COMPLAINT FOR INJUNCTIVE AND OTHER RELIEF AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") alleges:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The Commission brings this emergency action to halt an ongoing fraud conducted by EquiAlt LLC (“EquiAlt”), a private real estate investment company. Beginning in 2011 to the present, Defendants EquiAlt, Brian Davison (“Davison”) and Barry Rybicki (“Rybicki”) conducted a Ponzi scheme raising more than $170 million from over 1,100 investors nationwide, many of them elderly, through fraudulent unregistered securities offerings. Defendants promised investors that substantially all of their money would be used to purchase real estate in distressed markets in the United States and their investments would yield generous returns. Instead, EquiAlt, Davison, and Rybicki misappropriated millions in investor funds for their own personal use and benefit.

2. Despite receiving over $170 million in investor funds, the revenues generated by the Funds during the last nine years have been significantly less than the amounts of interest owed to investors. Without sufficient revenues to pay the money owed to investors, the Defendants resorted to fraud, using new investor money to pay the returns promised to existing investors. Meanwhile, Davison and Rybicki paid themselves millions from the Funds and spent it on luxury automobiles, fine jewelry and chartering private jets, among other expenditures.

3. In addition to conducting a Ponzi scheme and misappropriating investor money, Davison and Rybicki made material misrepresentations and omissions to investors. The investments—unregistered securities in the form of debentures issued by four real estate investment funds managed by EquiAlt—were falsely touted to investors as “secure,” “safe,” “low risk,” and “conservative.” Moreover, Davison and Rybicki paid significant sales commissions to numerous unregistered sales agents who sold investments to unaccredited and unsophisticated investors in various states.

4. At all times relevant to the allegations herein, Davison and Rybicki exercised control over the business operations of EquiAlt and its four real estate investment funds: EquiAlt Fund, LLC (“Fund 1”), EquiAlt Fund II, LLC (“Fund 2”), EquiAlt Fund III (“Fund 3”), and EA SIP, LLC (“EA SIP Fund”)(the “Corporate Defendants”). More specifically, Davison controlled the accounting and finances for these Funds as well as their bank accounts. He was also responsible for making Ponzi payments to investors. Rybicki controlled communications with investors and executed agreements with investors, including debentures and subscription agreements containing numerous representations and warranties.

5. Investor money has been misused and misappropriated in several distinct ways, including (a) money from one Fund used to purchase real estate for another Fund or for third party entities owned by Davison; (b) money from one Fund used to pay investors in another Fund; (c) substantial undisclosed commissions paid to unregistered sales agents; (d) substantial undisclosed fees such as due diligence fees, management fees, success fees, auction fees, underwriting fees, purchase discount fees, and bonuses paid to EquiAlt and Davison; and (e) substantial improper distributions of cash to Davison and Rybicki. As a result of this misuse and misappropriation of millions of dollars of investor funds, Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund are in a precarious financial condition.

6. The combined assets of EquiAlt and its three active funds (Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund) are insufficient to repay the principal and interest owed to approximately 1,100 investors. By December 2020, investors in these three funds will be owed approximately $167 million in principal and interest. However, as of November 2019, the assets of EquiAlt, Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund total only $6.8 million in cash and real property purportedly worth $145 million, which is based on EquiAlt’s own inflated valuation. Thus, the combined assets of the three active Funds are insufficient to pay investors the principal and interest owed to them at the end of this year.

7. As a result of the conduct alleged in this Complaint, all the Defendants violated Sections 5(a) and 5(c) of the Securities Act of 1933 (“Securities Act”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 77e(a) and 77e(c); Section 17(a)(2) of the Securities Act, 15 U.S.C. § 77q(a); and Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Exchange Act”), 15 U.S.C. § 78j(b), and Exchange Act Rule 10b-5, 17 C.F.R. § 240.10b-5. Defendants Davison and Rybicki also, directly and indirectly, violated the anti-fraud provisions of the Exchange Act as Control Persons of EquiAlt under Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78t(a). Finally, Defendants EquiAlt, Davison, and Rybicki have also aided and abetted violations of Section 15(a) of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. § 78o(a). Unless restrained and enjoined, EquiAlt, Davison, and Rybicki are reasonably likely to continue to violate the federal securities laws.

8. Relief Defendants have all received proceeds of the fraud without any legitimate entitlement to the money.

9. To halt this ongoing fraud, maintain the status quo, and preserve investor assets, the Commission seeks several forms of relief, including asset freezes, appointment of a Receiver, sworn accountings, and an order prohibiting the destruction of documents. The Commission also seeks permanent injunctions and civil money penalties against all the Defendants, and disgorgement of ill-gotten gains against the Defendants and Relief Defendants.

III. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

34. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to Sections 21(d), 21 (e), and 27 of the Exchange Act, 15 U.S.C. §§78u(d), 78u(e) and 78aa.

35. This Court has personal jurisdiction over the Defendants and venue is proper in the Middle District of Florida because Davison resides in the District, EquiAlt has its principal place of business in the District, and the Funds' business operations have been conducted in the District. Furthermore, much of the conduct constituting the fraud alleged in this Complaint has occurred in the Middle District.

36. In connection with the conduct alleged in the Complaint, Defendants, directly and indirectly, singly or in concert with others, made use of the means or instrumentalities of interstate commerce, the means or instruments of transportation or communication in the interstate commerce, and of the mails.

IV. FACTS

A. EquiAlt and its Offerings

37. At all relevant times, Davison and Rybicki controlled EquiAlt whose primary business was to directly, or indirectly, manage all of the day-to-day operations of Funds including the solicitation of investors, and all of the Funds accounting and financial activities. Davison formed EquiAlt in 2011 and had signature authority over the company's bank accounts. Rybicki managed EquiAlt's relationships with various unlicensed sales agents (acting as unregistered broker-dealers) who sold the Funds' securities, communicated with investors, and was otherwise involved in raising money for the Funds.

38. In marketing materials and through its website, EquiAlt claims to own a portfolio of revenue-generating condominiums and single and multi-family homes. Meanwhile the private placement memorandum for the Funds state that the investment objective of the Funds is to purchase and sell single-family properties in distressed real estate markets in the U.S. and participate in opportunistic lending in the U.S. In marketing materials provided to prospective investors, EquiAlt boasts that its programs or offerings “protect against market conditions” and are “not susceptible to interest rate hikes & lending trends.” EquiAlt also claims to provide commercial lending investments to construction and development projects, “filling in the gaps left by local community banking systems.”

39. From January 2010 to November 2019, EquiAlt raised more than $170 Million from some 1,100 investors through the sale of fixed rate debentures issued by the Funds. Of that total amount, $145 Million was raised from January 2015 through November 2019. These debentures are securities within the meaning of Section 2(a)(1) of the Securities Act and Section 3(a)(10) of the Exchange Act. EquiAlt continues to market and raise funds from investors.

40. Defendants sold investors one type of security: 3-year or 4 year term debentures of the Funds providing a fixed annual return of 8 % to 10%. Many of the investors were elderly, retired and used IRAs to fund their investments in the Funds. Furthermore, many of the investors were unaccredited or unsophisticated in that they lacked knowledge and expertise in financial or business matters, were not capable of evaluating the merits and risks of the investment, and were not otherwise capable of bearing the economic risks of the investment. Many of the investors were attracted by representations that the investments in the Funds were “secure,” “safe,” “low risk,” and “conservative” and by assurances that EquiAlt could not go bankrupt.

41. EquiAlt also used in-house employees and unlicensed external sales agents to solicit investments from the general public through cold calling campaigns, social media, websites, and in-person meetings. Although the private placement memorandum provided to many investors stated that the Funds “may” pay commissions or fees to registered broker/dealers or other financial intermediaries, the Funds always paid commissions of anywhere between 10%-14%. In fact, over a period of several years the Funds have paid commissions (primarily to Rybicki or his company BR Support Services, LLC) totaling approximately $24 million using investor money. Moreover, many of the subscription agreements signed by Rybicki actually stated that the investments are being sold without commission.

B. Fraudulent Conduct

i. The Defendants Are Conducting a Ponzi Scheme

42. The Funds have been operated as a Ponzi scheme almost since their inception. More specifically, in a classic Ponzi-scheme fashion, the Funds are paying investors their monthly interest payments for the debentures by raising and using new investor funds to pay old investors. While Fund 3 is now closed, Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund have collectively been raising from investors approximately $2-3 million per month since January 2018.

43. Notably, since the beginning of their operations, the Funds have suffered significant financial losses with monthly costs and expenses, including the interest owed to investors, greatly exceeding revenues generated from the Funds' business operations.

44. Even if Fund 1, Fund 2 and the EA SIP Fund were able to liquidate their real estate holdings at their values stated in their internal books and records, the Funds' combined assets would fall millions of dollars short of the amount owed to investors by December 2020.

ii. Misappropriation of Investor Funds

45. Defendants Davison and Rybicki have misappropriated millions of dollars from the Funds for their own personal benefit. In fact, between 2017 and 2018 Davison and Rybicki received improper cash distributions totaling more than $11 million from the Funds. And in 2019, Davison and Rybicki took improper cash distributions from the Funds of $6.1 million and $1.2 million, respectively, purportedly for the repayment of loans to the Funds.

46. Davison and Rybicki often used this money to purchase high-end personal items such as luxury automobiles (such as Ferraris, Porsches and a Rolls Royce), watches, and to charter private jets. Davison alone spent more than $2.7 million on luxury automobiles and watches and chartering private jets. Davison, in April 2017, also took cash distributions from several of the Funds totaling $1.8 million and used the money to pay personal back income taxes owed to the Internal Revenue Service.

47. In addition to these improper cash distributions, when visiting New York, Davison stayed on multiple occasions at one of the Funds' most expensive properties, a $2.7 million Manhattan condominium which has never generated any income for the Funds, despite having been purchased several years ago with investor money.

iii. Misuse of Investor Funds

48. Instead of investing their funds as promised, the Defendants have misused millions of dollars in several distinct ways – all of which are inconsistent with the private placement memorandum provided to investors.

49. More specifically, the private placement memorandum for Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund state that investor money would be used to purchase, own, improve and/or sell real property. In fact, the private placement memorandum for each of these Funds included a detailed chart of “projected sources and uses of cash.” The chart, however, identified only the following six specific uses of that cash: investments in property, accounting and tax preparation, legal costs, investor relations and communications expenses, marketing and sponsorship event fees, and miscellaneous expenses and reserves. While the private placement memoranda for these Funds state that “All uses of proceeds are estimated and subject to change,” only the above six specific uses of investor proceeds are delineated in the document. An example of one of the charts included in the private placement memorandum for Fund 1 is set forth below:

SOURCES:
Debentures:
TOTAL SOURCES:		$50,000,000.00

USES:
Investment in Property		$45,000,000.00
Accounting and Tax Preparation		$550,000.00
Legal Costs		$250,000.00
Investor Relations and Communications Expenses		$2,500,000.00
Marketing and Sponsorship Event Fees		$200,000.00
Miscellaneous Expenses and Reserves		$1,500,000.00
TOTAL USES:		$50,000,000.00

50. Despite the restrictions of use contained in the private placement memoranda, the Defendants misused investor funds in several ways, including (a) money from one Fund being used to purchase real estate for another Fund or for third party entities owned by Davison; (b) money from one Fund being used to pay investors in another Fund; (c) substantial undisclosed commissions paid to unregistered sales agents; (d) substantial undisclosed fees such as due diligence fees, management fees, success fees, auction fees, underwriting fees, purchase discount fees, and bonuses paid to EquiAlt and Davison; and (e) substantial improper cash distributions to Davison and Rybicki. The misuse of investor funds was not an isolated event but rather was continuous over a period of several years and totaled millions of dollars.

C. Misrepresentations and Omissions to Investors

i. False Claims About Use of Investor Funds

51. The Defendants have misrepresented to investors how their money would be used by the Funds. For example, the private placement memoranda for Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund indicate that approximately 90% of investor funds would be used to “invest in property.” Yet, less than 50% of investor funds were actually used for that purpose. Indeed, a substantial part of the remaining funds was used for improper purposes such as the payment of millions of dollars in fees and bonuses to EquiAlt and others. None of these other fees were described in the offering documents or marketing materials sent to investors.

52. As alleged above in paragraph 49, the private placement memoranda for Fund 1, Fund 2, and the EA SIP Fund disclosed a list of specific uses of investor funds. This list, however, did not disclose that the Funds would use investor money to pay EquiAlt extraneous fees described above totaling millions of dollars. For example, although not disclosed to investors, the Funds paid EquiAlt a so-called “discount fee” or the difference in the listed sales price for a particular property and the ultimate purchase price paid by the Fund to acquire such property. Instead of benefiting from a lower ultimate sales price for the property, the Funds paid the actual cost savings to EquiAlt as a discount fee. No aspect of this fee was ever disclosed to investors who were already paying substantial management and other fees to EquiAlt supposedly to manage the Funds.

53. The Defendants also failed to disclose to investors that more than $6.61 million of investor money would be transferred between the Funds with the money raised by one Fund being used to pay the debts and obligations of another Fund. For example, in December 2015, Fund 1 and Fund 2 transferred, respectively $1.29 million and $1.08 million to Fund 3, which Fund 3 used to pay approximately $2.3 million in principal and interest to its investors. Fund 3 could not have made these payments without the cash infusion from Funds 1 and 2.

54. The Defendants also failed to adequately disclose to investors that their funds would be used to pay commissions to unlicensed third party sales agents. First, many of the subscription agreements signed by Rybicki stated that investments in the Funds were being sold without the payment of a commission. Furthermore, while the private placement memoranda provided to investors stated that the Funds “may” pay commissions to sales agents, in reality commissions were always paid in connection with the sale of the Funds’ investments. In addition, in many cases investors never received the private placement memoranda and were not informed about any commission being paid in connection with their investment.

55. Investors were also misled about the payment of management fees to EquiAlt. Although EquiAlt collected substantial management fees from the Funds, many investors were expressly told that no management fees would be paid to EquiAlt. For example, EquiAlt’s President of Business Development and Marketing stated to Fund 2 investors in writing that EquiAlt had no management fees.

56. Moreover, although the PPMs for all the Funds state that “the Manager will receive Management Fees as set forth in the Operating Agreement and as described more fully below,” there is no description elsewhere in the PPMs (or in the Operating Agreements, which were not sent to investors) of what or how the management fees would be paid. Nowhere in the offering materials is there any disclosure to investors that Equilat and Davision would receive more than $6.67 million in “management fees” from the Funds or of the millions of dollars in other fees described above.

ii. False Statements About Risk

57. Investors were misled about the safety and risk of their investments. While pitching investments in the Funds, the Defendants represented that the investments were “low risk,” “safe, and “conservative.” Investors were even told that the Funds had “never lost investor dollars since inception.” The investments, however, were anything but low risk, safe or conservative. In fact, the Funds have suffered substantial financial losses since their inception. Furthermore, Davison and Rybicki have depleted the Funds’ assets through a years-long scheme involving outright misappropriation and misuse of investor funds.

iii. False Statements About Registration With the Commission and Compliance with Applicable Laws

58. EquiAlt falsely told investors in at least one Fund (Fund 2) it was registered with the Commission since 2009. In truth, neither EquiAlt nor the Funds have ever been registered with the Commission in any capacity.

59. Written sales materials provided to investors also stated that “payments to licensed brokers and/or finders may be made in compliance with applicable federal and state securities laws.” In reality, during a period of several years the Funds and BR Support Services, LLC paid commissions totaling millions of dollars to unlicensed sales agents deployed by EquiAlt to market and promote the Funds’ investments.

iv. False Statements About Fund Management

60. Investors were even misled about the persons involved in managing the Funds. At least two different versions of the private placement memoranda for Fund 1 and Fund 2 identified an individual referred to herein as “DD” as a CPA with an MBA degree who was serving as EquiAlt’s Chief Financial Officer. The description of DD’s professional background highlighted DD’s prior experience at a Big-Four accounting firm, with SEC reporting requirements, as a CFO of a $100 million real estate mortgage and title company, and as an author. However, DD has never worked as EquiAlt’s CFO.
