Item 4 – Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

Stewardship Financial Advisors, LLC (“SFA” or the “Advisor”) is a registered investment advisor with the SEC, which is organized as a Limited Liability Company (LLC) under the laws of the State of Georgia. SFA was founded in 1999, and is owned and operated by Charles B. Pyke, Jr. (President). This Disclosure Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the advisory services provided by SFA.

The Advisor serves as a fiduciary to Clients, as defined under applicable laws and regulations. As a fiduciary, the Advisor upholds a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client and seeks to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. Our fiduciary commitment is further described in our Code of Ethics. For more information regarding our Code of Ethics, please see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading.”

B. Advisory Services Offered

SFA offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, and charitable organizations in the State of Georgia and other states (each referred to as a “Client”).

Wealth Management Services

SFA provides Clients with wealth management services, which generally includes a broad range of comprehensive financial planning and consulting services in connection with discretionary management of investment portfolios. These services are described below:

Investment Management Services -SFA provides customized investment advisory solutions for its Clients. This is achieved through continuous personal Client contact and interaction while providing discretionary investment management and related advisory services. SFA works closely with each Client to identify their investment goals and objectives as well as risk tolerance and financial situation in order to create a portfolio strategy, based on various model portfolios designed by SFA. These portfolios consist of mutual funds and/or exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”) to achieve the Client’s investment goals. The Advisor may also utilize individual stocks, or bonds to meet the needs of its Clients. The Advisor may retain certain types of investments based on a Client’s legacy portfolio construction.

SFA’s investment strategy[ies] is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. SFA will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance agreed to by the Client. Each Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to acceptance by the Advisor.

SFA evaluates and selects investments for inclusion in Client portfolios only after applying its internal due diligence process. SFA may recommend, on occasion, redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio. SFA may recommend specific positions to increase sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement. SFA may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position[s] in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client’s risk tolerance.

Financial Planning Services - SFA will typically provide a variety of financial planning and consulting services to Clients as a part of its wealth management services. In certain instances, Clients may engage the Advisor for financial planning services as a separate project based service. Services are offered in several areas of a Client’s financial situation, depending on their goals, objectives and financial situation.

Generally, such financial planning services involve preparing a formal financial plan or rendering a specific financial consultation based on the Client’s financial goals and objectives. This planning or consulting may encompass one or more areas of need, including but not limited to, investment planning, retirement income planning, estate planning, tax planning, risk management, and other areas of a Client's financial situation.

A financial plan developed for, or financial consultation rendered to the Client will usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the Client. For example, recommendations may be made that the Client start or revise their investment programs, commence or alter retirement savings, establish education savings and/or charitable giving programs.

SFA may also refer Clients to an accountant, attorney or other specialists, as appropriate for their unique situation. For certain financial planning engagements, the Advisor may provide a written summary of the Client's financial situation, observations, and recommendations. The Advisor may not provide a written summary if only a planning consultation is rendered.

Financial planning and consulting recommendations may pose a conflict between the interests of the Advisor and the interests of the Client. For example, a recommendation to increase the level of investment assets with the Advisor would pose a conflict, as it would increase the advisory fees paid to the Advisor. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations made by the Advisor, the Client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through the Advisor.

At no time will SFA accept or maintain custody of a Client's funds or securities. All Client assets will be managed within their designated account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the Client investment advisory agreement. For additional information, please see Item 15 – Custody and Item 12 – Brokerage Practices.

C. Client Account Management

Prior to engaging SFA to provide wealth management services, each Client is required to enter into an advisory agreement with the Advisor that define, the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Establishing an Investment Strategy – SFA, in connection with the Client, will develop an investment strategy that seeks to achieve the Client's investment goals and objectives taking into consideration the Client's financial situation, time horizon and tolerance for risk.
- Asset Allocation – SFA will develop a strategic asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance of risk for each Client.
- Portfolio Construction and Model Portfolio – SFA will develop a portfolio for the Client based off their model portfolios that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Supervision – SFA will provide investment management and ongoing oversight of the Client's investment portfolio.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

SFA does not manage or place Client assets into a wrap fee program. Investment management services are provided directly by SFA.

E. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2020, SFA manages approximately $777,398,772 in assets, all of which are on a discretionary basis. Clients may request more current information at any time by contacting the Advisor.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for services provided by the Advisor. Each Client engaging the Advisor for services described herein shall be required to enter into a written agreement with the Advisor. In the event of a conflict or inconsistency between the terms of the written agreement between the Client and the Advisor and those of Form ADV or this Form ADV Part 2A ("Disclosure Brochure"), the terms of the written agreement shall control and govern the rights and obligations of the Client and the Advisor.

A. Fees for Advisory Services

Wealth Management Services

Advisory fees are paid quarterly, at the end of each quarter, pursuant to the terms of the advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the quarter. Investment advisory fees are based on the following schedule:

Assets Under Management ($)*	Maximum Annual Rate (%)
First $250,000	1.45%
Next $250,001 to $1,000,000	1.25%
Next $1,000,001 to $3,000,000	1.05%
Next $3,000,001 and above	0.85%

*Assets are calculated at account level. Clients are not entitled to a reduced fee if threshold is met by multiple accounts.

Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by SFA will be independently valued by the designated Custodian. SFA will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

The Advisor's fee is exclusive of, and in addition to, brokerage fees, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses, which may be incurred by the Client. However, the Advisor shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Financial Project

SFA offers financial planning, as a project based service, either on an hourly basis or a fixed engagement fee. Hourly engagements range up to $600 per hour. Fixed fee engagement fee range up to $5,000, annually. Fees may be negotiable based on the nature and complexity of the services to be provided and the overall relationship with the Advisor. An estimate for total hours and total costs will be provided to the Client prior to engaging for these services. If the Client elects to engage the Advisor for wealth management services, the financial project fee will be waived.

B. Fee Billing

Wealth Management Services

Advisory fees are calculated by the Advisor or its delegate and deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the respective quarter-end date. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the total assets under management per account with SFA at the end of each quarter. The advisory fee will not be pro-rated for any partial quarters. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the investment advisory fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting SFA to be paid directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the investment advisory agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Financial project fees are invoiced by the Advisor and are due upon completion of the agreed upon deliverable[s].

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than SFA, in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. The Client is responsible for all custodial and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian and executing broker-dealer. The fees charged by SFA are separate and distinct from these custodial and execution fees.

In addition, all fees paid to SFA for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. A Client may be able to invest in these products directly, without the services of SFA, but would not receive the services provided by SFA which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate for each Client's financial situation and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund[s] and the fees charged by SFA to fully understand the total fees to be paid. Please refer to Item 12 – Brokerage Practices for additional information.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Wealth Management Services

SFA is compensated for its services at the end of the quarter after investment advisory services are rendered. Either party may terminate the investment advisory agreement, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. The Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. The Client's investment advisory agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior approval.

Financial Project

SFA is compensated for financial projects upon completion of the engagement deliverable[s]. Either party may terminate the financial planning agreement, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Client shall be billed for actual hours logged on the planning project times the contractual hourly rate or in the case of a fixed fee engagement, the percentage of the engagement scope completed by the Advisor. The Client's financial planning agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior approval.

E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

Certain Advisory Persons are also registered representatives of Cetera Advisors, LLC ("Cetera"). Cetera is a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 10299), member FINRA, SIPC. In one's separate capacity as a registered representative of Cetera, the Advisory Person may implement securities transactions under Cetera and not through SFA. In such instances, the Advisory Person will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by the Advisory Person in one's capacity as a registered representative is separate and in addition to the Advisor's fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because the Advisory Person who is a registered representative has an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on the Client. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by the Advisor nor Advisory Persons. Neither the Advisor nor Advisory Persons will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any products or services implemented in the Advisory Person's separate capacity as a registered representative. Please see "Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations."

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

SFA does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by SFA are as described in “Item 5 – Fees and Compensation” above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

SFA does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to recommend any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

SFA offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporations, and charitable organizations. The amount of each type of Client is available on the Advisor's Form ADV Part 1A. These amounts may change over time and are updated at least annually by the Advisor. SFA generally does not impose a minimum account size for establishing a relationship.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

SFA primarily employs fundamental analysis method in developing investment strategies for its Clients. Research and analysis from SFA is derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, and review of company activities, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. These criteria are generally ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts.

SFA may also base its investment analysis on modern portfolio theory as part of a formal investment selection process. This theory attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, each by carefully choosing the proportions of various assets.

As noted above, SFA generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. SFA will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, SFA may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

B. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. SFA will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

While the methods of analysis help the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in these methods of analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included below in Item 13 – Review of Accounts.

Modern portfolio theory assumes that investors are risk adverse, meaning that given two portfolios that offer the same expected return, investors will prefer the less risky one. Thus, an investor will take on increased risk only if compensated by higher expected returns. Conversely, an investor who wants higher expected returns must accept more risk. The exact trade-off will be the same of all investors, but different investors will evaluate the trade-off differently based on the individual risk aversion characteristics. The implication is that a rational investor will not invest in a portfolio if a second portfolio exists with a more favorable risk-expected return profile – i.e., if for that level of risk an alternative portfolio exists, which has better expected returns.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The Advisor will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Following are some of the risks associated with the Advisor's strategies:

ETF Risks

The performance of ETFs is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs have a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of mutual funds is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involves a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving SFA or any of its management persons. SFA values the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider with whom you partner. Our backgrounds are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching by our firm name or our CRD# 125724.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer Affiliation

Advisory Persons are also registered representatives of Cetera Advisors LLC (“Cetera”). Cetera is a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 10299), member FINRA, SIPC. In one's separate capacity as a registered representative, the Advisory Person will typically receive commissions for the implementation of recommendations for commissionable transactions. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by the Advisory Person. Neither the Advisor nor the Advisory Person will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any services implemented in the Advisory Person's separate capacity as a registered representative.

Pyke & Associates, PC

The Advisor is affiliated, through common control of, with Pyke & Associates, PC ("PA" or "P&A"), an estate planning law firm. Clients may be offered to engage PA for estate planning and related legal services. This may pose a conflict, through common ownership, owners may benefit from additional revenues generated. Clients of SFA are not obligated to engage PA for estate planning and related legal services.

KP&B Tax Planning, LLC

The Advisor is affiliated, through common control of, with KP&B Tax Planning LLC ("KP&B"), a tax planning firm. Clients may be offered to engage KP&B for tax planning and related services. This may pose a conflict, through common ownership, owners and employees may benefit from additional revenues generated. Clients of SFA are not obligated to engage KP&B for tax planning and related services.

Asset & Risk Management, LLC

The Advisor is affiliated, through common control of, with Asset & Risk Management, LLC ("A&RM" or "ARM"), an insurance agency. Clients may be offered to implement insurance products through ARM, where an Advisory Person, through its affiliation with ARM, may benefit from any revenue generated and any subsequent distribution. This may pose a conflict, where Advisory Persons may be incentivized to implement insurance recommendations through ARM. Fees collected from any product implementation do not offset regular advisory fees. Clients are under no obligation to implement or purchase any insurance products through ARM. Please see additional disclosure regarding insurance agency affiliations below.

Insurance Agency Affiliations

Certain Advisory Persons are also licensed insurance professionals. Implementations of insurance recommendations are separate and apart from one's role with SFA. As an insurance professional, the Advisory Person may receive customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products are sold. The Advisory Person is not required to offer the products of any particular insurance through ARM. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This may cause a conflict of interest in recommending certain products of the insurance companies. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendations made by the Advisory Persons or the Advisor.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

SFA has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with SFA (our "Supervised Persons"). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. SFA and its Supervised Persons owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of SFA's Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of our Code, please contact us at (770) 507-0025 or via email at sfa@ceteraadvisors.com.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

SFA allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. SFA does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. SFA does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

SFA allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted the Code to address insider trading (material non-public information controls); gifts and entertainment; outside business activities and personal securities reporting. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by SFA requiring reporting of personal securities trades by its Supervised Persons for review by the Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") or delegate. We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While SFA allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are typically aggregated with Client orders or traded afterwards. At no time will SFA, or any Supervised Person of SFA, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

SFA does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custody and execution services. The Client will engage the broker-dealer/custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize SFA to direct trades to the Custodian as agreed in the investment advisory agreement. Further, SFA does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of our Clients on a trade-by-trade basis.

Where SFA does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, SFA will typically recommend the Custodian to Clients. SFA may recommend the Custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client, its reputation, and/or the location of the Custodian's offices. Clients are not obligated to use the Custodian recommended by the Advisor and will not be charged a higher fee by SFA for utilizing a Custodian not recommended by the Advisor. However, the Advisor may be limited in the services it can provide if the recommended Custodian is not utilized. SFA will generally recommend that Clients establish their account[s] at Pershing, LLC ("Pershing"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer and member SIPC. Pershing will serve as the Client's "qualified custodian". SFA maintains an institutional relationship with Pershing, whereby the Advisor receives certain economic benefits from Pershing. Please see Item 14 below.

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker-dealer/custodian in exchange for research and other services. SFA does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer/custodian. However, the Advisor receives certain economic benefits from the Custodian. Please see Item 14.

2. Brokerage Referrals - SFA does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing an account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a "directed brokerage basis," where SFA will place trades within the established account[s] at the Custodian designated by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective brokerage account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor's own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client's account[s]). SFA will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. SFA will execute its transactions through the Custodian as authorized by the Client. SFA may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the same broker-dealer for multiple (discretionary) accounts in the same trading day. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage any particular Client accounts.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by the Advisory Persons of SFA. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually, or more or less frequently depending on the needs of the Client.

B. Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted in Item 13.A., each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client's request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's account. The Client is encouraged to notify SFA if changes occur in the Client's personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client's investment plan. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

C. Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account[s]. The Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations, and performance.

D. Mutual Fund Share Class Selection

SFA will no less than annually review client portfolio holdings to determine whether advisory clients who hold mutual fund positions are invested in lowest share classes available for the mutual fund positions in their accounts.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by SFA

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

SFA has established an institutional relationship with Pershing ("Custodian") to assist the Advisor in managing Client account[s]. Access to the Pershing platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The Advisor receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Pershing. The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a Custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this Custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

SFA does not engage paid solicitors for Client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

SFA has the ability to deduct advisory fees and is therefore considered to have custody of Client assets. In addition, SFA is deemed to have custody of certain Client assets as a result of standing letters of authorization (“SLOA”) in place from Clients that allow SFA to direct the Custodian to send Client funds to designated third parties based on the SLOA.

Advisers relying on SLOAs to make certain disbursements on behalf of the Client will not be subject to surprise independent asset verifications if: a) each such Client provides written instructions to the Custodian regarding specific transactions that the Client authorizes the Custodian to disburse upon request of SFA and provides SFA with written instructions that explicitly describe the specific transactions that the Client authorizes SFA to disburse, b) the Custodian verifies these instructions when executing each transaction and confirms these instructions at least annually with SFA, c) SFA maintains records showing that disbursements are not made to a related person of SFA or located at the same address as SFA, and d) SFA has no ability to change any routing information regarding such disbursements and the Client can terminate such relationship at any time. This procedure is in compliance with the no-action relief on Custody Rule issued by the SEC’s Division of Investment Management. All Clients must place their assets with a “qualified custodian.” Clients should review statements provided by the Custodian and compare to any reports provided by SFA to ensure accuracy, as the Custodian does not perform this review. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

SFA generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by SFA. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client’s execution of an investment advisory agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by SFA will be in accordance with each Client’s investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

SFA does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Neither SFA, nor its management, have any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of SFA to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither SFA, nor any of its advisory persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. SFA is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the Advisor does not collect fees of $1,200 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

Privacy Policy

Effective: March 08, 2021

Our Commitment to You

Stewardship Financial Advisors, LLC ("SFA" or the "Advisor") is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our Clients (also referred to as "you" and "your") that we obtain as your Investment Advisor, as described here in our Privacy Policy ("Policy").

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. SFA (also referred to as "we", "our" and "us") protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information we have and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

SFA does not sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discrete and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisors ("RIAs") must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What information do we collect from you?

Driver's license number	Date of birth
Social security or taxpayer identification number	Assets and liabilities
Name, address and phone number(s)	Income, expenses, and prior tax return

Other advisory agreements and legal documents	Investment questionnaires and suitability documents
Transactional information with us or others	Other information needed to service account

How do we protect your information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use we maintain physical, procedural and electronic security measures. These include such safeguards as secure passwords, encrypted file storage and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. Our associates are trained on their responsibilities to protect Client's personal information.

We require third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

How do we share your information?

An RIA shares Client personal information to effectively implement its services. In the section below, we list some reasons we may share your personal information.

Basis For Sharing	Do we share?	Can you limit?
Servicing our Clients We may share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties (such as administrators, brokers, custodians, regulators, credit agencies, other financial institutions) as necessary for us to provide agreed upon services to you, consistent with applicable law, including but not limited to: processing transactions; general account maintenance; responding to regulators or legal investigations; and credit reporting.	Yes	No
Marketing Purposes SFA does not disclose, and does not intend to disclose, personal information with non-affiliated third parties to offer you services. Certain laws may give us the right to share your personal information with financial institutions where you are a customer and where SFA or the client has a formal agreement with the financial institution. We will only share information for purposes of servicing your accounts, not for marketing purposes.	No	Not Shared
Authorized Users Your non-public personal information may be disclosed to you and persons that we believe to be your authorized agent(s) or representative(s).	Yes	Yes
Information About Former Clients SFA does not disclose and does not intend to disclose, non-public personal information to non-affiliated third parties with respect to persons who are no longer our Clients.	No	Not Shared

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We will send you a copy of this Policy annually for as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with us.

Periodically we may revise this Policy, and will provide you with a revised policy if the changes materially alter the previous Privacy Policy. We will not, however, revise our Privacy Policy to permit the sharing of non-public personal information other than as described in this notice unless we first notify you and provide you with an opportunity to prevent the information sharing.

Any Questions?

You may ask questions or voice any concerns, as well as obtain a copy of our current Privacy Policy by contacting us at (770) 507-0025 or via email at sfa@ceteraadvisors.com.
