 CFA (Chartered Financial Analyst)

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

* CAIA (Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst)

The CAIA designation is for professionals managing, analyzing, distributing, or regulating alternative investments. Candidates must hold a bachelor's degree or the equivalent, and have more than one year of professional experience, or alternatively have at least four years of professional experience.

Candidates must complete two exam levels. The Level I exam covers 8 topics; professional standards and ethics, introduction to alternative investments, real assets, hedge funds, private equity, structured products and risk and portfolio management. The Level II exam consists of multiple choice questions plus three sets of constructed response essay questions. The curriculum is broadly divided into two sections; alternative investments and core and integrated topics. Upon obtaining the CAIA designation, members must complete a self-evaluation tool every three years to fulfill the continuing education requirement.
