Advisory Business

Brainard Capital Management, LLC provides investment advice to individuals, family groups, trusts, certain types of corporate entities, estates, and charitable organizations. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include determination of financial objectives, identification of financial goals, cash flow management, tax considerations, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, estate planning, and stock option management. Brainard Capital Management is a fee-only advisory firm.

An evaluation of each client's initial situation is provided to the client, often in the form of an extended consultation. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews occur but are not necessarily communicated to the client unless immediate changes are recommended. Other professionals (e.g. lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis.

Brainard Capital Management provides investment supervisory services, manages investment advisory accounts, including the buying and selling of individual securities such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds and other securities, and furnishes investment advice through consultations. Brainard Capital Management does not provide any timing services. As of March 23, 2022, Brainard Capital Management had Regulatory Assets Under Management (AUM) of $961,306,549.00, providing continuous and regular supervisory or management services for 91 client households; additional private assets, such as illiquid holdings in private technology companies or public companies with sales restrictions during lock up, are advised by Brainard Capital Management (in excess of $1,000,000,000.00), but are not included in the stated regulatory AUM figure above given the restricted or illiquid nature of the assets, as they do not fall under continuous or regularly supervision by our firm.

Brainard Capital Management, LLC was founded in 2005, and is wholly owned by its founder, J. Owen Brainard, Jr., and related family entities, such as the J. Owen Brainard, Jr. Family Trust.

Fees and Compensation

Brainard Capital Management is compensated for advisory services in the form of a fee based upon assets under management or a fixed fee. Fees are negotiable based on the size and nature of the client portfolio. As the custodian will not do so, it is the client's responsibility to verify that the fee is properly calculated. Fees are payable quarterly, in advance, based upon the market value of the account(s) managed at the end of the prior quarter. Brainard Capital Management may deduct fees directly from the client custodial account or bill clients directly for fees, depending upon client preference, with the primary method being fee deduction from client accounts.

Our fees do not include brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses. You may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, third party investment companies and other third parties. These include fees charged by third party money managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds, money market funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs) also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus. These fees may include, but are not limited to, a management fee, upfront sales charges, and other fund expenses. Certain strategies offered by us may involve investment in mutual funds and/or ETFs. Load and no-load mutual funds may pay annual distribution charges, sometimes referred to as "12(b)(1) fees". These 12(b)(1) fees come from fund assets, and thus indirectly from clients' assets. All of these fees are in addition to the management fee you pay us.

Clients that are interested may elect to open a separate account managed by a third party money manager, for example GW&K Investment Management, LLC ("GW&K"), and enter into a separate agreement with them. When obtaining services from GW&K, you directly pay an asset-based fee to GW&K. The fee charged by GW&K will be separate from, and in addition to, Brainard Capital's investment advisory fee detailed in your advisory agreement with Brainard Capital, to which GW&K is not a party. Client understands that Account assets invested with third party money managers will be included in calculating the value of the Account for purposes of computing Adviser's fees and the same assets will also be subject to additional advisory and other fees and expenses, as set forth in the ADV Part 2A of those third party managers selected. You should review all fees charged to fully understand the total amount of fees you will pay. Services similar to those offered by us may be available elsewhere for more or less than the amounts we charge.

The fee will be the greater of: Adviser's minimum annual flat fee of $12,500.00 or calculated as a percentage of the market value of all assets in Client's Account on the last trading day of each calendar quarter, unless otherwise negotiated. The minimum annual fee could result in a higher than average annual percentage; services similar to those offered by us may be available elsewhere for more or less than the amounts we charge. Under no circumstances shall the minimum annual fee exceed 3.00% of the Client's assets under management. If the account balance is at a level where the minimum account fee would represent 3.00% or more of the Client's assets, the minimum account fee shall be reduced to 2.99% of assets under management. The advisory fee is payable quarterly in advance. In any partial calendar quarter, the advisory fee will be pro-rated based upon the number of days that the Account was open during the quarter. Client understands that Account assets invested in shares of mutual funds or other investment companies ("funds") will be included in calculating the value of the Account for purposes of computing Adviser's fees and the same assets will also be subject to additional advisory and other fees and expenses, as set forth in the prospectuses of those funds, paid by the funds, but ultimately borne by the investor. The Adviser shall not be compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of Client. The fee schedule is set forth below:

The greater of:

- Minimum annual flat fee of $12,500.00

OR

- The first $0-5MM at 0.70%
- The next $5-10MM at 0.60%
- The next $10-20MM at 0.55%
- The next $20-30MM at 0.50%
- The next $30-40MM at 0.45%
- The next $40-50MM at 0.40%
- The next $50-100MM at 0.35%
- The next $100MM+ at 0.30%

Clients may terminate an advisory contract within five business days after execution without penalty; otherwise the contract may be terminated upon thirty days prior written notice. Fees paid in advance for the current quarter will be pro-rated on a daily basis and any unused portion returned to the client.

Performance Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Brainard Capital Management advises a special purpose vehicle client, and has a performance based fee tied to that entity's financial outcome. Some investment advisers experience conflicts of interest in connection with side-by-side management of accounts with different fee structures, such as managing a mutual fund and hedge fund at different fee structures. However, these conflicts of interest are not applicable to Brainard Capital Management with the exception of the performance based fee tied to the entity above.

Types of Clients

Brainard Capital Management generally provides investment advice to individuals, family groups, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations, partnerships, and limited liability companies.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Security analysis methods may include charting such as plotting historical security prices per share, fundamental analysis which includes the analysis of company financials and financial position, and technical analysis and cyclical analysis which includes monitoring of investment cycles and trends. The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the SEC and company press releases.

The primary investment strategy used by Brainard Capital Management for the management of client accounts is passive asset class investing and passive investing. The firm primarily utilizes Dimensional Fund Advisors for passive asset class investments. For passive indexing, the firm utilizes Vanguard Investments and exchange-traded funds.

Note that investing in securities involves the risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The following are many, but not all, of the risks faced by investors:

Interest rate risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.

Market Risk: the price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.

Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar tomorrow, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.

Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.

Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or company within an industry. For example, oil companies may face business disruptions if an alternative to gas-powered auto's becomes a viable and widespread solution to the global energy crisis.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are generally highly liquid, while real estate properties may not be.

Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Disciplinary Information

Brainard Capital Management and its employees have not been involved in any regulatory or disciplinary events that would be material to a client's evaluation of the company or personnel.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Brainard Capital Management and its employees do not have any relationships or arrangements with other financial services companies that pose material conflicts of interest.

BDC Capital, LLC acts as an investment manager to special purpose vehicles in which the principals of Brainard Capital are invested: JBC Mile 1, LLC and JBC Mile 2, LLC. JBC Mile 1 and JBC Mile 2 are special purpose vehicles whose primary purpose is to invest in a consumer products goods company.

While Owen Brainard and Clark Davis endeavor at all times to put the interests of our clients first as part of our fiduciary duty, the possibility of receiving additional compensation creates a conflict of interest, and may affect their judgment when making recommendations, especially when in relation to JBC Mile 1, LLC, and/or JBC Mile 2, LLC. Our Code of Ethics requires our IARs do what is in the client's best interest at all times. We require that all IARs disclose any potential conflicts of interest when such recommendations are made. Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Brainard Capital Management and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. Employees comply with the provisions of the Brainard Capital Management Compliance Manual as it relates to these trading practices.

Personal Trading

The Chief Compliance Officer of Brainard Capital Management is J. Owen Brainard, Jr. He reviews all trades on an ongoing basis. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets, and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment. Since most employee trades are small mutual fund trades or exchange traded fund trades, these trades do not affect the securities markets.

Brokerage Practices

Brainard Capital Management does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Brainard Capital Management primarily uses Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services as a custodian for client assets based upon the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates. Additionally, the firm uses Goldman Sachs & Co. for the custody of several clients' assets; Brainard Capital Management does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

Regarding research and other soft dollar benefits, Brainard Capital Management does not receive research or other products or services other than execution services from a broker/dealer or a third party in connection with client securities transactions. Brainard Capital Management does not have discretion over the type and amount of securities, the selection of brokers to be used or the commission rates to be paid. Brainard Capital Management does not recommend, request or require that clients direct Brainard Capital Management to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer. In the event a client makes such a request, it will be handled in accordance with the firm's Compliance Manual.

In reviewing the execution quality of its designated brokerage trades, Brainard Capital Management may direct trades to brokers that charge commissions higher than those obtainable from other brokers. In selecting a broker for any transaction or series of transactions, Brainard Capital Management may consider a number of factors in addition to commission rates, including for example, net price, reputation, financial strength and stability, efficiency of execution and error resolution, block trading and block position capabilities, willing to execute related or unrelated difficult transactions in the future, order of call, on-line access to computerized data regarding client accounts, the availability of stocks to borrow for short trades, custody, record keeping or other similar services, as well as other matters involved in the receipt of general brokerage services.

Brainard Capital Management does not receive any soft dollar fees. The firm does utilize the back office software and support from Fidelity Investments via their trading software. This software is provided without charge to Brainard Capital Management. The selection of Fidelity Investments as a custodian for clients is not affected by this trading software and support.

Brainard Capital Management generally does not aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts. Because Brainard Capital Management generally does not aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for client accounts, fees may be higher than similar elsewhere.

Review of Accounts

Account reviews are performed quarterly by J. Owen Brainard, Jr., President of Brainard Capital Management. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate. Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

Reports are individualized, thereby, the nature and frequency are determined by client need and the services offered. Monthly account reports are generated by, and sent directly by, the account Custodian, although Brainard Capital Management may send individualized reports on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis to clients.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Brainard Capital Management does not directly or indirectly compensate any outside parties for client referrals.

Custody

Brainard Capital Management has custody of the cash account for a special purpose vehicle it advises. In general, however, for standard investment accounts advised by Brainard Capital Management, clients will receive their monthly and/or quarterly account statements directly from the designated broker/dealer, bank or other qualified custodian of record. Clients should carefully review those statements for accuracy. In the event that clients also receive account statements from Brainard Capital Management in the form of portfolio reviews, we strongly encourage each client to compare the account statements they receive from the qualified custodian with those received from Brainard Capital Management.

Investment Discretion

Brainard Capital Management accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients when the investment advisory agreement and/or custodian brokerage account applications are completed. Brainard Capital Management is granted authority to determine, without specific consent, the securities to be bought or sold, the amounts of those securities, and the broker-dealers utilized to effect those trades. Any limitations which might be placed on Brainard Capital Management are client specific and, to the extent that they exist, are detailed at the opening of the client's account.

Voting Client Securities

Brainard Capital Management does not vote client proxies and is therefore not required to take action or render advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which assets of the client account(s) may be invested from time to time. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian or transfer agent. Clients may contact Brainard Capital Management directly if they have any questions regarding a particular solicitation.

Financial Information

Brainard Capital Management has never filed for bankruptcy and is not aware of any financial condition that is expected to affect its ability to manage client accounts.
