C. Professional Designations – Qualifications and Related Criteria

Enrolled Agent (EA)

An Enrolled Agent has earned the right to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service worldwide.

Enrolled Agents, like attorneys and certified public accountants (CPAs), may represent all taxpayers, from individuals with simple tax returns to Fortune 100 tax returns. Enrolled Agents face no restrictions on the types of tax matters they can handle and the IRS offices before which they can practice.

Enrolled Agents are licensed by the Department of Treasury and can represent taxpayers throughout the United States and overseas—wherever the IRS has an outpost. Most state and local governments recognize the Enrolled Agent designation and grant representation powers to Enrolled Agents. Enrolled Agents may practice in any state without re-certifying, making this the most portable of all the tax licenses governed by IRS Circular 230.

Required Curriculum Candidates who wish to become an Enrolled Agent must meet the following qualifying criteria:

- Apply for enrollment using IRS Form 2587.
- Pass a background check to ensure that they have not engaged in any conduct that would justify the suspension or disbarment of an attorney, CPA, or Enrolled Agent from practice before the IRS.
- Follow one of these two tracks:
 - Online Examination: Candidates must achieve passing scores on each of a three-part online Special Enrollment Examination (SEE).
 - IRS Experience: Candidates can become an enrolled agent by virtue of past service and technical experience working for the Internal Revenue Service in certain jobs or positions. Generally, there is a five-year experience requirement in positions that require certain levels of technical experience.

Registered Representative

Daniel J. Borello is a registered representative of JTB, which is dually licensed as a broker-dealer and investment adviser. JTB professionals who effect transactions for advisory clients may receive transaction or commission compensation. The recommendation of securities transactions for commission creates a conflict of interest in that JTB is economically incented to effect securities transactions for clients. Although JTB strives to put its clients' interests first, such recommendations may be viewed as being in the best interests of JTB rather than in the client's best interest. JTB advisory clients are not compelled to effect securities transactions on a commission basis. All commissions will be disclosed to clients in advance.

Insurance Sales

Daniel J. Borello is a licensed insurance agent. With respect to the provision of financial planning services, he may recommend insurance products offered by such carriers for whom he functions as an agent and receive a commission for doing so. Please be advised there is a potential conflict of interest in that there is an economic incentive to recommend insurance and other investment products of such carriers. Please also be advised that JTB strives to put its clients' interests first and foremost. Other than for insurance products that require a securities license, such as variable insurance products, clients may utilize any insurance carrier or insurance agency they desire. For products requiring a securities and insurance license, clients may be limited to those insurance carriers that have a selling agreement with JTB's employing broker-dealer. All commissions will be disclosed to clients in advance.

Tax Preparation Services

Daniel J. Borello is an Enrolled Agent and trained to provide tax preparation services. Clients of JTB are not solicited for this service, however, should clients engage JTB professionals for tax preparation services they need to be aware that JTB professionals will be compensated for this service. The receipt of compensation by JTB professionals creates a conflict of interest. To mitigate this conflict, all fees associated with the tax preparation services will be disclosed to clients in advance.
