Item 4: Advisory Business

Firm Description

Evermont Wealth (“Advisor”) was founded in 2013. Brent Pasqua owns 95% of the firm and the remaining 5% is owned by Matthew Theal. Advisor provides investment management to individuals and pension and profit-sharing plans. Advice is provided through consultation with the Client and includes such areas as:

- Retirement Planning
- Financial Planning
- Investment Management
- Budget and Cash Flow Analysis
- Tax Planning
- Debt Management
- Insurance Review
- Estate Planning
- Business Succession and Exit Planning
- Social Security Maximization

An evaluation of each Client's initial situation is provided to the Client, often in the form of a net worth statement, risk analysis or similar document. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews occur but are not necessarily communicated to the Client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) should be engaged directly by the Client on an as-needed basis.

Types of Advisory Services

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Evermont Wealth offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. Evermont Wealth offers Clients ongoing portfolio management services through determining individual investment goals, time horizons, objectives, and risk tolerance. Investment strategies, investment selection, asset allocation, portfolio monitoring and the overall investment program will be based on the above factors. The Client will grant Evermont Wealth discretionary authority to execute selected investment program transactions as stated within the Investment Advisory Agreement.

Advisor will utilize The Betterment Institutional (Betterment) platform. On this platform, Advisor has the discretion to delegate the management of all or part of the Assets to one or more independent investment managers or independent investment management programs (“Independent Managers”). To the extent utilized, Independent Managers will have limited power-of- attorney and trading authority over those assets Advisor directs to them for management. Advisor will supervise the Independent Managers and monitor and review asset allocation and asset performance. Advisor may terminate or change Independent Managers when, in Advisor’s sole discretion, Advisor believes such termination or changes are in your best interest.

Charles Schwab & Company (CS&Co.) - Managed Account Platforms

Evermont Wealth is independent of and not owned by, affiliated with, or sponsored or supervised by CS&Co., or their affiliates (together, "Schwab"). Evermont Wealth is the client's investment advisor and responsible for determining the appropriateness of the Program for the client, choosing a suitable investment strategy and portfolio for the client's investment needs and goals, and managing that portfolio on an ongoing basis.

Retirement Plan Rollovers

An employee generally has four (4) options for their retirement plan when they leave an employer:

1. Leave the money in his/her former employer's plan, if permitted
2. Rollover the assets to his/her new employer's plan if one is available and permitted
3. Rollover to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), or
4. Cash out the account value, which has significant tax considerations

Each of these options has advantages and disadvantages and before making a change we encourage you to speak with your CPA and/or tax attorney. If you are considering rolling over your retirement funds to an IRA for us to manage here are a few points to consider before you do so:

- Determine whether the investment options in your employer's retirement plan address your needs or whether you might want to consider other types of investments.
- Employer retirement plans generally have a more limited investment menu than IRAs.
- Employer retirement plans may have unique investment options not available to the public such as employer securities, or previously closed funds.
- Your current plan may have lower fees than our fees.

If you elect to roll the assets to an IRA that is subject to our management, we will charge you an asset-based fee as set forth in the agreement you executed with our firm. This practice presents a conflict of interest because Investment Advisor Representatives have an incentive to recommend a rollover to you for the purpose of generating fee-based compensation rather than solely based on your needs. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to complete the rollover. Moreover, if you do complete the rollover, you are under no obligation to have the assets in an IRA managed by our firm.

Many employers permit former employees to keep their retirement assets in their company plan. Also, current employees can sometimes move assets out of their company plan before they retire or change jobs. In determining whether to complete the rollover to an IRA, and to the extent the following options are available, you should consider the costs and benefits of each. An employee will typically be investing only in mutual funds, you should understand the cost structure of the share classes, available in your employer's retirement plan and how the costs of those share classes compare with those available in an IRA. Clients should understand the various products and services they might take advantage of at an IRA provider and the potential costs of those products and services.

- Our strategy may have higher risk than the option(s) provided to you in your plan.
- Your current plan may also offer financial advice.
- If you keep your assets titled in a 401k or retirement account, participants could potentially delay their required minimum distribution beyond age.
- A 401(k) may offer more liability protection than a rollover IRA; each state may vary.

- Participants may be able to take out a loan on your 401k, but not from an IRA.
- IRA assets can be accessed any time; however, distributions are subject to ordinary income tax and may also be subject to a 10% early distribution penalty unless they qualify for an exception such as disability, higher education expenses or the purchase of a home.
- If company stock is owned in a plan, participants may be able to liquidate those shares at a lower capital gains tax rate.
- Plans may allow Advisor to be hired as the manager and keep the assets titled in the plan name.

Generally, federal law protects assets in qualified plans from creditors. Since 2005, IRA assets have been generally protected from creditors in bankruptcies. However, there can be some exceptions to the general rules so you should consult with an attorney if you are concerned about protecting your retirement plan assets from creditors.

It is important to understand the differences between these types of accounts and to decide whether a rollover is the best option. Prior to proceeding, if you have questions contact your Investment Adviser Representative, or call our main number as listed on the cover page of this brochure.

When Evermont Wealth provides investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice);
- Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

Evermont Wealth also provides educational services to retirement plan participants with assets that could potentially be rolled-over to an IRA advisory account. Education is based on a particular Client's financial circumstances and best interests. Again, Advisor has an incentive to recommend such a rollover based on the compensation received, which is mitigated by the fiduciary duty to act in a Client's best interest and acting accordingly.

Such information shall not include specific investment advice about investment options under the Plan as being appropriate for a particular participant.
- Participant Enrollment. Advisors Representative will assist Client in enrolling participants in the Plan, including conducting an agreed-upon number of enrollment meetings. As part of such meetings,

As part of such meetings, Investment Advisor Representatives can provide participants with information about the Plan, which includes information on the benefits of participation, the benefits of increasing contributions, the impact of pre-retirement withdrawals on retirement income, the terms of the Plan and the operation of the Plan. If the Plan makes available publicly traded employer stock ("company stock") as an investment option under the Plan, investment advisor representatives do not provide investment advice regarding company stock and are not responsible for the decision to offer company stock as an investment option. In addition, if participants in the Plan may invest the assets in their accounts through individual brokerage accounts, a mutual fund window, or other similar arrangement, or may obtain participant loans, investment advisor representatives do not provide any individualized advice or recommendations to the participants regarding these decisions. Investment Advisor Representatives can provide individualized investment advice to Plan participants regarding their Plan and/or other assets by separate agreement.

If this Agreement is terminated prior to the end of the fee period, the Advisor shall be entitled to a prorated fee based on the number of days during the fee period services were provided. Any unearned fees shall be refunded to the Plan or Plan Sponsor.

The Plan is obligated to pay the fees; however the Plan Sponsor may elect to pay the fees. The Advisor does not reasonably expect to receive any additional compensation, directly or indirectly, for its services under this Agreement. Client shall be given thirty (30) days prior written notice of any increase in fees. Any increase in fees will be acknowledged in writing by both parties before any increase in said fees occurs.

Client Payment of Fees

Investment management fees are billed quarterly in arrears, meaning we bill you at the end of the quarter.

Fees are usually deducted from a designated Client account to facilitate billing. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account. Financial Planning Fees are due upon delivery of the completed plan. Ongoing monthly fees are due at the beginning of each month.

Additional Client Fees Charged

Custodians charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds, equities, and exchange-traded funds. These charges may include Mutual Fund transactions fees, postage and handling and miscellaneous fees (fee levied to recover costs associated with fees assessed by self-regulatory organizations). The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Mutual Fund Share Class Disclosures

Certain mutual fund share classes charge a 12b-1 fee that generally amounts to an additional .25% expense ratio or more. The purpose of 12b-1 fees, as approved by the SEC, are to cover marketing expenses and shareholder services such as support services and “other expenses” such as legal, accounting and the administrative functions of the custodian. When selecting a mutual fund, Investment Advisor Representatives have a fiduciary duty to choose the share class that helps manage the overall fee structure of the account. The entire fee structure includes such fees as the asset management fee, the expense ratio and ticket charges.

- Mutual funds typically offer multiple share classes, including lower-cost share classes that do not charge 12b-1 fees and are therefore usually less expensive.
- Investment Advisor Representatives will consider investing client funds in 12b-1 fee-paying share classes even when a lower-cost share class is available as appropriate to account for the overall fee structure and tax considerations as well as attributes of a fund not available for lesser fees.
- Advisor, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.).

For more details on the brokerage practices, see Item 12 of this brochure.

Prepayment of Client Fees

Ongoing monthly fees are due either at the beginning of each month or within 10 days of invoice receipt depending on the payment option the Client selects.

External Compensation for the Sale of Securities to Clients

Advisor does not receive any external compensation for the sale of securities to Clients, nor do any of the investment advisor representatives of Advisor.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Sharing of Capital Gains

Evermont Wealth does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by the firm are as described in “Item 5 – Fees and Compensation” above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client. Evermont Wealth does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund). It has no financial incentive to recommend or implement any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Evermont Wealth offers investment advisory services primarily to individuals. The number of each type of Client is provided on Form ADV Part 1A. These numbers change over time and are updated at least annually. There is no minimum account balance required to open or maintain an account.

Account Minimums

Advisor does not require a minimum to open an account.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Advisor utilizes fundamental analysis when managing Client's assets. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

- Fundamental Analysis - Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. The criteria generally consist of ratios and trends that can indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to show that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the firm in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The firm monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves the risk of loss, including the entire principal amount. Securities fluctuate in value and can lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. The firm will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals. While the methods of analysis help the firm in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in these methods of analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The firm monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. The specific risks associated with a strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing. The firm will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Below is a list of risks that should be considered before investing that can apply to the investment account. Additional unforeseen risks may affect, but clients are encouraged to at least consider the following risks:

- Business Risk – The measure of risk associated with a particular security. It is also known as unsystematic risk and refers to the risk associated with a specific issuer of a security. Generally speaking, all businesses in the same industry have similar types of business risk. More specifically, business risk refers to the possibility that the issuer of a particular company stock or a bond may go bankrupt or be unable to pay the interest or principal in the case of bonds.

- Call Risk – The risk specific to bond issues and refers to the possibility that a debt security will be called before maturity. Call risk usually goes hand in hand with reinvestment risk because the bondholder must find an investment that provides the same level of income for equal risk. Call risk is most prevalent when interest rates are falling, as companies trying to save money will usually redeem bond issues with higher coupons and replace them on the bond market with issues with lower interest rates.
- Company-Specific Risk – A risk specific to a company's operations, executive decisions and reputation, which is difficult to quantify.
- Complex Products – Complex Products are complicated instruments that should only be used by sophisticated investors who fully understand the terms, investment strategy and risks associated with the funds. In particular, clients should be aware of certain specific risks involved in trading Complex Products. These risks include, but are not limited to:
 - Seek Daily Target Returns: Most Complex Products "reset" daily, meaning that they are designed to achieve their stated objectives on a daily basis. Due to the effect of compounding, the return for investors who invest for a period longer than one trading day can vary significantly from the stated goal as well as the target benchmark's performance. This is especially true in very volatile markets or if a Complex Product is tracking a very volatile underlying index. Investments in any Complex Product must be actively monitored daily and are typically not appropriate for a buy-and-hold strategy.
 - Higher Operating Expenses and Fees: Investors should be aware that these Complex Products typically rebalance their portfolios frequently, often daily, to compensate for anticipated changes in overall market conditions. For example, volatility-linked ETPs will rebalance their exposure to futures of different maturities to maintain the targeted maturity. This rebalancing can result in frequent trading and increased portfolio turnover. These Complex Products will, therefore, generally have higher operating expenses and investment management fees than other funds or products.
 - Tax Treatment May Vary: In many cases, Complex Products may generate their returns through the use of derivative instruments. Because derivatives are taxed differently from equity or fixed-income securities, investors should be aware that these Complex Products may not have the same tax efficiencies as other funds or products.
- Concentration Risk – Concentrated portfolios are an aggressive and highly volatile approach to trading and investing and should be viewed as complementary to a stable, highly predictable investment approach. Concentrated portfolios hold fewer different stocks than a diversified portfolio and are much more likely to experience sudden dramatic price swings. Also, the rise or drop in price of any given holding in the portfolio is expected to have a more significant impact on portfolio performance, than a more broadly diversified portfolio.
- Credit Risk – The risk that an investor could lose money if the issuer or guarantor of a fixed income security is unable or unwilling to meet its financial obligations.

- Currency/Exchange Rate Risk – The risk of a change in the price of one currency against another.
- Force Majeure – A natural and unavoidable catastrophe that interrupts the expected course of events, market structure and access to funds.
- Interest Rate Risk – The risk that fixed-income securities will decline in value because of an increase in interest rates; a bond or a fixed income fund with a longer duration will be more sensitive to changes in interest rates than a bond or bond fund with a shorter duration.
- Inflationary Risk – The risk that future inflation will cause the purchasing power of cash flow from an investment to decline.
- Inverse Funds – Inverse mutual funds and ETFs, which are sometimes referred to as "short" funds, seek to provide the opposite of the single-day performance of the index or benchmark they track. Inverse funds are often marketed as a way to profit from, or hedge exposure to, downward moving markets. Some inverse funds also use leverage, such that they seek to achieve a return that is a multiple of the opposite performance of the underlying index or benchmark (i.e., -200%, -300%). In addition to leverage, these funds may also use derivative instruments to accomplish their objectives. As such, inverse funds are volatile and provide the potential for significant losses.
- Legislative Risk – The risk of a legislative ruling resulting in adverse consequences.
- Liquidity Risk – The possibility that an investor may not be able to buy or sell an investment as and when desired or in sufficient quantities because opportunities are limited.
- Market Risk – The risk that the value of securities may go up or down, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably, due to factors affecting securities markets generally or particular industries. Market risk is a risk that will affect all securities in the same manner caused by some factor that cannot be controlled by diversification.
- Pandemic Risk – Large-scale outbreaks of infectious disease that can greatly increase morbidity and mortality over a wide geographic area, crossing international boundaries, and causing significant economic, social, and political disruption.
- Reinvestment Risk – The risk that falling interest rates will lead to a decline in cash flow from an investment when its principal and interest payments are reinvested at lower rates.
- Social/Political Risk – The possibility of nationalization, unfavorable government action or social changes resulting in a loss of value.
- Taxability Risk – The risk that a security that was issued with tax-exempt status could potentially lose that status before maturity. Since municipal bonds carry a lower interest rate than fully taxable bonds, the bondholders would end up with a lower after-tax yield than initially planned.
- Terrorism Risk – An act of terror or calculated use of violence against the country, market structure or individuals.

- Volatility-Linked Products – Volatility-linked ETPs are generally designed to track the Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index (VIX) futures. The VIX is a measure of the expected volatility of the S&P 500 index as measured by the implied volatility of options on that index. Volatility ETPs gain exposure to market volatility through futures or options contracts on the VIX. Volatility-linked ETPs that seek to maintain a continuous, targeted maturity exposure to VIX futures will either track or hold VIX futures contracts on a rolling basis. They will sell shorter-term contracts or contracts about to expire with contracts that have more distant or deferred maturity dates to maintain the desired exposure. The performance of volatility-linked ETPs can be significantly different than the performance of the VIX and the actual realized volatility of the S&P 500 Index. VIX futures contracts are among the most volatile segments of all futures markets. Volatility-linked ETPs may be subject to extreme volatility and higher risk of loss than other traditional ETFs.

The firm's methods of analysis and investment strategies do not represent any significant or unusual risks; however, all strategies have inherent risks and performance limitations. When creating a financial plan, Advisor utilizes fundamental analysis to provide review of insurance policies for economic value and income replacement. Technical analysis is used to review mutual funds and individual stocks. The main sources of information include y-charts, Client documents such as tax returns and insurance policies.

In developing a financial plan for a Client, Advisor's analysis may include cash flow analysis, investment planning, risk management, tax planning and estate planning. Based on the information gathered, a detailed strategy is tailored to the Client's specific situation. The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific Client is based upon the objectives stated by the Client during consultations. The Client may change these objectives at any time. Each Client executes an Investment Policy Statement or Risk Tolerance that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Investment Strategies

An investment strategy is what guides an investor's decisions based on goals, risk tolerance, and future needs for capital. Some investment strategies seek rapid growth where an investor focuses on capital appreciation, or they can follow a low-risk strategy where the focus is on wealth protection.

- Income with Capital Preservation. A conservative investment strategy with an objective of long-term accumulation. Emphasis is placed on generating current income with minimal risk of capital loss. A low-risk investment strategy generally results in reduced potential for overall return.
- Income with Moderate Growth. This investment objective emphasizes the generation of current income with a secondary focus on moderate capital growth.
- Growth with Income. This investment objective emphasizes modest capital growth with some focus on the generation of current income.
- Growth. This investment objective emphasizes achieving high long-term growth and capital appreciation. There is little focus on the generation of current income.

- Aggressive Growth. This investment objective emphasizes aggressive growth and maximum capital appreciation, with no focus on the generation of current income. This objective has a very high level of risk and is for investors with a longer time horizon.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies).

The firm and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action required to be reported.

Administrative Enforcement Proceedings

The firm and its management have not been involved in administrative enforcement proceedings required to be reported.

Self-Regulatory Organization Enforcement Proceedings

The firm and its management have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present investment Clients required to be reported.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer or Representative Registration

Advisor is not registered as a broker-dealer and no affiliates are registered representatives of a broker-dealer.

Futures or Commodity Registration

Neither Advisor nor its employees are registered or has an application pending to register as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading advisor.

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor does not have any material relationships or conflicts of interest to disclose.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor does not solicit the services of Third-Party Money Managers to manage Client accounts.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Description

The employees of Advisor have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of Advisor employees and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for employees of Advisor. The Code reflects Advisor and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their Client.

One area the Code addresses is when employees buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our Clients. We do not allow any employees to use non- public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our Clients.

Advisor's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other employee, officer or director of Advisor may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to advisory Clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

Advisor's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the Client are our top priority. Advisor's officers, directors, advisors, and other employees have a fiduciary duty to our Clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our Clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the Client's interests over the interests of either employees or the company.

The Code applies to covered persons with additional requirements for "access" persons. "Access" persons are covered persons who have access to non-public information regarding any Clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to Clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

Advisor will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or prospective Client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

Advisor and its employees do not recommend to Clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Advisor with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer is Brent Pasqua. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews helps mitigate that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm have received preferential treatment over employee trades.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

Advisor recommend the use of a particular broker-dealer or may utilize a broker-dealer of the Client's choosing. Advisor will select appropriate brokers based on a number of factors including but not limited to their relatively low transaction fees and reporting ability. Advisor relies on its broker to provide its execution services at the best prices available. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients pay for any and all custodial fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by Advisor.

Directed Brokerage

The firm does not accept directed brokerage arrangements (when a client requires that account transactions be executed through a specific broker/dealer).

Best Execution

Investment advisors who manage or supervise Client portfolios have a fiduciary obligation of best execution. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is effected, the ability to effect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. The firm does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Soft Dollar Arrangements

Advisor utilizes the services of custodial broker dealers. Economic benefits are received by Advisor which would not be received if Advisor did not give investment advice to Clients. The benefits include: A dedicated trading desk, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to Advisor's accounts, ability to conduct "block" Client trades, electronic download of trades, balances and positions, duplicate and batched Client statements, and the ability to have advisory fees directly deducted from Client accounts.

A conflict of interest exists when Advisor receives soft dollars. This conflict is mitigated disclosures, procedures, and the firm's Fiduciary obligation to act in the best interest of his Clients and the services received are beneficial to all Clients.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

Advisor aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and transactions in the same securities for other Clients of Advisor. All Clients participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rated basis.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons Involved

Account reviews are performed by Investment Advisor Representatives. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of Clients' accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a Client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive account statements no less than monthly for managed accounts. Account statements are issued by the Advisor's custodian. Client receives confirmations of each transaction in account from Custodian and an additional statement during any month in which a transaction occurs.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

As disclosed under Item 12 above, Advisor may receive soft dollars from the custodian.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

Advisor does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Evermont Wealth does not have direct custody of client funds or securities. However, as a consequence of the authority to make withdrawals from client accounts to pay advisory fees the firm provides the following safeguards:

1. The firm obtains written authorization from the client to deduct advisory fees from the account held with the qualified custodian. Advisor is deemed to have constructive custody solely because advisory fees are directly deducted from Client's account by the custodian on behalf of Advisor.

2. Each time a fee is directly deducted from a client account, the firm will concurrently send the qualified custodian an invoice of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account and send the client an invoice itemizing the fee. Itemization includes the formula used to calculate the fee, the amount of assets under managements the fee is based on, and the time period covered by the fee.

Clients will receive statements directly from the qualified custodians at least quarterly. Clients are urged to carefully review those statements.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Advisor accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. Advisor has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. The Client will authorize Advisor discretionary authority to execute selected investment program transactions as stated within the Investment Advisory Agreement. The Client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. Advisor does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the Client to the custodian on certain trades.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Evermont Wealth does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Advisor will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Item 18: Financial Information

Evermont Wealth LLC does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. There are no financial conditions that are reasonably likely to impair the firm's ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.
