A. Describe the services, including the types of portfolio management services, provided under each program. Indicate the wrap fee charged for each program or, if fees vary according to a schedule, provide your fee schedule. Indicate whether fees are negotiable and identify the portion of the total fee, or the range of fees, paid to portfolio managers.

Beacon Capital Management (hereinafter “Beacon”) offers wrap fee program services to its Investment Supervisory and Investment Advisory Services clients that will utilize TD Ameritrade or Schwab Advisor Services division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab) as their custodian. Beacon participates in a wrap fee program, which is an investment program where the investor pays one stated fee that includes management fees and transaction costs from the custodian. Beacon does manage the investments in the wrap fee program. Beacon does not manage those wrap fee accounts any differently than non-wrap fee accounts. A portion of the fees paid to the wrap account program will be given to Beacon as a management fee.

Beacon offers the following wrap investment services to advisory clients (“Client”):

1. Investment Supervisory Services

Beacon offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. Beacon creates an Investment Management Planning Questionnaire for each client, which outlines the client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and then constructs a plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches each client’s specific situation. Investment Supervisory Services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Personal investment policy
- Asset allocation
- Asset selection
- Risk tolerance
- Regular portfolio monitoring

Beacon evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Beacon will request discretionary authority via an Investment Advisory Agreement from client in order to select securities and execute transactions without permission from the client prior to each transaction. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Management Planning Questionnaire, which is given to each client.

2. Investment Advisory Services

Beacon provides Investment Advisory Services to clients who are introduced to Beacon through investment advisor representatives who represent registered investment advisors and broker dealers (“Firm”).

Investment Advisory Services for a client require the Firm, through its representatives, to introduce and assist clients in establishing a relationship with Beacon. The Firm maintains responsibility for assisting the client in understanding and determining the most appropriate services and strategies provided by Beacon; communicating with clients to answer client inquiries, update client information, and acquire suitability information; providing documents, including Beacon's ADV, to clients as required under federal or state law and regulation; and provide suitability and model updates to Beacon as necessary.

Once the Firm and its representatives have worked with client to determine the most appropriate portfolio strategy to be used for the client account, Beacon will manage the client account continuously based upon the strategy's goals and objectives.

As Beacon manages the client account, the client account's actual stock-to-bond ratio will deviate around the target stock-to-bond ratio of the model portfolio. Although the client account's target stock-to-bond ratio will be maintained, Beacon may change the specific mutual funds, Exchanged Traded Funds ("ETFs") or other investments being used in the client account at Beacon's discretion.

Beacon provides four model portfolios, each of which has conservative, balanced, and aggressive strategies within it. The descriptions of the model portfolios below are not meant to be comprehensive, but rather provide a brief overview of Beacon's strategies.

a. Beacon Vantage 1.0 Portfolio Strategies

The Beacon Vantage 1.0 Portfolio strategies utilize an asset-class diversification strategy emphasizing small company stocks and value stocks. These portfolios tend to invest in small company and value mutual fund equity products diversified across domestic, international and emerging markets. On the fixed income side, the 1.0 Portfolios seek to apply equal weight to intermediate government and inflation protected investment products.

The Beacon Vantage 1.0 Portfolios utilize a risk optimization process that manages volatility with a strict risk budget for each portfolio. During periods when small company and value stocks have high volatility, the portfolio's allocation is shifted to a heavier fixed income investment to stay within the risk budget. The same but opposite principle is applied when small company and value stocks have relatively low volatility.

The Beacon Vantage 1.0 Portfolios service typically invests in 5-12 different mutual funds purchased at Net Asset Value ("NAV"). Front-end sales loads are avoided with this service.

The minimum account size for the Beacon Vantage 1.0 Portfolio strategies is typically $25,000.

b. Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolio Strategies

The Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolio strategies utilize an asset-class diversification strategy, using ETFs focused on distinct sectors as the primary investment vehicle. The Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolios are highly diversified across all domestic market sectors and are constructed using three primary portfolios comprised of stocks, bonds and cash. For stocks, these portfolios are diversified across 11 different market sectors. Rather than attempt to predict which sector, such as technology, health care or energy, is going to be in favor, these portfolios invest in the sectors equally. Beacon applies this same equal-weighting approach to its bond portfolio which consists of Long-Term, Intermediate-Term and Short-Term fixed income holdings. A cash position is maintained for each Vantage 2.0 Portfolio and the amount of that cash position can range from one to five percent depending on the risk tolerance selected.

The Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolios utilize a stop-loss strategy that automatically withdraws clients from their equity positions if the investment loss of the Vantage 2.0 Benchmark Index hits a predetermined amount. This approach attempts to provide a safety valve during extreme market decreases when standard asset allocation diversification may not be enough to protect a client's investment.

After a stop-loss is triggered, Beacon monitors the portfolio using quantitative metrics to determine when to repurchase equities.

The Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolio strategies typically invest in 11-15 different exchange-traded funds (ETFs). There are no sales loads with this service.

The minimum account size for the Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolio strategies is typically $25,000.

c. Beacon Vantage 3.0 Portfolio Strategies

As with the Beacon Vantage 2.0 Portfolio strategies, Beacon Vantage 3.0 Portfolio strategies utilize an asset-class diversification strategy, with the portfolio's stocks equally invested in 11 market sectors and the bond portfolio consisting of Extended Duration, Long-Term, Intermediate-Term, Inflation Protected and Short-term fixed income holdings. A cash position is maintained for each Vantage 3.0 Portfolio.

In addition to Beacon's normal Aggressive, Balanced and Conservative allocations which are offered for all model portfolio strategies, the Vantage 3.0 investment lineup also offers Alternative and Bond models. The Alternative model seeks equal investment across Currencies, Commodities and Private Equity investment products. The Bond model targets an equal weight of the Extended Duration, Long-Term, Intermediate-Term, and Inflation Protected ETFs. The Bond model does not invest in stocks.

The Vantage 3.0 Portfolios offer broad diversification with proprietary targeted loss reduction protections at the sector/holding level. Each sector within a Vantage 3.0 portfolio moves independently and is designed to quantitatively buy in and sell out of markets as pre-determined data points signal it is necessary to protect from potential drastic losses and seeking to participate in market opportunities. After a stop-loss is triggered, Beacon monitors the portfolio using quantitative metrics to determine when to repurchase equities.

The Beacon Vantage 3.0 Portfolio strategies typically invest in 5-19 different exchange-traded funds (ETFs). There are no sales loads with this service.

The minimum account size for the Beacon Vantage 3.0 Portfolio strategies is typically $25,000.

d. Beacon Vantage 3.0 American Portfolio Strategies

The Beacon Vantage 3.0 American Portfolio strategies utilize a tactical asset-allocation investment methodology built in collaboration with American Funds' Capital Markets Team. With the Vantage 3.0 American Portfolios, Beacon has created an option that substitutes its normal first line of defense, equal allocation, for access to the investment committees of American Funds that back and proactively manage each of their mutual funds. This allows the portfolios to be more highly correlated with, and achieve performance more in line with, general markets, which are often measured by indexes like the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the S&P 500. The Vantage 3.0 American Portfolios are comprised of American Funds mutual fund products and implement a layer of risk management for clients through the Vantage 3.0 strategies' loss-reduction mechanics.

The Vantage 3.0 American Portfolios offer broad diversification with proprietary targeted loss reduction protections at the holding level. Each holding within a Vantage 3.0 American portfolio is able to move independently and is designed to quantitatively buy in and sell out of markets as pre-determined data points signal it is necessary to protect from potential drastic losses and seeking to participate in market opportunities. After a stop-loss is triggered, Beacon monitors the portfolio using quantitative metrics to determine when to repurchase equities.

The Beacon Vantage 3.0 American Portfolio strategies typically invest in 1-5 different American Funds mutual fund products at any given time that are diversified across domestic, international and world equity holdings in addition to domestic and international bond investments. There are no sales loads with this service.

The minimum account size for the Beacon Vantage 3.0 American Portfolio strategies is typically $5,000.

As of December 2022

Fees are paid monthly or quarterly in advance or in arrears depending upon Client situation, and Clients may terminate their contracts with ten days' written notice. For fees charged in arrears, no refund policy is necessary. For fees charged in advance, refunds are given on a prorated basis, based on the number of days remaining in a quarter at the point of termination. Clients may terminate their contracts without penalty, for full refund, within 5 business days of signing the advisory contract/new account package. Advisory fees are withdrawn directly from the Client Account with Client written authorization. The Client may also pay fees and expenses related to the Client's investments in the underlay mutual funds, ETFs or other investment vehicles used within their account. A description of these fees and expenses can be found in each funds' prospectus.

Services similar to those offered by Beacon may be available elsewhere for more or less than the amount Beacon charges for investment advisory services rendered to Clients enrolled in our wrap program.

For additional information regarding Beacon's Fees and Compensation for advisory services provided, please see Item 5 of Beacon's ADV Part 2A.

Beacon may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

B. Explain that the program may cost the client more or less than purchasing such services separately and describe the factors that bear upon the relative cost of the program, such as the cost of the services if provided separately and the trading activity in the client's account.

The program may cost the Client more or less than purchasing such services separately. There are several factors that bear upon the relative cost of the program including the cost of the services if provided separately and the trading activity in the Client Account.

C. Describe any fees that the client may pay in addition to the wrap fee, and describe the circumstances under which clients may pay these fees, including, if applicable, mutual fund expenses and mark-ups, markdowns, or spreads paid to market makers.

Although the wrap fee program is one fee for all management and brokerage services, there may be additional fees not associated with the management of Client Account. These fees may include trading fees, national securities exchange fees, wire transfer fees, or other fees required by law.

D. If the person recommending the wrap fee program to the client receives compensation as a result of the client's participation in the program, disclose this fact. Explain, if applicable, that the amount of this compensation may be more than what the person would receive if the client participated in your other programs or paid separately for investment advice, brokerage, and other services. Explain that the person, therefore, may have a financial incentive to recommend the wrap fee program over other programs or services.

Neither Beacon nor any representatives of Beacon receive any additional compensation for the participation of Client's in the wrap fee program. However, compensation received may be more than what would have been received if Client paid separately for investment advice, brokerage, and/or for other services. Therefore, Beacon may have a financial incentive to recommend the wrap fee program to clients.

Beacon offers the same suite of services to all of its clients within the same type of advisory service. When applicable, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the Client Investment Management Planning Questionnaire which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) or the information obtained by Beacon from the client via the Firm, both of which can be used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches its restrictions, needs, and targets.

All clients have the ability to request reasonable restrictions on how their account is allocated, but Beacon may not be able to accommodate all restrictions based on specific mandates of particular strategies. If Beacon cannot accommodate a requested restriction, the client will be notified and given the option to withdraw their request, or the client can work with their Firm to find an investment solution that meets the client's expectations. 2. Investment Strategies

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to you for providing investment advice or other advisory services to your clients, generally describe the arrangement, explain the conflicts of interest, and describe how you address the conflicts of interest. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include any sales awards or other prizes.

Beacon may receive some economic benefit from its custodians in the form of support products and services it makes available to Beacon and other independent investment advisors that have their client accounts maintained at TD Ameritrade, Schwab or FCC. These products and services, how they benefit Beacon, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices in Beacon's Form ADV Part 2A). B. Compensation of Non-Supervised Persons for Client Referrals

If you or a related person directly or indirectly compensates any person who is not your supervised person for client referrals, describe the arrangement and the compensation.

Beacon enters into promoter arrangements with registered investment advisors, an affiliated broker-dealer of a registered investment advisor, or a broker-dealer ("Promoter Firms") pursuant to which the representatives of their firms ("Promoters") offer its services to the public. Through these arrangements, Beacon may pay a cash referral fee to the Promoter Firm and/or Promoter based upon a percentage of the investment management fee. The amount of the referral fee is disclosed to client via the Client's Investment Management Agreement and Promoter Disclosure Statement. In connection with these arrangements, Beacon will comply with Rule 206(4)-1 under the Advisers Act. The promoter fee is paid pursuant to a written agreement between the Promoter Firm and Beacon. Promoter Firms, through their representatives, on their own and not related in any way to their agreements with Beacon and not on Beacon's recommendation, may also sell insurance, annuities, mutual funds, stocks, bonds, and/or limited partnerships to clients. Promoters and/or Promoter Firms may receive separate and typical commissions on the sale of these products. Beacon may pay a portion of the investment management fee to other affiliated or non-affiliated parties who assist with certain administrative tasks associated with the management of the client account.

Beacon is marketed by independent third parties that describe Beacon's investment strategies to Firms and provide ongoing resources but do not provide investment advice. These third parties are compensated through a portion of the Beacon Management Fee and are supervised by Beacon.
