Motion For Leave To Adduce Additional Evidence In My Case In The Above Stated Case Numbers Invoking S.E.C. Rule # 452

I am asking in this motion for the S.E.C. to allow additional evidence in my case which is extremely relevant to my position as to when I notified FINRA about my intention to withdraw from my AWC which is the dispute this case revolves around. I am a Pro Se individual with limited resources. I have asked numerous times in discovery requests to both Finra and The Securities and Exchange Commission to prove my allegation that I spoke with Finra in a timely manner to withdraw from a flawed AWC agreement. Up to now I have been thwarted at every turn. Up to now Finra has adamantly stated in all its motions that the first time I spoke with them about withdrawing from the AWC in question was May, 5, 2016. I have repeatedly claimed that it was in April of 2016 and I have not been able to get the phone records and logs showing when I did reach out to Finra in this AWC to withdraw. I have just received these phone logs which show multiple calls between myself with FINRA in the Boca Raton Office of Finra in the month of April, 2016. It took a lot of time and effort to retrieve these records which were archived. That time had the effect of passing the deadline for evidence to be used in this case. I have asked the phone company that e-mailed me the records to overnight them to me so I could have them tomorrow. At that time I will furnish the records to the Commission to use in their review of the case at hand. I am asking for the Commission's consideration again using Rule 452 which states if there is new evidence that is crucial for me to support my claims in this case that they allow me to adduce this new evidence for the Commission's review. I am fighting for right to work in this matter. It is as serious as it can be for me and my family. I am hoping that the Commission would be seeking nothing more than the truth in this matter and this new evidence will help shed a lot of new light in this matter. Thank You for your consideration.

Sincerely,
