The Program allows Belpointe to manage your account for a single fee that includes portfolio management services and brokerage costs. Portfolio Management Services includes the giving advice regarding asset allocation and the selection of investments. Clients are required to complete an investment profile statement or other risk tolerance/suitability questionnaire(s) and all investments are made based on the client's financial situation and profile information. Clients will retain individual ownership of all securities. A client has the right to terminate the portfolio management agreement without penalty within five (5) business days after entering into such agreement. In addition, the investment management agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon ten business (10) days' prior written notice. If an account is terminated during a calendar quarter, fees will be adjusted pro rata based upon the number of calendar days in the calendar quarter that the advisory agreement was effective. In addition, a restriction request may not be honored if it is fundamentally inconsistent with Belpointe's investment philosophy, runs counter to the client's stated investment objectives, or would prevent Belpointe from properly servicing client accounts. Belpointe will periodically review with clients their financial circumstances, investment objectives and risk profile. In order for Belpointe to provide effective advisory services, it is critical that clients provide accurate and complete information to Belpointe and inform Belpointe anytime such information needs to be updated or anytime there is a change in their financial circumstances, investment objectives and/or risk profile. Class Action Settlements - Although Belpointe has discretion over client accounts, it will not be responsible for handling client claims in class action lawsuits or similar settlements involving securities owned by the client. B.	What contributes to the costs of this program?	The fee that you pay in the Wrap Fee Program described in this Brochure covers investment advice you receive from your Financial Professional; portfolio management services; and trading and execution costs. However, the program may cost you more or less than purchasing such services separately. There are several factors that bear upon the relative cost of the program. Factors that influence the cost of this program are use of solicitor's fees, investment advisor representative's fee, investment management fees, size of account, brokerage fees and investment product fees. The annual wrap fee for the Program is charged as a percentage of assets under management and will not exceed 2.15% of the value of the portfolio. Details of the investment advisory fee charged are more fully described in the advisory agreement entered into with each client. These fees are negotiable solely at Belpointe's discretion and the final fee is detailed in the Investment Advisory Agreement. Clients will be billed in advance at the beginning of each calendar quarter, based upon the value (market value or fair market value in the absence of market value), of the client's portfolio at the end of the previous quarter. The initial fee for the first calendar month in which a client participates in the Program shall be calculated on-pro-rata basis beginning the day initial assets are deposited in the Program, and is debited the following month along with the fees for the next calendar month. Fees are subsequently calculated at the beginning of each calendar month, based on the fair market value of your Account on the last business day of the prior calendar month.

To the extent a client holds a fund in an existing account at the time of making the election, there can be tax consequences as a result of the election. Clients should consult their own tax advisors before making this decision. There can be a period of time after making the election during which the fund remains in a client's account.
	Risk of Loss	Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear. Equity Securities - The major risks associated with investing in equity securities relate to the company's capitalization, quality of the company's management, quality and cost of the company's services, the company's ability to manage costs, efficiencies in the manufacturing or service delivery process, management of litigation risk and the company's ability to create shareholder value (e.g., increase the value of the company's stock price). Exchange Traded Funds - Exchange traded funds (ETFs) do not sell individual shares directly to investors and only issue their shares in large blocks. ETFs are subject to risks similar to those of stocks. Investment returns will fluctuate and are subject to market volatility, so that when shares are sold they may be worth more or less than their original cost. ETF shares are bought and sold at market price (not Net Asset Value) and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Equity Mutual Funds - The major risks associated with investing in equity mutual funds is similar to the risks associated with investing in equity securities, including market risk, which is the risk that investment returns will fluctuate and are subject to market volatility, so that an investor's shares, when redeemed or sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Other risks include the quality and experience of the portfolio management team and its ability to create fund value by investing in securities that have positive growth, the amount of individual company diversification, the type and amount of industry diversification and the type and amount of sector diversification within specific industries. In addition, mutual funds

	tend to be tax inefficient and therefore investors may pay capital gains taxes on fund investments while not having yet sold their shares in the fund. Fixed-Income Mutual Funds - In addition to the risks associated with investing in equity mutual funds, fixed-income mutual funds also carry the following risks: Credit Risk – the risk that a company or bond issuer may fail to pay principal and interest payments in a timely manner. Interest Rate Risk – the risk that the market value of the bonds will go down when interest rates rise. Prepayment Risk – the risk that a bond will be paid off early. Indexed Funds - Indexed Funds have the potential to be affected by “tracking error risk” which means a deviation from a stated benchmark index. Since the core of a portfolio may attempt to closely replicate a benchmark, the source of the tracking error (deviation) may come from a “sample index” that may not closely align the benchmark. In addition, while many index mutual funds are known for their potential tax efficiency and higher “qualified dividend income” (QDI) percentages, there are asset classes within these funds or holding periods that may not benefit. Shorter holding periods, as well as commodities and currencies that may be part of a fund’s portfolio, may be considered “non-qualified” under certain tax code provisions. Options - There are numerous risks associated with transactions in options on securities or securities indexes. A decision as to whether, when and how to use options involves the exercise of skill and judgment, and even a well-conceived transaction may be unsuccessful to some degree because of market behavior or unexpected events. In the case of index options, the client incurs basis risk between the performance of the underlying portfolio and the performance of the underlying index. For example, the underlying portfolio may decline in value while the underlying index may increase in value, resulting in a loss on the call option while the underlying portfolio declines as well. Alternative Investments - The performance of alternative investments (e.g., commodities, futures, hedge funds; funds of hedge funds, private equity or other types of limited partnerships) can be volatile. Alternative investments generally involve various risk factors and liquidity constraints, a complete discussion of which is set forth in the offering documents of each specific alternative investment. Due to the speculative nature of alternative investments a client must satisfy certain income or net worth standards prior to investing. Concentrated Portfolios - Concentrated portfolios are an aggressive and highly volatile approach to trading and investing. Concentrated portfolios hold fewer different stocks than a diversified portfolio and are much more likely to experience sudden dramatic price swings. In addition, the rise or drop in the price of any given holding is likely to have a larger impact on portfolio performance, than a more broadly diversified portfolio. Note that there may be other circumstances not described here that could adversely affect a client’s investment and prevent their

portfolio from reaching its objective. Past performance is no indication of future results. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Additional Risks - (i) Frequent Trading and Investment Performance: Belpointe's tactical strategies are actively managed on a daily basis and frequent trading may occur. Strategies involving frequent trading of securities can affect investment performance through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes. (ii) Use of Leverage: Some of the strategies can utilize levered index products. Leveraged ETFs are considered risky. The use of leverage strategies by a fund increases the risk to the fund and magnifies gains or losses on the investment. You could incur significant losses even if the long-term performance of the underlying index showed a gain. Most leveraged ETFs "reset" daily. Due to the effect of compounding, their performance over longer periods of time can differ significantly from the performance of their underlying index or benchmark during the same period of time.

Risks Associated with Methods of Analysis - Belpointe's securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities the firm purchases and sells, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While the firm is alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always the risk that Belpointe's analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

Technical Analysis - The primary risk in using technical analysis is that spotting historical trends may not help predict such trends in the future. Even if the trend will eventually recur, there is no guarantee than Belpointe will be able to accurately predict such a reoccurrence.

Cyclical Analysis - The primary risk of cyclical analysis is that economic/business cycles may not be predictable and may have many fluctuations between long-term expansions and contractions. The lengths of economic cycles may be difficult to predict with accuracy and therefore, there is an attendant difficulty in predicting economic trends. Consequently, the changing value of securities that would be affected by these changing trends.

Technical Trading Models - The primary risk of technical trading models is that historical trends and past performance cannot predict future trends and there is no assurance that the mathematical algorithms employed are designed properly, are updated with new data, or can accurately predict future market, industry and sector performance.

Therefore, it is important to ask your Advisor Representative about their experience, services, investment style and review the Brochure Supplement which provides additional background information about your Belpointe Advisor Representative. An analysis of your current financial situation, risk tolerance, and future needs will be used to help determine the best investment vehicles to meet your investment objectives. The replacement of an investment vehicle may be triggered by performance, a change in management, market outlook or your personal financial situation. Your Belpointe Advisor Representative may create his or her own unique portfolios for you and there are no “standard” portfolios. We customize portfolios in this way to meet your individual needs. It will be difficult for you to evaluate the past performance of a portfolio being recommended because your portfolio is likely to be different from that of another client's portfolio. There are model portfolios available for some of our strategies and you may review these to help you understand a strategy. It is important for you to be aware that several Belpointe Advisor Representatives make public appearances on TV and publish investment-related content and may receive compensation for such appearances or content. You should not consider their television appearances or published materials to be investment advice and you should not make changes to your investment strategies based on these opinions. Your personal situation can significantly impact the advice you receive from your Belpointe Advisor Representative and it may be different from what they publicly say or write. Portfolio strategies are typically combined and blended in an effort to meet the client's investment objectives. Strategies will also be changed in an effort to improve them. Below is a description of some of the investment strategies we commonly use to manage client portfolios.
--	--	--

1.	Passively Managed Strategies	Our passively managed portfolios (“Passively Managed Strategies”) give investors a diversified portfolio targeted to goals, such as their estimated date of retirement. Use of index funds or passively managed asset class funds reduces the risks associated with actively managed and tactically portfolios. Passively Managed Strategies seek to track the returns of various asset classes or indexes available within the publicly traded markets. The goal is to match the return of the targeted asset class or index instead of trying to outperform it or reduce the risk present in that given asset class or index. We attempt to meet client investment objectives and manage risks through asset allocation. Risk may be managed by the Asset Allocation and Security Selection of the portfolio. Please see material risks for more information.
2.	Actively Managed Strategies	Active management seeks to exploit market inefficiencies by purchasing securities (stocks, bonds or other investments etc.) that are undervalued or by short selling securities that are overvalued. Most of the actively managed portfolios at Belpointe do not use shorting. Active portfolio managers may use a variety of factors and strategies to construct their portfolio(s). These include quantitative measures such as price–earnings ratios and price/earnings-to-growth (PEG) ratios, sector investments that attempt to anticipate long-term macroeconomic trends (such as a focus on energy or housing stocks), technical analysis such as price movement, and purchasing stocks of companies that are temporarily out-of-favor or selling at a discount to their intrinsic value. Some actively managed funds also pursue strategies such as risk arbitrage, short positions, option writing, and asset allocation. Generally, multiple securities and/or investments are used to diversify a portfolio. The goal is to improve the probability of a positive return. When used, options strategies typically include buying puts to hedge equity risk, writing covered calls for income generation, and buying calls as an equity substitute. Option strategies can also be used to significantly increase risk and this may result in substantial losses. If you select to have options be a part of your portfolio, you should consult your Belpointe Advisor Representative for clarification on whether they are being used to increase or decrease risk in your portfolio. Actively managed strategies vary greatly from one another so it is important to discuss and understand the investment methodology being used. Risks may be managed through Asset Allocation, Security Selection and in some strategies Trading of Securities. Please see material risks for more information.
3.	Tactically Managed Strategies	Tactically Managed Strategies Tactical seek to take advantage of short term and/ or longer term market trends. Tactical investing involves taking long or short term positions in a range of securities. The manager then tactically trades and allocates to these securities in an effort to manage risk and produce a positive return. Technical, quantitative and to a lesser degree fundamental analysis is often an important consideration in tactical strategies as it can be helpful in determining

		optimal entry and exit points. Tactically Managed Strategies are generally more complex and involve different risks than standard buy and hold investment strategies. Unlike Passively Managed Strategies and many Actively Managed Strategies, the performance of the portfolio is primarily driven by the trading of securities in the portfolio or strategy and not the long term holding of assets or securities. Tactically managed strategies vary greatly from one another so it is important to discuss and understand the investment methodology being used. Risks may be managed through Asset Allocation, Security Selection and Trading of Securities. Please see material risks for more information.
4.	Blended Strategies	Blending Strategies involve mixing in any combination: Passively Managed Strategies, Actively Managed Strategies and/or Tactically Managed Strategies in the construction of your portfolio. This may be done to mix and match the benefits of various investment strategies. Please see the above descriptions of Passively Managed, Actively Managed and Tactically Managed Strategies to understand more about these portfolios. Blended strategies vary greatly from one another so it is important to discuss and understand the investment methodologies being used. Risks may be managed through Asset Allocation, Security Selection and Trading of Securities. Please see material risks for more information.

	Material Risks	The methods used in our investment strategies carry material risks: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Asset Allocation 2. Security Selection 3. Trading of Securities There are three additional material risks to be aware of when investing. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Fraud 2. Counterparties 3. Extraordinary Events There is no guarantee that the investment objectives of a client, account, investment or portfolio will be met. The material risks described in this section help to explain how and when this can occur and the risks accompany the investment advice provided by your Belpointe Advisor Representative and our firm.
1.	Asset Allocation	In general, safer portfolios are constructed from large allocations to strategies that hold cash, government and high-grade corporate bonds. Higher risk portfolios have larger allocations to stocks. Tactical Portfolios will use trading strategies in seeking to meet investment objectives. The asset allocation we recommend will vary depending on your personal investment goals. A general guide to asset

		allocation is offered below. Asset Allocation risks are present in all our investment strategies.
	What is the risk of losing all or some of my investment?	Investing always involves a risk of loss, which you should be prepared to bear. See the asset allocation descriptions below for more information. When investing there is always the risk of losing all of your original investment. A very conservative portfolio has a much lower probability of loss than a very aggressive portfolio or speculative portfolio.
	How would a market crash affect my portfolio?	Even a portfolio with an asset allocation that matches your financial goals and risk tolerance can be impacted by rare and improbable market events such as the stock market crash of 1929, “Black Monday” of 1987 or the Financial Crisis of 2008. You should not expect us to predict such market anomalies and understand that they may have a tremendously negative impact on the value of traditionally “safe” assets. Example: Prior to the financial crisis of 2008, investment grade bonds from financial institutions were considered safe investments. However, the crisis caused many of these bonds to lose 50% of their value.
	How does changing my investment objectives affect my portfolio?	If your investment objectives change it can negatively affect your investment performance. If the markets decline and your financial goals, risk tolerance or financial needs change a change to a more conservative asset allocation may be required to meet your new investment objectives. Such a change while consistent with your needs, it can also negatively impact your investment performance. When shifting to a more conservative asset allocation, typically riskier securities are sold and more conservative securities like bonds are purchased. This has the effect of reducing your allocation to securities (stocks) that are likely to produce better returns than more conservative securities (bonds) as the markets recover from a decline. Changes in investment objectives should be carefully considered and can be directed by you or your Belpointe Advisor Representative.
a.	Preservation Portfolio	A preservation portfolio is a portfolio that seeks to preserve capital and generate a minimal level of capital growth and/or income as its secondary objective. Preservation Portfolios tend to be invested in a mix of government and high grade corporate fixed income securities with much less volatility than the S&P 500. In addition, preservation tactical strategies may invest in riskier securities and seek to use trading strategies to reduce the risk of those riskier securities.
b.	Conservative Portfolio	A conservative portfolio is a portfolio that seeks to generate a minimal level of capital growth and/or income as its primary objective and preserve initial capital as its secondary objective. Conservative portfolios tend to be invested in a mix of income-producing securities with much less volatility than the S&P 500. In addition, conservative tactical strategies may invest in riskier securities and seek to use

		trading strategies to reduce the risk of those riskier securities.
c.	Moderate Portfolio	A moderate portfolio is a balanced portfolio that has both capital preservation, income and/or growth as its objectives. Moderate portfolios tend to have volatility less than the S&P 500. In addition, moderate tactical strategies may invest in leveraged securities and seek to use trading strategies to reduce the risk of those leveraged securities.
d.	Growth Portfolio	A growth portfolio is a growth portfolio managed to generate long-term capital gains as its primary objective. Growth portfolios tend to be invested in a mix of securities with potential for long-term capital appreciation with volatility similar to the S&P 500. In addition, growth tactical strategies may invest in leveraged securities and seek to use trading strategies to reduce the risk of those leveraged securities.
e.	Aggressive Growth Portfolio	An aggressive growth portfolio is a high growth portfolio managed to generate above market capital gains as its primary objective. Aggressive Growth Portfolios tend to be invested in a mix of securities with potential for capital appreciation and loss with volatility in excess of the S&P 500. Aggressive trading, options, derivatives, leverage and shorting may be used in a way that increases investment risk.
f.	Speculative Portfolio	A speculative portfolio is a high growth portfolio managed to generate excessive capital gains as its primary objective. Speculative Portfolios tend to be invested in a mix of speculative and risky securities with potential for excessive capital appreciation and loss with volatility well in excess of the S&P 500. Speculative trading, options, derivatives, leverage and shorting may be used in a way that creates tremendous investment risk. A speculative portfolio is typically akin to gambling, and therefore you should only engage in this type of portfolio if you are comfortable with a 100% loss of your investment.

2.	Security Selection	The risk of loss in a portfolio can often be increased or decreased depending on the type of security, the construction of the security and use of the security. Understanding the types of risks that are present within the various securities and how we use those securities is important to understanding your risk of loss. Our portfolios may use multiple asset classes, and multiple security types to manage risk. This can make the portfolio harder to understand and each individual security or asset class carries its own risk of loss. Security Selection risks are present in all our investment strategies.
a.	Equity Risks	Equity investments in public equities (stocks), Exchange Traded Products (“ETPs”), Real Estate Investment Trusts (“REITs”), Closed Ended Mutual Funds, Master Limited Partnerships (“MLPs”), Business Development Corporations

		(BDCs), Partnerships, investment companies and other equity securities are not guaranteed. This includes the possibility of losses due to fluctuations in value, fraud, and withdrawals by other fund shareholders. The prices of equity securities rise and fall daily. These price movements may result from factors affecting individual companies, industries or the securities market as a whole. In addition, the equity market tends to move in cycles which may cause stock prices to fall for short or extended periods of time. Companies with a larger market capitalization are typically less risky than companies with a smaller market capitalization. Domestic stocks are considered less risky than international stocks. When making equity investments you assume greater risks than when you invest in bonds or cash.
b.	Derivative Risks	In financial markets a derivative instrument is a contract between two parties that specifies conditions (dates, resulting values of the underlying variables, and notional amounts) under which payments, or payoffs, are to be made between the parties. The use of derivatives can result in large losses, total loss or money owed because of leverage, or borrowing. Therefore, investors could lose large amounts if the price of the underlying asset moves against their contract. The loss due to a derivative investment can be unlimited. The most common derivatives used by our firm are Options.
c.	Option Risks	Investments in option contracts are not guaranteed. Options should be considered riskier than stocks, bonds or cash. You should familiarize yourself with the type of option (i.e., put or call) and strategy your Advisor is contemplating. Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Buying an option is subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time. If the purchased options expire worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment, which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs. Selling ("writing" or "granting") an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavorably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying interest or a future or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.
d.	Debt Risks	Investments in debt are not guaranteed. We commonly use debt instruments to provide fixed income for a portfolio. The value of fixed income securities will

		fluctuate, which means that a portfolio could lose money and an individual security can default causing you to lose all of your original investment. Fixed income should be considered less risky than investments in option contracts or equity, but more risky than cash. Preferred stock and/or high yield fixed income can become as risky as an equity investment. High credit quality fixed income securities (like US Treasuries) are less risky than low credit quality fixed income securities (like junk bonds). Fixed income securities with a longer maturity (bonds that mature in 30 years) are riskier than fixed income securities with a shorter maturity (bonds that mature in 6 months). International bonds are considered more risky than domestic bonds (because of currency risks). Higher yielding investments are typically riskier than low yielding investments. A change in any of these factors can cause your fixed income investment to fall in value and in some circumstances become worthless. Other risks affecting fixed income include elements consistent with other investments such as: a change in economic conditions, fraud by the issuer, currency fluctuations, inflation and a change in the US tax treatment.
e.	Structured Note Risks	Structured Notes are a debt obligation that is issued by a financial institution that also contains an embedded derivative component that adjusts the security's risk-return profile. The return performance of a structured note will track both the underlying debt obligation and the derivative embedded within it. Its return is based on equity indexes, a single equity, a basket of equities, interest rates, commodities, or foreign currencies. The performance of a structured note is linked to the return on an underlying asset, group of assets, or index. As structured notes are both a debt instrument and a derivative instrument they are complex and carry risks that are different from other securities. Some structured notes have principal protection and others do not. For the ones that don't, it is possible to lose some or all of the principal. That can happen with equity prices, interest rates, commodity prices, and foreign exchange rates. Lack of liquidity is a risk for holders of structured notes. Investors who are looking at a structured note should expect to hold the instrument to its maturity date. Structured notes also suffer from higher default risk than their underlying debt obligations and derivatives. If the issuer of the note defaults, the entire value of the investment could be lost. Important risks that can affect structured notes include: a change in economic conditions, fraud by the issuer, currency fluctuations, market fluctuations, default, lack of liquidity, call risk and risks associated with underlying derivatives.
f.	Unregistered Investment Risk	Investments in unregistered investments (also known as limited partnerships, hedge funds, private equity, direct investments or co-investments) carry a significant risk of loss, including total loss of investment. To invest in investments that are unregistered with a financial regulator, a client must be an accredited investor. Unregistered investments tend to have less liquidity than traditional investments. Some require holding periods of 5 to 10 years. They may use significant leverage, which can increase potential gains as well as potential losses. Unregistered investments can be difficult to accurately price (mark to market) and value. They may offer less transparency into the underlying investments and do not offer investors the same protection as registered investments. For this reason they carry significant risks, including the risk of fraud. Only sophisticated investors who can bear a loss of investment should invest in unregistered investments.

g.	Commodity and Precious Metal Risks	Investments in Commodities and Precious Metals are not guaranteed. The value of a commodity or precious metal investment will fluctuate greater than an equity investment. You should consider an investment in these asset classes to be more risky than an equity investment. You should expect to see changes in the value of these investments in a range that is greater than an equity investment. If you cannot tolerate drastic changes in value you should not invest in commodities or precious metals.

3.	Trading of Securities	When we buy or sell a security, the trade affects whether you experience a gain or a loss. If your personal situation changes which requires the sale of a security at an inopportune time, this can significantly affect the performance of your investments. Market volatility may impair your judgement and result in poor investment timing. Also, frequent trading or attempting to time the market can increase your risk of loss. Trading risks are greatest in our Tactically Managed Strategies and Actively Managed Strategies. Trading risks are less of a factor in Passively Managed Strategies.
a.	Hedging Risks	Hedging an investment position is done to offset or reduce a potential loss. A hedge can be constructed from many types of financial instruments, including: stocks, exchange-traded funds, insurance, forward contracts, swaps, options, many types of over-the-counter and derivative products, and futures contracts. Because hedging often involves the use of derivatives, the risks associated with those instruments should be considered. Also hedging is not guaranteed to work. There are times when a hedge can multiply losses and it should be understood that hedging may reduce one risk while simultaneously increasing another.
b.	Leverage Risks	The most obvious risk of leverage is that it multiplies losses. Leverage risk can occur in many ways. Some examples include: margin on your account, investment products, and companies that use leverage to conduct business. An investor who buys a stock on 50% margin will lose 40% of his money if the stock declines 20%. If leverage is attained through the use of derivatives it may involve a counterparty, either a creditor or a derivative counterparty. If a derivative counterparty fails, unrealized gains on the contract may be jeopardized. (See counterparty risks below) Leverage can increase both positive and negative returns. In a declining market or sudden market crash leverage can result in partial or complete loss of value in your account.

c.	Liquidity Risks	Investments can suddenly become illiquid and difficult to trade. Illiquid assets can be particularly challenging to value and trade if no buyer or seller of an asset can be found. Our AUM Fees, which are based on values provided to us by your custodian, may be higher or lower than they would normally be for an asset with regular pricing information. Markets that provide liquidity may change at any time, eliminating our ability to buy or sell a specific security. Liquidity cannot be guaranteed and you risk not having the ability to buy or sell an investment when investing. If we are forced to sell a security during a period of time when there is little liquidity this may result in loss of value in that security and your account. Liquidity cannot be guaranteed.
d.	Market Timing Risks	We may attempt to time when buying, selling or shorting of public equities. Because it is impossible for us to predict the best time to buy or sell a security, there is a risk that our timing may not result in the best price. There is also the risk that the cost of trading outweighs the benefit of the trading activity. The greater the frequency of trading the greater the market timing risks and therefore day trading is especially risky/speculative. Frequent trading in an effort to anticipate market movements may severely hurt the value of a portfolio as this type of activity is highly speculative.
e.	Selling Short Risks	In finance, short selling (also known as shorting or going short) is the practice of selling assets that have not been purchased beforehand, but which the seller may have borrowed from a third party with the intention of buying identical assets back at a later date to return to that third party. The short seller hopes to profit from a decline in the price of the assets. The short seller will incur a loss if the price of the assets rises, and there is no theoretical limit to the loss that can be incurred by a short seller.
f.	Tax Risks	A Client should understand that all or a portion of their securities may be sold either at the initiation of or during the course of the management of their assets. Clients are responsible for all tax liabilities arising from such transactions and Clients are encouraged to seek the advice of a qualified tax professional. It is important to notify us if your account requires special handling because of your tax situation.
4.	Fraud	Risk of fraud is present when investing. This risk is present within the security, investment or counterparties used while managing your account. An example of fraud risk is the risk that the accounting within a publicly traded company is fraudulent. While we attempt to manage the risk of fraud, the elimination of fraud risk cannot be guaranteed. The occurrence of fraud in a security or investment will result in a partial or complete loss of value of your account. Fraud risks are present in all our investment strategies.

5.	Counterparty	Investments we recommend or purchase on your behalf will contain various degrees of counterparty risk. Counterparty risk can be described as is the risk associated with the other party to a financial contract not meeting its obligations. Examples include when a counterparty to a transaction is unable to pay out on a bond, credit derivative, trade credit insurance or payment protection insurance contract, or other trade or transaction when it is supposed to. While we attempt to manage counterparty risk, the elimination of counterparty risk cannot be guaranteed. The failure of a counterparty in an investment, transaction or your account will result in a partial or complete loss of value. Counterparty risks are present in all our investment strategies.
6.	Extraordinary Events	Extraordinary events are a part of the risks taken when investing. The risk of war, natural disaster, pandemic, riots, strikes, cyber attack, economic crisis, infrastructure failure, government failure and other unpredictable events are all present when investing. We cannot eliminate Extraordinary Risks and the occurrence of such an event may make historically safe assets or trading strategies suddenly riskier. The occurrence of an extraordinary event could result in a partial or complete loss of value of your account. Extraordinary event risks are present in all our investment strategies.
ADV Part 2A Inclusion / Disclosures – Item 17 Voting Client Securities
A.	How do you handle the voting of proxies?	When establishing a client relationship, the client may elect to grant Belpointe proxy voting authority with regards to their securities. In instances when Belpointe has proxy voting authority, our policy is to refrain from voting proxies because we believe the time cost of voting a proxy typically outweighs the benefits to our clients in aggregate. From time-to-time we may elect to vote proxies when we believe the benefit outweighs these costs. This may not always be in your best interest. Through the use of client instructions you may place restrictions on our ability to participate in proxy voting. Proxy voting responsibilities for retirement plan clients are decided by each plan.
B.	What if I want to vote proxies and receive other solicitations?	You may elect to receive/vote proxies and receive solicitations. These will be delivered directly by your custodian to you. You will be able to make the elections yourself or ask your Belpointe Advisor Representative to help you with voting.

Gregory Skidmore serves as the firm's Chief Compliance Officer. This may create a conflict where Fortis has an incentive to maintain its relationship with Belpointe.

4.	Futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor	No.
5.	Bank or Thrift	No.
6.	Accountant or accounting firm	Yes. Greenwich Accounting & Tax Services, LLC ("GATS"). Brandon Lacoff is one of the owners of GATS. Since Mr. Lacoff has a financial interest in both Belpointe and GATS, there is a financial incentive for Belpointe to recommend you select GATS for your accounting and tax services. You are free to elect a firm other than GATS. Belpointe does not receive compensation from GATS for referring clients.
7.	Lawyer or law firm	Greenwich Legal Associates, LLC ("GLA"). Brandon Lacoff is the owner of GLA. GLA prosecutes security class action lawsuits. We permit GLA to monitor your securities for possible class representation in: security class action cases; securities litigation; and fraud and failure to meet corporate governance obligations claims. However, since Mr. Lacoff has a financial interest in Belpointe and GLA, there is a financial incentive for Brandon Lacoff to recommend you select GLA to recover losses and damages in a security you own. Brandon Lacoff and GLA would receive attorney's fees for handling your case. You are free to elect a firm other than GLA to represent the claim and/or you may decline to be a representative or participate in a claim. Advisor Legal & Compliance, LLC. Brandon Lacoff and Kimberley Raimondo are the owners of Advisor's Legal & Compliance, LLC. Fixed insurance product sales to you will be conducted through Belpointe Insurance and P&C insurance may be offered through Belpointe Specialty Insurance, LLC. The owners of Belpointe Insurance and Belpointe Specialty Insurance receive profits and agents are compensated through payment of commissions. While these individuals endeavor at all times to put the interests of the clients first as part of Belpointe's fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that this practice presents a conflict of interest because individuals providing investment advice on behalf of the firm who are also insurance agents may have an incentive to recommend products to clients for the purpose of generating commissions, rather than solely based on client needs. Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any individual affiliated with Belpointe Insurance or Belpointe Specialty Insurance.

9.	Pension Consultant	Yes. Collaborative Office Services, owned by Brandon E. Lacoﬀ and Gregory Skidmore, sponsors a Multiple Employer Plan called the Collaborative Retirement Trust. The Board of Trustees for the Collaborative Retirement Trust are persons related to Belpointe.

Such third-parties services include without limitation, commercial business lending, commercial real estate financing, accounts receivable and inventory financing, business cash advance, remote deposit capture, merchant processing, sale of personal, commercial, and cyber insurance products including individual and group health beneﬁts, web-based, payroll processing services, web site hosting, web design, managed cloud solutions, IT professional services, IT staﬃng and consulting services, and others. Certain Belpointe personnel may, on behalf of Belpointe Services, LLC, be compensated for oﬀering these services to clients.
14.	Other	In certain instances, Belpointe aﬃliates provides loans and/or a line of credit to other investment advisors. These economic incentives are provided in order to assist such firms with their practice. Terms and conditions of each loan are negotiated with each other investment advisor and remain in eﬀect as described in the contract. The receipt of a loan from a Belpointe aﬃliate presents a conﬂict of interest because a firm that has accepted such a loan or line of credit has a ﬁnancial incentive to maintain its relationship with Belpointe and continue recommending Belpointe to its clients. To the extent that such an investment advisor recommends that you use Belpointe for its services, the investment advisor will only do so if it believes that it is in your best interest based on the services, quality of programs, and beneﬁts provided to you by Belpointe.
D.	Do you recommend or select other investment advisers for your clients and do you receive compensation	Yes. Belpointe may recommend other investment advisors. In certain cases, Belpointe may act as a solicitor for other un-aﬃliated investment advisors. In those instances Belpointe and its representatives receive a portion of the fees you are charged by the un-aﬃliated adviser. This does not change the fee that you, the Client, pays.

	directly or indirectly from those advisers?
E.	Registered representatives of a Broker-Dealer	Certain Belpointe Advisor Representatives are also registered representatives of an unaffiliated securities broker-dealer. If your Belpointe Advisor Representative is registered with a securities broker-dealer, you can choose to work with that individual in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative of a securities broker-dealer. When acting in a separate capacity as a registered representative of a securities broker-dealer, your Belpointe Advisor Representative will sell, for commissions, general securities products such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, and variable annuity and variable life products to you. As such, your Belpointe Advisor Representative will suggest that you implement investment advice by purchasing securities products through a commission-based brokerage account in addition to or in lieu of a fee-based investment-advisory account. This receipt of commissions creates an incentive to recommend those products for which your Belpointe Advisor Representative will receive a commission in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative of a securities broker-dealer. Consequently, the objectivity of their advice rendered is biased due to the receipt of commissions and other standard brokerage compensation. You are under no obligation to use the services of your Belpointe Advisor Representative in this separate capacity and can select any broker-dealer you wish to implement securities transactions.

Your Belpointe Advisor Representative is not required to utilize investment strategies, investment products or securities that directly or indirectly benefit Belpointe or its related persons. You should always discuss any questions or concerns related to specific recommendations you receive with your Belpointe Advisor Representative. Clients can elect to exclude any fund, security or investment strategy where a material conflict of interest exists. When a client elects exclusion, performance of an account can differ from the performance of other accounts without an election. To the extent a client holds a fund or security in an existing account at the time of making the election, there can be tax consequences as a result of the election. Clients should consult their own tax advisors before making this decision. In addition, there can be a period of time after making the election during which the fund remains in a client's account.
C.	Do you or a related person invest in the same securities that you or a related person recommends to clients?	Yes. Your Belpointe Advisor Representative, the people we supervise, or our affiliates may take positions in the same securities as you. As a result, there may be times when a conflict of interest arises and it is possible for an investment decision to benefit them more than you. To manage these conflicts, we have adopted the following principles governing personal investment activities of our access persons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The client's interests will be placed first at all times. • All personal securities transactions will be conducted in such manner as to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest. • No one may take inappropriate advantage of their positions.
D.	Do people at your firm recommend securities to clients, or buy or sell securities for client accounts, at or about the same time that he or she buys or sells the same securities	Yes, your Belpointe Advisor Representative may take positions in the same securities as you and as a regular course of business your positions may be bought and sold alongside your Belpointe Advisor Representative. We have imposed policy restrictions on all our access persons with respect to transactions in their own accounts and accounts over which they have control or a beneficial interest. Trading restrictions prohibit unacceptable trading practices such as front running, crossing trades with customers, and insider trading. Our Code of Ethics requires that we comply with applicable Federal securities laws and that we report violations of the Code of Ethics. Access persons must report their personal transactions and holdings periodically and get preclearance before buying a security in an initial public offering or private offering. When possible, access person will block trade with clients and receive identical

The firm's access persons are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients if done in a fair and equitable manner that is consistent with the firm's policies and procedures.
ADV Part 2 Inclusion / Disclosures - Item 13 Review of Accounts
A.	Do you periodically review my accounts?	Yes. Belpointe reviews trades done in your accounts frequently and your account balances. Performance reviews are conducted on a periodic basis.
B.	Do you review my accounts on other than a periodic basis?	Review into asset allocation and security selection can be triggered by a number of factors. This may include (but is not limited to) factors such as economic conditions, market conditions, security related factors and a change in a client's financial/investment needs or goals. You may call at any time during normal business hours to speak directly with your Belpointe Advisor Representative about your account(s), financial situation, or investment needs. You may trigger a review at any time by requesting a review of your account. No formal instruction is provided on how to review client accounts. Your Belpointe Advisor Representative is permitted to use their discretion on how and when to review your account. You should consult your Belpointe Advisor Representative on the frequency and method of their reviews.
C.	What is the content and frequency of regular reports you provide me?	Your Belpointe Advisor Representative may provide you access to a web portal that is generally updated and reconciled on a daily basis. This site reports the holdings, balances, activity, fees and performance of your account(s). At times these updates will be delayed because of technical difficulties that are common with portfolio accounting and data reconciliation. The web portal is available at http://belpointeasset.com or http://belpointewealth.com. Belpointe's reporting is only available electronically through this portal. Please contact your Belpointe Advisor Representative if you wish to have access to the web portal. ADV Part 2 Inclusion / Disclosures - Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A.	Are you compensated by anyone other than clients for the advice that you provide to clients?	Yes.
i.	Recommendations to unaffiliated Advisors	Belpointe has solicitor agreements with and may recommend clients to certain unaffiliated investment advisors. In such instances, Belpointe acts as a solicitor and receives a portion of the fee paid to the unaffiliated advisor. This does not raise the fee paid by the referred client and the referred client receives all required disclosure forms disclosing the terms of the solicitor relationship at the time the solicitation is made.
ii.	Compensation from investment products	As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Belpointe endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Belpointe or its related persons in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Belpointe's choice of products and services it recommends to you. As described more fully in item 5 and item 11, Belpointe and/or certain Related Persons receive additional compensation when Belpointe recommends and you invest in the following:
a.	BELPOINTE REIT INC. (BELP)	Belpointe REIT Inc (BELP) Belpointe has a material financial incentive to recommend the BELP as an investment in BELP directly and indirectly benefits Brandon E. Lacoff, Belpointe LLC, and Belpointe REIT Manager and/or its affiliates. It is important to understand how this impacts you and you should be aware that you may elect to exclude any fund, security or investment strategy where a material conflict of interest exists.
b.	Mercator International Opportunity Fund (MOPPX) (MOOPX)	Mercator International Opportunity Fund, I Share Class: MOPPX and A Share Class: MOOPX ("Mercator Fund") . A related portfolio manager, Herve van Caloen receives management fees for the services he and his company provide to Mercator Fund. An investment in Mercator Fund benefits Herve van Caloen, Gregory H. Skidmore and Brandon E. Lacoff.
c.	Other Compensation Belpointe or its Related Persons receive from Funds	Belpointe has a material financial incentive to use and recommend securities governed by the Collaborative Investment Series Trust, or that utilize Belpointe's affiliated companies such for administrative or legal or consulting services and/or those products or investment strategies that benefit Belpointe or its related persons, which include certain classes of: Mercator International Opportunity Fund (Class I Share: MOPPX, Class A Share: MOOPX), Preferred-Plus (Class I Share: IPPPX, Class A Share: INPPX), Dividend Performers (Class I Share: IPDPX, Class A Share: INDPX), Tactical Conservative Allocation Fund (Class I Share: TFAZX, Class A Share: TFALX), Tactical Moderate Allocation Fund (Class I Share: TFAUX, Class A Share: TFAMX), Tactical Growth Allocation Fund (Class I Share: TFAFX, Class A Share: TFAEX), Global Tactical Fund (Class I Share: GIVYX), Trend Aggregation

iii.	TD Ameritrade Institutional Program	TD Ameritrade Institutional Customer Program. As disclosed under Item 12 above, Belpointe participates in TD Ameritrade’s institutional program. There is no direct link between Belpointe’s participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although Belpointe receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving Advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Belpointe by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Belpointe’s related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit Belpointe but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist Belpointe in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help Belpointe manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Belpointe or its personnel through participation in the program does not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade.
iv.	Collaborative Office Services and Collaborative Retirement Trust	Collaborative Office Services and Collaborative Retirement Trust. Collaborative Office Services (“COS”) is the sponsor of a Multiple Employer Plan, Collaborative Retirement Trust (“CRT”). COS is owned by Gregory H. Skidmore and Brandon E. Lacoff and the CRT’s Board of Trustees is made up entirely of Related Persons of Belpointe. As the sponsor of the CRT, COS has a material financial incentive to recommend that employers in the CRT use Belpointe as the advisor to their plan. The fee Belpointe receives for advising a plan is negotiated by Belpointe and the Employer utilizing the CRT. Ultimately it is the decision of the Employer to select the

		advisor to their plan and therefore they may select an advisor that is unrelated to COS to advise their plan. There is no requirement to use Belpointe. In addition, Belpointe has a material financial incentive to recommend Employers utilize the CRT because the COS receives 25 bps as administrative fees for services it provides to the CRT. This fee is paid from plan assets and is a fee above and beyond the fee a plan would pay Belpointe for advising their plan. Employers are not obligated to use the CRT and there are other options available through unrelated service providers.
v.	Belpointe Services, LLC	Belpointe Services, LLC ("BSERV") provides back-office services to other investment advisors. Services available include billing, account servicing, administration, staffing, creation of marketing materials, accounting, performance reporting, IT support, cyber security consulting, payroll, and start up financing. BSERV is an affiliate of Belpointe Asset Management, LLC ("Belpointe") and its revenues benefit Gregory H. Skidmore and Brandon E. Lacoff. BSERV receives compensation for the services it provides. BSERV also provides services to advisors to mutual funds and ETFs. Services available to advisors of funds include compliance administration, staffing, creation of marketing materials, accounting, IT support, cyber security consulting, payroll, and start up financing. These fees are above and beyond the investment advisory fee(s), portfolio management fees, and any program fees you pay to Belpointe, and Belpointe has a financial incentive to recommend and utilize funds for its services through BSERV. To mitigate this conflict of interest, Belpointe only makes investment recommendations it believes are consistent with its fiduciary duty to clients. Compensation that Belpointe receives is paid from the advisor to BSERV. You may request to opt out of using those serviced by BSERV and we will recommend alternative funds for you to use.
B.	Do you compensate anyone who is outside your firm's supervision for client referrals?	Yes. Belpointe retains solicitors to refer clients to Belpointe. If a client is introduced to Belpointe by a solicitor, Belpointe pays that solicitor a referral fee in accordance with the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act and any corresponding state securities law requirements.
