When such recommendations or sales are made, a conflict of interest exists as Paul S. Martin may receive more commissions from the sale of these products than from providing you with advisory services. Paul S. Martin spends approximately 50% per month in this role. We also require IARs to disclose to clients that they may purchase recommended products from other representatives not affiliated with us. Our Code of Ethics requires our IARs do what is in the client's best interests at all times. Our CCO monitors all transactions to ensure that representatives put their clients first, not the commission they may receive.
