I definitely will send you the list before sending it to Shana. I'm working on it now. Again, be ready for his badgering about us leaving...

That sounds good. Maybe just shoot me over the request before you forward it to Shana. I am reading over the Barron's article. It was written in 2001 and it was based on a hedge fund conference held in 1999. Back then the author of the article worked for thestreet.com I believe. I did a little research on google.

I spoke to Bernie. He is going to find out why we are having trouble accessing some of the attachments. Also, I will e-mail Shana a list of the group e-mail addresses that we want more information on. She will provide the list of people that are part of the groups.

He wants an idea of when we are going to finish the exam. He is getting more aggressive about trying to find out. I told him that we would speak to him tomorrow and based upon our questions and requests he should have a better idea. I think that I gave him the impression yesterday that we would have a better idea as to when we were going to finish after speaking with John today....
