A. SERVICES

MS ADVISORS offers discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services for domestic and foreign high net worth individuals, trusts, family offices and investment companies, charitable organizations and other investment advisers, through separately managed accounts (each a “Client” and collectively the “Clients”). Every Client signs an investment advisory agreement (“Agreement”), setting forth the relevant terms and conditions of the advisory relationship with us. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities or industry sectors. MS ADVISORS customizes the nature and scope of its services based on a particular Client’s current and anticipated financial condition, risk tolerance and goals, and these services may include consulting on portfolio construction, investment opportunities, hedging of existing assets and/or such other advisory services as MS ADVISORS and such Client may agree. Information provided by the Client is also collected during meetings, interviews and/or by completing questionnaires. MS ADVISORS will work with each Client to establish an appropriate investment profile. After defining the Client’s appropriate investment profile, the investment strategy is implemented through a combination of investment products.

For non-discretionary Clients, we provide research, advice and recommendations. However, you must provide specific consent prior to each transaction. If we enter into a non-discretionary arrangement with you, you have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our Firm.

Within discretionary portfolio management, MS ADVISORS will define the Client’s appropriate investment profile and recommend an investment strategy. More information about the investment strategies is found in Item 8.

In accordance with the Agreement, the Client grants the Adviser full discretionary authority to invest, reinvest and otherwise deal with the allocated assets in their discretion, including without limitation the authority to select, allocate and reallocate the assets in your account, when the Adviser deems it appropriate and without prior consultation with you to buy, sell, convert and otherwise trade in any security for the allocated assets. The Adviser works with a disciplined and systematic investment decision process. The approach is built upon financial market analysis and an economic scenario defined by the Adviser. Fundamental and technical analysis is used to identify investments for recommendations that are suitable and have a reasonable basis for recommendations.

The advisory agreement entered by MS ADVISORS shall be in accordance with the requirements of the Advisers Act and other applicable federal and state law.

Additional services may include implementation of investment recommendations, quarterly portfolio evaluations, consultation, and assistance with the implementation of suggested planning strategies.

In conjunction with the implementation of your financial plan and/or the management of your portfolio, we may manage your assets on a discretionary basis or non-discretionary basis through our managed account program and/or we may refer you to use the services of unaffiliated, Third Party Money Managers ("TPMMs"), whose services are described in their respective Form ADV Disclosure Brochures (only for US-based advisors registered with the SEC and or the appropriate State(s)). We will determine which programs and strategies are most appropriate for you, based upon your individual circumstances, needs, and investment objectives, and, as described below, may exercise discretion in hiring and firing TPMMs for the management of your account's assets. You will also be provided the TPMM's Form ADV Disclosure brochure (if applicable).

B. WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

Wrap Fee Programs are arrangements between broker-dealers, investment advisers, banks, and other financial institutions and affiliated and unaffiliated investment advisers through which clients of such firms receive discretionary investment advisory, execution, clearing, and custodial services in a "bundled" form. In exchange for these "bundled" services, clients pay an all-inclusive (or "wrap") fee determined as a percentage of the assets held in the wrap account.

MS ADVISORS offers a Wrap Fee Program sponsored and managed by Insigneo Securities, LLC, which provides clients participating in the program with different asset allocation models for a single fee that includes administrative fees, management fees, and commissions. Transactions in the wrap fee program accounts are executed through Pershing LLC ("Pershing") the "Custodian(s)". The custodians are securities broker-dealers and members of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"). Insigneo maintains a wrap fee program brochure (Part 2A, Appendix 1) for clients who elect to invest in the program. More information regarding the wrap fee program may be found in the firm's Part 2A, Appendix 1.

C. ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

MS ADVISORS intends to have at least $100 million in regulatory assets under management within 120 calendar days of our registration with the SEC as an investment adviser.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

A. DESCRIPTION OF COMPENSATION AND BASIC FEE SCHEDULE

MS ADVISORS generally receives asset-based advisory fees; however and at the Client's request, we may also receive Fixed Fees. The specific manner in which fees are charged by MS ADVISORS is established in each Agreement.

Advisory fee compensation is based upon the percentage of assets under management. The annualized advisory fee ranges from 0.50% to 2%, depending on different factors, such as the amount of Assets Under Management, the client's investment profile and objectives, investment restrictions, custodians, etc.

Advisory Fees are individually negotiated with each client.

Advisory fees are payable quarterly, in arrears, based on the value of assets under management as of the last day of each calendar quarter (adjusted for contributions and withdrawals made during the quarter). Investment advisory services begin on the effective date of the Agreement. If the Agreement for services is executed at any time other than the first day of a calendar month, our fees will apply on a pro-rata basis. MS ADVISORS may, in its discretion, waive or reduce the management fee with respect to any Client. Our fees may also be negotiable; therefore, arrangements with existing clients may differ. In all such cases, the relevant fees and terms of payments will be clearly set forth in the Agreement.

We will deduct our fee directly from your designated custodial account through the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when (1) you have given our firm written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account and (2) the qualified custodian has agreed to deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all disbursements from your account, including the amount of any advisory fees paid directly to our firm. You should review all statements for accuracy. We will also receive a duplicate copy of your account statements. Refer to the Brokerage Practices section below for additional disclosures.

B. OTHER FEES AND PAYMENT OF FEES

Unless you participate in our Wrap Fee Program, you will also be charged brokerage commissions, transaction fees, custodian fees and custodian charges, and other costs and expenses related to your investment account and securities transactions, in addition to, and exclusive of, our investment advisory fees disclosed above. These transaction charges are paid to, and retained by, the account custodian for its clearance and execution services. MS Advisors does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, or costs.

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may invest, or recommend that you invest, in shares of registered investment companies, exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), hedge funds, and/or other specialty investments. You should be aware that such companies/investments typically assess a management fee to investors and, in certain cases, may charge administrative, servicing and/or other fees, including performance fees. Any fees paid to such companies or their affiliates are separate and in addition to our advisory fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus.

Clients should therefore be aware that they would be paying a higher fee on these assets. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by our Firm, mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and others.

C. REFUND AND TERMINATION POLICY

Our agreement for services will continue in effect until terminated by either party. You may terminate the Agreement upon written notice to our Firm and you are responsible for payment of services rendered until such time. You will incur a pro-rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the Agreement, which means you will incur advisory fees only in proportion to the number of days in the month for which you are a Client.

You may cancel the Agreement without penalty within the first five days of signing the Agreement. MS ADVISORS does not require the prepayment of fees. As such, MS ADVISORS does not refund fees upon termination of the Agreement.

E. Selection of Other Advisers

Assets managed by TPMMs will be included in calculating our advisory fee, which is based on the fee schedule set forth in the Portfolio Management Services section in this brochure. Sub-Advisory fees that we pay to the TPMM are established and payable in accordance with the sub-advisory agreement between MS ADVISORS and each TPMM.

F. Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm may be registered representatives of a broker-dealer, including but not limited to Insigneo Securities, LLC (ISLLC), a securities broker-dealer, and a member of FINRA and SIPC. In their capacity as registered representatives, these persons may receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by these persons in their capacities as registered representatives is separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase securities products through ISLLC. We will not earn advisory fees on any assets in brokerage accounts where a commission is being earned.

Item 6 - Performance-based Compensation & Side-by-Side Management

A. PERFORMANCE-BASED COMPENSATION

Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the advisor to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Performance-based compensation may only be charged on the accounts of qualified clients.

A qualified client is

- (i) a natural person who, or a company that, immediately after entering into the contract has at least $1,000,000 under the management of the investment adviser;
- (ii) a natural person who, or a company that, the investment adviser entering in the contract (and any person acting on his behalf) reasonably believes, immediately prior to entering into the contract either
 - a. has a net worth (together, in the case of a natural person, with assets jointly held with a spouse) of more than $2,100,000.
 - b. Is a qualified purchaser as defined by the Investment Act of 1940; or
- (iii) a natural person who immediately prior to entering into the Agreement is
 - a. an executive officer, director, trustee, general partner, or person serving in a similar capacity, of the investment adviser; or
 - b. an employee of the investment adviser (other than an employee performing solely clerical, secretarial or administrative functions with regard to the investment adviser) who, in connection with his or her regular functions or duties, participates in the investment activities of such investment adviser, provided that such employee has been performing such functions and duties for or on behalf of the investment adviser, or substantially similar functions or duties for or on behalf of another company for at least 12 months.

B. SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

“Side-by-Side Management” refers to a situation in which the same adviser manages accounts that are billed based only on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are performance-based.

MS Advisors does not offer or charges Performance-based Fees at this time but may do so in the future.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

MS ADVISORS offers discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to domestic and foreign high net worth individuals, trusts, family offices and investment companies, charitable organizations and other investment advisers.

In general, we require a minimum of $500,000 to open and maintain an advisory account. At our discretion, we may waive this minimum account size. For example, we may waive the minimum if your account is part of a large relationship, or if you will be bringing additional assets under our management to meet our minimum.

MS ADVISORS may also combine account values for you and your minor children, joint accounts with your spouse, and other types of related accounts to meet the stated minimum.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

MS ADVISORS has experience researching and investing in all types of securities and asset classes, including but not limited to, cash, bank deposits, money market funds and floating rate notes; common and preferred stocks, warrants and convertible securities; government and corporate fixed-income securities; mutual funds and ETFs; currencies, foreign exchange, OTC foreign exchange forwards, precious metals and alternative investments; and exchange traded warrants, options and futures. MS ADVISORS may utilize a range of investment strategies to implement the advice given to Clients including long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions, and option strategies including covered options, uncovered options and spreading strategies.

Depending on the investment strategy, MS ADVISORS utilizes a variety of methods to select investments or manage investment risk. For discretionary investment advisory services, MS ADVISORS will typically recommend investments for relatively long-time horizons, often for a year or more. For non-discretionary investment advisory services, investments selected are generally traded opportunistically. However, market developments could cause MS ADVISORS to trade more often. The methods of analysis include, but not limited to fundamental “bottom-up” research, macro-economic research, and technical tools and analyses. MS ADVISORS’ bottom-up, fundamental based approach to investing is flexible, however, MS ADVISORS will consider any factors it believes relevant, including whether it believes a company has substantially undervalued assets or undervalued earnings growth potential. MS ADVISORS also supplements its fundamental analysis of potential investments with an evaluation of key political and financial market variables, nationally and internationally, in attempting to assess the level and future direction of the financial markets, generally. In analyzing and identifying investment opportunities and the markets generally, MS ADVISORS relies on the talent and experience of its investment adviser representative.

MS ADVISORS offers the following investment strategies within discretionary portfolio management. Each has an asset allocation of cash, bonds, equities and alternative investments, as documented in the Agreement. Each will have an agreed minimum and maximum allocation (e.g. Income, 0-50% cash; Growth, 15-80% equities).

Conservative

Profile intended for an investor attaching particular importance to minimal variations in capital and to maintenance of the real value of the invested assets, wishing to obtain a return similar to bonds and money market investments. The resulting portfolio essentially comprises bonds and money market instruments, with a limited percentage of shares and alternative investments. The investments are for the most part carried out in the reference currency.

Moderate

Profile intended for an investor wishing to limit variations in capital and wishing to obtain a higher return than that of a bond portfolio. The resulting portfolio comprises for the most part bonds and money market instruments but also a limited percentage of shares and alternative investments. The investments are for the most part carried out in the reference currency.

Balanced

Profile intended for an investor targeting growth of its assets and willing to accept variations in capital. The resulting portfolio comprises bonds, money market instruments, as well as a significant proportion of shares and alternative investments. The investments are essentially carried out in the reference currency.

Growth

Profile intended for an investor targeting substantial growth of its assets and willing to accept significant variations in capital. The resulting portfolio comprises money market investments, bonds as well as a proportion of shares and alternative investments which may be predominant in the portfolio.

Aggressive

Profile intended for an investor targeting major growth of its assets and willing to accept extremely high variations in capital. The resulting portfolio comprises shares only in the portfolio with a limited percentage of cash.

B. MATERIAL RISKS OF METHODS OF ANALYSIS AND INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

These investment styles, methods, strategies, and investment involve risk of loss of your investment. You should be aware that past performance of any security is not necessarily indicative of future results. Therefore, you should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. MS ADVISORS does not provide any representation or guarantee that Client goals will be achieved. Further, depending on the different types of investments, there may be varying degrees of risk. The value of your investment may be affected by one or more of the following risks, any of which could cause the portfolio's return, the price of the portfolio's shares or the portfolio's yield to fluctuate:

General Economic and Market Conditions. The success of a Client's investment account will be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws (including laws relating to taxation of the Client's investments), and national and international political circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations). These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of the Client's investments. Volatility or illiquidity could impair the Client's profitability or result in losses. The Client may maintain substantial trading positions that can be adversely affected by the level of volatility in the financial markets, the larger the positions, the greater the potential for loss.

Equity (Stock) Market Risk. MS ADVISORS invests in equity securities. The value of these securities generally will vary with the performance of the issuer and movements in the equity markets. As a result, Clients may suffer losses if it invests in equity securities of issuers whose performance diverges from MS ADVISORS's expectations or if equity markets generally move in a single direction and the Client has not hedged against such a general move.

Fixed Income Securities Risk. Prices of fixed income securities tend to move inversely with changes in interest rates. Typically, a rise in rates will adversely affect fixed income security prices. The longer the effective maturity and duration of the client's portfolio, the more the portfolio's value is likely to react to interest rates. For example, securities with longer maturities sometimes offer higher yields, but are subject to greater price shifts as a result of interest rate changes than debt securities with shorter maturities. Some fixed income securities give the issuer the option to call, or redeem, the securities before their maturity dates. If an issuer calls its security during a time of declining interest rates, we might have to reinvest the proceeds in an investment offering a lower yield, and therefore might not benefit from any increase in value as a result of declining interest rates. During periods of market illiquidity or rising interest rates, prices of callable issues are subject to increased price fluctuation.

Company Risk. There is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk when investing in stock positions. This is referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that a company may perform poorly or that its value may be reduced based on factors specific to it or its industry (e.g., employee strike, unfavorable media attention).

Small Cap and Mid Cap Companies Risk. Investing in the securities of small cap and mid cap companies generally involves greater risk than investing in large, more established companies. This greater risk is, in part, attributable to the fact that the securities of these companies usually have more limited marketability and, therefore, may be more volatile and less liquid than securities of larger, more established companies or the market averages in general. Because these companies normally have fewer shares outstanding than larger companies, it may be more difficult to buy or sell significant amounts of such shares without an unfavorable impact on prevailing prices.

Another risk factor is that these companies often have limited product lines, markets, or financial resources and may lack management depth. These companies are typically subject to greater changes in earnings and business prospects than are larger, more established companies. In addition, these companies may not be well known to the investing public, may not be followed by the financial press or industry analysts, and may not have institutional ownership. These factors affect the Firm's access to information about the companies and the stability of the markets for the companies' securities. These companies may be more vulnerable than large companies to adverse business or economic developments; the risk exists that the companies will not succeed; and the prices of the companies' shares could dramatically decline in value.

Over-the-Counter Trading. MS ADVISORS may purchase or sell instruments for a Client not traded on an exchange. Over-the-counter instruments, unlike exchange traded instruments, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument is greater and the ease with which the Client can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between the bid and asked prices for such instruments. Over-the-counter instruments are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange-traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

Interest Rate Risk. Changes in interest rates will affect the value of your portfolio's investments in fixed-income securities. Bond prices tend to fall when interest rates move up and this decrease in value may not be offset by higher income from new investments. Interest rate risk is generally greater for fixed-income securities with longer maturities or durations.

Credit Risk. An issuer or guarantor of a fixed-income security, or the counterparty to a derivatives or other contract, may be unable or unwilling to make timely payments of interest or principal, or to otherwise honor its obligations. The issuer or guarantor may default causing a loss of the full principal amount of a security. The degree of risk for a particular security may be reflected in its credit rating. There is the possibility that the credit rating of a fixed-income security may be downgraded after purchase, which may adversely affect the value of the security.

Allocation Risk. The allocation of investments among different global asset classes may have a significant effect on your portfolio's value, when one of these asset classes is performing more poorly than others. As positions will be periodically adjusted to reflect our view of market and economic conditions, there will be transactions costs which may, over time, be significant. In addition, there is a risk that certain asset allocation decisions may not achieve the desired results and, as a result, your portfolio may incur significant losses.

Foreign Security Risk. Investing in foreign securities involves considerations for the Client's account that are not applicable to investing in domestic securities, including unfavorable changes in currency rates and exchange control regulations, the potential imposition of restrictions on the repatriation of currency, reduced and less reliable information about issuers and markets, less stringent accounting standards, illiquidity of securities and markets, higher brokerage commissions and custody fees, local economic or political instability and greater market risk in general.

Emerging Markets. A Client's account may invest in markets outside of the United States. Investments in emerging market securities involves a greater degree of risk than an investment in securities of issuers based in developed countries. Among other things, emerging market securities investments may be subject to the following risks: less publicly available information; more volatile markets; less liquidity or available credit; political or economic instability; less strict securities market regulation; less favorable tax or legal provisions; price controls and other restrictive governmental actions; a greater likelihood of severe inflation; unstable currency; war and expropriation of personal property.

Derivatives Risk. Derivatives may be illiquid, difficult to price and leveraged so that small changes may produce disproportionate losses to your portfolio and may be subject to counterparty risk to a greater degree than more traditional investments. Because of their complex nature, some derivatives may not perform as intended. As a result, your portfolio may not realize the anticipated benefits from a derivative it holds, or it may realize losses. Derivative transactions may create investment leverage, which may increase your portfolio's volatility and may require your portfolio to liquidate securities when it may not be advantageous to do so.

Liquidity Risk. Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell, possibly preventing us from selling out of such illiquid securities at an advantageous price. Derivatives and securities involving substantial market and credit risk also tend to involve greater liquidity risk.

Investment Company and Exchange Traded Fund Risk. Some of our strategies allow for investments in investment companies (also known as mutual funds) and exchange traded funds ("ETF"). An investment in an investment company or ETF involves substantially the same risks as investing directly in the underlying securities. An investment company or ETF may not achieve its investment objective or execute its investment strategy effectively, which may adversely affect your portfolio's performance. Your portfolio must pay its pro rata portion of an investment company's or ETF's fees and expenses. Shares of a closed-end investment company or ETF may trade at a premium or discount to the net asset value of its portfolio securities.

Options. Both the purchasing and selling of call and put options entail risks. Although an option buyer's risk is limited to the amount of the purchase price of the option, an investment in an option may be subject to greater fluctuation than an investment in the underlying securities. In theory, an uncovered call writer's loss is potentially unlimited, but in practice the loss is limited by the term of existence of the call. The risk for a writer of a put option is that the price of the underlying security may fall below the exercise price. The effectiveness of purchasing or selling stock index options as a hedging technique depends upon the extent to which price movements in the portion of the Client's portfolio hedged correlate with price movements of the stock index selected. Because the value of an index option depends upon movements in the level of the index rather than the price of a particular stock, whether the Client's account realizes a gain or loss will depend upon movements in the level of stock prices in the stock market generally, rather than movements in the price of a particular stock. Successful use by the Client's account of options on stock indexes depends upon the ability of MS ADVISORS to predict correctly movements in the direction of the stock market generally. This ability requires skills and techniques different from those used in predicting changes in the price of individual stocks.

Municipal Bond Risk. Municipal securities issuers may face local economic or business conditions (including bankruptcy) and litigation, legislation or other political events that could have a significant effect on the ability of the municipality to make payments on the interest or principal of its municipal bonds. In addition, because municipalities issue municipal securities to finance similar types of projects, such as education, healthcare, transportation, infrastructure and utility projects, conditions in those sectors can affect the overall municipal bond market. Furthermore, changes in the financial condition of one municipality may affect the overall municipal bond market. The municipal obligations in which clients invest will be subject to credit risk, market risk, interest rate risk, credit spread risk, selection risk, call and redemption risk and tax risk, and the occurrence of any one of these risks may materially and adversely affect the value of the Client's assets or profits.

Real Estate Related Securities Risk. Investing in real estate related securities includes, among others, the following risks: possible declines in the value of real estate; risks related to general and local economic conditions, including increases in the rate of inflation; possible lack of availability of mortgage funds; overbuilding; extending vacancies of properties; increases in competition, property taxes and operating expenses; changes in zoning laws; costs resulting from cleanup of, and liability to third parties for damages resulting from environmental problems; casualty or condemnation losses; uninsured damages from floods, earth quakes or other natural disasters; limitations on and variations in rents; and changes in interest rates. Investing in Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs") involves certain unique risks in addition to those risks associated with investing in the real estate industry in general. REITs are dependent upon management skills, are not diversified, and are subject to heavy cash flow dependency, default by borrowers and self-liquidation.

Management Risk. Your portfolio is subject to management risk because it is actively managed by our investment professional, who may have responsibilities for more than one strategy. We will apply our investment techniques and risk analyses in making investment decisions for your portfolio, but there is no guarantee that these techniques and our judgments will produce the intended results.

Cybersecurity Risk. With the increased use of technologies, such as the Internet, to conduct business, the Investment Adviser, its Clients, and companies the Clients' invest in are susceptible to operational, information security and related risks. In general, cyber incidents can result from deliberate attacks or unintentional events. Cyber-attacks include, but are not limited to, gaining unauthorized access to digital systems (e.g., through "hacking" or malicious software coding) for purposes of misappropriating assets or sensitive information, corrupting data, or causing operational disruption. Cyber-attacks may also be carried out in a manner that does not require gaining unauthorized access, such as causing denial-of-service attacks on websites (i.e., efforts to make network services unavailable to intended users). Cyber incidents affecting the Investment Adviser and other service providers (including, but not limited to, accountants, custodians, transfer agents and financial intermediaries) have the ability to cause disruptions and impact business operations, potentially resulting in financial losses, interference with the ability to calculate a Client's new asset value, impediments to trading, the inability of investors to transact business, violations of applicable privacy and other laws, regulatory fines, penalties, reputational damage, reimbursement or other compensation costs, or additional compliance costs. Similar adverse consequences could result from cyber incidents affecting companies the Clients invest in, counterparties with which Investment Adviser engages in transactions, governmental and other regulatory authorities, exchange and other financial market operators, banks, brokers, dealers, insurance companies and other financial institutions (including financial intermediaries and service providers for investors) and other parties. In addition, substantial costs may be incurred by the companies the Clients invest in or the Client itself in order to prevent any cyber incidents in the future. While the Client's service providers, including Investment Adviser, have established business continuity plans in the event of, and risk management systems to prevent, such cyber incidents, there are inherent limitations in such plans and systems including the possibility that certain risks have not been identified. Furthermore, the Investment Adviser and the Clients cannot control the cyber security plans and systems put in place by its service providers or any other third parties whose operations may affect the Clients. The Clients and its investors could be negatively impacted as a result.

The explanation of risks is not exhaustive, but rather highlights some of the more significant risks involved in MS ADVISORS's investment strategy. There may be other circumstances not described here that could adversely affect your investment and prevent your portfolio from reaching its objective. Some risks may not be applicable to all Clients.

OTHER MATERIAL RELATIONSHIPS

The Adviser may direct execution of client securities through ISLLC, a non-affiliated (but related) broker-dealer. Under certain circumstances, ISLLC's commission rates are negotiable, although the indirect affiliation between the Adviser and ISLLC may limit the ability of these rates to be negotiated on an arms' length basis. Clients may be able to obtain less expensive execution of securities transactions if a broker-dealer other than ISLLC is used, but the Adviser considers other factors in addition to price in selecting broker-dealers (please refer to Item 12 for additional information on selection of brokers). Transactions directed by the Adviser to ISLLC are generally executed on an agency basis but may be executed on a riskless principal basis following notice to, and consent from, the clients.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. CODE OF ETHICS

MS ADVISORS has adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”), pursuant to SEC Rule 204A-1, which is designed to promote high ethical standards, detect and address potential conflicts of interest and prevent acts prohibited by law. The Code establishes the standard of business conduct that all MS ADVISORS employees must follow and states that Clients’ interests should always be placed ahead of any personal interest. In addition, MS ADVISORS’s Insider Trading Policy forbids any employee of MS ADVISORS from trading, either personally or on behalf of others, on material non-public information. It also forbids communicating material non-public information to others in violation of the law (i.e. insider trading) or in violation of fiduciary duty.

Among others, the Code requires employees to:

- Submit to the Chief Compliance Officer (“CCO”) or her designee an initial and an annual report listing their securities holdings.
- Report personal securities transactions, other than those exempted by the Code, by the CCO or her designee, or by other appropriate Officers of the Firm.
- Provide duplicate copies of account statements to the CCO or her designee for review (unless a specific exemption applies).
- Not invest in IPOs without the prior approval from the CCO or her designee.
- Obtain approval from the CCO or her designee prior to investing in Private Placements (limited offerings).
- Not effect short sales of securities.
- Comply with the federal securities laws, certifying that they have read and understand the Code and reporting any violations of the Code to the CCO.
- Not trade either in their personal accounts or on behalf of Clients based on material non-public information; and
- Not use their position for inappropriate personal benefit.

The Code also addresses outside activities of employees, restrictions on the acceptance or offer of significant gifts and the pre-clearance and reporting of political contributions.

Employees who violate the Code and the Firm's Compliance Manual are subject to disciplinary action including, but not limited to, termination of employment. The Firm will provide a copy of its Code to any Client or prospective Client, upon request made to TBD, CCO, by phone (305) 794-5541 or email at compliance@msadvisorsgroup.com.

B. PARTICIPATION OF INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS

MS ADVISORS does not engage in principal transactions and does not conduct cross transactions. Accordingly, MS ADVISORS in the ordinary course of business does not compete with Clients in the market for securities. Similarly, MS ADVISORS does not use its own money to trade as a counterparty with client accounts.

MS ADVISORS may cause Clients to purchase or sell securities in which MS ADVISORS and/or its supervised persons to directly or indirectly, have a position or interest, in cases where such transactions are deemed appropriate and consistent with the relevant Clients' investment objectives. This may include, without limitation, causing Clients to purchase securities that are also held by supervised persons of MS ADVISORS in their own proprietary or personal trading accounts, subject, in all cases, to compliance with MS ADVISORS's Code of Ethics.

The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal transactions, activities and interests of MS ADVISORS's supervised persons will not interfere with MS ADVISORS's ability to make and implement investment decisions in the best interest of its Clients. The Code of Ethics requires pre-clearance of certain transactions by MS ADVISORS's supervised persons, as well as the disclosure of outside business activities by MS ADVISORS's supervised persons and requires that the interests of Clients be placed ahead of those of MS ADVISORS supervised persons in their personal trading. Because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit Clients to invest in securities in which MS ADVISORS's affiliated persons may have a proprietary interest, there is a possibility that such persons could benefit from a Client's market activity in the same or a related instrument. Employee trading is monitored under the Code of Ethics in an effort to prevent conflicts of interest between MS ADVISORS and its Clients.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

A. SELECTION AND RECOMMENDATION

MS ADVISORS may have discretion regarding the selection of broker for Clients and the amount of brokerage commission and fees paid to such broker, and this determination may be based upon, including but not limited to, the broker's trading expertise, stature in the industry, execution ability, facilities, clearing capabilities and financial services offered, reliability and financial responsibility, timing and size of order and execution, difficulty of execution, operational aspects of the broker's back office, and custodian or other administrative services. Best execution is not measured solely by reference to commission rates. Paying a broker, a higher commission rate than another broker might charge is permissible if the difference in cost is reasonably justified by the quality of the brokerage services offered. We do not obligate ourselves to seek the lowest transaction charges in all cases except to the extent that it contributes to the overall goal of obtaining the best results for your account. It is expected that MS ADVISORS may receive some economic benefits, for example, research and access to investment consultants, from various full service and discount brokers in connection with utilizing their brokerage services.

MS ADVISORS generally recommends the brokerage and custodial services of Pershing LLC for accounts maintained at ISLLC. The recommended Qualified Custodians (or any other Qualified Custodian) that serve as the custodian/clearing broker-dealer for client assets are generally securities broker-dealers and members of FINRA and SIPC, although we may recommend foreign brokers dealers or foreign banks as Qualified Custodians.

As discussed, associated persons of our firm are also ISLLC registered representatives and ISLLC uses Pershing as its clearing broker-dealer or custodian.

B. SOFT DOLLAR BENEFITS

MS ADVISORS generally does not intend to use "soft dollar arrangements" to pay for other services provided by brokers. If MS ADVISORS determines to use "soft dollars," MS ADVISORS will only enter into "soft dollar" arrangements that fall within the "safe harbor" provided by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Furthermore, to the extent that any incidental benefits (such as research) are provided to any of the Clients, and their respective principals and affiliates and/or other accounts, it is expected that such incidental benefits would fall within the safe harbor provisions of Section 28(e) of the 1934 Act as if such benefits were being provided in connection with the trading of securities. These products may include financial publications, information about particular companies and industries, research software, and other products or services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Such research products and services are provided to all investment advisers that utilize the institutional services platforms of these firms and are not considered to be paid for with soft dollars.

C. BROKERAGE FOR CLIENT REFERRALS

MS ADVISORS and its related persons currently do not receive client referrals from broker-dealers in exchange for cash or other compensation such as brokerage services or research.

D. DIRECTED BROKERAGE

MS ADVISORS may recommend, but not require, clients to open account and / or execute transactions through Insigneo Securities LLC.

E. ORDER AGGREGATION

Securities transactions for each non-discretionary Client, generally will be effected independently, unless we are able and believe it is in the best interest of those Clients to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. We may, but are not obligated to, combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as "block trading").

Following a block trade transaction, we will distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. The distribution of the shares purchased in a block trade is typically proportionate to the size of the account, but it is not based on account performance or the amount or structure of management fees. Subject to our discretion regarding factual and market conditions, when we combine orders, each participating account typically pays an average price per share for all transactions and pays a proportionate share of all transaction costs on any given day.

Non-discretionary accounts may pay different costs than discretionary accounts pay. If you enter into non-discretionary arrangements with our Firm, we may not be able to buy and sell the same quantities of securities for you and you may pay higher commissions, fees, and/or transaction costs than clients who enter into discretionary arrangements with our Firm.

Block trading for discretionary accounts will be handled in accordance with the Adviser's policy and procedures.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

A. PERIODIC REVIEWS

MS ADVISORS investment adviser representatives are available to meet with Clients upon request to discuss their accounts. We will typically meet with you either in person or telephonically on a semi-annual basis; however, additional meetings may be provided at your request, based on material changes in your financial condition, investment objectives or investment restrictions.

To ensure that the Investment profile remains suitable for the Client, Clients are instructed to promptly notify MS ADVISORS of any material changes to their investment objectives and/or financial situation. As most Client Accounts are managed in a similar manner according to the model or investment profile selected by the Client, MS ADVISORS periodically reviews model composition, funds available, investment strategies, portfolio managers available to assure that the model or investment profile satisfies the Client's investment profile, including the Client's investment objectives and risk tolerance.

B. INTERMITTENT REVIEW FACTORS

In addition to periodic review, MS ADVISORS may perform reviews as it deems appropriate or otherwise required. More frequent reviews may be triggered by significant changes in variables such as the Client's individual circumstances or the market, political, or economic environment. Other events that may trigger a review include asset allocation imbalances or significant investment strategy changes. MS ADVISORS relies upon the various tools and proprietary research to identify these triggers.

C. CLIENT REPORTS

Clients will receive statements at least on a quarterly basis from their qualified custodian.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. ECONOMIC BENEFITS FROM OTHERS

MS ADVISORS and its related persons do not receive an economic benefit (such as sales awards or other prizes) from any third party for providing investment advice or other advisory services to its Clients. MS ADVISORS does not directly or indirectly compensate affiliate or unaffiliated persons for client referrals.

Some of Adviser's supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds, in their individual capacities as registered representatives of non-affiliated broker dealer Insigneo Securities LLC, (ISLLC). Supervised persons of Adviser do not receive such compensation with respect to accounts managed or advised by Adviser.

B. COMPENSATION TO UNAFFILIATED THIRD PARTIES

MS ADVISORS and its related persons currently have no arrangements with unaffiliated third parties in order to market the firm or its investment strategies. MS ADVISORS may provide compensation to third parties for Client referrals. MS ADVISORS compensates for referrals based upon the assets under management on a quarterly basis. A prospective client solicited by a third party will be advised of any such arrangement, including the receipt of fees.

Item 15 - Custody

Custody by investment advisers means holding client funds or securities, directly or indirectly, or having authority to obtain possession of them. Pursuant to Rule 206(4)-2, MS ADVISORS does not maintain physical custody of its clients' assets. Client assets are typically held by a qualified custodian pursuant to a separate custody agreement.

As noted in Item 12, Clients assets will initially be custodied at Pershing LLC. MS ADVISORS ensures that Clients receive statements concerning their portfolios from their qualified custodians, at least quarterly. Client accounts are also maintained in the client's name. Clients will provide MS ADVISORS with written authorization allowing MS ADVISORS to directly deduct advisory fees from the account held with the qualified custodian. MS ADVISORS will utilize the safeguards discussed above to ensure client assets are protected.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As described in Item 4, MS ADVISORS provides both discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services. For discretionary mandates, MS ADVISORS and the Client execute an Agreement authorizing MS ADVISORS to act on behalf of the account. Execution of such Agreement authorizes MS ADVISORS to supervise and direct the investment and reinvestment of assets in the Client's account on the Client's behalf and at the Client's risk.

You may grant our firm discretion over the selection and number of securities to be purchased or sold for your account(s), the broker or dealer to be used for each transaction, and over the commission rates to be paid without obtaining your consent or approval prior to each transaction. You may specify investment objectives, guidelines, and/or impose certain conditions or investment parameters for your account(s).

If you enter into non-discretionary arrangements with our firm, we will obtain your approval prior to the execution of any transactions for your account(s). You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

MS ADVISORS does not vote proxies with respect to securities recommended by MS ADVISORS. MS ADVISORS will not be required to take any action or render any advice with respect to the voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which assets of the Client account may be invested from time to time. Clients receive proxies and other solicitations directly from their custodian or transfer agents and retain the responsibility for voting proxies for any and all financial instruments.

Although we do not vote proxies, we may answer general questions that you may have regarding the proxy voting materials that you receive. However, the final decision of how to vote the proxy rests solely with you.

Item 18 - Financial Information

A. BALANCE SHEET REQUIREMENT

A balance sheet is not required because MS ADVISORS does not require prepayment of fees, six (6) months or more in advance.

B. FINANCIAL CONDITION

MS ADVISORS is not presently aware of any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

C. BANKRUPTCY PETITION

MS ADVISORS has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the last 10 years.
