INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES

DCM helps resource-constrained institutional investors, including university endowments and charitable foundations, achieve their missions through an expansive global investment network and tailored solutions developed from our cohesive investment team’s extensive firsthand experience at multi-billion-dollar institutions. We work closely with small and mid-sized institutions — such as university endowments and charitable foundations — with the goal of maximizing performance of their investment policies and portfolios. We provide customized investment solutions including Outsourced Chief Investment Officer (OCIO) services, with investment capabilities and scale comparable to multi-billion-dollar organizations through access to a global network of investment managers, asset classes and opportunities. And we take a proactive, ongoing approach to sourcing and monitoring.

Outsourced Chief Investment Officer (“OCIO”) Solution

Our asset and manager allocation experience span three decades and multiple market cycles across developed, emerging and frontier markets. Our professional management team has existing networks and infrastructure that provides singular oversight, utilizing best practices with dual management of return and risk. Our robust analytical and risk management capabilities provide daily insight into your portfolio.

Our bundled investment advisory solutions include:

- Asset allocation review ensuring consistency with institution’s goals
- Continual monitoring of investment guidelines and process
- Manager selection, implementation, monitoring, and comparative analysis
- Operational due diligence
- Daily portfolio risk monitoring and management
- Performance measurement and analysis

Our OCIO services also include discretionary management of your investment portfolio. As a discretionary investment adviser, we will have the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with you. Notwithstanding the foregoing, you may impose certain written restrictions on us in the management of your investment portfolio, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of investments in an investment portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain investments held in the account at the commencement of the relationship.

Separate Account Managers

When appropriate, we may select one or more Separate Account Managers, each a “Manager,” to manage a portion of your assets. Having access to various Managers offers a wide variety of manager styles and offers you the opportunity to utilize more than one Manager, if necessary, to meet your needs and investment objectives. We will select the Manager(s) that we deem most appropriate for the client. Factors that we consider in selecting Managers generally includes your stated investment objective(s), management style, performance, risk level, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing, and research.

Manager(s) will generally be granted discretionary trading authority to provide investment supervisory services for the portfolio. Under certain circumstances, we retain the authority to terminate the Manager’s relationship or to add new Managers without your specific consent. In other cases, you will ultimately select one or more Managers recommended by us.

In any case, with respect to assets managed by a Manager, our role will be to monitor your overall financial situation, to monitor the investment approach and performance of the Manager(s), and to assist you in understanding the investments of the portfolio. Fees paid to such Manager(s) are separate from and in addition to our fee.

Private Funds

We may from time to time, based on your risk tolerance, sophistication and financial qualifications, invest a portion of your assets in certain private investments. These may include private equity, private debt and real estate funds, hedge funds, and other types of private investment vehicles (collectively “Private Funds”). We will continue to render advisory services to you, relative to the ongoing monitoring and review of asset performance and due diligence of the Private Fund.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT SERVICES

Financial Planning

Delivering advice on a broad range of financial issues, we seek to bring order, expertise and perspective to every aspect of a family’s financial life. Working together with you, our financial planning process starts by defining your current overall financial circumstances, long-term financial goals, objectives, and needs. At the conclusion of this phase, we construct a financial plan, which includes the following planning considerations, as applicable to each client:

- Cash Flow Analysis and Projections
- Tax Planning
- Retirement Planning
- Risk Management
- Debt Management
- Estate Planning

In addition, we will work with your trusted advisors (e.g. attorneys, insurance agents, CPAs, etc.) or with our network of seasoned professionals to assist with the implementation of other aspects of the financial plan. Taking an active responsibility in these vital relationships, we aim to ensure these advisors have up-to-date financial and investment information, and that all involved communicate and strategize as a team.

When we provide financial planning services, we may recommend our own services, the services of an affiliated entity, or those of other professionals for implementation of various aspects of your financial plan. You are advised that a conflict of interest exists if we recommend our own services or that of an affiliate. You are under no obligation to act upon any of the recommendations made by us under a financial planning engagement and/or to engage the services of any such recommended professional, including the firm, our affiliates. You retain absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any of our recommendations.

Portfolio Management

As a professional asset manager, we design and manage customized investment portfolios tailored to the unique risk characteristics and investment objectives of each client. Based on your personal circumstances, we create an investment portfolio structured to build wealth and maintain your acceptable risk level.

To implement the portfolio, we will manage your investments on a discretionary basis. As a discretionary investment adviser, we will have the authority to supervise and direct the portfolio without prior consultation with you.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, you may impose certain written restrictions on us in the management of your investment portfolio, such as prohibiting the inclusion of certain types of investments in your investment portfolio or prohibiting the sale of certain investments held in the account at the commencement of our relationship. You should note, however, that if you impose restrictions it may adversely affect the composition and performance of your investment portfolio. You should also note that your investment portfolio is treated individually by giving consideration to each purchase or sale for your account. For these and other reasons, performance of client investment portfolios within the same investment objectives, goals and/or risk tolerance may differ, and you should not expect that the composition or performance of your investment portfolio would necessarily be consistent with similar clients of ours.

Third-Party Managers

We can manage your entire portfolio directly, or we can select from among a variety of third-party account managers, sub-advisers or model providers (collectively, the “Managers”) to manage certain of your assets. We perform due diligence on such Managers prior to selecting them to (i) manage portions of your portfolio on a discretionary basis; or (ii) provide one or model portfolios which are employed by us to manage your account at our discretion. We will select the Manager(s) that we deem most appropriate for you based on, among other things, your stated investment objective(s) and the Manager’s management style, performance, risk level, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing, and research.

In any case, with respect to assets managed by a Manager, our role will be to monitor your overall financial situation, to monitor the investment approach and performance of the Manager(s), and to assist you in understanding the investments of the portfolio. Fees paid to such Manager(s) are separate from and in addition to our fee.

Private Funds

We may from time to time, based on your risk tolerance, sophistication and financial qualifications, invest a portion of your assets in certain private investments. These may include private equity, private debt and real estate funds, hedge funds, and other types of private investment vehicles. We will continue to render advisory services to you, relative to the ongoing monitoring and review of asset performance and due diligence of the Private Fund.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

General Fee Information

Fees paid to us are exclusive of all custodial and transaction costs paid to your custodian, brokers or other third-party consultants. Please see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices for additional information. Fees paid to us are also separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs (exchange traded funds) or other investment pools to their shareholders (generally including a management fee and fund expenses, as described in each fund’s prospectus or offering materials). You should review all fees charged by funds, brokers, us and others to fully understand the total amount of fees paid by you for investment and financial-related services.

Manager Fees

When one or more Managers are utilized, the Manager(s)’ fees and expenses will be separate from and in addition to our fee. These fees and expenses are described in each Manager’s firm Brochure.

Private Fund Fees

When a client invests in a Private Fund, the fees and other expenses assessed by the Private Fund will be separate from and in addition to our fee. Additionally, some of the Private Funds that we select charge performance-based fees. The applicable fees and expenses of each Private Fund are outlined in its offering documents and should be reviewed by investors prior to investing. We do not receive any portion of these fees.

INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES FEES

OCIO Solution Fees

The annual fee for OCIO services is based upon your assets under management according to the following fee schedule.

Assets (in millions)	Annual Fee
$25-50M	0.54%
$50-200M	0.40%
$200-400M	0.30%
Over $400M	Negotiable

The fees are assessed at a flat rate based on the value of the account. For example, an account valued at $100 million would be charged 0.40% annually.

Management fees are generally assessed monthly in arrears based on the value of your assets as of the close of the preceding month, adjusted for intra-period contributions and withdrawals, and payable quarterly.

The minimum portfolio value is generally set at $25,000,000. The minimum annual fee for your portfolio (i.e., your aggregated accounts under management) is $135,000.

We may, at our discretion, make exceptions to the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where we deem it appropriate under the circumstances.

If management begins after the start of a month, fees will be prorated accordingly. With your authorization and unless other arrangements are made, fees are normally debited directly from your account(s).

Either party may terminate the investment management agreement at any time, subject to any written notice requirements in the agreement. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to you based on the number of days that the account was managed, and any fees due to us from you will be invoiced or deducted from your account(s) prior to termination.

WEALTH MANAGEMENT SERVICES FEES

Financial Planning Services Fees

When we provide financial planning services on a stand-alone basis, our planning fees typically range from $2,500 - $8,750 for the initial plan, and $2,500 for annual plan reviews thereafter. Factors affecting the fee include the nature and complexity of your investments (taxable, tax-deferred, proprietary products, individual stocks, privately held businesses, etc.) and the complexity of your overall financial situation (marital status, family situation, sources of income, etc.). In some cases, your fee may be higher than the range quoted depending on the overall complexity of your situation. Financial planning fees are payable upon delivery of the initial financial plan or annual financial plan review. Should you elect to terminate the financial planning agreement before your financial plan is completed and presented, you will be assessed a pro-rata fee reflecting the degree to which the plan is complete.

Because we believe our wealth management services are most successful in full view of your complete financial situation, we typically waive our financial planning fees if you also engage us for portfolio management services. However, due to the amount of work up front to initiate your relationship with us and to prepare the financial planning recommendations, we will impose the fee for your initial financial plan if you terminate our portfolio management services within the first year. Our financial planning agreement with you will set forth the fee and the terms that apply to the fee waiver.

Portfolio Management Services Fees

The annual fee for portfolio management services is based upon your assets under management according to the following fee schedule.

Assets (in millions)	Annual Fee
$1M - $5M	0.95%
$5M - $10M	0.83%
$10M - $15M	0.72%
$15M - $20M	0.62%
$20M - $25M	0.54%
Over $25M	Negotiable

The fees are assessed at a flat rate based on the value of the account. For example, an account valued at $11 million would be charged 0.72% annually.

Management fees are generally assessed quarterly, in advance, and are based on the value of your assets as of the close of the preceding quarter. Fees are adjusted for intra-quarter contributions and withdrawals. If management begins after the start of a quarter, fees will be prorated accordingly. With your authorization and unless other arrangements are made, fees are normally debited directly from your account(s).

The minimum portfolio value is generally set at $1,000,000. The minimum annual fee for your portfolio (i.e., your aggregated accounts under management) is $7,500.

We may, at our discretion, make exceptions to the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where we deem it appropriate under the circumstances.

Either party may terminate the investment management agreement at any time, subject to any written notice requirements in the agreement. In the event of termination, any paid but unearned fees will be promptly refunded to you based on the number of days that the account was managed, and any portfolio management and/or financial planning fees due to us from you will be invoiced or deducted from your account(s) prior to termination.

Retirement Plan Rollovers

If we recommend that you roll over your retirement plan assets into an account to be managed by us, such a recommendation creates a conflict of interest if we will earn a new (or increase our current) advisory fee as a result of the rollover. We have a fiduciary duty and must act in your best interest when making a recommendation regarding whether to maintain investments in a retirement plan, take a distribution from a retirement plan or roll over investments from a retirement plan to a Rollover IRA. You are under no obligation to rollover plan assets to an IRA managed by us or to engage us to monitor and/or manage the account while maintained at your employer.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not have any performance-based fee arrangements. "Side by Side Management" refers to a situation in which the same firm manages accounts that are billed based on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are assessed on a performance fee basis. Because we have no performance-based fee accounts, we have no side-by-side management.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

We serve charitable organizations, pension and profit-sharing plans, corporations, government entities and individuals. The minimum portfolio value eligible for OCIO services is $25,000,000, and the annual minimum fee charged is $135,000. The minimum portfolio value eligible for Wealth Management Services is $1,000,000, and the annual minimum fee is $7,500. Under certain circumstances and in our sole discretion, we may negotiate such minimums.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

In accordance with the Investment Plan, we will primarily invest in exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), private placements, other alternatives, mutual funds and Separate Account Managers ("Managers"). Mutual funds and ETFs are generally evaluated and selected based on a variety of factors, including, as applicable and without limitation, past performance, fee structure, portfolio manager, fund sponsor, overall ratings for safety and returns, and other factors.

We will undergo a thorough and rigorous due diligence process when selecting a new Manager/Fund for you. This due diligence process will include meetings between us and the Manager, phone conversations, research, and review of references. This process will be documented and typically includes:

- Background information regarding the Manager's assets under management, people, and role in the overall structure of the Assets
- Manager's organizational structure and area of expertise

- Summary of the Manager's investment process
- Performance record versus appropriate benchmark
- Fee schedule
- Reasons for selecting the Manager and/or partnership
- Amount of recommended investment

Investment Strategies

We abide by an investment philosophy that the performance edge achieved by $1 billion plus institutions, largely stems from execution of a multi-asset and multi-manager investment strategy implemented by a team with the following attributes:

- Committed to minimizing conflicts of interest
- Institutional investment experience within an institution's investment office
- Access to a global network of traditional and alternative investment managers
- Proven ability to source, diligence, allocate and monitor highly skilled managers with limited access
- Real-time risk monitoring through advanced risk management systems
- Cost effective implementation

We define the investment landscape across a broad continuum of efficient and inefficient markets, sharing the common belief that traditional equity and fixed income strategies are highly efficient. Therefore, we subscribe to the notion that active management within these strategies has a limited likelihood of adding value on a net of fee basis. As a result, we generally employ passive or semi-passive strategies for traditional equity and fixed income strategies, and generally active management within less efficient investment strategies, such as emerging market equities, high yield bonds, liquid and illiquid alternatives. Consequently, our team focuses its efforts on sourcing opportunities within areas with considerably higher value-add and diversification potential. Within individual fund strategies/managers selected by the investment team, underlying fund managers generally subscribe to a value and fundamentally based investment philosophy.

Risk of Loss

While we seek to diversify your investment portfolio across various asset classes consistent with your investment plan in an effort to reduce risk of loss, all investment portfolios are subject to risks. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that your investment portfolio will be able to fully meet its investment objectives and goals, or that investments will not lose money.

Below is a description of several of the principal risks that your investment portfolio faces.

Management Risks. While we manage your investment portfolio, or select one or more Managers based on our experience, research and proprietary methods, the value of your investment portfolio will change daily based on the performance of the underlying securities in which it is invested. Accordingly, your investment portfolio is subject to the risk that DCM or a Manager allocates your assets to individual securities and/or asset classes that are adversely affected by unanticipated market movements, and the risk that our specific investment choices could underperform their relevant indexes.

Risks of Investments in Mutual Funds, ETFs and Other Investment Pools. As described above, DCM or a Manager(s) may invest your portfolio in mutual funds, ETFs and other investment pools ("pooled investment funds"). Investments in pooled investment funds are generally less risky than investing in individual securities because of their diversified portfolios; however, these investments are still subject to risks associated with the markets in which they invest. In addition, pooled investment funds' success will be related to the skills of their particular managers and their performance in managing their funds. Pooled investment funds are also subject to risks due to regulatory restrictions applicable to registered investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Equity Market Risks. DCM and any Manager(s) will generally invest portions of your assets directly into equity investments, either stocks or pooled investment funds that invest in the stock market. As noted above, while pooled investments have diversified portfolios that may make them less risky than investments in individual securities, funds that invest in stocks and other equity securities are nevertheless subject to the risks of the stock market. These risks include, without limitation, the risks that stock values will decline due to daily fluctuations in the markets, and that stock values will decline over longer periods (e.g., bear markets) due to general market declines in the stock prices for all companies, regardless of any individual security's prospects.

Fixed Income Risks. DCM and any Manager(s) may invest portions of your assets directly into fixed income instruments, such as bonds and notes, or may invest in pooled investment funds that invest in bonds and notes. While investing in fixed income instruments, either directly or through pooled investment funds, is generally less volatile than investing in stock (equity) markets, fixed income investments nevertheless are subject to risks. These risks include, without limitation, interest rate risks (risks that changes in interest rates will devalue the investments), credit risks (risks of default by borrowers), or maturity risk (risks that bonds or notes will change value from the time of issuance to maturity).

Foreign Securities Risks. DCM and any Manager(s) may invest portions of your assets into pooled investment funds that invest internationally. While foreign investments are important to the diversification of your investment portfolios, they carry risks that may be different from U.S. investments. For example, foreign investments may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting or disclosure standards, practices or requirements comparable to those found in the U.S. Foreign investments are also subject to foreign withholding taxes and the risk of adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations. Finally, foreign investments may involve currency risk, which is the risk that the value of the foreign security will decrease due to changes in the relative value of the U.S. dollar and the security's underlying foreign currency.

Risks Related to Private Funds. From time to time and as appropriate, we may invest a portion of your portfolio in Private Funds. The value of your portfolio will be based in part on the value of Private Funds in which it is invested, the success of each of which will depend heavily upon the efforts of their respective Managers. When the investment objectives and strategies of a Manager are out of favor in the market or a Manager makes unsuccessful investment decisions, the Private Fund may lose money. A client account may lose a substantial percentage of its value if the investment objectives and strategies of many or most of the Private Funds in which it is invested are out of favor at the same time, or many or most of the Managers make unsuccessful investment decisions at the same time. Private Funds are generally subject to various risk factors and liquidity constraints, a complete discussion of which is set forth in each fund's offering documents, which will be provided to clients for review and consideration prior to investing. Investing in Private Funds is intended only for experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high economic risks of the investment. You should carefully review and consider potential risks before investing in private funds. Certain of these risks may include loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, short-selling, or other speculative practices, lack of liquidity because of redemption terms and conditions and that there may not and will not be a secondary market for the fund, volatility of returns, restrictions on transferring interests in the fund, a potential lack of diversification, higher fees than mutual funds, lack of information regarding valuations and pricing.

Margin Risk. We do not use margin as an investment strategy. However, you may elect to borrow funds against your investment portfolio. When securities are purchased, they may be paid for in full or you may borrow part of the purchase price from the account custodian. If you borrow part of the purchase price, you are engaging in margin transactions and there is risk involved with this. The securities held in a margin account are collateral for the custodian that loaned you money. If those securities decline in value, then the value of the collateral supporting your loan also declines. As a result, the brokerage firm is required to take action in order to maintain the necessary level of equity in your account. The brokerage firm may issue a margin call and/or sell other assets in your account to accomplish this. It is important that you fully understand the risks involved in trading securities on margin, including but not limited to:

- It is possible to lose more funds than is deposited into a margin account;
- The account custodian can force the sale of assets in the account;
- The account custodian can sell assets in the account without contacting you first;
- You are not entitled to choose which assets in a margin account may be sold to meet a margin call;
- The account custodian can increase its “house” maintenance margin requirements at any time without advance written notice; and
- You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of us or the integrity of our management. We have no disciplinary events to report.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We are a registered Commodity Pool Operator (“CPO”) with the Commodities Futures Trading Commission (“CFTC”) and member of the National Futures Association. Matthew Wright and Brant Smith are registered with the CFTC as Associated Persons of the CPO.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (“the Code”), the full text of which is available to you upon request. Our Code has several goals. First, the Code is designed to assist us in complying with applicable laws and regulations governing our investment advisory business. Under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, we owe fiduciary duties to you. Pursuant to these fiduciary duties, the Code requires persons associated with us (managers, officers and employees) to act with honesty, good faith and fair dealing in working with you. In addition, the Code prohibits such associated persons from trading or otherwise acting on insider information.

Next, the Code sets forth guidelines for professional standards for our associated persons. Under the Code’s Professional Standards, we expect our associated persons to put your interests first, ahead of personal interests. In this regard, our associated persons are not to take inappropriate advantage of their positions in relation to you.

Third, the Code sets forth policies and procedures to monitor and review the personal trading activities of associated persons. From time to time our associated persons may invest in the same securities recommended to you. Under our Code, we have adopted procedures designed to reduce or eliminate conflicts of interest that this could potentially cause. The Code’s personal trading policies include procedures for limitations on personal securities transactions of associated persons, reporting and review of such trading and pre-clearance of certain types of personal trading activities. These policies are designed to discourage and prohibit personal trading that would disadvantage clients. The Code also provides for disciplinary action as appropriate for violations.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Under our Code, associated persons are generally prohibited from trading in most securities, other than unwinding transactions in securities owned prior to implementation of the Code. Securities exempt from the trading prohibition are: mutual funds, certain ETFs, direct obligations of the U.S. government, bankers' acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, short-term high-quality debt securities, and money market instruments. The Code also establishes pre-clearance procedures and a quarterly securities transaction reporting system that is designed to monitor transactions in associated person's personal accounts and prevent any conflicts that may arise between associated person's personal securities transactions and transactions for our clients.

Consistent with the foregoing, we maintain policies regarding participation in initial public offerings ("IPOs") and private placements to comply with applicable laws and avoid conflicts with client transactions. If an associated person wishes to participate in an IPO or invest in a private placement, he or she must submit a pre-clearance request and obtain the approval of the Chief Compliance Officer.

Finally, if associated persons trade with accounts (i.e., in a bundled or aggregated trade), and the trade is not filled in its entirety, the associated person's shares will be removed from the block, and the balance of shares will be allocated among client accounts in accordance with our written policy.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Best Execution and Benefits of Brokerage Selection

When given discretion to select the brokerage firm that will execute orders in your account(s), we seek "best execution" for your trades, which is a combination of a number of factors, including, without limitation, quality of execution, services provided and commission rates. Therefore, we may use or recommend the use of brokers who do not charge the lowest available commission in the recognition of research and securities transaction services, or quality of execution. Research services received with transactions may include proprietary or third-party research (or any combination), and may be used in servicing your account(s). Therefore, research services received may not be used for the account for which the particular transaction was effected.

OCIO Services

We do not recommend a particular broker-dealer to our institutional clients. If you do not currently maintain a brokerage account, we will assist with introductions to various custodians from which you may choose. However, you have sole discretion to decide which custodian will maintain your securities account(s).

Wealth Management Services

We recommend that our Wealth Management Services clients establish brokerage accounts with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a FINRA registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian to maintain custody of clients' assets. We will also effect trades for client accounts at Schwab, or may in some instances, consistent with our duty of best execution and specific agreement with each client, elect to execute trades elsewhere. Although we may recommend that clients establish accounts at Schwab, it is ultimately your decision to custody assets with Schwab. We are independently owned and operated and are not affiliated with Schwab.

For our clients' accounts that Schwab maintains, Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. Certain trades may not incur Schwab commissions or transaction fees. Schwab is also compensated by earning interest on the uninvested cash in your account in Schwab's Cash Features Program. In addition to commissions, Schwab charges you a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker/dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, we have Schwab execute most trades for your account. We have determined that having Schwab execute most trades is consistent with our duty to seek "best execution" of your trades. Best execution means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors.

Schwab Advisor Services provides us with access to its institutional trading, custody, reporting and related services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts while others help us manage and grow our business. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them. These services are not soft dollar arrangements, but are part of the institutional platform offered by Schwab. Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

Schwab Advisor Services also makes available to DCM other products and services that benefit DCM but may not directly benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of DCM accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab's products and services that assist us in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of DCM's fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Schwab Advisor Services also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services may include: (i) technology, compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to us. Schwab Advisor Services may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to us. Schwab Advisor Services may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of our personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend that clients custody their assets at Schwab, we may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Aggregated Trade Policy

We typically direct trading in your accounts as and when trades are appropriate based on your Investment Plan, without regard to activity in other client accounts. However, from time to time, we may aggregate trades together for multiple client accounts, most often when these accounts are being directed to sell the same securities. If such an aggregated trade is not completely filled, DCM will allocate shares received (in an aggregated purchase) or sold (in an aggregated sale) across participating accounts on a pro rata or other fair basis; provided, however, that any participating accounts that are owned by us or our officers, directors, or employees will be excluded first.

Directed Brokerage

Directed brokerage is where you direct us to use a particular broker for custodial or transaction services on behalf of your portfolio. In directed brokerage arrangements, you are responsible for negotiating the commission rates and other fees to be paid to the broker. Accordingly, if you direct brokerage, you should consider whether such designation may result in certain costs or disadvantages to you, either because you may pay higher commissions or obtain less favorable execution, or the designation limits the investment options available to you.

By directing us to use a specific broker or dealer, clients who are subject to ERISA confirm and agree with DCM that they have the authority to make the direction, that there are no provisions in any client or plan document which are inconsistent with the direction, that the brokerage and other goods and services provided by the broker or dealer through the brokerage transactions are provided solely to and for the benefit of the client's plan, plan participants and their beneficiaries, that the amount paid for the brokerage and other services have been determined by the client and the plan to be reasonable, that any expenses paid by the broker on behalf of the plan are expenses that the plan would otherwise be obligated to pay, and that the specific broker or dealer is not a party in interest of the client or the plan as defined under applicable ERISA regulations.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Managed portfolios are reviewed at least quarterly but may be reviewed more often if requested by you, upon receipt of information material to the management of the portfolio, or at any time we deem such review is necessary or advisable. These factors generally include but are not limited to, the following: change in your general circumstances or economic, political or market conditions. For institutional clients receiving OCIO services, Matthew Wright, DCM's President and Chief Compliance Officer, reviews all accounts. For individuals receiving Wealth Management Services, Duke Williams, Managing Director, reviews all accounts.

Account custodians are responsible for providing monthly or quarterly account statements which reflect the positions (and current pricing) in each account as well as transactions in each account, including fees paid from an account. Account custodians also provide prompt confirmation of all trading activity, and year-end tax statements, such as 1099 forms. In addition, we provide at least a quarterly report for each managed portfolio. This written report normally includes a summary of portfolio holdings and performance results. Additional reports are available at your request.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We receive an economic benefit from third party custodians in the form of support products and services they make available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at said custodians. The availability of third-party custodian products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for you. As noted in Item 12, if you do not have an existing custodial relationship, we will assist with introductions to various custodians from which the client may choose. We do not have any arrangements with a third-party to refer clients to us.

Item 15 - Custody

Institutional clients receiving OCIO services select which broker-dealer or custodian will hold their account(s) in custody. For clients receiving wealth management services, Schwab is our recommended custodian. However, from time to time, clients may select an alternate broker to hold accounts in custody. In any case, it is the custodian's responsibility to provide you with confirmations of trading activity, tax forms and at least quarterly account statements. You are advised to review this information carefully, and to notify us of any questions or concerns. You are also asked to promptly notify us if the custodian fails to provide statements on each account held.

In accordance with our investment advisory agreement with you, we may provide additional reports. The account balances reflected on these reports should be compared to the balances shown on the brokerage statements to ensure accuracy. At times there may be small differences due to the timing of dividend reporting and pending trades.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As described in Item 4 - Advisory Business, we will manage your portfolio on a discretionary basis. For discretionary accounts, you will execute a Limited Power of Attorney ("LPOA") giving us the authority to carry out various activities in the account, generally including the following: trade execution; the ability to request checks on your behalf; and, the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account(s). We then direct investment of your portfolio using our discretionary authority. You may limit the terms of the LPOA to the extent consistent with your investment management agreement with us and the requirements of your custodian.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

As a policy and in accordance with our investment management agreement with you, we do not vote proxies related to securities held in your account(s). The custodian of the account(s) will normally provide proxy materials directly to you. You may contact us with questions relating to proxy procedures and proposals; however, we generally do not research particular proxy proposals.

Item 18 - Financial Information

We do not require nor solicit prepayment of fees six months or more in advance, and therefore have no disclosure required for this item.
