique situation. For certain financial planning engagements, the Advisor will provide a written summary of Client’s financial situation, observations, and recommendations. For consulting or ad-hoc engagements, the Advisor may not provide a written summary.

Financial planning recommendations pose a conflict between the interests of the Advisor and the interests of the Client. For example, the Advisor has an incentive to recommend that Clients engage the Advisor for investment management services or to increase the level of investment assets with the Advisor, as it would increase the amount of advisory fees paid to the Advisor. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor or maintain an ongoing relationship with the Advisor. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations made by the Advisor, the Client is under no obligation to execute the transaction through the Advisor.

Step 3: Full Service LifeGuide Client - After the initial construction of the Client's LifePlan a Client can then decide to hire LifeGuide Financial to implement their LifePlan and therefore become an ongoing full service LifeGuide Financial Client. LifeGuide Financial then meets (virtually or in person) as needed (typically 1-3 times per year) to review action items, answer questions, and monitor progress. To help keep Clients on track, Clients have unlimited phone and email access to the LifeGuide Financial team

LifeGuide Financial provides customized wealth advisory solutions for its full service Clients. This is achieved through continuous personal Client contact and interaction, financial planning and discretionary investment management and related advisory services. LifeGuide Financial works closely with each Client to identify their investment goals and objectives as well as risk tolerance and financial situation to develop an investment strategy for the Client. LifeGuide Financial will then construct the Client's portfolio utilizing the Advisor's internal investment strategies.

LifeGuide will construct a customized investment portfolio based upon one of LifeGuide Financial's model portfolios or variation of a model portfolio to meet the Client's objectives. LifeGuide Financial's strategies employ a strategic asset allocation approach in constructing a portfolio with a diverse set of assets, consisting primarily of low-cost, diversified mutual funds and/or exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"). A suite of variations on model portfolios have also been developed to address different time horizons, growth objectives and risk profiles. The Advisor may also utilize individual stocks, certificates of deposit and bonds to meet the needs of its Clients. The Advisor may also utilize certain types of alternative investments, such as insurance products, limited partnerships, real estate interest trusts, private placements and business development companies.

LifeGuide Financial's investment approach is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held for less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. LifeGuide Financial utilizes an account bucket strategy to minimize the negative effects of volatility on withdrawals and assist Clients in managing behavior. LifeGuide Financial may select actively managed mutual funds based off of manager experience, process, structure, and alignment with Client interests. Periods of underperformance are to be expected with actively managed mutual funds and managers are not evaluated on short term past performance.

LifeGuide Financial evaluates and selects investments for inclusion in model portfolios only after applying its internal due diligence process. LifeGuide Financial utilizes dynamic rebalancing through the use of drift collars to ensure consistent diversification of assets. LifeGuide Financial may recommend specific positions to increase sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement. LifeGuide Financial may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position[s] in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client's risk tolerance.

At no time will LifeGuide Financial accept or maintain custody of a Client's funds or securities, except for the limited authority as outlined in Item 15 – Custody. All Client assets will be managed within their designated account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the advisory agreement. Please see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

Non-Purpose Loans – When deemed to be in the Client's best interest, the Advisor will refer certain Clients to a bank[s] for loan options, including non-purpose. If a Client decides to utilize a non-purpose loan they may use the assets in their account[s] as collateral for the non-purpose loan. The recommendation of such a loan presents a conflict of interest as the Advisor will continue to receive investment advisory fees for managing the collateralized assets in the Client's account[s]. Clients are not obligated to engage the Advisor for such offerings. For Additional information related to the risks involved with non-purpose loans and lines of credit, please see Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss. The Advisor does not receive any compensation for such referrals.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

LifeGuide Financial typically includes securities transaction fees (“Covered Costs”) together with its investment advisory fees. The Advisor sponsors the LifeGuide Financial Wrap Fee Program solely as a supplemental disclosure regarding the combination of fees. Depending on the level of trading required for the Client’s account[s] in a particular year, the Client may pay more or less in total fees than if the Client paid its own transaction fees. Please see Appendix 1 – Wrap Fee Program Brochure, which is included as a supplement to this Disclosure Brochure.

B. Fee Billing

Wealth Management Services

Initial Plan Development – Initial LifePlan Development fees may be invoiced up to 50% by the Advisor upon the signing of the agreement, with the remaining balance due upon completion of the agreed upon deliverable[s].

Ongoing Financial Planning – Ongoing financial planning fees are paid via credit card through a third party or by check. Fees are paid monthly, in advance of each month. Clients can pay fees directly from their bank account, via credit/debit card, or deducted directly from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the advisory agreement.

Ongoing Wealth Management – Wealth management fees are calculated by the Advisor or its delegate and either invoiced directly by the Advisor or deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor or delegate shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the beginning of each month. Except as noted in Item 5.A. above, the amount due is calculated by applying the monthly rate (number of days in the month divided by number of days in the year then multiplied the annual rate) to the average daily balance of assets under management with LifeGuide Financial during the prior month. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the wealth management fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting advisory fees to be deducted by LifeGuide Financial directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the wealth management agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Retirement Plan Advisory Services

Fees may be directly invoiced to the Plan Sponsor or deducted from the assets of the Plan, depending on the terms of the retirement plan advisory agreement.

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than LifeGuide Financial, in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. LifeGuide Financial includes Covered Costs as part of its overall advisory fees through the LifeGuide Financial Wrap Fee Program. There are certain situations where the Custodian will not allow the Advisor to absorb transaction costs, such as trading in health savings accounts. Under such circumstances, the Advisor will offset its investment advisory fees for the ticket charges paid by the Client. Please see Item 4.D. above.

In addition, all fees paid to LifeGuide Financial for wealth management services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting),

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Wealth management Services

Initial Plan Development – LifeGuide Financial may require an advance deposit as described above. Either party may terminate the financial planning agreement, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Client shall be billed for the percentage of the engagement scope completed by the Advisor. The Advisor will refund any unearned, prepaid financial planning fees from the effective date of termination. The Client's financial planning agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior consent.

Ongoing Financial Planning – LifeGuide Financial is compensated for its ongoing financial planning services in advance of the month in which services are rendered. The ongoing financial planning service is offered as a perpetual engagement where services will be ongoing in nature and will continue until terminated by either party. E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

LifeGuide Financial does not buy or sell securities and does not receive any compensation for securities transactions in any Client account, other than the investment advisory fees noted above. However, LifeGuide Financial is a licensed insurance agency and its Advisory Persons are licensed as insurance professionals.

LifeGuide Financial will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to Clients. Insurance commissions earned by Lifeguide Financial are separate and in addition to advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest as Advisory Persons and management persons have an incentive to recommend insurance products to Clients for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Client's needs. Lifeguide Financial will never earn both a commission and an ongoing advisory fee on the same assets. Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through our Advisory Persons. Please see Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

LifeGuide Financial does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by LifeGuide Financial are as described in Item 5 above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

LifeGuide Financial does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to recommend any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

LifeGuide Financial offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, businesses, charitable organizations, and retirement plans. The amount of each type of Client is available on the Advisor's Form ADV Part 1A. These amounts may change over time and are updated at least annually by the Advisor. LifeGuide Financial generally requires a minimum annual fee of $400 per household per year, which may be waived at the Advisor's sole discretion.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

LifeGuide Financial primarily employs fundamental analysis in developing investment strategies for its Clients. In addition, LifeGuide Financial may also employ technical and charting analysis. Research and analysis from LifeGuide Financial are derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, investment books and research prepared by others.

Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. These criteria are generally ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts.

Technical analysis involves the analysis of past market data rather than specific company data in determining the recommendations made to clients. Technical analysis may involve the use of charts to identify market patterns and trends, which may be based on investor sentiment rather than the fundamentals of the company. The primary risk in using technical analysis is that spotting historical trends may not help to predict such trends in the future. Even if the trend will eventually reoccur, there is no guarantee that LifeGuide Financial will be able to accurately predict such a reoccurrence.

Cyclical analysis is similar to technical analysis in that it involves the analysis of market conditions at a macro (entire market/economy) or micro (company specific) level, rather than the overall fundamental analysis of the health of the particular company that LifeGuide Financial is recommending. The risks with cyclical analysis are similar to those of technical analysis.

As noted above, LifeGuide Financial generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals, objectives and values. LifeGuide Financial will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, LifeGuide Financial may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

B. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. LifeGuide Financial will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

While the methods of analysis help the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in these methods of analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account[s]. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The Advisor will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Following are some of the risks associated with the Advisor's strategies:

Market Risks

The value of a Client's holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of mutual funds is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

ETF Risks

The performance of ETFs is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs have a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Leveraged and Inverse ETF Risks

Leveraged and Inverse ETFs are not suitable for all investors and should be utilized only by sophisticated investors who understand leverage risk, consequences of seeking daily leveraged investment results and intend to actively monitor and manage their investments. Leveraged ETFs are not designed to track the underlying index over periods longer than one trading day. The use of leverage increases the level of investment risk. Leverage will magnify gains or losses on those investments. Inverse ETFs lose value when the underlying investments rise in value. The investments have the risk of not meeting their stated daily investment objectives over a long-term period.

Non-Purpose Loans and Lines of Credit

Non-purpose loans and lines of credit carry a number of risks, including but not limited to the risk of a market downturn, tax implications if collateralized securities are liquidated, and an increase in interest rates. A decline in the market value of collateralized securities held in the account[s] at the Custodian, may result in a reduction in the draw amount of the Client's line of credit, a demand from the Lending Program that the Client deposit additional funds or securities in the Client's collateral account[s], or a forced sale of securities in the Client's collateral account[s].

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving LifeGuide Financial or its management persons. LifeGuide Financial values the trust Clients place in the Advisor. The Advisor encourages Clients to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider that the Client engages. The backgrounds of the Advisor and its Advisory Persons are available on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with the Advisor's firm name or CRD# 284842.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Insurance Agency Affiliations

LifeGuide Financial is also a licensed insurance agency and its Advisory Persons are licensed insurance professionals. Implementations of insurance recommendations are separate and apart from the advisory services provided by LifeGuide Financial and will result in additional compensation to the Advisor and its Advisory Persons. LifeGuide Financial receives customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products are sold. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest as Advisory Persons and management persons have an incentive to recommend insurance products to Clients for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Client's needs. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by Advisory Persons or the Advisor. LifeGuide Financial also mitigates this by having insurance commissions paid to the firm and not to the individual Advisory Person. LifeGuide pays Advisory Persons via a salary and bonus compensation plan that is NOT based on individual sales production but is driven by the overall success of the firm.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

LifeGuide Financial has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines the Advisor's fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with LifeGuide Financial ("Supervised Persons"). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding the Advisor's duties to each Client. LifeGuide Financial and its Supervised Persons owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of LifeGuide Financial's Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of the Code, please contact the Advisor at (717) 796-1700.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

LifeGuide Financial allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. LifeGuide Financial does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. LifeGuide Financial does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

LifeGuide Financial allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that are recommended (purchase or sell) to Clients presents a conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, must be disclosed to Clients and mitigated through policies and procedures. As noted above, the Advisor has adopted the Code to address insider trading (material non-public information controls); gifts and entertainment; outside business activities and personal securities reporting. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by LifeGuide Financial requiring reporting of personal securities trades by its Supervised Persons for review by the Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") or delegate. The Advisor has also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While LifeGuide Financial allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders. At no time will LifeGuide Financial, or any Supervised Person of LifeGuide Financial, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

LifeGuide Financial does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custody and execution services. The Client will engage the broker-dealer/custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize LifeGuide Financial to direct trades to the Custodian as agreed upon in the wealth management agreement. Further, LifeGuide Financial does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of Clients on a trade-by-trade basis.

Where LifeGuide Financial does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend the Custodian to Clients for custody and execution services. Clients are not obligated to use the recommended Custodian and will not incur any extra fee or cost associated with using a broker-dealer/custodian not recommended by LifeGuide Financial. However, the Advisor may be limited in the services it can provide if the recommended Custodian is not utilized. LifeGuide Financial may recommend the Custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client, its reputation, and/or the location of the Custodian's offices. LifeGuide Financial typically recommends that Clients establish their account[s] at TD Ameritrade Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade Inc. ("TD Ameritrade"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisors services, which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Please see Item 14 below.

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with a broker-dealer/custodian in exchange for research and other services. LifeGuide Financial does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer/custodian. However, LifeGuide Financial does receive economic benefits from TD Ameritrade as detailed in Item 14 below.

2. Brokerage Referrals - LifeGuide Financial does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing an account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a “directed brokerage basis”, where LifeGuide Financial will place trades within the established account[s] at the Custodian designated by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor’s own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client’s account[s]). LifeGuide Financial will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of the order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. LifeGuide Financial will execute its transactions through the Custodian as authorized by the Client. LifeGuide Financial may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts in the same trading day. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage any particular Client accounts.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by Mr. Lutz, Principal and Chief Compliance Officer of LifeGuide Financial. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually or more frequently depending on the needs of the Client.

B. Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted in Item 13.A. above, each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more frequently at the Client’s request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client’s financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client’s account[s]. The Client is encouraged to notify LifeGuide Financial if changes occur in the Client’s personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client’s investment plan. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

C. Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian’s website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client’s account[s]. The Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations, and performance.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by LifeGuide Financial

Lifeguide Financial may refer Clients to various unaffiliated, non-advisory professionals (e.g. attorneys, accountants, estate planners) to provide certain financial services necessary to meet the goals of its Clients. Likewise, Lifeguide Financial may receive non-compensated referrals of new Clients from various third-parties.

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

As disclosed above, the Advisor participates in TD Ameritrade's Program and the Advisor may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between the Advisor's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although the Advisor receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving the Advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to the Advisor by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by the Advisor's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit the Advisor but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist the Advisor in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help the Advisor manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by the Advisor or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by the Advisor or its related persons in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the Advisor's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

Lifeguide Financial does not engage paid solicitors for Client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

Lifeguide Financial does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of the Advisor's fees. All Clients must place their assets with a "qualified custodian". Clients are required to engage the Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct Lifeguide Financial to utilize the Custodian for the Client's security transactions. Clients should review statements provided by the Custodian and compare to any reports provided by Lifeguide Financial to ensure accuracy, as the Custodian does not perform this review. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

If the Client gives the Advisor authority to move money from one account to another account, the Advisor may have custody of those assets. In order to avoid additional regulatory requirements in these cases, the Custodian and the Advisor have adopted safeguards to ensure that the money movements are completed in accordance with the Client's instructions.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Lifeguide Financial generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by LifeGuide Financial. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of an investment advisory agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by LifeGuide Financial will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

LifeGuide Financial does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Neither LifeGuide Financial nor its management have any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of LifeGuide Financial to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither LifeGuide Financial, nor any of its Advisory Persons have been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. LifeGuide Financial is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the Advisor does not collect fees of $1,200 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

Item 4 – Services, Fees and Compensation

A. Advisory Services

LifeGuide Financial provides customized investment advisory services for its Clients. This Wrap Fee Program Brochure is provided as a supplement to the LifeGuide Financial Form ADV Part 2A (“Disclosure Brochure”). This Wrap Fee Program Brochure is provided along with the complete Disclosure Brochure to provide full details of the business practices and fees when selecting LifeGuide Financial as your investment advisor.

As part of the investment advisory fees noted in Item 5 of the Disclosure Brochure, LifeGuide Financial includes normal securities transaction (herein “Covered Costs”) fees as part of the overall investment advisory fee. Securities regulations often refer to this combined fee structure as a “Wrap Fee Program”. The Advisor’s recommended Custodian does not charge securities transaction fees for exchange-traded fund (“ETF”) and equity trades in Client accounts, but typically charges for mutual funds and other types of investments. The Advisor sponsors the LifeGuide Financial Wrap Fee Program.

The sole purpose of this Wrap Fee Program Brochure is to provide additional disclosure relating the combination of Covered Costs into a single “bundled” investment advisory fee. This Wrap Fee Program Brochure references back to the LifeGuide Financial Disclosure Brochure in which this Wrap Fee Program Brochure serves as an Appendix. Please see Item 4 – Advisory Services of the Disclosure Brochure for details on LifeGuide Financial’s investment philosophy and related services.

B. Program Costs

Advisory services provided by LifeGuide Financial are offered in a wrap fee structure whereby Covered Costs are included in the overall investment advisory fee paid to LifeGuide Financial. As the level of trading in a Client’s account[s] may vary from year to year, the annual cost to the Client may be more or less than engaging for advisory services where the Covered Costs are borne separately by the Client. The cost of the Wrap Fee Program varies depending on services to be provided to each Client, however, the Client is not charged more if there is higher trading activity or other Covered Costs. A Wrap Fee Program structure presents a conflict of interest as the Advisor has an incentive to limit the number of trades placed in the Client’s account[s] or to utilize securities that do not have transaction fees. As noted above, the Advisor’s recommended Custodian does not charge securities transaction fees for ETF and equity trades in Client accounts, but typically charges for mutual funds and other types of investments. As such, the Advisor is incentivized to utilize ETFs and other equity securities to limit the overall cost to the Advisor. Please see Item 5 – Fees and Compensation of the Disclosure Brochure for complete details on fees.

C. Fees

Wealth management fees are paid monthly, in advance of each month, pursuant to the terms of the wealth management agreement. The ongoing wealth management fee is based on the average daily market value of assets under management during the prior month. Wealth management fees for assets under management are based on the following schedule:

Assets Under Management ($)	Annual Rate (%)
First $50,000	1.95%
Next $50,000 (up to $100,000)	1.61%
Next $150,000 (up to $250,000)	1.33%
Next $250,000 (up to $500,000)	1.28%
Next $500,000 (up to $1,000,000)	1.25%
Next $4,000,000 (up to $5,000,000)	0.60%
$5,000,001 and above	0.37%

* The Advisor generally requires a minimum annual fee of $400 per household per year

The wealth management fee in the first partial month of service is waived. The wealth management fees for subsequent months are billed in advance based on the prior months average daily market value of the assets under management. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. The Client's fees will take into consideration the aggregate assets under management with the Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by LifeGuide Financial will be independently valued by the Custodian. LifeGuide Financial will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

Wealth management fees are calculated by the Advisor or its delegate and either invoiced directly by the Advisor or deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor or delegate shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the beginning of each month. Except as noted in Item 5.A. above, the amount due is calculated by applying the monthly rate (number of days in the month divided by number of days in the year then multiplied the annual rate) to the average daily balance of assets under management with LifeGuide Financial during the prior month. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the wealth management fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting advisory fees to be deducted by LifeGuide Financial directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the wealth management agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s] which are not included in the Wrap Fee Program. All fees paid to LifeGuide Financial for wealth management services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and exchange-traded funds to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee as a shareholder in a fund. Additionally, account activity fees, such as electronic funds and wire transfers fees, certificate delivery fees, markups and markdowns, bid-ask spreads, selling concessions, and other miscellaneous fees and expenses as outlined in the account opening paperwork executed with the Custodian, are generally charged to the Client. Finally, Securities transaction fees for Client-directed trades may be charged back to the Client.

There are certain situations where the Custodian will not allow the Advisor to absorb transaction costs, such as trading in health savings accounts. Under such circumstances, the Advisor will offset its investment advisory fees for the ticket charges paid by the Client.

The Advisor does not control nor share in any of these third party fees. Clients are encouraged to review all fees charged by the fund[s], third parties and Lifeguide Financial to fully understand the total fees to be paid. Please see Item 5.C. – Other Fees and Expenses of the Disclosure Brochure.

D. Compensation

LifeGuide Financial is the sponsor and portfolio manager of this Wrap Fee Program. LifeGuide Financial receives wealth management fees paid by Clients for wealth management services covered under this Wrap Fee Program.

Other Compensation

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform – The Advisor participates in the TD Ameritrade Institutional program. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. ("TD Ameritrade") member FINRA/SIPC. TD Ameritrade is an independent [and unaffiliated] SEC-registered broker-dealer. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment Advisors services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Advisor receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the program. The Advisor may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between the Advisor's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although the Advisor receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to the Advisor by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by the Advisor's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit the Advisor but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist the Advisor in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help the Advisor manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by the Advisor or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by the Advisor or its related persons in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the Advisor's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Securities laws require an advisor to disclose any instances where the advisor or its advisory persons have been found liable in a legal, regulatory, civil or arbitration matter that alleges violation of securities and other statutes; fraud; false statements or omissions; theft, embezzlement or wrongful taking of property; bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; and/or dishonest, unfair or unethical practices. As previously noted, there are no legal, civil or disciplinary events to disclose regarding Mr. Lutz.

However, the Advisor does encourage you to independently view the background of Mr. Lutz on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with his full name or his Individual CRD# 5355724.

Item 4 – Other Business Activities

Insurance Agency Affiliation

Mr. Lutz is a licensed insurance professional. Implementations of insurance recommendations are separate and apart from Mr. Lutz's advisory role with LifeGuide Financial. As an insurance professional, Mr. Lutz implements insurance and LifeGuide Financial receives customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products are sold. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This creates a conflict of interest in recommending certain products of the insurance companies. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by Mr. Lutz or the Advisor. LifeGuide Financial also mitigates this by having insurance commissions paid to the firm and not to the individual Advisory Person. LifeGuide pays Advisory Persons via a salary and bonus compensation plan that is NOT based on individual sales production but is driven by the overall success of the firm.

LifeGuide Financial also mitigates this by having insurance commissions paid to the firm and not to the individual Advisory Person. LifeGuide pays Advisory Persons via a salary and bonus compensation plan that is NOT based on individual sales production but is driven by the overall success of the firm.

Item 5 – Additional Compensation

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP® (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP® Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 71,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP® Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP® Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP® Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP® Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
