FIRM INFORMATION

Storehouse Financial LLC (“Storehouse,” “we,” “us,” “our”), a limited liability company formed in 2006, is a registered investment advisory firm located in Fort Worth, Texas.

PRINCIPAL OWNERS

Storehouse is owned and controlled by Stephen Stull and David Stull. Stephen Stull serves as Chief Compliance Officer.

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

Asset Management Services:

We provide asset management services in which investment advisers manage your accounts. Our services provide additional investment opportunities among mutual funds, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), options, and additional securities. Our asset management services involve providing you with the continuous and ongoing supervision of your custodial accounts.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services:

We provide financial planning services that find ways to help you understand your overall financial situation and help you set financial objectives. We accomplish this by helping you review your financial goals, tax planning strategies, asset allocation, risk management, retirement planning, and other areas and objectives.

CLIENT INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES/RESTRICTIONS

Storehouse offers the same suite of services to all our clients. However, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the individual client’s Investment Policy Statement, which outlines a client’s current financial situation such as income, net worth, and risk tolerance levels. This information is essential in the development of a client-specific plan in the selection of investments that matches restrictions, needs, and targets. On a case by case basis, our clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs. However, if the restrictions prevent us from properly servicing the client’s account, or if the restrictions would require us to deviate from our standard suite of services, we reserve the right to end the relationship. We may request additional information and documentation such as current investments, tax returns, insurance policies, and estate plan. We will discuss your investment objectives, needs, and goals, but you must inform us of any changes. Unless directed by you, we do not independently verify any information provided to us by you or your attorney, accountant, or other professionals.

WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

Storehouse does not participate in, recommend, or offer wrap fee programs.

ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

As of August 20, 2021, Storehouse manages $108,746,146 on a discretionary basis only.

ITEM 5

ANNUAL FEES FOR ADVISORY SERVICES

Storehouse is compensated for providing Asset Management services by charging an asset management fee. The asset management fee is based on the total assets under management.

The fees charged for financial planning services are negotiable and vary depending on the complexity of the process undertaken, the types of issues addressed, the scope of services provided, and the frequency with which the services are rendered. All fees are agreed upon before entering into the Financial Planning and Consulting Agreement you sign.

The below ranges are the standard fee ranges that are typically charged. We may waive the agreed-upon financial planning fees if you engage our asset management services.

Asset Management Fee Schedule

First $0 - $2,000,000	1.5%
Next $2,000,001 - $5,000,000	1.0%
Next $5,000,001+	0.5%

Financial Planning and Consulting Fee Schedule

Hourly	Negotiable
--------	------------

FEE BILLING & PAYMENT

Advisory fees are invoiced and billed directly to you. Payments are due by the end of the month or quarter. The fee billing will be pre-determined in writing in the investment advisory agreement that is executed by you and Storehouse. We will deduct our asset management fee only when in receipt of your written authorization by executing an investment advisory agreement permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. We will send a copy of your invoice to the custodian. The qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly, which will show all disbursements from your account. We urge you to review all statements for accuracy.

Financial planning and consulting fees may be assessed on an hourly basis. Hourly fees will be invoiced upon completion of the financial plan or the rendering of consulting services with a thirty (30) day written notice. In no case will Storehouse require a fee of $500 or more to be paid six months or more in advance. Financial planning and consulting fees are paid via credit card or check.

You are responsible for all third-party fees (i.e., custodian fees, mutual fund fees, transaction fees, etc.). These fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by Storehouse.

TERMINATION OF AGREEMENT

Either party may terminate the investment advisory agreement by providing 30-day advance written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable up to and including the effective date of termination.

Notwithstanding the above, if we do not deliver the appropriate disclosure statement to you at least 48 hours prior to you entering into any written or oral advisory contract with this us, then you have the right to terminate the contract without penalty within five (5) business days after entering into the contract.

OTHER EXPENSES AND FEES

The fees discussed above include payment solely for our asset management and financial planning services provided by us and are separate to certain fees or charges that are imposed by third parties in connection with investments made on your behalf for your account. Third-party fees may include markdowns, markups, brokerage commissions, other transaction costs, and/or custodial fees.

Also, all fees paid to us for asset management services are separate from the expenses charged by exchange-traded funds and mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses will be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration, and a possible distribution fee. Exchanged traded funds and mutual funds can be invested in directly by you without our services. However, you would not receive our services to assist you in determining which products or services are most suitable for your financial situation and objectives. You should review both the fees we charge and the fees charged by the fund(s) to understand the total fees to be paid fully.

OTHER COMPENSATION

Certain associated persons are also licensed, certified public accountants. In this capacity, the IARs may recommend accounting and tax preparation services and receive additional compensation in this capacity. Thus, a conflict of interest exists between the interests of this individual and those of the advisory clients, creating an incentive to recommend accounting services based on the compensation received rather than on a client's needs. However, clients are under no obligation to act upon any of these recommendations. Clients have the option to utilized accounting services not affiliated with our firm. Please refer to Item 10 of this Brochure for a more detailed explanation of how our firm handles and mitigates these conflicts of interest.

ITEM 6

ITEM 7

ITEM 8

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use various methods of analysis and investment strategies, including the following:

Cyclical Analysis - This is a type of technical analysis that involves evaluating recurring price patterns and trends based upon business cycles. Economic/business cycles may not be predictable and may have many fluctuations between long-term expansions and contractions. The lengths of economic cycles may be difficult to predict with accuracy. Therefore, the risk of cyclical analysis is the difficulty in predicting economic trends and, consequently, the changing value of securities that would be affected by these changing trends.

Fundamental Analysis – We evaluate economic and financial factors to determine if a security may be underpriced, overpriced, or fairly priced. This method entails assessing a security by attempting to determine its intrinsic value by examining related financial, economic, and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysis requires an in-depth look at all factors that can affect the security's value, from macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) to individually specific factors (like the financial situation and management of companies). The overall objective of performing the fundamental analysis is to determine a value that an investor can use to determine what sort of position to take with that security. This method of security analysis is contrary to technical analysis. Fundamental analysis involves using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

Technical Analysis – This method involves the evaluation of securities by performing an analysis of statical information that is generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysis does not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value but instead use charts and other tools to determine the patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

Your accounts are managed separately with your underlying investment strategies, restrictions, or investment limitations defined within the investment management agreement.

POTENTIAL RISKS

Investing involves different levels of risk that can result in the loss of any profits and/or principal you have not realized. We manage your account in a manner consistent with your pre-determined risk tolerance and suitability profile. However, we cannot guarantee that our efforts will be successful. Investing in securities involves the risk of loss clients should be prepared to bear.

Investing involves the assumption of risk, including:

Financial Risk: which is the risk that the companies we recommend to you perform poorly, which affect the price of your investment.

Market Risk: which is the risk that the stock market will decline, decreasing the value of the securities we recommend to you with it.

Inflation Risk: which is the risk that the rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with the stock.

Interest Rate Risk: which is the risk that the value of the investments we recommend to you will fall if interest rates rise.

Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.

Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.

ITEM 9

Disciplinary Information

As of the date of this brochure, we have not been subject to any disciplinary, legal, or regulatory events related to past or present investment clients. There has been no disciplinary, legal, or regulatory events related to us or any of our management persons.

AFFILIATIONS

Stephen Stull is the owner of Public Accounting Stull, CPA, LLC. Public Accounting Stull, CPA LLC, offers accounting and tax preparation services. Stephen Stull spends 33% of his time in this role. Thus, a conflict of interest exists between the interests of this individual and those of the advisory clients, creating an incentive to recommend accounting and tax preparation services based on the compensation received rather than on a client's needs. We require that all IARs disclose this conflict of interest when such recommendations are made. However, clients are under no obligation to act upon any of these recommendations. Clients have the option to utilize accounting services not affiliated with our firm.

ITEM 11

Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

CODE OF ETHICS

Storehouse has developed a code of ethics that will apply to all of our supervised persons. We and our IARs must act in a fiduciary capacity when providing investment advisory services to you. As a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of each of our clients at all times. Storehouse has a fiduciary duty to all clients. This fiduciary duty is considered the core underlying principle of our code of ethics, which also covers our insider trading and personal securities transactions policies and procedures. We require all of our supervised persons to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. Upon employment or affiliation and at least annually thereafter, all supervised persons will acknowledge that they have read, understand, and agree to comply with our Code of Ethics.

Our Code of Ethics is available to clients and prospective clients upon request.

RECOMMENDATIONS INVOLVING A MATERIAL FINANCIAL INTEREST

Neither we nor any related person recommend to clients or buys or sells for clients' accounts securities in which we or a related person has a material financial interest.

PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS

There may be instances where an IAR will recommend to investment advisory clients or prospective clients the purchase or sale of securities in which an IAR, its affiliates, or other clients may also have a position or interest. Certain affiliated accounts may trade in the same securities with client accounts on an aggregated basis. Generally, in such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts will share execution costs equally. Completed trade orders will be allocated according to the instructions from the initial trade order. Partially filled trade orders will be allocated on a pro-rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained in the trade order.

PERSONAL TRADING

Employees are permitted to have personal securities accounts as long as personal investing practices are in line with fiduciary standards and regulatory requirements and do not conflict with their duty to Storehouse and our clients. Storehouse monitors and controls personal trading through pre-approval of all personal securities transactions or blackout periods imposed upon employees trading in the same securities as Storehouse. We forbid any officer or employee, either personally or on behalf of others, to trade on material, nonpublic information, or to communicate such information to others in violation of the law.

ITEM 12

Brokerage Practices

We recommend broker/dealers for our clients to use in order to custody their accounts. The firms we recommend will be independent SEC-registered broker-dealers and members of FINRA and SIPC.

As a fiduciary, we are obligated to seek out the best execution of client transactions for that accounts that we manage. In general, the execution of securities transactions is at a total cost to process each transaction and are the most favorable under the circumstances. However, we do not limit the best execution to the lowest available price. Additional factors are taken into consideration when determining the arrangement and services in the selection of a broker-dealer or qualified custodian. Our review consists of reviewing the commission and fee structures of various broker/dealers, research platforms, and execution services. Accordingly, while we do consider competitive rates, we do not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for account transactions. Therefore, the overall services provided by our unaffiliated broker-dealers and qualified custodians are evaluated to determine the best execution. You may pay trade execution charges and higher commissions through the trading platforms approved by us than through platforms that have not been approved by us.

RESEARCH AND OTHER SOFT DOLLAR BENEFITS

We do not receive soft dollar benefits or receive client referrals from broker/dealers.

BROKERAGE FOR CLIENT REFERRALS

We do not receive client referrals from broker/dealers.

DIRECTED BROKERAGE

Clients will be permitted to select any broker/dealer of their choosing. In these situations, we may be unable to achieve the most favorable execution for client transactions. Directing brokerage may cost clients more money in that the client may pay higher brokerage commissions because we may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transaction costs, or the client may receive less favorable prices.

TRADE AGGREGATION

We do not aggregate trade orders.

ITEM 13Review of Accounts*PERIODIC REVIEWS

We review asset management accounts no less than annually. These accounts will be reviewed by Stephen Stull and David Stull. Accounts are reviewed to evaluate asset allocation, investment strategy and objectives, cash balance, and performance, as well as the general economic outlook and current investment trends.

REVIEW TRIGGERS

We conduct periodic reviews to evaluate the current market, economic and political events and how these may affect client accounts. Additional reviews may be triggered by these events or by events in the client's financial or personal status.

REGULAR REPORTS

Financial planning and consulting clients are provided a one-time written financial plan concerning their financial situation. After the presentation of the plan, there are no further reports. Clients may request additional plans or reports for a fee.

ITEM 14Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not engage in referral relationships with vendors and/or unaffiliated third-party custodians, which provide services that may include custody of securities, trade execution, and clearance and settlement of transactions.

Please see Item 12 Brokerage Practices for information regarding benefits we receive from our custodian.

OTHER COMPENSATION

We may have obligations under referral programs with custodians to certain clients, including clients who become clients of the firm as part of its merger and acquisition activities. Under such programs, ongoing fee arrangements require us to pay our custodian an ongoing fee, usually as a percentage of the asset management fees that are billed to the account or a percentage of assets, with a one-time fee if the account is transferred to another custodian. Since the one-time fee may be higher than the ongoing fee, we will have an incentive to maintain the account at the present custodian.

We do not pay a referral fee to third party solicitors.

ITEM 15Custody

We do not have custody of client funds and securities due to our ability to deduct management fees from clients' accounts. Clients will receive account statements from the qualified custodian(s) holding their funds and securities at least quarterly. The custodian's account statements will indicate the amount of our advisory fees deducted from the clients' account(s) each billing period. These statements should be carefully reviewed by the client for accuracy. Item 5 – Fees and Compensation has additional information regarding our ability to deduct management fees from clients' accounts.

ITEM 16Investment Discretion*DISCRETIONARY AUTHORITY FOR TRADING

If you are participating in our asset management services, upon receiving your written authorization via our executed investment advisory agreement, we will maintain trading authorization over your designated account and may also implement trades on a discretionary basis.

When discretionary authority is granted, we will have the limited authority to determine the type of securities to be purchased, sold, or exchanged and a number of securities that can be bought, sold, or exchanged for your portfolio without obtaining your consent for each transaction.

On a case by case basis, you may place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased or sold in your account so long as the restrictions are explicitly set forth or included as an attachment to the investment advisory agreement.

ITEM 17Voting Client Securities

We do not have the authority to vote proxies as it pertains to the issuers of securities held in your account. The responsibility for voting your securities places increased liability to us and does not add enough value to the services provided to you to justify the additional compliance and regulatory costs associated with voting your securities.

Therefore, you are responsible for voting all proxies for securities held in accounts managed by us. Typically, our qualified custodian will forward you your proxy information. Although we do not vote your proxies, you can contact us if you have a question about a particular proxy.

ITEM 18Financial Information

We are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our clients.

We are currently not in, nor have been historically in a financially precarious situation or the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
