LPL will have discretion to purchase and sell Optimum Funds pursuant to the portfolio selected for the client. LPL will also have authority to rebalance the account.

A minimum account value of $10,000 is required for OMP. In certain instances, LPL will permit a lower minimum account size.

Model Wealth Portfolios Programs (MWP)

MWP offers clients a professionally managed mutual fund asset allocation program. Good Life Advisors will obtain the necessary financial data from the client, assist the client in determining the suitability of the MWP program and assist the client in setting an appropriate investment objective. The investment advisor representative will initiate the steps necessary to open an MWP account and have discretion to select a model portfolio designed by LPL's Research Department consistent with the client's stated investment objective. LPL's Research Department or third-party portfolio strategists are responsible for selecting the mutual funds or ETFs within a model portfolio and for making changes to the mutual funds or ETFs selected.

The client will authorize LPL to act on a discretionary basis to purchase and sell mutual funds and ETFs and to liquidate previously purchased securities. The client will also authorize LPL to effect rebalancing for MWP accounts.

MWP requires a minimum asset value for a program account to be managed. The minimums vary depending on the portfolio(s) selected and the account's allocation amongst portfolios. The lowest minimum for a portfolio is $10,000. In certain instances, a lower minimum for a portfolio is permitted.

Guided Wealth Portfolios (GWP)

GWP offers clients the ability to participate in a centrally managed, algorithm-based investment program, which is made available to users and clients through a web-based, interactive account management portal ("Investor Portal"). Investment recommendations to buy and sell open-end mutual funds and exchange-traded funds are generated through proprietary, automated, computer algorithms (collectively, the "Algorithm") of Xulu, Inc., doing business as Future Advisors ("Future Advisors"), based upon model portfolios constructed by LPL and selected for the account as described below (such model portfolio selected for the account, the "Model Portfolio"). Communications concerning GWP are intended to occur primarily through electronic means (including but not limited to, through email communications or through the Investor Portal), although the firm will be available to discuss investment strategies, objectives or the account in general in person or via telephone.

Within the applicable allocation track and based upon a client's chosen Retirement Age in the Client Profile, the client will be assigned a Model Portfolio and one of five broker-dealer's standard investment objectives:

- Income with capital preservation. Designed as a longer-term accumulation account, this investment objective is considered generally the most conservative. Emphasis is placed on generation of current income with minimal risk of capital loss. Lowering the risk generally means lowering the potential income and overall return.

- Income with moderate growth. This investment objective emphasizes generation of current income with a secondary focus on moderate capital growth.
- Growth with income. This investment objective emphasizes modest capital growth with some focus on generation of current income.
- Growth. This investment objective emphasizes achieving high long-term growth and capital appreciation. There is little focus on generation of current income.
- Aggressive growth. This investment objective emphasizes aggressive growth and maximum capital appreciation, with no focus on generation of current income. This objective has a very high level of risk and is for investors with a longer timer horizon.

As a client approaches the Retirement Age, the Algorithm will automatically adjust the client's asset allocation. Any change to the Investment Objective directed by a client due to changes in the Client's risk tolerance and/or Retirement Age will require written approval from the client and the firm before implementation. Failure to approve the change in Investment Objective may result in a client remaining in a Model Portfolio that is no longer aligned with the applicable Client Profile. The Investment Objective selected for the account is an overall objective for the entire account and may be inconsistent with a particular holding and the account's performance at any time and may be inconsistent with other asset allocations suggested to client by broker/dealer, the firm or Future Advisors prior to client entering into the Account Agreement. The terms and conditions for client participation in the advisory programs are set forth in the firm's advisory agreements and account paperwork for the advisory programs.

Retirement Plan Consulting Services

Investment advisor representatives assist clients that are trustees or other fiduciaries to retirement plans ("Plans") by providing fee-based consulting and/or advisory services. Investment advisor representatives perform one or more of the following services, as selected by the client in the client agreement:

- Assistance in the preparation or review of an investment policy statement ("IPS") for the Plan based upon consultation with client to ascertain Plan's investment objectives and constraints.
- Acting as a liaison between the Plan and service providers, product sponsors or vendors.
- Ongoing monitoring of investment manager(s) or investments in relation to the criteria specified in the Plan's IPS or other written guidelines provided by the client to the IAR.
- Preparation of reports describing the performance of Plan investment manager(s) or investments, as well as comparing the performance to benchmarks.
- Ongoing recommendations for consideration and selection by client about specific investments to be held by the Plan or, in the case of a participant-directed defined contribution plan, to be made available as investment options under the Plan.
- Training for the members of the Plan Committee regarding their service on the Committee, including education and consulting with respect to fiduciary responsibilities.

- Assistance in enrolling Plan participants in the Plan, including conducting an agreed upon number of enrollment meetings. As part of such meetings, Representatives may provide participants with information about the Plan, which includes information on the benefits of Plan participation, the benefits of increasing Plan contributions, the impact of pre-retirement withdrawals on retirement income, the terms of the Plan and the operation of the Plan.
- Assistance with investment education seminars and meetings for Plan participants. Such meetings may be on a group or individual basis and includes information about the investment options under the Plan (e.g., investment objectives, risk/return characteristics, and historical performance), investment concepts (e.g., diversification, asset classes, and risk and return), and how to determine investment time horizons and assess risk tolerance. Such meetings do not include specific investment advice about investment options under the Plan as being appropriate for a particular participant.
- Assistance at client's direction in making changes to investment options under the Plan.
- Assistance with the preparation, distribution and evaluation of Request for Proposals, finalist interviews, and conversion support in connection with vendor analysis and service provider support.
- Preparation of comparisons of Plan data (e.g., regarding fees and services and participant enrollment and contributions) to data from the Plan's prior years and/or a benchmark group of similar plans.
- Assistance in identifying the fees and other costs borne by the Plan for, as specified by client, investment management, recordkeeping, participant education, participant communication and/or other services provided with respect to the Plan.
- Non-Discretionary Model Portfolios. IAR will recommend, for consideration and approval by Client, (i) asset allocation target-date or risk-based model portfolios for the Plan to make available to Plan participants, and (ii) funds from the line-up of investment options chosen by the Client to include in such model portfolios.

If the Plan makes available publicly traded employer stock ("company stock") as an investment option under the Plan, Representatives do not provide investment advice regarding company stock and are not responsible for the decision to offer company stock as an investment option. In addition, if participants in the Plan invest the assets in their accounts through individual brokerage accounts, a mutual fund window, or other similar arrangement, or obtain participant loans, IARs do not provide any individualized advice or recommendations to the participants regarding these decisions. Furthermore, IARs do not provide individualized investment advice to Plan participants regarding their Plan assets.

If a client elects to engage the firm and our Investment Advisor Representatives to perform ongoing investment monitoring and ongoing investment recommendation services in the client agreement, such services will constitute "investment advice" under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA. Therefore, the firm and our IAR will be deemed a "fiduciary" as such term is defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA in connection with those services. Clients should understand that to the extent the firm and our IARs are engaged to perform services other than ongoing investment monitoring and recommendations, those services are not "investment advice" under ERISA, and therefore, the firm and our IARs will not be a "fiduciary" under ERISA with respect to those other services.

Retirement Plan Rollovers

An employee generally has four (4) options for their retirement plan when they leave an employer:

1. Leave the money in his/her former employer's plan, if permitted
2. Rollover the assets to his/her new employer's plan, if one is available and permitted
3. Rollover to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA)
4. Cash out the account value, which has significant tax considerations

The firm provides educational services pertaining to retirement plan assets that could potentially be rolled over to an IRA managed by the firm. Education is based on a particular client's financial circumstances.

ERISA Fiduciary

Such services provided as an IAR are subject to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 ("Advisers Act"), and the advisor is a fiduciary under the Advisers Act with respect to such services. In addition, if client elects to engage an IAR to perform ongoing investment monitoring and ongoing investment recommendation services to a Plan subject to ERISA in the client agreement, such services will constitute "investment advice" under Section 3(21) or 3(38) of ERISA. Therefore, the IARs will be deemed a "fiduciary" as such term is defined under Section 3(21) or 3(38) of ERISA in connection with those services. Clients should understand that to the extent the investment advisor representative is engaged to perform services other than ongoing investment monitoring and recommendations, those services are not "investment advice" under ERISA and therefore, the investment advisor representative will not be a "fiduciary" under ERISA with respect to those other services.

From time to time the IAR may make the Plan or Plan participants aware of and may offer services available from IAR that are separate and apart from the services provided under Retirement Plan Consulting. Such other services may be services to the Plan, to a client with respect to client's responsibilities to the Plan and/or to one or more Plan participants. In offering any such services, the investment advisor representative is not acting as a fiduciary under ERISA with respect to such offering of services. If any such separate services are offered to a client, the client will make an independent assessment of such services without reliance on the advice or judgment of the IAR.

Small Market Solution (SMS) Program

Under SMS, LPL Research (a team of investment professionals within LPL) creates and maintains a series of different investment menus ("Investment Menus") consisting of a mix of different asset classes and investment vehicles ("investment options") for clients that sponsor and maintain participant-directed defined contribution plans ("Plan Sponsors"). The Plan Sponsor is responsible for selecting the Investment Menu that it believes is appropriate based on the demographics and other characteristics of the Plan and its participants. broker/dealer Research is responsible for the selection and monitoring of the investment options made available through Investment Menus ("Fiduciary Selection Services"). The investment options that are offered through SMS are limited to the specific investments available through the record keeper that the Plan Sponsor selects. The Plan Sponsor may only select an Investment Menu in its entirety and does not have the option to remove or substitute an investment option.

- If the Plan is subject to ERISA, broker/dealer will be a "fiduciary" and serve as "investment manager" (as that term is defined in section 3(38) of ERISA) in connection with the Fiduciary Selection Services. None of the services offered under SMS other than the Fiduciary Selection Services will constitute "investment advice" under 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA, or otherwise cause broker/dealer or the firm to be deemed a fiduciary.

In addition to the Fiduciary Selection Services, Plan Sponsor may also select from a number of non-fiduciary consulting services available under SMS that are provided by the firm. These consulting services may include but are not limited to general education and support regarding the Plan and the investment options selected by Plan Sponsor; assistance regarding the selection of, and ongoing relationship management for, record keepers and other third-party vendors; Plan participant enrollment support; and participant-level education regarding investment in the Plan. These consulting services do not include any individualized investment advice to the Plan Sponsor or Plan participants with respect to Plan assets, the firm does not act as fiduciaries under ERISA in providing such consulting services.

Third Party Advisory Services

The firm can establish agreements with third-party advisors. Any such third-party investment adviser will be properly registered in the applicable state jurisdiction or with the SEC. The firm will receive compensation pursuant to any such agreement.

Clients who are referred to third-party investment advisers will receive full disclosure, including services rendered and fee schedules. Clients will be required to enter into an advisory agreement and complete other account specific documents with the third-party investment advisor in order to establish an account. The firm will assist in determining an appropriate third-party adviser but does not participate in the actual management of account.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Fees for Advisory Services

Investment advisory fees are paid monthly, quarterly or as agreed in advance or in arrears pursuant to the terms of the investment advisory agreement. Fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the prior calendar month or quarter or the daily average as agreed in the advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the scope and complexity of an account the degree of expertise required and the amount or time required but generally do not exceed an annualized rate of 2%.

The investment advisory fee in the first period of service is prorated from the inception date of the account[s] to the end of the first month or quarter depending on the fee schedule agreement. The Client's fees will take into consideration the aggregate assets under management with the firm. All securities held in accounts will be independently valued by the designated custodian. The firm will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

- If a client terminates an engagement prior to the period, a pro-rated fee calculation will be applied prior to releasing the funds.
- The firm's fee is exclusive of, and in addition to, brokerage fees, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses.

Mutual Fund Share Class Disclosures

Certain mutual fund share classes charge a 12b-1 fee that generally amounts to an additional .25% expense ratio or more. The purpose of 12b-1 fees, as approved by the SEC, are to cover marketing expenses and shareholder services such as support services and "other expenses" such as the legal, accounting and the administrative services. When selecting a mutual fund, there is a fiduciary duty to select the share class that helps manage the overall fee structure of the account. The overall fee structure includes such fees as the asset management fee, expense ratio and ticket charges.

- Mutual funds normally offer multiple share classes, including lower-cost share classes that do not charge 12b-1 fees and are therefore usually less expensive.
- Investment adviser representatives may or may not invest or hold client funds in 12b-1 fee paying share classes as appropriate to account for the overall fee structure and tax considerations of an account.

Depending on the anticipated trading volume, and the asset management fee that is determined based on account size, complexity and time requirements, investment advisor representatives have a fiduciary duty to determine the mutual fund share class that is in the best interest of each client as part of the overall fee analysis.

The overall fee structure includes such fees as:

- Asset Management Fee
- Expense ratio
- 12b-1 fees
- Trade Ticket Charges

Investment advisor representatives will consider investing client funds in 12b-1 fee paying share classes even when a lower-cost share class is available as appropriate to account for the overall fee structure of the account and client profile.

- A share class that pays 12b-1 fee usually does not have transaction charges.
- Not all investors will qualify for all share classes
- Not all mutual funds offer equivalent share classes.
 - 12b-1 fees are retained by LPL Financial, an unaffiliated member FINRA/SIPC broker/dealer.
 - LPL Financial does not share 12b-1 fees with RetireRight nor the investment advisor representatives in their independent capacity as registered representatives of LPL Financial.

Investment Management Services

Investment advisory fees are calculated by the custodian and deducted from the Client's account[s] by the Custodian. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the total assets under management with the firm at the end of each quarter. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the investment advisory fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting the firm to be paid directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the investment advisory agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Financial Planning Services

We charge on an hourly or flat fee basis for financial planning services. The total estimated fee, as well as the ultimate fee that we charge you, is based on the scope and complexity of our engagement with you.

- Financial plans that are based on an hourly rate they generally range from $250 to $500 an hour based on the scope, level of complexity and level of expertise required.
- Financial plans that are based on a flat rate generally range from $500 to $5,000 based on the scope, complexity and level of expertise required.

Hourly Consulting Services

The firm charges an hourly fee of $250 to $500 to provide hourly consulting when a more comprehensive financial plan is not requested.

Retirement Plan Consulting

The fee for Retirement Plan Consulting will generally not exceed 1% of plan assets under management. The total estimated fee, as well as the ultimate fee that we charge you, is based on the scope and complexity of the engagement. The fee-paying arrangement for Retirement Plan Consulting will be outlined in a separate agreement.

Third-Party Advisory Services

The firm is paid by third-party money managers when we refer you to them and you decide to open a managed account. Third-party money managers pay us a portion of the investment advisory fee that they charge you for managing your account. Fees paid to us by third party money manager are generally ongoing. All fees we receive from third party money managers and the written separate disclosures made to you regarding these fees comply with applicable state statutes and rules. The separate written disclosures you need to be provided include: a copy of the third-party money manager's Form ADV 2A, all relevant Brochures, a Solicitation Disclosure Statement detailing the exact fees we are paid and a copy of the third-party money manager's privacy policy. The third-party money managers we recommend will not directly charge you a higher fee than they would have charged without us introducing you to them. Third party money managers establish and maintain their own separate billing processes over which we have no control. In general, they will directly bill you and describe how this works in their separate written disclosure documents.

Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than the firm, in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. The Client is responsible for all custody and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian and executing broker/dealer. The fees charged by the firm are separate and distinct from these custodial and execution fees.

In addition, all fees paid to the firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and exchange-traded funds to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. A Client could invest in these products directly, without the services of the firm, but would not receive the services designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate for each

Client's financial situation and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund[s] and the fees charged by the firm to fully understand the total fees to be paid. Please refer to "Item 12 – Brokerage Practices" for additional information.

Compensation for Sales of Securities

The firm does not buy or sell securities to earn commissions and does not receive any compensation for securities transactions in any Client account, other than the investment advisory fees noted above. Clients can however engage investment adviser representatives of the firm in their individual capacity as a registered representative of LPL Financial, a FINRA/SIPC member broker/dealer to render brokerage services under a separate commission-based arrangement. Clients are under no obligation to engage investment adviser representatives in their individual capacity as registered representatives LPL Financial is unaffiliated separate legal entities, not under common control.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

The firm does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by the firm are as described in “Item 5 – Fees and Compensation” above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

The firm does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to may recommend or implement any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

The firm offers investment advisory services primarily to corporations, government entities, non-profit organizations and individuals. The number of each type of Client is provided on Form ADV Part 1A. These amounts change over time and are updated at least annually.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

The firm primarily employs a combination of behavioral, charting, cyclical, fundamental and technical method of analysis in developing investment strategies. Research and analysis from the firm is derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, and review of company activities, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

- Behavioral Analysis

Behavioral finance analysis involves an examination of conventional economics as well as behavioral and cognitive psychological factors. Behavioral finance methodology seeks to combine a qualitative and quantitative approach to provide explanations for why individuals may, at times, make irrational financial decisions. Where conventional financial theories have failed to explain certain patterns, the behavioral finance methodology investigates the underlying reasons and biases that cause some people to behave against their best interests. The risks relating to behavior finance analysis are that it relies on spotting trends in human behavior that may not predict future trends.

- Charting Analysis

Charting analysis utilizes various market indicators as investment selection criteria. These criteria are generally pricing trends that may indicate movement in the markets. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the firm in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the technical and charting analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The firm monitors these market indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate.

- Cyclical Analysis

Cyclical analysis is similar to technical analysis in that it involves the analysis of market conditions at a macro (entire market/economy) or micro (company specific) level, rather than the overall fundamental analysis of the health of the particular company that the firm may recommend or implement. The risks with cyclical analysis are similar to those of technical analysis.

- Fundamental Analysis

Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. The criteria consist generally of ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the firm in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The firm monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the firm's review process are included below in "Item 13 – Review of Accounts".

- Technical Analysis

Technical analysis involves the analysis of past market data rather than specific company data in determining the many recommendations or implementations made to clients. Technical analysis may involve the use of charts to identify market patterns and trends, which may be based on investor sentiment rather than the fundamentals of the company. The primary risk in using technical analysis is that spotting historical trends may not help to predict such trends in the future. Even if the trend will eventually reoccur, there is no guarantee that the firm will be able to accurately predict such a reoccurrence.

As noted above, the firm generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. the firm will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, the firm may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class for portfolio management purposes.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. the firm will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

While the methods of analysis help the firm in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in these methods of analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The firm monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the firm's review process are included below in "Item 13 – Review of Accounts".

The specific risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The firm will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Below is a list of risks that should be considered prior to investing that may apply to the particular investment held in a particular account. Additional unforeseen risks may apply and affect investment performance. Clients are encouraged to at least consider the following risks:

- Business Risk – the measure of risk associated with a particular security. It is also known as unsystematic risk and refers to the risk associated with a specific issuer of a security. Generally speaking, all businesses in the same industry have similar types of business risk. More specifically, business risk refers to the possibility that the issuer of a particular company stock or a bond may go bankrupt or be unable to pay the interest or principal in the case of bonds.

- Call Risk – the risk specific to bond issues and refers to the possibility that a debt security will be called prior to maturity. Call risk usually goes hand in hand with reinvestment risk because the bondholder must find an investment that provides the same level of income for equal risk. Call risk is most prevalent when interest rates are falling, as companies trying to save money will usually redeem bond issues with higher coupons and replace them on the bond market with issues with lower interest rates.
- Company Specific Risk – an unsystemic risk specific to a certain company's operations, executive decisions, and reputation which is difficult to quantify
- Concentration Risk – concentrated portfolios are an aggressive and highly volatile approach to trading and investing and should be viewed as complementary to a stable, highly predictable investment approach. Concentrated portfolios hold fewer different stocks than a diversified portfolio and are much more likely to experience sudden dramatic price swings. In addition, the rise or drop in price of any given holding in the portfolio is likely to have a larger impact on portfolio performance, than a more broadly diversified portfolio.
- Credit Risk – the risk that an investor could lose money if the issuer or guarantor of a fixed income security is unable or unwilling to meet its financial obligations.
- Currency/Exchange Rate Risk – the risk of a change in the price of one currency against another.
- Force Majeure – a natural and unavoidable catastrophe that interrupts the expected course of events, market structure and access to funds.
- Interest Rate Risk – the risk that fixed income securities will decline in value because of an increase in interest rates; a bond or a fixed income fund with a longer duration will be more sensitive to changes in interest rates than a bond or bond fund with a shorter duration.
- Inflationary Risk – the risk that future inflation will cause the purchasing power of cash flow from an investment to decline.
- Legislative Risk – the risk of a legislative ruling resulting in adverse consequences.
- Liquidity Risk – the possibility that an investor may not be able to buy or sell an investment as and when desired or in sufficient quantities because opportunities are limited.
- Market Risk – the risk that the value of securities may go up or down, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably, due to factors affecting securities markets generally or particular industries. This is a risk that will affect all securities in the same manner caused by some factor that cannot be controlled by diversification
- Reinvestment Risk – the risk that falling interest rates will lead to a decline in cash flow from an investment when its principal and interest payments are reinvested at lower rates.

- Social/Political Risk – the possibility of nationalization, unfavorable government action or social changes resulting in a loss of value.
- Taxability Risk – the risk that a security that was issued with tax-exempt status could potentially lose that status prior to maturity. Since municipal bonds carry a lower interest rate than fully taxable bonds, the bond holders would end up with a lower after-tax yield than originally planned.
- Terrorism Risk – an act of terror or calculated use of violence against the country, market structure or individuals.

The firms' methods of analysis and investment strategies do not represent any significant or unusual risks however all strategies have inherent risks and performance limitations.

Types of Investments (Examples, not limitations)

Investment advisor representatives of the firm allocate a client's assets as appropriate to help them reach their individual investment objectives within their time horizon in a manner consistent with their risk profile. Client funds are allocated appropriately in such investments as listed below:

- Alternative Investments – The performance of alternative investments (limited partnerships) can be volatile and may have limited liquidity. An investor could lose all or a portion of their investment. Such investments often have concentrated positions and investments that may carry higher risks. Client should only have a portion of their assets in these investments.
- Annuities – are a retirement product for those who may have the ability to pay a premium now and want to guarantee they receive certain monthly payments or a return on investment later in the future. Annuities are contracts issued by a life insurance company designed to meet requirement or other long-term goals. An annuity is not a life insurance policy.
 - Variable Annuities – If client purchases a variable annuity that is part of the program, client will receive a prospectus and should rely solely on the disclosure contained in the prospectus with respect to the terms and conditions of the variable annuity. Client should also be aware that certain riders purchased with a variable annuity may limit the investment options and the ability to manage the subaccounts. Variable annuities typically offer:
 - Regular stream of income or a lump sum payout at a future time
 - Tax-deferred treatment of earnings
 - Death benefits

Variable annuities are designed to be long-term investments, to meet retirement and other long-range goals. Variable annuities are not suitable for meeting short-term goals because substantial taxes and insurance company charges apply if money is withdrawn early. Variable annuities also involve investment risks, like mutual funds.

- Cash Positions – Based on a perceived or anticipated market conditions and/or events, certain assets may be taken out of the market and held in a defensive cash position. All cash may be included as assets subject to the agreed upon advisory fee. Other investment types may be included as appropriate for a particular client and their respective trading objectives. the firm, Inc. generally invest client's cash balances in money market funds, FDIC Insured Certificates of Deposit, high-grade commercial paper and/or government backed debt instruments. Ultimately, we try to achieve a reasonable return on our client's cash balances through relatively low-risk conservative investments.

- Equity – investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and/or capital gains if the value of the stock increases. The value of equity securities may fluctuate in response to specific situations for each company, industry conditions and the general economic environment.
- Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) – An ETF is a diversified investment very much like a mutual fund. Mutual funds can be actively managed to beat a benchmark index or designed to replicate the index. Like mutual funds, shares of an ETF represent a partial ownership of an underlying portfolio of securities. However, unlike mutual funds, shares of an ETF can be traded intraday during market hours.
- Exchange-Traded Notes (ETNs) – An ETN is a senior unsecured debt obligation designed to track the total return of an underlying market index or other benchmark. ETNs may be linked to a variety of assets, for example, commodity futures, foreign currency and equities. ETNs are similar to ETFs in that they are listed on an exchange and can typically be bought or sold throughout the trading day.
- Fixed Income – investments generally pay a return on a fixed schedule, though the amount of the payments can vary. This type of investment can include corporate and government debt securities, leveraged loans, high yield, and investment grade debt and structured products, such as mortgage and other asset-backed securities, although individual bonds may be the best-known type of fixed income security. In general, the fixed income market is volatile and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, liquidity risk, call risk, and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. The risk of default on treasury inflation protected/inflation linked bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal. Risks of investing in foreign fixed income securities also include the general risk of non-U.S. investing described below.
- Mutual Funds – a pool of funds collected from many investors for the purpose of investing in securities such as stocks, bonds, money market instruments and similar assets.
 - Open-End Mutual Funds – a type of mutual fund that does not have restrictions on the amount of shares the fund will issue and will buy back shares when investors wish to sell. Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss and thus you may lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. The funds can be of bond “fixed income” nature (lower risk) or stock “equity” nature
 - Closed-End Mutual Funds – a type of mutual fund that raises a fixed amount of capital through an initial public offering (IPO). The fund is then structured, listed and traded like a stock on a stock exchange. Clients should be aware that closed-end funds available within the program are not readily marketable. To provide investor liquidity, the funds may offer to repurchase a certain percentage of shares at net asset value on a periodic basis. Thus, clients may be unable to liquidate all or a portion of their shares in these types of funds.

- Alternative Strategy Mutual Funds – Certain mutual funds available in the program invest primarily in alternative investments and/or strategies. Investing in alternative investments and/or strategies may not be suitable for all investors and involves special risks, such as risks associated with commodities, real estate, leverage, selling securities short, the use of derivatives, potential adverse market forces, regulatory changes and potential illiquidity. There are special risks associated with mutual funds that invest principally in real estate securities, such as sensitivity to changes in real estate values and interest rates and price volatility because of the fund's concentration in the real estate industry.
- Margin Borrowings – The use of short-term margin borrowings may result in certain additional risks to a Client. For example, if securities pledged to brokers to secure a Client's margin accounts decline in value, the Client could be subject to a "margin call", pursuant to which it must either deposit additional funds with the broker or be the subject of mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value.
- Non-U.S. Securities – present certain risks such as currency fluctuation, political and economic change, social unrest, changes in government regulation, differences in accounting and the lesser degree of accurate public information available.
- Options Trading/Writing – A securities transaction that involves buying or selling (writing) an option. If you write an option and the buyer exercises the option, you are obligated to purchase or deliver a specified number of shares at a specified price at the expiration of the option regardless of the market value of the security at expiration of the option. Buying an option gives you the right to purchase or sell a specified number of shares at a specified price until the date of expiration of the option regardless of the market value of the security at expiration of the option. Our investment strategies and advice may vary depending upon each client's specific financial situation. As such, we determine investments and allocations based upon your predefined objectives, risk tolerance, time horizon, financial horizon, financial information, liquidity needs, and other various suitability factors. Your restrictions and guidelines may affect the composition of your portfolio.
- Unit Investment Trust (UIT) – An investment company that offers a fixed, unmanaged portfolio, generally of stocks and bonds, as redeemable "units" to investors for a specific period. It is designed to provide capital appreciation and/or dividend income. UITs can be resold in the secondary market. A UIT may be either a regulated investment corporation (RIC) or a grantor trust. The former is a corporation in which the investors are joint owners; the latter grants investors proportional ownership in the UIT's underlying securities.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the firm.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving the firm or any of its Supervised Persons.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Clients may choose to engage an investment advisor representative in their capacity as a registered representative of LPL Financial, a FINRA/SIPC member broker/dealer to implement investment may recommend or implementations on a commission basis.

Investment advisor representatives of the firm are temporarily investment advisor representatives of LPL Financial an unaffiliated SEC registered investment advisor.

- Dual registration is intended for a limited duration while accounts are moved.
- Clients will only pay a single advisory fee during the transition period.
- Once all accounts are moved, investment advisor representatives will no longer be dually registered with more than one registered investment advisor.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading Code of Ethics

The firm has implemented a Code of Ethics (the “Code”) that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with the firm (our “Supervised Persons”). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. The firm and its Supervised Persons owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of the firm’s Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of our Code, please contact us at (866) 379-4015.

Personal Trading with Material Interest

The firm allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommend or implemented to and purchased on behalf of Clients. The firm does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the firm does not act as the general partner of a fund or advise an investment company. the firm does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

The firm allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommend or implemented to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities, we may recommend or implement (purchase or sell) to you presents a conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted the Code to address insider trading (material non-public information controls); gifts and entertainment; outside business activities and personal securities reporting. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. the firm will require that personal securities trades made by its Supervised Persons be reported the Chief Compliance Officer (“CCO”) for review.

Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While the firm allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be may recommend or implemented to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterwards. At no time will the firm or any Supervised Person trade to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

The firm will generally recommend that clients establish a brokerage account with LPL Financial to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. LPL Financial provides brokerage and custodial services to independent investment advisory firms, including the firm. For accounts custodied at LPL Financial, LPL Financial generally is compensated by clients through commissions, trails, or other transaction-based fees for trades that are executed through LPL Financial or that settle into broker-dealer accounts. For IRA accounts, broker-dealer generally charges account maintenance fees. In addition, broker-dealer also charges clients miscellaneous fees and charges, such as account transfer fees. Broker-dealer charges the firm an asset-based administration fee for administrative services provided by broker-dealer. Such administration fees are not directly borne by clients but may be considered when the firm negotiates its advisory fee with clients.

While the broker-dealer does not participate in, or influence the formulation of, the investment advice provided, supervised persons are dually registered with broker-dealer. Dually registered IARs are restricted by certain FINRA rules and policies from maintaining client accounts at another custodian or executing client transactions in such client accounts through any broker-dealer or custodian that is not approved by broker-dealer.

Clients should also be aware that for accounts where broker-dealer serves as the custodian, the firm is limited to offering services and investment vehicles that are approved by broker-dealer and may be prohibited from offering services and investment vehicles that may be available through other broker-dealers and custodians, some of which may be more suitable for a client's portfolio than the services and investment vehicles offered through broker-dealer.

Clients should understand that not all investment advisers recommend that they custody their accounts and trade through specific broker-dealers.

Clients should also understand that broker-dealer is responsible under FINRA rules for supervising certain business activities of the firm and its Dually Registered Persons that are conducted through broker-dealers and custodians other than LPL Financial. LPL Financial charges a fee for its oversight of activities conducted through these other broker-dealers and custodians. This arrangement presents a conflict of interest because the firm has a financial incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with broker-dealer rather than with another broker-dealer or custodian to avoid incurring the oversight fee.

Benefits Received

The broker-dealer makes available various products and services designed to assist the firm in managing and administering client accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or a substantial number of accounts, including accounts not held with broker-dealer. These services include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmation and account statements); facilitate trade execution (and aggregation and allocation of trade orders for multiple client accounts); provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of fees; and assist with back-office functions; recordkeeping and client reporting. Broker-dealer also makes available other services intended to help manage and further develop its business. Some of these services assist the firm to better monitor and service program accounts maintained at broker-dealer, however, many of these services benefit only the firm, for example, services that assist with growing its business. These support services and/or products may be provided without cost, at a discount, and/or at a negotiated rate, and include practice management-related publications; consulting services; attendance at conferences and seminars, meetings, and other educational and/or social events; marketing support; and other products and services used in furtherance of the operation and development of its investment advisory business.

Where such services are provided by a third-party vendor, broker-dealer will either make a payment to the firm to cover the cost of such services, reimburse for the cost associated with the services, or pay the third-party vendor directly on behalf of the firm.

The products and services described above are provided as part of its overall relationship with LPL Financial. While as a fiduciary, the firm endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, the receipt of these benefits creates a conflict of interest because the firm's recommendation that clients custody their assets at the custodian based, in part, on the benefits and of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody or brokerage services provided.

Best Execution

Although the commissions and/or transaction fees paid by our clients generally comply with our duty to obtain best execution, you may pay a commission that is higher than what another qualified broker-dealer might charge to affect the same transaction when we determine, in good faith, that the commission/transaction fee is reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services we receive.

In seeking best execution, the determining factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealer's services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Accordingly, although we will seek competitive rates, we may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client transactions. The brokerage commissions or transaction fees charged by the broker-dealer/custodian are exclusive of, and in addition to, our investment management fee. Our best execution responsibility is qualified if the securities we purchase are mutual funds that are traded at net asset value as determined at the daily market close.

Aggregation & Allocation of Transactions

Although each client's portfolio accounts are individually managed, we may purchase or sell the same securities at the same time for multiple clients. When this occurs, it is often advantageous to aggregate the securities of multiple clients into one trading block for execution. If your portfolio securities are purchased or sold in an aggregated transaction with the securities of other clients, you will all receive the same execution price, and if the aggregated purchase or sale involves several executions to complete the transaction, you will all receive the average price paid or received on the aggregated transaction.

However, if an aggregated transaction results in only a partial execution and the equal allocation of the partial execution amongst multiple clients would result in an inefficient trading unit in client portfolios, we reserve the right to allocate the transaction to specific individual clients on an equitable rotational basis so that over time no client is disadvantaged in the management of its portfolio.

Directed Brokerage

The firm does not accept directed brokerage arrangements (when a client requires that account transactions be affected through a specific broker-dealer). In such client directed arrangements, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for their account with that broker-dealer, and the firm would not seek better execution services or prices from other broker-dealers or be able to “aggregate” the client’s transactions for execution with orders for other accounts managed by RetireRight. As a result, the client requesting directed brokerage may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case.

Soft Dollars

Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades in exchange for research and other services.

The firm receives support services without cost, at a discount, and/or at a negotiated rate, that include such things as research reports or other information about particular companies or industries; economic surveys, data and analyses; financial publications; portfolio evaluation services; financial database software and services; computerized news and pricing services; quotation equipment for use in running software used in investment decision-making.

These support services are provided based on the overall relationship without a minimum production level or value of assets held with the custodian. Consequently, it is not the result of soft dollar arrangements or any other express arrangements that involves the execution of client transactions as a condition to the receipt of services.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by the Chief Compliance Officer. The surveillance process focuses on accounts that have potential issues in the following areas:

- Market Performance
- Trading Inactivity
- High Cash Balance
- Position Concentration
- Asset Allocation
- Risk Tolerance
- Senior Suitability

Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted above, each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client’s request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client’s financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client’s account. The Client is encouraged to notify the firm if changes occur in the Client’s personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client’s investment plan. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account[s].

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

LPL Financial, LLC

The firm receives an economic benefit in the form of reimbursement for marketing related expenses. Please see detailed discussion of the categories of marketing related expenses and potential conflicts of interest in Item 12 Brokerage Practices.

The firm and employees may receive additional compensation from product sponsors. However, such compensation may not be tied to the sale of products. Compensation may include such items as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner or ticket to a sporting event, or reimbursement in connection with educational meetings with investment advisor representative, client workshops or events, marketing events or advertising initiatives, including services for identifying prospective clients. Product sponsors may also pay for, or reimburse RIA for the costs associated with, education or training events that may be attended by RIA employees and investment advisor representatives and for RIA sponsored conferences and events.

Client Referrals from Solicitors

The firm does not engage individual solicitors for Client referrals. However, there is a portion of revenue that is shared with Premier Bank for clients that are derived from their field of Membership.

Item 15 – Custody

RIA does not have custody of client funds or securities. All clients receive at least quarterly account statements directly from the qualified custodian. Upon opening an account with a qualified custodian on a client's behalf, the firm will promptly notify the client in writing of the qualified custodian's contact information. If we decide to also send account statements to clients, such notice and account statements include a legend that recommends that the client compare the account statements received from the qualified custodian with those received from our firm.

- Clients should review the fee calculated and deducted by the custodian to ensure that the fees were calculated correctly.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Client can determine to engage the firm to provide investment advisory services on a discretionary basis. Discretion includes the authority to determine the securities to be bought or sold and well as the amount. Prior to the firm assuming discretionary authority over a client's account, the client shall be required to execute a written agreement, granting the firm full or limited authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect transactions.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

The firm does not vote client proxies, but third-party money managers selected or recommended by our firm may vote proxies for clients. Clients will otherwise receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Except in the event a third-party money manager votes proxies, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for:

- directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted; and,
- making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets.

Item 18 – Financial Information
