AND RESPONDENT ALEXANDER KON

The Division of Enforcement and Respondent Alexander Kon hereby stipulate and agree to the statements below. 3. Cannabusiness Group Inc, is a now defunct Nevada corporation that had its principal executive office in Vacaville, California.

6. Kon agreed the marketing campaign would be operated through four websites: 007 Stockchat.com; awesomestocktips.com; otcfire.com and pennystockspy.com. In addition, they agreed that Kon would email the publications to addresses he had accumulated on an email distribution list.
7. Kon received $25,000 to organize the promotional campaign through a wire transfer from Freebird Capital.
8. Casey Cummings settled with the SEC for various charges related to the scheme on November 14, 2016.
9. The disclosure on the four websites and e-mails noted that Kon received $25,000 from "third party... Casey Cummings."

Division Exhibits and all exhibits on Respondent's Exhibit List are admissible without the need for testimony by a records custodian or further authentication. All objections to these exhibits are waived except objections based on relevance. Either party may use any documents on the other party's exhibit list to the same extent as if the document had been on its own list.
