Item 4 - Advisory Business

TBH Advisors, LLC (“TBH Advisors”, we, us, our, ours) is a Limited Liability Company organized under the laws of the State of Tennessee. David Merrell, Sam Davis, Phil Reynolds and Travis Anderson founded the Brentwood, TN-based investment advisory firm in 2015. TBH Advisors is umbrella registered under TBH Global Asset Management, LLC, a SEC registered investment adviser.

We offer investment advisory services which include the discretionary management of investment portfolios in accordance with your investment objective(s). We may also provide consulting services on investment-related matters. In addition, we may offer these investment advisory services through TBH Advisors from our offices located at 6 Cadillac Drive Suite 300, Brentwood, TN 37027, 125 3rd Avenue North, Franklin, TN 37064 and 2615 Medical Center Drive, Suite 1560, Murfreesboro, TN 37129.

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice, we provide you.

Investment Management Services

Through the use of discussions, interviews and completion of a client questionnaire, we assist you in determining your investment goals and identifying your risk tolerance levels. Once this process is complete, we will develop a customized portfolio for you using a mix of domestic and foreign equities, fixed income securities, mutual funds and exchange traded funds. For accredited investors, and those whose portfolios are deemed appropriate, we may also use alternative investments, such as limited partnerships, private equity funds, and REITs that are not publicly traded. These types of investments contain considerable risk and therefore are only recommended for portfolios that can withstand the possibility of exposure to loss of principal.

Portfolios are diversified based upon your risk profile, investment horizon, financial goals, income (current and potential), and other various suitability factors. We use our discretionary authority to select individual securities with the aid of fundamental analysis and the review of independent research, news sources and rating services.

For our accredited investors, and those whose portfolios are deemed appropriate, we may also use alternative investments, such as limited partnerships, private equity funds, and REITs that are not publicly traded and special purpose acquisition companies (SPACs). These types of investments contain considerable risk and therefore, are only recommended for portfolios that can withstand the possibility of exposure to loss of principal. Although we generally manage portfolios directly, in some cases, and for certain types of securities, we will engage third party asset managers to act as sub-advisors in meeting specific needs of portfolio management. Please see Item 8 for additional information regarding SPAC strategies.

In managing your investment portfolio, we consider your financial situation, risk tolerance, investment horizon, liquidity needs, tax considerations, investment objectives and any other issues important to your state of affairs. You should notify us promptly if there are any changes in your financial situation or investment objectives or if you wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon the management of your account.

Financial Planning

We also offer financial planning services. We meet with you to gather information about your current financial position including securities and business holdings, insurance policies, real estate, other investments and potential inheritance. In addition, we will gather income and gift tax returns as well as estate planning documents. We will evaluate your current position and make recommendations on how you can achieve your business, estate and retirement goals. We will provide a report after all information is received by the client. Clients who receive separate financial planning services, although we generally recommend our investment management services, are under no obligation to utilize our firm for investment management.

For some individuals who are utilizing financial planning as part of their investment management services, we may waive the fee for the financial planning.

We do not make recommendations on specific securities but will recommend types of investments within specific asset classes. We will meet with you in person, via web-based meeting or by telephone, as often as requested, but no less than annually during the engagement period. We do not provide legal or tax advice and you should consult your attorney or tax adviser for these types of questions or guidance.

Consulting Services

We may provide separate consulting services as contracted by the client. These services will be directed by the client's specific needs and are provided on a one-time basis. As such, the client agreement will outline the services to be provided and most services are based upon an estimated hourly rate, as described in Item 5 of this brochure.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2020, we managed approximately $ 87,819,325 in client assets on a discretionary basis where we made all of the investment decisions. Our advisor does not provide non-discretionary advice at this time.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Fees for Investment Management Services

We offer our services on a fee-only basis. Our investment management fees will be paid quarterly in advance based on the ending prior quarter market valuations. Primarily, clients will sign a written authorization to have fees directly debited from their accounts held at the qualified custodian. Your custodian does not determine the fee for billing. TBH Advisors will send the bill to the custodian for fee payments. Clients should review their quarterly statements and notify our firm of any inconsistencies. Rarely, we will, at the client's request, directly bill the client for services rendered. These clients will receive an invoice for the quarter.

Fees for the initial quarter are based on the value of your cash and securities on the date the custodian receives them and are prorated based upon the number of calendar days in the calendar quarter that our agreement is in effect.

Our fee schedule is described below:

Assets under Management		Advisory Fee
First	$ 250,000	2.00%
Next	$ 750,000 (up to $1,000,000)	1.75%
Next	$2,000,000 (up to $3,000,000)	1.50%
Next	$2,000,000 (up to $5,000,000)	1.25%
Next	$5,000,000 (up to $10,000,000)	1.00%
Above	$10,000,000	0.90%

All fees are negotiable at our sole discretion. We may group some client accounts together to meet minimum thresholds.

In addition, we have grand-fathered some client's fees that were established accounts prior to changes, acquisitions and mergers. Finally, for certain family and friends, at our sole discretion, we may waive fees in part or in entirety.

Fees for Financial Planning

We offer our financial planning services for either an hourly or fixed fee; or, as a percent of gross income.

Financial Planning Fees

Percent of Income	Maximum 1%

Fixed fees are separately negotiated with each client and agreed to in a written agreement. The fees are based upon the complexity of assets, number of areas analyzed, depth of analysis required, or other unique reasons agreed upon by you and us. An estimate of the time involved will be provided before signing the advisory agreement. All fees are negotiable at our discretion.

Fixed fees are billed 50% as an upfront retainer and the remainder is due upon completion of the project. Fees assessed as a percent of income are billed semi-annually, with the first installment payable when the advisory agreement is executed. Billing will continue until the agreement is terminated. No fees will ever be charged six months or more in advance for work performed. Clients who have paid fees in advance will receive a refund pro-rated for work performed.

If you choose to implement your financial plan through the financial professional who is also registered as a registered representative of an unaffiliated broker-dealer or insurance agency, he/she receives commissions or other compensation such as mutual fund 12b-1 fees as a result of those securities transactions on top of the any financial planning fees paid for the plan. This can create a conflict of interest for the financial professional as he/she may recommend products based on the compensation he/she receives.

Fees for Consulting Services

Hourly fees are separately negotiated with the client and based upon the complexity of the plan. The fees will be agreed to in writing prior to commencement of the work. Hourly consulting services are billed and paid on a monthly basis as services are provided.

General Information about Our Fees

In addition to our fee, clients are subject to fees and transaction costs from the separate broker/dealers and custodians working with your account. In addition, sponsor companies usually have additional fees for management of your account, maintenance and administration. These fees are separate and customary from the fee we charge you for advisory services.

Mutual fund companies, ETFs, and variable annuity issuers charge internal fees and expenses for their products. These fees and expenses are in addition to any advisory fees charged by us. Complete details of these internal fees and expenses are explained in the prospectuses for each investment. You are strongly encouraged to read these explanations before investing any money. You may ask us any questions you have about fees and expenses.

If you purchase mutual funds through the custodian, you may pay a transaction fee that would not be charged if the transactions were made directly through the mutual fund company. Also, mutual funds held in accounts at brokerage firms may pay internal fees that are different from funds held at the mutual fund company. While you may purchase shares of mutual funds directly from the mutual fund company without a transaction fee, those investments would not be part of our advisory relationship with you. This means that they would not be included in our investment strategies, investment performance monitoring, or portfolio reallocations.

Certain members of our firm are also registered as registered representatives and/or insurance agents. As such, these individuals will receive commissions based on the sale of securities or insurance products. The fees clients pay for the purchase of these products benefit the financial professional in his/her role as an insurance agent or registered representative and are separate from the advisory service fees paid for advisory services. This represents a conflict of interest. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to our clients. Clients are under no obligation to purchase securities or insurance products from individuals associated with our firm.

Please be sure to read the section entitled Item 12, "Brokerage Practices," which follows later in this brochure.

Our advisory representatives may also recommend various asset management firms. If you establish an investment advisory relationship with one of these firms, our financial advisors may share in the advisory fees you pay to these asset management firms.

Termination of Advisory Agreement

You must pay our advisory fees in advance of receiving our services. You may terminate the advisory agreement within five (5) business days from the date the agreement is executed without penalty and will receive a full refund of any fees paid.

Other than initial execution of this Agreement, this agreement may be terminated at any time by either party by giving a thirty (30) day written notice to the other, and such termination shall become effective as of delivery of the notice of such termination. Fees paid in advance will be prorated to the date of termination specified in the notice of termination and any unearned portion thereof will be refunded to client.

Should either one of us terminate the advisory agreement before the end of a billing period, any unearned fees that were deducted from your account will be returned to you by us. The amount refunded to you is calculated by dividing the most recent advisory fee you paid by the total number of days in the quarter. This daily fee is then multiplied by the number of calendar days in the quarter that our agreement was in effect. This amount, which equals the amount we earned for the partial quarter, is subtracted from the total fee you paid in advance to determine your refund.

The fixed fee for financial planning services is billed 50% upon engagement. You have the right to terminate any advisory contract within five (5) business days after executing the agreement. After that time, our services may be terminated at any time upon written notice and payment in full of all fees and expenses we have earned at the time of termination. Any unearned fees will be refunded. The amount of the refund will be the difference between the deposit amount and the number of hours spent to date on the planning project.

Registered Representative of an Unaffiliated Brokerage and Insurance Agents

Compensation for Sales of Securities

Broker-Dealer Affiliation - Certain advisory persons are also registered representatives of Independence Capital Co., Inc, ("ICC") an unaffiliated, registered broker-dealer (CRD# 24723), member FINRA, SIPC. In the individual's capacity as a registered representative of ICC, he/she will implement securities transactions under ICC and not through TBH Advisors. In such instances, the registered representative will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by an advisory person in the capacity as a registered representative is separate and in addition to the Advisor's fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because advisory persons who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions.

Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendation provided by the advisory person(s) whether acting in the capacity of a registered representative or in the capacity of an advisory person. TBH Advisors nor advisory persons associated with the broker/dealer will earn investment advisory fees in connection with any products or services implemented in the advisory person's separate capacity as a registered representative. Please see Item 10.

Insurance Agency Affiliations - Certain advisory persons are also licensed as independent insurance professionals. As an independent insurance professional, an advisory person may earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to clients. Insurance commissions earned by an advisory person. Are separate and in addition to TBH Advisor's advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because a person providing investment advice on behalf of the Advisor who is also an insurance agent has an incentive to recommend insurance products to Clients for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on Client needs. However, Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through an advisory person of TBH Advisors.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees

Performance-based fees are based on a percentage of the capital gains on or appreciation of the client account assets. We do not charge performance-based fees on any of our client accounts.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

We provide advisory services primarily to individuals and high net worth individuals, including their trusts, estates and retirement accounts. We also provide services to corporations or business entities including their pension and profit-sharing plans.

We currently have no stated minimum account size and no minimum fee requirements.

Item – 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

We select specific investments for your portfolios through the use of fundamental analysis. Fundamental analysis is a method of evaluating a company that has issued a security by attempting to measure the value of its underlying assets. It entails studying overall economic and industry conditions as well as the financial condition and the quality of the company's management. Earnings, expenses, assets, and liabilities are all important in determining the value of a company. The value is then compared to the current price of the issuing company's security to determine whether to purchase, sell or hold the security.

Our investment strategies may include long-term and short-term purchases and sales. Although we manage your account in a manner, we believe is consistent with your specific investment objectives and risk tolerances, there can be no guarantee that our efforts will be successful. General economic conditions, current interest rates, the performance of a particular industry or a particular company, and any number of other factors can affect investment performance.

Alternatives and SPACs

Special purpose acquisition companies (SPACs) have become a popular vehicle for transitioning a private company to a publicly traded one. A SPAC is a blank check company with no operations that offers securities for cash through an initial public offering (IPO). SPACs then have a specified period of time—typically two years—to identify and merge with a private operating company. This business combination is often used as an alternative means of taking the acquired company public, rather than through a traditional IPO. However, SPAC transactions differ from traditional IPOs and have distinct risks associated with them. For example, sponsors may have conflicts of interest so their economic interests in the SPAC may differ from shareholders. Investors should carefully consider these risks. In addition, while SPACs often are structured similarly, each SPAC may have its own unique features, and it is important for investors to understand the specific features of any SPAC under consideration.

You should also be aware that SPAC sponsors generally acquire equity in the SPAC at more favorable terms than investors in the IPO or subsequent investors on the open market. As a result, the sponsors will benefit more than investors from the SPAC's completion of a business combination and may have an incentive to complete a transaction on terms that may be less favorable to you. It is never a good idea to invest in a SPAC just because someone famous sponsors or invests in it or says it is a good investment.

Whether you are investing in a SPAC by participating in its IPO or by purchasing its securities on the open market following an IPO, you should carefully read the SPAC's IPO prospectus as well as its periodic and current reports filed with the SEC pursuant to its ongoing reporting obligations. To learn more, we encourage you to review the SEC's Investor Bulletin regarding SPAC's found here: SPACs – What You Need To Know | Investor.gov.

The Principle Risks of Investing include, but are not limited to:

General Risks:

When our firm sells client's investments, they may be worth less than what client paid for them because the value of investments will fluctuate reflecting day-to-day changes in market conditions, interest rates and a number of other factors.

Allocation Risk:

Our allocation of investments among different asset classes, such as equity or fixed-income assets classes, may have a more significant effect on client's returns when one of these classes is performing more poorly than others.

Market Risk:

Stock and bond markets often trade in random price patterns, and prices can fall over sustained periods of time. The value of the investments we make for client will fluctuate as the financial markets fluctuate. This could result in client's account value(s) declining over short or long-term periods of time.

Liquidity Risk:

REITs, Private Investment Pooled Funds and many Alternatives have liquidity risk. Liquidity risk is a risk that, for a certain period of time, the financial asset cannot be traded quickly enough in the market or sold to other investors without impacting the market price.

Investment Risk

All investments contain risk. You should be prepared to bear the risk of loss. All investments are subject to loss, including (among other things) loss of principal, a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends and other distributions), and the loss of future earnings.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

We have not been the subject of any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of our business or the integrity of our management.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Certain owners and officers of TBH Global Asset Management (“TBH Global”) are also owners and/or officers of TBH Advisors. TBH Global is an SEC-registered investment adviser, which umbrellas TBH Advisors registration with the SEC. TBH Advisors can umbrella registration because it also shares office space and employees with TBH Global. Owners and officers, as well as our other associated persons can recommend the services of TBH Global for certain clients who also utilize our firm. This represents a conflict of interest as these individuals and the firm will benefit by the recommendation. Officers and owners are entitled to receive separate, yet customary compensation for advisory services and compensation based on ownership.

This conflict is also disclosed in the TBH Global Form ADV Part 2A, Firm Disclosure Brochure. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you, our client. Clients are under no obligation to utilize the services of TBH Global, or any other adviser, when we recommend such services.

An officer of TBH Advisors is appointed as a Director for SCC Bancshares, Inc. which is a holding company for St. Clair County State Bank in Missouri. TBH Global and TBH Advisors and their respective officers and owners do not recommend this bank or any of its affiliates to clients or prospective clients. Our firm mitigates potential conflicts by disclosing this ownership to clients and potential clients.

Registered Representatives of an Unaffiliated Brokerage and Insurance Agents

Compensation for Sales of Securities Broker-Dealer Affiliation Certain advisory persons are also registered representatives of Independence Capital Co., Inc. (“ICC”) an unaffiliated, registered broker-dealer (CRD# 24723), member FINRA, SIPC. In the individual’s capacity as a registered representative of ICC, he/she may implement securities transactions under ICC and not through TBH Advisors. In such instances, the registered representative will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by an advisory person in one’s capacity as a registered representative is separate and in addition to the Advisor’s fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because advisory persons who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions. Clients are under no obligation to implement any recommendation provided by the advisory person(s). Neither the Advisor nor advisory persons will earn ongoing investment advisory fees in connection with any products or services implemented in the advisory person’s separate capacity as a registered representative.

Insurance Agency Affiliations Certain advisory persons are also licensed as independent insurance professionals. As an independent insurance professional, an advisory person may earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to advisory clients. Insurance commissions earned by an advisory person are separate and in addition to TBH Advisor's advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because a person providing investment advice on behalf of the Advisor who is also an insurance agent has an incentive to recommend insurance products to clients for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on client needs. However, clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through an advisory person of TBH Advisors.

Information about your IAR's financial industry activities and affiliations is disclosed in the IAR's Supplement which you will receive with this brochure. Additional information about your IAR is also available at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics; Participation or Interest in Client

Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics ("Code") to address the securities-related conduct of our advisory representatives and employees. The Code includes our policies and procedures developed to protect your interests in relation to the following:

- the duty at all times to place your interests ahead of ours;
- that all personal securities transactions of our advisory representatives and employees be conducted in a manner consistent with the Code and avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest, or any abuse of an advisory representative's or employee's position of trust and responsibility;
- that advisory representatives may not take inappropriate advantage of their positions
- that information concerning the identity of your security holdings and financial circumstances are confidential; and
- that independence in the investment decision-making process is paramount.

We will provide a copy of the Code to you or any prospective client upon request.

We do not buy or sell securities for our firm that we also recommend to clients. Our advisory representatives and employees are permitted to buy or sell the same securities for their personal and family accounts that are bought or sold for your account(s). The personal securities transactions by advisory representatives and employees may raise potential conflicts of interest when they trade in a security that is owned by you or considered for purchase or sale for you.

We have adopted policies and procedures that are intended address these conflicts of interest. These policies and procedures:

- require our advisory representatives and employees to act in your best interest,
- prohibit favoring one client over another, and
- provide for the review of transactions to discover and correct any same-day trades that result in an advisory representative or employee receiving a better price than a client.

Transactions for the accounts of our employees and advisory representatives may be included in aggregated trades. They receive the same average price and pay the same commissions and other transaction costs, as clients. Transactions for the accounts of our advisory representatives or employees will not be favored over transactions for client accounts.

It is TBH Advisor's policy that the Advisor will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for Client accounts. The Advisor will also not cross trades between Client accounts.

Advisory representatives and employees must follow our procedures when purchasing or selling the same securities purchased or sold for you.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Our firm does not hold clients' assets. Clients are required to engage an independent, non-affiliated, third-party qualified custodian. TBH Advisors will generally recommend National Financial Services, ("NFS") a FINRA Member broker-dealer, CRD #13041, for their broker-dealer/qualified custodian. To a more limited extent, we have recommended Raymond James, CRD #6694, another unaffiliated broker-dealer/custodian to our clients. Although we recommend that clients establish accounts at the referenced qualified custodian, it is the client's decision to custody assets with NFS, Raymond James, or any other custodian of their choosing.

TBH Advisors is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with NFS or Raymond James. When we recommend these broker-dealer/custodians, we believe in the reasonableness of commissions based on the broker's stability, reputation, ability to provide professional services, competitive commission rates and prices, research, trading platform, and other services which will help TBH Advisors in providing investment management services to clients. As such, our firm will receive use of a trading platform and other operational assistance, including common research. When we recommend NFS or Raymond James, clients may not receive the lowest commission or execution price. Other broker/dealers may provide securities transaction services with lower prices.

Research services may be useful in servicing all our clients, and not all of such research may be useful for the account for which the particular transaction was effected. Our firm does not accept any soft dollar compensation arrangements. For the client accounts that our firm provides advisory services, NFS or Raymond James generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by charging commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into the client's account. We remind the client to carefully examine the broker-dealer/custodian's brokerage disclosures, received when opening an account, for an understanding of all fees charge by NFS or Raymond James.

We are not required to effect a minimum volume of transactions or maintain a minimum dollar amount of client assets to receive these services.

Because the amount of our compensation or the products or services we receive may vary depending on the custodian we recommend to be used by our clients, we may have a conflict of interest in making that recommendation. Our recommendation of specific custodians may be based in part on the economic benefit to us and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided to you and our other clients. We nonetheless strive to act in your best interests at all times.

Commissions and other fees for transactions executed through custodians we have agreements with may be higher than commissions and other fees available if you use another custodian firm to execute transactions and maintain custody of your account. We believe, however, that the overall level of services and support provided to our clients by custodians outweighs the benefit of possibly lower transaction costs which may be available under other brokerage arrangements.

Directed Brokerage

Our firm does not generally accept directed brokerage outside of the custodians that we recommend to our clients. TBH Advisors reserves the right to accept instructions from clients to use a particular broker-dealer to execute some or all of the transactions for the client's account. If a client elects to utilize a directed brokerage arrangement outside of our recommended custodians, clients should be aware that the client is solely responsible for negotiating the terms and arrangements for the account with that broker-dealer.

We may not be able to negotiate commissions, obtain volume discounts, or best execution. In addition, under these circumstances a difference in commission charges may exist between the commissions charged to clients who direct us to use a particular broker or dealer and other clients who do not direct us to use a particular broker or dealer. Finally, our firm will execute these trades separately and not aggregate or "bunch" a trade with our recommended custodian's trades.

Aggregated Transactions

We may engage in aggregated trading, which is the purchase or sale of a security for the accounts of multiple clients in a single custodian transaction. If an aggregated trade is executed, each participating client receives a price that represents the average of the prices at which all of the transactions in a given bunch were executed. Accounts that participate in the same aggregated trade will be charged commissions, if applicable, in accordance with their separate brokerage agreements. Different accounts participating in an aggregated transaction may not be charged the same commission rates, based on their brokerage agreements. If the order is not completely filled, the securities purchased or sold are distributed among participating clients on a pro rata basis or in some other equitable manner.

Aggregated trades are placed only when we reasonably believe that the combination of the transactions provides better prices for clients than had individual transactions been placed for clients. We are not obligated to include any client account in an aggregated trade. Aggregated trades will not be effected for any client's account if doing so is prohibited or otherwise inconsistent with that client's investment advisory agreement. At our sole discretion, non-discretionary accounts may not be included in aggregated transactions.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

All client accounts are monitored on an ongoing basis with a formal review conducted at least annually or as agreed upon with individual clients. The reviews focus on the consistency of portfolio investments with each client's stated objectives and risk tolerances. Reviews also consider investment restrictions requested by individual clients, investment time horizons, liquidity needs, tax considerations and other circumstances unique to each client.

On a quarterly basis, the performance of your account is reviewed to monitor consistency with market benchmarks that we deem applicable. Thereafter, your account is reviewed on a transaction, monthly, quarterly or annual basis, as needed.

Account reviews may also be triggered by other factors such as changes in general economic and market conditions, analyst reports, issuer news and interest rate movement. Your advisory representative is responsible for all reviews.

You will receive statements from the custodian at least quarterly. These statements identify your current investment holdings, the cost of each of those investments, and their current market values. If separately contracted by the client, clients will receive performance analysis reports prepared by us which describe the returns realized on the investments in your account.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We may enter into written compensation agreements with certain unaffiliated investment adviser representatives and professionals such as CPAs, attorneys, etc. We would pay these persons a percentage of the fee that you pay to us if it is determined you have become a client as a result of their direct or indirect efforts. These payments are a portion of the fee that we charge and do not result in an increase in the amount of the fee that you pay. Any solicitation or referral arrangements will comply with applicable laws that govern:

- the nature of the service,
- fees to be paid,
- disclosures to clients, and
- any necessary client consents.

Investment Advisor Representatives affiliated with broker/dealers or insurance companies are provided opportunities to receive bonuses, prizes or awards for these separate sales activities. As such, this presents a conflict of interest that clients should be aware of. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to our clients.

Item 15 - Custody

TBH Advisors requires that all clients maintain their assets with a qualified custodian. We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Disclosure Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts. As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account.

On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period. Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact us directly, or the qualified custodian holding their assets, if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

We also encourage you to contact your advisory representative or our Chief Compliance Officer should you have any questions or concerns regarding your account.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

We offer our advisory services on a discretionary basis. This means that we do not need advance approval from you to determine the type and amount of securities to be bought and sold for your accounts. We do not, however, have the ability to choose the broker-dealer through which transactions will be executed. Additionally, we do not have the ability to withdraw funds from your account (other than to withdraw our advisory fees which, may only be done with your prior written authorization.)

This discretion is used in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for your account, if you have given us written authorization to do so. We only exercise discretion in accounts where we have been authorized by you. This authorization is typically included in the investment advisory agreement you enter into with us.

Occasionally, we manage accounts on a non-discretionary basis. This means we must obtain your approval before for each transaction. In the event of a market correction, if we cannot contact you to obtain consent, we would be unable to effect any recommended action. When you choose non-discretionary management of your account, you must make the ultimate decision to purchase or sell securities in your account.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

We do not take any action or give any advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which your accounts may be invested. In addition, we do not take any action or give any advice with respect to any securities held in any accounts that are named in or subject to class action lawsuits. We will, however, forward to you any information received by us regarding proxies and class action legal matters involving any securities held in your accounts.

Item 18 - Financial Information

We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to you and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

TBH Advisors does not collect fees of $1,200 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

The Payment Protection Program (PPP) was passed as part of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Securities (CARES) Act, which initially provided $349 billion in forgivable loans for small businesses to use for payroll and other essential business costs like rent and utilities. This unique opportunity was meant to support small firms, such as ours. Although our firm determined that we could effectively meet client obligations we also determined that the PPP loan assisted TBHA in avoiding scenarios in which we may have otherwise decided to reduce compensation, reduce staff, or operate at a greater loss for some period of time. As such, our firm was the recipient of a $20,800 loan for these purposes.
