Item 4 – Advisory Business

Introduction

MyWallSt Advisory, LLC is a digital financial services company offering advisory services to retail clients. The Firm is a Delaware limited liability company formed in November 2020, wholly-owned by MyWallSt Ltd., an entity based in Dublin, Ireland.

Services

We strongly believe the most effective way to create wealth is through the long-term ownership of stocks. The primary focus of the MyWallSt Advisory program is to help you learn healthy financial habits and to reduce the barriers of entry to stock ownership.

Our advisory platform provides you access to the MyWallSt Ltd. educational content (referred to in this brochure as “Education”) and access to our advisory tools designed to provide risk analytics as well as smartphone trading access (referred to in this brochure as “Advisory App”). The Firm offers non-discretionary investment advisory services through our mobile platform by conducting regular retroactive quarterly reviews of your account. Because we have no discretionary authority over your account(s), you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments. The program is limited to individual retail investors and to those who use our Advisory App.

To use the Advisory App, you need to complete a risk profile to select your risk tolerance. We use this information to assign you to a risk profile of Conservative, Moderate, or Aggressive. We categorize the securities that are available for purchase in the program as being Conservative, Moderate, or Aggressive. The securities available are a limited universe of publicly-traded stocks and Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”) which is subject to change, as determined by the fully disclosed clearing firm DriveWealth. All users have access to the same universe of securities.

Our investment advisor representatives will review the self-directed trading activity in your account quarterly and compare to your profile to provide retroactive advice on the consistency of trading in the account with your stated objectives. Other than providing these reviews, we do not tailor our services to your individual financial circumstances. The accuracy of your risk profile selection will affect the review accuracy. If your risk profile changes, you need to update your risk profile by contacting us at hello@mywallstadvisory.com.

Any information provided by the parent company My WallSt Ltd. is for informational and general educational purposes only and is not investment or financial advice. Any graphs, charts and other visual aids that are provided are for informational purposes only, not to be used to make investment decisions. Certain hypothetical scenarios that are described in the Educational App or in our marketing materials are for illustrative purposes only and the securities described are not actual securities held by client accounts. Inclusion of such scenarios is not intended as a recommendation to purchase or sell any security and performance of these scenarios does not indicate actual results.

Broker Dealer Election

We have established a relationship with an independent custodian, DriveWealth, LLC, an SEC registered broker-dealer and FINRA member (the “Broker” or “Custodian”). You must open a brokerage account with the Broker who maintains custody of your assets. The Broker also provides execution, clearing, and settlement services for your account. All account opening functionalities, including identity verification and approval, are handled digitally by Broker. Only individuals will be permitted to establish accounts with the Broker, which shall be in their own name. You will be required to complete all applicable Broker forms and agreements, including a limited power of attorney, if required, which authorizes the Broker to deduct our fees from your accounts pursuant to your agreements with us. The Broker reserves the right to reject any account application for any reason whatsoever.

The Broker provides all brokerage services to you, including executing securities purchase and sell orders you enter through our mobile platform or pursuant to your request. The Broker may add or remove any security from the Approved Securities List. If a security is removed from the Approved Securities List, the Broker will limit transactions in that particular security to the liquidation of positions only.

You pay all brokerage and transaction costs for the securities you purchase with the Broker.

Program Limitations

We do not provide comprehensive financial planning services and the investment advisory services provided through our Advisory App are not a complete investment program. We are not aware of your aggregate investable and invested assets. We encourage you to consider additional asset classes, strategies and investments to supplement your overall investment plan. You should not use our Advisory App as the sole component of your investment program.

Clients are fully responsible for determining when or if to trade. We do not recommend specific securities, and we do not automatically rebalance your portfolio to any predetermined allocation.

Our program only offers publicly traded equity and exchange traded fund ETF securities. You may sell your securities or transfer your securities to another account at any time. Please note, however, that fractional shares are not transferable. Fractional shares must be liquidated prior to transferring your account. You may also withdraw available cash out of your brokerage account at any time.

Item 5- Fees and Compensation

As our compensation for making this program available, we charge an asset-based fees based on a percentage of the value of the assets in your account at month-end. The Firm charges monthly, in arrears. You may terminate the investment advisory or management agreement by providing notice to our firm in accordance with the notice provisions in the advisory agreement you sign when you engage our firm. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the investment advisory agreement, which means you will incur advisory fees only in proportion to the number of days in the month for which you are a client

The rate used to calculate the fee is equal to a percentage of the current prevailing interest rate used by the Broker for cash account, which may change over time, but will not exceed .25%. At our sole discretion, the fee may be waived from time to time and/or discounted due to special promotions or based on individual client circumstances. All program fees are memorialized electronically, including at Account opening and as agreed to in your MyWallSt Advisory Agreement.

Because the Firm is compensated based on the amount of assets in your account, we are incentivized to increase your assets. You should be aware that the more assets you hold in your Account, the higher your program fee will be. You pay our advisory fee even if you do not buy or sell any securities and whether you make or lose money on your investments. If you hold no assets in your Account, you pay no program fee. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time.

To determine whether an investment advisory account is appropriate for you, you should carefully analyze the projected costs of the investment advisory account, such as expected size, volume and frequency of transactions, the volume and frequency of transactions, projected holding period, the securities available and the advisory services provided. Although we believe our fees are competitive, lower fees for comparable services may be available from other investment advisers or broker dealers.

Valuation

The market value of any security or other investment in the account is determined by the Custodian.

Additional Fees and Expenses

You will also incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than the Firm. Investments made through the Account will incur brokerage and transaction costs, including but not limited to fees and expenses charged by investment company securities disclosed by prospectus and the Custodian. Click HERE for transaction and brokerage costs passed through your Account by the Custodian. In addition, fees associated with connecting to our mobile platform, including all internet service and data fees will be charged to you directly by the service provider.

Our parent company offers separate publishing service subscriptions. If you obtain a MyWallSt publishing subscription, our parent receives subscription fees, which may be similar to, or more expensive than subscriptions offered by publishers not affiliated with us. The Firm has an indirect financial interest in having clients subscribe to our parent company's publishing services. However, you are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase.

Compensation

Investment professionals are generally compensated both in the form of a fixed monthly fee from the Firm, as well as a discretionary annual bonus based on criteria such as merit, employee performance and performance of the Firm. Investment professionals employed by the Firm are not compensated on a transaction basis. Neither the Firm nor its supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products.

Item 6- Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

The Firm does not currently charge performance-based fees.

Item 7 – Account Requirements and Types of Clients

This program is available to individuals and to those who use our Advisory App. Users must complete a risk profile, meet the requirements to open a brokerage account with the Broker as described above. The minimum investment amount to purchase a security is one dollar.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

As discussed above, the Firm provides non-discretionary advisory services and does not exercise discretion over your account. You construct your own portfolio through our platform. The Firm provides investment advice by conducting regular retroactive quarterly reviews of your account through our mobile platform (Our investment advisor representatives will review the self-directed trading activity in your Account and compare to your profile to provide retroactive advice on the consistency of trading in the account with your stated objectives). The Firm is available electronically to you relative to the status of your account. If you have any questions, you may contact hello@mywallstadvisory.com. Customer service representatives are available to help with technical, service or trading related inquiries.

Each client has the ability to impose reasonable restrictions on his/her account, including the purchase and sale of available securities in the account. If the Firm feels a client's trading activities are unreasonable based on your investment profile you will be notified in writing as part of the ongoing financial advisory services.

Risk

The Firm cannot guarantee the future performance of the Account, promise any specific level of performance or promise that the Firm's limited advice will be successful. The investment decisions made by the Client are self-directed and subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks, and will not necessarily be profitable. Past performance does not indicate future performance. You should be aware of a number of factors that could affect your Account, including the following:

Cybersecurity Risk. The Firm, its service providers and its counterparties rely on computer systems to conduct their businesses. There is a risk these systems might be compromised by cyberattacks despite the efforts of The Firm, its service providers and its counterparties to safeguard them. There is a risk that a breach may not be detected. Depending upon its scope, a successful cyberattack could impede these entities' ability to conduct their businesses.

There is also a risk that identity theft could be used to fraudulently withdraw funds from clients' accounts. Internet transmissions are never completely private or secure and any message or information you send to the Firm electronically may be read or intercepted by others, notwithstanding our efforts to protect such information.

Catastrophe Risks: These are the risks of loss that may be incurred, indirectly, due to the occurrence of various events, including natural disasters, terrorism, and other events such as a pandemic. These catastrophic risks of loss can be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Firm's business and on clients' portfolios.

Technology Risk. The Firm must rely on digital and network technologies to conduct its business. These technologies include those owned or managed by the Firm as well as by third parties, including yourself. These technology systems may fail to operate properly or become disabled as a result of events or circumstances wholly or partly beyond our control which could have a material effect on our business or our clients.

Stock Risk. Security prices can be volatile and investing in securities involves risk of loss. The value of stocks fluctuates in response to issuing company, market, political and economic developments. Prices may fluctuate, possibly significantly, in a short period of time. New issues may experience increased volatility due to supplier, key employee, financing or other factors. Your account will be subject to general movements in the stock market and the value fluctuations of each particular security.

Diversification Risk. Client accounts in the program may be concentrated in a relatively small number of securities, which will expose the account to an industry or market sector. Any such concentration will increase risks associated with the account. Although diversification tends to reduce risks, because the program is non-discretionary, accounts may not be diversified. Losses in one or more positions, or a downturn in an industry or market sector, could adversely affect the account performance.

Investment Program Risk. We do not make recommendations of specific securities, and we do not provide comprehensive financial planning services. This program is not a complete investment program. You are encouraged to consider additional asset classes, strategies and investments to supplement your overall plan. You should not use the program as the sole component of your investment plan. Not all publicly traded securities may be available in the program.

Trading Risk: Fractional share trading allows you to purchase securities in dollar amounts rather than share quantities. Trading in fractional shares has unique risks and limitations that you should understand prior to participation in fractional share trading. Fractional shares are not transferable. If you close your account or transfer your account to another firm, the fractional shares held in your account will need to be liquidated. Fractional shares cannot be put into certificate form and mailed. Frequent trading can result in losses from bid-ask spread opportunity costs, taxes and general market conditions.

Tax Risk. You are responsible for tax liabilities arising from transaction in your account. The Firm does not offer tax advice and encourages you to seek the advice of a qualified tax professional.

This list of risks is not designed to be a complete explanation of all the risks involved in investing with this Program but is intended to give investors a sense of the various factors that should be considered when making investment decisions. You should read the entire brochure, client agreement, terms and conditions, and other materials that may be provided by us or within the Advisory App. You may need to consult with professionals such as tax, accounting, legal, or other financial advisers prior to engaging our services.

Item 9- Legal & Disciplinary Information

As of the date of this brochure, the Firm and its management persons have not been a party to any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of our investment advisory business or the integrity of our management. You can access additional information about our firm and our management personnel on the SEC's website, located at <http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov>.

Item 10- Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

The Firm is not and does not have a related company that is a (1) investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or "hedge fund," and offshore fund), (2) futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, (3) banking or thrift institution, (4) pension consultant, (5) real estate broker or dealer, (6) sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships, or (7) law firm.

Affiliated Entities

The Firm is affiliated with and owned by MyWallSt Ltd., a publisher of financial and educational information. You are under no obligation to use MyWallSt Ltd. We encourage you to access other publishing firms of your choosing to gather additional financial and educational information.

Item 11- Code of Ethics, Participation

We have adopted a Code of Ethics that governs the activities of each member, officer, director and employee of the Firm (collectively, "Employees"). We hold our Employees to a high standard of integrity and business practices that reflects our fiduciary duty to clients. We will provide a copy of our Code to clients and prospective clients upon request. Such a request may be made by submitting a request to the email address listed on the cover page to this brochure.

Participation

Because we do not make specific investment recommendations, we do not recommend that any client buy or sell any securities in which the Firm or a related person has a material financial interest.

Item 12- Brokerage Practices

We do not accept directed brokerage arrangements. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not just cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of the Broker's services. The appointment of a registered broker-dealer as the sole Broker for your accounts may result in less favorable executions than may be available through the use of a different broker-dealer.

The Broker aggregates orders involving multiple client accounts trading in the same securities. Each client that participates in an aggregated transaction will participate at the average share price for transactions in the aggregated order.

This program allows you to purchase securities in dollar amounts rather than share quantities. Trading in fractional shares has unique risks and limitations that you should understand prior to participation in our Advisory App.

Item 13- Review of Accounts

We conduct regular retroactive reviews of your account. Accounts are assigned to investment advisor representatives who are responsible for performing quarterly reviews of the account and consult with the respective client of the account. Following these quarterly reviews, client reports are prepared and submitted to assist principals in supervising and monitoring the account. Factors that are considered include, but are not limited to, the following: investment objectives, targeted allocation, current allocation, suitability, performance, number of trades, monthly distributions, concentrated positions, diversification, and outside holdings if disclosed. Investments are made on instructions you provide via the Advisory App.

We rely on your selection of risk profile to provide alerts on your securities purchases. If your risk profile changes, you need to update your risk profile by contacting hello@mywallstadvisory.com. You may view your account at any time in the Advisory App. Statements are available from a link to the Broker and statements may be requested from the Broker. The statements are accessible to you no less than quarterly showing the assets in your account, the market value, and your account's performance for the quarter, listing account balance(s), and transaction history. We urge you to carefully review statements received from the Broker and compare them to materials received from us, if any. You should review your account statements promptly to confirm the accuracy of the information contained.

Item 14- Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not receive research or other products or services from the Broker or third-party in connection with client securities transactions ("soft dollar benefits"), nor do we receive client referrals from the Broker.

Item 15- Custody

We directly debit your Account for the payment of our advisory fees. This ability to deduct our advisory fees from your accounts causes our firm to exercise limited custody over your funds or securities. We also may permit you to maintain standing letters of authorization (SLOA) on your account with a qualified custodian. If you maintain an SLOA with a qualified custodian, we are deemed to have custody of your assets. Your funds and securities will be held with the independent, qualified custodian. You will receive account statements from the independent, qualified custodian(s) holding your funds and securities at least quarterly. The account statements from your custodian(s) will indicate the amount of our advisory fees deducted from your account(s) each billing period. You should carefully compare any statements you receive from us with the statements from your account custodian(s) to reconcile the information reflected on each statement. If you have a question regarding your account statement or if you did not receive a statement from your custodian, please contact us at hello@mywallstadvisory.com.

Item 16- Investment Discretion

We do not have investment discretion on your Account.

Item 17- Voting Client Securities

We do not vote proxies on your behalf. You will receive proxy materials directly from the Broker or its designee and are solely responsible for voting such proxies.

Item 18- Financial Information

We are not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not:

- require the prepayment of more than $1200 in fees and six or more months in advance, or
 - take custody of client funds or securities, or
 - have a financial condition that is likely to impair our ability to meet our commitments to you.

Business Continuity

The Firm has adopted a Business Continuity Plan (“BCP”) that provides for the continuation of business-critical functions as a result of events or disasters. The recovery strategies the Firm employs are designed to limit the impact on clients from such business interruptions. Although the Firm has taken reasonable steps to develop and implement a business continuity plan, unforeseen circumstances may create situations where the Firm is unable to fully recover from a significant business interruption. However, the Firm believes its BCP process reduces the risk in this area.

The Firm’s BCP Disclosure statement is available upon request at hello@mywallstadvisory.com, or may be reviewed on our public website at www.mywallstadvisory.com/legal.
