Item 4 – Advisory Business

A. Description of Advisory Firm

Physician Wealth Solutions Inc. (“PWS”) is a registered investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. PWS is a fee only investment advisory and financial planning firm. PWS has been in business since September 2013. The principal owner of PWS is Setu Mazumdar, MD, CFP®, RICP®, AIF®.

B. Types of Advisory Services

General Description of Primary Advisory Services

The following are brief descriptions of our advisory services. A detailed description of each service is provided in Item 5 – Fees and Compensation so that you can review the services and description of fees in a side-by-side manner.

PWS provides three services: Investment management for individuals and families, financial planning for individuals and families, and qualified retirement plan consulting services for qualified retirement plans.

Investment Management

Investment management includes managing an investment portfolio across all accounts, including taxable, IRA, Roth IRA, SEP IRA, and other investment and retirement accounts mutually agreed upon by PWS and each client. For investment management PWS specializes in managing investments through low cost diversified index and passively managed mutual funds. Index funds and passive mutual funds are mutual funds that do not attempt to “beat” the market or engage in market timing. Instead they provide broad diversification to each investment class in a low-cost way and attempt to match the returns of an investment class.

Held-Away Asset Services

In an effort to provide comprehensive wealth management, we offer advice, as requested by Clients, on held-away assets. This includes assets held outside PWS’ primary custodian, such as an employer-sponsored 401(k), 403(b) account, 529 account, separately managed accounts, as well as mutual funds or trusts.

Under this service we will provide ongoing monitoring and guidance and integrate held-away assets into the client’s total portfolio. Held-away services include, but are not limited to, guiding a client on security transactions and helping rebalance held-away portfolios. The client is responsible for making the trades in held-away accounts.

Financial Planning

Financial planning services include reviewing personal and financial goals, reviewing insurance needs, doing cash flow analysis, retirement planning, reviewing estate plans, education planning, providing general financial advice on matters a client has questions about, and coordination with other consultants.

Retirement Plan Services – Physician Wealth Solutions offers retirement plan services to retirement plan sponsors and to individual participants in retirement plans. For a corporate sponsor of a retirement plan, retirement plan services can include, but are not limited to, the following services:

Fiduciary Consulting Services

Physician Wealth Solutions provides the following Fiduciary Retirement Plan Consulting Services:

- Investment Policy Statement Preparation. Physician Wealth Solutions will help you develop an investment policy statement. The investment policy statement establishes the investment policies and objectives for the Plan. You will have the ultimate responsibility and authority to establish such policies and objectives and to adopt and amend the investment policy statement.
- Investment Selection Services. Physician Wealth Solutions will provide you with recommendations of investment options consistent with ERISA section 404(c).
- Investment Monitoring. Physician Wealth Solutions will assist in monitoring investment options in the following ways: the custodian will prepare periodic investment reports that document investment performance, consistency of fund management and conformation to the guidelines set forth in the investment policy statement, and Physician Wealth Solutions will make recommendations to maintain or remove and replace investment options.
- Non-Discretionary Investment Advice. Physician Wealth Solutions will provide you with general, non-discretionary investment advice regarding assets classes and investment options, consistent with the Plan's investment policy statement.
- Default Investment Alternative Advice. Physician Wealth Solutions will provide non-discretionary investment advice to assist you with the development of qualified default investment alternative(s) ("QDIA"), as defined in DOL Reg. Section 2550.404c-5(e)(4)(i), for participants who are automatically enrolled in the Plan or who otherwise fail to make an investment election. You retain the sole responsibility to provide all notices to participants required under ERISA section 404(c)(5).

Physician Wealth Solutions acknowledges that in performing the Fiduciary Consulting Services listed above that it is acting as a “fiduciary” as such term is defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) for purposes of providing non-discretionary investment advice only. Physician Wealth Solutions will act in a manner consistent with the requirements of a fiduciary under ERISA if, based upon the facts and circumstances, such services cause Physician Wealth Solutions to be a fiduciary as a matter of law. However, in providing the Fiduciary Consulting Services, Physician Wealth Solutions (a) has no responsibility and will not (i) exercise any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting management of Client’s retirement plan, (ii) exercise any authority or control respecting management or disposition of assets of Client’s retirement plan, or (iii) have any discretionary authority or discretionary responsibility in the administration of Client’s retirement plan or the interpretation of Client’s retirement plan documents, (b) is not an “investment manager” as defined in Section 3(38) of ERISA and does not have the power to manage, acquire or dispose of any plan assets, and (c) is not the “Administrator” of Client’s retirement plan as defined in ERISA.

Non-Fiduciary Services

Physician Wealth Solutions provides clients with the following Non-Fiduciary Retirement Plan Consulting Services:

- Participant Education. Physician Wealth Solutions will provide education services to Plan participants about general investment principles and the investment alternatives available under the Plan. PWS’s assistance in participant investment education will be consistent with and within the scope of DOL Interpretive Bulletin 96-1. Education presentations will not take into account the individual circumstances of each participant and individual recommendations will not be provided unless otherwise agreed upon. Plan participants are responsible for implementing transactions in their own accounts.
- Participant Enrollment. Physician Wealth Solutions will assist you with group enrollment meetings designed to increase retirement plan participation among employees and investment and financial understanding by the employees.

Although an investment adviser is considered a fiduciary under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and required to meet the fiduciary duties as defined by the Advisers Act, the services listed here as non-fiduciary should not be considered fiduciary services for the purposes of ERISA since Advisor is not acting as a fiduciary to the Plan as the term “fiduciary” is defined in Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA.

The exact suite of services provided to a client will be listed and detailed in the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement.

All recommendations of investment options and portfolios will be submitted to the client for the client’s ultimate approval or rejection. Therefore, it is always the client’s responsibility to accept investment recommendations of Physician Wealth Solutions and then physically make changes to the plan itself.

In the event a client contracts with Physician Wealth Solutions for one-on-one consulting services with plan participants, such services are consultative in nature and do not involve Physician Wealth Solutions implementing recommendations in individual participant accounts. It will be the responsibility of each participant to implement changes in the participant’s individual accounts.

PWS can also meet with individual participants to discuss their specific investment risk tolerance, investment time frame and investment selections.

Retirement plan consulting services are not management services, and Physician Wealth Solutions does not serve as administrator or trustee of the plan. Physician Wealth Solutions does not act as custodian for any client account or have access to client funds or securities (with the exception of, some accounts, having written authorization from the client to deduct PWS’s fees). In addition, PWS does not implement any transactions in a retirement plan or participant’s account. For retirement plan consulting services, the retirement plan or the plan participant who elects to implement any recommendations made by PWS is solely responsible for implementing all transactions.

Physician Wealth Solutions will disclose, to the extent required by ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c), to you any change to the information that PWS is required to disclose under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) as soon as practicable, but no later than sixty (60) days from the date on which PWS is informed of the change (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond PWS’s control, in which case the information will be disclose as soon as practicable).

In accordance with ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(vi)(A), PWS will disclose within thirty (30) days following receipt of a written request from the responsible plan fiduciary or Plan Administrator (unless such disclose is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond PWS's control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable) all information related to the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement and any compensation or fees received in connection with the Agreement that is required for the Plan to comply with the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 1 of ERISA and the regulations, forms and schedules issued thereunder.

If PWS makes an unintentional error or omission in disclosing the information required under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) or (vi), PWS will disclose to you the correct information as soon as practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days from the date on which PWS learns of such error or omission.

IRA Rollovers - When recommending that a client rollover his or her account from current retirement plan to an IRA, Physician Wealth Solutions and its investment adviser representatives have a conflict of interest. Physician Wealth Solutions and its representatives can earn investment advisory fees by recommending that a client rollover his or her account at the retirement plan to an IRA; however, Physician Wealth Solutions and its investment adviser representatives will not earn any investment advisory fee if client does not rollover the funds in the retirement plan (unless a client retained Physician Wealth Solutions to provide advice about the client's retirement plan account). Thus, Physician Wealth Solutions and its investment adviser representatives have an economic incentive to recommend a rollover of the retirement plan account, which is a conflict of interest. Physician Wealth Solutions has taken steps to manage this conflict of interest arising from rolling over funds from an ERISA covered retirement plan to an IRA and has adopted an impartial conduct standard through its code of ethics whereby Physician Wealth Solutions and its investment adviser representatives will (i) provide investment advice to ERISA covered retirement plan participant regarding a rollover of funds from the ERISA covered retirement plan in accordance with the fiduciary status described below, (ii) not recommend investments which result in Physician Wealth Solutions receiving unreasonable compensation related to the rollover of funds from the ERISA covered retirement plan to an IRA, and (iii) fully disclose compensation received by Physician Wealth Solutions and its supervised persons and any material conflicts of interest related to Physician Wealth Solutions recommending the rollover of funds from the ERISA covered retirement plan to an IRA and refrain from making any materially misleading statements regarding such rollover.

To the extent Physician Wealth Solutions provides investment advice to a participant in a retirement plan under Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 as amended ("ERISA") regarding whether to maintain investments and/or proceeds in an ERISA retirement plan, rollover such investment/proceeds from the ERISA retirement plan to an individual retirement account ("Rollover IRA account") or make a distribution from the ERISA retirement plan, Physician Wealth Solutions hereby acknowledges its fiduciary obligations with regard to its investment advice about whether to maintain, rollover or distribute proceeds from those ERISA retirement plans, and as such a fiduciary with respect to its investment advice about whether to maintain, rollover or distribute proceeds from those ERISA retirement plans, Physician Wealth Solutions and its representatives shall act with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims, based on the investment objectives, risk, tolerance, financial circumstances, and a client's needs, without regard to the financial or other interests of Physician Wealth Solutions or its affiliates.

C. Tailor Advisory Services to Individual Needs of Clients

Our services are always provided based on the individual needs of each client. This means, for example, that the client is given the ability to impose restrictions on their accounts, including restricting specific investment selections and sectors. We work with you on a one-on-one basis through interviews and questionnaires to determine your investment objectives and suitability information.

D. Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

PWS does not participate in wrap fee programs.

E. Client Assets Managed by Physician Wealth Solutions, Inc.

As of 12/31/20 PWS manages $188,762,361 in total assets. Of that total PWS manages $186,718,404 in discretionary assets and $2,043,957 in nondiscretionary assets.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

In addition to the information provided in Item 4 – Advisory Business, this section provides details regarding our services along with descriptions of each service's fees and compensation arrangements.

A. Fee Schedules

Investment Management For Individuals and Families

Physician Wealth Solutions offers investment management services for individuals and families that are billed on an annual fee based upon the assets placed under our management and under our advisement or on a fixed annual fee basis.

The specific type of fee schedule for each client will be determined based on factors such as the value of a client's assets under advisement (held away assets), the level of investable assets, the complexity of the client's situation, and other factors.

Assets Under Management Fee Schedule:

Portfolio Value	Annual Fee
First $1 million	1.0%
Next $1 million	0.8%
Amounts above $2 million	0.6%

The fee schedule is subject to a minimum annual fee. Clients pay the higher of the minimum annual fee or the fee as calculated by the fee schedule. Both the fee schedule and minimum annual fee are negotiable.

The Portfolio Value is calculated by adding up the discretionary and nondiscretionary assets that PWS directly manages as well as assets under advisement, which are held away accounts and assets that PWS provides advice on, such as a client's 401k, 403b, other employer sponsored retirement plans and any other accounts mutually agreed upon by PWS and the client. For example, if a client has a discretionary account that PWS manages directly and can make trades in, and also has an employer sponsored 401k that PWS provides advice on but cannot make trades in (client is responsible for making trades), the values of both accounts are added together to calculate the Portfolio Value. The Portfolio Value is then used to calculate the investment advisory fee according to the fee schedule and subject to the minimum annual fee. For assets under advisement (held away accounts) such as employer sponsored retirement accounts and other accounts that PWS does not provide discretionary or nondiscretionary investment management, the client is responsible for making the buy and sell transactions.

Clients pay fees in advance for each quarter.

PWS, in its sole discretion, can negotiate to charge a lower annual investment advisory fee based upon certain circumstances (anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, pre-existing client relationship, etc.). Existing clients can have a fee schedule that is different from the current fee schedule.

Fixed Annual Fee Asset Management Fee Schedule:

Fees charged for fixed annual fee asset management services are negotiable based on the type of client, the complexity of the client's situation, the composition of the client's account (i.e., equities versus mutual funds), number and type of accounts, the relationship of the client with the investment adviser representative, and the total amount of assets under management and advisement for the client. The actual fee to be charged will be discussed in advance with you and specified in the client agreement executed at the beginning of our engagement.

Fees for our asset management services provided on a fixed annual fee basis are billed quarterly in advance (at the beginning of the billing period). If asset management services are commenced in the middle of the billing period, then the prorated fee for that billing period will be billed in arrears at the end of that billing period.

Fixed fee arrangements will be reviewed on an annual basis. Material changes in a Client's situation can result in a change in PWS's annual fixed fee. Throughout the relationship, PWS will periodically review the fixed fee for each Client and update it based on factors such as inflation, the complexity of the Client's financial situation, composition of the client's account, total amount of assets under management and advisement, and other factors. As stated in our client agreement Clients will receive 30 days advance written notice of any fee changes.

The Fixed Fee Asset management services continue until terminated by either party (i.e., PWS or you) by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the other party. When fees are billed in advance, PWS will promptly refund any unearned fees up to the date of termination.

PWS believes that its annual fee is reasonable in relation to: (1) services provided and (2) the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs. However, PWS's annual investment advisory fee can be higher than that charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs. In addition to PWS's fee, you can also incur charges imposed at the mutual fund level (e.g., advisory fees and other fund expenses).

It should be noted that lower fees for comparable services can be available from other sources.

Financial Planning for Individuals and Families

Financial planning services are included in the fee schedule for investment management mentioned above. There is no separate fee for financial planning.

Retirement Plan Services (for corporate employer sponsored retirement plans)

Physician Wealth Solutions offers retirement plan services for corporate employer sponsored retirement plans that are billed on an annual fee based upon the total market value of the plan assets or on a fixed annual fee basis.

The specific type of fee schedule for each client will be determined based on factors such as the total market value of plan assets, the complexity of the client's situation, and other factors. The actual fee to be charged will be discussed in advance with you and specified in the client agreement executed at the beginning of our engagement.

If the plan is billed based on the total value of the plan assets, then the annual fee is 0.5% of the total market value of the plan assets subject to a minimum annual fee. Clients pay the higher of the minimum annual fee or the fee as calculated by the fee schedule. Both the fee schedule and minimum annual fee are negotiable.

Fees for retirement plan services provided on a fixed annual fee basis are billed quarterly in advance (at the beginning of the billing period). If retirement plan services are commenced in the middle of the billing period, then the prorated fee for that billing period will be billed in arrears at the end of that billing period.

Fees charged for fixed annual retirement plan services are negotiable based on complexity of the plan, the size of the plan assets, the actual services requested, the representative providing the services and the potential for additional deposits.

Material changes in a Client's situation can result in a change in PWS's fee. Throughout the relationship, it is anticipated that PWS will periodically review the fixed-fee for each Client and update it based on factors such as the complexity of the Client's plan, the size of the plan assets, the actual services requested, the representative providing the services, the potential for additional deposits, and other factors. The Client will be notified of any fee changes in writing, and if the result is a fee increase it must be acknowledged by the Client in writing before taking effect.

PWS believes that its annual fee is reasonable in relation to: (1) services provided and (2) the fees charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs. However, PWS's annual investment advisory fee can be higher than that charged by other investment advisers offering similar services/programs. In addition to PWS's fee, you can also incur charges imposed at the mutual fund level (e.g., advisory fees and other fund expenses).

The Fixed Fee retirement plan services continue until terminated by either party (i.e., PWS or you) by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the other party. When fees are billed in advance, PWS will promptly refund any unearned fees up to the date of termination.

PWS does not accept commissions from mutual funds, insurance products, mutual fund companies, insurance companies or any other source. PWS does not accept referral fees from any source.

B. Fee Payment Options

Investment Management for Individuals and Families

Investment management fees are deducted from your account and paid directly to PWS by the qualified custodian(s) of your account. PWS deducts fees and bills clients every quarter (3 months) on or about the first day of each quarter (January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1).

You must authorize the qualified custodian(s) of your account to deduct fees from your account and pay such fees directly to PWS. PWS will send you a billing statement prior to the time that fee deduction instruction is sent to the qualified custodian(s) of your account. The billing statement will detail the formula used to calculate the fee, the assets under management and the time period covered.

You should review your account statements received from the qualified custodian(s) and verify that appropriate investment management fees are being deducted. The qualified custodian(s) will not verify the accuracy of the investment management fees deducted.

In some circumstances you can pay fees after receiving a statement. Such circumstances include: payment of the first fee because accounts have not yet been opened, insufficient cash in accounts, and other circumstances. Fees are due upon your receipt of a billing notice sent directly to you. The billing notice will detail the formula used to calculate the fee, the assets under management and the time period covered. Fees for the services of PWS will be due immediately after your receipt of the billing notice.

PWS retains the right to impose a $50 late fee for payments outstanding more than 30 days. In addition, PWS will impose a $100 late fee for payments outstanding more than 60 days. Client accounts that remain delinquent in excess of 60 days will be subject to the termination of the investment advisory services agreement at the discretion of PWS.

The asset management services will continue in effect until terminated by either party (i.e., PWS or you) by providing written notice of termination to the other party. If services are terminated within five business days of signing the client agreement, services are terminated without penalty. Any prepaid but unearned fees are promptly refunded to the client at the effective date of termination.

Retirement Plan Services (for corporate employer sponsored retirement plans)

For retirement plan sponsors and participants, fees are billed in advance (at the start of the billing period) on a quarterly calendar basis and calculated based on the fair market value of your account as of the last business day of the previous billing period. Fees are prorated (based on the number of days service is provided during the initial billing period) for your account opened at any time other than the beginning of the billing period.

The investment advisory fees can be deducted from your account and paid directly to PWS by the qualified custodian(s) of your account or you can pay PWS upon receipt of a billing notice sent directly to you. Clients can change their chosen method for the payment of advisory fees by providing PWS with advance written or e-mail notification. PWS deducts fees and bills clients every quarter (3 months) on or about the first day of each quarter (January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1).

If you choose to have the investment management fees deducted from your account, you must authorize the qualified custodian(s) of your account to deduct fees from your account and pay such fees directly to PWS. PWS will send you a billing statement prior to the time that fee deduction instruction is sent to the qualified custodian(s) of your account. The billing statement will detail the formula used to calculate the fee, the assets under management and the time period covered.

You should review your account statements received from the qualified custodian(s) and verify that appropriate investment management fees are being deducted. The qualified custodian(s) will not verify the accuracy of the investment management fees deducted.

If you choose to pay the fees after receiving a statement, fees are due upon your receipt of a billing notice sent directly to you. The billing notice will detail the formula used to calculate the fee, the assets under management and the time period covered. Fees for the services of PWS will be due immediately after your receipt of the billing notice. PWS retains the right to impose a $50 late fee for payments outstanding more than 30 days. In addition, PWS will impose a $100 late fee for payments outstanding more than 60 days. Client accounts that remain delinquent in excess of 60 days will be subject to the termination of the investment advisory services agreement at the discretion of PWS.

C. Other Fees and Charges

Physician Wealth Solutions does not reasonably expect to receive any other compensation, direct or indirect, for its Services. If PWS receives any other compensation for such services, PWS will (i) offset that compensation against PWS's stated fees, and (ii) will disclose the amount of such compensation, the services rendered for such compensation and the payer of such compensation to you.

In addition to PWS's fee, clients will incur mutual fund expenses, and brokerage fees charged by the custodian. PWS does not receive any of these fees and does not accept commissions from mutual fund companies, insurance companies, brokerage firms, or custodians. Please see the Brokerage section of this Form ADV Part 2A for more information on brokerage.

D. Fee Payment Schedule

As stated previously all clients are required to pay investment advisory fees in advance. If the client is billed based on assets under management, then the fee is based upon the Portfolio Value as of the last day of the previous quarter. For example, the fee for the second quarter of the calendar year (April 1-June 30) is based upon the Portfolio Value as of March 31. If a client terminates an advisory contract before the end of a billing period, then PWS will refund a prorated amount of the quarterly fee based upon the number of days left in the quarter. For example, if a quarter has 90 days and the client terminates the advisor contract on day number 44, then PWS will refund 46/90 of the fee that has been paid for that quarter to the client.

E. Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

PWS does not accept commissions from mutual funds, insurance products, mutual fund companies, insurance companies or any other source. PWS does not accept referral fees from any source.

PWS does not accept compensation from the sale of securities or the sale of other investment products and does not accept asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds. PWS does not charge commissions or markups.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Item 6 of the Form ADV Part 2 instructions is not applicable to this Disclosure Brochure because Physician Wealth Solutions, Inc. does not charge or accept performance-based fees which can be defined as fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets held within a client's account.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Physician Wealth Solutions, Inc. provides investment advice to the following types of clients:

- Individuals
- Pension and profit-sharing plans
- Trusts, estates and charitable organizations
- Corporations and business entities other than those listed above

Minimum Investment Amount Guidelines

There is no minimum account size for opening or maintaining an account. There is a negotiable annual minimum fee for establishing a relationship with PWS.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Investment Analysis and Strategies

PWS uses multiple methods of analysis in formulating investment advice. These methods include the following:

1. Determining the appropriate amount of risk that each client can take, including the ability, willingness, and need to take risk.
2. Determining the appropriate investment products and vehicles to match as closely as possible the client's ability, willingness, and need to take risk.
3. Determining the fees and expenses in the mutual funds used in client investment portfolios.
4. Determining how broadly diversified each mutual fund is
5. Determining the tax efficiency of different mutual funds

PWS uses the following sources for analyzing specific investments and mutual funds:

1. Financial newspapers and magazines
2. Research reports prepared by mutual fund companies
3. Academic research in financial journals
4. Annual reports and prospectuses
5. Company press releases

Physician Wealth Solutions, Inc. uses the following investment strategies when managing client assets and/or providing investment advice.

PWS investment strategies and investment philosophy center around the following areas:

1. Markets are efficient, meaning that all information is already reflected in current securities prices and the market as a whole. This means that it is unlikely for someone to outperform the market in the long run. From a practical perspective this means that PWS does not engage in market timing or stock picking.
2. Asset allocation, which is the mix of different investments, determines the majority of investment returns. Picking individual securities is much less important than having an appropriate mix of different investments. PWS focuses on asset allocation and does not engage in market timing or stock picking.
3. Risk and return are related. To get higher returns you must take on more risk.
4. PWS broadly diversifies every client's portfolio. Within each asset class the mutual funds we use usually own several hundred or several thousand individual securities. PWS uses multiple asset classes for further diversification. This reduces but does not eliminate the risk of owning one particular asset class.
5. PWS uses primarily mutual funds called index funds and other passive investment vehicles such as asset class funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs). Index funds and passive funds are mutual funds which do not engage in stock picking or market timing. Instead index funds and passive funds own as many different securities within each asset class as possible.
6. PWS keeps costs as low as possible in client portfolios by using index funds and passive funds and by avoiding frequent trading.
7. PWS rebalances portfolios periodically to stay within the range of a client's risk tolerance.
8. PWS also considers the location of investments in different types of accounts. For example, certain investments can be more suitable in tax deferred accounts whereas others are more suitable for taxable accounts.
9. For taxable accounts PWS can use tax managed funds to minimize tax consequences.

PWS does not guarantee the performance of client portfolios or any particular mutual fund. Clients should expect to lose money in their portfolios from time to time. This is expected because stock market and bond market investing is risky.

B. Risk of Loss

Clients must understand that past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, current and prospective clients (including you) should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there are varying degrees of risk. Clients and prospective clients should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

These investing strategies involve a risk of loss and from time to time client portfolios will have losses. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. PWS does not guarantee the performance of any investment vehicle, investment strategy, or the overall portfolio.

The investment strategies and methods of analysis involve the following types of risk:

1. Market risk—the risk that an individual security or the overall portfolio will lose money based on being invested in the market.
2. Inflation risk—the risk that the return of the portfolio will underperform inflation and the risk of losing money with high inflation, especially with bond investments.
3. Interest rate risk—the risk that bond investments can drop in value if interest rates rise
4. Reinvestment risk—the risk that the interest rate of bond investments can drop and the interest which is reinvested in bonds will have a lower rate of return because of lower interest rates.
5. Currency risk—the risk that international investments and mutual funds will lose value if foreign currencies become weaker than the US dollar
6. Event risk—the risk of losing money based upon unusual and significant global and political events
7. Political risk—the risk of investing internationally and losing money if other governments have political instability.
8. Tax Risk—the risk of losing money based on changes in the tax laws
9. Manager risk—the risk of losing money based on the mutual fund manager's investment decisions
10. Liquidity risk—the risk of losing money because of investments that cannot be sold immediately for a predetermined price

11. Tracking error risk—the risk that a diversified portfolio’s return is different than a non-diversified portfolio that invests in only a limited number of securities or one asset class
12. ETF and Mutual Fund Risk – When investing in an ETF or mutual fund, you will bear additional expenses based on your pro rata share of the ETF’s or mutual fund’s operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. You will also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs. Both ETFs and mutual funds have risks mentioned above.
13. Outbreaks of Communicable Infections or Diseases - Disease outbreaks and other public health conditions, such as the global outbreak of the novel COVID-19 (“coronavirus”) currently being experienced, in markets in which PWS has made and will continue to make investments, can have a significant negative impact on certain investments. Global financial markets, which includes U.S. markets, have begun to reflect the uncertainty associated with the slowdown in the economy and the potential impact if businesses, workers, customers and others are prevented or restricted from conducting business activities due to quarantines, business closures or other restrictions imposed by businesses or governmental authorities in response to the coronavirus outbreak. This can result in an economic downturn and cause market disruption which negatively impacts PWS’ investments.

The imposition of international and domestic travel restrictions and the potential disruption to PWS’ business if PWS’ employees are subject to quarantine, contract coronavirus, or are otherwise unable to work due to restrictions related to the coronavirus outbreak can negatively impact PWS’ business and can have a material adverse effect on PWS’ ability to manage client assets. Due to the significant disruptions resulting from the risks described above, PWS has a business continuity plan that has been implemented, pursuant to which personnel will work from home or remote locations. PWS believes that it has taken and will continue to take all necessary actions pursuant to its business continuity plan, but PWS will have increased exposure to such disruptions. PWS will monitor all these potential issues in order to ensure that PWS’ business continues as normal to the greatest extent possible and the health and safety of its employees, clients, service providers and principals are given the highest priority.

There can be other risks in client portfolios in addition to the main ones listed above.

C. Primarily Recommend One Type of Security

PWS recommends primarily passive investment vehicles such as index funds, asset class funds, and exchange traded funds (ETFs). Index funds, asset class funds, and ETFs have the same risks as noted above.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics Summary

PWS has adopted a code of ethics pursuant to SEC rule 204A-1. Specifically, PWS code of ethics is based on the principle that all Advisory Representatives of PWS have a fiduciary duty to place the interest of Clients ahead of their own and PWS's interests. PWS has provisions requiring supervised persons to comply with federal and state securities laws, requiring supervisory persons and representatives to report their personal securities transactions and holdings periodically, requiring supervised persons to report any violations of the code of ethics to the chief compliance officer, requiring each supervised person to receive a copy of the code of ethics and requiring supervised persons to provide a written acknowledgement of the receipt of the code of ethics.

PWS provides clients and prospective clients a copy of the code of ethics upon request.

B. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

C. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Employee trading is periodically monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between PWS and its clients. This policy is meant to prevent PWS and its representatives from benefiting as a result of transactions placed on behalf of client accounts

D. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

PWS and its representatives can buy or sell for their personal accounts the same securities recommended to clients. Employee trading is periodically monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between PWS and its clients. This policy is meant to prevent PWS and its representatives from benefiting as a result of transactions placed on behalf of client accounts.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

This section provides information about our brokerage practices in addition to the information detailed in Item 5 – Fees and Compensation.

A. Selecting Brokerage Firms

PWS recommends TD Ameritrade Institutional (TDAI) as the introducing broker-dealer for client accounts. However, the client is not obligated to effect transactions through any broker-dealer recommended by PWS.

PWS considers multiple factors when recommending a particular broker-dealer. Among these factors are the full range of a broker-dealer's services, the value of the research provided, the executions capability, commission rates, responsiveness, access to certain institutional mutual funds, the ability to have advisor fees deducted from client accounts, and other factors.

PWS receives research and execution related services from TDAI. The research and execution related services and products provided by TDAI include pricing information and other research products or services. These services are offered to all investment advisers who use TDAI. The commissions charged by TDAI can be higher than the commissions charged by a broker-dealer that does not provide research and execution services. Any research or other services provided to PWS by TDAI are used to service all client accounts.

In the last fiscal year PWS received access to institutional brokerage services, a broad range of investment products, pricing and other market data, deduction of fees from client accounts, account statements, conferences on practice management, and other services from TDAI. TDAI provides these services to all investment advisers who have a relationship with TDAI.

By receiving these benefits without cost to PWS, there is a conflict of interest in PWS advising clients to open and maintain their investment account(s) with TDAI because PWS has an incentive to do so over other similar custodians. Despite the benefits to PWS, PWS does not believe that these benefits are so material to our business that they would influence our decision to recommend TDAI as a broker-dealer to our clients because of the fact that similar relationships are available with other qualified broker-dealers. We use such research and soft dollar benefits to help us service all client accounts, not just those that generated the benefits. We do not seek to allocate research and soft dollar benefits to client accounts in proportion to how those accounts generate soft dollars. While soft dollar and other research benefits are available to PWS, these benefits are not a factor in executing transactions. PWS believes that its recommendation of TDAI as broker-dealer is in the best interests of clients. PWS's selection is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of TDAI's services.

PWS believes that the commissions and transaction costs that TDAI charges to clients for securities transactions are reasonable compared to other broker-dealers. PWS does not receive any part of the commissions or transaction costs that TDAI charges to clients.

PWS does not receive client referrals for selecting a particular broker-dealer.

While PWS recommends TDAI as the broker-dealer for client accounts, clients are not obligated to use TDAI as their broker-dealer. If a client directs brokerage it is possible that the client will not receive the most favorable execution of client transactions. This can cost clients more money. Also, if a client directs brokerage it is possible that the client will not be able to access certain investment products or mutual funds. It is also possible that Clients will pay higher brokerage commissions as a result of choosing their own broker-dealer.

PWS and TDAI are not affiliated and do not have an economic relationship. PWS does not receive any part of the commission that TDAI charges to clients.

B. Trading Policy

Our trading policy is to implement all client orders on an individual basis. PWS does not aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts. For individual securities this can result in higher transaction costs for clients in certain circumstances.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

A: Periodic Reviews

Account Reviews and Reviewers

Setu Mazumdar (President and Investment Adviser Representative) reviews client investment accounts at least every six months. The review includes multiple items, such as the client's current asset allocation, the target asset allocation, anticipated future cash flows in to the account, a client's risk tolerance, and a client's ability, willingness, and need to take risk.

Setu Mazumdar (President and Investment Adviser Representative) reviews financial plans periodically. Usually financial plans are reviewed annually. However financial plans can be reviewed more or less frequently than annually depending on specific client circumstances. The reviews are specific to each client and can include reviewing a client's cash flow, insurance planning, retirement planning, education planning, coordination with outside consultants, and other general financial planning areas specific to each client.

B. Review Triggers

Setu Mazumdar (President and Investment Adviser Representative) can review a client's account other than on a periodic basis. Factors that can trigger a review include a client changing jobs, a change in a client's income, a change in a client's risk tolerance, and other factors.

C. Statements and Reports

The custodian provides statements to clients at least every quarter. PWS also provides written reports of client accounts periodically. The content of the report includes such items as: the securities that the client owns, the number of shares of each security, the gain/loss of each security and each account and the overall portfolio, and other items.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties for Advice Rendered to Clients

PWS does not receive any economic benefit, sales awards, or other prizes to provide investment advice to clients.

B. Compensation to Non-Advisory Personnel for Client Referrals

PWS does not compensate anyone for client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

PWS does not take custody of client assets. PWS will obtain written authorization from the client to deduct fees from client accounts at a qualified custodian. When a fee is deducted from a client account, PWS sends the qualified custodian notice of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account. The client's account statement will reflect an itemization of the fee including the formula used to calculate the fee, the Portfolio Value upon which the fee is based, and the time period covered by the fee. The custodian sends statements on at least a quarterly basis to clients showing all disbursements from the custodian account, including the amount of the advisory fees. PWS urges clients to compare the account statements they receive from the qualified custodian with those sent by PWS.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

PWS accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. PWS determines the specific securities to be purchased or sold as well as the amount of securities to be bought or sold. However, PWS discusses in advance with each client the parameters within which PWS manages each client's portfolio, including the target asset allocation, how often and when to rebalance, and other factors. Clients can place limitations on this authority. For example, if a client does not want to ever buy a particular security then that is taken into consideration. PWS requires every client to sign a discretionary client agreement and limited power of attorney before assuming this authority. However, PWS does not take custody of client assets. In some instances, PWS can accept nondiscretionary authority to manage client accounts.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

PWS does not vote proxies for client securities. The custodian will send proxies to each client directly. Clients can contact PWS via email or phone directly with questions regarding proxies or can contact the custodian via phone.

Item 18 – Financial Information

A. Balance Sheet

This item is not applicable to this brochure. PWS does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, PWS is not required to include a balance sheet for its most recent fiscal year.

B. Financial Conditions

PWS is not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

However, PWS is participating in the Paycheck Protection Plan ("PPP") loan program through the U.S. Small Business Administration in conjunction with the relief afforded from the CARES Act during the COVID-19 Pandemic.

The PPP loan program is designed to provide a direct financial incentive for a small business to keep its employees on the payroll. In order to receive a PPP loan, the small business must certify that the current economic uncertainty makes this PPP loan request necessary to support its ongoing operations. For additional details about the PPP loan program, please visit <https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/loans/coronavirus-relief-options/paycheck-protection-program> and <https://home.treasury.gov/system/files/136/PPP--Fact-Sheet.pdf>.

In May 2020, PWS received a PPP loan in the amount of $24,791.00. This PPP loan has a 1% fixed interest rate and must be repaid within 2 years (but the initial payments are deferred for the first 6 months). The PPP loan did not require any collateral nor a personal guarantee. The U.S. Small Business Administration will forgive PWS's repayment of such PPP loan (or a portion of the PPP loan depending upon the circumstances) if all employees are kept on the payroll for eight weeks and the proceeds are used for payroll expenses, rent, mortgage interest, or utilities.

C. Bankruptcy Petition

PWS has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.
