ITEM 4. ADVISORY BUSINESS

Firm Description

Financial Futures Limited Liability Company, (referred to as “we,” “our,” “us,” or “FFLLC”) was founded in 2003.

FFLLC is a fee-only financial planning and investment management firm. We provide personalized financial planning and investment management to individuals, families, pension and profit-sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, retirement planning, budgeting, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education and college funding, and estate planning.

FFLLC is solely compensated through direct fees paid by its clients and not through any product-based commissions or any third-party companies.

As a part of financial planning, investment advice is offered, with the client making the final decision on investment selection. FFLLC does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. FFLLC places trades for clients under a limited power of attorney with discretionary authority.

A written evaluation of each client's initial financial situation, often in the form of a Financial Plan with Action Steps, is offered to the client provided that the client has provided FFLLC with all of the client's current and pertinent financial information. Annual reviews of the client's financial situation are also offered to provide reminders of the specific course of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews may be requested by the client if an unexpected change in financial situation occurs.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

In performing its services, FFLLC shall not be required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals, and is expressly authorized to rely thereon. If requested by the client, FFLLC may recommend the services of other professionals for implementation purposes. The client is under no obligation to engage the services of any such recommended professional.

Each client is advised that it remains his/her responsibility to promptly notify FFLLC if there is ever any change to his/her financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing and/or revising FFLLC's previous recommendations and/or services. Furthermore, clients may request restrictions on investing in certain securities subject to FFLLC's agreement to such a restriction.

The initial meeting, which may be by telephone, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine the extent to which financial planning and investment management may be beneficial to the client.

Principal Owners

Jorie Barnett Johnson, CFP® is a 100% owner and managing member.

Types of Agreements

FFLLC works with clients via either a Client Relationship Agreement or on an Hourly Project Basis.

Financial Planning Relationship

A financial planning relationship usually includes an initial written financial plan, annual written updates to the financial plan, assistance with the implementation of the financial plan, on-going financial advice, monitoring of the plan, and investment management.

The financial plan may include, but is not limited to: a net worth statement; a cash flow statement; a review of investment accounts, including reviewing asset allocation and providing repositioning recommendations; strategic tax planning; a review of retirement accounts and plans including recommendations; a review of current debts and recommendations for changes, if applicable; a review of insurance policies and recommendations for changes, if necessary; one or more retirement scenarios; estate planning review and recommendations; and education planning with funding recommendations.

Detailed investment advice and specific recommendations are provided as part of a financial plan. Implementation of the recommendations is at the discretion of the client.

Investment advice typically consists of recommendations including mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. Recommended investments may also include: equities (stocks), warrants, bonds, corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities, U. S. government securities, options contracts, futures contracts, and interests in partnerships. Initial public offerings (IPOs) are not available through FFLLC.

The initial fee for a financial plan is predicated upon the facts known at the beginning of the engagement. The initial fee range is typically $2,500 to $5,000. Since financial planning is a discovery process, situations occur wherein the client is unaware of certain financial exposures or predicaments. In the event that the client's situation is substantially different than disclosed at the initial meeting, a revised fee will be provided for mutual agreement. The client must approve the change of scope in advance of the additional work being performed when a fee increase is necessary.

Compilation of the written financial plan typically takes 6-8 weeks. Once complete, the written financial plan is presented to the client. Every financial plan is equipped with a list of Action Items that must be completed or implemented to fully execute the financial plan. Failure to complete this Action List may result in compromising the projections of the financial plan. FFLLC assists clients with implementing the Action Items detailed in the financial plan. Realistic and measurable goals are set and objectives to reach those goals are defined in the financial plan. As goals and objectives change over time, suggestions are made and implemented on an on-going basis. FFLLC offers to update each client's financial plan annually. Clients may request a financial plan update when convenient or when unexpected situations arise.

A conflict of interest exists to the extent FFLLC's financial planning recommends the utilization of FFLLC to manage their assets for a fee. In order to address this conflict, the client is under no obligation to act upon the investment adviser's recommendation, and if the client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through the investment adviser.

Although the Financial Planning Relationship Agreement is an on-going agreement, the length of service to the client is at the client's discretion. The initial agreement has a minimum term of nine months after which time has elapsed, the client or FFLLC may terminate the Agreement by written notice to the other party. If termination occurs prior to the end of a billing quarter, fees will be billed on a pro-rata basis for the portion of the quarter completed.

Hourly Planning Engagements

FFLLC provides hourly planning services for clients who need advice on a limited scope of work. Financial plans cannot be completed through an hourly engagement. The scope of each hourly engagement is determined solely by the client.

Termination of Agreement

A Client may terminate any agreement at any time by notifying FFLLC in writing and paying for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, FFLLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

FFLLC may terminate any agreement at any time by notifying the client in writing. If the client made an advance payment, FFLLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

FFLLC does not sponsor or participate in any wrap fee programs.

As of December 2022, FFLLC manages approximately $155 million in assets under management, all on a discretionary basis.

ITEM 5. FEES AND COMPENSATION

Description

FFLLC is a fee-only firm. No commissions or income is accepted from any third parties. Neither FFLLC or any supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or services fees from the sale of mutual funds. All fees are paid directly by clients. These fees are based on a percentage of assets under management, hourly charges, and/or fixed fees.

Financial Planning:

The initial financial planning fee is priced according to the degree of complexity associated with the client's situation and typically ranges from $2,500-$5,000. This fee is payable upon initial engagement

The hourly rate for limited scope engagements is $300.

Investment Management

On-going fees are based on a percentage of the investable assets at the end of each quarter and billed in arrears according to the following schedule:

- 0.25% assets up to $1,000,000;
- 0.1875% assets between $1,000,000 to $2,000,000;
- 0.15% assets between $2,000,000 to $3,000,000;
- 0.125% assets above $3,000,000.

The minimum quarterly fee is $1,250.

Current client relationships may exist where the fees are higher or lower than the fee schedule above.

Lower fees for comparable sources may be available from other sources.

Fee Billing

An initial financial planning fee is due upon execution of the Financial Planning Relationship Agreement. The amount of this fee is based on the complexity of the client's financial situation and is detailed in the Client Agreement.

After the initial written financial plan is completed, on-going fees are billed quarterly, in arrears, meaning that we invoice you after the billing period has ended. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account(s) to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their account.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain investments. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security. Please refer to Item 12 of this Brochure for more information.

Certain investments (for example, mutual funds) may charge annual operating expenses or management fees usually calculated as a percentage of the investment and sometimes called an expense ratio. These expenses are disclosed in the investment prospectus of the investment. They are not within the control of FFLLC.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

FFLLC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 14 days overdue. In addition, FFLLC reserves the right to terminate any agreement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded.

ITEM 6. PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

FFLLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

ITEM 7. TYPES OF CLIENTS

Description

FFLLC generally provides investment advice to individuals, couples, families, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations or small business entities.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

FFLLC does not have an account minimum size. If the investible assets are equal to or less than $500,000 at quarter-end, the minimum quarterly fee is $1,250.

FFLLC has the discretion to establish an account minimum. Clients with assets below $500,000 may pay a higher percentage rate on their annual fees than the fees paid by clients with greater assets under management.

ITEM 8. METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information may include financial news sources, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, charting services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Other sources of information that FFLLC may use include Morningstar research information, TD Ameritrade's research service, Advisor Intelligence, and various internet sources.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is strategic asset allocation utilizing a core and satellite approach. This means that we use passively-managed low-cost index and exchange-traded funds as the core investments, and then may add actively-managed funds where appropriate to provide additional return opportunities and diversification. Portfolios are globally diversified to help mitigate some risks associated with traditional domestic markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives and goals illustrated in the financial plan. The client may change these objectives at any time.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions, and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies).

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach is constantly mindful that investing in securities involves the risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Investors face the following specific investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not as liquid.

- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

ITEM 9. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Legal and Disciplinary

The firm and its employees have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present clients.

ITEM 10. OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Financial Industry Activities

FFLLC is registered as a Registered Investment Advisor (RIA) with the State of New Jersey. FFLLC is a member of The National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA), the Financial Planning Association (FPA), and the Estate and Financial Planning Council of Central New Jersey.

Neither FFLLC nor any supervised persons are registered or have any application pending to become registered as a broker-dealer or registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Neither FFLLC nor any supervised persons are registered or have any application pending to become registered as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

Neither FFLLC nor any supervised persons have an arrangement with any related persons (e.g. broker-dealer, municipal securities dealer, or government securities dealer or broker, investment company or other pooled investment vehicle including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or "hedge fund," and offshore fund), other investment adviser or financial planner, futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, banking or thrift institution, accountant or accounting firm, lawyer or law firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer, and/or sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

Neither FFLLC nor any supervised persons recommend or select other investment advisers for your clients and receive compensation directly or indirectly from those advisers.

Retirement Account Rollovers/Transfers (eg., 401(k) and IRAs)

When recommending that a client rollover his or her account from current retirement plan to an IRA, FFLLC and its financial advisors have a conflict of interest. FFLLC and its financial advisors can earn investment advisory fees by recommending that a client rollover his or her account at the retirement plan to an IRA; however, FFLLC and its investment adviser representatives will not earn any investment advisory fee if client does not rollover the funds in the retirement plan (unless a client retained FFLLC to provide advice about the client's retirement plan account). Thus, FFLLC and its financial advisors have an economic incentive to recommend a rollover of the retirement plan account, which is a conflict of interest. FFLLC has taken steps to manage this conflict of interest arising from rolling over funds from an ERISA covered retirement plan to an IRA and has adopted written policies and procedures whereby FFLLC and its financial advisors will disclose the advantages/disadvantages of the retirement plan/IRA rollover options available to the client and will only recommend rollover if in the best interest of the client.

ITEM 11. CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Code of Ethics

FFLLC and persons associated with FFLLC ("Associated Persons") are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients consistent with FFLLC's policies and procedures. FFLLC has adopted a code of ethics that sets forth the standards of conduct expected of its associated persons and requires compliance with applicable securities laws ("Code of Ethics"). In accordance with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act"), its Code of Ethics contains written policies reasonably designed to prevent the unlawful use of material non-public information by FFLLC or any of its associated persons. The Code of Ethics also requires that certain of FFLLC's personnel (called "Access Persons") report their personal securities holdings and transactions and obtain pre-approval of certain investments such as initial public offerings and limited offerings.

Unless specifically permitted in FFLLC's Code of Ethics, none of FFLLC's Access Persons may effect for themselves or for their immediate family (i.e., spouse, minor children, and adults living in the same household as the Access Person) any transactions in a security which is being actively purchased or sold or is being considered as such on behalf of FFLLC's clients. When FFLLC is purchasing or considering for purchase any security on behalf of a client, no Access Person may effect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the purchase or until a decision has been made not to purchase such security. Similarly, when FFLLC is selling or considering the sale of any security on behalf of a client, no Access Person may effect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the sale or until a decision has been made not to sell such security.

Clients and prospective clients may contact FFLLC to request a copy of its Code of Ethics.

ITEM 12. BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Selecting Brokerage Firms

FFLLC does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific custodian recommendations are made to clients based on their need for such services. FFLLC recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates.

FFLLC recommends discount brokerage firms, investment custodians and trust companies (qualified custodians), such as TD Ameritrade, Vanguard and Fidelity. Clients are free to select whichever custodian they wish however such a decision may result in higher transaction fees for the client.

FFLLC does not receive fees or commissions from any of these arrangements.

Neither FFLLC nor any related person receives client referrals from a broker-dealer or third party.

Best Execution

FFLLC reviews the execution of trades at each custodian. Trading fees charged by the custodians is also reviewed. FFLLC does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Soft Dollars

FFLLC does not receive any fees or credits from any custodians, mutual fund companies, or affiliated parties. In addition, FFLLC does not receive research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third party ("soft dollar benefits") in connection with client securities transactions.

Order Aggregation

Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit.

ITEM 13. REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed semi-annually by Jorie Johnson and/or her designee. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate or as requested by the client.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's particular situation.

Regular Reports

Accounts are reviewed to analyze the client's current investment positions and the likelihood that the performance of each security will contribute to the investment objectives of the client.

Clients receive periodic communications on at least an annual basis at the time of their financial plan update. The written financial plan update may include a net worth statement, portfolio statement, and a summary of objectives and progress towards meeting those objectives.

ITEM 14. CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Incoming Referrals

FFLLC has been fortunate to receive many client referrals over the years. The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, mortgage brokers, insurance agents, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. The firm does not compensate referring parties for these referrals.

Referrals Out

FFLLC does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Item 15. Custody

Custody

FFLLC does not maintain physical custody of client assets. FFLLC engages several qualified, nationally recognized SEC registered broker-dealers to custody and safe keep client assets. FFLLC has custody of the funds and securities solely as a consequence of its authority to make withdrawals from client accounts to pay its advisory fee. FFLLC has written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from the account held with the qualified custodian.

Each time a fee is directly deducted from a client account, FFLLC concurrently: i. Sends the qualified custodian an invoice or statement of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account; and ii. Sends the client an invoice or statement itemizing the fee. Itemization includes the formula used to calculate the fee, the value of the assets under management on which the fee is based, and the time period covered by the fee.

ITEM 16. INVESTMENT DISCRETION

Discretionary Authority for Trading

FFLLC primarily provides advisory services on a discretionary basis. FFLLC is considered to exercise discretion over a client's account if it can affect transactions without first having to seek client consent. FFLLC is given this limited power of attorney authority in the Client Agreement executed by the client. Clients may request a limitation on this authority (such as certain securities not be bought or sold) subject to FFLLC's acceptance of such limitation.

The client approves the custodian to be used and accepts the commission rates paid to the custodian. FFLLC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian.

ITEM 17. VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

Proxy Votes

FFLLC does not vote proxies on behalf of its clients. All such proxies and other information are provided directly to its clients by their custodian for their own review and determination independent of FFLLC.

ITEM 18. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Financial Condition

FFLLC does not have any financial impairment that will preclude the firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because FFLLC does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities, and does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $500 in client fees six months or more in advance.

FFLLC has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

FINANCIAL DESIGNATION EXPLANATION

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER (tm),

CFP and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the "CFP marks") are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. ("CFP Board"). The CFP certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 80,000 individuals have obtained CFP certification in the United States.

EDUCATION

Unlike many financial advisors, CFP® professionals must develop their theoretical and practical knowledge by completing a comprehensive course of study at a college or university offering a financial planning curriculum approved by CFP Board. Applicants may also satisfy the education requirement by submitting a transcript review or previous financial planning-related course work. Or, they can show that they have attained certain professional designations or academic degrees that cover the important subjects in CFP Board's financial planning curriculum.

EXAMINATION

CFP® professionals must pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Exam, which tests their abilities to apply financial planning knowledge to real-life situations. The exam covers the financial planning process, tax planning, employee benefits and retirement planning, estate planning, investment management and insurance. This comprehensive exam ensures that a CFP® professional is highly qualified to develop a plan for your finances.

EXPERIENCE

CFP® professionals complete several years of experience related to delivering financial planning services to clients prior to earning the right to use the CFP® certification trademarks. This hands-on experience guarantees that CFP® professionals have practical financial planning knowledge, so you can count on them to help you create a realistic financial plan that fits your individual needs.
