Item 4 – Advisory Business

Gemmer Asset Management LLC has been in business since 1992. David L. Gemmer, Trustee of the Gemmer Family Trust dated June 17, 2015 is the primary owner. David Gemmer controls the trust. David Gemmer has been in the investment management business for over 40 years. We manage over $1.3 billion in client discretionary assets as of December 31, 2020.

Portfolio Management Services

Our firm provides portfolio management services for individual clients and small businesses. Following are investment services we offer for managing individual portfolios:

- Gemmer Select
- Gemmer Premier
- Gemmer Unconstrained

These investment services incorporate an asset allocation strategy consisting primarily of no-load mutual funds, individual stocks and/or exchange traded funds (ETFs). Our investment portfolios are generally limited to only these types of investment vehicles. For all strategies, we hold a limited power-of-attorney to manage such assets on a discretionary basis.

We use the services of the following types of Personal Financial Advisors to introduce our investment management services to prospective clients:

- independent contractors;
- financial planners;
- investment advisors and/or;
- registered representatives of registered broker-dealers

We pay these Personal Financial Advisors a percentage of the fees collected in accordance with the investment advisory agreement between our firm and clients. Any such compensation shall be paid solely from our investment advisory fee and may result in additional charges to the client. If a Personal Financial Advisor (PFA) introduces a client to our firm, they are required to disclose the nature of our relationship and provide each prospective client a copy of our written disclosure statement as set forth in this Form ADV Part 2. They must also provide a copy of the written disclosure statement from PFA to the client disclosing the terms of the agreement between our firm and the PFA, including the compensation we pay them. We also work with several Independent Advisor Representatives (IARs) who are associated with our firm. They primarily provide planning advice and client servicing for our firm and refer clients to us for our investment management services. The planning advice and client servicing are incidental and a separate fee is not charged.

Sub-Advisory Engagements

Gemmer also serves as a sub-adviser to unaffiliated registered investment advisers per the terms and conditions of a written Sub-Advisory Agreement. With respect to its sub-advisory services, the unaffiliated investment advisers that engage Gemmer's sub-advisory services maintain both the initial and ongoing day-to-day relationship with the underlying client, including initial and ongoing determination of suitability for Gemmer's designated investment strategies. If Gemmer is directed to use a specific custodian/broker-dealer to execute transactions, Gemmer will be unable to negotiate commissions and/or transaction costs, and/or seek better execution. As a result, an investor may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs or greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case through alternative clearing arrangements recommended by Gemmer. Higher transaction costs adversely impact account performance. The unaffiliated investment adviser shall provide the Client with a copy of Gemmer's written disclosure Brochure as set forth on Part 2A of Form ADV. Gemmer shall be permitted to debit the Client's account for the advisory fee.

We have a sub-advisory relationship with Aspire Planning Associates, Inc. (Aspire) where we will provide trading services. In addition, Aspire will bill client accounts in arrears quarterly and not consider any cash flows for billing purposes. This process is different than how we bill other client accounts since we collect the management fee which is billed in advance and cash flows are considered. Aspire will send us our portion of the management fee. Aspire has provided notice to clients regarding this arrangement. We determined to do this because of the manner in which Aspire currently bills its clients, and not the result of a desire to change our billing methods. Aspire Planning Associates, Inc. is registered as an investment advisor with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Consulting Arrangements

We engage with unaffiliated advisors to assist with the management of all or a portion of a client's assets per the terms and conditions of a written Consulting Agreement between our firm and the advisor. At all times, the advisor maintains both the initial and ongoing day-today relationship with the client, including exclusive responsibility for initial and ongoing client suitability and account performance.

Client Services

Our mission is to assist a client by providing:

- unbiased, professional advice
- a disciplined management strategy
- the appropriate investments to meet their goals

Following are the ways we manage accounts based on the individual needs of each client:

- 1) Consultation Available –we are available to consult about the status of a client’s account;
- 2) Monthly Statement – the custodian will provide each client with a monthly statement containing a description of all activity in their account during the preceding period;
- 3) Ability to Impose Restrictions – each client has the ability to impose reasonable restrictions on the management of their account, including the ability to instruct our firm not to purchase certain mutual funds or exchange traded funds;
- 4) No Pooling – each client’s beneficial interest in a security does not represent an undivided interest in all the securities held by the custodian, but rather represents a direct and beneficial interest in the securities which comprise the client’s account;
- 5) Separate Account – a separate account is maintained at a custodian for each client;
- 6) Ownership – each client retains ownership of their account (e.g., right to withdraw securities or cash, exercise or delegate proxy voting, and receive transaction confirmations).

Miscellaneous Items

No Financial Planning/Consulting Services. Except for an occasional retirement analysis and helping clients determine goals incidental to the investment management process, we do not hold ourselves out as providing any financial planning or related consulting services. No employees, nor any of our affiliated advisors, serve as an attorney, accountant, or insurance agent, and no portion of our services should be construed as same.

Introduction by Personal Financial Advisor. The vast majority of clients are introduced to our firm by an unaffiliated investment professional (the “Personal Financial Advisor (PFA)”). If the client is introduced to our firm by a PFA, Gemmer shall pay a portion of its fee to the PFA for PFA's initial and/or ongoing services. At all times, the PFA shall be exclusively responsible for: (1) assisting the client in determining the initial and ongoing suitability for our investment strategies; and (2) for receiving/ascertaining the client's directions, notices and instructions, and forwarding them to us, in writing. Correspondingly, the client shall be responsible for communicating any such directions or instructions directly to PFA. We shall be entitled to rely upon any such direction, notice, or instruction (including any information or documentation regarding client's investment objectives, risk tolerances and/or investment restrictions) until it has been duly advised of changes therein. We shall have no responsibility to the client for the failure of the PFA and/or the client to timely receive/ascertain/forward/communicate any and all such directions, notices and instructions.

Client Obligations. In performing our services, we shall not be required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals, including the PFA, and is expressly authorized to rely thereon. Moreover, each client is advised that it remains his/her/its responsibility to promptly notify the PFA if there is ever any change in his/her/its financial situation or investment objectives.

Please Note: Investment Risk. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by our firm) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s).

Please Note: Retirement Rollovers-No Obligation/Conflict of Interest: A client leaving an employer typically has four options (and may engage in a combination of these options): i) leave the money in his former employer's plan, if permitted, ii) roll over the assets to his new employer's plan, if one is available and rollovers are permitted, iii) rollover to an IRA, or iv) cash out the account value (which could, depending upon the client's age, result in adverse tax consequences). We may recommend an investor roll over plan assets to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) managed by our firm. As a result, we and our representatives will earn an asset-based fee. In contrast, a recommendation that a client or prospective client leave his or her plan assets with his or her old employer or roll the assets to a plan sponsored by a new employer will generally result in no compensation to Gemmer (unless you engage our firm to monitor and/or manage the account while maintained at your employer). We have an economic incentive to encourage an investor to roll plan assets into an IRA that we will manage or to engage our firm to monitor and/or manage the account while maintained at your employer. There are various factors that we consider before recommending a rollover, including but not limited to: i) the investment options available in the plan versus the investment options available in an IRA, ii) fees and expenses in the plan versus the fees and expenses in an IRA, iii) the services and responsiveness of the plan's investment professionals versus ours, iv) protection of assets from creditors and legal judgements, v) required minimum distributions and age considerations vi) employer stock tax consequences, if any and vii) the ability to withdraw money in an employer's plan versus an IRA. No client is under any obligation to rollover plan assets to an IRA managed by our firm or to engage our firm to monitor and/or manage the account while maintained at your employer. ANY QUESTIONS: Our Chief Compliance Officer, Mario Hernandez, remains available to address any questions that a client may have regarding the above and the corresponding conflict of interest presented by such engagement.

Please Note-Use of Mutual Funds: Many mutual funds are available directly to the public. Thus, a prospective client can obtain many of the mutual funds that we recommended and/or utilized by our firm independent of engaging us as an investment advisor. However, if a prospective client determines to do so, he/she will not receive Gemmer's initial and ongoing investment advisory services. We implemented new procedures when purchasing mutual funds that have no-transaction fee (NTF) and institutional fund share classes. The reason for this change is to provide the most appropriate share class for a client. We strive to provide the lowest fund cost when purchasing mutual funds for a client account.

In certain circumstances, we charge an investment advisory fee to help a client manage the options available in a 529 plan. The fee charged is reasonable based on the services we provide the client. The 529 plan we recommend to the client has been reviewed to make sure it is appropriate for the client's circumstances. We currently use the Utah Educational Saving Plan where we help clients manage the options within the 529 plan.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

We charge a fee to manage investment accounts. The fee charged depends on which service a client has agreed to have our firm manage. We generally group related accounts for the purpose of applying the fee schedule. Following is the standard fee schedule that applies to each of our investment services. The fee schedule is negotiable and is based on various factors including asset size and the degree of customization:

Market Value of Portfolio	Annual Fee
First $500,000 or fraction thereof	2.0%
Next $500,000 or fraction thereof	1.5%
Sums exceeding $1,000,000	1.0%

1. Gemmer Select generally has a minimum account size of $25,000 and utilizes a flat or tiered fee schedule that ranges up to 2% (on an annual basis) depending on account size.
 2. Gemmer Premier generally has a minimum account size of $250,000 and incorporates a tiered fee schedule that ranges up to 2% (on an annual basis).

There are exceptions to the account size minimum and are reviewed on a case by case basis. Exceptions can be made due to related family accounts or other extenuating circumstances that have been approved.

3. Gemmer Unconstrained does not have a minimum account size and has a flat or tiered schedule that ranges up to 2% on an annual basis, depending on account size. We use Charles Schwab to custody these accounts. Charles Schwab charges an asset-based fee (in lieu of transaction fees) of 25 basis points or $300 minimum annually, whichever is greater. We annually review these accounts to determine if Schwab's asset based fee is cheaper than charging transaction fees.

Administration Fee

For certain accounts, we charge an administration fee of up to $70 annually. The administration fee is to reimburse our firm for the cost of using a specific platform to manage the client account. The administration fee is disclosed in the investment advisory agreement the client signs.

We believe that our annual fees are reasonable in relation to the fees charged by other investment advisors offering similar services/programs. However, our annual investment advisory fees could be higher than charged by other investment advisors offering similar services/programs.

We provide a reporting service for certain financial representatives where the financial representative has access to a reporting platform. We charge the financial representative a fee for this service. The fee is to reimburse our firm for the cost of using the reporting platform. The reporting platform we use is called Orion Advisor Services. We also manage client accounts for these financial representatives.

Fee Billing Policy

We calculate the market value of security shares held in a client's account based on values each custodian, mutual fund company, variable annuity company or broker-dealer provides our firm. The management fee charged shall be pro-rated and paid quarterly, in advance, based upon the market value of the assets in a client's account(s) at the beginning of each billing quarter or portion thereof, including any balances held in money market funds and accrued interest from individual bonds managed. For fee calculation purposes, we use the internal portfolio value which has been reconciled with custodial information. In isolated cases, there may be a discrepancy between our portfolio value and the custodian's portfolio value reported to clients that is due to timing differences or other factors.

The specific manner in which we charge management fees is established in a client's advisory agreement. We will generally bill fees on a quarterly basis. Clients may elect to be billed directly for fees or to authorize Gemmer Asset Management LLC to directly debit fees from their investment account(s). Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter. No additional fees will be charged or credits made to their account unless the amount is at least $50. Any amounts below this threshold will not be charged or credited. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged or credited a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, we will promptly refund any prepaid, unearned fees, and charge for any earned, unpaid fees.

Our advisory fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur the following charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties on brokerage accounts and securities transactions:

- fees charged by managers;
- custodial fees;
- deferred sales charges;
- transfer taxes;
- wire transfer and electronic fund fees;
- other fees and taxes.

Trade costs may vary depending on the size of household assets. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to our advisory fee. We do not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs. Clients have the option to purchase investment products that we recommend through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with our firm. For further information regarding our brokerage arrangements with custodians refer to Item 12.

For unsupervised assets that are not charged a management fee, we provide a value for the asset based on the best information available. We do not guarantee the accuracy of the value of these unsupervised assets. As a courtesy, we allow clients to consolidate these assets with other positions we manage on a clients' quarterly report.

Trade Error Policy

We have a policy in place to protect you from any trade errors. Our policy stipulates that any trade error executed in your account will be corrected and you will not sustain any loss on the error. In addition, any transaction costs incurred, interest charged or any other costs incurred in connection with the transaction will be refunded to your custodial account. We also annually test trade errors to confirm that procedures were followed and that the client was fully reimbursed for the trade error committed. All employees involved in the execution of trades are continually educated regarding the importance of reducing trade errors. In addition, employees also understand the necessity of reporting any trade errors immediately.

When a trade error occurs in a client account custodied at Charles Schwab and the corrected trade error results in an investment gain, the gain will remain in the client's account unless the same error involved other client accounts that should have received the gain. In addition, if not permissible to retain the gain in the account or if the client decides to forego the gain, Charles Schwab will donate the amount of any gain over $500 to charity. If there is a loss greater than $500, we will pay for the loss. Charles Schwab will maintain the loss or gain (if such gain is not retained in the client account) if it is under $500 to minimize and offset its administrative time and expense. Generally, if related trades errors resulted in both gains and losses in the client account, they will be netted.

For accounts custodied at TD Ameritrade, any corrected trades that results in a gain will be donated to charity by TD Ameritrade. Any trade error losses in an account will be paid by Gemmer Asset Management LLC. Any trade errors on the same day which resulted in gains and losses will be netted.

For accounts custodied at Fidelity, any corrected trades that results in a gain will be credited to client's account. Any trade error losses in an account will be paid by Gemmer Asset Management LLC. Any trade errors on the same day which resulted in gains and losses will be netted.

529 Plan

In certain circumstances, we charge an investment advisory fee to help a client manage the options available in a 529 plan. The fee charged is reasonable based on the services we provide the client.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not charge any performance-based fees. These are fees based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's assets.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

We provide investment management services to the following clients:

- Individuals, including high net worth individuals
- Trusts, estates and charitable organizations
- Corporations or other business entities
- Not for profit entities
- Retirement plans
- Independent fiduciaries

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We manage portfolios using an asset allocation approach. Asset Allocation describes the manner in which a client's portfolio will be diversified among various types of asset classes such as stocks, bonds, and cash. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance. A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

We invest a client's account in mutual funds, individual stocks or exchange traded funds (ETFs) which are likely to have differing degrees of risk. None of the investments are "risk-free". We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy. A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the fund or ETF less suitable in a client's portfolio.

We generally purchase mutual funds, individual stocks and/or ETFs with the idea of holding them in the client accounts for a year or longer. We do this because we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class. A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that, by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantages of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our strategies are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Securities investments are not guaranteed and clients may lose money on their investments.

Our investment programs may also involve above-average portfolio turnover which could negatively impact the net after-tax gain experienced by a client in a taxable account such as a trust or joint account.

529 Plan

In certain situations, we will invest in a 529 plan for a client. The 529 plan we recommend to the client has been reviewed to make sure it is appropriate for the client's circumstances.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

We do not have any legal, financial or other disciplinary items to report at this point. We are obligated to disclose any disciplinary event that would be material to our clients when evaluating us to initiate a client relationship, or to continue a client relationship with our firm.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We have a minority ownership interest in National Advisors Holdings, Inc. (NAH), a Delaware corporation, that has formed a federally chartered trust company, “National Advisors Trust Company” (NATC). NATC is in the business of providing personal trust, employee benefit services, IRA and custodial services to clients on a national basis. NATC is currently supervised by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. We use NATC for custody of client accounts that have trust service needs. No clients are obligated to use the services of NAH. While we may recommend their services, we do not receive any fees for recommending them.

We work with several Independent Advisor Representatives (IARs) who are associated with our firm. For additional details, look at Item 4.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

We have adopted a Code of Ethics for all of the firm’s supervised persons describing our high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to our clients. We define all employees and independent contractors affiliated with our firm as supervised persons. The Code of Ethics includes the following provisions:

- confidentiality of client information;
- a prohibition on insider trading;
- reporting of political contributions;
- a prohibition of rumor mongering;
- protection of employees who report any violations of this code and securities laws;
- the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items;
- personal securities trading procedures;
- monitoring of contributions made to politicians; and,
- reporting of outside employment by employees and affiliates, among other things.

All supervised persons at our firm must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually. A copy of the Code of Ethics is made available to clients or prospective clients upon request by contacting Mario Hernandez at (925) 933-3786.

Personal Trading Policy

We anticipate that, in appropriate circumstances, consistent with clients' investment objectives, we will recommend for clients and prospective clients to purchase or sell mutual funds, exchange traded funds and individual stocks in which our employees or associated persons have a position. Our employees and persons associated with our firm are required to follow our Code of Ethics. The Code of Ethics is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our firm's employees and associated persons will not interfere with:

- making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients; and,
- implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

In addition, the Code requires pre-clearance of certain transactions. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics, and to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between our firm and our clients.

With regard to employee or affiliate trading in exchange traded funds and individual stocks, we execute trades in an equitable manner for all clients. We execute these trades on an account-by-account basis and not on a mass basis. Employees' trades are executed in conjunction with client trades or secondary to client trades.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

We do not maintain custody of client assets that we manage. However, we are deemed to have custody of client assets if authority is given to deduct management fees from client account(s). Client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian" generally a broker-dealer or bank. In all cases, we determine the custodian to be used to effect transactions in client accounts without limitation.

Soft Dollar Policy

We do not have any formal soft dollar arrangements and do not contract with custodians to receive soft dollar benefits. This means we do not receive or have access to research or conferences in return for paying higher commissions for client transactions for a particular custodian.

We endeavor to select custodians that will provide the best services at the lowest prices and commissions possible. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others:

- Combination of transaction execution and asset custody services;
- Capability to buy and sell securities for client account;
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts;
- Breadth of available investment products and managers;
- Quality of services;
- Competitiveness of the price of those services;
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability;
- Their prior service to us and our other clients;
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us.

We are not affiliated with any of the custodians we use to custody client accounts. Following are our brokerage practices with each custodian:

1) Charles Schwab

Charles Schwab & Co charges a transaction fee for some mutual fund trades in client accounts. We recommend to clients that they establish an account with Charles Schwab & Co who provides custodial services for client assets. Although we may suggest that clients establish accounts at Charles Schwab & Co., it is the client's decision to custody assets with Schwab. We do not open accounts for clients, but we assist them in doing this.

Schwab provides our firm access to its institutional trading and operations services, which are not typically available to Schwab retail investors. These services are generally available to independent investment advisors at no charge to them and is not otherwise contingent upon Gemmer Asset Management LLC committing to Schwab any specific amount of business. Schwab services include:

- research;
- brokerage;

- custody;
 - access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For our client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.

Schwab also makes available other products and services that benefit our firm but may not benefit our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We use this research to service all or a substantial number of clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. Some of these other products and services assist our firm in managing and administering clients' accounts.

These include:

- software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts);
- provide pricing information and other market data;
- facilitate payment of advisory fees from our clients' accounts; and,
- assist with back-office support, recordkeeping and client reporting.

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. Many of these services generally are used to service all or a substantial number of our client accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab also provides our firm with other services intended to help manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- 1) technology, compliance, legal and business needs consulting;
- 2) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession;
- 3) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers and,
- 4) Education conference and events.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, Schwab will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to our firm. Schwab may also provide other benefits such as occasional business entertainment to our personnel. As a fiduciary we endeavor to act in our clients' best interests at all times. However, our recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Schwab is based in part on the benefit to our firm of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, costs or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab. This could create a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of Schwab as a custodian is in the best interests of our clients. Our use of Schwab is primarily supported by the scope, quality and price of Schwab's services.

Charles Schwab Referred Clients Only

For those clients who were referred to our firm by Charles Schwab (through Schwab Advisor Network Referral Program – a program we no longer participate), we pay Schwab a Participation Fee on all referred clients' accounts that are maintained in custody at Schwab and a Non-Schwab Custody Fee on all accounts that are maintained at, or transferred to, another custodian. The Participation Fee is a percentage of the value of the assets in the client's account. We pay Schwab the Participation Fee for as long as the referred client's account remains custodied at Schwab. The Participation Fee is billed to our firm quarterly and maybe increased, decreased or waived by Schwab from time to time. We pay the Participation Fee and is not charged to the client. We do not charge clients referred through the Service fees costs greater than the fees or costs we charge clients with similar portfolios who were not referred through the Service. We have the discretion to change the minimum annual fee charged or to not have a minimum fee arrangement.

We generally pay Schwab a Non-Schwab Custody Fee if custody of a referred client's account is not maintained by, or assets in the account are transferred from Schwab. This fee does not apply if the client was solely responsible for the decision not to maintain custody at Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is a one-time payment equal to a percentage of the assets placed with a custodian other than Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is higher than the Participation Fees Advisor generally would pay in a single year. Thus, we will have an incentive to recommend that client accounts be held in custody at Schwab.

Schwab charges the Participation and Non-Schwab Custody Fees to clients who were referred by Schwab and those referred clients' family members living in the same household and are based on assets in these accounts. Thus, we will have incentives to encourage household members of clients referred through the Service to maintain custody of their accounts and execute transactions at Schwab and to instruct Schwab to debit our management fees directly from the accounts.

Schwab will not charge clients separately for custody, but will receive compensation from our clients in the form of commissions or other transaction-related compensation on securities trades executed through Schwab. Schwab also will receive a fee (generally lower than the applicable commission on trades it executes) for clearance and settlement of trades executed through broker-dealers other than Schwab. Schwab's fees for trades executed at other broker-dealers are in addition to the other broker-dealer's fees. Thus, we have an incentive to cause trades to be executed through Schwab rather than another broker-dealer. Nevertheless, we acknowledge our duty to seek best execution of trades for client accounts. Schwab may execute trades for client accounts held in custody at Schwab through a different broker-dealer than trades for our other clients. Therefore, Schwab may execute trades for accounts at different times and different prices than trades for other accounts that are executed at other broker-dealers.

We use variable annuities offered by Protective Life Insurance (formerly Great West Life and Annuity Company), Nationwide Life Insurance Company, and Transamerica Life Insurance for client accounts. We do not receive any commissions or referral fees from these companies.

2) Fidelity

In specific instances, we use Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC to execute client trades. We are a participant in the Fidelity Institutional Service Group program and receive certain services because of our participation in the program. Fidelity has been found to be competitive regarding transaction costs and services compared with other brokerage firms. We have an arrangement with National Financial Services LLC and Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (collectively, and together with all affiliates, "Fidelity") through which Fidelity provides our firm with "institutional platform services." The institutional platform services include, among others, brokerage, custody, and other related services. Fidelity's institutional platform services that assist our firm in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Fidelity also offers other services intended to help our firm manage and further develop our advisory practice. Such services include, but are not limited to, access to educational conferences, roundtables and webinars, practice management resources, access to consultants and other third-party service providers who provide a wide array of business-related services and technology with whom our firm may contract directly.

Fidelity generally does not charge its advisor clients separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Fidelity or that settle into Fidelity accounts (i.e., transactions fees are charged for certain no-load mutual funds, commissions are charged for individual equity and debt securities transactions). Fidelity provides access to many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other no-load funds at nominal transaction charges.

3) National Advisors Trust Corp.

We use National Advisors Trust Corporation (NATCO) for certain client accounts. NATCO provides an on-line website and trading platform. NATCO also provides educational events to our firm. The fiduciary costs, access to investment products, technology support or other service features offered by NATCO are deemed to be advantageous to clients when compared with other trustee or custodial services. NATCO charges service fees to client accounts. We do not share in any fees charged to clients.

4) Wells Fargo Advisors LLC

We have a custodial relationship with Wells Fargo Advisors LLC for certain client accounts. Wells Fargo Advisors provides an on-line website and trading platform. The trading costs and services are comparable to other custodians in the industry.

5) TD Ameritrade

We use TD Ameritrade as a custodian, in specific instances, for client accounts. We are a participant in TD Ameritrade's Institutional Program and receive services that include custody of securities and financial products, trade execution and clearance and settlement of transactions. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. ("TD Ameritrade"), member FINRA/SIPC/NFA. TD Ameritrade is an independent SEC-registered broker-dealer. The commissions, rates and fees applicable to client accounts is based on scope and nature of our business that we transact with TD Ameritrade. We receive certain economic benefits as a participant in this program. These benefits include various technological tools, items and products that assist our firm in managing and servicing our client accounts. In addition, we may be provided with discounts on products or services such as compliance, marketing, technology and practice management products or services provided by third-party vendors. The receipt of these program benefits is not dependent on the amount of brokerage transactions incurred on client account(s). The receipt of these benefits could indirectly influence our recommendation of TD Ameritrade for custodial and brokerage services. However, if we recommend clients to open an account at TD Ameritrade as a custodian it is in the best interests of our clients.

TD Ameritrade also offers additional benefits to our firm as a participant in this program. The additional benefits may include reimbursement or waiver of fees or expenses related to our business or the provision of services or other things of value for use in connection with our business. The receipt of additional benefits raises potential conflicts of interest. To be eligible to receive these additional benefits, we have an incentive to recommend that client assets be custodied at TD Ameritrade.

6) Shareholder Services Group, Inc.

We use Shareholder Services Group, Inc (SSG) for certain client accounts. SSG offers brokerage services including buying and selling securities to retail investors who are introduced to SSG by an independent registered investment advisor (an “RIA”). They offer a wide variety of investment products and many types of investments are available. SSG charges fees for trade execution services, lending services, and incidental account services. Trade execution service fees can be either per transaction, or with an asset-based fee based on the value of your account at the end of a billing period. Transaction-based execution services means there will be more charges if there are more trades in the account. Asset-based pricing means there will be a fee regardless of the number of trades, and you may pay more or less for trading than you might have if you subscribed to transaction-based pricing. Incidental service fees are for services such as retirement account maintenance fees, checking/debit card fees, inactivity fees, transfer fees, wire fees, non-sufficient funds fees, overnight delivery fees, and termination fees. You will incur these fees if you use the related services. If SSG receives transaction fees for your trades, they make more money when you trade more. If they receive asset-based fees for trading, and you do not trade very often, they will generally have fewer costs and so they would make more money if you trade less. SSG does not have any proprietary products. They receive payments from third party mutual fund companies and money fund sweep programs when you own certain brands or share classes of funds that pay us fees (sometimes referred to as trail fees, 12b-1 fees or service fees), to administer and service your account. They receive event sponsorship payments from vendors and industry service providers that participate in their industry conferences. SSG does not have proprietary or principal trading services (except for riskless-principal or fixed-price trades), nor revenue sharing with our firm. We are not affiliated with SSG. In addition, SSG does not supervise our firm, agents and activities.

In choosing a custodian we are not obligated to seek competitive bids or the lowest commission cost to our clients, but we determine that the commission rates charged by the custodian are reasonable based on the quality of the different services available to our clients.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

We review each client account at least quarterly. The reviewers analyze each portfolio to determine if the performance is in line with the target allocation. They also focus on confirming the proper allocation of the portfolio and performance of each account with rebalancing, as needed. In addition, the reviewers evaluate economic and market variables combined with fundamental data on individual funds on an ongoing basis. These reviews are primarily performed by our firm's portfolio managers.

At the beginning of each calendar quarter, we provide clients (via the client's PFA) a detailed written report which reflects account performance, portfolio holdings and balances. We also include a newsletter that reviews the market environment and mutual fund investment performance. The account custodian provides clients transaction confirmations within three days of any trade and detailed account statements at least quarterly. The account custodian also provides clients with required year-end tax information.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We market our investment management services to PFAs who refer their clients for our services. For more detailed disclosures, refer to Item 4.

If an unaffiliated or affiliated Personal Financial Advisor introduces our firm to their client, we pay that PFA compensation in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4) – 3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. We receive an economic benefit from our custodians in the form of the support products and services they make available to our firm to maintain client accounts. These products and services, how they benefit our firm, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12.

We work with several financial planners and advisors who are affiliated with FINRA registered broker dealers as registered representatives. These broker dealers include Cetera Advisors, Cambridge Research, American Investors Company, Securities America and Triad Advisors. We pay these broker dealers directly the amount of the referral fee earned by registered representatives. The broker dealer pays the registered representatives a portion of the referral fee. These broker dealers are independently operated business and are not affiliated with our firm.

We receive an economic benefit from Schwab, in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12 above. The availability of Schwab's products and services to us is not based on giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

As disclosed under Item 12, above, our firm participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and we may recommend TD Ameritrade to clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between our firm's participation in the program and the investment advice we give to our clients, although we receive economic benefits through our participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving Advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Advisor by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by our firm. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit our firm but may not benefit our client accounts. These products or services may assist our firm in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help our firm manage and further develop our business enterprise. The benefits received by our firm or our personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of our fiduciary duties to clients, we endeavor at all times to put the interests of our clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by our firm in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and could indirectly influence our choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

We provide a reporting service to certain financial representatives who refer clients for our investment management services. We charge the financial representative for the online reporting system that provides the reporting service. No additional fees are charged to client accounts that are part of this service.

We engage with unaffiliated advisors to assist with the management of all or a portion of the client's assets per the terms and conditions of a written Consulting Agreement between our firm and the advisor. At all times, the advisor shall maintain both the initial and ongoing day-to-day relationship with the client, including exclusive responsibility for initial and ongoing client suitability and account performance.

We also serve as a sub-adviser to unaffiliated registered investment advisers per the terms and conditions of a written Sub-Advisory Agreement. With respect to its sub-advisory services, the unaffiliated investment advisers that engage Gemmer's sub-advisory services maintain both the initial and ongoing day-to-day relationship with the underlying client, including initial and ongoing determination suitability for Gemmer's designated investment strategies.

Item 15 – Custody

Under government regulations, we are deemed to have custody of client assets if authorization is given to us to instruct the custodian to deduct management fees directly from client accounts. Each custodian we work with maintains actual custody of client assets. Each client will receive at least quarterly, statements from the qualified custodian that holds and maintains their investment assets. Statements will be sent to the email or mailing address clients provide to the custodian. We urge clients to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we provide them. Our statements may vary from custodial statements due to timing differences or other factors.

In the event that clients request that we transfer money between custodial accounts and their bank account or to a third-party, we require verbal verification with the client regarding the request. We will verify the bank or third-party information and amount to be transferred.

Shareholder Services Group, Inc. is a new custodian relationship. We are not affiliated with Shareholder Services Group, Inc. (SSG). In addition, SSG does not supervise our firm, agents and activities.

Third Party Transfer Procedure

Due to new regulatory guidance, we have updated procedures regarding third party transfers in a brokerage account. For those situations where we are requested to transfer money between a client's brokerage account and another account in their name or jointly with their spouse or partner, a process has been set up so clients do not need to sign a form each time to request these transfers. However, in those cases where the transfer is to a third-party we will require the client to sign a form each time to effect these types of transfers.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

We receive discretionary authority from the client upon receipt of a signed investment advisory agreement to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold, without limitation.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, we do not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the exclusive responsibility for:

- 1) Directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities beneficially owned by the client shall be voted;
- 2) Making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to their investment assets.

Upon opening an account, we communicate to the custodian to forward copies of all proxies and shareholder communications relating to the investment assets in client account(s). Clients may contact us regarding any questions they have regarding any specific proxy or shareholder communication they receive.

Item 18 – Financial Information

We do not bill 6 months or more in advance and therefore are not required to include a financial statement in this document. We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients and have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

ANY QUESTIONS: Gemmer’s Chief Compliance Officer, Mario Hernandez, remains available to address any questions regarding this Part 2A.
