ASSET MANAGEMENT

GrowStrong will offer Clients ongoing asset management services through determining individual investment goals, time horizons, objectives, and risk tolerance. Investment strategies, investment selection, asset allocation, portfolio monitoring and the overall investment program will be based on the above factors. Variable Annuity and Life Management

GrowStrong offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients on their variable annuities and variable life products. GrowStrong will work with individuals to assemble an appropriate portfolio of investment options as provided through the insurance company that services variable annuity investment. THIRD PARTY MANAGERS

When deemed appropriate for the Client, GrowStrong may recommend that Clients utilize the services of a Third-Party Managers (TPM) Global View Capital Management, LTD., Howard Capital Management, Inc. ("HCM"), or The Pacific Financial Group, Inc. ("TPFG") to manage a portion of, or your entire portfolio. All TPMs that we recommend must either be registered as investment advisers with the Securities and Exchange Commission or with the appropriate state authority(ies).

After gathering information about your financial situation and objectives, an Associated Person of our firm will make recommendations regarding the suitability of a TPM and investment style based on, but not limited to, your financial needs, investment goals, tolerance for risk, and investment objectives. Upon selection of a TPM(s), we will monitor the performance of the TPM(s) to ensure their performance and investment style remains aligned with your investment goals and objectives.

Howard Capital Management, Inc. ("HCM") includes two types of accounts.

- Separately Managed Accounts (SMA): Assets are placed with Howard Capital for them to manage at one of the custodians that they have an agreement with. HCM can manage most types of accounts through this program and GrowStrong can choose between any of HCM's strategies subject to strategy minimums.
- Self-Directed Accounts (SDBA) If a Client's employer's 401k plan has a SDBA option and allows for a Third-Party Money Manager then GrowStrong can choose to use HCM to manage a portion the 401k without the funds leaving the 401k plan. The custodian is determined by the 401k plan. HCM uses their mutual funds as the investment options for the SDBA.

In such circumstances, GrowStrong receives solicitor fees from the TPM. We act as the liaison between the Client and the TPM in return for an ongoing portion of the advisory fees charged by the TPM. We help the Client complete the necessary paperwork of the TPM, provides ongoing services to the Client. Ongoing services include but are not limited to:

1. Deliver the Form ADV Part 2, Privacy Notice and Solicitors Disclosure Statement of the TPM to the Client.
2. Meet with the Client to discuss any changes in status, objectives, time horizon or suitability;
3. Update the TPM with any changes in Client status which is provided to GrowStrong by the Client;
4. Review the statements provided by the TPM and provide ongoing account monitoring.

GrowStrong will provide the TPM with any changes in Client status as provided to us by the Client and review the quarterly statements provided by the TPM. GrowStrong will deliver the Form ADV Part 2, Privacy Notice and Solicitors Disclosure Statement of the TPM. Clients placed with TPM will be billed in accordance with the TPM's Fee Schedule which will be disclosed to the Client prior to signing an agreement. This is detailed in Item 10 of this brochure.

FINANCIAL PLANNING AND CONSULTING

If the client engages the firm for financial planning services, a comprehensive evaluation of an investor's current and future financial state will be provided by using currently known variables to predict future cash flows, asset values and withdrawal plans. GrowStrong will use current net worth, tax liabilities, asset allocation, and future retirement and estate plans in developing financial plans.

Typical topics reviewed in a financial plan may include but are not limited to:

- Financial goals: Based on an individual's or a family's clearly defined financial goals, including funding a college education for the children, buying a larger home, starting a business, retiring on time or leaving a legacy. Financial goals should be quantified and set to milestones for tracking.
- Personal net worth statement: A snapshot of assets and liabilities serves as a benchmark for measuring progress towards financial goals.
- Cash flow analysis: An income and spending plan determines how much can be set aside for debt repayment, savings and investing each month.
- Retirement strategy: A strategy for achieving retirement independent of other financial priorities. Including a strategy for accumulating the required retirement capital and its planned lifetime distribution.
- Comprehensive risk management plan: Identify all risk exposures and provide the necessary coverage to protect the family and its assets against financial loss. The risk management plan includes a full review of life and disability insurance, personal liability coverage, property and casualty coverage, and catastrophic coverage.
- Long-term investment plan: Include a customized asset allocation strategy based on specific investment objectives and a risk profile. This investment plan sets guidelines for selecting, buying and selling investments and establishing benchmarks for performance review.

- Tax reduction strategy: Identify ways to minimize taxes on personal income to the extent permissible by the tax code. The strategy should include identification of tax-favored investment vehicles that can reduce taxation of investment income.
- Estate preservation: Help update accounts, review beneficiaries for retirement accounts and life insurance, provide a second look at your current estate planning documents, and prompt you to update your plan when the legal environment changes or you have major life events such as a marriage, death, or births.

Because the firm can recommend to a financial planning client that they engage in investment management services a conflict of interest exists between the interests of GrowStrong and the interests of the Client, the Client always has the right to decide whether to act upon GrowStrong's recommendation. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the Client has the right to effect the recommended transactions through the professional of their choosing. Financial plans will be completed and delivered inside of sixty (60) days contingent upon timely delivery of all required documentation.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Method of Compensation and Fee Schedule

GrowStrong offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. GrowStrong charges an annual investment advisory fee based on the total assets under management as follows:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee	Monthly Fee
First $0 - $250,000	2.00%	0.1667%
The next $250,001 - $500,000	1.75%	0.1458%
The next $500,001 - $1,000,000	1.50%	0.1250%
The next $1,000,001 - $2,000,000	1.25%	0.1041%
Amounts over $2,000,001	1.00%	0.0833%

The annual fee may be negotiable based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.). Fees are billed monthly in arrears based on an average daily balance of the account for the month. Additionally, this is a blended fee schedule, the asset management fee is calculated by applying different rates to different portions of the portfolio. Accounts within the same household will be combined for a reduced fee unless otherwise instructed by the client.

The calculation for the average daily balance is based on the formula $(A/D) \times F$.

A = the sum of the daily balances in the billing period

D = number of days in the billing period

F = monthly management fee

For example (based on monthly billing period): the first step taken using the average-daily-balance calculation method would be to take the average of the values of the Client's account over the course of the entire month. For instance, 25 days at $1 million plus six days at $500,000 averages out to approximately $903,225. This account would be charged $1,285.28 for the month.

AUM	Monthly Fee	Total
First $250,000	x .1667 =	$416.75
Next $250,000	x .1458 =	$364.50
Next $403,225	x .1250 =	$504.03
Grand total for the month		$1,285.28

The investment advisory fee will be billed directly to the Clients account at the Custodian, with an informational copy of the invoice to Client. The Custodian will deduct the fee for the Account upon receipt of the invoice, or shortly thereafter. GrowStrong will not be compensated based on the basis of a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the assets in the Account. Please see Item 15 for more information regarding direct deduction.

Variable Annuity and Life Management

The fees for these services will be based on a percentage of Assets Under Management and will not exceed an annual fee of 1.5% of the assets managed. Fees will be disclosed prior to Client signing the Investment Advisory Agreement.

GrowStrong's fees are billed monthly or quarterly (depending on Client election) in arrears based on the amount of assets managed as of the close of business on the last business day of the previous billing period or based on the average daily balance. Advisory fees will be paid in the following ways:

- Deduct from another non-qualified Client's account held with GrowStrong
- Deduct from another qualified account if eligible, i.e. over 59 ½
- Direct billing to the Client payable within 10 days of invoice presentation
- Deduct from Client's annuity account

The annual fee may be negotiable based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.). Accounts within the same household will be combined for a reduced fee.

Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the Investment Advisory Agreement with no obligation and without penalty. After five days Clients may terminate advisory services with thirty (30) days written notice. For accounts opened or closed mid-billing period, fees will be prorated based on the day's services are provided during the given period. All unpaid earned fees will be due to GrowStrong. Client shall be given thirty (30) days prior written notice of any increase in fees, and Client will acknowledge, in writing, any agreement of increase in said fees.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

GrowStrong does not requires a minimum account size open an account.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include fundamental analysis, technical analysis, charting, and cyclical analysis. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

Fundamental analysis concentrates on factors that determine a company's value and expected future earnings. This strategy would normally encourage equity purchases in stocks that are undervalued or priced below their perceived value. The risk assumed is that the market will fail to reach expectations of perceived value.

Technical analysis attempts to predict a future stock price or direction based on market trends. The assumption is that the market follows discernible patterns and if these patterns can be identified then a prediction can be made. The risk is that markets do not always follow patterns and relying solely on this method may not take into account new patterns that emerge over time.

Charting analysis strategy involves using and comparing various charts to predict long and short-term performance or market trends. The risk involved in using this method is that only past performance data is considered without using other methods to crosscheck data. Using charting analysis without other methods of analysis would be making the assumption that past performance will be indicative of future performance. This may not be the case.

Cyclical analysis assumes that the markets react in cyclical patterns which, once identified, can be leveraged to provide performance. The risks with this strategy are twofold: 1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns; and 2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, then it changes the very cycles these investors are trying to exploit.

In developing a financial plan for a Client, GrowStrong's analysis may include cash flow analysis, investment planning, risk management, tax planning and estate planning. Based on the information gathered, a detailed strategy is tailored to the Client's specific situation. As part of the planning process, GrowStrong may recommend the Client purchase an annuity. When recommending an annuity, GrowStrong will take into account the Client's age, annual income, financial situation, tax status and the financial resources used to fund the annuity. The Client's financial experience, risk tolerance, investment objectives, time horizon, long term care needs, liquidity needs and intended use will be the determining factors when recommending an annuity and any annuity product features like income riders, long term care riders or death benefit riders.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific Client is based upon the objectives stated by the Client during consultations. The Client may change these objectives at any time by providing written notice to GrowStrong. Each Client executes a Client profile form or similar form that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases or short-term purchases.

Security Specific Material Risks

All investment management has certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks and should discuss these risks with GrowStrong:

- Market Risk: The prices of securities held by mutual funds in which Clients invest may decline in response to certain events taking place around the world, including those directly involving the companies whose securities are owned by a fund; conditions affecting the general economy; overall market changes; local, regional or global political, social or economic instability; and currency, interest rate and commodity price fluctuations. Investors should have a long-term perspective and be able to tolerate potentially sharp declines in market value.
- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Management Risk: The advisor's investment approach may fail to produce the intended results. If the advisor's assumptions regarding the performance of a specific asset class or fund are not realized in the expected time frame, the overall performance of the Client's portfolio may suffer.
- Equity Risk: Equity securities tend to be more volatile than other investment choices. The value of an individual mutual fund or ETF can be more volatile than the market as a whole. This volatility affects the value of the Client's overall portfolio. Small- and mid-cap companies are subject to additional risks. Smaller companies may experience greater volatility, higher failure rates, more limited markets, product lines, financial resources, and less management experience than larger companies. Smaller companies may also have a lower trading volume, which may disproportionately affect their market price, tending to make them fall more in response to selling pressure than is the case with larger companies.

- Mutual Fund Companies Risk: When a Client invests in open end or closed end mutual funds or ETFs, the Client indirectly bears their proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the Client will incur higher expenses, which may be duplicative. In addition, the Client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives or leverage). ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value and a premium paid at purchase may not be realized upon sale and (ii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which Client invests.
- Long-term purchases: Long-term investments are those vehicles purchased with the intension of being held for more than one year. Typically, the expectation of the investment is to increase in value so that it can eventually be sold for a profit. In addition, there may be an expectation for the investment to provide income. One of the biggest risks associated with long-term investments is volatility, the fluctuations in the financial markets that can cause investments to lose value.
- Short-term purchases: Short-term investments are typically held for one year or less. Generally there is not a high expectation for a return or an increase in value. Typically, short-term investments are purchased for the relatively greater degree of principal protection they are designed to provide. We take steps to attempt to reduce or eliminate trading costs. Short-term investment vehicles may be subject to purchasing power risk the risk that your investment's return will not keep up with inflation. Frequent trading increasing expenses therefore directly reduces returns.
- Variable Annuity Risk: A variable annuity is a form of insurance where the seller or issuer (typically an insurance company) makes a series of future payments to a buyer (annuitant) in exchange for the immediate payment of a lump sum (single-payment annuity) or a series of regular payments (regular-payment annuity). The payment stream from the issuer to the annuitant has an unknown duration based principally upon the date of death of the annuitant. At this point, the contract will terminate, and the remainder of the funds accumulated are forfeited unless there are other annuitants or beneficiaries in the contract. Annuities can be purchased to provide an income during retirement. Unlike fixed annuities that make payments in fixed amounts or in amounts that increase by a fixed percentage, variable annuities, pay amounts that vary according to the performance of a specified set of investments, typically bond and equity mutual funds. Many variable annuities typically impose asset-based sales charges or surrender charges for withdrawals within a specified period. Variable annuities may impose a variety of fees and expenses, in addition to sales and surrender charges, such as mortality and expense risk charges; administrative fees; underlying fund expenses; and charges for special features, all of which can reduce the return. Earnings in a variable annuity do not provide all the tax advantages of 401(k)s and other before-tax retirement plans. Once the investor starts withdrawing money from their variable annuity, earnings are taxed at the ordinary income rate, rather than at the lower capital gains rates applied to other non-tax-deferred vehicles which are held for more than one year. Proceeds of most variable annuities do not receive a “step-up” in cost basis when the owner dies like stocks, bonds and mutual funds do. Some variable annuities offer “bonus credits.” These are usually not free. In order to fund them, insurance companies typically impose mortality and expense charges and surrender charge periods. In an exchange of an existing annuity for a new annuity (so-called 1035 exchanges), the new variable annuity may have a lower contract value and a smaller death benefit; may impose new surrender charges or increase the period of time for which the surrender charge applies; may have higher annual fees; and provide another commission for the broker.

- Structured Notes Risk: The risks involved with using structured notes are credit risk of the issuing investment bank, illiquidity, and there is a risk to the pricing accuracy as most structured notes do not trade after issuance.

The risks associated with utilizing TPM’s include:

- Manager Risk
 - TPM fails to execute the stated investment strategy
- Business Risk
 - TPM has financial or regulatory problems
- The specific risks associated with the portfolios of the TPM’s which is disclosed in the TPM’s Form ADV Part 2.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Investment Advisor Representatives with GrowStrong have financial affiliated businesses as insurance agents with GrowStrong and/or as independent insurance agents. Investment Advisor Representatives will offer Clients services from this activity. As insurance agents, they may receive separate yet typical compensation.

This insurance licensure represents a conflict of interest because it gives GrowStrong an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures and the firm’s fiduciary obligation to act in the best interest of the Clients. Clients always have the right to decide whether to purchase recommended insurance products. Clients have the right to purchase these products through another insurance agent of their choosing.

Additionally, Gina Waite is the President of Equinox Financial and Clayton Olson is the President of New Horizon Financial, which are pass-thru entities for their advisory and insurance business. This is not a conflict of interest as there are no products or services offered to clients.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

GrowStrong may recommend the use of other investment advisors. Clients placed with TPMs will be billed in accordance with the TPM's fee schedule which will be disclosed to the Client prior to signing an agreement. When referring Clients to a TPM, the Client's best interest will be the main determining factor of GrowStrong. GrowStrong ensures that before selecting other advisors for Client that the other advisors are properly licensed or registered as an investment advisor.

These practices represent conflicts of interest because GrowStrong is paid a Solicitor Fee for recommending the TPMs and may choose to recommend a particular TPM based on the fee GrowStrong is to receive. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures and the firm's fiduciary obligation to act in the best interest of his Clients. Clients are not required to accept any recommendation of TPMs given by GrowStrong and have the option to receive investment advice through other money managers of their choosing. Clients always have the right to decide whether to use another investment advisor. Clients have the right to select another investment manager of their choosing.

The Code applies to "access" persons. Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select TD Ameritrade Institutional for Client Transactions

GrowStrong requires the use of a particular broker-dealer such as TD Ameritrade Institutional is a Division of TD Ameritrade, Inc., Member FINRA/SIPC ("TD Ameritrade"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member or Schwab Advisor Services division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.¹ ("Schwab"), a FINRA² registered broker-dealer and SIPC³ member, to maintain custody of Clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts.. GrowStrong will select appropriate brokers based on a number of factors including but not limited to their relatively low transaction fees and reporting ability. Unless the nature of the account requires another custodian to be used, such as a 401(k) participant. GrowStrong relies on its broker to provide its execution services at the best prices available. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients pay for any and all custodial fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by GrowStrong.

GrowStrong participates in the TD Ameritrade Institutional program. TD Ameritrade is an independent SEC-registered broker-dealer and is not affiliated with GrowStrong. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment Advisors services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. GrowStrong receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the program. (Please see the disclosure under Item 14)

GrowStrong has evaluated Schwab and believes that it will provide our Clients with a blend of execution services, commission costs and professionalism that will assist our firm in meeting our fiduciary obligations to Clients.

Schwab provides GrowStrong with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisers on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the adviser's Clients' assets are maintained in accounts at Charles Schwab & Co. These services are not contingent upon our firm committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). Schwab's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For our Client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts.

Charles Schwab & Co. also makes available to GrowStrong other products and services that benefit GrowStrong but may not directly benefit our Clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of our Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab's products and services that assist GrowStrong in managing and administering our Clients' accounts include software and other technology that:

- provide access to Client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple Client accounts;
- provide research, pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from Clients' accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and Client reporting.

Charles Schwab & Co. also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services may include:

- compliance, legal and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to GrowStrong. Charles Schwab & Co. may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to our firm. Charles Schwab & Co. may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of our personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend or require that Clients custody their assets at Schwab, we may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors we consider and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

- Directed Brokerage
GrowStrong does not allow directed brokerage accounts.
- Best Execution
Investment advisors who manage or supervise Client portfolios have a fiduciary obligation of best execution. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is effected, the ability to affect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. The firm does not receive any portion of the trading fees.
- Soft Dollar Arrangements
The Securities and Exchange Commission defines soft dollar practices as arrangement under which products or services other than execution services are obtained by GrowStrong from or through a broker-dealer in exchange for directing Client transactions to the broker-dealer. As permitted by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, GrowStrong receives economic benefits as a result of commissions generated from securities transactions by the broker-dealer from the accounts of GrowStrong. These benefits include both proprietary research from the broker and other research written by third parties.

A conflict of interest exists when GrowStrong receives soft dollars. This conflict is mitigated by the fact that GrowStrong has a fiduciary responsibility to act in the best interest of its Clients and the services received are beneficial to all Clients.

GrowStrong utilizes the services of custodial broker dealers. Economic benefits are received by GrowStrong which would not be received if GrowStrong did not give investment advice to Clients. These benefits include: A dedicated trading desk, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to GrowStrong's accounts, ability to conduct "block" Client trades, electronic download of trades, balances and positions, duplicate and batched Client statements, and the ability to have advisory fees directly deducted from Client accounts.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

GrowStrong is authorized in its discretion to aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and transactions in the same securities for other Clients of GrowStrong. All Clients participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with a flat transaction cost for each participating client or all transaction costs shared on a pro-rated basis, if any.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons Involved

Investment Advisor Representatives will be responsible for completing the Firm's Annual Client Review form with the Client on an ongoing basis to ensure Know Your Client compliance is being maintained. CCO will confirm that IAR has completed ongoing monitoring as described. Reviews of Client accounts include, but are not limited to, a review of Client documented risk tolerance, adherence to account objectives, investment time horizon, and suitability criteria, reviewing target bands of each asset class to identify if there is an opportunity for rebalancing, and reviewing accounts for tax loss harvesting opportunities.

Financial plans generated are updated as requested by the Client and pursuant to a new or amended agreement, GrowStrong suggests updating at least annually.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of Clients' accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a Client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive written account statements no less than monthly for managed accounts. Account statements are issued by GrowStrong's custodian. Client receives confirmations of each transaction in account from Custodian and an additional statement during any month in which a transaction occurs. Client are urged to compare the statements received from the custodian to the reports provided by GrowStrong and report any discrepancies.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

As disclosed under Item 12 above, GrowStrong participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and GrowStrong requires TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between GrowStrong's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although GrowStrong receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving GrowStrong participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to GrowStrong by third party vendors.

TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by GrowStrong's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit GrowStrong but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist GrowStrong in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help GrowStrong manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by GrowStrong or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to Clients, GrowStrong endeavors at all times to act in the Clients best interest. We believe our requirement that use TD Ameritrade as their custodian is appropriate for their clients based the services TD Ameritrade provides and the fees that they charge. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by GrowStrong or its related persons in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the GrowStrong's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

As disclosed under Item 12 above, GrowStrong receives an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to GrowStrong and other independent investment advisors that have their Clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit GrowStrong, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 – Brokerage Practices). The availability to GrowStrong of Schwab's products and services is not based on GrowStrong giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our Clients.

Products & Services Available to Us from Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services (formerly called Schwab Institutional) is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like ours. They provide us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage – trading, custody, reporting and related services – many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis and at no charge.

Services that Benefit Client

Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit clients or their account(s).

Services that May Not Directly Benefit Clients

Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit the client or their account(s). These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or some substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provides access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitates trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provides pricing and other market data;
- facilitates payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and
- assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees.

Other than soft dollars and fees from recommended Third Party Managers GrowStrong does not receive any other third parties for advisory services provided to GrowStrong clients.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

GrowStrong does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Account Statements

GrowStrong does not accept or maintain physical custody of Client funds or securities. All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide account statements directly to Clients at their address of record at least monthly. Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to any documentation or reports prepared by GrowStrong. GrowStrong is deemed to have constructive custody solely because advisory fees are directly deducted from Client's accounts by the custodian on behalf of GrowStrong.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

GrowStrong requires discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. GrowStrong has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. Third Party Managers that GrowStrong recommends require the same discretionary trading authority.

GrowStrong allows Client's to place certain restrictions, as outlined in the Client's Investment Policy Statement or similar document. Such restrictions could include only allowing purchases of socially conscious investments. These restrictions must be provided to GrowStrong in writing.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

GrowStrong does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent. When assistance on voting proxies is requested, GrowStrong will answer questions from the client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because GrowStrong does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and GrowStrong does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet Commitments to Clients

GrowStrong has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

GrowStrong has not had any bankruptcy petitions in the last ten years.
