Item 4 - Advisory Business

Financial Resources Management, Inc. (FRM, the Firm) is an SEC Registered Investment Advisor (RIA). Registration does not imply a certain level of skill or training.

FRM was incorporated in New York State on June 26, 2002, as the successor to the sole proprietorship practice of Howard Wiseman, CFP™. Howard Wiseman is the sole shareholder and only employee of FRM, Inc. The firm does not have any subsidiary or intermediate companies.

The Certified Financial Planners Board of Standards requires that CFP™ professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services putting the best interests of their clients ahead of their own.

FRM offers asset management services, wherein the firm is appointed Investor Advisor with non-discretionary trading authority in the client's account. These services include quarterly or semi-annual portfolio analyses and the development of an annual financial plan. The financial plan includes data gathering and analyses, along with specific recommendations, and includes long term follow-up, reporting, and monitoring. FRM is responsible for implementation in the clients account. Clients of our asset management services may also ask for additional advice regarding investments outside the scope of our management services (for example, a client may request that we review a private placement, private equity, or similar alternative investment opportunity on their behalf). Any requested advice outside of our standard management services will be billed on an hourly basis, as outlined below.

As of December 31, 2022, FRM managed assets totaling $ 62,009,728 million on behalf of 56 client accounts.

All services provided by FRM are tailored to the individual client's needs, with respect to achieving their financial goals and asset level. The client may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

FRM's compensation is derived solely from fees paid by its clients. FRM does not receive any compensation from commissions for selling financial products nor referral fees. All fees charged by the firm are negotiable.

For asset management services the firm charges a flat fee that ranges from $6,000 to $25,000 per year depending on the complexity of the individual client situation. The flat fee is agreed upon in writing in advance, and billed by FRM, Inc. each quarter with payment due within ten (10) business days of receipt of Invoice, or for those clients who so choose, the fee is directly debited quarterly by Schwab. Clients who do not want to be billed on a flat fee basis can choose instead to be billed based upon a percentage of assets under management. The fee structure is based on an annual fee of 0.50% of assets under management up to a maximum fee of $25,000 per year. This fee is billed quarterly in arrears, and for clients who so choose, the fee is debited directly from their account by Schwab. Clients who do not want direct debit will be billed directly by FRM, Inc.

Clients of our asset management services who ask for additional advice regarding investments outside the scope of our management services will be charged for that advice on an hourly basis, agreed to in writing in advance of the advice. The firm charges hourly fees for additional services that range from $150 to $200 based on the complexity of the situation. The hourly fees are due within ten (10) business days of receipt of Invoice, given to client after completion and presentation of the services.

FRM does not sell products or provide custodial services. The client purchases all products and obtains services from providers and/or custodians who may charge commissions, fees and other forms of compensation for the service or product they provide. The Client may select any provider of services or products it wishes.

Asset management services are provided according to a Service Agreement initiated at the start of an engagement, and subject to annual updates. The firm or its clients may terminate the Agreement with 30 days notice for any reason and any unbilled fees will be invoiced to the client on a pro-rata basis.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

FRM does not charge any performance based fee wherein the fees are based on the capital appreciation or gain on the assets of clients. FRM does not impose wrap fee charges.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Financial planning and asset management services are provided to individuals, families, and trusts.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

FRM's management recommendations are based on providing diversification through strategic asset allocation over a broad range of investment classes. All investments recommended by FRM are from publically available sources; the Firm refrains from offering private investments. The Firm's investment recommendations generally result in the use of equity and fixed income mutual funds or exchange traded funds, individual investment grade municipal bonds and preferred stock, certificates of deposit and money market mutual funds. Investment recommendations made by FRM involve securities that are subject to risk including possible loss of principal.

FRM obtains information from a wide variety of publically available sources. FRM has no sources, and does not claim to have any sources of insider or private information. The recommendations are based on the professional judgment of the Firm's employee, Howard Wiseman. The Firm does not guarantee the results of any of the recommendations. The Client at all times may elect to unilaterally follow or ignore, completely or in part, any information, recommendations or counsel given by the Firm.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

FRM and its principal Howard Wiseman, CFP™ have not been and are not currently subject to any legal or disciplinary action that may be material to a client. This includes criminal or civil action; SEC, NY State, or self regulatory authority administrative proceedings. In addition, Howard Wiseman, CFP™ is not involved in any disciplinary proceedings of the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

FRM and its principal Howard Wiseman, CFP™ do not engage in any other financial industry activities and have no other affiliation with firms that provide such services.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

The firm maintains a Code of Ethics (COE). All clients or prospective clients are offered a copy of the COE at the start of an engagement. An update of the COE is provided to clients on an annual basis.

The Firm does not offer securities in which Howard Wiseman, CFP™ is a related party.

From time to time Howard Wiseman may buy or sell publically traded mutual funds or ETFs in his own accounts which are also recommended to clients. Trading records are routinely reviewed by the Firm to ensure there is no front running.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

For asset management services, the Firm manages the Client's assets through non discretionary limited authority in the account(s) of the Client's choosing.

In either case, the Firm does not receive any compensation from the broker-dealer or other financial professional with whom the Client may choose to associate.

The Custodians and Brokers We Use:

Financial Resources Management does not maintain custody of your assets (though we may be deemed to have custody of your assets if you give us authority to withdraw assets from your account – please see Item 15 'Custody' below for more information). Your assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian", generally a broker-dealer or bank. We request that our clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a FINRA registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian. We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab will hold your assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we or you instruct them to. While we request that you use Schwab as custodian/broker, you will decide whether to do so and open your account with Schwab by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not open the account for you. Even though your account is maintained at Schwab, we can still use other brokers to execute trades for your account, as described in the next paragraph.

How We Select Brokers:

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared with other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including these:

- Combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capabilities to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of investment products made available (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate them
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability of the provider
- Their prior service to us and our other clients
- Availability of other products and services (please see below in ‘Products and Services Available to Us From Schwab’)

Your Custody and Brokerage Costs:

For our clients’ accounts it maintains, Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. Schwab’s commission rates and asset based fees applicable to our client accounts were negotiated based on our commitment to maintain $45 million of our clients’ assets statement equity in accounts at Schwab. This commitment benefits you because the overall commission rates and asset-based fees you pay are lower than they would be if we had not made the commitment. In addition to commissions or asset-based fees, Schwab charges you a flat dollar amount as a “prime broker” or “trade away” fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, we have Schwab execute most trades for your account.

Products and Services Available to Us From Schwab:

Schwab Advisor Services™ (formerly Schwab Institutional) is Schwab’s business serving independent investment advisory firms like us. They provide our clients and us with access to its institutional brokerage (trading, custody, reporting, and related services), many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients’ accounts, while others help us manage and grow our business.

Here is a more detailed description of Schwab’s support services:

Services That Benefit You. Schwab’s institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab’s services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You. Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients’ accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab’s own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or some substantial number of our clients’ accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provide pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting.

Services That Generally Benefit Only Us. Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events;
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Investment portfolios and financial plans are reviewed by the Firm's principal on either a quarterly, semiannual or annual basis as requested by the Client and stipulated by the service agreement. All account reviews are documented in writing.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

The Firm from time to time may recommend financial professionals, custodians or broker dealers to the client. The Firm does not receive any direct or indirect compensation resulting from those recommendations. In recommending financial providers, the Firm considers the cost of their services, and their ability to provide the public investments appropriate to that client.

As a matter of practice, the Firm does not pay any compensation to firms or individuals for client referrals.

We receive an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices). The availability of Schwab's products and services to us is not based on our giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients

Item 15 - Custody

The Firm does not maintain custody of a client's funds or securities.

However, under government regulations, we are deemed to have custody of your assets if you authorize us to instruct Schwab to deduct our advisory fees directly from your account. Schwab maintains actual custody of your assets. You will receive account statements directly from Schwab at least quarterly. They will be sent to the email or postal mailing address you provided to Schwab. You should carefully review those statements promptly when you receive them. We also urge you to compare Schwab's account statements with the periodic reports you will receive from us.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

As part of its asset management services, the Firm receives non discretionary authority to trade in a client's account(s). The Client must approve in writing all transactions performed by the Firm. The Firm does not accept discretion over a client's account.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

The Firm does not nor will it accept authority to vote Client's securities.

Item 18 - Financial Information

The Firm does not require any pre-payment for its services. Therefore, a financial disclosure is not required. The firm has no financial conditions that are likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual commitments to clients, and the firm has never been subject to a bankruptcy proceeding.

Item 19 - New York State Requirements

The Firm is an SEC registered Investment Advisor – as such, this item is not applicable.
