Item 4 –Advisory Business

ARK & TLK Investments, LLC dba Castleview Wealth Advisors ("Castleview") is dedicated to providing individuals with a wide array of investment advisory services. Our LLC was formed in the State of Oklahoma in 2014. Our firm has been in business as an investment advisor since 2015. The primary shareholder is Kendall W. King.

This narrative brochure contains information regarding Castleview and the qualifications, business practices, and nature of advisory services that the firm provides. This information should be carefully considered before becoming an advisory client of Castleview.

Prior to engaging Castleview to provide services, clients are generally required to enter into an agreement with Castleview setting the terms and conditions of the engagement (including termination), describing the scope of the services to be provided, and specifying the portion of the fee that is due from the client prior to Castleview beginning services.

Castleview offers the following types of services:

- Wealth management which includes advice on investment planning, retirement planning, estate planning, tax planning, college savings planning and insurance planning
- 401(k) and retirement plan investment advisory services

Wealth Management

The client may engage Castleview to provide both ongoing financial consulting and investment management on a fee-only basis. This process is customizable to the unique needs of the client.

Subject to any written guidelines, which the client may provide, Castleview will be granted discretion and authority to manage the client's investment account(s). Accordingly, Castleview is authorized to perform various functions, at the client's expense, without further approval from the client. Such functions include making all investment decisions on the (a) securities purchased/sold and (b) the amount of securities to be purchased/sold. Once the portfolio is constructed, Castleview provides ongoing supervision and rebalancing of the portfolio as changes in market conditions and client circumstances may require.

Castleview primarily allocates investment management assets of its client accounts among various asset classes using mutual funds, (and to a much lesser extent, among various individual debt and equity securities), on a discretionary basis, in accordance with the investment objectives of the client as set forth in an Investment Policy Statement prepared by Castleview for review and acceptance by the client.

After consultation with Castleview, clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Other restrictions may be imposed by clients with respect to the (average or longest) maturity or credit quality of fixed income investments. In either case, all restrictions must be in writing.

401(k) Plan and Investment Advisory Services

This service consists of assisting employer plan sponsors establish monitor and review their company's participant-directed retirement plan. We evaluate the needs of the plan sponsor and generally advise on the following areas: investment options, plan structure, and participant education.

Retirement Rollovers-No Obligation/Conflict of Interest

A client leaving an employer typically has four options (and may engage in a combination of these options): 1) leave the money in his former employer's plan, if permitted, 2) roll over the assets to his/her new employer's plan, if one is available and rollovers are permitted, 3) rollover to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), or 4) cash out the account value (which could, depending upon the client's age, result in adverse tax consequences).

Castlevue may recommend an investor roll over plan assets to an IRA managed by Castlevue. As a result, Castlevue may earn an asset-based fee; however, a recommendation that a client or prospective client leave their plan assets with their old employer will result in no compensation. Castlevue has an economic incentive to encourage an investor to roll plan assets into an IRA that Castlevue will manage.

There are various factors that Castlevue may consider before recommending a rollover, including but not limited to: i) the investment options available in the plan versus the investment options available in an IRA, ii) fees and expenses in the plan versus the fees and expenses in an IRA, iii) the services and responsiveness of the plan's investment professionals versus those of Castlevue, iv) required minimum distributions and age considerations, and vi) employer stock tax consequences, if any. No client is under any obligation to roll over plan assets to an IRA managed by Castlevue.

Client Obligations

In performing its services, Castlevue is not required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals. Moreover, each client is advised that it remains his or her responsibility to promptly notify Castlevue if there is ever any change in the client's financial situation or investment objectives during the client engagement.

Our Policy on Class Action Lawsuits

From time to time, securities held in the accounts of clients will be the subject of class action lawsuits. Castlevue has no obligation to determine if securities held by the client are subject to a pending or resolved class action lawsuit. It also has no duty to evaluate a client's eligibility or to submit a claim to participate in the proceeds of a securities class action settlement or verdict. Furthermore, Castlevue has no obligation or responsibility to initiate litigation to recover damages on behalf of clients who may have been injured as a result of actions, misconduct, or negligence by corporate management of issuers whose securities are held by clients.

Where Castleview receives written or electronic notice of a class action lawsuit, settlement, or verdict affecting securities owned by a client, it will forward all notices, proof of claim forms, and other materials, to the client. Electronic mail is acceptable where appropriate if the client has authorized contact in this manner.

Disclosure Statement

A copy of Castleview's written brochure as set forth on Part 2A of Form ADV shall be provided to each client prior to, or at the same time as, the execution of the Advisory Agreement. Any client who has not received a copy of Castleview's written brochure at least 48 hours prior to executing the Advisory Agreement shall have five business days subsequent to executing the agreement to terminate Castleview's services without penalty.

Non-Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

Castleview, as a matter of policy and practice, does not sponsor any wrap fee program. A wrap fee program is defined as any advisory program under which a specified fee or fees not based directly upon transactions in a client's account is charged for investment supervisory services (which may include portfolio management or advice concerning the selection of other investment advisers) and the execution of client transactions.

Amount of Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2019, Castleview provided advice on approximately $272 million in assets. Approximately $262 million on a discretionary basis and $10 million on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Wealth management fees are paid quarterly in advance pursuant to the terms of the Wealth Management Agreement. Wealth management fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of each calendar quarter. Wealth management fees range from 1.25% to 0.25% based on the following schedule:

Assets	Management Fee (Per Quarter)	Annual %
Up to $2,000,000	0.3125%	1.25%
Between $2,000,001 and $5,000,000	0.1875%	0.75%
Between $5,000,001 and $10,000,000	0.125%	0.50%
Between $10,000,001 and $20,000,000	0.0875%	0.35%
$20,000,001 and above	0.0625%	0.25%

The wealth management fee encompasses all aspects of Castleview's advisory business, both investment management services and advanced planning. Fee calculations are rounded to the nearest dollar for billing purposes (1 to 49 cents rounded down and 50 to 99 cents rounded up). The minimum annual fee is $5,000. An example of how the quarterly fee is calculated for a $2.1 million portfolio:

$$2,000,000 \times .3125\% = $6,250 + $100,000 \times .1875\% = \187.50 for a quarterly fee of $6,437.50

For special projects and/or consulting on issues outside the typical wealth planning and investment management, fees are based on expected service time and hourly fees. These range from $125 to $275 per hour for professional staff, depending on the professional classification, and experience of the individual providing the service.

Castleview's fees will be calculated on the market value of assets under management as determined on the last day of each calendar quarter.

Castleview generally requires a minimum annual fee of $5,000 for investment management services. However, Castleview, in its sole discretion, may reduce its minimum account size and/or charge a lesser investment management fee for bundled and unbundled services based upon certain criteria (i.e. anticipated future earning capacity, or additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with client.

Payment for management fees will be made by the qualified custodian holding the client's funds and securities provided the client provides written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from the client's account. Castleview will not have access to client funds for payment of fees without client consent in writing. Further, the qualified custodian agrees to deliver a quarterly account statement directly to the client showing all disbursements from the account. The client is encouraged to review their account statements for accuracy. Castleview will receive a duplicate copy of the statement that was delivered to the client. Alternatively, Castleview may invoice clients directly for portfolio management fees. When clients are billed directly, payment is due upon receipt of Castleview's invoice.

401(k) Plan and Investment Advisory Services

401(k) plan annual fees range from 0.20 to 0.75% of the assets managed. The fee is dependent on the size and complexity of the plan. Our minimum fee for this service is $20,000 annually.

General Information

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: An advisory client will have a period of five (5) business days from the date of signing the investment advisory agreement to unconditionally rescind the advisory agreement and receive a full refund of all fees. Thereafter, either party may terminate the investment advisory agreement with written notice. Upon termination, fees will be prorated to the date of termination. Any unearned fees will be refunded to the client.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to Castleview for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, sub-advisors, and/or ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a qualified custodian/broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Pre-existing advisory clients are subject to Castlevue's minimum account requirements and advisory fees in effect at the time the client entered into the advisory relationship. Therefore, our firm's minimum account requirements will differ among clients.

Custodian Fees: The account custodians may charge fees, which are in addition to and separate from the investment advisory service fee. Custodians may charge accounts for various transaction costs, retirement plan and administration fees.

ERISA Accounts: Castlevue is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employee benefit plans or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"), and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively. As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers for similar or lower fees.

Limited Prepayment of Fees: Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1,200 more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Item 6 –Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Item 6 is not applicable to Castleview. Castleview does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client). Such acceptance or management would pose a significant conflict of interest to our clients because performance-based fees may provide an incentive to make investment decisions that pose excessive or inappropriate risk to the client's financial situation. Castleview considers avoidance of such conflict a paramount policy in maintaining our fiduciary duty to our clients.

Item 7 –Types of Clients and Account Requirements

Castleview offers personalized investment supervisory services to high net worth individuals, families, trusts, and 401(k) plans. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Required Minimum Client Accounts

Castleview requires a minimum annual fee of $5,000 to establish a new private client advisory account; however, the minimum may be waived at the sole discretion of the firm.

For qualified plan consulting, we require a minimum of $20,000 in annual fees.

Item 8 –Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Before designing investment plans for clients, Castlevue will evaluate the client's current investments to determine whether the client's goals harmonize with the client's financial objectives. In designing investment plans for clients, Castlevue relies upon the information supplied by the client and client's other professional advisors. Such information may pertain to the client's financial situation, estate planning, tax planning, risk management, short-term and long-term lifetime financial goals and objectives, investment time horizon, and perceived current tolerance for risk. Castlevue will design and propose a portfolio to help clients attain the client's financial goals.

This information will become the basis for the strategic asset allocation plan which Castlevue believes will best meet the client's stated personal financial goals. The strategic asset allocation provides for investments in those asset classes which Castlevue believes will possess attractive combinations of return, risk, and correlation over the long term.

The investment advice provided rests on four principles:

1. Financial markets are extremely efficient
2. Risk and Return are related
3. Broad Global Diversification
4. Investor Discipline

Castlevue believes these are the keys to a successful investment experience.

We do not believe in traditional active investment management practices such as stock picking and market timing. The philosophy and strategy implemented rests upon the body of academic research known as Modern Portfolio Theory. It focuses on maintaining a long-term perspective and capturing the returns offered by the financial capital markets.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Castlevue's investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

Interest-rate Risk: The risk that investment returns will be affected by changes in the level of interest rates. When interest rates increase, the prices and values of bonds decrease. When interest rates decrease, the prices and values of bonds increase.

Market Risk: The risk that investment returns will be affected by changes in the overall level of the stock market. When the stock market as a whole increases or decreases virtually all stocks are affected to some degree.

Reinvestment Rate Risk: The risk incurred when an investment's income is reinvested at a lower rate than the rate that existed at the time the original investment was made. This risk is most prevalent when interest rates fall.

Purchasing Power Risk (Inflation Risk): The risk that inflation will affect the return of an investment in real dollars. In other words, the amount of goods that one dollar will purchase decreases with time. Investments that have low returns, such as savings accounts, are not likely to keep up with inflation. Investments with fixed returns, such as bonds, will decrease in value because their purchasing value will decrease with inflation.

Business Risk: The risk associated with a particular industry or firm. These are factors that affect the industry or firm, but do not affect the whole market. They include government regulations, management competency, or local or regional economic factors.

Financial Risk: The risk associated with the mix of debt and equity used to finance a firm. The greater the financial leverage, the greater the financial risk.

Currency Risk (Exchange Rate Risk): The risk that a change in the value of a foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar will negatively affect a U.S. investor's return.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.

In general, cash equivalents provide liquidity with minimum income, and a return of principal with no capital appreciation. Cash equivalents, however, are subject to purchasing power risk.

Fixed income investments provide current income. Usually, the longer the maturity of the security, the higher the income it will generate. Also, with longer maturities, fixed income investments will have greater price volatility and greater opportunity for capital gains or capital losses. Fixed income investments are subject to interest rate risk, reinvestment rate risk, and purchasing power risk. In addition, foreign bonds would be subject to currency rate risk and junk bonds would be subject to business risk and financial risk.

The return of principal for bond funds and funds with significant underlying bond holdings is not guaranteed. Mutual fund shares are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings. Lower rated bonds are subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than higher rated bonds.

Equity investments are subject to greater volatility, thus providing a greater opportunity for capital gains, and a greater opportunity for capital losses. Equity investments offer little or no current income. Equity investments are subject to market risk and interest rate risk, while providing an opportunity to protect against purchasing power risk. Also, stock mutual funds, rather than individual equities, may limit the exposure to business risk and financial risk.

Investing outside the United States involves additional risks, such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in developing countries. Small-company stocks entail additional risks, and they can fluctuate in price more than larger company stocks.

Investments are not FDIC-insured, nor are they deposits of or guaranteed by a bank or any other entity, so they may lose value.

Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and the client should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended by Castleview) will be profitable or equal to any specific performance level(s).

Item 9 –Disciplinary Information

Castleview Wealth Advisors has no reportable legal or disciplinary events.

Item 10 –Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither the firm, nor its representatives, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Neither the firm, nor its representatives, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, a commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or a representative of the foregoing.

Castleview donates to Fields and Futures and serves as an advisor to Fields and Futures' endowment investment strategy. In addition, as of late 2019, the firm manages the founder's family accounts and the founder's son works for the firm.

Item 11 –Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Castlevue has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at Castlevue must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Castlevue's clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting Melissa Ray, Chief Compliance Officer, at (405) 705-2906 and/or melissa@castlevueadvisors.com.

Neither Castlevue or any related person of Castlevue recommends, buys, sells for client accounts, securities in which Castlevue or any related person of Castlevue has a material financial interest.

Castlevue and/or representatives of Castlevue may buy or sell securities that are also recommended to clients. This practice may create a situation where Castlevue and/or representatives of the firm are in a position to materially benefit from the sale or purchase of those securities. Therefore, this situation creates a potential conflict of interest. In addition, Castlevue has policies in place to help detect insider trading, "front-running" (i.e., personal trades executed prior to those of Castlevue's clients) and other potentially abusive practices.

Castlevue maintains and enforces written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse of material non-public information by Castlevue or any person associated with Castlevue.

Castlevue has a personal securities transaction policy in place to monitor the personal securities transactions and securities holdings of each of Castlevue's "Access Persons". Castlevue's securities transaction policy requires that Access Persons of Castlevue must provide the Chief Compliance Officer with a written report of the current reportable securities holdings within ten (10) days after becoming an Access Person. Additionally, each Access Person must provide the Chief Compliance Officer with a written report of the Access Person's current reportable securities holdings at least once each twelve (12) month period thereafter.

It is Castlevue's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. Castlevue believes that such transactions would pose a significant conflict of interest to Castlevue's clients. Castlevue considers avoidance of such conflict a paramount policy in maintaining its fiduciary duty to its clients.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

In the event the client requests that Castlevue recommend a broker dealer/custodian for custody and brokerage services (exclusive of those clients that may direct Castlevue to use a specific broker-dealer/custodian), Castlevue generally recommends TD Ameritrade Institutional ("TDAI"), a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc., member FINRA/SIPC, ("TDA") or Charles Schwab and Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker/dealer, member SIPC, or National Financial Service, and National Financial Services LLC, and Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (together with all affiliates, "Fidelity"). Prior to engaging Castlevue to provide investment management services, the client will be required to enter into a formal Investment Advisory Agreement with Castlevue setting forth the terms and conditions under which Castlevue shall manage the client's assets, and a separate custodial/clearing agreement with each designated custodian.

Factors that Castlevue considers in recommending TDAI, Schwab, Fidelity, or any other broker-dealer/custodian (referred to as "Custodians") to clients include historical relationship with Castlevue, financial strength, reputation, execution capabilities, pricing, research, and service. Although the commissions and/or transaction fees paid by Castlevue's clients shall comply with Castlevue's duty to obtain best execution, a client may pay a transaction fee that is higher than another qualified broker-dealer might charge to effect the same transaction. If this occurs, it is because Castlevue determines, in good faith, that the transaction fee is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services received. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of broker-dealer services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Accordingly, although Castlevue will seek competitive rates, it may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible transaction rates for client account transactions. The brokerage commissions or transaction fees charged by the designated custodian are exclusive of, and in addition to, Castlevue's investment management fee. Castlevue's best execution responsibility is qualified if securities that it purchases for client accounts are mutual funds that trade at net asset value as determined at the daily market close.

When beneficial to the client, transactions may be effected through broker-dealers with whom Castlevue or the client have entered into arrangements for prime brokerage clearing services (in which event, the client shall incur both the transaction fee charged by the executing broker-dealer and a "tradeaway" fee charged by Custodians).

Castlevue does not maintain custody of client assets, although Castlevue may be deemed to have custody of client assets if the client gives them the authority to withdraw assets from the client account (see "Item 15: Custody"). Client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker/dealer or bank. Castlevue recommends that a client use Custodians as the qualified custodian.

Castlevue is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Custodians. Custodians will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when Castleview instructs them to. While Castleview recommends that the client use TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity as custodian/broker, the client will decide whether to do so and will open the account with Custodians by entering into an account agreement directly with them. Castleview does not open the account for the client, although they may assist the client in doing so.

Even though the client account is maintained at Custodians, Castleview can still use other brokers to execute trades for the client account as described below (see "Your Brokerage and Custody Costs").

How Castleview Selects Brokers/Custodians

Castleview seeks to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. Castleview consider a wide range of factors, including, among others:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability
- Prior service to us and our other clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit Castleview, as discussed below

Your Brokerage and Custody Costs

For clients' accounts that Custodians maintain, Custodians generally does not charge the client separately for custody services but is compensated by charging the client commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into the client's Custodians account. In addition to commissions, Custodians can charge the client a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that Castlevue has executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into the client's Custodians account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation the client pays the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, Castlevue has Custodians execute most trades for client accounts. Castlevue has determined that having Custodians execute most trades is consistent with the firm's duty to seek "best execution" of client trades. Best execution means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed above (see "How Castlevue Selects Brokers/Custodians").

Products and Services Available to Castlevue From Custodians

Custodians provide the firm and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage — trading, custody, reporting, and related services — many of which are not typically available to Custodians' retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help Castlevue manage or administer client accounts, while others help the firm manage and grow the business. Custodians' support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to the firm. Following is a more detailed description of Custodians support services:

Services That Benefit You.

Custodians' institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Custodians include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Custodians' services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You.

Custodians also makes available to Castlevue other products and services that benefit the firm but may not directly benefit the client or client account. These products and services assist Castlevue in managing and administering client accounts. They include investment research, both Custodians' own and that of third parties. Castlevue may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Custodians. In addition to investment research, Custodians also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts

- Provide pricing and other market data
- Facilitate payment of firm fees from our clients' accounts
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting

Services That Generally Benefit Only Castleview.

Custodians also offers other services intended to help Castleview manage and further develop the firm's business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession
- Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers

Custodians may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to the firm. Custodians may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Custodians may also provide Castleview with other benefits, such as occasional business entertainment of firm personnel.

Software and Support Provided by Fidelity

Castleview receives without cost from Fidelity, computer software and related support systems, which allow Castleview to better monitor client account maintained at Fidelity. Castleview receives the software and related support without cost because they render investment management services to clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. The software and support is not provided in direct connection with securities transactions of clients (i.e., not "soft dollars"). The software and related support benefits Castleview, but not its clients directly. Clients should be aware, however, that Castleview's receipt of economic benefits from a broker/dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence Castleview's choice of broker/dealer over another that does not furnish similar software, systems support or services.

Specifically, Castleview receives the following benefits from Fidelity:

- Right Size Solutions
- Tamarac Suite
- eMoney

These services are used by Castlevue to manage accounts for which they have investment discretion. Without this arrangement, Castlevue might be compelled to purchase the same or similar services at its own expense.

Our Interest in Custodians' Services

The availability of these services from Custodians benefits Castlevue because we do not have to produce or purchase them. We don't have to pay for Custodians' services, and they are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to Custodians in trading commissions or assets in custody.

Research and Additional Benefits

Castlevue may receive from Custodians without cost (and/or at a discount) compliance, marketing, technology and practice management products or services, certain of which assist Castlevue to better monitor and service client accounts maintained at such institutions.

As indicated above, certain of the support services and/or products that may be received may assist Castlevue in managing and administering client accounts. Others do not directly provide such assistance, but rather assist Castlevue to manage and further develop its business enterprise.

There is no corresponding commitment made by Castlevue, or its associated persons, to Custodians, or any other entity to invest any specific amount or percentage of client assets in any specific mutual funds, securities or other investment products as result of the above arrangement. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Castlevue or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Castlevue's choice of Custodians for custody and brokerage services. In addition, Castlevue may have a conflict of interest in recommending to its clients that their assets be held in custody with Custodians and in placing transactions for client accounts with Custodians, because Custodians consider the amount and profitability to Custodians of the assets in, and trades placed for, Castlevue's client accounts when determining whether to provide or continue providing additional services to Castlevue. Castlevue's receipt of any additional services does not diminish Castlevue's duty to act in the best interest of clients, including to seek best execution of trades for client accounts.

Castlevue also receives from Custodians certain additional economic benefits that may or may not be offered to any other independent investment Advisors participating in the program.

The additional services are provided to Castlevue at the sole discretion of Custodians and at its own expense, and Castlevue does not pay any fees to Custodians for the additional services.

Castlevue's Chief Compliance Officer, Melissa Ray, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above arrangement and any corresponding perceived conflict of interest such arrangement may create.

Aggregation of Client Trades

To the extent that Castlevue provides investment management services to its clients, the transactions for each client account generally will be effected independently, unless Castlevue decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. Castlevue may (but is not obligated to) combine or "bunch" such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate equitably among Castlevue's clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and will be allocated among clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day. Castlevue shall not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of such aggregation.

Castlevue's employees are not registered representatives of Custodians or any other custodian/broker-dealer and do not receive any commissions or fees from recommending these services.

Directed Brokerage

Some clients may instruct Castlevue to use one or more particular brokers for the transactions in their accounts. Clients who may want to direct Castlevue to use a particular broker should understand that this may prevent Castlevue from effectively negotiating brokerage compensation on their behalf. This arrangement may also prevent Castlevue from obtaining the most favorable net price and execution. Thus, when directing brokerage business, clients should consider whether the commission expenses and execution, clearance and settlement capabilities that they will obtain through their broker are adequately favorable in comparison to those that Castlevue would otherwise obtain for its clients. Clients are encouraged to discuss available alternatives with their advisory representative.

Our Chief Compliance Officer remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above arrangement and any corresponding perceived conflict of interest such arrangement may create.

Special Considerations for ERISA Clients

A retirement or ERISA plan client may direct all or part of portfolio transactions for its account through a specific broker or dealer in order to obtain goods or services on behalf of the plan. Such direction is permitted provided that the goods and services provided are reasonable expenses of the plan incurred in the ordinary course of its business for which it otherwise would be obligated and empowered to pay. ERISA prohibits directed brokerage arrangements when the goods or services purchased are not for the exclusive benefit of the plan. Consequently, we will request that plan sponsors who direct plan brokerage provide us with a letter documenting that this arrangement will be for the exclusive benefit of the plan.

Item 13 –Review of Accounts or Financial Plans

For those clients to whom Castleview provides investment advisory or wealth management services, account reviews will be conducted on an ongoing basis by Castleview's Managing Member and/or Associated Persons. All investment supervisory clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to advise Castleview in writing of any changes in the client's investment objectives and/or financial situation, or if they wish to impose any reasonable restrictions on Castleview's discretionary management services. All clients (in person or electronically) are encouraged to review investment objectives and account performance with Castleview on an annual basis.

Castleview may conduct account reviews on an other-than-periodic basis upon the occurrence of a triggering event such as a market correction, large deposits or withdrawals from an account, substantial changes in the value of a client's portfolio, change in the client's investment objectives and client request.

Reports to Clients

The account custodian provides trade confirmation and statements to clients on at least a quarterly basis. For those clients to whom Castleview provides investment supervisory services, performance reports are provided as part of each client meeting. Additional reports are available and will be provided on an ad hoc basis.

Item 14 –Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As reference in Item 12 above, Castleview may receive an indirect economic benefit from TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity. Castleview, without cost (and/or at a discount) may receive support services and/or products from TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity. Castleview receives an economic benefit from TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity in the form of the support products and services it makes available to the firm and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity. These products and services, how they benefit the firm, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see "Item 12: Brokerage Practices"). The availability to Castleview of TDAI, Schwab, or Fidelity's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Castleview periodically receives client referrals from websites where they may be listed. In no case will the client pay any additional fees to Castleview for services if the referral comes from any of these listings.

Item 15 –Custody

It is Castleview's policy to not accept custody of a client's securities. In other words, Castleview is not granted access to the clients' accounts which would enable Castleview to withdraw or transfer or otherwise move funds or cash from any client account to Castleview's accounts or the account of any third party (other than for purposes of fee deductions, as explained below). All client assets are maintained at a qualified custodian. This is for the safety of the clients' assets.

We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts in cases where clients have given permission to do so.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period.

However, with a client's consent, Castleview may be provided with the authority to seek deduction of Castleview's fees from a client's accounts. The account custodian does not verify the accuracy of Castleview's advisory fee calculation.

All Castleview clients receive account statements directly from qualified custodians, such as a bank or broker dealer that maintains those assets. The client should carefully review these account statements, and compare them to the quarterly or other reports provided by Castleview. Statements provided by Castleview may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities. Castleview urges all clients to compare statements in order to ensure that all account transactions, including deductions to pay advisory fees, remain proper, and to contact Melissa Ray, Chief Compliance Officer with any questions or if you are not receiving at least quarterly custodial account statements.

Item 16 –Investment Discretion

We typically receive discretionary authority from the client at the beginning of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. Prior to assuming discretionary authority over a client's account, the client shall be required to execute an Advisory Agreement, granting authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions. In addition, any investment discretion is obtained in writing through a limited power of attorney signed by the client prior. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.

Discretionary authority allows us to perform trades in the client's account without further approval from the client. This includes decisions on the following:

- Securities purchased or sold
- The amount of securities to be purchased or sold

Once the portfolio is constructed, we provide ongoing supervision and rebalancing of the portfolio as changes in market conditions and client circumstances may require.

Clients may, at any time, impose restrictions, in writing, on our discretionary authority (i.e., limit the types/amounts of particular securities purchased for their account, exclude the ability to purchase securities with an inverse relationship to the market, limit or proscribe use of margin, etc.).

Item 17 –Voting Client Securities

Castleview will not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients' accounts. Although, on rare occasions and only at the client's request, Castleview may offer clients advice regarding corporate actions and the exercise of proxy voting rights.

Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their broker-dealer/custodian.

Item 18 –Financial Information

We do not require nor do we solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, therefore we have not included a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We accept limited forms of discretion over clients' accounts, as described in Item 16 of the Brochure. We are unaware of any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Castlevue has never been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

In an effort to support companies and industries impacted by the current Covid-19 pandemic, on March 27, 2020, Congress passed the CARES Act. A key component of the CARES Act is the Paycheck Protection Program ("PPP"). The PPP was intended to provide low interest and forgivable loans to businesses and the self-employed to help retain employees and cover certain expenses. The Small Business Administration, SBA, has so far issued 4.2 million loans to small business owners throughout the US since the rollout of the program. Our firm applied for a loan to participate in the Paycheck Protection Program as part of the CARES Act and was granted one on in the amount of $109,000. The company intends to use the loan proceeds for purposes consistent with the PPP; certain amounts of the loan may be forgiven if they are used for qualifying expenses as described in the CARES Act.

In addition to the PPP, Castlevue received $6,000 Economic Injury Disaster Loan ("EIDL"). This money was given based on the Congressional/SBA clarification subsequent to the initial bill's passage; which stated businesses are limited to $1,000 per employee (as opposed to the previously flat $10,000). At the time of the application for the EIDL, it was not known if the firm would receive the PPP assistance. This is a loan and will be repaid by the firm.

We believe the country will get through these unprecedented times and we look forward to being your financial guide through it all. If you have questions about the PPP or EIDL, do not hesitate to give us a call.
