Advisory Business:

ARX Management, LLC (“hereafter “ARX”) is a Registered Investment Adviser and settlement administrator established in 2011 to meet the needs of attorneys and their clients. Founded by principals with direct experience in the complex litigation and institutional investments management fields, ARX possesses an unmatched mix of expertise relevant to managing Qualified Settlement Funds (“QSF’s”) of all sizes. We take a boutique approach to client service and take pride in building long-term relationships by being accessible and constructing customized solutions for our clients.

ARX is 100% partner-owned and independent. We operate in the best interest of our clients, without the conflicts of interest that may result from affiliations with law firms or other financial institutions.

Our services fall under three primary categories:

- Fiduciary and Trustee Services
- Settlement Administration
- Attorney and Claimant Services

As a Fiduciary, ARX is charged with maintaining the highest standard of care when overseeing settlement proceeds. Our 1.468B Qualified Settlement Funds are designed to preserve capital and generate earnings that can offset claimant expenses and augment attorney fees. Each of our funds is directly managed and customized to each settlement, with a keen focus on risk management and capital preservation.

ARX also offers comprehensive Settlement Administration services, either directly or through our network of strategic partners. These include claims administration, case management, and lien resolution services.

ARX Attorney and Claimant Services are uniquely designed to offer innovative solutions throughout all phases of a litigation. Through our network of strategic partners, we can help arrange attorney fee assignments, structured settlement and attorney fee payments, and special needs trusts.

Ownership:

The principal owner of ARX is Derek S. Brown, CFA. Mr. Brown has 30 years of investment experience, primarily in the construction and management of innovative income and capital preservation products. Prior to establishing ARX, Mr. Brown was the Director of Fixed Income at Transamerica Investment Management (“TIM”) where he managed portfolios and directed investment strategy for a team managing $8 billion in institutional and retail assets under management. Please see the attached biography for more information.

Qualified Settlement Fund Management:

ARX specializes in the management of IRC 1.468B Qualified Settlement Funds (“QSFs”). In this capacity, ARX is the fiduciary and investment manager for institutional group legal settlement funds. Our strategies are customized to the unique characteristics of each settlement, and seek to achieve principal preservation, meet anticipated liquidity needs, and generate income. ARX utilizes a wide range of high-quality fixed income securities and FDIC-guaranteed bank products to achieve this objective through a highly diversified portfolio. The typical duration range for this strategy is 0.5 to 1.5 years with an average credit quality of A or higher.

These strategies are fully discretionary within the context of guidelines customized to each account.

ARX plans to expand its income-oriented product offerings over the next several years.

As of December 31, 2022, ARX managed $1.029 billion in discretionary client assets.

Fees and Compensation:

Standard Fee Schedule

Qualified Settlement Fund / Enhanced Cash / Limited Duration:

First $50 million	25 basis points
Next $50 million	20 basis points
Thereafter	15 basis points

The fees described above are annualized and calculated based on average assets under management during the period. Fees are billed directly to the QSF monthly, in arrears.

Client funds may be subject to additional expenses, such as custodial fees, accounting fees, and costs related to the execution of trades. ARX will execute trades under a strict best execution policy, and will use all reasonable means at its disposal to minimize the cost of these services

Fees may be negotiated based on the entire scope of services provided by ARX to the client. For example, fixed fund administration fees may be assessed if the scope of services expands beyond managing Qualified Settlement Funds.

Neither ARX nor any of its supervised persons will accept any compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Types of Clients:

ARX offers fund management services to business entities, corporations, and trusts. Our standard minimum account size is $1 million. Principals of ARX and its affiliates are not subject to a minimum account size requirement.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss:Investment Philosophy:

Our investment philosophy is based on our belief that the markets are not efficient, and that this dynamic creates opportunities for active managers to add alpha relative to the broad market. We believe benchmarks are simply broad proxies for the market, and do not necessarily represent the best opportunities for income investors. ARX constructs customized portfolios to reflect each client's desired risk and return characteristics, and does not structure portfolios with benchmark tracking error as a consideration. We view investment opportunities through a comprehensive lens and will look across markets and capital structures to identify the best investment opportunities.

Investment Process:

Our investment process begins with our assessment and outlook for the global economy over the next 2-5 years. The inputs of this assessment include economic data, credit conditions, fiscal and monetary policy, the geopolitical environment, and business confidence measures.

The macro outlook informs our duration, term structure, and sector positioning. We seek to identify asset classes and sectors we believe offer the best relative value within the opportunity set permitted by each mandate. Once these are identified, we embark on a bottom-up research process at the security level. We focus on fundamental health and credit characteristics of the issuer, security specific structural features, and valuation relative to other opportunities.

Risk management is inherent in every step of our process. Our portfolios are constructed to reflect our best investment ideas in a mandate-appropriate manner, with each client's risk tolerance and liquidity requirements as our primary considerations. We utilize proprietary and state-of-the-art third-party systems to construct and monitor portfolios, manage risk, and execute trades. Portfolio and security compliance are monitored daily, and formal investment targets are reviewed monthly.

We utilize the process outlined above for our most conservative enhanced cash portfolios, which must maintain minimal margin for loss, as well as our strategic income offerings, which possesses higher risk and return characteristics.

Risk of Loss:

Investing in securities is inherently risky. An investment in individual securities or in a portfolio of securities could lose money. The investments selected by the ARX are designed for sophisticated investors who fully understand and are capable of bearing the risk of loss of their entire investment. The Advisor cannot give any guarantee that it will achieve its investment objectives or that any client will receive a return of its investment. Investments in fixed income securities are subject to credit, liquidity, prepayment, and interest rate risks, any of which may adversely impact the price of the security and result in a loss. Portfolio investments may be affected by force majeure events (i.e., events beyond the control of the party claiming that the event has occurred, including, without limitation, acts of God, fire, flood, earthquakes, outbreaks of an infectious disease, pandemic or any other serious public health concern, war, terrorism, labor strikes, major plant breakdowns, pipeline or electricity line ruptures, failure of technology, defective design and construction, accidents, demographic changes, government macroeconomic policies, social instability, etc.) which may therefore adversely affect the performance of client accounts and their investments. Some force majeure events may adversely affect the ability of ARX to perform its obligations until it is able to remedy the force majeure event.

Disciplinary Information:

Neither ARX, its principals, nor any of its related persons have been subject to any legal or disciplinary events. Clients and prospective clients are welcome to view the CRD records (registration records) for ARX through FINRA's database online at www.finra.org/investors. The CRD number for ARX is 305659.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations:

The primary business of ARX and its officers is investment management and administration of IRC 468B Qualified Settlement Funds. In this capacity, ARX acts as fiduciary and trustee of the funds and is responsible for establishing the funds, setting and executing investment strategy, managing investments, making required disbursements, and ensuring IRS and regulatory compliance. At its discretion, ARX may outsource a portion or all of this function to other investment managers. If ARX chooses to outsource management to a third-party manager, it will ensure the manager is licensed prior to outsourcing or referring any of its functions. ARX does not accept compensation, gifts, or entertainment from the outside managers.

Neither ARX nor any of its management persons are registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, a registered representative of a broker-dealer, a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading adviser, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

ARX outsources certain parts of its business to other firms with proven expertise in specialized non-investment fields, typically legal services firms.

ARX may at times refer clients to financial products provided by third parties, for which we may receive compensation. These referrals are for products not offered by ARX, such as tax-advantaged attorney fee deferral programs and structured settlements for claimants. Many of these products are customized, and our basis for recommendation is the provider's ability to provide a solution that addresses very specific client needs. In cases where we are referring more widely available investment products, we make every effort to direct clients to products with the lowest possible fees.

These referrals in no way impact the management of our Qualified Settlement Funds or separate accounts.

This practice presents a conflict of interest, inasmuch as it provides members of ARX an incentive to recommend products for which we receive compensation. In the case that recommended investment products are widely available, we advise clients of their option to purchase these products from another provider.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions & Personal Trading:

ARX maintains a Code of Ethics that promotes its fiduciary duty. The Code of Ethics articulates the importance of trust as a foundation to the relationship between an investment adviser and its clients and establishes policies and procedures to ensure that ARX places the interests of clients first. The Code of Ethics requires that ARX adhere to all applicable securities and related laws and regulations. The Code of Ethics also requires ARX to follow industry “best practices” involving confidential information, suitability of investments, personal trading on the part of ARX, and the disclosure of conflicts of interest.

ARX or its management persons may have an interest in client transactions insofar as they may personally invest in the same securities invested into the clients accounts. These transactions involve a conflict of interest as ARX or its management persons may benefit from an increase in price from subsequent purchases by advisory clients. To address this conflict of interest, ARX and its management persons will adhere to the following procedures regarding personal trading:

(1) Client transactions will always be placed ahead of those for ARX Management and its management persons;

(2) ARX and its management persons will primarily invest in securities that are widely traded;

(3) Neither advisory clients nor ARX and its management persons will have enough funds invested in any given security to move the market in that particular security.

(4) ARX and its management persons are prohibited from buying or selling any securities at the same time or about the same time the security is being bought or sold for the client’s account. ARX may establish (or close) client positions in particular securities over multiple trading days, ARX’s prohibition on trading in advance of clients refers not only to intraday sequence but across days as well, sometimes even weeks. ARX will maintain a policy requiring pre-clearance for all personal account trading.

A copy of the Adviser’s Code of Ethics is available upon request for any client or prospective client.

Brokerage Practices:

ARX selects and determines the broker to be used for each transaction strictly on execution. Consistent with our best execution policy, our trading policy is to put brokers in competition when executing buy or sell transactions and execute the trade with the broker offering the best level. For less liquid securities we use brokers that, in our professional opinion, can provide adequate liquidity at fair market levels. In these situations, we make every effort to verify the appropriate market level for the transaction.

As standard practice, broker/dealers provide transacting clients access to their firm's research. Under no circumstances will ARX choose to execute a trade at an inferior level in exchange for research. Further, ARX does not engage in business with any soft dollar brokers. ARX has no directed brokerage arrangements.

Review of Accounts:

ARX reviews all clients' account holdings and transactions daily and calculates management fees monthly. All portfolios are reviewed by Derek S. Brown, CFA, CEO of ARX. All clients are encouraged to meet with ARX at least once per year and participate in quarterly investment review calls, ensuring that our strategy aligns with their current financial condition, goals and objectives.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation:

ARX and its affiliates may receive referral fees for recommending the services of a third party to attorneys or their clients who engage us to administer Qualified Settlement Funds.

ARX may refer clients for services provided along the following product types:

- Vendors who provide legal claims administration services.
- Vendors who provide lien resolution and lien verification services.
- Vendors who construct and manage special needs trusts for claimants.
- Vendors who construct and manage annuity or structured settlement products for claimants.
- Vendors who provide medical record procurement and review services.
- Vendors engaged in attorney fee assignments.

ARX and its affiliates may pay referral fees to third parties for recommending our services as a QSF administrator. These arrangements in no way impact the manner in which ARX administers or manages the funds

None of the above referral arrangements are involved with broker/dealers.

Custody:

Clients engage an independent custodian or escrow agent to maintain their accounts, therefore ARX will not have physical custody of clients' assets, monies, or securities. ARX is authorized to provide instructions to the custodian with respect to all investment decisions regarding the assets and the custodian is authorized and directed to effect transactions, deliver securities, and otherwise take such actions as ARX shall direct in connection with the performance of the adviser's obligations in respect of the Assets. ARX requires clients to provide written authorization for their custodian to automatically deduct management fees from the account.

ARX will provide the client with Quarterly Statements at a minimum, which will include all account holdings, transactions, fees and expenses.

Investment Discretion:

ARX has full investment discretion for its clients who elect portfolio management services. For all QSF clients, ARX will obtain a court order authorizing ARX as fiduciary and permitting it to make decisions for the Fund. Non-QSF clients will execute ARX's standard investment advisory agreement and will sign a trading authorization form with their custodian. This agreement grants discretionary authority to ARX; however, clients may still place restrictions on the adviser, such as a prohibition on investing in specific securities, industries, or markets that the client identifies. Additionally, unless specifically instructed otherwise by the client, ARX will construct diversified investment portfolios.

Voting Client Securities:

For any security that entails a voting right in the underlying company, ARX will have or accept authority to vote client securities. All voting issues, proxies, and solicitations will be communicated to ARX through the client's custodian.

Financial Information:

ARX would be required to disclose additional financial information if it were to charge fees in advance, but as described in the "Fees and Compensation" section (page 4 of this FIRM BROCHURE), ARX, charges all advisory fees in arrears, upon delivery of a service, or at the conclusion of a consultation. In any case, ARX and its partners have no material financial information (e.g. bankruptcies, liens, judgments) in their backgrounds.

Biographies:

Derek S. Brown, CFA

Founding Partner & Chief Executive Officer

Mr. Brown is a Founding Partner and Chief Executive Officer of ARX since its inception in 2011. In this role, he is responsible for business strategy, client and vendor relations, Qualified Settlement Fund investment strategy, and all other aspects of the organization's business.

Mr. Brown was previously a Managing Director with a focus on income products and product development at Resource Financial Fund Management, an investment management company with nearly $14 billion in assets under management.
