ITEM 4 – SERVICES, FEES & COMPENSATION

We offer a wrap fee program as described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. A wrap fee program is generally considered any arrangement under which clients receive investment advisory services and the execution of client transactions for a specified fee or fees not based upon transactions in their accounts. All our investment management clients will be offered the wrap fee program structure that includes, as a single fee, the securities transaction costs for trading in Client accounts along with the investment advisory fees earned by our firm. Our firm receives a portion of the wrap fee for the services rendered. While traditional Wrap Fee Programs are often rigid, pre-packaged investment programs, our firm customizes its investment strategies individually for its clients. Prior to receiving services through the Program, clients are required to enter into a written agreement with our firm setting forth the relevant terms and conditions of the investment advisory relationship (the “Agreement”).

OUR WRAP ADVISORY SERVICES

We manage advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. For discretionary accounts, once we have determined a profile and investment plan with a client, we will execute the day-to-day transactions without seeking prior client consent but within the expected investment guidelines. Account supervision is guided by the client’s written profile and investment plan. We will accept accounts with certain trading restrictions, if circumstances warrant. We primarily allocate client assets among cash, individual stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), options, mutual funds and other public or investments. All of which are considered asset allocation categories for the client’s investment strategy.

During personal discussions with clients, we determine the client’s objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review a client’s prior investment history, as well as family composition and background. Based on client needs, we develop a client’s personal profile and investment plan. We then create and manage the client’s investments based on that policy and plan. It is the client’s obligation to notify us immediately if circumstances have changed with respect to their goals. Once we have determined the types of investments to be included in a client’s portfolio and have allocated the assets, we provide ongoing investment review and management services.

With our discretionary relationship, we will make changes to the portfolio, as we deem appropriate, to meet client financial objectives. We trade these portfolios based on the combination of our market views and client objectives, using our investment process. We tailor our advisory services to meet the needs of our clients and seek to ensure that your portfolio is managed in a manner consistent with those needs and objectives. Clients have the ability to leave standing instructions with us to refrain from investing in particular industries or invest in limited amounts of securities.

We do have limited authority to direct the Custodian to deduct our investment advisory fees from accounts, but only with the appropriate written authorization from clients.

Where appropriate, we provide advice about any type of legacy position held in client portfolios. Typically, these are assets that are ineligible to be custodied at our primary custodian. Clients will engage us to advise on certain investment products that are not maintained at their primary custodian, such as variable life insurance, annuity contracts, and assets held in employer sponsored retirement plans and qualified tuition plans (i.e., 529 plans).

You are advised and are expected to understand that our past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Certain market and economic risks exist that adversely affect an account's performance. This could result in capital losses in your account.

RELATIVE COST OF THE PROGRAM

A wrap fee program allows our clients to pay a specified fee for investment advisory services and the execution of transactions. Clients do not pay brokerage commissions, markups or transaction charges for execution of transactions in addition to the advisory fee. The fee covers transaction costs or commissions resulting from the management of your accounts, however, most investments trade without transaction fees today, so our payment of these and other incidental custodial related expenses should not be considered a significant factor in determining the relative value of our wrap program.

Although clients do not pay a transaction charge for transactions, clients should be aware that Destiny Capital pays the custodian transaction charges for those transactions. The transaction charges paid by Destiny Capital vary based on the type of transaction (e.g., mutual fund, equity or ETF).

Our fee schedule for discretionary portfolio management services:

Amount of Assets Under Management	Fee
$0 to $1,000,000	1.50%
$1,000,000 to $5,000,000	0.95%
Above $5,000,000	0.50%

This schedule represents a combined annual fee for discretionary portfolio management, financial planning, and client service.

A calendar monthly/quarterly investment management fee is billed in advance based on the previous month/calendar end market value of your account. The relevant fee and billing method is defined and agreed to by the firm and the client in the executed Investment Advisory Agreement. This fee may be debited directly from your investment account or you may pay this fee separately. You will need to indicate how you would like to pay this fee in your Investment Advisory Agreement. Additional fees and expenses you may incur are principal markups and discounts, SEC fees, mutual fund/ETF expense ratios, tax withholding on certain foreign securities, postage fees, wire fees, bank charges, and other administration fees as authorized by you.

Fees may vary based on the size of the account, complexity of the portfolio, extent of activity in the account, or other reasons agreed upon by our Firm and you as the client. In certain circumstances, our fees and the timing of the fee payments may be negotiated. Our employees and their immediate family related accounts are charged a reduced fee for our services.

Unless otherwise instructed by the Client, we will aggregate related client accounts for the purposes of determining the account size and annualized fee. The common practice is often referred to as “house-holding” portfolios for fee purposes and may result in lower fees than if fees were calculated on portfolios separately. Our method of house-holding accounts for fee purposes looks at the overall family dynamic and relationship. When applicable, and noted in Appendix of the Investment Management Agreement, legacy positions will also be excluded from the fee calculation.

The independent and qualified custodian holding your funds and securities will debit your account directly for the advisory fee and pay that fee to us. When establishing a relationship with Destiny Capital, you provide written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account held by the qualified custodian. Further, the qualified Custodian agrees to deliver an account statement to you on a monthly basis indicating all the amounts deducted from the account including our advisory fees.

Either Destiny Capital or you may terminate the management agreement immediately upon written notice to the other party. The management fee will be pro-rated to the date of termination, for the month/quarter in which the cancellation notice was given and any earned fee will be billed to you by our Firm.

Upon termination, you are responsible for monitoring the securities in your account, and we will have no further obligation to act or advise with respect to those assets. In the event of client’s death or disability, Destiny Capital will continue management of the account until we are notified of client’s death or disability and given alternative instructions by an authorized party.

OTHER TYPES OF FEES & EXPENSES

In addition to the advisory fees paid to our Firm, clients also incur certain charges imposed by other third parties, such as broker-dealers, custodians, trust companies, banks and other financial institutions (collectively “Financial Institutions”). These additional charges include custodial fees, charges imposed by a mutual fund or ETF in a client’s account, as disclosed in the fund’s prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Our brokerage practices are described at length in Item 12, below.

In addition, some mutual fund and/or ETF assets deposited in the account may have been subject to deferred sales charges and 12 (b) (1) fees and other annual expenses. These fees are independent of our fees and should be disclosed by the custodian or contained in each fund's prospectus. You should also note that fees for comparable services vary and lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources.

Neither Destiny Capital, nor any representatives of Destiny Capital receive any additional compensation for the participation of client's in the wrap fee program. However, compensation received may be more than what would have been received if client paid separately for investment advice, brokerage, and to other services. Therefore, Destiny Capital may have a financial incentive to recommend the wrap fee program to clients.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Our Firm utilizes a third party and technology platform to support data reconciliation, performance reporting, fee calculation and billing, research, client database maintenance, quarterly performance evaluations, payable reports, web site administration, models, trading platforms, and other functions related to the administrative tasks of managing client accounts. Due to this arrangement, the third-party vendor will have access to client information, but will not serve as an investment advisor to our clients. Destiny Capital and this third party are non-affiliated companies. This third party charges our Firm an annual fee for each account administered by the third party. The annual fee is paid from the portion of the management fee retained by us.

ITEM 5 – ACCOUNT REQUIREMENTS & TYPES OF CLIENTS

We provide investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, foundations, private trusts, charitable organizations, broker/dealer, trusts, estates, and corporations, limited liability companies and other business types.

Our Firm maintains a $500,000 minimum in aggregate investable assets. In certain instances, at the discretion of our Firm, this minimum may be waived.

ITEM 6 – PORTFOLIO MANAGER SELECTION & EVALUATION

PORTFOLIO MANAGER SELECTION

Our Firm serves as the sponsor and portfolio manager for our Wrap Fee Program.

The fee covers transaction costs or commissions resulting from the management of your accounts, however, most investments trade without transaction fees today, so our payment of these and other incidental custodial related expenses should not be considered a significant factor in determining the relative value of our wrap program.

RELATED PERSONS

Our Firm's investment adviser representatives serve as the portfolio manager for the services under this Wrap Fee Program. We only manage this wrap fee program and we do not act as portfolio manager for any third-party wrap fee programs.

SUPERVISED PERSONS

Our investment adviser representatives serve as the portfolio manager for the Wrap Fee Program described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. Please refer to the Items 4 and 8 of the Part 2A Disclosure Brochure for details on the services provided by our Firm. For information related to the background of our supervised persons, please see Items 9 and 11 of the Part 2A Disclosure Brochure.

ADVISORY BUSINESS

Refer to Item 4 of this Wrap Fee Brochure for information about our wrap fee advisory program.

Each client has the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the portfolio. Restrictions on investments in certain securities or types of securities may not be possible due to the level of difficulty this would entail in managing the account.

PARTICIPATION IN WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

Our Wrap Fee Program is managed on an individualized basis according to the client's investment objectives, financial goals, risk tolerance, etc.

PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES & SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

We do not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client account (so-called performance-based fees), nor engage side by side management.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

Destiny Capital offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. We oversee a consultative process which evaluates the client's unique needs and preferences and matches those with a strategically and/or tactically managed investment portfolio. Our investment management process includes the due diligence and oversight of a diverse set of signal providers with specifically targeted strategies to meet varying risk/return and tax aware expectations. We believe that successful investment management is a combination of skilled analytics and targeted portfolio guidelines organized around specific outcomes tied to the client's financial plan. The financial plan is driven by the clients' unique priority matrix and risk tolerance. Risk tolerance is often specific to account type or goal while also being generalized across the financial plan.

Destiny Capital prioritizes (but is not exclusive to) investment strategies that are supported by rigorous data analytics and algorithmic intelligence. This intelligence is more important than traditional "theories" of investment performance such as "Modern Portfolio Theory." While Destiny Capital strongly believes in the power of asset allocation and diversification, we also believe that a tactical approach to the balancing of those diversified asset classes is preferred when possible. When tax efficiency priorities of the client preclude trading activity, those preferences may be prioritized. Destiny Capital generally limits its investment advice and/or money management to mutual funds, equities, bonds, fixed income, and ETFs. Destiny Capital may use other securities to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Portfolio Construction. We construct diversified portfolios using the primary tenets of Modern Portfolio Theory. Using annual ex-ante capital market assumption data provided by a variety of financial institutions, we identify and review the risk and return metrics for all asset classes in the investable universe. We then perform detailed analysis in order to construct portfolios with the goal of optimizing performance per unit of risk.

Asset Allocation. Within each class of securities, we attempt to identify more narrow categories such as domestic vs. international, growth vs. value, large-cap vs. small-cap, long vs. short maturities, corporate vs. government vs. municipal, etc. The number of potential subcategories can be quite large. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds can be useful tools to identify and recommend narrow strategies.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry, or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash and cash equivalents will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis. We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also look at the underlying assets in a mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if there is significant overlap in the underlying investments held in another fund(s) in the client's portfolio. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy.

A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

Rebalancing. Rebalancing involves buying and/or selling assets in a portfolio in order to maintain the desired level of asset weighting. This results in a more consistent risk profile. Our Investment Committee monitors portfolio drift within each client account on a bi-weekly basis and rebalances each discretionary portfolio no less than annually unless individual client circumstances dictate otherwise.

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Environment, Social and Corporate Governance Research and Risk Management

In addition to fundamental investment research, Destiny Capital also seeks to identify and mitigate Environmental, Social, and Corporate Governance (ESG) risk factors that may impact corporate profitability and, subsequently, shareholder value. Destiny Capital incorporates a materiality-based approach to ESG research, meaning that certain ESG risk factors are inherent in certain industries/subindustries and should, therefore, be a focus of risk identification and mitigation. This research is conducted in an effort to reduce overall portfolio volatility and enhance risk-adjusted returns for our clients.

Quantitative Analysis. We use mathematical models in an attempt to obtain more accurate measurements of a company's quantifiable data, such as the value of a share price or earnings per share and anticipate changes to that data.

A risk in using quantitative analysis is that the models used may be based on assumptions that prove to be incorrect.

Qualitative Analysis. We subjectively evaluate non-quantifiable factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement and anticipate potential changes to share price based on that data.

A risk of using qualitative analysis is that our subjective judgment may prove incorrect.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategies in managing client accounts, provided that such strategies are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases. We purchase assets with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically, we employ this strategy when:

- We believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- We want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we do not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our analysis is incorrect, the security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase asset classes or securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

A risk in a short-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we do not take advantage of long-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our analysis is incorrect, the security may increase in value after we make the decision to sell.

Options strategies. In very limited circumstances, we may recommend options strategies to investors who understand the strategy and are able to bear the associated risks. Before any options strategies are recommended, the advisor and client will have a detailed discussion about the risks, and the client will be provided with a copy of the Option Clearing Corporation's brochure: Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options, also known as the Options Disclosure Document or ODD.

RISK OF LOSS

A client's investment portfolio is affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic conditions, changes in laws and national and international political circumstances.

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. Destiny Capital will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account(s). Destiny Capital shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform Destiny Capital of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

Our methods rely on the assumption that the underlying companies within our security allocations are accurately reviewed by the rating agencies and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

Investors should be aware that accounts are subject to the following risks:

- MARKET RISK - Even a long-term investment approach cannot guarantee a profit. Economic, political, and issuer-specific events will cause the value of securities to rise or fall. Because the value of investment portfolios will fluctuate, there is the risk that you will lose money and your investment may be worth more or less upon liquidation.
- FOREIGN SECURITIES AND CURRENCY RISK - Investments in international and emerging-market securities include exposure to risks such as currency fluctuations, foreign taxes and regulations, and the potential for illiquid markets and political instability.
- CAPITALIZATION RISK - Small-cap and mid-cap companies may be hindered as a result of limited resources or less diverse products or services. Their stocks have historically been more volatile than the stocks of larger, more established companies.
- INTEREST RATE RISK - In a rising rate environment, the value of fixed-income securities generally declines, and the value of equity securities may be adversely affected.
- CREDIT RISK - Credit risk is the risk that the issuer of a security may be unable to make interest payments and/or repay principal when due. A downgrade to an issuer's credit rating or a perceived change in an issuer's financial strength may affect a security's value and thus, impact the fund's performance.
- SECURITIES LENDING RISK - Securities lending involves the risk that the fund loses money because the borrower fails to return the securities in a timely manner or at all. The fund could also lose money if the value of the collateral provided for loaned securities, or the value of the investments made with the cash collateral, falls. These events could also trigger adverse tax consequences for the fund.
- EXCHANGE-TRADED FUNDS - ETFs face market-trading risks, including the potential lack of an active market for shares, losses from trading in the secondary markets, and disruption in the creation/redemption process of the ETF. Any of these factors may lead to the fund's shares trading at either a premium or a discount to its "net asset value."
- PERFORMANCE OF UNDERLYING MANAGERS - We select the mutual funds and ETFs in the asset allocation portfolios. However, we depend on the manager of such funds to select individual investments in accordance with their stated investment strategy.
- CYBERSECURITY RISK – In addition to the Material Investment Risks listed above, investing involves various operational and "cybersecurity" risks. These risks include both intentional and unintentional events at our firm or one of its third-party counterparties or service providers, that may result in a loss or corruption of data, result in the unauthorized release or other misuse of confidential information, and generally compromise our Firm's ability to conduct its business. A cybersecurity breach may also result in a third-party obtaining unauthorized access to our clients' information, including social security numbers, home addresses, account numbers, account balances, and account holdings. Our Firm has established business continuity plans and risk management systems designed to reduce the risks associated with cybersecurity breaches. However, there are inherent limitations in these plans and systems, including that certain risks may not have been identified, in large part because different or unknown threats may emerge in the future. As such, there is no guarantee that such efforts will succeed, especially because our Firm does not directly control the cybersecurity systems of our third-party service providers. There is also a risk that cybersecurity breaches may not be detected.

- STRUCTURED NOTES – Structured products are designed to facilitate highly customized risk-return objectives. While structured products come in many different forms, they typically consist of a debt security that is structured to make interest and principal payments based upon various assets, rates, or formulas. Many structured products include an embedded derivative component. Structured products may be structured in the form of a security, in which case these products may receive benefits provided under federal securities law, or they may be cast as derivatives, in which case they are offered in the over-the-counter market and are subject to no regulation. Investment in structured products includes significant risks, including valuation, liquidity, price, credit, and market risks. One common risk associated with structured products is a relative lack of liquidity due to the highly customized nature of the investment. Moreover, the full extent of returns from the complex performance features is often not realized until maturity. As such, structured products tend to be more of a buy-and-hold investment decision rather than a means of getting in and out of a position with speed and efficiency. Another risk with structured products is the credit quality of the issuer. Although the cash flows are derived from other sources, the products themselves are legally considered to be the issuing financial institution’s liabilities. The vast majority of structured products are from high-investment-grade issuers only. Also, there is a lack of pricing transparency. There is no uniform standard for pricing, making it harder to compare the net-of-pricing attractiveness of alternative structured product offerings than it is, for instance, to compare the net expense ratios of different mutual funds or commissions among broker-dealers.
- NON-LIQUID ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENTS - From time to time, our Firm will recommend to certain qualifying clients that a portion of such clients’ assets be invested in private funds, private fund-of-funds and/or other alternative investments (collectively, “Nonliquid Alternative Investments”). Nonliquid Alternative Investments are not suitable for all our Firm’s clients and are offered only to those qualifying clients for whom our Firm believes such an investment is suitable and in line with their overall investment strategy. Nonliquid Alternative Investments typically are available to only a limited number of sophisticated investors who meet the definition of “accredited investor” under Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or “qualified client” under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, or “qualified purchaser” under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Nonliquid Alternative Investments present special risks for our Firm’s clients, including without limitation, limited liquidity, higher fees and expenses, volatile performance, no assurance of investment returns, heightened risk of loss, limited transparency, additional reliance on underlying management of the investment, special tax considerations, subjective valuations, use of leverage and limited regulatory oversight. When a Nonliquid Alternative Investment invests part or all of its assets in real estate properties, there are additional risks that are unique to real estate investing, including but not limited to: limitations of the appraisal value; the borrower's financial conditions (if the underlying property has been obtained by a loan), including the risk of foreclosures on the property; neighborhood values; the supply of and demand for properties of like kind; and certain city, state and/or federal regulations. Additionally, real estate investing is also subject to possible loss due to uninsured losses from natural and man-made disasters. The above list is not exhaustive of all risks related to an investment in Nonliquid Alternative Investments. A more comprehensive discussion of the risks associated with a particular Nonliquid Investment is set forth in that fund's offering documents, which will be provided to each client subscribing to a Nonliquid Alternative Investment, for review and consideration. It is important that each potential, qualified investor carefully read each offering or private placement memorandum prior to investing.

VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

We will not vote proxies on your behalf. You are welcome to vote proxies or designate an independent third-party at your own discretion. You designate proxy voting authority in the custodial account documents. You must ensure that proxy materials are sent directly to you or your assigned third party. We do not act with respect to any securities or other investments that become the subject of any legal proceedings, including bankruptcies. Clients can contact our office with questions about a particular proxy solicitation by phone at 505-660-2400.

ITEM 7 – CLIENT INFORMATION PROVIDED TO PORTFOLIO MANAGER(S)

Our Firm is required to describe the type and frequency of the information it communicates to external managers that may be involved in managing its Clients' investment portfolios. Destiny Capital serves as the sole portfolio manager under this Wrap Fee Program and, as such, we have no information to disclose regarding this Item.

ITEM 8 – CLIENT CONTACT WITH PORTFOLIO MANAGER(S)

Our Firm does not place restrictions on the client's ability to contact and consult their financial advisor. As the portfolio manager, clients are free to contact us at any time.

ITEM 9 – ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

All the information disclosed in Item 9 is for Wrap Fee Clients.

DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

We do not have any legal, financial or other “disciplinary” item to report. No management persons listed on Schedule A/B of the ADV Part 1 have been subject to any criminal or civil actions, administrative proceedings, or self-regulatory organization (SRO) proceedings.

FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES & AFFILIATIONS

INSURANCE

A number of our associated persons are licensed insurance agents for purposes of providing insurance analysis and advice under state laws. As a fee only advisory firm, Destiny Capital does not accept commissions but may receive trail payments from legacy policies. Should the need arise for insurance implementation, we will refer our clients to an insurance professional who may work on a commission basis. Destiny Capital will not share in these commissions in any way and will not receive any referral fees.

OTHER AFFILIATIONS

Additionally, management personnel of Destiny Capital may engage in outside business activities. As such, these individuals can receive separate, yet customary commission compensation resulting from implementing product transactions on behalf of investment advisory Clients. Clients are not under any obligation to engage these individuals when considering implementation of these outside recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the Client.

Our Firm does not have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading adviser, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

Neither our firm nor any of its management persons are registered or have an application pending to register as a broker-dealer.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Clients should be aware that the ability to receive additional compensation by our Firm and its management persons or employees creates conflicts of interest that impair the objectivity of the Firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Our Firm endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps, among others to address this conflict:

- we disclose to clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for the Firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory clients in addition to the Firm's advisory fees.
- we disclose to clients that they have the right to decide to purchase recommended investment products from our employees.
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives, and liquidity needs.

- the Firm conducts regular reviews of each client advisory account to verify that all recommendations made to a client are in the best interest of the client's needs and circumstances.
- we require that our employees seek prior approval of any outside employment activity so that we may ensure that any conflicts of interests in such activities are properly addressed.
- we periodically monitor these outside employment activities to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by the Firm; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

BROKERAGE PRACTICES

We generally recommend that clients utilize the custody and brokerage services of Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services, (the "Custodian") for investment management accounts. Our Custodian is independent and unaffiliated FINRA-registered broker-dealers. We may recommend that you establish accounts with this custodian to maintain custody of your assets and to effect trades for your accounts. Some of the products, services and other benefits provided by our Custodian benefit us and may not benefit you or your account. Our recommendation/requirement that you place assets with this custodian may be based in part on benefits they provide us, and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and execution services provided by the Custodian.

We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with any custodian. Fidelity provides us with access to their institutional trading and custody services. These services include brokerage, custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors.

In the event you request us to recommend a broker/dealer Custodian for execution and/or custodial services, we generally recommend your account to be maintained at Fidelity. We may recommend that you establish accounts with the Custodian to maintain custody of your assets and to effect trades for your accounts. You have the right to not act upon any recommendations, and if you elect to act upon any recommendations, you have the right to not place the transactions through any broker/dealer we recommend. Our recommendation is generally based on the broker's cost and fees, skills, reputation, dependability and compatibility with the client. You may be able to obtain lower commissions and fees from other brokers and the value of products, research and services given to us is not a factor in determining the selection of broker/dealer or the reasonableness of their commissions.

We place trades for your account subject to our duty to seek best execution and other fiduciary duties. You may be able to obtain lower commissions and fees from other brokers and the value of products, research and services given to us is not a factor in determining the selection of broker/dealer or the reasonableness of their commissions. Fidelity's execution quality may be different than other broker-dealers.

For our client accounts maintained in custody with a Custodian, the Custodian generally does not charge separately for custody but are compensated by account holders through 12b-1 fees and ticket charges.

The Custodian we utilize makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not benefit your accounts in every case. Some of these other products and services assist us in managing and administering your accounts. These include software and technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts), provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of our fees from your account, and assist with back-office functions, record-keeping and reporting.

Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of our accounts. The Custodian also make available to us other services intended to help us manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, and marketing. In addition, the Custodian may make available, arrange and/or pay for these services rendered to us by third parties. The Custodian may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to us.

While as a fiduciary, we endeavor to act in your best interest, our recommendation that you maintain your assets in accounts at our recommended Custodian may be based in part on the benefit to us or the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the Custodian, which may create a conflict of interest. IARs endeavor at all times to put the interest of our clients first as a part of their fiduciary duty.

Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services ("Fidelity") provides various benefits and payments to registered investment advisers that are new to the Fidelity custodial platform to assist the firm with the costs associated with starting a Registered Investment Advisory firm and transitioning the business to Fidelity (collectively referred to as "Transition Assistance"). The proceeds of such Transition Assistance payments are intended to be used for a variety of purposes, including but not necessarily limited to, initial registration, compliance assistance, legal assistance, and technology expenses incurred as a result of the firm transitioning to Fidelity's custodial platform. The amount of the Transition Assistance payments is often significant in relation to the overall revenue earned or compensation received by the Firm.

The receipt of Transition Assistance by Destiny Capital creates conflicts of interest relating to Destiny Capital's advisory business because it creates a financial incentive for Destiny Capital to recommend that its clients maintain their accounts with Fidelity. Destiny Capital attempts to mitigate these conflicts of interest by evaluating and recommending that clients use Fidelity's services based on the benefits that such services provide to our clients, rather than the Transition Assistance earned by Destiny Capital. Destiny Capital considers Fidelity's execution capability when recommending or requiring that clients maintain accounts with Fidelity. However, clients should be aware of this conflict and take it into consideration in making a decision whether to custody their assets in an account at Fidelity.

AGGREGATION AND ALLOCATION OF TRANSACTIONS

We may aggregate transactions if we believe that aggregation is consistent with the duty to seek best execution for our clients and is consistent with the disclosures made to clients and terms defined in the client Investment Advisory Agreement. No advisory client will be favored over any other client, and each account that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price (per custodian) for all transactions in that security on a given business day. We will aggregate trades for ourselves or our associated persons with your trades, providing that the following conditions are met:

- Our policy for the aggregation of transactions shall be fully disclosed separately to our existing clients (if any) and the broker/dealer(s) through which such transactions will be placed.
- We will not aggregate transactions unless we believe that aggregation is consistent with our duty to seek the best execution (which includes the duty to seek best price) for you and is consistent with the terms of our Investment Advisory Agreement with you for which trades are being aggregated.
- No advisory client will be favored over any other client; each client that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price for all our transactions in a given security on a given business day, with transaction costs based on each client's participation in the transaction.
- We will prepare a written statement ("Allocation Statement") specifying the participating client accounts and how to allocate the order among those clients.
- If the aggregated order is filled in its entirety, it will be allocated among clients in accordance with the allocation statement; if the order is partially filled, the accounts that did not receive the previous trade's positions should be "first in line" to receive the next allocation.
- Notwithstanding the foregoing, the order may be allocated on a basis different from that specified in the Allocation Statement if all client accounts receive fair and equitable treatment and the reason for difference of allocation is explained in writing and is reviewed by our compliance officer. Our books and records will separately reflect, for each client account, the orders of which aggregated, the securities held by, and bought for that account.
- We will receive no additional compensation or remuneration of any kind as a result of the proposed aggregation; and
- Individual advice and treatment will be accorded to each advisory client.

BROKERAGE FOR CLIENT REFERRALS

Our Firm does not receive client referrals from any Custodian or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

TRADE ERRORS

We have implemented procedures designed to prevent trade errors; however, trade errors in client accounts cannot always be avoided. Consistent with our fiduciary duty, it is our policy to correct trade errors in a manner that is in the best interest of the client. In cases where the client causes the trade error, the client will be responsible for any loss resulting from the correction. Depending on the specific circumstances of the trade error, the client may not be able to receive any gains generated as a result of the error correction. In all situations where the client does not cause the trade error, the client will be made whole and we will absorb any loss resulting from the trade error if the error was caused by the firm. If the error is caused by the Custodian, the Custodian will be responsible for covering all trade error costs. If an investment gain results from the correcting trade, the gain will be held in an account to offset future potential trade error losses within the same calendar year. We will take any remaining monetary positive balance in the trade error account of that calendar year and donate those funds to a 501c3 of choice. We will never benefit or profit from trade errors.

DIRECTED BROKERAGE

We do not routinely recommend, request or require that you direct us to execute transaction through a specified broker dealer. Additionally, we do not permit you to direct brokerage. We place trades for your account subject to our duty to seek best execution and other fiduciary duties.

CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS & PERSONAL TRADING

Our Firm and persons associated with us are allowed to invest for their own accounts, or to have a financial investment in the same securities or other investments that we recommend or acquire for your account and may engage in transactions that are the same as or different than transactions recommended to or made for your account. This creates a conflict of interest. We recognize the fiduciary responsibility to act in your best interest and have established policies to mitigate conflicts of interest.

We have developed and implemented a Code of Ethics that sets forth standards of conduct expected of our advisory personnel to mitigate this conflict of interest. The Code of Ethics addresses, among other things, personal trading, gifts, and the prohibition against the use of inside information.

The Code of Ethics is designed to protect our clients to detect and deter misconduct, educate personnel regarding the Firm's expectations and laws governing their conduct, remind personnel that they are in a position of trust and must act with complete propriety at all times, protect the reputation of Destiny Capital , safeguard against the violation of the securities laws, and establish procedures for personnel to follow so that we may determine whether their personnel are complying with the Firm's ethical principles.

We have established the following restrictions in order to ensure our Firm's fiduciary responsibilities:

- No supervised employee of Destiny Capital shall prefer his or her own interest to that of the advisory client. Trades for supervised employees are traded alongside client accounts.
- We maintain a list of all securities holdings of anyone associated with this advisory practice with access to advisory recommendations. These holdings are reviewed on a regular basis by an appropriate officer/individual of Destiny Capital.
- We emphasize the unrestricted right of the client to decline implementation of any advice rendered, except in situations where we are granted discretionary authority of the client's account.
- We require that all supervised employees must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.
- Any supervised employee not in observance of the above may be subject to termination.

None of our associated persons may affect for himself/herself or for accounts in which he/she holds a beneficial interest, any transactions in a security which is being actively recommended to any of our clients, unless in accordance with the Firm's procedures.

You may request a complete copy of our Code by contacting us at the address, telephone, or email on the cover page of this Part 2; ATTN: Erin O'Neil, Chief Compliance Officer.

ACCOUNT REVIEWS AND REVIEWERS – INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES

Our Investment Adviser Representatives will monitor client accounts on a regular basis and perform annual reviews with each client. All accounts are reviewed for consistency with client investment strategy, asset allocation, risk tolerance, and performance relative to the appropriate benchmark. More frequent reviews may be triggered by changes in an account holder's personal, tax, or financial status. Geopolitical and macroeconomic specific events may also trigger reviews. You are urged to notify us of any changes in your personal circumstances.

STATEMENTS AND REPORTS

Reports from our Firm are generated for clients on an annual basis or as requested. These reports show the rate of return of accounts under management of Destiny Capital.

The custodian for the individual client's account will also provide clients with an account statement at least quarterly. You are urged to compare the reports and invoices provided by Destiny Capital against the account statements you receive directly from your account custodian.

CLIENT REFERRALS & OTHER COMPENSATION

It is Destiny Capital Corporation's policy not to accept or allow our related persons to accept any form of compensation, including cash, sales awards, or other prizes, from a non-client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our clients. An Investment Adviser Representative who is invited to meet with portfolio managers of a mutual fund company will be allowed to attend. Attendance at conferences that are sponsored by Destiny Capital Corporation's clearing firm will be allowed.

CUSTODY

Custody, as it applies to investment advisors, has been defined by regulators as having access or control over client funds and/or securities. In other words, custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment advisor has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment advisor is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

While our firm does not maintain physical custody of client assets (which are maintained by a qualified custodian, as discussed above), we are deemed to have custody of certain client assets if given the authority to withdraw assets from client accounts, as further described below under "Standing Instructions". All our clients receive account statements directly from their qualified custodian(s) at least quarterly upon opening of an account. We urge our clients to carefully review these statements. Additionally, if our firm decides to send its own account statements to clients, such statements will include a legend that recommends the client compare the account statements received from the qualified custodian with those received from our firm. Clients are encouraged to raise any questions with us about the custody, safety or security of their assets and our custodial recommendations.

The SEC issued a no-action letter ("Letter") with respect to the Rule 206(4)-2 ("Custody Rule") under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 ("Advisers Act"). The letter provided guidance on the Custody Rule as well as clarified that an adviser who has the power to disburse client funds to a third party under a standing letter of instruction ("SLOA") is deemed to have custody. As such, our Firm has adopted the following safeguards in conjunction with our custodians:

- The client provides an instruction to the qualified custodian, in writing, that includes the client's signature, the third party's name, and either the third party's address or the third party's account number at a custodian to which the transfer should be directed.
- The client authorizes the investment adviser, in writing, either on the qualified custodian's form or separately, to direct transfers to the third party either on a specified schedule or from time to time.
- The client's qualified custodian performs appropriate verification of the instruction, such as a signature review or other method to verify the client's authorization and provides a transfer of funds notice to the client promptly after each transfer.
- The client has the ability to terminate or change the instruction to the client's qualified custodian.

- The investment adviser has no authority or ability to designate or change the identity of the third party, the address, or any other information about the third party contained in the client's instruction.
- The investment adviser maintains records showing that the third party is not a related party of the investment adviser or located at the same address as the investment adviser.
- The client's qualified custodian sends the client, in writing, an initial notice confirming the instruction and an annual notice reconfirming the instruction.

Destiny Capital is deemed to have custody of client funds and securities whenever Destiny Capital is given the authority to have fees deducted directly from client accounts. However, this is the only form of custody Destiny Capital will ever maintain. It should be noted that authorization to trade in client accounts is not deemed by regulators to be custody.

Account statements are delivered directly from the qualified custodian to each client, or the client's independent representative, at least quarterly. You should carefully review those statements and are urged to compare the statements against reports received from Destiny Capital. When you have questions about your account statements, you should contact Destiny Capital or the qualified custodian preparing the statement.

SOFT DOLLARS

Our Firm does not accept any direct soft dollars.

DIRECTED BROKERAGE

Neither we nor any of our Firm's related persons have discretionary authority in making the determination of the brokers with whom orders for the purchase or sale of securities are placed for execution, and the commission rates at which such securities transactions are effected. We do not routinely recommend, request or require that you direct us to execute transaction through a specified broker dealer. Additionally, we typically do not permit you to direct brokerage. We place trades for your account subject to our duty to seek best execution and other fiduciary duties.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

We do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.
