Item 4 – Advisory Business

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC was founded in 2010 as a Limited Liability Company organized in the state of Colorado. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC is an independent investment advisor registered with the SEC and is majority-owned by Todd Moerman.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC, also referred to as the "Company" or "Firm" offers the following advisory services.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC offers Portfolio Management services by appointment only.

Portfolio Management

Portfolio Management includes portfolio design, ongoing investment monitoring, contingent rebalancing, portfolio data management and tax lot accounting, quarterly reporting, and as needed investment advice. This management is based on the methods and principles described broadly in Item 8.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC consults with the client to determine their investment objectives and their need, ability, and willingness to take investment risk. We then design an asset allocation based on these parameters, recommend specific investment vehicles, and discuss the implementation process. Discretionary Authority - The client typically grants Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC discretionary authority to buy and sell securities and in most cases, deduct the management fee from their accounts. Client may also place restrictions on the kinds of investments to be made. These restrictions must be in writing. See item 16.

For ongoing monitoring, Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC reviews each client's portfolio at least quarterly and rebalances to their agreed-upon allocation on a contingent basis. In general, contingent rebalancing relies on an event to trigger the process. That event is typically a cash deposit or withdrawal, a tax loss harvesting trade, or when a particular asset class deviates significantly from the intended target percentage as stated in the long-term investment objective. Rebalancing is also subject to the client's particular tax and risk circumstances. We believe the purpose of rebalancing is to maintain portfolio structure, not to enhance returns, and that performance is directly attributed to a client's exposure to risk. Rebalancing helps maintain consistent risk exposures over time. Assets Under Advisement, such as a client's holdings in a hedge fund, private equity, or illiquid investments are not continuously overseen and managed by Integrity Investment Advisors and are only intermittently monitored.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC maintains a client's portfolio data, including security information and prices, balances, transaction activity, and cost basis information. This data is reconciled on a continual basis with custodian data.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC provides portfolio reporting on a quarterly basis. This reporting includes a portfolio performance review, position performance review, current vs. target asset allocation, consolidated view of holdings, holdings detail by account. Additionally, custom reports are available upon request, including reports designed to help a client with tax preparation and compliance.

Company Sponsored 401k plans, Pension Plans and Profit-Sharing Plans

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC provides consulting services to small / medium sized 401k plans, Pension Plans and Profit-Sharing Plans.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC is a limited scope “fiduciary” to the plan as that term is defined under Section 3(21) of ERISA. Except for any assets contained within any specific asset allocation programs devised by Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC, Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC does not possess or exercise any discretionary authority over the plan or any of its investment assets. The oversight to assets in a plan are non-continuous and intermittent. Moreover, Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC fiduciary duty does not, and will not, extend to a participant’s investment decision making process as to how he/she chooses to allocate any portion of his/her plan assets among any plan investment alternative, including (to the extent applicable) Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC investment programs, it being understood that the participant retains all such investment decision making authority and responsibility.

Corporations, LLCs, and Trusts

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC provides consulting services and/or portfolio management services to Corporations, LLCs, and Trusts.

Financial Planning

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC provides stand-alone financial planning services to clients receiving investment management, and those who do not. The firm may provide Clients consulting services for special projects for individuals/ family offices. These projects are billed separately from any investment management or oversight fee and based on the service, time, and complexity of the engagement.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2022, Integrity Investment Advisors managed approximately $111,651, 296 in client assets on a discretionary basis and $13,196,562 on a non-discretionary basis. We also provide consulting services for assets that are not continuously managed but that are monitored on an intermittent basis only. These assets consist of accounts where the Firm only provides 3(21) type services to a retirement plan, and client’s holdings in private equity, hedge funds, restricted stock, or other non-liquid investments. The Firm’s oversight to these accounts does not meet the definition of regulatory assets under management because we do not provide continuous and regular supervisory or management services to these assets.

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours.

For these oversight services, we charge a quarterly fee as set out in the client's agreement ranging between 0.4 % to 0.6% (0.1% per quarter to 0.15% per quarter). For 401K consulting the billing is done on the balance of the account at the end of the quarter. If the security is not readily valued in an open market (such as Private Equity, Hedge Funds, or other non-liquid investments), and Integrity Investment Advisors is charging for its oversight/ consulting services, the client will provide Integrity Investment Advisors with the fair market valuation for these securities on a periodic basis and Integrity Investment Advisors will use that value until we are notified of a change in value.

There are 2 options for making payment of Integrity Investment Advisors' advisory fee. Option 1) is automatic deduction from an account held at an independent custodian. Clients will provide written authorization if fees are to be deducted directly from their account in their advisory agreement. When the fee is deducted, Integrity Investment Advisors will send an invoice to the account's custodian and to the Client. The custodian will send monthly or quarterly statements to Client that detail all disbursements for the account, including the amount of the advisory fees deducted from the account. Likewise, the Firm's investment management service comes with a minimum annual fee of $3,000 per year, or $750 quarterly, which is negotiable solely in the discretion of the firm. Accounts may be combined for purposes of applying the minimum fee.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. These losses can be persistent over long periods of time and extreme at times of crisis.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC will invest a client's assets based on the following principles:

- Markets are efficient, and assets are fairly priced. Any market timing is pure speculation.
- Risk and Return are directly related. Priced risk factors determine expected return.
- Investors should not expect to be compensated for taking risk that can be easily reduced through diversification.
- Portfolio structure (asset allocation) is the primary determinant of performance for a broadly diversified portfolio.
- Undisciplined and/or emotional behavior is the enemy of a successful investment experience.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC does NOT engage in market forecasting, market timing, or stock picking. Our philosophy embraces the tenets of Modern Portfolio Theory, The Efficient Markets Hypothesis, and the Fama/French 5-Factor Model.

We believe an efficient and cost-effective method of implementing a portfolio structured around priced risk factors is to use passively managed funds. The use of actively managed funds is not recommended because these funds may have holdings that vary across dimensions of risk, making portfolio structure difficult to maintain.

Our goal is to efficiently- capture market returns commensurate with a client's chosen level of risk. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC should be judged by how well we maintain a client's asset allocation to its intended structure, minimize the cost of investing, prioritize tax efficiency, and help a client avoid behavioral mistakes.

An Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC client is primarily invested in open-end Mutual Funds and/or Exchange-Traded Funds. The risk and performance of these investment vehicles is driven primarily by the market risk exposures found in each fund.

Risk of Loss:

Please Note: Investment Risk. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s). The primary risk of an Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC client is market risk. Their portfolio performance is primarily driven by market returns and their portfolio volatility and risk of loss is directly related to their exposure to market risk factors.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. Investing in foreign stock markets involves additional risks including political, economic, and currency risks, as well as differences in accounting methods. Investing in fixed income instruments may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity risk, interest rate risk, and credit risk. There can be no guarantee that an investment strategy will meet its investment objectives or that it will not suffer losses. Below are some of the specific risks clients face related to Integrity Investment Advisors' investment strategies:

Risks Investing in Mutual Funds and ETFs

Your account(s) bear all the risks of the investment strategies employed by the mutual funds and ETFs held in your account(s), including the risk that a mutual fund or ETF will not meet its investment objectives. For the specific risks associated with certain mutual funds or ETFs, please see the investment prospectus.

Unique Risks Investing in ETFs

An ETF is a security that trades on an exchange during market hours and typically seeks to track an index, commodity, or a basket of assets like an index fund. However, some ETFs are actively managed and do not seek to track a certain index or basket of assets. ETFs may trade at a premium or discount to their Net Asset Value ("NAV") and may also be affected by market fluctuations of their underlying investment holdings. They may also have unique risks depending on their structure and underlying investments. These risks can become significant during times of high market volatility or temporary crashes in the underlying liquidity of the investments.

Risks Investing in Stock Funds

Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly and quickly over short or even long periods in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. In a diversified stock fund overall systematic (market risk) poses the greatest potential for losses in your account(s). In addition, stock investments may be subject to risk related to market capitalization as well as company-specific risk. Foreign stock investing involves risks not typically associated with U.S. domestic investments, and the risks may be further amplified in emerging market countries. These risks may include, among others, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values, as well as adverse political, social and economic developments affecting one or more foreign countries. In addition, foreign investing may involve less publicly available information and more volatile or less liquid securities markets, particularly in markets that trade a small number of securities, have unstable governments, or involve limited industry.

Risks Investing in Bond Funds

In general, the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) The ability of an issuer of a bond to repay principal prior to a security's maturity can cause greater price volatility if interest rates change, and, if a bond is prepaid, a bond fund may have to invest the proceeds in securities with lower yields. Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, credit risk (the risk of changes in the financial condition of an issuer) and default risk (the risk that the issuer may fail to pay its debts) for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike investing in individual bonds, typically bond funds do not have a maturity date, so holding them until maturity to avoid losses caused by price volatility is not possible. In addition, investments in certain bond structures may be less liquid than other investments, and therefore may be more difficult to trade effectively.

Risks Investing in Municipal Bond Funds

Investing in the municipal bond market can be affected by adverse tax, legislative, or political changes, and by the financial condition of the issuers of individual municipal securities. Municipal bond funds normally seek to earn income and pay dividends that are expected to be exempt from federal income tax. If you are a resident in the state of issuance of the bonds held by the fund, interest dividends may also be exempt from state and local income taxes. Income exempt from regular federal income tax (including distributions from tax-exempt, municipal, and money market funds) may be subject to state, local, or federal alternative minimum tax. Certain municipal bond funds normally seek to invest only in municipal securities generating income exempt from both federal income taxes and the federal alternative minimum tax; however, outcomes cannot be guaranteed, and the funds may sometimes generate income subject to these taxes. You should consult with an accountant, CPA, or tax attorney regarding the unique tax consequences of investing in municipal bond funds.

Investments in Alternative Funds, Hedge Funds, PE Funds, Blockchain Funds, Thematic Investments, or Cryptocurrency Funds involve risk, including loss of principal. Alternative Funds are not suitable for all investors. The use of derivatives, leverage, forward and futures contracts, and commodities exposes the Funds to additional risks including increased volatility, lack of liquidity, and possible losses greater than the Fund's initial investment as well as increased transaction costs. Concentration generally will lead to greater price volatility. The Funds can enter into a short sale by selling a security it has borrowed. If the market price of a security increases after the Fund borrows the security, the Fund will suffer a potentially unlimited loss when it replaces the borrowed security at the higher price. Short sales also involve transaction and other costs that will reduce potential Fund gains and increase potential Fund losses.

Employees are also expected to not divulge information regarding the Company's securities recommendations or client securities holdings to any individual outside the Company, except: as necessary to complete transactions or account changes; as necessary to maintain or service a client or his/her account; with various service providers who provide administrative functions for the Company, only after we have entered into a contractual agreement that prohibits the service provider from disclosing or using confidential information except as necessary to carry out its assigned responsibilities and only for that purpose or such provider has supplied us with a privacy statement which meets our requirements; or as permitted by law.

Personal Conduct

Employees are prohibited from receiving any gift, gratuity, hospitality, or other offering of more than de minimis value from any person or entity doing business with the Company or client of the Company. The Company defines de minimis as the typical cost of dinner for two at an elegant restaurant. This gift policy generally excludes items or events where the employee has reason to believe there is a legitimate business purpose.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Investment or Brokerage Discretion.

The Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC does not actively direct clients to traditional, full service/commission brokers. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC will suggest using a discount broker such as TD AMERITRADE Institutional, a division of TD AMERITRADE, Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC/NFA, for ease of administration. The client makes the final decision as to this matter. The Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC generally recommends the use of a discount broker who does very little or no market making. Trades of OTC stocks or non-listed bonds through such discount broker will generally be more expensive than through a broker that makes a market in the specific securities in question because an agency broker adds a commission to such trades while a market maker generally does not. When Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC recommends or selects a discount broker, it is after considering the broker's ability to offer best execution (including the costs of trades of listed securities, the costs of trades of securities in which other brokers may make a market, and the ability to execute trades from time to time at prices between the bid and ask, considering the general volume of trades the Company has to work with as well as the average size and range of size of those trades) as well as the full range and quality of the broker's services. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC generally recommends or selects a discount broker to serve as a centralized custodian for each investment account.

Soft Dollar.

By utilizing institutional services from custodians and broker/dealers like Fidelity, TD Ameritrade, and Schwab, that provide the firm with certain benefits this represents a conflict of interest. This conflict is mitigated by the following: 1) Company and Client may receive general research reports and economic benefits via operational efficiencies, reporting efficiencies, trading platform and research information if they fall under the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act. Limiting the receipt of these benefits allows us to best uphold our Fiduciary responsibility of putting the Client's interest first. Any research services provided by a discount broker may be of benefit to all the Company's clients and not only clients having accounts with that broker.

Trade Error Policy. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC shall reimburse accounts for losses resulting from Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC's trade errors, but shall not credit accounts for such errors resulting in market gains. The gains and losses are reconciled within Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC's custodian firm account and Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC retains the net gains and losses.

Trade Aggregation. As a matter of policy, depending on market conditions, Integrity Investment Advisors may aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for clients.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC provides portfolio reporting on a quarterly basis. This reporting includes a portfolio performance review, position performance review, current vs. target asset allocation, consolidated view of holdings, holdings detail by account. Additionally, custom reports are available upon request, including reports designed to help a client with tax preparation and compliance.

Although the exact review process depends upon the nature and terms of the specific engagement, the following description of the review process generally applies:

For clients with accounts at TDA, portfolios are reviewed by Todd Moerman, President, on a regular basis. Comprehensive portfolio reviews are conducted on at least a quarterly basis and rebalanced on a contingent basis. Accounts held outside of TDA or for assets that we do not provide continuous oversight to (insurance sub-accounts, 401k consulting, hedge fund holdings, private equity securities, illiquid holdings) are not provided ongoing and continuous oversight by us and are not regularly reviewed.

All clients receive quarterly portfolio appraisals and performance reports from Integrity Investment Advisors within the month following the end of each calendar quarter. Additionally, the client's account's custodian provides monthly or quarterly statements reflecting the market value, quantity of securities held within the client's accounts, and transaction activity conducted within the account(s) since the last statement. We urge clients to compare the information contained in our reports to the information contained in the account custodian's statements.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC is a fee only firm and receives no money or other economic benefit from anybody except clients – as a result of providing investment advice or other advisory services to its clients.

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC and its employees do not receive any financial compensation from brokerage referrals, nor does it receive any targeted or customized research, etc. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC, as part of its relationship with a discount broker, may receive general research reports and newsletters that all such advisors receive. Any research services provided by a discount broker may be of benefit to all the Company's clients and not only clients having accounts with that broker.

Item 15 – Custody

Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC does not maintain physical custody of clients' funds or securities.

A client should receive monthly or quarterly statements from their custodian. Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC urges clients to carefully review these statements and compare them to the account statements that we may provide. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

The Firm has constructive custody of assets to the extent it uses Standing Letters of Authorizations ("SLOA's) for third-party money transfers.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Integrity Investment Advisors usually receives discretionary authority from a client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the client's account. When selecting securities and determining amounts, Integrity Investment Advisors observes the investment policies, limitations, and restrictions of the clients for which it advises. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Integrity Investment Advisors in writing.

If discretionary authority is being granted, it is generally explicitly authorized in a written agreement with Integrity Investment Advisors, LLC. For discretionary accounts, a Limited Power of Attorney ("LPOA") is executed by the client, giving Integrity Investment Advisors the authority to carry out various activities in the account, generally including the following: trade execution; the ability to request checks on behalf of the client; and the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account. Integrity Investment Advisors then directs investment of the client's portfolio using its discretionary authority. The client may limit the terms of the LPOA to the extent consistent with the client's investment advisory agreement with Integrity Investment Advisors and the requirements of the client's custodian.

For non-discretionary accounts, the client also generally executes an LPOA, which allows Integrity Investment Advisors to carry out trade recommendations and approved actions in the portfolio. However, in accordance with the investment advisory agreement between Integrity Investment Advisors and the client, Integrity Investment Advisors does not implement trading recommendations or other actions in the account unless and until the client has approved the recommendation or action. As with discretionary accounts, clients may limit the terms of the LPOA, subject to Integrity Investment Advisors' agreement with the client and the requirements of the client's custodian.

Please Note: Non-Discretionary Service Limitations. Clients that engage Integrity Investment Advisors on a non-discretionary investment advisory basis must be willing to accept that Integrity Investment Advisors cannot affect any account transactions without obtaining prior verbal consent to any such transaction(s) from the client. Thus, in the event of a market correction during which the client is unavailable, Integrity Investment Advisors will be unable to affect any account transactions (as it would for its discretionary clients) without first obtaining the client's verbal consent.

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”). The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services and attain a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The 6-hour examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.

Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related Financial Planning experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
