(Release No. 34-61819; File No. SR-FINRA-2009-061)

March 31, 2010

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc.; Notice of Filing of Amendment No. 2 to a Proposed Rule Change and Order Granting Accelerated Approval to the Proposed Rule Change, as Modified by Amendments Nos. 1 and 2 Thereto, to Require Members to Report OTC Transactions in Equity Securities Within 30 Seconds of Execution

I. Introduction

On September 16, 2009, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (“FINRA”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission”), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Act”)¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² a proposed rule change to require members to report OTC transactions in equity securities within 30 seconds of execution. On October 30, 2009, FINRA filed Amendment No. 1 to the proposed rule change. The Commission published the proposed rule change, as amended, for comment in the Federal Register on November 17, 2009.³ The Commission received two comment letters in response to the proposed rule change.⁴ On March 22, 2010, FINRA responded to the comment letters and filed Amendment No. 2 to the proposed rule change.⁵ This Commission is publishing this notice and order to solicit comments on Amendment No. 2 and to approve the proposed rule change, as modified by Amendments Nos. 1 and 2, on an accelerated basis.

II. Description of the Amended Proposal

FINRA proposed to amend its trade reporting rules to: (1) require that members report over-the-counter (“OTC”) equity transactions⁶ to FINRA within 30 seconds of execution; (2) require that members report secondary market transactions in non-exchange-listed direct participation program (“DPP”)⁷ securities to FINRA within 30 seconds of execution; (3) require that members report trade cancellations that are subject to the 90-second reporting under current FINRA rules within 30 seconds of the time the trade is canceled;⁸ and (4) make certain conforming changes to the rules relating to the OTC Reporting Facility (“ORF”).

⁷ “Direct participation program or DPP, means a program which provides for flow-through tax consequences regardless of the structure of the legal entity or vehicle for distribution including, but not limited to, oil and gas programs, real estate programs, agricultural programs, cattle programs, condominium securities, Subchapter S corporate offerings and all other programs of a similar nature, regardless of the industry represented by the program, or any combination thereof. A program may be composed of one or more legal entities or programs but when used herein, the term shall mean each of the separate entities or programs making up the overall program and/or the overall program itself. Excluded from this definition are real estate investment trusts, tax qualified pension and profit sharing plans pursuant to Sections 401 and 403(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and individual retirement plans under Section 408 of that Code, tax sheltered annuities pursuant to the provisions of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, and any company, including separate accounts, registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940.” See FINRA Rule 6420, as proposed to be amended.

⁸ See Amendment No. 2. See also Securities Exchange Act Release No. 61359 (January 14, 2010), 75 FR 3772 (January 22, 2010) (approving SR-FINRA-2009-082) (“Cancellations Order”). This new requirement would include trades executed during

A. 30-Second Reporting Requirement

Under current FINRA trade reporting rules, members generally must report OTC equity transactions that are executed during the hours that the FINRA Facilities are open within 90 seconds of execution.⁹ Last sale information for such trades is publicly disseminated on a real-time basis. For trades executed during normal market hours and canceled at or before 4:00 p.m. on the date of execution, members are required to report the cancellation of the trades within 90 seconds of cancellation.¹⁰ There are certain limited exceptions to this general requirement, including for trades in non-exchange-listed DPP securities, as discussed below.¹¹

FINRA proposed to amend the trade reporting rules to require that members report OTC equity transactions to FINRA within 30 seconds of execution. In addition, for trades executed during normal market hours and canceled at or before 4:00 p.m. on the date of execution, FINRA proposed to amend the trade reporting rules to require that members report cancellations within 30 seconds of cancellation.¹² Specifically, the trade reporting rules would be amended to replace the references to 90 seconds with 30 seconds.¹³ Trades not reported within 30 seconds, unless ⁹ See, e.g., FINRA Rules 6282(a), 6380A(a), 6380B(a), and 6622(a).

¹⁰ See, e.g., FINRA Rules 6282(j), 6380A(g), 6380B(f) and 6622(f). See also Cancellations Order, supra note 8.

¹¹ Additionally, FINRA noted that transactions in PORTAL securities, as defined in FINRA Rule 6631, are not subject to the 90-second reporting requirement, but must be reported to the ORF by the end of the day. See FINRA Rule 6633.

¹² See note 8, supra.

¹³ See FINRA Rules 6282(a) and (j); 6380A(a) and (g); 6380B(a) and (f); 6622(a) and (f); 7130(b); 7230A(b); 7230B(b); and 7330(b). FINRA also proposed to amend FINRA Rules 6181 and 6623 to replace the reference to 90 seconds with a more general reference to “the required time period” to clarify that these provisions also apply to trades that are subject to a different reporting requirement (e.g., certain trades executed outside normal market hours).

expressly subject to a different reporting requirement or excluded from the trade reporting rules altogether, would be late.¹⁴

B. Reporting Requirements Applicable to Trades in Non-Exchange-Listed DPP Securities

Pursuant to current FINRA Rule 6643(a)(1), members are required to report trades in non-exchange-listed DPP securities to the ORF by 1:30 p.m. Eastern Time on the next business day (T+1) after the date of execution; members that have the operational capability to report transactions within 90 seconds of execution may do so at their option.¹⁵ By contrast, OTC trades in exchange-listed DPP securities are reported to a TRF or the ADF and are subject to the 90-second reporting requirement (like any other OTC trade in an NMS stock).¹⁶

FINRA proposed to amend the trade reporting rules to require that transactions in non-exchange-listed DPP securities be reported within 30 seconds of execution to conform to the reporting requirements applicable to other OTC transactions, including OTC transactions in exchange-listed DPP securities. Specifically, FINRA proposed to delete the Rule 6640 Series (Reporting Transactions in Direct Participation Program Securities) in its entirety, so that secondary market transactions in non-exchange-listed DPPs would be reported to FINRA as any other OTC Equity Security pursuant to Rules 6622, 6623, 7310, and 7330 as proposed to be ¹⁴ Although members would have 30 seconds to report, FINRA reiterated that – as is the case today – members must report trades as soon as practicable and cannot withhold trade reports, e.g., by programming their systems to delay reporting until the last permissible second.

¹⁵ Transaction information for such trades is not disseminated on a real-time trade-by-trade basis, but is included in end-of-day summary information.

¹⁶ See FINRA Rules 6282(a), 6380A(a), and 6380B(a).

revised.¹⁷ FINRA also proposed to make other changes necessary to implement the new reporting regime applicable to non-exchange listed DPP securities.¹⁸

C. Proposed Conforming Amendments

In addition to the changes described above, FINRA proposed certain changes to a number of subparagraphs within paragraph (a) of Rule 6622 relating to the ORF to conform, to the extent practicable, to the rules relating to the ADF and TRFs.¹⁹

In addition to the proposed amendments to Rule 6622, FINRA proposed to amend Rule 6420 to add “normal market hours” and “OTC Reporting Facility Participant” as defined terms.²⁰

III. Summary of Comment Letters and FINRA’s Response

The Commission received two comment letters on the proposed rule change.²¹

A. 30-Second Reporting Requirement

One commenter raised the following issues related to the proposed 30-second reporting requirement.²² First, the commenter pointed out that the proposal does not reflect the manual

¹⁷ See Section II.C below.

¹⁸ For a detailed description of these changes see Notice, supra note 3, at 59273-59274. In the Notice, FINRA noted that transactions in non-exchange-listed DPPs currently are not subject to regulatory transaction fees because they are not subject to prompt last sale reporting under FINRA rules. As a result of the proposed rule change, transactions in non-exchange-listed DPPs would become subject to regulatory transaction fees. See Notice, at 59274.

¹⁹ For a detailed description of these changes see Notice, supra note 3, at 59274. FINRA noted that most of the proposed conforming changes to FINRA Rule 6622(a) are technical in nature; however, some members may need to make systems changes to comply with some of the requirements that are not included expressly in the current rule.

²⁰ The proposed definition of “normal market hours” is identical to the TRF rules, and the proposed definition of “OTC Reporting Facility Participant” is substantially similar to the definition of “Trade Reporting Facility Participant” in the TRF rules. See, e.g., FINRA Rules 6320A and 6320B.

²¹ See note 4, supra.

²² See Cheevers Letter, supra note 4.

processes many firms have in place when reporting to a TRF, such as using WeblinkACT 2.0, a NASDAQ product which requires the user to type information into a browser based window in order to report transactions. According to the commenter, if the reporting time is changed to 30 seconds “it is plausible that firms using WeblinkACT would have difficulty reporting within 30 seconds.”²³ The commenter stated that this places an undue burden on firms with processes that are manual in nature.²⁴

In the original filing, FINRA proposed to implement the proposed rule change between six and nine months following the date of Commission approval. In responding to the first comment, FINRA recognized that firms that use a manual process such as WeblinkACT to report trades may have difficulty entering all of the required information within 30 seconds.²⁵ However, FINRA represented that the number of trades reported in this manner is a tiny fraction of the overall number of trades reported to FINRA on a daily basis, and that the number of firms that use this manual reporting process is small. Moreover, FINRA noted that there are steps that firms using WeblinkACT could take to expedite trade reporting, including, for example, setting defaults to automatically populate certain fields in the trade report or separating the process of reporting for tape purposes from any associated clearing entry (i.e., the submission of additional clearing information may be the reason a firm cannot complete the reporting within 30 seconds). Accordingly, in Amendment No. 2, FINRA proposed to provide an additional six months for member firms that utilize manual trade reporting systems to make the systems changes necessary to comply with the 30-second trade reporting requirement²⁶

Second, the commenter noted that the proposed rule change will not materially enhance market transparency and questioned the need for reducing the reporting time given that 99.90% of all trades are already being reported within 30 seconds.²⁷

In responding to the second comment, FINRA stated that the original filing cited a number of compelling reasons for the proposed rule change. Additionally, FINRA noted that under the 90-second reporting requirement, market participants have no way of distinguishing among trades reported 30 or 60 or 90 seconds after execution; they all appear on the tape as ²⁶ FINRA will phase-in implementation of the 30-second reporting requirement. The implementation date for “Manual Reporting Firms” would be between twelve and fifteen months following the date of Commission approval (“Phase II”). For purposes of Phase II implementation, FINRA defined a “Manual Reporting Firm” as a firm that uses a manual process such as WeblinkACT (or the Nasdaq or ACT workstation) for all, or substantially all, of its trade reporting of OTC trades. Firms with automated processes that on occasion manually report trades would not fall within the scope of this definition and must comply with the Phase I implementation date for all of their trade reporting. In other words, firms with automated trade reporting processes would not qualify for Phase I implementation for some trades and Phase II implementation for other trades. For a detailed description of the steps necessary to qualify as a Manual Reporting Firm, see Amendment No. 2, supra note 5. For all other firms, the implementation date would be between six and nine months following the date of Commission approval, as proposed in the original filing (“Phase I”). FINRA would announce the implementation dates in a Regulatory Notice. The proposed phased-in implementation schedule would apply to the 30-second reporting requirement only. The conforming changes to the rules relating to the ORF that were proposed in the original filing would be implemented for all firms on the Phase I implementation date. Prior to the Phase II implementation date, Manual Reporting Firms would continue to be subject to the current trade reporting requirements, i.e., firms must report as promptly as practicable – and in no event more than 90 seconds – following trade execution. These firms also would continue to be subject to all other reporting time frames under FINRA rules. FINRA also stated that the proposed phased-in implementation schedule would not establish a separate standard for purposes of modifying trade reports as timely versus late. Upon Phase I implementation, all trades reported more than 30 seconds after execution will be modified as late for reporting and dissemination purposes.

timely reported trades.²⁸ FINRA stated that the proposed rule change would provide market participants the certainty that any trade disseminated as timely reported was executed within the previous 30 seconds.

Third, the commenter stated that Qualified Contingent (QCT) trades²⁹ should be exempt from the 30-second reporting requirement.³⁰ In responding to the comment, FINRA stated that such trades currently are subject to real-time trade reporting and dissemination, and FINRA does not believe that a blanket exemption is warranted in this instance.³¹ FINRA noted, however, that if a firm reports QCT trades via a manual process such as WeblinkACT, it may qualify for the later Phase II implementation date, as discussed above, and have additional time to make necessary systems changes.³²

Finally, the commenter recommended that FINRA adopt a rule that requires firms to report “as soon as practicable,” rather than impose a 30-second reporting requirement, to afford firms with manual processes the ability to remain compliant and to require that automated processes are programmed to report promptly.³³ In responding to the comment, FINRA stated that a bright-line, uniform standard is crucial for surveillance and enforcement purposes, and provides meaningful information to the market.³⁴

B. Reporting Requirements Applicable to Trades in Non-Exchange-Listed DPP Securities

The second commenter addressed the proposal relating to the trade reporting of transactions in non-exchange-listed DPPs.³⁵ The commenter asserted that a 30-second reporting requirement for non-exchange-listed DPPs would be problematic because the time of execution for such trades is not a precise time. The commenter asserted that “there is a lot of paperwork to complete before a ‘trade’ takes place between a buyer and a seller, and then the transfer itself has to be accepted and completed by the issuer or an agent of the issuer.”³⁶ The commenter further asserted that “[i]f a trade report is required at all, it should be within 24 hours of the ‘last act’ that is required between the buyer, seller and issuer to ultimately complete the trade.”³⁷

In responding to the comment, FINRA stated that, as discussed in the original filing, pursuant to current Rule 6643(a)(1), members are required to report trades in non-exchange-listed DPP securities to the ORF by 1:30 p.m. Eastern Time on the next business day (T+1) after the date of execution; members that have the operational capability to report transactions within 90 seconds of execution may do so at their option.³⁸ The original filing proposed to amend Rule 6622 to include as Supplementary Material the definitions of “date of execution” and “time of execution” for non-exchange-listed DPP transactions.³⁹ Thus, FINRA stated that under current ³⁴ See Amendment No. 2, supra note 5.

³⁵ See NPB Letter, supra note 4.

³⁶ See NPB Letter at 1.

³⁷ Id.

³⁸ See Notice, supra note 3, at 59273.

³⁹ FINRA stated that the proposed definitions are identical to the definitions in current Rule 6642, and specifically, “time of execution” is defined as the time when the parties to a rules and the proposed rule change, there is no uncertainty as to the time of execution of the trade or the point at which a firm's reporting obligation is triggered. With respect to the commenter's suggestion that a trade report should be required (if at all) within 24 hours of the 'last act' that is required between the buyer, seller and issuer to ultimately complete the trade, FINRA reiterated that under its trade reporting rules, the reporting obligation is triggered upon execution, not settlement, of the trade and the fact that the ultimate transfer of the securities may be contingent on subsequent events or actions of other parties is irrelevant.⁴⁰

IV. Discussion and Commission Findings

After carefully considering the proposal, the comments submitted, and FINRA's response to the comments, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities association.⁴¹ In particular, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act,⁴² which requires, among other things, that FINRA rules be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. The Commission has considered the commenters' view on the proposed rule change and believes that FINRA responded appropriately to the concerns raised. Indeed, the Commission believes that transaction in a DPP have agreed to all of the essential terms of the transaction, including the price and number of the units to be traded. See Amendment No. 2, supra note 5.

⁴⁰ See Amendment No. 2, supra note 5. Moreover, FINRA noted that delaying the trade report until a later date when the transfer actually occurs could be confusing to market participants, because intervening events, such as the payment of a distribution or sale of partnership assets, could affect the price or value of the DPP. See id.

the proposal promotes the goals of transparency, consistency in trade reporting and dissemination, and timely reporting by FINRA members.

Furthermore, the Commission believes that the proposal is consistent with Section 11A(a)(1)(C)(iii) of the Act,⁴³ which sets forth Congress' finding that it is in the public interest and appropriate for the protection of investors and the maintenance of fair and orderly markets to assure the availability to brokers, dealers, and investors of information with respect to quotations and transactions in securities. The Commission believes that these goals are furthered by the proposed amendments requiring that FINRA members report OTC equity transactions to FINRA within 30 seconds of execution; requiring that members report trade cancellations within 30 seconds of the time the trade is canceled; requiring that members report secondary market transactions in non-exchange-listed DPP securities to FINRA within 30 seconds of execution; and making certain conforming changes to the rules relating to the ORF. The proposed rule change is reasonably designed to accomplish these goals by shortening the time within which FINRA members must report trades from 90 seconds to 30 seconds. As FINRA stated in its proposal, the 90-second reporting requirement has been in effect since 1982, when OTC trading was "more manual in nature." The regulatory landscape has changed substantially in the intervening 28 years and, as trading has become increasingly automated, the vast majority of trades are now reported in a much shorter period of time.⁴⁴

The Commission shares FINRA's belief that the proposed rule change will promote consistent and timely reporting by all members and enhance market transparency and price

⁴³ 15 U.S.C. 78k-1(a)(1)(C)(iii).

⁴⁴ For example, FINRA noted that during the period of February 23 through February 27, 2009, overall member compliance with the current 90-second reporting requirement was 99.95% (for all trades submitted to a FINRA Facility for public dissemination), and 99.90% of trades were reported in 30 seconds or less. See Notice, supra note 3.

discovery by ensuring that trades are disseminated closer in time to execution. As FINRA stated in submitting its proposal, timely reporting has become even more critical with the implementation of Regulation NMS. Additionally, the proposed rule change will lessen the ability of members to withhold important market information from investors and other market participants for competitive or other improper reasons.⁴⁵ Going forward, the Commission expects FINRA to monitor the effect of this change and to consider the need to lower the time within which trades must be reported even further.

However, one commenter asserted that the proposal places an undue burden on firms with processes that are manual in nature.⁴⁶ In response to this comment, in Amendment No. 2, FINRA proposed to provide an additional six months for member firms that utilize manual trade reporting systems to make the systems changes necessary to comply with the 30-second trade reporting requirement.⁴⁷

With respect to FINRA's proposal to amend the trade reporting rules to require that transactions in non-exchange-listed DPP securities be reported within 30 seconds to conform to the reporting requirements applicable to other OTC transactions, including those in exchange-listed DPP securities, the Commission shares FINRA's belief that the inconsistency in the reporting and dissemination of DPPs can create confusion for market participants, especially when an exchange-listed DPP is delisted and dissemination of trading in the security goes from ⁴⁵ FINRA reiterated the importance of timely reporting and reminds members that a pattern and practice of late reporting may be considered inconsistent with high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable principles of trade in violation of FINRA Rule 2010. See Notice, supra note 3.

⁴⁶ See note 24, supra, and accompanying text.

⁴⁷ See notes 25-26, supra, and accompanying text.

real-time to only twice daily. Therefore, the Commission believes that there is a value in such uniform reporting for DPP securities.

In its filing with the Commission, FINRA stated its belief that the proposed rule change would enhance market transparency and promote consistency in trade reporting and dissemination and that increasing the public availability of information would allow FINRA to obtain a more complete audit trail of transactions in the market and enhance FINRA's ability to oversee its members' compliance with Regulation NMS. Although the Commission acknowledges the potential for firms covered by these new reporting requirements to incur additional compliance burdens and costs, the Commission believes that any such burdens are outweighed by the overall benefits of increased transparency and access to more comprehensive trade information in the OTC markets.

V. Accelerated Approval

The Commission finds good cause, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,⁴⁸ for approving the proposed rule change, as modified by Amendments No. 1 and 2 thereto, prior to the 30th day after the date of publication of Amendment No. 2 in the Federal Register. The changes proposed in Amendment No. 2 are minor in nature or respond to specific concerns raised by commenters. In Amendment No. 2, the Exchange proposed to change the requirement to report the cancellation of a trade executed during normal market hours and canceled before 4:00 p.m. on the date of execution from 90 seconds to 30 seconds in Rule 6282(j)(2)(A).⁴⁹ Amendment No.

⁴⁸ 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(2).

⁴⁹ The requirement to report cancellations in 90 seconds was established by SR-FINRA-2009-082. See Cancellations Order, supra note 8.

2 also reflects changes approved in SR-FINRA-2009-082 to the text of Rules 6380A(g)(2)(A), 6380B(f)(2)(A) and 6622(f)(2)(A).⁵⁰

Accordingly, the Commission finds that good cause exists to approve the proposal, as modified by Amendments Nos. 1 and 2, on an accelerated basis.

VI. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether Amendment No. 2 to the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments:

- Use the Commission's Internet comment form (<http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>); or
- Send an e-mail to rule-comments@sec.gov. Please include File Number SR-FINRA-2009-061 on the subject line.

Paper Comments:

- Send paper comments in triplicate to Elizabeth M. Murphy, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F Street, NE, Washington DC 20549-1090.

All submissions should refer to File Number SR-FINRA-2009-061. This file number should be included on the subject line if e-mail is used. To help the Commission process and review your comments more efficiently, please use only one method. The Commission will post all comments on the Commission's Internet Web site (<http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>). Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those
