

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC

Form ADV Part 2A – Appendix 1 ("Wrap Fee Program Brochure")

Effective: March 31, 2021

This Form ADV Part 2A – Appendix 1 ("Wrap Fee Program Brochure") provides information about the qualifications and business practices for Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC ("Thrivent" or the "Advisor") services when offering services pursuant to a wrap program. If you have any questions about the content of this Wrap Fee Program Brochure, please contact the Advisor at (612) 844-8444.

Thrivent is a registered investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The information in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure has not been approved or verified by the SEC or by any state securities authority. Registration of an investment adviser does not imply any specific level of skill or training. This Wrap Fee Program Brochure provides information about Thrivent to assist you in determining whether to retain the Advisor.

Certain Advisory Persons of Thrivent provide advisory services under a practice name or "doing business as" name or may have their own legal business entities. However, advisory services are engaged exclusively through Thrivent Advisor Network. Additional information about Thrivent and its Advisory Persons is available on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching for the Advisor's firm name or CRD# 304569.

Advisory Persons, Practice Names and Locations

Thrivent offers and delivers its investment management and advisory services through a network of investment adviser representatives (herein “Advisory Persons”).

Certain Advisory Persons market and deliver advisory services under a practice name or “doing business as” or may have their own legal business entities whose business names and logos appear on marketing materials as approved by Thrivent, or client statements approved by the custodian. It is important to note that the businesses are legal entities of the Advisory Persons and not of Thrivent, nor the custodian. Additionally, the business entity may provide services other than the services offered by the Advisory Person as disclosed in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure and also provided to clients in each Advisory Person’s personalized disclosure Brochure Supplement. However, advisory services are engaged exclusively through Thrivent Advisor Network.

Detailed information regarding each Advisory Person is contained in the respective Form ADV 2B (“Brochure Supplement”). In addition, practice names and branch office locations are listed on Schedule D of Thrivent’s Form ADV Part 1 (available at <https://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/Firm/304569>).

Item 2 – Material Changes

There have been no material changes to this Wrap Fee Program Brochure since the last annual amendment on March 30, 2020.

Future Changes

From time to time, we may amend this Wrap Fee Program Brochure to reflect changes in our business practices, changes in regulations and routine annual updates as required by the securities regulators. This complete Wrap Fee Program Brochure or a Summary of Material Changes shall be provided to each Client annually and if a material change occurs in the business practices of Thrivent.

At any time, you may view this Wrap Fee Program Brochure on-line at the SEC’s Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with the Advisor’s name or CRD# 304569. You may also request a copy of this Wrap Fee Program Brochure at any time, by contacting the Advisor at (612) 844-8444.

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC ("Thrivent" or the "Advisor") is a registered investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") offering investment advisory services since 2019. Thrivent is organized as a limited liability company ("LLC") under the laws of the State of Delaware. Thrivent is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial Holdings, Inc., a Delaware Corporation, which is in turn a wholly-owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial for Lutherans.

This Wrap Fee Program Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the wrap fee advisory services provided by Thrivent. Contact us at (612) 844-8444 if you have questions regarding the information in this brochure.

Thrivent and its Advisory Persons (also collectively referred to as "Thrivent") offer investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, families, trusts, estates, businesses, and retirement plans (each referred to as a "Client").

Thrivent and its Advisory Persons serve as fiduciaries to Clients, as defined under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Advisers Act") when offering these advisory services. As a fiduciary, the Advisor upholds a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client and seeks to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. Thrivent's fiduciary commitment is further described in the Advisor's Code of Ethics. For more information regarding our Code of Ethics, review Item 9 – Additional Information.

Item 4 – Services, Fees and Compensation

A. Services

Investment Management Services

Thrivent offers investment management services where Clients receive ongoing investment advice, and do not pay separately for securities transactions and brokerage-related fees. The Independent Manager and Investment Platform program offers Clients the ability to utilize unaffiliated investment managers.

Advisory Persons provide customized investment advisory solutions for Clients. This is achieved through continuous personal Client contact, on-demand access, and interaction while providing discretionary and non-discretionary investment management and related advisory services.

Advisory Persons work closely with each Client to identify the Client's investment goals and objectives as well as risk tolerance and financial situation in order to develop an appropriate investment strategy for the Client. Advisory Persons will then implement an investment portfolio that seeks to achieve the outcome[s] for the strategy. Advisory Persons may recommend the internal investment management by its staff and/or the use of independent managers or investment platforms (please see below). For discretionary investment management accounts, Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to acceptance by the Advisor.

Internal Management – Advisory Persons will seek to utilize low-cost, diversified mutual funds and exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") for Client portfolios. Advisory Persons may also utilize individual equities, individual bonds, limited partnerships, and other types of, as appropriate, to meet the needs of the Client. Advisory Persons may retain certain legacy positions of the Client based on portfolio fit and/or tax considerations.

Thrivent's investment approach is primarily long-term focused, but Advisory Persons may buy, sell or re-allocate investments that have been held for less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. Advisory Persons will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance agreed to by the Client.

Use of Independent Managers – An Advisory Person will recommend that a Client utilize the investment advisory services and/or model portfolios of one or more investment managers or investment platforms (collectively "Independent Managers") for all or a portion of a Client's investment portfolio, based on the Client's needs and objectives. Investment Managers include Thrivent's affiliate Thrivent Asset Management, LLC, third party money managers, third party sub-advisors, and/or third-party investment platforms.

The use of an Independent Manager may require the Client to authorize and enter into an investment management agreement with the Independent Manager[s] that defines the terms in which the Independent Manager[s] will provide investment management and related services. The Advisor will perform initial and ongoing oversight and due diligence over the selected Independent Manager[s] to ensure the strategy remains aligned with Clients' investment objectives and overall best interests.

Advisory Persons will assist in the development of investment policy recommendations and managing the ongoing Client relationship. Advisory Persons will perform initial and ongoing oversight and due diligence over the selected Independent Manager[s] to ensure the Independent Managers' strategies and target allocations remain aligned with the Clients' investment objectives and overall best interests of the Client.

The Client, prior to entering into an agreement with an Independent Manager will be provided with the Independent Manager's Form ADV 2A Disclosure Brochure (or a brochure that provides information about the Independent Manager and the advisory services it provides, conflicts of interests and other important information). When an Independent Manager serves as a sub-advisor, the Independent Manager will have the power and authority to provide discretionary investment advisory services with respect to the assets held in the specified account. This means placing trade orders for transactions without first contacting the Client and obtaining Client permission. The sub-advisor will provide these services in accordance with the direction of the Advisory Persons through the selection of one or more model portfolio, the selection of individual securities, or a combination of model portfolios and individual securities by the Advisory Persons.

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for services provided by the Advisor. Each Client engaging the Advisor for services described herein must enter into a written agreement with the Advisor.

Prior to engaging Thrivent to provide investment advisory services, each Client is required to enter into one or more agreements with the Advisor that define the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Establishing an Investment Strategy – Advisory Persons, in connection with the Client, will develop a strategy targeted to achieve the Client's investment goals and objectives.
- Asset Allocation – Advisory Persons will develop a strategic asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance for risk for each Client.
- Portfolio Construction – Advisory Persons will develop a portfolio for the Client that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Monitoring – Advisory Persons will provide investment management and ongoing monitoring of the Client's portfolio.

B. Program Costs

Thrivent includes securities transaction fees for certain mutual funds and other fees and expenses (herein "Covered Costs") as part of the overall investment management fee. Securities regulations often refer to this combined fee structure as a "Wrap Fee Program". The Advisor's recommended Custodian[s] does not charge securities transaction fees for exchange-traded fund ("ETF") and equity trades in Client accounts, but typically charges for mutual funds and other types of investments. The Advisor sponsors the Thrivent Wrap Fee Program.

Advisory services provided by Thrivent are offered in a wrap fee structure whereby Covered Costs are included in the overall Advisor Management Fee paid to Thrivent. As the level of activity in a Client's account[s] may vary from year to year, the annual cost to the Client may be more or less than engaging for advisory services where the Covered Costs are borne separately by the Client. The cost of the Wrap Fee Program varies depending on services to be provided to each Client, however, the Client is not charged more if there is higher trading activity or other Covered Costs. The Wrap Fee Program presents a conflict of interest as the Advisor is incented to limit the number of trades placed in the Client's account[s] or to utilize securities that do not have transaction fees. As noted above, the Advisor's recommended Custodian[s] does not charge securities transaction fees for ETF and equity trades in Client accounts, but typically charges for mutual funds and other types of investments. As such, the Advisor is incentivized to utilize ETFs and other equity securities to limit the overall cost to the Advisor. The Advisor will only place Client assets into a Wrap Fee Program when it is believed to be in the Client's best interest.

C. Fees

Clients will pay Advisor a quarterly investment management fee (the "Advisor Management Fees") in advance of each calendar quarter pursuant to the terms of the Investment Management Agreement. Advisor Management Fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the prior calendar quarter. In certain instances, the billing start date may be delayed based on the Advisor's discretion. Advisor Management Fees through this Wrap Fee Program range from 2.00% to 0.25% based on several factors, including, but not limited to: the services offered to the Client, the complexity of the services to be provided, the level of Client assets managed by the Advisor, and/or the overall relationship with the Advisor. Therefore, the Advisor Management Fee vary among Clients and may be negotiable.

Advisor Management Fees will be paid quarterly based on a fixed percentage fee, or a linear or tiered incremental fee schedule, not to exceed the annual rates above. When a linear fee schedule is selected, the entire household, portfolio, or account value is charged at the rate that corresponds to the asset value range in which billable asset values fall. When a tiered schedule is selected, the household, portfolio or account value is charged the corresponding fee percentage within each range. Alternatively, a flat dollar fee may be applied in certain circumstances. This flat dollar fee is negotiable and may exceed the annual rates above.

Advisor Management Fees will be calculated by the Advisor and deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the respective quarter-end date. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by calendar days in a quarter) to the total assets under management with Thrivent at the end of the prior quarter. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the Advisor Management Fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting Advisor Management Fees to be deducted by Thrivent to be paid directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the Investment Management Agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

The Advisor Management Fee in the first quarter of service is prorated from the inception date of the account[s] to the end of the first quarter. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. The Client's fees will take into consideration the aggregate assets under management with Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by Thrivent will be independently valued by the designated Custodian. Thrivent will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

Clients may make additions to and withdrawals from their account[s] at any time, subject to Thrivent's right to terminate an account. Additions may be in cash or securities provided that Thrivent reserves the right to liquidate any transferred securities or decline to accept particular securities into a Client's account[s]. Clients may withdraw account assets on notice to Thrivent, subject to the usual and customary securities settlement procedures. However, Thrivent designs its portfolios as long-term investments and the withdrawal of assets may impair the achievement of a Client's investment objectives. Thrivent may consult with its Clients about the options and ramifications of transferring securities. However, Clients are advised that when transferred securities are liquidated, they are subject to transaction fees, fees assessed at the mutual fund level (i.e. contingent deferred sales charge) and/or tax ramifications.

For Client account[s] implemented through an Independent Manager, the Client's overall fees may include Thrivent's Advisor Management Fee (as noted above) plus advisory fees and/or platform fees charged by the Independent Manager[s], depending on the Independent Manager selected and as applicable. The Independent Manager may assume responsibility for calculating the Client's fees and deduct all fees from the Client's account[s]. In such instances, Thrivent will not separately calculate and deduct its Advisor Management Fee on those assets.

In addition, all fees paid to Thrivent for investment advisory services or part of the Wrap Fee Program are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and exchange-traded funds to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. Securities transaction fees for Client-directed trades will be charged back to the Client. In connection with the discretionary investment management services provided by Advisor, the Client will incur other costs assessed by the Custodian or other third parties, other than the Covered Costs noted above, such as wire transfer fees, fees for trades executed away from the Custodian and other fees. The Advisor does not control nor share in these fees. The Client should review both the fees charged by the fund[s] and the fees charged by Thrivent to fully understand the total fees to be paid. Please see Item 5.C. – Other Fees and Expenses in the Disclosure Brochure.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Investment Management Services

Thrivent is compensated for its investment management services in advance of the quarter in which services are rendered. Either party may request to terminate the Investment Management Agreement with Thrivent, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. The Client may also terminate the Investment Management Agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client up to and including the effective date of termination. Upon termination, the Advisor will promptly refund any unearned, prepaid advisory fees. The Client's investment advisory agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior consent.

Use of Independent Managers

The terms for the termination of an Independent Manager will be set forth in the respective agreements between the Client and the Independent Manager. Thrivent will assist the Client with the termination and transition as appropriate.

E. Compensation

Thrivent is the sponsor of this Wrap Fee Program. Thrivent receives Advisor Management Fees paid by Clients for participating in the Wrap Fee Program and pays Covered Costs associated with the management of the Client's account[s].

Thrivent does not buy or sell securities to generate securities commissions and does not receive any compensation for securities transactions in any Client account, other than the Advisor Management Fees noted above.

Other Compensation

Certain Advisory Persons are also registered representatives of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, Inc. ("PKS"). PKS is an unaffiliated registered broker-dealer (CRD # 35747), member FINRA, SIPC. As a registered representative of PKS, the Advisory Person will implement securities transactions under PKS and not through Thrivent. In such instances, the Advisory Person will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by the Advisory Person in one's capacity as a registered representative is separate and in addition to the Advisor's fees earned for the Investment Management Services described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. This practice presents a conflict of interest because the Advisory Person who is a registered representative has an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Client. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by the Advisor nor Advisory Persons. Neither the Advisor nor Advisory Persons will earn ongoing Advisor Management Fees in connection with any products or services implemented in the Advisory Person's separate capacity as a registered representative of PKS. Review Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.

In addition, certain Advisory Persons are licensed as independent insurance professionals. In their capacity as licensed insurance professionals, Advisory Persons will earn commission-based compensation for implementing insurance products on behalf of Clients, which may include insurance products offered by affiliates of the Advisor. Insurance commissions earned by an Advisory Person is separate and in addition to Thrivent's Advisor Management Fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest as an Advisory Person may have an incentive to recommend insurance products for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on Client needs. Further, affiliates of Thrivent will also earn revenue if insurance products offered by one of the Advisor's affiliates are implemented. Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any person affiliated with Thrivent or otherwise. Review Item 10 below – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.

Item 5 – Account Requirements and Types of Clients

Thrivent offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, families, trusts, estates, businesses, and retirement plans. Thrivent does not impose a minimum account or relationship size; however, depending on the Advisory Person that you work with, certain investment strategies and Independent Managers will require a minimum size to effectively implement the investment mandate. Please see Item 7 – Types of Clients in the Disclosure Brochure for additional information.

Item 6 – Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

A. Portfolio Manager Selection

Thrivent serves as sponsor and as portfolio manager for the services under this Wrap Fee Program. Thrivent may also recommend Independent Managers, who may also have a wrap fee program and structure. Investment Managers are selected and reviewed using a variety of methods and resources. The resources utilized may include research developed internally or obtained through an agreement with a third-party provider. The pool of potential Investment Managers is determined by the Custodians and platform providers utilized by Thrivent. Thrivent screens the pool of potential Investment Managers seeking to identify a variety of candidates across many asset classes. Screening metrics include industry standard metrics including absolute and relative return, risk and volatility measures, turnover, style consistency, expenses, and portfolio management experience and tenure. The Advisor may elect to remove or replace an Investment Manager should it determine that the Investment Manager has failed to meet the selection criteria for inclusion.

Thrivent does not calculate portfolio manager performance. Third-party tools are used to review and monitor portfolio manager performance and other metrics as described above. Thrivent relies on its Custodians and platform providers, as well as third parties such as Morningstar, to obtain performance information which Thrivent or the third parties believe is accurate and is in compliance with presentation standards. Morningstar analyst reviews are used to complement Thrivent's own research. While Thrivent and the third parties it uses believe the portfolio manager performance information is accurate, the possibility exists that the performance information may not be accurate or may not be calculated on a uniform and consistent basis.

B. Related Persons

It is more profitable for Thrivent to sell products issued by Thrivent Financial for Lutherans and its affiliates than those issued by other companies. As a result, Thrivent has a financial incentive to recommend them over other companies' products. Program assets in the Wrap Fee Program may include one or more Thrivent Mutual Funds. When Clients invest in Thrivent Mutual Funds, Thrivent's affiliate Thrivent Asset Management receives fees (including revenue sharing) for serving as the investment manager for the mutual funds and for providing administrative and accounting services to the funds pursuant to an Administrative Services Agreement. A conflict of interest exists when Advisory Persons recommends or elects to purchase a Thrivent Mutual Fund in Client Accounts. To mitigate the conflict, the Advisor periodically reviews Thrivent Asset Management's asset allocation selection process. The Advisor also manages this conflict by training its Advisory Persons on their responsibilities as a fiduciary and the duty of care under the Advisers Act owed to Clients.

C. Performance-Based Fees

Thrivent does not charge performance-based fees for this Wrap Fee Program.

D. Methods of Analysis

Advisory Persons may use a variety of methods and resources to construct a recommended asset allocation. The resources utilized may include research and/or model management services that Advisory Persons obtained through an agreement with a third-party provider. Thrivent does not directly contract with unaffiliated third-party research and model management providers for this purpose. Advisory Persons are expected to conduct due diligence of these providers and for all recommendations made to Clients, including model portfolios. Clients should ask their Advisory Person[s] about any third-party providers used to help provide investment recommendations for Clients. Review a copy of the provider's disclosure brochure (Part 2A of Form ADV). The Part 2A of Form ADV brochure is a required document only for registered investment advisers; therefore, not all providers may have a disclosure brochure.

E. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. Advisory Persons will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account[s]. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account[s]. The Thrivent shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform Thrivent of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing a Client's account[s]. Advisory Persons will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Following are some of the risks associated with the Advisor's investment approach:

Market Risks – The value of a Client's holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks – The performance of ETFs are subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs has a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Bond ETFs – Bond ETFs are subject to specific risks, including the following: (1) interest rate risks, i.e. the risk that bond prices will fall if interest rates rise, and vice versa, the risk depends on two things, the bond's time to maturity, and the coupon rate of the bond. (2) reinvestment risk, i.e. the risk that any profit gained must be reinvested at a lower rate than was previously being earned, (3) inflation risk, i.e. the risk that the cost of living and inflation increase at a rate that exceeds the income investment thereby decreasing the investor's rate of return, (4) credit default risk, i.e. the risk associated with purchasing a debt instrument which includes the possibility of the company defaulting on its repayment obligation, (5) rating downgrades, i.e. the risk associated with a rating agency's downgrade of the company's rating which impacts the investor's confidence in the company's ability to repay its debt and (6) Liquidity Risks, i.e. the risk that a bond may not be sold as quickly as there is no readily available market for the bond.

Mutual Fund Risks – The performance of mutual funds are subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Options Contracts – Investments in options contracts have the risk of losing value in a relatively short period of time. Option contracts are leveraged instruments that allow the holder of a single contract to control many shares of an underlying stock. This leverage can compound gains or losses.

Margin Borrowings – The use of short-term margin borrowings may result in certain additional risks to a Client.

For example, if securities pledged to brokers to secure a Client's margin accounts decline in value, the Client could be subject to a "margin call", pursuant to which it must either deposit additional funds with the broker or be the subject of mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value.

Alternative Investments (Limited Partnerships) – The performance of alternative investments (limited partnerships) can be volatile and may have limited liquidity. An investor could lose all or a portion of their investment. Such investments often have concentrated positions and investments that may carry higher risks. Client should only have a portion of their assets in these investments.

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. Advisory Persons will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the investment advisory service process.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor. Please see Item 8.B. – Risk of Loss in the Disclosure Brochure for details on investment risks.

F. Voting Client Securities

Thrivent does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the applicable Custodian. Thrivent will not be expected or required to take any action other than the rendering of investment-related advice with respect to lawsuits involving securities presently or formerly held in the Account(s), or the issuers thereof, including actions involving bankruptcy. In the case of class action suits involving issuers held in the Account(s), as required by law or on Client's behalf, Thrivent may provide information about the Account(s) to third parties for purposes of participating in any settlements. The authority to vote on any proxies and any elections relating to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings, and any other events, remains solely with Client.

Item 7 – Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

Thrivent is the sponsor and portfolio manager for the Program. Advisory Persons will gather information about Clients' financial situation, risk tolerance, time horizon, investment objectives, any restrictions, and any other relevant information on the management of the Client's Account. Advisory Persons will make reasonable inquiries into and assessments of each Client's investment objectives, financial situation, investment experience, risk tolerance, and any other material information. The Advisor will update Account information when the Advisor becomes aware of any new information. Any requested changes to investment guidelines and restrictions must be communicated and confirmed with the Advisor in writing and may require an amendment or side letter to the Investment Management Agreement. Thrivent and its Advisory Persons will not independently verify any information provided by the Client. Based on an analysis of the information each Client provides, Advisory Persons or Investment Managers will recommend an investment strategy through which the strategy can be implemented. Clients are responsible for notifying Thrivent immediately of any changes to their information as it could affect the services provided to them.

Thrivent is committed to protecting the privacy of the personal Client information that Clients have entrusted the Advisor with. The Advisor protects the security and confidentiality of the personal Client information with implemented controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management and servicing of the Client relationship. Review the Thrivent Privacy Policy (included after this Wrap Fee Program Brochure) regarding the protection of personal Client information and information sharing choices.

Item 8 – Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

Clients may contact their Advisory Person to discuss the management of their Accounts.

Item 9 – Additional Information

A. Disciplinary Information and Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Thrivent values the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider with whom you partner. Our backgrounds are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with the Advisor's firm name or CRD# 304569. Please see Item 9 of the Thrivent Disclosure Brochure as well as Item 3 of each Advisory Person's Brochure Supplement (included with this Wrap Fee Program Brochure) for additional information on how to research the background of the Advisor and its Advisory Persons.

Other Financial Activities and Affiliations

Advisory Persons may have their own legal business entities whose business names and logos may appear on marketing materials as approved by Thrivent, or client statements approved by the Custodian. It is important to note that the businesses are legal entities of the Advisory Persons and not of Thrivent, nor the Custodian. Additionally, the business entity may provide services other than the services offered by the Advisor Person as disclosed in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure and also provided to Client in each Advisory Person's personalized disclosure Brochure Supplement.

Neither Thrivent nor its Supervised Persons has any registrations or affiliations with a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity-trading advisor.

Insurance Company

The Advisor is a licensed insurance agency, and as such, may offer insurance products on a commission basis. Advisory Persons shall generally introduce Clients to an unaffiliated insurance agency to manage the insurance process. Advisory Persons shall receive a portion of the insurance commission earned by the unaffiliated insurance agency. No Client shall be under any obligation to purchase any insurance products from the Advisor or such introduced insurance agency. The recommendation by an Advisory Person that a Client purchase an insurance product presents a conflict of interest, as the receipt of commissions may provide an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions to be received, rather than based on a particular Client's need. Clients are reminded that they remain free to purchase insurance products through other insurance agencies.

Affiliates of the Advisor

Thrivent is a wholly owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial Holdings, Inc., which in turn is a wholly owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial for Lutherans. Thrivent Trust Company of Tennessee, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial and is chartered as a Tennessee public trust company offering financial planning and investment management services.

Newman Financial Services LLC – This entity is a commonly controlled insurance company offering long-term care insurance.

PKS (unaffiliated broker dealer) – As noted in Item 5 above, Certain Advisory Persons are also registered representatives of PKS. As a registered representative of PKS, the Advisory Person will typically receive commissions for the implementation of recommendations for commissionable transactions. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations provided by the Advisory Person.

Other Business Arrangements

Tax and Accounting Services – Certain Supervised Persons of Thrivent may also provide tax and accounting services for Clients which are separate and distinct from the investment advisory services. Clients of Thrivent are not obligated to utilize these services offered by our Supervised Persons. Neither Thrivent nor its affiliates provide legal advice. Clients are urged to consult with their tax professional, legal advisor or accountant, as applicable, for such advice and questions.

B. Code of Ethics, Review of Accounts, Client Referrals, and Financial Information

Code of Ethics

Thrivent has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines the Advisor's commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with Thrivent ("Supervised Persons"). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding the advisor's duties to the Client. Thrivent and its personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of Thrivent Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code of Ethics covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of the Code, please contact the Advisor at (612) 844-8444 or Compliance@thriventadvisornetwork.com.

Personal Trading with Material Interest

Thrivent allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Thrivent does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company.

Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

Thrivent allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that are recommended (purchase or sell) to Clients presents a potential conflict of interest that must be disclosed to Clients and mitigated through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted a Code of Ethics, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons of Thrivent have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by

Thrivent requiring of its employees and Supervised Persons to report personal securities trades for review by the Compliance Department.

The Advisor has also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While Thrivent allows Supervised Persons to purchase or sell of the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterward.

Thrivent does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custody and execution services. The Client will engage the broker-dealer/custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize Thrivent to direct trades to this Custodian as agreed in the investment advisory agreement. Further, Thrivent does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of Clients on a trade-by-trade basis.

Where Thrivent does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend the Custodian[s] to Clients for custody and execution services. Thrivent may recommend the Custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client, and its overall reputation. Clients are not obligated to use the recommended Custodian and Thrivent will not charge any extra fee or cost associated with using a Custodian not recommended by Thrivent. However, if the recommended Custodian is not engaged, Thrivent may be limited in the services it can provide comparable to other clients. Thrivent will generally recommend that Clients establish their account[s] at Fidelity Clearing & Custody Solutions and other divisions of Fidelity Investments, Inc. ("Fidelity"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, "qualified custodian" and member of SIPC or Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC. Thrivent maintains institutional relationships with both Fidelity and Schwab, whereby the Advisor receives economic benefits. Please see Item 14 below.

Brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars – Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker-dealer/custodian in exchange for research and other services. Thrivent does not receive research or other product services sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer. However, the Advisor does receive certain economic benefits from Fidelity and Schwab. Please see Item 14 below.

2. Brokerage Referrals – Thrivent does not receive any compensation from any third-party in connection with the recommendation for establishing a brokerage account. However, Thrivent's affiliate Thrivent Investment Management Inc. receives compensation from PKS, an unaffiliated registered broker-dealer, for referring certain persons to become registered representatives of PKS. This referral fee is based on revenue derived from sales of the registered representative of PKS. These registered representatives will also be investment advisor representatives of the Advisor. The referral compensation creates an incentive for investment advisor representatives of Thrivent Advisor Network who also register with PKS to use PKS for brokerage services.

3. Directed Brokerage – All Clients are serviced on a "directed brokerage basis", where Thrivent will place trades within the established account[s] at the Custodian designated by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective brokerage account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor's own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client's account[s]). In selecting the Custodian, Thrivent will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian.

4. Trade Errors – Thrivent will seek to correct any trade errors that occur in Client accounts. A trade error correction may result in a gain or loss. Client's will not receive any net gains. Clients will not be charged for losses associated with trade errors caused by Thrivent or its Advisory Persons.

- For accounts established with Fidelity, errors resulting in net gains are applied to Thrivent's error account at Fidelity.
- For accounts established with Schwab, errors resulting in net gains are retained by Schwab. Schwab will donate any gains of $100 or more to the Charles Schwab Foundation.

Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as: 1) price, 2) size of the order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the broker. Thrivent will execute its transactions through an unaffiliated broker-dealer selected by the Client. Thrivent may aggregate orders in a block trade, or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day, a pro-rata allocation will be pursued in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage any particular Client's accounts.

Review of Accounts

Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by Advisory Persons of Thrivent and periodically by the Compliance Department. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client's request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's accounts. The Client is encouraged to notify Thrivent if changes occur in the Client's personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client's investment plan.

Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may review these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's accounts. The Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations, and performance.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Thrivent will generally recommend that Clients establish their account[s] at either Fidelity Clearing & Custody Solutions and other divisions of Fidelity Investments, Inc. ("Fidelity"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, "qualified custodian" and member of SIPC or Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC. Thrivent maintains an institutional relationship with both Fidelity and Schwab, whereby the Advisor receives economic benefits.

Access to the Custodian's platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The Advisor receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Fidelity or Schwab. The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a Custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this Custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform (Fidelity)

Thrivent has established an institutional relationship with Fidelity to assist the Advisor in managing Client account[s]. Access to the Fidelity platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The Advisor receives economic benefits from Fidelity such as, recruiting and training support services for Advisory Persons, expense reimbursement, software, and related support, without cost, as the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Fidelity. This support creates an incentive for Advisor to select or recommend Fidelity based on Advisor's receipt of such support in conducting its advisory services, rather than on Clients' interest in receiving most favorable execution. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a Custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this Custodian over one that does not provide such economic benefits. The services provided by Fidelity, how they benefit the Advisor, and the related conflicts of interest are described above.

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform (Schwab)

Thrivent may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Schwab Advisor Services division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. The final decision to custody assets with Schwab is at the discretion of the Thrivent's clients, including those accounts under ERISA or IRA rules and regulations, in which case the client is acting as either the plan sponsor or IRA accountholder. Thrivent is not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides Thrivent with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at Schwab Advisor Services. Schwab's services include brokerage services that are related to the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, including that in the form of advice, analyses and reports, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For Thrivent client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.

Schwab also makes available to Thrivent other products and services that benefit Thrivent but may not benefit its clients' accounts. These benefits may include national, regional or Thrivent specific educational events organized and/or sponsored by Schwab Advisor Services. Other potential benefits may include occasional business entertainment of personnel of Thrivent by Schwab Advisor Services personnel, including meals, invitations to sporting events, including golf tournaments, and other forms of entertainment, some of which may accompany educational opportunities. Other of these products and services assist Thrivent in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology (and related technological training) that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts), provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of Thrivent's fees from its clients' accounts, and assist with back-office training and support functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or some substantial number of Thrivent's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab Advisor Services. Schwab Advisor Services also makes available to Thrivent other services intended to help Thrivent manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include professional compliance, legal and business consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, insurance and marketing. In addition, Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay vendors for these types of services rendered to Thrivent by independent third-parties. Schwab Advisor Services may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Thrivent. While, as a fiduciary under the Investment Advisers Act, Thrivent endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, Thrivent's recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Schwab may be based in part on the benefit to Thrivent of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Schwab has eliminated commissions for online trades of equities, ETFs and options (subject to $0.65 per contract fee). This means that, in most cases, when we buy and sell these types of securities, we will not have to pay any commissions to Schwab. We encourage you to review Schwab's pricing to compare the total costs of entering into a wrap fee arrangement versus a non-wrap fee arrangement. If you choose to enter into a wrap fee arrangement, your total cost to invest could exceed the cost of paying for brokerage and advisory services separately. To see what you would pay for transactions in a non-wrap account please refer to Schwab's most recent pricing schedules available at schwab.com/aspricingguide.

Insurance Company

Thrivent also serves as an insurance agency, where the Advisor may recommend to Clients the purchase of certain insurance products. Thrivent will benefit from any revenue generated from the sale of a recommended insurance products.

Client Referrals from Solicitors

Thrivent may engage and compensate unaffiliated third-parties (each a "Solicitor") for Client referrals in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Thrivent and/or its Advisory Persons may also engage various online directories and referral sources which are paid a fixed fee. Clients will not pay a higher fee to Thrivent as a result of such payments to a Solicitor or other referral source. The Advisor shall enter into an agreement with the Solicitor, which requires that full disclosure of the compensation and other conflicts is provided to the prospective client prior to or at the time of entering into the advisory agreement.

Other Compensation

Advisory Persons may be eligible to receive compensation for referring individuals who become Advisory Persons of Thrivent. The compensation paid to the referring Advisory Person is based on the referred individuals becoming an Advisory Person of Thrivent coupled with revenue from Advisor Management Fees earned by referred individual.

An Advisory Person who refers prospective Clients or Clients to another Advisory Person may share in the fee for the services provided. These fees may be a single payment or ongoing.

Advisory Persons are eligible to receive a cash bonus from their team practice based on what is earned by the whole team.

Advisory Persons may be eligible to receive non-cash compensation (e.g., attend sales conferences and other recognition events). Receipt of non-cash compensation is based on sales of investment advisory services and or other products.

Some Advisory Persons may receive a loan from Thrivent or Thrivent Financial for Lutherans to invest in their practice. The loan may provide for partial or full loan forgiveness if the Advisory Persons and or their practice exceed targeted sales of investment advisory services and or other products.

Thrivent Trust Company pays Advisory Persons a fee for referring Clients to the Trust Company for its professional personal trust, estate and investment management services.

Thrivent affiliates and unaffiliated third parties may pay for and sponsor certain conference events hosted by Thrivent for its Advisory Persons. Costs include, but are not limited to, room rental, presentation materials, meals, entertainment/leisure outings and promotional gifts.

Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing (formerly InFaith Community Foundation) allows specific advisors an opportunity to provide investment advisory and management services for donor advised funds at Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing. Advisory Persons who are approved to offer these services will receive compensation for such services.

In a separate arrangement, Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing partners with Advisory Persons and Thrivent Distributors, LLC, the underwriter and distributor for Thrivent Mutual Funds. Thrivent Distributors, LLC donates 1% of the gift value to a donor advised fund in recognition of the Advisory Person when he or she brings donor gifts to Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing. This fee does not increase cost of the product to you. This donation and the charitable assets are not owned by the Advisory Persons. Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing is independent of Thrivent Financial and Thrivent's Advisory Persons. Thrivent Charitable Impact & Investing is not an affiliate of Thrivent.

Custody

Thrivent does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of the Advisor's fee and the limited authority for Client money movement requests as described below. All Clients must place their assets with a "qualified custodian". Clients are required to select their own Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct Thrivent to utilize that Custodian for the Client's security transactions. Thrivent encourages Clients to review statements provided by the account Custodian. For more information about Custodians and brokerage practices.

Client Money Movements

If the Client authorizes the Advisor to move money from one of the Client's account[s] to one or more other accounts of the Client on an ongoing basis, the Advisor may be deemed to have custody of those assets. The Advisor does not engage in business practices whereby the Advisor or its Advisory Persons would have actual physical custody over the Client's account[s]. To mitigate this risk, the Custodian and the Advisor have adopted safeguards to ensure that the money movements are completed in accordance with the Client's instructions.

Financial Information

Neither Thrivent, nor its management has any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of Thrivent to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither Thrivent, nor any of its Advisory Persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise.

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Management and Board of Directors of Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC as of December 31, 2020.

Management's Responsibility for the Statement of Financial Condition

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the statement of financial condition in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a statement of financial condition that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the statement of financial condition based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the statement of financial condition, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the statement of financial condition in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the statement of financial condition. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of financial condition presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC as of December 31, 2020 in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Note 1. Nature of Operations and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC (“the “Company”) is a registered investment advisor (“RIA”) under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940. The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial Holdings, Inc. (“Holdings”), which in turn is a wholly owned subsidiary of Thrivent Financial for Lutherans (“Thrivent”).

The Company offers and delivers its investment management and advisor services through a network of investment advisor representatives (“Advisors”). Advisors of the Company provide advisor services under a practice name or “doing business as” name or may have their own legal business entities. However, advisor services are engaged exclusively through Thrivent Advisor Network.

The Company and its Advisors provide investment advisor services to retail investors (“Clients”) that include investment management, retirement planning, and financial planning and consulting. Investment advice is primarily for low-cost, diversified mutual funds and exchange traded funds, but may also utilize individual equities, bonds, limited partnerships, and other types of securities, as appropriate. Advisors may also provide investment advice with respect to both Thrivent’s proprietary variable life and annuity products as well as non-proprietary variable products. Advisors may also engage the advisory services of affiliated and unaffiliated investment managers.

Company services are offered on both a discretionary and non-discretionary basis. These services are provided to Clients for an asset-based fee (i.e., a wrap fee program) or by separate securities transaction and brokerage-related fees (i.e., non-wrap fee program).

The Company does not buy or sell securities to generate securities commissions and does not receive any compensation for securities transactions in any Client account, other than the investment advisory fees noted above.

The Company clears transactions under a fully disclosed agreement with unaffiliated third-party clearing broker-dealers. Where the Company does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend the Clients establish their account[s] at Fidelity Clearing & Custody Solutions and other divisions of Fidelity Investments, Inc. (“Fidelity”), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, “qualified custodian” and member of SIPC or Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC for custody and execution services.

The Company receives capital contributions from Holdings to support its current operations. See Note 3 for related party disclosure.

Significant Accounting Policies

The accompanying financial statement has been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”).

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC
Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
(dollars in thousands)

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the statement of financial condition in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. These estimates reflect the best judgment of management and actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.

The significant accounting practices used in preparation of the statement of financial condition are summarized as follows:

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of amounts on deposit with banks and investments in money market mutual funds, of which $1,945 was invested in registered money market funds as of December 31, 2020. The Company considers all highly liquid securities and other investments purchased with an original or remaining maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents are carried at fair value. The fair value of cash equivalents is based on quoted daily net asset values of the invested fund and are classified as Level 1.

Notes Receivable

The Company will at times issue a loan agreement to an external Advisor for the purpose of transitioning to the Company's RIA platform. Payment terms and interest rates vary based on the Advisor loan agreement with an average term of 7 years and interest rate of 2%. As of December 31, 2020, principal of $5,306 and accrued interest of $6 was outstanding.

Credit Loss Reserve

The Company grants loans to Advisors in conjunction with a program established primarily to recruit and retain certain Advisors (See Notes Receivable). These loans are contingent on the Advisors' continued relationship with the Company and require repayment if Advisors leave during a contractual service period. These loans generally amortize over a contractual service period of 7 years from the initial date of the loan and amounts related to accrued interest are reported in the same balance sheet line item as the other elements of the loan's amortized cost. The Company estimates the allowance for credit losses by considering credit quality indicators and the recoverability of an outstanding loan balance from Advisors that left the Company.

A loan is placed on non-accrual status when, based on current information, it is probable that the Company will be unable to collect scheduled payments of principal and interest when due according to the contractual terms of the underlying loan agreement. Generally, loans with principal or interest payments that are more than 90 days past due are placed on non-accrual status. The amortized cost basis of these loans is written-off against the allowance for credit losses when management deems the amount to be uncollectible.

(dollars in thousands)

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses consist of amounts paid to vendors in advance of the service period in which the service is being provided. All prepaid expense amounts are expected to be expensed within one year as the services are provided.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts Receivable includes fees earned but not collected from clients who have entered into financial planning services agreements, various fees due from the sale of non-proprietary products, managed account fees earned but not collected from Advisors and reimbursement of trade fees paid to custodians to be collected from Advisors.

Payables to Related Parties

Payable to Related Parties

Payables to related parties consist of amounts due to Thrivent for general and administrative costs charged or allocated as described in Note 3 - Related Party Transactions but not paid as of December 31, 2020.

Notes/Interest Payable to Related Parties

A revolving note was entered into between Holdings and the Company ("Borrower"). Holdings may at its sole discretion, make loans and advances to the Borrower if needed to finance recruitment of external practices onto the Company's RIA platform. Holdings provided $5,700 in 2020 to the Company to fund the transition of two external Advisors. Payment terms and interest rates vary based on the funding loan agreement with an average term of 7 years and interest rate of 6%. As of December 31, 2020, principal of $5,437 and accrued interest of $33 was outstanding.

Accrued Expenses

Accrued expenses consist of amounts for services provided by a vendor that have not been paid, amounts received for financial plans that have not been reimbursed to the Advisor and a transition expense owed to an Advisor. All accrued expenses are typically settled within the following month.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue represents unearned financial planning fees collected from clients prior to the satisfaction of performance obligations, including delivery of financial plans and providing financial advice over the term of the contract. All deferred revenue amounts are expected to be earned within one year, as the performance obligations are satisfied.

New Accounting Guidance

Credit Losses

Effective January 1, 2020, the Company adopted ASU 2016-13 (Topic 326 – Financial Instruments-Credit Losses), which updated the accounting for certain types of financial instruments by replacing the current incurred loss model for estimating credit losses with a new model that requires an entity to estimate the credit losses expected over the life of the asset. The standard was adopted and did not have a current year impact to the Company's financial statements.

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC

(dollars in thousands)

Leases

Effective 2019, the Company adopted ASU 2016-02 (Topic 842-Leases), which requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for leases with lease terms of more than 12 months and requires new qualitative and quantitative disclosures. Adopting the standard did not have an impact to the Company's financial statements as it does not currently have any leases with lease terms of more than 12 months or embedded leases.

Note 2. Income Taxes

The Company is a single member LLC owned by Holdings. As such, it is a disregarded entity for federal income tax purposes. Nonetheless, its operations are included in the consolidated federal income tax return of Holdings and Holdings' wholly owned subsidiaries. Consolidated federal income tax liabilities or credits, including utilization of loss carryforwards, are allocated among the affiliated members in accordance with a tax-sharing agreement with Holdings and are settled quarterly. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the financial statement carrying amounts and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which the deferred tax asset or liability is expected to be settled or realized. The deferred tax amounts are settled when the amounts are included in the consolidated tax return. Uncertain tax positions are recognized if they are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination, based on the technical merits of the position. The amount of tax benefit recognized is the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon settlement. A valuation allowance is recognized, if based on the weight of available evidence, it is more-likely-than-not (likelihood of more than 50%) that some portion, or all, of the deferred tax asset will not be realized.

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. The Company had no temporary differences as of December 31, 2020.

At December 31, 2020 the Company had no federal or state net operating loss carryforwards.

The Company is required to establish a valuation allowance for any portion of the deferred income tax assets that management believes will not be realized. In the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefit of the deferred income tax assets, and therefore, no such valuation allowance has been established.

There are no unrecognized or uncertain tax positions at December 31, 2020. Tax years 2020 and 2019 are open under the statute of limitations are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

Note 3. Related Party Transactions

In accordance with its intercompany services agreement, the Company reimbursed Thrivent for various services and costs paid by Thrivent on behalf of the Company. These reimbursements were for compensation, promotional and marketing materials, general and administrative expenses such as accounting, marketing, legal, compliance, and technology. The Company also reimburses Thrivent for benefits, and incentives on behalf of the Company. Some of the reimbursements for costs such as benefits and incentives are based on allocation amounts agreed upon in the intercompany services agreement between Thrivent and the Company. Also see Note 1 for related party notes payable.

Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition
(dollars in thousands)

Note 4. Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

The Company is involved in the normal course of business in legal, regulatory and arbitration proceedings, including class actions, concerning matters arising in connection with the conduct of its activities as a diversified financial services firm. These include proceedings specific to the Company as well as proceedings generally applicable to business practices in the industries in which it operates. The Company can also be subject to litigation arising out of its general business activities, such as its investments, contracts, leases, and employment relationships. Uncertain economic conditions, heightened and sustained volatility in the financial markets and significant financial reform legislation may increase the likelihood that clients and other persons or regulators may present or threaten legal claims or that regulators increase the scope or frequency of examinations of the Company or the financial services industry generally.

As with other financial services firms, the level of regulatory activity and inquiry concerning the Company's businesses remains elevated. From time to time, the Company receives requests for information from, and/or has been subject to examination or claims by the SEC, state insurance and securities regulators, state attorneys general and various other governmental and quasi-governmental authorities on behalf of themselves or clients concerning the Company's business activities and practices, and the practices of the Company's field representatives.

These legal and regulatory proceedings and disputes are subject to uncertainties and, as such, it is inherently difficult to determine whether any loss is probable or even possible, or to reasonably estimate the amount of any loss. The Company cannot predict with certainty if, how or when such proceedings will be initiated or resolved or what the eventual settlement, fine, penalty or other relief, if any, may be, particularly for proceedings that are in their early stages of development or where plaintiffs seek indeterminate damages. Some issues may need to be resolved, including through potentially lengthy discovery and determination of important factual matters and by addressing unsettled legal questions relevant to the proceedings in question, before a loss or range of loss can be reasonably estimated for any proceeding. An adverse outcome could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

Note 5. Subsequent Events

The Company evaluated events and transactions that may have occurred after the balance sheet date for potential recognition or disclosure through March 29, the date the statement of financial condition was available to be issued.

On March 25, 2021, the Company received a capital contribution of $6,000 from Holdings for ongoing operations.

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

This notice describes the privacy practices of Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC, a Registered Investment Advisor. Your financial advisor is an investment adviser representative of Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC and we are required to provide this notice to inform you of how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What we do

How does Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information in a few ways:

- Directly from you, such as when you open an investment account, complete advisory agreements, investment questionnaires or suitability documents.
- From other third parties, such as credit reporting agencies.
- Through your transactions and interactions with us and our affiliates.

How does Thrivent Advisor Network, LLC protect my personal information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use we maintain physical, procedural, and electronic security measures such as secure passwords, encrypted file storage, and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. Our associates are trained on their responsibilities to protect your personal information.

We require third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

Please note: Your personal information is processed in the United States, which means that privacy laws may be less stringent than they are in your country of residence. This also means that government agencies, courts or law enforcement in the United States may be able to access your information.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit sharing only in certain situations:

- To Affiliates
 - If we share information about your creditworthiness
 - If affiliates use your information to market to you.
- To Nonaffiliates
 - If they wish to obtain your information to market to you

*In addition, residents of CA, MA, & VT are opted out of all nonaffiliate sharing, per state law. Clients in these states may choose to opt-in for this sharing.
