Description of Primary Advisory Business

Asset Management Services

Through our Asset Management Services program Elliott Cove provides continuous and ongoing supervision over your specified accounts.

You must appoint our firm as your investment adviser of record on specified accounts (collectively, the “Account”) held at E*trade Advisor Services. The Account consists only of separate account(s) held by E*trade Advisor Services, as the bank and qualified custodian, under your name. The qualified custodians maintain physical custody of all funds and securities of the Account, and you retain all rights of ownership (e.g., right to withdraw securities or cash, exercise or delegate proxy voting and receive transaction confirmations) of the Account.

The Account is managed by us based on your financial situation, investment objectives and risk tolerance. We actively monitor the Account and provide advice regarding buying, selling, reinvesting or holding securities, cash or other investments of the Account.

We will need to obtain certain information from you to determine your financial situation and investment objectives. You will be responsible for notifying us of any updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objective and whether you wish to impose or modify existing investment restrictions; however, we will contact you at least annually to discuss any changes or updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objectives. We are always reasonably available to consult with you relative to the status of your Account. You can impose reasonable restrictions on the management of your accounts, including the ability to instruct us not to purchase certain securities.

It is important that you understand that we manage investments for other clients and give them advice or take actions for them or for our personal accounts that is different from the advice we provide to you or actions taken for you. We are not obligated to buy, sell or recommend to you any security or other investment that we buy, sell or recommend for any other clients or for our own accounts.

Elliott Cove Capital Management has developed and monitors its 7 core portfolios made up of Dimensional Fund Advisors mutual funds. They range from long time horizon, riskier portfolios to short horizon, risk adverse portfolios. Our philosophy of working with clients is to use techniques to determine their suitability, risk tolerance and time horizon and help them choose the correct allocation for their own time horizon and risk tolerance within our 7 core portfolios. We utilize E*trade Advisor Services as the custodian for these accounts due to the depth of services including performance reporting, trading platform, and other reporting services. Brokerage fees, expenses and commissions charged by E*trade Advisor Services are in addition to, and separate from, the fees charged by Elliott Cove Capital Management for its Advisory services.

Elliott Cove Capital Management utilizes an internal investment committee to develop, maintain and monitor its portfolios. Amendments can be made to the 7 core portfolios if approved by a majority of the committee members in attendance. See Item 13 for more information about how we monitor client accounts and our portfolios.

The Investment Committee will set a target allocation for each asset class, within the range set out in our Investment Policy. The Committee will meet periodically to review the target allocation and adjust the targets when deemed appropriate.

As 3(21) fiduciary, we act as an investment advisor who assists in investment changes, building the fund lineup, reviewing the investment selection, and making investment recommendations. We are Co-fiduciaries for the plan.

As 3(38) fiduciary, we are the investment manager and have discretion to make all the changes at our own discretion. In this case we are the sole fiduciary. We generally serve as 3(38) fiduciaries with regard to our Elliott Cove portfolios. We serve as 3(21) fiduciaries with regards to funds chosen outside our portfolios and our portfolios underlying funds.

Elliott Cove evaluates and recommends vendors and investment options for its Clients following its own internal due diligence process.

If you elect to utilize any of Elliott Cove's Fiduciary Management Services, then Elliott Cove will be acting as an Investment Manager to the Plan, as defined by ERISA section 3(38), with respect to our Fiduciary Management Services, and Elliott Cove hereby acknowledges that it is a fiduciary with respect to its Fiduciary Management Services.

Elliott Cove acknowledges that in performing the Fiduciary Consulting Services listed above that it is acting as a "fiduciary" as such term is defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") for purposes of providing non-discretionary investment advice only. Elliott Cove will act in a manner consistent with the requirements of a fiduciary under ERISA if, based upon the facts and circumstances, such services cause Elliott Cove to be a fiduciary as a matter of law.

However, in providing the Fiduciary Consulting Services, Elliott Cove (a) has no responsibility and will not (i) exercise any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting management of Client's retirement plan, (ii) exercise any authority or control respecting management or disposition of assets of Client's retirement plan, or (iii) have any discretionary authority or discretionary responsibility in the administration of Client's retirement plan or the interpretation of Client's retirement plan documents, (b) is not an "investment manager" as defined in Section 3(38) of ERISA and does not have the power to manage, acquire or dispose of any plan assets, and (c) is not the "Administrator" of Client's retirement plan as defined in ERISA.

Elliott Cove will disclose, to the extent required by ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c), to you any change to the information that we are required to disclose under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) as soon as practicable, but no later than sixty (60) days from the date on which we are informed of the change (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable). Our Third Party Administrators will provide such notice and Elliott Cove Capital Management will supervise our vendors to make sure the 408b notices are provided by the vendor to the sponsors and participants.

In accordance with ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(vi)(A), we will disclose within thirty (30) days following receipt of a written request from the responsible plan fiduciary or Plan Administrator (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable) all information related to the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement and any compensation or fees received in connection with the Agreement that is required for the Plan to comply with the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 1 of ERISA and the regulations, forms and schedules issued thereunder.

If we make an unintentional error or omission in disclosing the information required under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) or (vi), we will disclose to you the correct information as soon as practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days from the date on which we learn of such error or omission.

Retirement Plan Rollover Recommendations

To the extent we recommend you roll over your account from a current retirement plan to an individual retirement account ("Rollover IRA"), managed by Elliott Cove please know that Elliott Cove and our investment adviser representatives have a conflict of interest.

We can earn increased investment advisory fees by recommending that you roll over your account at the retirement plan to a Rollover IRA managed by Elliott Cove. We will earn fewer investment advisory fees if you do not roll over the funds in the retirement plan to a Rollover IRA managed by Elliott Cove.

Thus, our investment adviser representatives have an economic incentive to recommend a rollover of funds from a retirement plan to a Rollover IRA which is a conflict of interest because our recommendation that you open an IRA account to be managed by our firm can be based on our economic incentive and not based exclusively on whether or not moving the IRA to our management program is in your overall best interest.

We have taken steps to manage this conflict of interest. we have adopted an impartial conduct standard whereby our investment adviser representatives will (i) provide investment advice to a retirement plan participant regarding a rollover of funds from the retirement plan in accordance with the fiduciary status described below, (ii) not recommend investments which result in Elliott Cove receiving unreasonable compensation related to the rollover of funds from the retirement plan to a Rollover IRA, and (iii) fully disclose compensation received by Elliott Cove and our supervised persons and any material conflicts of interest related to recommending the rollover of funds from the retirement plan to a Rollover IRA and refrain from making any materially misleading statements regarding such rollover.

Our investment advisor representatives shall act with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims, based on the investment objectives, risk, tolerance, financial circumstances, and a client's needs, without regard to the financial or other interests of Elliott Cove or our affiliated personnel.

Tailor Advisory Services to Individual Needs of Clients

Elliott Cove's advisory services are always provided based on your individual needs. This means, for example, that when we provide asset management services, you are given the ability to impose restrictions on the accounts we manage for you, including specific investment selections and sectors. We work with you on a one-on-one basis through interviews and questionnaires to determine your investment objectives and suitability information.

We will not enter into an investment adviser relationship with a prospective client whose investment objectives could be considered incompatible with our investment philosophy or strategies or where the prospective client seeks to impose unduly restrictive investment guidelines.

When managing client accounts through our firm's Asset Management Services program, we manage client accounts in accordance with the investment models previously described in this section. When client accounts are managed using models, investment selections are based on the underlying model and we do not develop customized (or individualized) portfolio holdings for each client. However, the determination to use a particular model or models is always based on each client's individual investment goals, objectives and mandates.

Elliott Cove Institutional Retirement Fee Schedule:

Elliott Cove also provides investment management services to institutional retirement programs for a fee that is based on a percentage of assets under management. In those cases, where the retirement program is referred to us, variations in allocation of the fee can be made depending on the relationship between Elliott Cove and the adviser or broker introducing the client. Any such variation is disclosed and agreed to in the retirement program's Investment Advisory Contract. Fees are negotiable based on the value of assets under management, complexity of the client's situation, the advisor representative providing services, and other factors determined between the firm and the client. We will waive or reduce our fee for services when provided to employees and other affiliated persons or our firm. There is no minimum account size since Elliott Cove does work with start-up retirement programs. Depending on the third-party administrator employed by a plan sponsor, fees will be billed and assessed on a quarterly basis either in arrears or in advance. Fees payable in arrears for advisory services will be based on the end of quarter balance of the account, including cash, for the previous quarter. Fees payable in advance for advisory services will be determined on the following basis: As of the origination date of the account, the fee for the initial quarterly period, payable in advance, will be based upon the opening valuation of the account, including cash and cash equivalents, and will be billed on a pro-rata basis for the number of days remaining in the quarter. The fee at the beginning of the next calendar quarter will be billed in advance based on the end of quarter balance of the account for the previous quarter, including cash. Subsequent quarterly management fees, calculated based on last end of quarter balance as just described, will be deducted from the account. Standard payment of asset management fees is by automatic deduction from the account.

The maximum annual retirement program fee for accounts is currently stepped and is:

Assets Managed Maximum	Annual Fee
$ 0 to $ 250,000	1.25%
$ 250,001 to $ 500,000	0.90%
$ 500,001 to $ 750,000	0.80%
$ 750,001 to $1,000,000	0.70%
$1,000,001+	0.60%

A retirement plan can cancel its Investment Advisory Contract by providing Elliott Cove with 30-days prior written notice executed by the trustee (or equivalent) of the plan. The account can be liquidated or transferred in less than 30-days. However, the notice period will serve as the basis for the computation of any pro-rata refund that is due on any unused portion of a prepaid quarterly management fee or in calculating advisory fees that will be due in the case of fees paid in arrears. A client can withdraw from this contract without penalty or fees, as it applies to Elliott Cove fees, within 5 business days of receipt of its Investment Advisory Contract.

Retirement program participants should be aware that mutual funds whose shares are held in client accounts pay advisory and other fees and expenses out of the fund's assets. These are referred to as operating expenses by mutual fund companies. These operating expenses are charged by the mutual fund companies regardless of which Investment Advisor you select and are assessed by and for the benefit of the mutual fund company. Elliott Cove does not share in any fees assessed by mutual fund companies.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Performance-based fees are defined as fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets held in a client's account. Item 6 is not applicable to this Disclosure Brochure because we do not charge or accept performance-based fees.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Elliott Cove provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals
- Pension and profit-sharing plans
- Trusts, estates, or charitable organizations
- Corporations or business entities other than those listed above

Minimum account size is $25,000, although Elliott Cove reserves the right to accept accounts lower than our minimum account size.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Primary Method of Analysis

The mutual and exchange traded funds utilized are analyzed to ensure they are low-cost, transparent and utilize academic research to make investment decisions. Elliott Cove also analyzes these funds using back-testing to determine the specific combination of investment vehicles that we believe will generate the best return for the lowest levels of risk. We analyze to ensure that we are diversified across all asset classes. Elliott Cove has strong beliefs in the efficient market hypothesis - that financial markets are highly efficient, and it is extremely difficult in the long run to "beat" them. We make this work for our clients by targeting different risk factors in the market, rather than attempting to circumvent it. Our seven portfolios are made up of Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) Mutual Funds.

Investment Strategies

Elliott Cove Portfolios are comprised of, but are not limited to, no-load open-ended mutual funds and exchange traded funds ("ETFs"). The Elliott Cove Portfolios have been constructed with guidelines that govern the risk profile of each portfolio and its on-going management.

Changes in a standard Elliott Cove Portfolio will be made if:

1. The risk of the portfolio drifts outside the policy boundaries;
2. A new investment vehicle becomes available with characteristics Elliott Cove considers superior to one or more of the components of the portfolio;
3. Advances in research dictate that a change can markedly improve the risk-reward characteristics of the portfolio;
4. The specific investment goals and desires of individual clients warrant changes in a custom portfolio. Elliott Cove does not make changes in reaction to short term activity in equity and fixed income markets, although clients are free to change their portfolios (standard) or portfolio composition (custom) in response to their perceptions of market risk and other factors.

The goal at Elliott Cove is to obtain for our investors the largest possible return with the lowest amount of risk. We believe that this is best achieved through the use of no-load open-ended mutual funds and exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), not through individual stock picking or market timing.

Risk of Loss

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, you should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds, etc.) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there can be varying degrees of risk. You should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines. There are certain additional risks associated with investing in securities through our investment management program, as described below:

- Market Risk – Either the stock market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down resulting in a decrease in value of client investments. This is also referred to as systematic risk.
- Company Risk – When investing in stock positions, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each investment. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. For example, if a company's employees go on strike or the company receives unfavorable media attention for its actions, the value of the company can be reduced.
- Fixed Income Risk – When investing in bonds, there is the risk that the issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. Further, individuals who depend on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.
- Mutual Fund Risk – When investing in a mutual fund, you will bear additional expenses based on your pro rata share of the mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning a mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the mutual fund holds.
- Management Risk – Your investment with our firm varies with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our investment strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of the investment will decrease.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Like other registered investment advisers, Elliott Cove is required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would materially impact a customer's evaluation of Elliott Cove or the integrity of Elliott Cove's management. No events have occurred at Elliott Cove that are applicable to this item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Insurance Agent

In a capacity separate from Elliott Cove your investment adviser representative will also serve as an insurance agent under the affiliated insurance agency Elliott Cove Insurance Agency and Elliott Cove Capital Insurance Agency. When acting in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent, your investment adviser representative will commonly recommend insurance and/or annuity products that generally pay commissions to the insurance agent which vary depending upon the particular product recommended. Consequently, your investment adviser representative of Elliott Cove Capital Management has an economic incentive to recommend the insurance and annuity products with a higher commission rate, which is a conflict of interest.

The receipt of commissions on insurance products also presents a conflict of interest because it can create an incentive for your investment adviser representative to place your assets in insurance products rather than advisory accounts, depending on which pays more. Consequently, the advice rendered to you could be biased. You are under no obligation to implement any insurance or annuity transaction through your investment adviser representative.

Elliott Cove Capital Management has taken steps to manage these conflicts of interest by requiring that each investment adviser representative (i) only recommend insurance and annuities when in the best interest of the client and without regard to the financial interest of Elliott Cove Capital Management and its investment adviser representative, (ii) not recommend insurance and/or annuities which result in investment adviser representative and/or Elliott Cove Capital Management receiving unreasonable compensation related to the recommendation, and (iii) disclose in writing to a client any material conflicts of interest related to insurance or annuity recommendations.

Insurance Companies Elliott Cove Capital Management works with may offers special incentive compensation while our investment adviser representatives act in their separate capacity as insurance agents, if they meet certain overall sales goals by placing annuities and/or other insurance products through the Company. A client could perceive that the receipt of commissions and additional incentive compensation itself creates a conflict of interest and would affect our independent judgment. However, this conflict is mitigated by the fact that we have a fiduciary responsibility to place the best interest of the client first and clients are not required to purchase any insurance products through us in our separate capacity as insurance agents.

Registered Representative of a Broker/Dealer

Neither Elliott Cove nor any of its management persons is registered or has an application pending to register as a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, commodity trading adviser, or associated person of the foregoing, and Elliott Cove does not anticipate such affiliations in the future. However, one of our employees William Schatz is a Registered Representative of, Lincoln Investment, a broker-dealer not related to Elliott Cove.

You can work with Mr. Schatz in his separate capacity as a registered representative of Lincoln Investment.

As a result of this relationship, Lincoln Investment will have access to certain confidential information (e.g., financial information, investment objectives, transactions and holdings) about clients of Elliott Cove, even if a client does not establish any account through Lincoln Investment. If you would like a copy of the privacy policy of Lincoln Investment, please contact Elliott Cove.

When acting in his separate capacity as a registered representative, Mr. Schatz will sell, for commissions, general securities products such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, and variable annuity and variable life products to you. As such, Mr. Schatz will suggest that you implement investment advice by purchasing securities products through a commission-based brokerage account in addition to or in lieu of a fee-based investment-advisory account. This receipt of commissions creates an incentive to recommend those products for which your investment adviser representative will receive a commission in his separate capacity as a registered representative of a securities broker-dealer. Consequently, the objectivity of the advice rendered to you could be biased.

You are under no obligation to use the services of Mr. Schatz in this separate capacity or to use Lincoln Investment and can select any broker/dealer you wish to implement securities transactions. If you select Mr. Schatz to implement securities transactions in his separate capacity as a registered representative, you must use Lincoln Investment. Prior to effecting any such transactions, you are required to enter into a new account agreement with Lincoln Investment. The commissions charged by Lincoln Investment can be higher or lower than those charged by other broker/dealers. In addition, Mr. Schatz will also receive additional ongoing 12b-1 fees for mutual fund purchases from the mutual fund company during the period that you maintain the mutual fund investment.]

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Code of Ethics Summary

An investment adviser is considered a fiduciary and has a fiduciary duty to all clients. Elliott Cove has established a Code of Ethics to comply with the requirements of the securities laws and regulations that reflects its fiduciary obligations and those of its supervised persons. The Code of Ethics also requires compliance with federal securities laws. Elliott Cove's Code of Ethics covers all individuals that are classified as "supervised persons". All employees, officers, directors and investment adviser representatives are classified as supervised persons. Elliott Cove requires its supervised persons to consistently act in your best interest in all advisory activities. Elliott Cove imposes certain requirements on its affiliates and supervised persons to ensure that they meet the firm's fiduciary responsibilities to you. The standard of conduct required is higher than ordinarily required and encountered in commercial business.

This section is intended to provide a summary description of the Code of Ethics of Elliott Cove. If you wish to review the Code of Ethics in its entirety, you should send us a written request and upon receipt of your request, we will promptly provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to you.

Affiliate and Employee Personal Securities Transactions Disclosure

Elliott Cove or supervised persons of the firm can buy or sell for their personal accounts, investments identical to those recommended to clients. This creates a potential conflict of interest. It is the express policy of Elliott Cove that all persons supervised in any manner with our firm must place clients' interests ahead of their own when implementing personal investments. As is required by our internal procedures manual, Elliott Cove and its supervised persons will not buy or sell securities for their personal account(s) where their decision is derived, in whole or in part, by information obtained as a result of employment or association with our firm unless the information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry.

We are now and will continue to be in compliance with applicable state and federal rules and regulations. To prevent conflicts of interest, we have developed written supervisory procedures that include personal investment and trading policies for our representatives, employees and their immediate family members (collectively, supervised persons). Any supervised person not observing our policies is subject to sanctions up to and including termination.

Elliott Cove and its supervised persons do not recommend to clients' securities in which Elliott Cove or a related person has a material financial interest. We do not act as principal to our clients; we do not act as general partner in a partnership in which we solicit client investments; and we do not act as an investment adviser to an investment company that we recommend to clients.

A copy of our Code of Ethics will be provided to any client or prospective client upon request.

Section 204A of the Advisers Act requires every registered investment adviser to establish, maintain and enforce written policies and procedures reasonably designed to prevent the misuse of material, nonpublic information by the adviser or by any person associated with the adviser. Elliott Cove requires prompt internal reporting of any violations of this section to its Chief Compliance Officer.

Elliott Cove usually purchases and sells shares of registered mutual funds for its clients. In this case, trading activity generated by inside information cannot affect the price of shares of a mutual fund because the daily market price of a fund's shares is determined by the net asset value of the fund's portfolio, not by the volume of trading in those shares. However, Elliott Cove can also engage in the purchase and sale of ETFs. Trading of ETFs can be affected by inside information.

Trading activity generated by inside information can affect the price of publicly traded shares of mutual fund sponsors, investment advisers, administrators and distributors. Accordingly, Elliott Cove has adopted policies and procedures that are designed to detect and prevent the misuse by Elliott Cove or by any person associated with Elliott Cove of material, nonpublic information concerning publicly traded mutual fund sponsors, advisers, administrators and distributors.

These policies and procedures are also designed to detect and prevent actual and conflicts of interest that can arise if Elliott Cove or any person associated with Elliott Cove has an interest in securities that are recommended for purchase or sale by Elliott Cove clients.

Every Elliott Cove director, officer and employee is required to read these policies and procedures and to certify, by signing and returning an acknowledgment page to Elliott Cove's Chief Compliance Officer, that he or she will comply with those policies and procedures.

Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest

a) Every Elliott Cove director, officer and employee must inform the Chief Compliance Officer within 24 hours of finalizing any business arrangement with a mutual fund sponsor, adviser, administrator or distributor, including any arrangement entered into by a company or entity controlled by that director, officer or employee.

b) If that arrangement is with the sponsor, adviser, administrator or distributor of a fund that is recommended for purchase or sale by Elliott Cove clients, Elliott Cove's federal and state registration must be amended immediately to disclose that conflict of interest.

c) In addition, Elliott Cove's brochure and any other advertising or sales literature sent to clients and prospective clients must be amended immediately to disclose the conflict of interest.

Personal Securities Trading

a) Under rule 204A-1 of the Adviser's Act, certain supervised persons, called "access persons," are required to report their personal securities transactions and holdings. An access person is a supervised person who has access to nonpublic information regarding clients' purchase or sale of securities, is involved in making securities recommendations to clients or who has access to such recommendations that are nonpublic. Dual Employees are not regarded as access persons. Dual Employees do not have access to nonpublic information regarding Elliott Cove Portfolios nor do they take part in making securities recommendations as it pertains to the composition of our Portfolios. These functions are contained within the Elliott Cove Investment Committee and not made public until communicated by the Committee. Rule 204A-1 (a)(3). Section 202(a)(25) of the Advisers Act [15 U.S.C. 80b-2(a)(25)] defines "supervised person." An adviser's supervised persons are its partners, officers, directors (or other persons occupying a similar status or performing similar functions) and non-dual employees. Every Elliott Cove director, officer and employee must report to the Chief Compliance Officer any transactions affecting any securities transaction in which they, their families, or trusts of which they are trustees or in which they have a beneficial interest, acquire an interest in an issuer involved directly or indirectly in the mutual fund industry.

b) Rule 204A-1 of the Adviser's Act requires a complete report of each access person's security holdings, both at the time the person becomes an access person and at least once a year thereafter. These security holding reports must be current as of a date not more than 45 days prior to the individual becoming an access person or the date the report is submitted (annual report).

c) Each director, officer and employee, regardless of whether they have executed any transactions mentioned in paragraph a) above, must submit a securities transaction log to the Compliance Officer within thirty days after the end of each calendar quarter detailing transaction activity.

d) Three exceptions to personal securities reporting are allowed, two of which apply to Elliott Cove and for which no reports are required by it:

- i. With respect to transactions effected pursuant to an automatic investment plan. Any transaction that overrides the preset schedule or allocations of the automatic investment plan must be included in a quarterly transaction report.

- ii. With respect to securities held in accounts over which the access person had no direct or indirect influence or control.

e) Each director, officer and employee is regarded as an "access person." Access persons must submit holdings and transaction reports for "reportable securities" in which the access person has, or acquires, any direct or indirect beneficial ownership. An access person is presumed to be a beneficial owner of securities that are held by his or her immediate family members sharing the access person's household. Rule 204A-1 treats all securities as reportable securities, with five exceptions designed to exclude securities that appear to present little opportunity for the type of improper trading that the access person reports are designed to uncover:

- i. Transactions and holding in direct obligations of the Government of the United States.

- ii. Money market instruments, banker's acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, repurchase agreements and other high quality short-term debt instruments.

- iii. Shares of money market funds.

- iv. Transactions and holdings in shares of other types of mutual funds, unless Elliott Cove or a control affiliate acts as the investment adviser or principal underwriter for the fund.

- v. Transactions in units of a unit investment trust if the unit investment trust is invested exclusively in unaffiliated mutual funds.

f) Elliott Cove requires access persons obtain prior approval from the Chief Compliance Officer before investing in an initial public offering ("IPO") or private placement.

g) If the director, officer or employee has acquired an interest in an issuer that directly or indirectly sponsors, advises, administers or distributes any mutual fund that is recommended for purchase or sale to Elliott Cove clients, Elliott Cove's federal and state registration files must be amended immediately to disclose that interest. In addition, Elliott Cove's brochure and other advertising or sales literature sent to clients and prospective clients must be amended immediately to disclose the interest.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

An employee of Elliott Cove can from time to time buy or sell shares of mutual funds that are also purchased or sold for Elliott Cove clients. The nature and timing of such personal investment transactions can differ from investment actions taken on behalf of any client, depending on their respective investment goals. Elliott Cove does not discourage these purchases since the daily market price of a mutual fund's share is determined by the net asset value of the fund's portfolio, not by the volume of trading in those shares. Client transactions are executed prior to acceptance of orders placed on behalf of employees or related persons. These transactions are consistent with policies and strategies recommended by the firm.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Custodian Recommendation for Asset Management Services

When an account is opened, Elliott Cove recommends E*TRADE Advisors ("EA") as the custodian of the client accounts. Elliott Cove does not receive from E*TRADE Advisors either (1) commissions or fees of any sort or (2) research or other soft dollar benefits for this recommendation. We do not represent or guarantee that E*trade Advisors platform is either more expensive or less expensive than others in the industry.

Elliott Cove has chosen EA as the provider of custodian services because of the breadth of services offered to our clients, and for their pricing. The custodian will charge clients fees and expenses that are separate and distinct from our advisor fees. Elliott Cove Capital Management also receives benefits that may not be received if the firm did not use E*trade Advisors. These benefits include receipt of duplicate confirmations, bundled duplicate statement, access to an electronic communications network for client account information, a trading platform, performance data relative to a client's account. E*trade advisors also provides clients with an account aggregation tool that is bundled with the price of their custodial fees.

Transaction fees for the buying or selling of mutual funds are paid directly by Elliott Cove for the life of the account. The client does not pay trading fees for normal trades for mutual funds.

Investment advisors may elect to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time when they believe such action may prove advantageous to clients. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading. It should be noted that implementing trades on a block or aggregate basis may be less expensive for client accounts; however, it is our trading policy to implement all client orders on an individual basis. Therefore, we do not aggregate or "block" client transactions. Considering the types of investments we hold in advisory client accounts, we do not believe clients are hindered in any way because we trade accounts individually. Because the models we use to manage client portfolios are comprised of mutual funds there is no benefit to aggregation as they are sold or bought at the end of the day when the Net-Asset-Value has been determined. Moreover, our strategies are primarily developed for the long-term and minor differences in price execution are not material to our overall investment strategy.

Elliott Cove does not allow for client self-directed brokerage arrangements.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Customer accounts are reviewed monthly and quarterly. Reviews are triggered only by time elapsed since last review or major shock to the market. Portfolios in tax qualified accounts will be rebalanced quarterly in accordance with Investment Policy Statements. Portfolios in taxable accounts will be rebalanced when accounts are outside the asset allocation ranges established in the Investment Policy Statement.

Accounts to be reviewed will be distributed among the following individuals for review on a quarterly basis: Ralph Chiocco Jr., President & Chief Compliance Officer; William J. Schatz, Vice President, Investments; Nikki Whittle, Operations Manager, Nik Grosch, Operations Specialist. Reviews will be conducted to ascertain if the Portfolios are still in line with their prescribed allocation ranges. In addition, Elliott Cove employs Investment Advisor Representatives in the states of Alaska and Washington. These Investment Advisor Representatives are responsible for day to day communication with clients and communicating any instructions they may receive from clients to the Elliott Cove main office. Other topics typically covered during customer meetings are:

- Changes to investment objectives, which are likely to evolve over time;
- Long-term strategic financial targets, and how well they match up with the current asset allocation;
- Current customer financial situation;
- Any other financial questions a customer may have.

Directly managed accounts receive quarterly reports indicating portfolio value and changes from previous reporting period. In addition, customers receive a notification of billing on a quarterly basis.

All account holders receive quarterly statements from E*trade Advisors and have access to their account positions 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our clients are encouraged to review their statement and to compare any performance data provided by Elliott Cove against the brokerage account statements provided by E*Trade Advisors

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Elliott Cove also maintains relationships with non-affiliated banks employing select bank employees as Investment Advisor Representatives. These bank employees are dual employees in that they are employees of Elliott Cove and the banks simultaneously.

Elliott Cove does not pay any of the above dual employees for their investment advising activity. Instead, pursuant to investment advisory services agreements, Elliott Cove pays the banks a portion of its Advisory Fees for successfully acquired Elliott Cove clients.

Clients referred to us through a bank are charged fees on the same basis as they would have been had they not been referred through a bank and are not disadvantaged because of this referral program.

As a result of the relationships described above, the employees of non-affiliated banks have a conflict of interest when recommending Elliott Cove. A prospective client referred by a non-affiliated bank is under no obligation to utilize the investment advisory services of Elliott Cove. A prospective client referred to Elliott Cove is urged to make his or her own independent investigation and evaluation of Elliott Cove.

Moreover, a client referred to Elliott Cove by a non-affiliated bank should understand the following:

- Elliott Cove is not a bank or any other type of financial depository institution. Thus, your investment advisory account and the underlying investments that are recommended/selected do not receive the same protections that are provided through a bank or other depository institution.

- The assets held in an investment advisory account at Elliott Cove are not considered deposits or obligations of a bank.
- Assets held in investment advisory accounts established through Elliott Cove are subject to investment risk, including fluctuations in value and earnings and possible loss of principal amount invested
- With respect to the securities recommended or selected by Elliott Cove, such securities
 - Are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA);
 - Are not endorsed or guaranteed by the bank; and
 - Are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of principal invested.

Item 15 – Custody

Elliott Cove does not take possession of client money or securities, although Elliott Cove generally has the authority to deduct its advisory fees from client accounts. E*Trade Advisors serves as custodian for all client accounts, except those 401(k) accounts currently third party administered by Newport Group, Northwest Plan Services, Inc., Retirement Plan Consultants, LT Trust, Southeastern Benefit Services or Ascensus.

At least quarterly, customers receive account statements from the custodians that hold and maintain their managed account assets.

Customers are responsible and are encouraged to review these custodial statements and compare them with account information available online as provided by E*Trade Advisors. Online access is available seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Customers should contact Elliott Cove immediately if any discrepancies or errors are discovered.

Custody, as it applies to investment advisors, has been defined by regulators as having access or control over client funds and/or securities. In other words, custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment adviser has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment adviser is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

When providing asset management services, Elliott Cove Capital Management maintains trading authorization over your account(s). It is our practice to provide management services on a discretionary basis. When discretionary authority is granted, we will have the authority to determine the type of securities and the amount of securities that can be bought or sold for your portfolio without obtaining your consent for each transaction.

Provisions for discretionary trading will be memorialized, in writing, in our Advisory Agreement.

You will always have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments purchased in your account(s). You can also place reasonable limitations on the discretionary power granted to Elliott Cove Capital Management as long as the limitations are specifically set forth or included as an attachment to the client agreement.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Elliott Cove Capital Management does not vote proxies on behalf of clients. We have determined that taking on the responsibilities for voting client securities does not add enough value to the services provided to you to justify the additional compliance and regulatory costs associated with voting client securities. Therefore, it is your responsibility to vote all proxies for securities held in your account(s).

You will receive proxies directly from the qualified custodian or transfer agent; we will not provide you with the proxies. You are encouraged to read through the information provided with the proxy-voting documents and make a determination based on the information provided. Although we do not vote client proxies, if you have a question about a particular proxy feel free to contact us. However, you will have the ultimate responsibility for making all proxy-voting decisions.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Item 18 is not applicable to this brochure. Elliott Cove Capital Management does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for the most recent year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, Elliott Cove Capital Management has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

Customer Privacy Policy Notice

In November of 1999, Congress enacted the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA). The GLBA requires certain financial institutions, such as investment adviser firms, to protect the privacy of customer information. In situations where a financial institution does disclose customer information to non-affiliated third parties, other than permitted or required by law, customers must be given the opportunity to opt out or prevent such disclosure. Elliott Cove Capital Management (ECCM) does not share or disclose customer information to non-affiliated third parties except as permitted or required by law.

ECCM is committed to safeguarding the confidential information of its clients. ECCM holds all personal information provided by clients in the strictest confidence and it is the objective of ECCM to protect the privacy of all clients. Except as permitted or required by law, ECCM does not share confidential information about clients with non-affiliated parties. If there were to be a change in this policy, ECCM will provide clients with written notice and clients will be provided an opportunity to direct ECCM as to whether such disclosure is permissible.

To conduct regular business, ECCM may collect personal information from sources such as:

- Information reported by the client on applications or other forms the client provides to ECCM
- Information about the client's transactions implemented by ECCM or others
- Information developed as part of financial plans, analyses or investment advisory services

To administer, manage, service and provide related services for client accounts, it is necessary for ECCM to provide access to customer information within the firm and to non-affiliated companies, (including custodians and banks we contract with), with whom ECCM has entered into agreements. To provide the utmost service, ECCM may disclose the information below regarding customers and former customers, as necessary, to companies to perform certain services on ECCM's behalf.

- Information ECCM receives from the client on applications (name, Social Security number, address, assets, etc.)
- Information about the client's transactions with ECCM or others (account information, payment history, parties to transactions, etc.)

- Information concerning investment advisory account transactions
- Information about a client's financial products and services transaction with ECCM

Since ECCM shares non-public information solely to service client accounts, ECCM does not disclose any non-public personal information about ECCM's customers or former customers to anyone, except as permitted by law. However, ECCM may also provide customer information outside of the firm as required by law, such as to government entities, consumer reporting agencies or other third parties in response to subpoenas. If ECCM has a change to its customer privacy policy that would allow it to disclose non-public information not covered under applicable law, ECCM will allow its clients the opportunity to opt out of such disclosure.
